ADMIRAL MILNE DEAD

He Was One of Britain's Prominent Naval Officers.

HELD MANY IMPORTANT COMMANDS

Was in Charge of the North Atlantic Squadron in 1860 and Received the Prince of Wales at Halifax When His Royal Highness Visited This Country.

London, Dec. 29.—The death is announced to-day of Admiral of the Fleet, Sir Alexander Milne, S. Bart., G.C.B., and K.C.B., (civil), F.R.S.E.

Admiral Sir Alexander Milne was born in 1806 and first entered the naval service in 1817; was actively employed as lieutenant-commander and captain on the Brazil, Home and North American and West Indian stations; promoted to commander in 1830, and captain in 1839; was flag captain to his father at Devonport, 1842-45, where he commanded the Caledonia, and was employed at Tangier, the coast of Portugal, and as flag captain to Admiral Bowles in Ireland; was also flag captain to Sir Charles Ogle at Portsmouth and to Sir Charles Napier in the Channel Squadron. In 1847 he was appointed a Junior Lord of the Admiralty and served with successive governments until 1858, during which period he was Superintending Lord of the great store victualling and transport departments and (1855), after the Crimean War was created K.C.B. (civil) and was instrumental in introducing many important measures for the benefit of the service. Sir Alexander was again appointed to the Admiralty as the Senior Naval Lord in 1866-68, and at a subsequent period in 1872-76, when he retired, having served with nine First Lords of the Admiralty, and was then created a Baronet.

In 1860 he was appointed to the North American and West Indian command, with the temporary rank of vice-admiral and received H.R.H. the Prince of Wales at Halifax. Before the termination of his command he received the approval of the Lord Commissioners of the Admiralty, and his command was extended for a period of one year. Sir Alexander was the only admiral on the station who had ever officially visited any ports of the United States since the war of 1812.

He arrived in New York in October, 1863, at the time of the Civil War, and his visit, as expressed by Lord Lyons, Her Majesty's Minister at Washington, to the Foreign Office, appeared to have proved satisfactory. On his return to England he received the commendations of the Admiralty.

In 1869 Sir Alexander was appointed Commander-in-Chief of the Mediterranean station, with his flag in the Lord Warden. He was present at the opening of the Suez Canal by the Empress Eugenie in November. He visited various ports of the station, and in August, 1870, assumed command of the combined Mediterranean and Channel Squadrons at Gibraltar for exercise on the coast of Portugal. In September he returned to England and struck his flag, receiving the approval of the Lord Commissioners of the Admiralty for the able manner in which he had performed his duties in the Mediterranean, with silver medals of men-of-war. Sir Alexander was a magistrate for Berwickshire. He married in 1850 Euphemia, daughter of the late Archibald Cochran of Ashkirk.

THE IRISH LANDSLIDE.

Danger Not Yet Over—People Fleeing to Places of Safety.

Dublin, Dec. 29.—The danger from the landslide, which took place near Rathmore, County Kerry, yesterday, is by no means over, but is rather on the increase. That part of the disturbed earth comprising the bog is still sliding toward the lakes of Killarney, its movement being accompanied by a sullen noise that is heard for miles in all directions. Peasants living some distance from the scene of the landslide are fleeing from their houses and taking refuge in localities that give most promise of safety, leaving all of their belongings behind them. Debris of houses and trunks of trees destroyed by the avalanche of earth, together with the carcasses of cows, sheep, pigs and other animals, which were caught in the slide and plunged into the River Flesk, are now being swept into the lakes. The river is choked with earth, rocks, trees, etc., and the extravasated water has spread over a large area. No further loss of life than was reported yesterday—that of the Donnelly family of nine persons, who were engulfed in the mass of earth—is known to have occurred, but there are still fears that other persons may have been caught in the slide and perished.

SENTENCED TO DEATH.

A Prominent Resident of Manila to be Shot for Fomenting Rebellion.

Madrid, Dec. 29.—Advices from Manila show that Dr. Rizal, a prominent resident, has been sentenced to death for fomenting rebellion. He will probably be shot. On his trial, which was before a court martial, Dr. Rizal admitted that he was the author of the constitution of the Philippine League, the object of which was revolutionary, but denied that he had taken any active part in the rebellion.

GENERAL CABLE NEWS.

The Duke of Orleans Will Sink Personal Claims for His Country.

Paris, Dec. 29.—The Duke of Orleans has written a letter stating that, knowing the French Republic is engaged in diplomatic negotiations of a delicate nature, he does not wish to excite international difficulties, but places the seal of his family connections at the service of the French interests abroad.

Philippine Rebellion Spreading.

Madrid, Dec. 29.—A despatch from Manila, the capital of the Philippines, says the rising of the natives has extended to the Province of Bulacan, in a northwesterly direction from Manila, and a large number of rebels have been arrested. Sharp fighting between the troops and the insurgents is reported in the Province of Bulacan.

Granted Turk's Demand.

Constantinople, Dec. 29.—The Port has granted the demand of the envoys of France and Italy that their dragomans be present at the trial of Mosher Bey.

Bubonic Plague Still On.

Bombay, Dec. 29.—The health authorities report that during the past 48 hours there have been 177 new cases of bubonic plague and 120 deaths from that disease.

T., H. AND B. REORGANIZED

Directors Met Yesterday at Chauncey Depew's Office and Elected Officers and Directors.

New York, Dec. 29.—The Toronto, Hamilton & Buffalo Railway, which now furnishes the Vanderbilt system of railways with access to Hamilton, Toronto and all points in Canada, and to the Canadian Pacific Railway, will connect with the Vanderbilt system at Suspension Bridge and Buffalo, under the terms of a contract made some time since.

To-day at Mr. Depew's office in the Grand Central Depot, the Board of Directors was reorganized, the following being elected directors:

W. K. Vanderbilt, Chauncey M. Depew, representing the New York Central; H. B. Ledyard, president of the Michigan Central; C. F. Cox, vice-president of the Canada Southern Railway, and T. G. Shaughnessy, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific, representing those companies; J. N. Beckley of Rochester and F. E. Peabody of Boston.

The board elected the following officers: President, J. N. Beckley; vice-president, T. G. Shaughnessy and secretary and treasurer, C. F. Cox.

BISHOP KEANE EXPLAINS.

And the Pope is Satisfied—Archbishop Corrigan to be a Cardinal.

New York, Dec. 29.—A special to The Journal from Rome says: The Italian newspapers announced the impending elevation of the Catholic Archbishop of New York to the Cardinalate, and with respect to this matter The Arena, one of the best-informed journals in Vatican affairs, makes the following remarks: "Every one knows of the conflict which has long existed in the American episcopate relative to certain doctrines, the principal apostles of which were the ex-rector of the Catholic University at Washington, Bishop Keane and Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul.

"It is also known that the Pope recently had an interview with Mgr. Keane, who has given His Holiness such explanations that Leo XIII. has completely absolved him of the alleged charges of which he was accused.

"This event has certainly produced a great impression among American Bishops, who, up to the present, have been opposed to Keane and Ireland. In pardoning these prelates the Pope has, so to speak, disapproved of the conduct of their accusers.

"To lessen, however, the effect which this pardon may have produced on the American episcopate, His Holiness has decided to raise to the Cardinalate Monsignor Corrigan, who represents the party hostile to Keane and Ireland."

REFUSED TO ANSWER.

Bishop Lafleche Would Not Testify in the Champlain Election Case No Corruption Proved.

Quebec, Dec. 29.—A despatch received from Ste. Anne de La Perade is to the effect that at the court proceedings for the invalidation of the Champlain election, for undue influence, Mr. Beland, chancellor, and Monsignor Lafleche, bishop, who were summoned as witnesses, peremptorily refused to answer any questions, saying that they were irrelevant of civil tribunals. Eight or ten witnesses have been heard so far and no proof of corruption was given. Three or four witnesses swore that they voted for the Conservative candidate on account of influence brought to bear on them by Mons. Lafleche. Nearly all the priests of the county will be called to give evidence in the case.

Navigation in Winter.

Buffalo, N.Y., Dec. 29.—The city of Genoa left Buffalo for Cleveland last evening and is expected to lay up there. The Aurora will probably reach Buffalo to-morrow with corn. This, according to the latest advices, will close navigation at this port.

NEWS FROM OTTAWA

Ministers Getting Settled in Their Residences.

MR. SIFTON BUYS A FINE HOUSE

Finance Minister Fielding Takes the Residence of Mr John Carling, Furniture and All—Customs Appointments Made—Petition to Save Brennan's Life.

Ottawa, Dec. 29.—(Special.)—Cabinet Ministers are gradually settling down in permanent quarters at the Capital. To-day Hon. Mr. Sifton, Minister of the Interior, purchased for about $10,000, the house on the corner of Metcalfe and Cooper-streets, owned by A. W. Fleck of the Canada Atlantic Railway.

The Finance Minister has leased the furnished residence of Sir John Carling on Metcalfe-street.

Senator Dobson and Major Hughes, M.P., were here to-day in connection with the Haliburton and Mattawa Railway, and the proposed connection of the O. A. and P.S. with the Grand Trunk, via Kinmount and Lindsay, to Toronto. They had a conference with prominent railway men.

Col. Titcomb, Fishery Commissioner of the State of Vermont, had an interview with Mr. Davies and the Commissioner of Fisheries to urge uniform regulations for preservation of the fisheries in Lake Champlain.

The petition for the commutation of the death sentence passed upon Michael Brennan at Barrie for the murder of J. H. Strathy has been filed in the Department of Justice. The case will come up for consideration at the next Cabinet meeting.

A hitch has occurred in connection with the Government's plan to operate the Baie des Chaleurs Railway for the winter. The line is in the hands of receivers, as is known, and when the Intercolonial set about opening their service yesterday there was an order served on them, which will block operations. Unless some arrangement is made with the court the service cannot be given.

The Hornerites, as they are familiarly known, opened a convention in the city to-day for the purpose of organising themselves into a denomination, which is to be known as the "Holiness Movement," and for which incorporation is now being sought. Incorporation was sought last session under the designation of the Methodist New Connection Body, but Parliament would not allow this name, which was held by one of the bodies now incorporated into the Methodist Church, to be revived by an entirely new denomination.

A number of appointments have been put through in the Customs Department and are ratified by Order-in-Council as follows:

Peter Grant, to be Collector of Customs at New Westminster, British Columbia.

Thomas J. Furness, to be sub-collector at Verner River Bridge, Prince Edward Island.

Charles E. Aucoin, to be sub-collector at Cheticamp, Cape Breton.

Thomas B. McQuarry, to be collector at Mabou, Inverness County, Cape Breton.

Leander P. Shaffner, to be collector at Middleton, Nova Scotia.

Frederick Colquhoun, to be collector at Berlin. It will be recalled than an appointment was made to this port a few weeks ago, but the appointee did not care to give his business up, to take office, so another was chosen in his place.

Peter McMillan, to be sub-collector at Grand River, Prince Edward Island, vice Forbes, resigned. This appointment is an interesting sequel to the appointment of Mr. Forbes, who was elected M.P. for Queen's-Shelburne, at the last general election, and accepted office to vacate the seat.

Frank A. Osborne, to be sub-collector at Edmonton, N.W.T., which was lately made a port of entry by order of the department.

Thomas F. Patterson, to be sub-collector at Thorold.

A. V. Deeming, to be sub-collector at Essex Centre, being transferred from Wallaceburg.

There will be a monster petition laid before Parliament next session from British Columbia, looking towards the exclusion of the Chinese.

Mr. Maxwell, M.P. for Vancouver, will represent British Columbia at the Laurier banquet to-morrow in Montreal.

Dr. Andrew Smith, Government Veterinary Inspector at Toronto, was here to-day discussing quarantine matters with the Deputy Minister of Agriculture.

This afternoon in St. George's Church, Miss Zillah Rae, daughter of Mr. W. A. Rae, secretary of the Public School Board, was married to Mr. Fred G. Herne of Hamilton.

MR. M'KAY WAS KILLED.

A Former Woodstock Man Made a Misstep at Thamesford and Lost His Life by a Fall.

Thamesford, Ont., Dec. 29.—A very sad and fatal accident happened here to-night. Mr. John McKay, late of the North American Hotel, Woodstock, and Mrs. McKay, were at Woodstock to-day, and came back on the C.P.R. train. About 8 o'clock they started home along the C.P.R. track. A bridge gang is at work repairing the bridge across the river, which is about 40 feet above the water. The men were driving piles at the east end, and had left, of necessity, an opening, into which Mr. McKay, in the dark, stepped, falling about 25 feet. Mrs. McKay's cries were heard at once, and help arrived, but life was extinct before the unfortunate man was recovered.

Paris Opera Director Dead.

Paris, Dec. 29.—M. Halanzier Dufresney, formerly director of the Paris Opera, is dead. He was born in 1810. It was in 1871 that he became director of the opera for eight years. It was during his administration in 1873 that the old opera house was burned, and the new opera house was solemnly inaugurated in 1875. He was succeeded in 1879 by M. De Vaucordeil. In the year following Halanzier was elected president of the Society of Dramatic Artists. He was an officer of the Legion of Honor.

Gloom

Of ill health, despondency and despair, gives way to the sunshine of hope, happiness and health, upon taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, because it gives renewed life and vitality to the blood, and through that imparts nerve strength, vigor and energy to the whole body. Read this letter: "Hood's Sarsaparilla helped me wonderfully, changed sickness to health, gloom to sunshine. No pen can describe what I suffered. I was deathly sick, had sick headaches every few days and those terrible tired, despondent feelings, with heart troubles so that I could not go up and

OTONABEE.

A Salem Sunday School Teacher Remembered.

On Christmas Eve the home of Mr. H. S. Armstrong, Otonabee, was the scene of a very pleasing surprise party when a few of the friends and members of his Sabbath school class met for the purpose of spending the evening and remembering their teacher. After some little time had been spent pleasantly, Miss Ada Thomas and Miss Ella Girven stepped forward and presented Mr. Armstrong with a beautifully engraved album and an address, Miss Girven making the presentation, and Miss Thomas reading the address, which was as follows :

Mr. Armstrong :

DEAR SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHER,—We, the members of your class meet to-night, at this, the most joyous season of the year—Christmas Eve—to express to you our warm and grateful feelings for your faithful and untiring work amongst us. You have taken a very deep interest in our spiritual welfare, and for this we most heartily thank you, and ask you at the same time to accept this small token of our regard for you. We hope you may long remain with us and work for us. Wishing you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Signed on behalf of the class.

ADA THOMAS,
ELLA GIRVEN,
EDNA ARMSTRONG.

Mr. Armstrong, although altogether taken by surprise—not having the least information in the matter—very feelingly replied, reviewing the pleasant relations existing between his class and himself during the past two years, they being greatly attached to each other, and praying the Divine blessing to rest upon their good work.

School Section No. 12.

A very pleasing and profitable entertainment was held on Tuesday afternoon of of last week, in the school house of this section, it being the closing day of school for the past year. The school room was very neatly decorated with evergreens and mottoes in keeping with the Christmas season. The entertainment consisted of readings and recitations by the school, interspersed with songs and choruses. Mr. Thos. Petrie and Miss Edna Armstrong also contributing well rendered solos, adding largely to the successful carrying out of the programme. At the close of the entertainment old Santa Claus appeared in full uniform to the amusement of all, viewing with jocular amazement the beautifully decorated Christmas tree, placed on the corner of the platform by the children of the school, which was laden down with very nice presents for the occasion, which he very artistically delivered to the awaiting recipients, until all had been supplied. A large number of the parents and friends of the school children was also present to witness the carrying out of the programme, several gentlemen present contributing short pithy addresses in commendation of the success of the school, under the tuition of our esteemed and efficient teacher, Miss E. E. Howson, who, we are very pleased to be able to announce is remaining with us for another year, being her third term. Mr. William Girven ably filled the position of chairman to the admiration of all. This school is advancing very materially, some of the pupils passing their examinations with very high honours.

As Old as Antiquity.

Either by taint or heredity those old foes Scrofula and Consumption, must be faced generation after generation ; but you may meet them with the odds in your favor by the help of Scott's Emulsion.

WESTWOOD.

(From an Occasional Correspondent.)

The skating on the pond has been excellent until the last snow storm, which, of course, cooled the ardor of our boys. We had a good rink last year. What's the matter with another this year? Rush it through, boys.

Since the arrest of the road knight the bolts and bars of our neighbours are shut with an earnestness.

Those wishing to get the benefit of the night school should hand their names to the teacher or leave them at the post office as early as possible, for the school begins directly after New Year's.

Rumours say we are about to have another citizen in our village. We give a hearty welcome to all our White friends.

We are pleased to learn that our Westwood boys, H. Breckenridge, A. Graham and B Lancaster, have been successful at the Model exams. We extend congratulations to the newly-fledged pedagogues.

Our teacher, Mr. D. M. Hunter, has gone to Norwood to spend his holidays.

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my true trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Send 5c. silver to cover postage and address, Mr. Geo. G. Strong, North Rockwood, Mich.

Mr. E. W. HAZLETT, Reeve of Chatham Township, Kent County, Ont., says : "My daughter has been very weakly for some years ; she was very pale and always felt tired ; she was prevailed upon by a friend to try a box of Miller's Compound Iron Pills. I must say it was a good investment ; she at once began to improve. The colour came to her cheeks, she got stronger rapidly, and now is quite well." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

Sick headache and Constipation are promptly cured by Burdock Pills. Easy to take, sure in effect.

THE POPE GAVE AUDIENCE.

Representatives of the Old Pontifical Army Received by His Holiness.

Rome, Dec. 29.—The Pope to-day gave an audience to a body representing the old pontifical army. He made an address to the representatives, in which, after speaking of the services rendered by the army, he declared that the papacy would finally triumph. He added that he had received offers from Canada, Ireland and elsewhere from people who were ready to hasten to the defence of the papacy. He hoped the moment would soon come when he would see himself surrounded anew by sons as faithful and as well-beloved as those which had composed the pontifical order. The speech has produced a deep impression in all circles here.

Marks is Mayor.

Port Arthur, Dec. 29.—(Special.)—Mr. A. L. Russell, who was nominated for the Mayoralty yesterday against Mr. George T. Marks, has resigned. Mr. Marks is therefore elected by acclamation.

The camel is a beast of great strength and endurance. Nothing hurts it until the proverbial "last straw" is added to its burden. The human digestive system is very much like a camel. It is really astonishing how much abuse it will stand. Sometimes, however, something worse than usual will be eaten, and will go through the stomach into the bowels, and then it will stick—that's constipation. Nine-tenths of all human sickness is due to constipation. Some of the simplest symptoms are coated tongue, foul breath, dizziness, heartburn, flatulence, sallowness, distress after eating, headaches and lassitude. A little thing will cause constipation, and a little thing will relieve it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a certain cure for constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules, mild and natural in their action. There is nothing injurious about them. Sold by druggists.

Address with 31 cents in one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., and get a free copy of the "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser."

One Every Night.

One Laxa-Liver Pill taken each night during 30 days will cure Constipation, oft-returning Headaches and irregular action of the bowels. Laxa-Liver Pills leave no unpleasant after-effect.

MUNYON'S REMEDIES.

A CURE FOR EACH DISEASE

With Munyon's Improved Homœopathic Remedies in the House, Mothers Can Become the Family Physician and

SAVE DOLLARS IN DOCTORS' FEES

Get Munyon's Guide to Health from Your Druggist—It will Tell You What to Use and How to Cure the Most Obstinate and Complicated Diseases.

Professor Munyon is honored to-day as the leading authority in the medical world. His new and humane methods of treatment have swept away all the old-fashioned ideas of doctoring with poisonous drugs that create a dozen diseases in the effort to get rid of one. He does not claim that he has one remedy that will cure all complaints, but that he has prepared a specific cure for nearly every disease. He does not claim that Munyon's Rheumatism Cure will cure consumption, dyspepsia or any other complaint, but he does assert that it will cure rheumatism. Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure is prepared expressly to cure dyspepsia; Munyon's Cough Cure to cure coughs; Munyon's Catarrh Remedies to cure catarrh; Munyon's Kidney Cure to cure kidney troubles. The same may be said of all Munyon's different remedies. They may be obtained at all drug stores, mostly at 25 cents a bottle.

Personal letters to Professor Munyon, 11 and 13 Albert street, Toronto, answered with free medical advice for any disease.

PRINCESS DE CHIMAY

Visits the Hungarian Capital With Her Gipsy Lover

AND CAUSES A GREAT SENSATION

The Beautiful Woman, Ablaze With Diamonds, Was the Big Attraction at the Theatre—The Pair Had Just Come in From Visiting the Parents of Rigo.

Buda Pest, Dec. 29.—Janos Rigo, the Hungarian gypsy musician, with whom the Princess De Caraman-Chimay, formerly Miss Clara Ward of Detroit, recently eloped from Paris, and the Princess have arrived here from Stuhlweissenberg, where they have been visiting Rigo, parents. Their presence in the city, where the story of the elopement has filled much space in the newspapers, has awakened the liveliest curiosity and people of all classes make all sorts of efforts to see the couple. When it became noised about that Rigo and his American mistress were stopping at a hotel here, hundreds of persons went to the hotel and stood outside for hours in the hope of seeing the pair. So large did the crowd become that traffic on the streets in the vicinity of the hotel was blocked, and it became necessary to detail special police to handle the people.

The Princess and her paramour have visited the theatres since their arrival and appear to enjoy the notoriety they have obtained through their liaison. Whenever they have appeared at places of amusement the Princess has been blazing in diamonds, and as she is a remarkably beautiful woman, has excited much attention. The audiences, as soon as they discover who the couple are, neglect the stage and devote all the time to watching Rigo and the Princess, who evidently delight in the sensation they are creating. The contrast between the two is great. Rigo, who is about 35 years old, looks like the ordinary gypsy he is. His complexion is swarthy and his common ancestry is plainly attested in his face.

STEAMSHIP MAN DEAD.

A Complication of Diseases Carried off Herr Nissen of the Hamburg-American Line.

Hamburg, Dec. 29.—Herr Waldemar Nissen, President of the Hamburg-American Steamship Company, also a prominent merchant of this city and well known throughout the country, died here to-day from a complication of diseases. For 13 years Herr Nissen had been the active president of the steamship company, and during his administration the concern was immensely prosperous, increasing its tonnage from 40,000 to 300,000. He was 68 years old and was a member of one of Germany's patrician families. He was senior member of the firm of Siemssen & Co., large importers of Chinese goods, and was also a director in the Anglo-German Bank of Hamburg, which was merged with the Dresdener Bank into one of the most important banking institutions of Germany. He was connected with numerous other institutions and had vast financial interests. He visited America five years ago on a tour of inspection of the Hamburg-American Steamship Company's property. On the occasion of the opening of the Kiel Canal, Herr Nissen received a high decoration from the German Emperor in recognition of the services rendered by the Hamburg Company on that occasion. Herr Nissen will likely be succeeded as president of the Hamburg-American Company by Herr Gustav Tietgens, the vice-president.

HEADLONG TO DEATH.

Mrs. Thomas Wasson of Toronto Fell Down an Elevator Shaft.

Toronto, Dec. 30.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Wasson, wife of Detective Thomas Wasson of the Ontario College of Physicians and Surgeons, who resided in the Medical Buildings, Bay and Richmond-streets, met with an accident which resulted in her death.

At 5.30 Mrs. Wasson, who had been talking to Dr. Pyne in his office, walked over to the elevator for the purpose of going up to her flat. As she reached the elevator the car was going up. William Smith, the elevator man, asked her to wait a moment and he would come down for her. Although no one saw the accident, it is supposed that while waiting for the car she leaned against the door, which had not been securely fastened. It slid back and she lost her balance and fell inwards. She grasped one of the small wire lever ropes, but as she weighed nearly 200 pounds, it could not sustain her weight, and broke. She fell about 35 feet down the shaft. The result was a fracture of the base of the skull. Drs. Pyne, Sweetnam and Garrett were promptly in attendance, but the injuries were of such a terrible nature that Mrs. Wasson died shortly before 9 o'clock.

Dr. Pyne said Mrs. Wasson had only left his office a moment or two when the alarm was given.

The deceased lady was 60 years of age and a native of Halifax, N.S., and was much esteemed by all who knew her. She leaves a son and two daughters. One of the daughters is Mrs. Quigley, who resides at 108 Grange-avenue, the other daughter and the son residing with their parents. Much sympathy is expressed on all sides for Mr. Wasson and the family in their bereavement.

Mr. Wasson was around the city on business and did not learn of the accident until his return home at 6 o'clock.

The body was removed last night to the residence of the married daughter, Mrs. Quigley, from where the funeral will take place.

Coroner Johnson issued a warrant for an inquest. He will consult Crown Attorney Dewart this morning, and it is likely the warrant will be withdrawn.

So thorough is the excellence of Ayer's Hair Vigor that it can be used with benefit by any person, no matter what may be the condition of the hair, and, in every case, it occasions satisfaction and pleasure, in addition to the benefit which invariable comes from its use.

AS REGARDS CUBA.

Premier Canovas Said to be Willing to Accept the Good Offices of the United States.

New York, Dec. 29.—The Herald's Washington correspondent says it is rumored an important despatch has been received at the Spanish Legation from Senor Canovas, the Spanish Premier, in which certain propositions are made looking to the mediation of the Cuban difficulties.

According to this report Senor Canovas accepts the good offices of the United States and states the terms which Spain will accord to the insurgents, upon conditions to be proposed by the United States.

More Fighting Reported.

Havana, Dec. 29.—A correspondent at Manzanilla reports engagements that have been fought between the forces of Gen. Rey and the rebels under Calixto Garcia. The Spanish troops left Manzanilla on Dec. 13 for Bayamo, acting as escorts of a provision and supply train. They were attacked by the rebels and some fierce fighting took place. The correspondent does not state which side was victorious, but this may be inferred from the fact that the Spaniards are now detained at Bueyoito. Gen. Hernandez Ferrer and Gen. Bosch have left Manzanilla with strong forces to protect the advance of the convoy to Bayamo. The Spaniards claim that they sustained no losses in the various engagements with the rebels.

Dr. Gaspar Betencourt, a well-known Havana dentist, an American citizen and a personal friend of President Cleveland, was arrested yesterday as a political suspect. Consul-General Lee has taken up his case.

Official confirmation is given to the report that the rebel leader, Juan Rus, is dead.

It is reported that Salvador Rios, another rebel leader, has been seriously wounded.

Cuban Forces Concentrating.

New York, Dec. 29.—A batch of letters from Cuba was received at the Cuban Junta headquarters yesterday. General Palma said that he might have some news to give out to-day. He consented to say that his advices showed that Gen. Gomez had crossed the Moron Trocha late in November, and that a concentration of the Cuban forces was being made in Santa Clara Province.

Filibusters in Hard Luck.

New York, Dec. 29.—The Herald says: The 50 filibusters who started for Cuba on the steamer are, according to advices received yesterday by the Junta, smoking cigarettes on a desolate key of the Florida coast. The filibuster steamer, as graphically told by the staff correspondents, who were on hand, lost no time, after her engagement with the Spanish gunboats, in leaving the Spanish main. She put the men and her cargo ashore on a barren island, which does not show on an ordinary map.

The Three Friends, an ocean tug, returned from an extended expedition after shells and sponges a few days ago, and the United States officials at Key West seized her for a violation of the customs laws in that she had taken out no clearance papers. The Three Friends was taken to Jacksonville Sunday in charge of a customs officer.

Meanwhile it fares uncomfortable for those men on the remote and lonely key. The expedition is a failure. It is only a question of a few days when the filibusters will disperse to their homes. Certain munitions of war which are now resting peacefully under tarpaulins down on a forlorn canal island will probably be sold very cheaply to any junk dealer who may heave into view.

The Junta here feels thoroughly discouraged at the result of an expedition which they had hoped would contribute much to the success of the Cuban cause.

Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease. It may lead directly to consumption. Catarrh is caused by impure blood, and the true way to cure it is by purifying the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures catarrh because it removes the cause of it by purifying the blood. Thousands testify that they have been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

HOod's Pills are purely vegetable and do not purge, pain or gripe. All druggists. 25c.

LITTLE BOY BURNED.

With His Brother He Was Trying to Light Up a Christmas Tree and Set His Night Dress on Fire.

Elmira, Ont., Dec. 28.—On Saturday morning last two little boys, sons of Mr. and Mrs. N. K. Dunke, came down stairs in their night clothes, obtained matches and were trying to light the candles on the Christmas tree, when the eldest, a lad about seven years of age, accidentally set fire to his night shirt. His brother ran screaming upstairs and the parents, who were still in bed, at once ran down and succeeded in extinguishing the flames, but the poor little fellow was so badly burned that he died early Sunday morning. Both Mr. and Mrs. Dunke had their hands severely burned.

Bank of Superior Gone.

West Superior, Wis., Dec. 28.—The Bank of Superior of this city, with a capital of $25,000 and surplus of $50,000, failed this morning. An assignment was made to Henry S. Butler, who takes possession. The officials feared a run on account of the Chicago and St. Paul bank failures. The deposits amounted to $100,000.

A CASE OF DIABETES.

No Help from Medical Men—Suffered for Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

North Bruce, Dec. 21 (Special).—An old and well known settler in this township, named Thomas Brooks, who lives on lots 7 and 8 in the 14th concession, is rejoicing with his neighbours over his recent recovery, and he said:—

"I was cured by using twenty four boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and, as nothing else ever helped me, I say they saved my life.

"I had tried all the doctors of this locality and was treated for Diabetes, hoping and suffering for years.

"From reading of cures I determined to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I must say that after using the first box I would have considered them reasonable at ten dollars a box."

Karl's Clover Root will purify your blood clear your complexion, regulate your bowel and make your head clear as a bell. 25c 50c. and $1.00.

Antiquity of the Christmas Tree.

In Germany Christmas trees have been known ever since the introduction of Christianity. Before that time the dressing of a tree with candles and presents was a feature of the midwinter Druidical festival, so that in fact the German Christmas tree dates back to an era before the dawn of written history.—Exchange.

Thompson, of Toronto, will represent the negative. A first-class musical programme will also be presented. Admission 25 cents. 2d152

Ingenious Device.

A very ingenious device has been adopted by some druggists to prevent the frequent mistakes which occur at night in administering a dangerous medicine for a simple one. This is entirely obviated by putting up prescriptions containing powerful remedies of poisonous drugs in rough bottles as prickly as the coat of a gherkin. Any one rising in the dark is at once warned of his danger. Many lives have already been saved by this simple contrivance.

Smith, turkey; St. Paul's Junior Endeavour Society, scrap books; Miss Moore, turkey.

PRESENTED WITH A LAMP.

A Handsome Gift From the T.V.C. Surveying Staff.

Mr. F. Edwards, Douro, received a genuine surprise on Friday evening last, when Mr. H. Gillespie called upon him and presented him with a most handsome brass banquet lamp, on behalf of the surveying staff of Section No. 2 of the Trent Valley Canal.

Mr. Edwards' property adjoins the canal at the point, where the swing bridge is being erected, and all summer he has been most kind to the staff, allowing them to leave their instruments on his premises after hours, and being courteous at all times in the conferring of little favours, which they appreciated.

They, therefore, felt that they could not allow the Christmas to pass without an expression of the esteem and friendship which they cherish for Mr. Edwards, and so arrangements were made for the presentation of the lamp through Mr. Gillespie. The card attached wished wished Mr. and Mrs. Edwards a very Merry Christmas, and bore the names of Messrs. A. W. Spence, J. Herbert Hall, H. Gillespie, W. G. Askey and Jas. Swanston.

Mr. Edwards is a veteran of 1837, and is one of the only two living participants—himself and Mr. James Wasson, of town—in the memorable march to Toronto in December of that year. He therefore saw the beginning of the Trent Valley Canal, and the best wish that can be implied for a long life is that he may live to see its completion.

SEPARATE SCHOOL TRUSTEES.

Election by Acclamation in the First, Second and Fourth Wards—A Contest in the Third Ward.

Nominations for Separate School trustees, held in the Murray street Separate School, at noon to-day, when the following nominations were made:—

No. 4 Ward—M. H. Quinlan, nominated by T. B. McGrath, seconded by John Kelly.

In the First, Second and Fourth Wards, the retiring trustees were returned by acclamation. In the Third Ward (last year represented by M. H. LeHane) Dr. Moher and J. Kylie are candidates, and will go to the polls.

WEEK OF PRAYER.

All over Christendom the various churches unite in a week of special prayer at the beginning of the new year. The meetings commence on Monday, January 4th. In Peterborough it will be observed as follows:

Monday, St. Andrew's church; subject, "Church and Missions"; speaker, Rev. A. T. Dykeman.

Tuesday, Charlotte street church; Subject, "The Home"; speaker, Rev. J. G. Potter.

Tuesday, Ashburnham Methodist church; subject, "The Home"; speaker, Rev. Dr. Torrance.

Wednesday, George street church; subject, "Charitable Institutions"; speaker, Rev. J. J. Rae.

Thursday, St. Paul's church; subject, "Educational Institutions"; speaker, Rev. W. R. Young.

Friday, Murray street Baptist church; subject, "Social Reform"; speaker, Rev. W. C. Beer.

The meetings will begin at 8 o'clock sharp. A cordial invitation is extended to everybody.

Compliments of the season to our many customers and friends. GRAFTON & CO.

AUCTION SALE.

Horse and Buggy or Cutter will be offered at 10 a. m., Saturday next, on Market Square; good driver. Owner has no further need. CHAS. STAPLETON, Auctioneer.

Sizing up the Situation.

For the few remaining days of the year there will be bargains at Routley's fancy goods store, enough to loosen the purse-strings of a skinflint. Stock-taking will be going on while a continued slaughter of the goods is in progress. The less stock we have to take the better, and almost any offer will influence sales. Mr. Routley is is open to receive offers for his valuable houses and other town properties, particulars of which will be cheerfully given to all enquirers. C. B. ROUTLEY.

Dangerous Wells.

The terrible ravages of typhoid fever in East Zorra, in the county of Oxford, have caused many farmers to clean out their wells that have been used for many years to procure drinking water from. Health authorities say that not one half of the wells in Canada are fit to use, as they are never cleaned out, although they are exposed to all the farm animals and fowls, besides toads, rats, worms, etc. Is Peterborough any better in this respect? Let's have a more thorough inspection than has as yet taken place of wells in the town, both public and private. All that are in any way of doubtful character in a sanitary sense, ought to be closed.

Fans for Evening Parties, etc.

The magnificent exhibition of holiday goods at the Peterborough Bookstore has been reinforced with new and attractive lines to meet the continued demand of holiday shoppers. Regular stocks have not been neglected, nor will they be. We have a lovely selection of new fans for evening parties, festivals and other fashionable functions. For the first three days of next week we will take a discount of 20 per cent. off every fan. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will therefore be bargain days in fans—including the choicest we have in silk, feather, hand-painted, etc. At the same time our stock of New Year's cards, calendars and booklets must be sold at "last moment prices."—A. H. STRATTON & Co.

MURRAY STREET JUNIOR ENDEAVOURERS.

Their Skilful Presentation of the Cantata "The Story of the Star."

The Junior Christian Endeavourers of the Murray street Baptist church held a most pleasing entertainment in the Sunday school last evening.

The programme consisted of the rendition of the cantata "The Story of the Star," which included a number of choruses, duets and solos, all being well handled by the twenty little tots upon whose shoulders the responsibility of the production of the cantata rested.

The attendance was large, and the Sunday school was very prettily decorated for the occasion. A raised platform had been built, and a large curtain strung across the room to make the production more realistic. The children representing the different countries were all appropriately costumed in the native dress, and the whole affair passed off most pleasantly and successfully.

There were twenty children participating in the cantata and during the evening a number of choruses were given. The principal parts were taken as follows:

Solo, "Beautiful Star".....Grace Stanley
Quartette, "Brothers and Sisters in Brown," (representing Asia)... Harry Blade, Chester Kemp, Bella Mann and Mamie Anderson
Recitation (representing Africa)..... Willie Wilson
Recitation (representing Germany)..... Sidney Plummer
Vocal duet (representing Norway and Sweden) Clara Kidd and Emma Scott
Recitation (representing Austria)... Hazel Kidd
Recitation (representing Poland)..... Chester Kemp
Christmas Carol (representing England.. Willie Wilson, Chester Kemp, Stanley Yelland, Willie Rose, Ethel Plummer, Jennie Rose and Birdie Taylor
Song (representing the Islands of the Sea)..... Clara Kidd, Emma Scott, Birdie Taylor and Rosetta Higgins
Recitations and twining of red, white and blue ribbons (representing America)... Annie Hardill, Bina Wilson, Ethel Plummer, Roma Langford, Birdie Taylor and Pansy Kemp
Song, "Over the Sea".....Clara Kidd, Emma Scott, Birdie Taylor and Rosetta Higgins
Recitation, "We've whisked about the whole round world"..... Mabel Harding Chorus, "The Christian Star shines round the World".....

The little ones taking part are to be congratulated on their errorless presentation of the cantata. Much credit is also due to Miss Smith and Miss Taylor, who laboured indefatigably to have the affair pass off successfully, and those who were in attendance know with what success their efforts were fraught.

ST. ANDREW'S SUNDAY SCHOOL.

The Scholars Held Their Annual Entertainment Last Night.

The annual Christmas tea and concert for the Sunday school of St. Andrew's church was held last night. It was one of the most enjoyable evenings ever spent in the school. Tea was served from five until seven o'clock, after which the following programme was given, each one doing his or her part admirably.

Exercise Song.....Infant Class
Mouth organ duett..... W and F Cobb
Recitation..... Mary Oldham
Chorus, "Christ at Bethlehem"... Infant Class
Recitation..... Eveline Morrison
Piano solo..... Fannie Russell
Address..... Rev G J Potter, B A
Piano duet..... Misses Edna McFarlane and Ethel Tully
Dialogue..... Miss Lundy's class
Recitation..... Earnest Moore
Reading "Asleep at the Switch"..... Mr Denny
Piano solo..... Miss Georgina Bailey
Recitation..... Maude McCrea
Reading..... Mildred Brightman
Recitation..... Eva Richardson

A large number of prizes were given for general proficiency for the year, speaking well for the work of the school at large.

Mr. G. W. Mulligan occupied the chair most acceptably. The meeting closed with all singing the national anthem.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Quarterly preparatory service at St. Andrew's church to-night at 8 o'clock. Communion next Sunday at 11 a.m.

—Some additional evidence was taken in the Butler case at the police court this morning and he was remanded until to-morrow.

—David Doig preferred a charge of larceny this morning, in the police court against John Burton. The case was dismissed.

—All the old rags of Dominion bills are to be called in and cremated, and a fresh supply of new, crisp paper will be issued to take their place.

—The prettiest children's wool coats and bonnets to match, in town are on sale at Mrs. Appleby's fancy goods store, 426 Water street. 3d153

—The shortest days of the year are now in the background, as the sun starts out on its return trip northward, and will bring with it greater length of daylight.

—Back north in the township of Chandos, there was sufficient snow for sleighing three weeks ago, and from what is learned sleighs have been running steadily since then.

—Mr. T. B. Maniece, grocer, Ashburnham, while alighting from a delivery wagon, by the sudden starting of the horse was thrown violently to the ground, and seriously injuring his arm at the elbow but fortunately not breaking it.

—The Montreal schoolmaster who, to punish some pipe-smoking boys, dosed them with tobacco water, has been reprimanded by the Board of Commissioners. He will have to be more conservative hereafter. The stomach is not included among those parts of the body which a pedagogue is by tradition licensed to irritate for purposes of chastisement.

Our Christmas fruits are the finest obtainable in Montreal and Toronto markets. We have just laid in a choice stock with the intention of supplying the town. Connoisseur Cluster Raisins, Currants, Layer and Cooking Figs, Prunes, Dates, Piper's pure Chocolate, Spices and everything needful for Christmas cakes and puddings. Don't forget to call.—E. BROWN & Co., Grocers, also Wines and Liquors.

The Poles Should be Cleaned.

The Great Northwestern Telegraph Co. sent a man to Cobourg last week to scrape their telegraph poles and remove the many offensive patent medicine advertisements. This should be done in every town and village, for the appearance of the street alone, if for nothing more. If patent medicine men want to advertise, they should be compelled to do it in the newspapers, and not monopolize the public streets for that purpose. Both telegraph and telephone poles within every corporation should be painted.

New Furniture.

At A. Clegg's:—A large assortment of floor rocker cobler seats, in oak, natural birch and mahogany finish. These are of superior styles and finish and very cheap. Also a lot of reed and rattan rockers—cheap! cheap! Several cases of pictures, good subjects, complete, at less than you have been accustomed to pay for frames only. A. CLEGG, 427 George street.

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD.

The Lupine Legend Dramatised by a Local Authoress.

THE EXAMINER has been favoured with a reading of the manuscript of a clever dramatisation of the nursery story of "Little Red Riding Hood," by Miss Alma Frances McCollum. This young lady has achieved a flattering reputation as a writer of graceful verse, and she has clothed the story of the lupine adventure with very pleasing literary features, and skilfully adapted it to dramatic presentation. The latter has been proven by the rehearsals that have taken place with a view of presenting the little drama in St. John's school house under the auspices of the Mission Band for the benefit of the school house extension fund, on Tuesday evening, Jan. 5th, 1897. To furnish a treat to the children of the Hazel Brae Home, a full-dress rehearsal of the operetta of Little Red Riding Hood will be given them free on Monday evening, Jan. 4th. Miss McCollum is entitled to great credit, not only for the excellent literary taste put upon the work in question, but for her devotion to the good cause it aims to help, shown by personally supervising the rehearsals.

CAN'T DO BUSINESS IN 1897.

With Last Night's Meeting Council of 1896 Expired.

City solicitor McIntyre has written as follows to the mayor and council of Kingston: "I beg to call your attention to a change in the law under an act passed at the last session of the legislature. It is in effect, that a municipal council shall not, after the 31st day of the year for which the members were elected, pass any bylaw or resolution for the payment of money or which involves directly or indirectly the payment of money, nor shall they enter into any contract or obligation on the part of the municipality, nor do any other corporate act after said date except in case of extreme urgency."

Under the change in the law a meeting of the council of 1896, after the council of 1897 has been elected, would be abortive, and the communication of Kingston's city solicitor is held to be applicable to Peterborough's mayor and council.

SATURDAY.
E Rutherford ..... vs.	Dr Boucher
Geo J Hopkins..... vs.	Geo Edmison

In the Innes medal and Kendry cup matches it has been agreed that a rink defaulting forfeits five points in the competitions, to be counted against the division to which he belongs. Substitutes in the rinks are frowned down upon, though a skip may take one player from another rink, who plays in exactly the same position, to replace one of his own men who cannot possibly attend. One, and only one, substitute is to be allowed, and if two men are absent from a rink it rests with the opposing skip as to whether he will claim the match as forfeited or allow still another player to be substituted.

Such provisions as these will tend to have the different competitions played out more harmoniously and will prevent the postponement of so many matches until the end of the season.

A meeting of the Granites will be held on Thursday evening next to choose the skips for the foreign matches. As this is a matter in which every member should be interested a large attendance is expected.

MUNICIPAL MEMS.

Notes of the Mayoralty and Councillors Contests.

The fact of Mr. Wm. Might not having been appointed collector of taxes is, Mr. Yelland says, being used against him in the mayoralty canvass, and he wishes to state there is no ground for such an objection being urged. He and Mr. Might met yesterday and fully settled whatever misunderstanding may have existed, shook hands over the matter and parted the best friends. Mr. Yelland thinks that if Mr. Might does not feel aggrieved (and he does not) his friends or pretended friends have no right to make a martyr of him at the expense of the mayor.

Another matter will, in the interests of honesty and fairness, stand a little explanation. Mr. Moore at the nomination proceedings accused Mr. Yelland of nepotism, of unduly favouring his own family in the matter of Mr. Brownscombe, treasurer, who is regarded by many as the Mayor's nephew. As a matter of fact Mr. Brownscombe is a very distant relative of Mr. Yelland. His mother is a cousin of Mr. Yelland, who has no wish to object to Mr. Moore's criticisms of his actions, so long as he adheres to the truth.

It is stated that Mr. W. H. Meldrum, a candidate for councillor in No. 4 Ward, is disqualified from holding a seat in the council, because the oatmeal mill, of which he was part owner, which was burned last summer, had exemption from taxation, although it paid the school rates. Mr. Meldrum states that the machinery was exempted, and that was destroyed by the fire, and that, therefore, the exemption, which practically does not exist, does not effect disqualification. It is stated that it has been decided in the courts that exemption under similar circumstances does not disqualify a candidate.

It is also argued, it is said, that Mr. Meldrum is disqualified because he is a member of the Auburn Light and Power Company, which has received from the town a franchise of certain streets for a pole line. Mr. Meldrum claims that neither this nor the other point urged is a disqualification, that he has a right to be a candidate, and if elected will take his seat.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 1.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—Having received the honour of nomination as councillor, I hereby solicit your votes and influence to placing me in the council for 1897. If you do me this honour I pledge myself to use my best judgment and most diligent efforts to advance all the interests of this ward and of the town generally, and to insist on, as rigid economy in civic expenditure as is consistant, with efficient management of the affairs of our progressive town.

I have the honour to be,
3d152 Your obedient servant,
CHARLES B. ROBERTSON.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 1

At the request of many of the intelligent ratepayers of the ward to become a candidate for councillor I have consented to do so and would respectfully solicit the favour of your votes and support. Being a large property holder in the town, my interest in the honest management of municipal affairs should be a sufficient guarantee that I would always favour the most careful economy—at the same time exercising my best judgment in promoting the growth, progress and prosperity of the town.

Yours respectfully,
3d152 NOAH T. LePLANTE.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 1.

Having again been honoured with a nomination as a candidate for Councillor in this ward I beg leave publicly to accept the nomination. I therefore respectfully solicit the vote and influence of the ratepayers of "the Banner Ward." If elected, I pledge myself to use my best efforts, as in the past, to protect the interests and promote the welfare of No. 1 Ward and of the whole town.

W. H. WHITE.
December 30th, 1896.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 3.

PETERBOROUGH, Dec. 29th, 1896.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,—As you are doubtless aware by the newspapers, I have accepted nomination as candidate for Councillor for No. 3 Ward. In respectfully soliciting your vote and influence, I consider the position I seek of so great importance, that I should state my position, in definite form, upon some of the leading questions that should engage the attention of a representative in the council of Peterborough, and I shall do so briefly.

I believe that in the interests of the town, as well as those of the great bulk of the ratepayers, our taxes should be collected in two instalments. I would be in favour of so changing the system of assessment as to permit of the first instalment being collected early in the autumn and not later than the first of October, and the second instalment on or about the first of February following.

I will advocate, if elected, the system of performing, as far as practicable, all works required by the town by contract, based upon public tender, and that it be made a provision of every such contract that labouring men should be paid not less than $1.25 per day of nine hours. This seems to me to be only a measure of fair play, when we consider that no man can keep a family in comfort on less wages, especially in view of the fact, as a rule, not being in any way constant during the year.

I believe that the agreement with the Street Railway Company should be carried out, especially in respect of providing better street car facilities for the western portion of the town by extending the line so as to give readier access to the beautiful resort in the western part of the town—Jackson Park—and a corresponding benefit to the residents of the west, to enable them to reach George street more conveniently.

I shall feel it my duty, if honoured with a seat in the council, to employ every reasonable means to add to our already extensive list of large and important manufacturing industries. But while I am in favour of offering reasonable inducements, I shall oppose every proposition of granting large and burdensome bonuses. We have in our own Ward a sample industry that has grown to a position ranking with the best in Canada, unaided by monetary favours and relying solely on perserverance and well directed enterprise.

I believe that it will be the best economy in the end to adopt the practice of looking to permanency in the construction of our streets and bridges, as it must be apparent to all that in the past a large proportion of the large annual expenditure on our streets has been wasted by makeshift construction, necessitating constant repairs, and, of course, unsatisfactory results. At the same time the streets would be kept in a condition that would reduce to a minimum the danger of accident, for which the town would be responsible, and saving a large expenditure in lawsuits and for damages, besides causing inconvenience and suffering to ratepayers who have paid their taxes in good faith.

While it may be in the interests of the country at large that party government should be the rule, I believe that only evil can result from introducing party politics into the management of municipal affairs.

As it will be impossible between this and the day of polling for me to call personally upon every ratepayer in the ward, I trust that if I find it impossible to call upon you that you will see your way clear to giving me your vote and support, upon my assurance that in addition to what I have stated above, I shall, if selected, make the interest of the town my first study, and that I shall oppose everything that will not tend to the promotion of the interests of this ward, and the town at large.

Wishing you the compliments of the season, I have the honour to remain

Your Obedient Servant,
J. E. McWILLIAMS.

TO THE RATEPAYERS OF WARD NO. 2

PETERBOROUGH, Dec. 29th, 1896.

Having been requested by a large number of influential ratepayers to allow myself to be nominated as a candidate for the councillorship, and believing that personal considerations should, if at all possible, be subordinated to public good, I respectfully solicit the votes of the ratepayers of No. 2 Ward. The very heavy demands of my business, (always abnormally large at this season of the year), will in a measure prevent my making a personal canvas, but if elected, I shall use every legitimate effort to further the interests of the town of Peterborough, and while endeavouring, as far as in my power lies, to oppose all useless expenditure, I shall as earnestly support every measure that may tend to build up the prosperity of the town, with which my interests are so closely connected.

I am, yours respectfully,
4d151 R. NEILL.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 4

Having been again requested to stand for councillor for this ward, I have accepted the nomination and respectfully solicit your votes and influence. My record, as one of your representatives in the council and my position in regard to the leading questions before the ratepayers, are well-known to you all. I am therefore quite willing to leave myself in your hands and to be judged accordingly. If elected I will continue to exercise the same care in future over the interests of the town as in the past, keeping in mind, principally, to encourage an economical and consistent policy in the management of our corporation affairs.

Your obdedient servant,
JOHN M. WHITE.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 2.

At the request of many citizens and ratepayers, those largely interested in the welfare and progress of the Town, I have accepted the nomination as a Councillor for No. 2 Ward. I shall be glad to receive your vote and influence. Possibly I may not be able to see you before the election day to personally solicit your vote, and state my intentions, but you can rest assured, that if elected by your kind support, I shall do all in my power, and in as economical manner as possible, to press forward the interests of Peterborough so as to make it one of the most important centres of business and manufacturing life in the Province of Ontario.

Hoping to be favoured with your hearty support, and wishing you the compliments of the season, I am,

Yours Truly,
A. L. DAVIS.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 1.

Having been nominated for Councillor for Ward No. 1 for 1897 I beg leave to announce my acceptance of the nomination.

I take this opportunity of soliciting the support of the electors—the ladies as well as the gentlemen—and if elected the best interests of this ward and of the town at large will receive my careful attention.

Yours Respectfully,
WM. RUDKINS.
December 28th, 1896.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 1.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—At the request of numerous ratepayers of Ward No. 1, to become a candidate for councillor, for 1897, I have decided to do so, and respectfully solicit your vote and influence. Should you elect me for the position I will use my best judgment in all matters that may come before the council, but more especially in the interests of economy and retrenchment in public affairs. I will endeavour to explain my views personally to as many of the electors as possible before election day.

Yours respectfully,
THOMAS J. MOORE.

CARD

To the Electors of No. 3 Ward.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—I have to thank you very heartily for the nomination tendered and support promised me as candidate for election as Councillor for Ward No. 3.

I regret that business matters will not allow of my—if elected—devoting the time to the important duty which devolves on your representatives.

Hoping I may at some future time avail myself of your kind offices.

Yours very respectfully,
BENJ. SHORTLY.

Cupid breaks his bow at the sight of a face full of pimples and blotches. Hollow cheeks, sunken eyes, and a sallow complexion will defy his best intentions. Beauty is more than skin deep. The skin is merely the surface on which is written in plain characters the condition of the body. The skin is not a thing by itself, and skin diseases are frequently not skin diseases at all. All the lotions and bleaches and creams and powders in the world won't make a good complexion if the digestion is wrong. If the stomach is sour, and the liver torpid, and the bowels constipated, the skin will show it. No use trying to treat the skin for such a condition. The only way to relieve it is to cleanse the system and purify the blood. As long as the heart is pumping impurities to every part of the body, just so long these impurities will show through the skin.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is good for the complexion because it makes the whole body healthy—because it clears and purifies the blood, makes the digestion strong and clears out impurities of all kinds. By increasing the ability to assimilate nutritious food, and by the infusion of its own ingredients, it enriches the blood and so makes solid, healthy flesh. It fills out the hollows, rubs out wrinkles and substitutes for sallowness a rosy, healthy glow. There is no mystery about it. It isn't a miracle. It is merely the result of a combination of rational, natural common sense with expert medical knowledge. It cures diseases of the lungs, liver, stomach, bowels, skin and scalp, simply because all these diseases spring from the same cause—a disordered digestion and consequent impure blood. Don't let prejudice and scepticism cheat you out of your health. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will positively cure you, if suffering from diseases named above.

If you want to know hundreds of great medical truths, send 31 one-cent stamps to cover cost of customs and mailing only, and we will send you FREE, a copy of Dr. Pierce's 1008 page book, "Common Sense Medical Adviser." World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE MILLIONAIRES.

THE THING THE POSSESSOR OF MILLIONS CAN DO TO BE UNKNOWN.

The London Spectator's List of Obscure Millionaires and Some Pertinent Remarks for Consideration by All Those Who Haste to be Rich.

The London Spectator once published a list of those it called "obscure millionaires," who had died within the previous 10 years. The list was a rather long one. It sets one considering. The age is a shopkeeping age, it is true. It is apt, we say, to value men according to their property. Great wealth gives great consideration, and yet, notwithstanding the exaggerated importance of money and money getting, it appears that wealth in the largest measure redeems no man from obscurity; that money, in itself, by its mere possession, confers no distinction which even this age values. It's use, and not its possession, is all that can make it a matter of distinction. In our own country, even more than in Europe, wealth exaggerates its own consequence. It is natural that it should, for here, more than there, it is a personal matter. The American millionaire has "made," as he says, his own millions. They represent his own shrewdness, industry, tact, perseverance, or "good luck." He is fond, it may be, of reminding us all that it is so. He is a "self-made man," and recurs to the time when he was a barefoot boy, or a penniless youth, with some pride, as a proof of how bright a man he is in having changed by his own powers the early poverty for the present wealth. He feels in his heart he has done a noble work, and that he deserves the commendation of mankind for doing it. He is liable to disappointment, as we all know, and it is somewhat strange that, shrewd as he is in money matters, he is so blind in others. For the rest of the world is very busy and has little time to trouble itself about his success or his failure. Neither can other people see on exactly what grounds a man can claim its applause only for having taken good care of his own interests. The consideration given to him for his money is given only to his face by those who expect to get something by it. The community would look complacently upon the matter if a sudden revulsion should set him to sweeping the streets to-morrow, would consider him indeed quite as important in the last occupation as in that of raking his heaps higher. In other words, it is the wealth itself that is important, if there is any importance in the case. The man who owns it may be very unimportant; in fact, if he is content to be merely its owner, is sure to be so. The only way to create distinction with wealth is by its use. What a man does with what he has determines the question of his obscurity. The world is very just, and forgets all but its benefactors. The millionaire who uses his millions for his own benefit is like the officeholder who uses his office for his own benefit, or the man of genius who exhausts his genius for his own selfish ends, or indeed like any man who, endowed with a trust, uses the trust for his own exclusive use and behoof. Men possessed of other trusts are not as apt to make this mistake as the men possessed of money. Genius, intellectual power, high spiritual gifts, we are all loud to claim are conferred for the good of humanity. We stand ready to condemn relentlessly the men who endowed with such gifts use them mainly for their own advantage. But great wealth, especially if a man has himself won it, is less apt to be considered a trust. The greed for it is great. It is often sought not for itself, but for the supposed distinction it confers. When the young man of energy and ambition looks forward to the attainment of it as the end of his endeavors, he is not led by and miserly desire for money in itself. He has rather the noble desire of winning distinction and importance by its possession. It is a means and not an end. Pity he should in the years of his pursuit so often change his notion. For his first opinion is right. Wealth can confer distinction. It can bring honor and high consideration. It can make a man's memory fragrant for centuries. But to do all this it must be used. There are millionaires in our own country who will neither be remembered nor cared for 30 days after their costly funerals. Their passages from among living men will leave no void, for the stocks and bonds and shares which alone gave them their consequence remain. Mankind has lost nothing, misses nothing. There are others who will be missed in a thousand places and by thousands of hearts, for though the millions remain, the heart that made the missions a blessing is gone. The man in this case is lost to us, and he was more than his money. There are again some few who so dispose of their thousands that their names and memories are linked for years, for centuries, to the monuments of beneficence they leave behind them, famous the land over not for their wealth, but for the good deeds their wealth was used for. The millionaire is nothing, his importance nothing, his consequence nothing. We want to know what he does with his millions before we care to remember his name. As a millionaire merely, he is like the great poet who never writes, the great orator who has never made a speech, the great inventor who has never invented anything. He had grand opportunities. He could have done so much with is money. He did nothing. He "died worth so many millions." That is all. We stand by his grave, and think, "what a fool he was!" Another "obscure millionaire."

A Queer Expression.

Last summer we heard on the Maine coast the following phrase: "Come, now, don't peeve!" meaning, "Don't be peevish," or "Don't fret." Has any reader in New Hampshire or Vermont heard this verb in familiar use? We do not find it in the English dialect dictionaries that are at hand, nor is it in the pamphlets of the American dialect society. Ray says "peevish" in the north country dialect means "witty, subtle," and in certain English countries "peevish" means "foolish, trifling."—Boston Journal.

China Closets.

China closets in the dining room are no longer confined to corner cupboards. They are frequently built in the wall, and have wide doors with tiny leaded panes after old Dutch models.

To the aged, with their poor appetite, feeble circulation, and impoverished blood, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a boon beyond price. Its effect is to check the ravages of time, by invigorating every organ, nerve, and tissue of the body. See Ayer's Almanac for the new year.

BETTIE'S DIFFICULTY.

I.

Kind grandpa who lives in the country
A barrel of red apples sent;
The same day by mail came a letter,
Which said that the apples were meant,
Each one from the top to the bottom,
For his dear little granddaughter Bet,
And also his best love he sent to Sweet Bettie, his own little pet.

II.

The barrel was opened by papa,
The dear little girl sat on top.
She ate one, two, three, then she faltered
And burst into sobbing, "Oh! pop—
Oh! pop—Oh! pop—papa! I cannot Eat all in the barrel, and yet
I don't want to offend my dear grandpa,
I love him and I am his pet."

IT IS IN THE AIR.

Tweed People Talk About it.

It is in the air.
Can't stop it spreading.
Can't keep down a good thing.
People who don't know about it want to known.
People who do know, want to tell about it.
It is kidney education.
Tweed people are learning fast.
Here are some facts.

One of the best known residents of Tweed is Mr. W. H. Houston, who relates the following interesting facts: Mr. Houston says, "I have been very bad for several years with pains in my side and back.

"I had to urinate very frequently, in fact my rest was disturbed by frequent rising at night for that purpose. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, at Newton's drugstore, and have experienced great relief from the first.

"I am sure that I have been greatly benefited, and can recommend them highly to anyone troubled as I was."

TWO SUDDEN DEATHS.

Miss Annie O'Leary a Victim of Heart Failure—Samuel H. Park Died in His Chair in London.

London, Ont., Dec. 23.—Miss Annie O'Leary, daughter of the late Timothy O'Leary, 243 Clarence-street, for two weeks past has been ill with heart failure. Sunday she ate her breakfast with the other members of the family, and a few minutes later stepped from the dining room to the kitchen, fell to the floor and expired instantly.

Samuel H. Park, an old resident of London, expired suddenly on Saturday evening, while sitting in a chair, at the residence of his son, James C. Park, 661 Dundas-street. He leaves a widow and four children, Mrs. Taylor, and Miss Jennie E. Park of Detroit; Mrs. James Ritchie of Boston and James Park, with whom he resided.

Two Years of Bladder Torment—Had Attacks of Inflammation—Cured by a Few Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Owen Sound, Dec. 28.—(Special)—The people of this town are talking again of another cure credited to Dodd's Kidney Pills. This is the case of Mr. W. Cruse, caretaker of the town buildings, who, when seen, had this to say of the matter:

"For over two years I have been an intense sufferer from kidney disease, with occasional acute attacks of inflammation of the bladder.

"Was under doctors' treatment and have been compelled to resort to instrumental relief many times.

"I have taken eighteen boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am satisfied with results, being perfectly relieved of all suffering."

CHRISTMAS IN CAMP.

HOW IT WAS OBSERVED BY COLORED TROOPS.

The Ole Bull of the Accordion—A Sable Nightingale—Christmas Gifts—A Happy Lot of Children of a Larger Growth.

I enlisted after graduation at Yale in the Twentieth Connecticut regiment and was commissioned first lieutenant of Company F. Our service during 1863 and 1863 was with the Army of the Potomac until after the battle of Gettysburg, in which we participated, when the Twelfth corps, under the command of General Hooker, "Fighting Joe," was sent west to form a part of General Sherman's army. About this time the government was recruiting regiments of colored troops, a measure I approved, because I thought the negroes should fight for their own freedom and the elevation of their own race, and because, in other words, as was said at the time, a negro would stop a bullet as effectively as a white man. I believed, too, that properly officered and led the negroes would fight well, a belief that was confirmed by experience.

THEY WHILED AWAY THE TIME IN SINGING AND DANCING.

I saw four Christmases while in the army, for I was not mustered out until 1866—two with my old regiment, the Twentieth Connecticut, and one, that of 1865, while on detached service as the judge advocate of a general court martial. The Christmas which especially impressed itself upon me, however, was that of 1864, which I spent with my new regiment, the Forty-fourth, U. S. C. T. This regiment was recruited from among the plantation negroes recently slaves of northern Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee, with a small sprinkling from Mississippi. Dec. 25, 1864, was my first Christmas as a field officer, and with the colored troops—and with all of them—it was their first Christmas as soldiers and with many of them their first holiday as free men.

When Hood made his backward swing from Atlanta toward Nashville, while Sherman swung off on his famous march to the sea, the Forty-fourth was among the regiments left behind under Thomas to prevent the imperious Hood from reaching the Ohio. We were not with Schofield at Franklin, one of the fiercest engagements of the war. We did succeed in getting into Nashville in time to take part in the utter rout and dispersion of Hood's army on Dec. 15 and 16, though in getting there our train ran into a cul-de-sac lined with Confederate batteries, and we were only saved from annihilation by the celerity with which we got off the train and got behind cover. That night, guided by some of our Tennessee negroes who knew the bypaths, we eluded the Confederate pickets and got into the Union lines.

After the fight we were sent to Chattanooga and went into winter quarters. Our men lived in huts, rude, but comfortable. In fact, most of them were better housed, better clothed and better fed than they had ever been, and, while subject to the restraints of military discipline, enjoyed more real freedom than they had ever before known. As Christmas drew nigh the colored troops showed anxiety to celebrate it appropriately. On all well conducted plantations in the south before the war the holiday season was always a time for enjoyment and feasting with the blacks as well as the whites. The bonds of slavery were temporarily relaxed, and all went in for a good time. The white troops were receiving from their friends at home reminders that they were not forgotten in the shape of packages by mail and boxes by train laden with food, drink and clothing of a kind not provided by Uncle Sam's commissary or quartermaster. But our colored soldiers had no friends at home to send them these tokens of love and remembrance. Their friends, when not still in bondage, were poor, and homes were yet a thing of the future. But the men had their pay, and sutlers were as numerous as their prices were high. The officers of the regiment, both field and line, helped out the festivities of the black men in blue both by contributions and by teaching them how and what to buy. The result was that so far as creature comforts were concerned the men of the Forty-fourth, colored, fared remarkably well on their first Christmas of freedom and as soldiers.

The negro, like the Chinese and Japanese, is imitative; but, unlike them, he is musical. As a race the negro possesses a positive genius for music both vocal and instrumental. The men of the Forty-fourth Colored were not at all behind in this regard. We had a number of string bands among the men. In fact, every company had one or more. They had some very good performers among them, some of those on the fiddle and banjo being remarkably good. They played, of course, by ear, knowing nothing of written music. There was one negro who played the accordion with marvelous skill. He was from Mississippi and had acquired this accomplishment at New Orleans, where his old master spent his winters, this man having accompanied the planter as his body servant. The man had brought with him the instrument his master had bought him. Under his manipulation the peculiar whining tone of the accordion as ordinarily played was lost.

Then, there were any number of good singers. One big fellow, the blackest man, I think, I ever saw, had a tenor voice that would have made the fame and fortune of a white man. It was clear and powerful and as sweet as a chime of silver bells. In ordinary conversation he spoke in dialect, yet in singing his pronunciation was correct, while his enunciation was perfectly distinct. He sang all the old favorite ballads of antebellum days and the war songs of the time. His favorite song, though, was one of his own composition. It was all about mocking birds and nightingales, orange groves and cotton fields, running brooks and waveless bayous, trackless forests and hunted animals. The language was crude, yet endowed with the spirit of poetry, and when he sang it in that rich voice to a strange air full of pathos and sentiment it always seemed to me somehow that the black singer was inspired by a dim recollection of his ancestral home in some vast African forest and on the bank of some great stream.

This man was the leader of a band of choral singers formed by one of our lieutenants, who had a musical turn, to sing Christmas and war songs. And how they did sing them! Christmas eve was passed in this way. Sweet and touching were the Christmas carols they sang, but they were at their best when they gave musical voice to the fact that "John Brown's soul goes marching on." This they sang as though inspired, and when a thousand voices joined in the chorus, filling the frosty air with a great sound of chanting, the effect was one I'll never forget. This singing and the music were the most characteristic features of our Christmas festivities, the one in which we all participated as performer or listener, and the one which afforded the most universal pleasure and delight. Thus all of Christmas eve was passed. Christmas morning my striker, a boy about 18 or 19, black, careless, shrewd, impudent and faithful, woke me up by crying:

"Crismus gif', majah; Crismus gif', sah. I'se de fus'. Wot ye gwine to gib me—a drink?"

He dodged a boot and got his drink. Thus my first Christmas with the colored troops began. We of course had our indispensable military duties to perform, and we formed the regiment in hollow square on the parade ground to listen to divine service. Then the day was given up to jollity and merriment. Of course the chief interest of the day, especially with the colored men, centered in the dinner table. It is sufficient to say that they got the best dinner they had ever had. After that they whiled away the time in singing and dancing, swapping stories of their old life in slavery, now ended for them and soon to be for all wherever the stars and stripes floated; ran races and engaged in such games as their plantation life had made them familiar with and generally were boisterously merry, filling the air with their shouts of glee and unctuous negro laughter. They were a tired and happy lot of big, black, overgrown children when taps, "lights out," sounded that night and ended a day that to many of them no doubt seemed to set for the first time the seal of reality on that wonderful possession, personal ownership. THOS. B. KIRBY.

TURNING GRAY AND THREATENED WITH BALDNESS

The Danger is Averted by Using

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—MRS. H. M. HAIGHT, Avoca, Neb.

Saved.

Wilkins—Miss Oldfryte sat directly beneath the mistletoe on the chandelier, but Providence saved me.

Bilkins—Providence?

Wilkins—Yes; Providence dropped the chandelier.

At Christmas.

Without, the frost winged breezes blow
Across the wold, above, below,
And the rose in every cheek is stirred
With the downy kiss of each snowflake bird.

Within, the cheerful Yule log fire
Brims with music's high desire,
Sheds light and cheer below, above,
Bespeaking the warmth of homely love.

A Simple Good Will.

There is a married couple in Washington with their own peculiar method of celebrating such occasions. As the New Year dawns the wife will show you a $10 goldpiece and announce, "This was Charlie's Christmas present to me." The husband will show you a $10 goldpiece and say, "This was Annie's Christmas present to me." They always give that and always have given it. They lay the coins away and merely exchange them year after year.

Christmas Tree Ornaments.

Strings of silver and gilt balls and balls of raw cotton make pretty and effective decorations. Shreds of raw cotton may also be sprinkled over the tree. This does very nicely to represent snow. English walnuts, either natural or gilded, may be tied with ribbon and added to the other materials. You cannot have too much. Quantity rather than quality makes a tree beautiful. A dozen or more dolls, made of bright colored tissue paper, should be added if there are any little girls in the house. Candy canes and sugar animals of every conceivable kind are always appreciated by the youngsters.

The whole Story

Mr. Robert Hamilton, of Vancouver, B. C., is visiting his brother, Mr. Wm. Hamilton.

On Christmas day special service was held in the English church, the church being very handsomely decorated for the occasion. Rev. G. Warren preached an excellent sermon appropriate to the occasion, while special music was rendered by the choir. On Sunday evening last a carol service was rendered by the children, at which there was a very large attendance.

Seasonable goods in all departments at special prices may be found in R. Graham & Sons departmental store.

The Methodist Sunday school held a successful Christmas entertainment on Christmas night in the church. An excellent programme was prepared and extremely well rendered by the children and those taking part. A good sum was realized for the Sunday school fund.

At the regular meeting of Clementi Lodge No. 313 A.F. and A.M., held here on Monday evening the following officers were duly installed :

W Bro Jas Edward	I P M
" R J Munro	W M
" Albert Hill	S W
" W M Graham	J W

" R C Gale	S D
" J W Ridpath	J D
" R Thompson	S S
" Geo G Ogilvie	J S
W " John Hall	D of C
" Charles Boyce	I G
W " Fred Barlee	Tyler

After the meeting was over the W. M. served an excellent oyster supper to the members at the Queen's, at which a number of toasts were drunk in pure water and excellent speeches made by the officers and those present.

Messrs. Jas. G. Brown and Levi Payne, having resigned as candidates for the school board, Messrs. Dr. J. R. Fraser, John Richardson, jr., and W. Harper are elected by acclamation.

Legal advice being sought, it was found that Mr. G. A. Strickland, being engaged in a suit between Lakefield vs. Strickland, is therefore disqualified to act as councillor, and Mr. W. M. Graham, having acted as auditor, auditing the accounts of 1895, is also declared disqualified to act as councillor, by the clerk of the village. This seems strange, that an auditor, auditing the accounts for 1895, in January, 1896, and partially ending his work at that time is debarred from acting in the capacity of councillor for the year 1897.

HAULTAIN.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Methodist church held a very pleasant entertainment on Christmas Eve. A large tree loaded with beautiful gifts and quite a number under and around it adorned the platform. Before distributing the gifts Mr. C. Bronson, chairman, called for a short programme.

FLOODS AND SMALLPOX.

Cholera Also Adds to the Plagues Which Afflict Chinese and Japanese Cities.

San Francisco, Dec. 29.—The steamer Peru brings news that in addition to the smallpox epidemic in Japanese ports, cholera has revived at Hong Kong, and, though there are not as yet many deaths, the plague is increasing and serious results are expected. The disease has made much headway in many Chinese cities and on the Island of Formosa. The Japanese ports have declared a quarantine against all cholera-infected districts.

A severe famine is reported from Western China. It is particularly severe in the City of Chuantung, in Szechuen Province, where there has been a prolonged rain, causing floods, which have spread over vast areas of country, destroying almost the entire rice and vegetable crops. The inhabitants are dying by scores from starvation, and a large portion of the city situated on a bluff at a bend of the Kinsh River was carried under the flood by a landslide, and about 3000 of the starving Chinese were drowned. The flood had undermined the base of the bluff, and a portion of the hill, about five acres in extent, fell into the water.

WEDDING IN HIGH LIFE.

A Danish Count Marries a Great Great Granddaughter of "Betsy" Patterson.

Washington, Dec. 29.—The wedding of Count Adam De Moltke Huitfeldt of Denmark and Miss Louise Eugenie Bonaparte, daughter of the widow of the late Col. Jerome Bonaparte, took place this morning in St. Paul's Catholic Church. The church was handsomely decorated with flowers and plants. His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop of Baltimore, an old friend of the Bonaparte family, performed the ceremony.

Miss Bonaparte, the bride of to-day, is the great great granddaughter of the famous beauty, "Betsy" Patterson of Baltimore, whose marriage to Jerome Bonaparte, brother of Napoleon Bonaparte, was celebrated at Baltimore Christmas Eve, 1803. On her mother's side the new Countess is a descendant of Daniel Webster.

TORONTO MARKETS.

Flour—There is a moderate demand, but the high prices asked restrict business. Straight rollers are quoted at $4 to $4.10, Toronto freight.

Bran—Trade quiet and prices unchanged. Bran is quoted at $7 to $7.50 west, and shorts at $9 to $9.50.

Wheat—The higher prices in Britain and the States have produced a very bullish feeling and holders are asking such prices as prevent business. While wheat is worth 83c to 84c outside, and red 82c to 83c. No. 1 Manitoba hard is held at 97c, Toronto freight, and at 81c to 81½c, afloat Fort William.

GOLDEN LION

Wishes all its friends and customers an enjoyable Christmas and a happy and prosperous New Year.

The Golden Lion has none but thanks for the patronage of the year now closing. A preference has been shown that has swelled the volume of trade over its counters to the largest ever extended the business.

The Golden Lion assumes that this preference expresses the views of these who have favoured it, and is a tangible evidence that the methods and systems of the store meets with approval.

The Golden Lion fulfills as well as promises and during the year now at hand all that diligence, experience, courtesy and friendly offices can do to make the business of shopping pleasant to the customer will be done, and right willingly.

With Thanks,

Very Respectfully,

THE NEXT STEP.

Planning and preparing for 1897. Making prices still more interesting for the ladies. Going in for hard work. The beginning must be brilliant whatever the end must be.

SATURDAY will start our Annual Clearing Sale, previous to Stock-taking. We neither tax your imagination nor your credulity by statements that never produce results. We make no promise of 25 per cent. Reductions. We never put on that much profit and therefore can't be expected to take it off. Truthless tales and artful tactics are superfluous here. Plain truth serves this business best. We treat our customers as intelligent women and men. Helping you to buy goods at about what they cost us is what we now stand ready to do during this month.

Our January Store news will be the brightest and breeziest of the year. Our Special January Reductions will be more certain than a January thaw! Everything goes at COST—mind that!

for 1897. It's the duty and privilege of the ratepayers to elect the best men for the position, so that the best interests of our town may be safe-guarded.

LET THE BEST WIN!

As in elections, so in business. Let the best win! Because you voted a certain way last year that's no reason why you should vote the same way this year. Because you have been wearing some other make of Clothing this year, that's no reason why you should pass the best Cutter and Tailor in town now. To be a candidate in one of Pete Simons Suits or Overcoats goes a long way towards winning your election or electing your man.

It don't look very well to go round canvassing or shouting for your man in a shivering cold day with a badly battered outfit, and your Boy, too, aching for warm winter Clothing. Let us have your vote and influence.

A SPLENDID AFFAIR

Was the Montreal Banquet to Mr. Laurier.

THE PREMIER'S ELOQUENT SPEECH

Trade Policy Will be Reformed Without Destroying any Important Interests —Conciliation Has Worked Well and That Line Will be Followed in the Future.

Montreal, Dec. 30.—The banquet tendered by the Club National at the Windsor Hotel to-night in honor of Premier Laurier was a great success. Over five hundred took part, including many prominent Liberals. President Cote, of the Club Nationale, presided, and seated at the table of honor were Mr. Laurier, Sir Richard Cartwright, Messrs. Fielding, Mulock, Borden, Davies, Scott, Sir Henri Joly, Mr. Tarte and Mr. Geoffrion of the Dominion Cabinet. The most prominent members of the party occupied seats at the tables and the galleries were crowded with ladies. Hon. Thos. Greenway, Premier of Manitoba, was an honored guest, and was loudly cheered. It was nearly 9 o'clock when the dinner started, and it was near 11 o'clock when Mr. Laurier rose to reply to the toast of his health, which was enthusiastically honored.

Mr. Laurier spoke for nearly an hour in French, and his speech was one of the greatest efforts of his life. He said they were gathered together on a solemn occasion, and they witnessed all classes of society present. This was a proof, as he took it, that the Government in its short career had given satisfaction, and had succeeded in the policy that it had laid down. There were two principal articles in the Government's program, the reform of the tariff and the settlement of the Manitoba school question. The work on the tariff was now being accomplished, and the Government, when the time came, would show that it was possible to reform it without destroying the industries of the country, but rather by developing them to a greater extent. The policy of Liberalism was not a policy of revolution.

As for the school question, which to-day occupied to the greatest extent the attention of the Province of Quebec, the Government stood by its policy of conciliation. The Government attempted a task which the Conservatives had not been able to arrange in six years, and had obtained from the Manitoba Government important concessions, which permitted to the Catholic minority religious instruction and teaching of the French language. [Loud applause.] It was claimed by some that these concessions were not sufficient. While he respected the opinions of these people, he thought that the Government could at least claim to have obtained something, while their predecessors had done nothing. By conciliation they had obtained a great deal more than could ever have been obtained by coercive measures, and they trusted to the generosity and liberality of the Manitoba Government to carry out the settlement liberally.

Mr. Laurier said it was the first occasion he had had to speak with his compatriots of Quebec on this important question. He realized the importance of the occasion. He was aware that the settlement did not appear sufficient for certain high authorities (referring to the clergy). He revered those authorities, while he did not believe in their opinion in political matters.

Mr. Laurier then proceeded to explain at length the settlement of the school question which, he claimed, was much more favorable than the terms demanded by the late Government. Mr. Laurier said he was a Liberal of the English school, but he was not afraid to declare that, like Montlalambert and Lacondair, he believed in civil liberty. [Great and prolonged cheering.] He believed that the clergy, like all other citizens, had a right to their opinions, and he was willing to grant to them what he claimed for himself, the most complete liberty. He respected the views of the conscientious clergy.

Mr. Laurier, referring to the demands of the clergy as stated in The Semaine Religieuse, claiming the restoration of Separate schools, said that that was not the demand made before the Privy Council by Mr Ewart, representing the minority, who had simply demanded the right for the Catholics to ask for redress, and had not asked for Separate schools free from state control Mr. Laurier also denied that the judgment of the Privy Council had decreed the restoration of Separate schools. Such a demand now would result in a continuation of the sectional struggle which had disturbed the country for years.

The Manitoba Government had acted fairly and were inclined to render the fullest justice. It was prepared to give representation to the minority in the Cabinet, of which it had been deprived since the resignation of Mr. Prendergast [Great applause.] Mr. Prendergast was now being insulted by the Conservative press, but events would justify his course. The policy of conciliation Mr. Laurier said, had triumphed.

Mr. Laurier said he would continue the task to the end. It was only by such means that confederation could be built up and all classes live together in harmony. He would stand to the end for civil liberty. [Great and prolonged cheering, in which the whole gathering joined, and many cried "Civil liberty."] The cries were evidently intended as a direct challenge to the bishops

Mr. Laurier, continuing, said that he might fail, but if he did he would do so with the firm conviction that from instinct the principle that he had declared would rise immortal.

Mr. Laurier concluded with an eloquent plea for peace and harmony and was loudly cheered on resuming his seat.

Hon. Thomas Greenway began to speak at 1 o'clock. The Manitoba Premier first lauded his province and then referred to the school settlement. He declared that the Conservatives had offered about the same settlement as Hon. Mr. Laurier had accepted, but the Conservatives had said, If you don't do this we will pass a Remedial Bill, and Mr. Greenway said he did not feel disposed to be treated in this manner. When Hon. Mr. Laurier came into power, he went about it in a different manner, hence his success. He said he was always prepared to deal with all classes with the utmost liberality. We are now in a position to say, "Put your own representative on the advisory board and then the Catholics will have a say in the selection of the Catholic teachers." The Premier said some of his best friends in Manitoba were French, and they are grand men. He hoped French Canadians and men from Ontario and all other countries would come up and help build up Manitoba.

When the news reached the banquet hall that Archbishop Fabre was dead the proceedings were immediately brought to a close.

DEATH OF ARCHBISHOP FABRE.

After a Lingering Illness the Chief Roman Catholic Prelate of Montreal Crosses the Bar.

Montreal, Dec. 30.—After a lingering illness, Archbishop Fabre died to-night at 11 o'clock, retaining his senses to the last. He was born in this city Feb. 28, 1827. His parents, too, were natives of Montreal, His father, who was a bookseller, was Mayor of the city in 1849-50. Archbishop Fabre was the eldest of five children. A younger brother, Louis R. Hector Fabre, occupied a seat in the Senate of the Dominion for La Salle, and a sister was married to the late Sir George E. Cartier. The Archbishop was educated at St. Hyacinthe College and at Issy, near Paris, France. He received the tonsure at the hands of Archbishop Affre of Paris in 1845, and, returning to Canada, was ordained in Montreal in 1850 by Bishop Prince. In 1852 he was appointed parish priest at Pointe Claire, between Lachine and St. Anne. He became canon in 1855, and in 1873 was appointed Bishop of Gratianopolis, and was consecrated by Archbishop Taschereau of Quebec. In 1876, on the resignation of Bishop Bourget, he became Bishop of Montreal. He was created archbishop in 1886, when the see was raised to an archbishopric.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday, Jan. 5, at 10 o'clock in the morning.

The following gentlemen representing the Creameries' Association were present: Messrs. D. Derbyshire, Brockville, President; A. Wenger, Ayton; William Halliday, Chesley; R. J. Graham, Belleville. Representing the Western Dairymen's Association: A. F. McLaren, M.P., Stratford; John S. Pearce, London; A. Pattullo, M.L.A., Woodstock; J. W. Wheaton, Secretary, London; R. M. Ballantyne, Stratford. Representing the Eastern Dairymen's Association: T. B. Carlow, Warkworth; John R. Dargavel, Elgin; William Eager, Morrisburg; R. G. Murphy, Secretary, Elgin, and Henry Wade, President.

Mr. Henry Wade was chairman and Mr. R. G. Murphy Secretary. The Minister of Agriculture, Hon. John Dryden, was present. After discussion it was moved by D. Derbyshire, seconded by A. F. McLaren, "That the three associations as now existing be amalgamated into two new associations, to be called the Butter and Cheese Associations of Eastern and Western Ontario, respectively, with an Executive Committee of three from each as a Central Advisory Board." Carried unanimously.

London Fog in Chicago.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—A London fog overhung Chicago and the Great Northwest last night. It extended from the longitude of Pittsburg as far west as Kansas City, and played havoc with the telegraph service. "This fog interferes with our wires more than sleet, and is one of the worst we have ever had at this time of the year," said a telegraph official.

MET HIS CREDITORS.

Mr. Messner of Formosa Explains Matters.

TELLS WHAT CAUSED HIS FAILURE

Unfortunate Investments, Hard Times and Charitable Contributions All Had Their Effect—Used Other People's Money in His Own Business—Liabilities and Assets.

Walkerton, Dec. 30.—(Special.)—About 300 of Mr. Messner's creditors assembled at Formosa to-day and dealt with the legal requirements of the insolvent estate. The school house was the only building in the village large enough to hold them. They were remarkably peaceful and orderly, notwithstanding the fact that every one of them had lost money by the failure.

Mr. Messner made a statement about the cause of his insolvency, which he attributed to bad investments in Manitoba, hard times, loss by fire and money given to poor institutions. He had used in his own business the moneys placed in his hands for safety and investment, and could not give a clear account of what became of them. His liabilities showed $70,000 unsecured, besides heavy sums to the banks, which are secured by customers' notes. The assets are only $27,000 at high valuation, besides an interest in $65,000 of life insurance policies, the present value of which is unknown. He wanted to be let liquidate the estate himself, and promised to pay everybody in full in two years, but the creditors failed to agree with his view of the situation, and appointed a hostile assignee, E. G. Kunts, by a vote of 112 to 107 for John Messner, the insolvent's nephew. Three of Messner's friends, however, named Philip Weishardt, Peter Kuhry and John M. Fischer were elected inspectors, and the assignee has to deal with the estate according to their directions. A strong feeling was displayed against Walkerton taking part in the proceedings, and a proposal to appoint an English-speaking assignee would not be entertained. The German people were bound to have it all to themselves.

A motion was, however, carried to have Mr. Messner examined on oath, as his statement was not deemed satisfactory. The meeting adjourned to Jan. 14 for this purpose, and in the meantime the assignee will prepare a statement of the estate.

WHEEL RECORDS.

McLeod, Westbrook, Miller, and John Davidson, Have New Marks.

The official bulletin from the C.W.A. Racing Board was issued yesterday. The following records have been passed by the board:

One-quarter mile tandem amateur, against time, unpaced, flying start—Tucker and Boake, Toronto; 24 4-5 secs.

Two-mile tandem competition, amateur, standing start—L. E. Morin and A. Martineau, Montreal; 4.43 3-5.

One-quarter mile professional, against time, paced, flying start—Angus McLeod, Sarnia; 24 3-5 secs.

One-quarter mile professional, against time, paced, standing start—F. Westbrook, Brantford; 28 4-5 secs.

One-quarter mile professional, against time, unpaced, flying start—R. D. Miller, Hamilton; 26 secs.

One-half mile professional, against time, unpaced, flying start—R. D. Miller, Hamilton; 57 secs.

One-half mile paced amateur, flying start, against time—J. Davidson; 52 2-5 secs.

One-half mile paced amateur, standing start, against time—J. Davidson; 57 4-5 secs.

Claim is made by R. O. Blayney, Simcoe, for one and two mile paced competition records. The board has looked into the importance of the meet at which this time was made, and the circumstances of the races, and has decided that the records could be recognized only as attempts against time marks. He is allowed records as follows: One and two miles, paced, standing start, amateur, against time; 2.03 1-5 and 4.21.

THE HOCKEY SEASON.

Montreal Beat Winnipeg in the Great Match at the Prairie City.

Winnipeg, Dec. 30.—In all the history of Winnipeg no sporting event ever created as much interest as to-night's great struggle for the hockey championship of Canada between the Victorias of Montreal and the Victorias of Winnipeg. An idea of the interest may be gathered from the fact that reserved seats sold for $12 apiece. Spectators were jammed into every inch of space. There was no betting to speak of, because everybody wanted to back Winnipeg, and, though big odds were offered, there was no Montreal money in sight. The referee was W. C. Young of Ottawa, and the teams were composed as follows:

Winnipeg (5)—Goal, Merritt; point, Flett; cover, Johnstone; forwards, Campbell, Armytage, Howard, Bain.

Montreal (6)—Goal, Lewis; point, Henderson; cover, Grant; forwards, McDougall, Drinkwater, Davidson, McLea.

From the outset it was a great game of scientific hockey, and, though swift as can be possibly imagined, there was a total absence of rough play. A summary of the goals scored is as follows:

First game—Winnipeg, Bain, 6 min.
Second game—Winnipeg, Campbell, 2 min.
Third game—Winnipeg, Howard, 2½ min.
Fourth game—Montreal, McLea, 5 min.
Fifth game—Montreal, Davidson, 3 min.
Sixth game—Winnipeg, Howard, 7 min.
Seventh game—Montreal, Davidson, 6 min.
Eighth game—Montreal, McLea, 4 min.
Ninth game—Montreal, McDougall, 7 min.
Tenth game—Winnipeg, Bain, 6 min.
Eleventh game—Montreal, Drinkwater, 2 min.

The 12th game was in progress when time was called, leaving Montreal winners of the championship by one goal. They take back with them the coveted Stanley Cup, and to-night Winnipeg is in mourning.

FOUND AT LAST.

Annie Damer, Who Had Been Missing, Located by Wood Choppers in Michigan Forests.

Saginaw, Mich., Dec. 30.—Annie Damer, the Buffalo, N.Y. young woman, whose disappearance last Thursday created a sensation, was found this morning in a brush heap about half a mile from the western city limits. She was dazed and partly unconscious. A party of men chopping wood found her. She is now at the Saginaw Hospital under medical treatment. She can give no account of her whereabouts or how she came there. The Damer family formerly lived at Stratford, Ont.

Alleged Counterfeiters Arrested.

New York, Dec. 30.—Mary Hauson, Wm. Martin and Patrick Burke were arrested last night at No. 8 Batavia-street, this city, on a charge of being counterfeiters. They are said to be members of a gang of the cleverest counterfeiters that have ever existed either in this or any other country. The operations of the gang were carried on in the Maine woods and the mountain fastnesses of Virginia as well as in the slums of New York.

The iron grasp of scrofula has no mercy upon its victims. This demon of the blood is often not satisfied with causing dreadful sores, but racks the body with the pains of rheumatism until Hood's Sarsaparilla cures.

THE OLD YEAR AND THE NEW.

How quickly the years pass! The hours of another year have been absorbed into eternity. This is a season of retrospection as well as of looking forward. It is becoming to look back upon the record of the past twelve months and recall the blessings for which we should be thankful. While the year now closing has held many dark days for many of us, yet we have more or less to be thaufal for. As a town we have, while not enjoying any marked degree of prosperity, held our own better than most of our sister towns. As a nation the past year has been one of great interest and of gratifying improvement in government. From the EXAMINER'S point of view this year has marked an important crisis in our national history, augaring a progressive future. The advent of a Liberal Government to power, marks the beginning of a new era in our history, and one of the first acts of that government has, by the settlement of a vexed question that has hung over the country as a menace of national desintegration, given an impetus to national unification and consolidation. This will leave us free and unimpeded by racial, religious and sectional embroilment, to pursue the career of progressive development that will make of us a great nation. In material matters we have during 1896 witnessed a beginning of the development of our immense mineral resources that promise great things. From the Atlantic to the Pacific our wealth of arable soil is alternated at intervals, rich and frequent, with opulent deposits of gold, whose unexampled richness has turned the eyes of the world upon us. These, and Canada's achievements in other departments of her activities—industrial, agricultural and dairying—have linked more closely the bonds that unite us to the great Empire, and strengthened the sentimental ties that tend to our oneness with the imperial chain of colonies, each with the essential elements of an empire in resources and possibilities. While we still hold to our unalterable allegiance to the British Empire, never before has the existence of the Canadian national spirit put itself so prominently in evidence. Like a young giant, we are beginning to feel our strength and to recognise the truth that national unity and pride in our magnificent heritage are mighty moral agencies, necessary to the full development of that destiny to which our natural resources, the energy of our people and the expectation of the world point the way. Canada is a great country, and never before was that fact so borne in upon the national intelligence, and never before has that fact been accorded fuller recognition by the Empire and the world at large than to-day. And never before have our national hopes been higher and our national future brighter. This future to which the present points is full of encouraging promise, and the country is in a mood to be moved to fruitful action by that promise. It is in this spirit that we can, with confidence of happy realization, wish, not only our fellow Canadians, but the readers of the EXAMINER as well,

A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

The camel is a beast of great strength and endurance. Nothing hurts it until the proverbial "last straw" is added to its burden. The human digestive system is very much like a camel. It is really astonishing how much abuse it will stand. Sometimes, however, something worse than usual will be eaten, and will go through the stomach into the bowels, and then it will stick—that's constipation. Nine-tenths of all human sickness is due to constipation. Some of the simplest symptoms are coated tongue, foul breath, dizziness, heartburn, flatulence, sallowness, distress after eating, headaches and lassitude. A little thing will cause constipation, and a little thing will relieve it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a certain cure for constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules, mild and natural in their action. There is nothing injurious about them. Sold by druggists.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. Thos. Markle, of Bay Mills, Mich., spent Sunday at the Lakeview.

Miss Minnie Wyer, of Peterborough, is visiting Miss Nellie Young the past few days.

Mr. Frank McPherson, of Peterborough, is renewing acquaintances here this week.

Mr. Theodore Phelan, of Bay Mills, Mich., is the guest of his aunt, Mrs. J. E. Kearney.

Miss Maggie Fobert, of Bridgenorth, spent Christmas at the Point.

Mr. Robt. Dever came home for Christmas.

The roads are in fine condition and only require a few inches of snow to make good sleighing.

The farm house owned by Mr. L. G. Fobert, of Bridgenorth, and occupied by Mr. William Hockaday, was burnt on Thursday, Dec. 24th. As far as can be learned it was insured.

Mr. Francis Armstrong, who was living on a farm on the 12th concession of Smith, was burnt out. The house and contents were entirely consumed. Mr. Armstrong thinks the fire was work of incendiaries.

The lumbering is very quiet in this locality this winter. It would benefit the country around here if some firm would take hold of the Scott limits, as there is enough material there for a number of years.

A very pleasing wedding was celebrated in town on Monday, 28th inst. The contracting parties were Miss Mattie Phelan, granddaughter of Mr. Peter Phelan of Lakefield, and Mr. Thos. Markle of Bay Mills, Mich. They drove to Peterborough, and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, assisted by the Rev. Father Casey. The bride, who was attired in a beautiful brown French novelty, trimmed with fur and chiffon, was assisted by her cousin, Miss Lottie Kearney of Young's Point, and Mr. Theo. Phelan, brother of the bride, acted in the capacity of groomsman. After the wedding they drove back to Mrs. Phelan's, and those present sat down to a sumptuous dinner. They intend taking up residence in Bay Mills, Mich. We wish them success in their new life.

The concert held by the Young's Point Dramatic Club on Christmas night was a grand success, as about two hundred people attended. Mr. C. Young acted in the capacity of chairman and by a few well-selected remarks introduced the "Y. P. D. C." The programmee, which was rendered in first-class style by those who took part, was as follows:

Violin solo.....Mr R Oliver
Accompanist.....Miss Maggie Kearney
Dialogue, "A Neighbourly Quarrel".....Messrs F J Young and S Anglesey
Song, "East Side Girl".....Mr Harry Kearney
Recitation, "Brother Paul".....Miss Lottie Kearney
Charade..Misses Louise Kearney and Jennie Kearney, and Messrs W Scollard and W E Brooks
Recitation, "I bade ye the top o' the Morning," Mr M Young
Violin solo.....Miss Jennie Kearney
Song and dance, "Maggie McCarthy".....Mr Harry Kearney
Dialogue, "Scandal on the Brain".....Misses Maggie Kearney, Lottie Kearney, Emma Scollard, Nellie Young and Louise Kearney
Song, "On the Benches in the Park".....Miss Lillie McFarlane
Trio (violins and mouth organ)..Misses Lottie Kearney, Jennie Kearney and Maggie Kearney
Song, "Officer Porter,".....Miss Josie Phelan
Dialogue, "Stage Struck Yankee".....Misses Nellie Young, Emma Scollard, and Messrs W Scollard, W E Brooks, Harry Andrews and Will Young God Save the Queen.

People had no idea there was such good talent in Young's Point, for everyone was thoroughly satisfied with the entertainment and hope it will not be the last.

Mr. Arthur Smith, who formerly taught school here, is visiting old friends here for a few days.

THEY WORKED WONDERS.

Two Years of Bladder Torment—Had Attacks of Inflammation—Cured by a Few Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Owen Sound, Dec. 28.—(Special)—The people of this town are talking again of another cure credited to Dodd's Kidney Pills. This is the case of Mr. W. Cruse, caretaker of the town buildings, who, when seen, had this to say of the matter:

"For over two years I have been an intense sufferer from kidney disease, with occasional acute attacks of inflammation of the bladder.

"Was under doctors' treatment and have been compelled to resort to instrumental relief many times.

"I have taken eighteen boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am satisfied with results, being perfectly relieved of all suffering."

GALWAY.

Council Meeting.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The Galway council met as provided by statute on Dec. 15th, the members all present. On motion this council transferred their claim on lot 9, con. A, to John Coulter for the amount paid for said lot at tax sale, and also lot 23, con. 12, to Nicholas Cheevers, for the amount of $10 paid for said lot at tax sale. On motion the trustee school rate charged to William McElwain, lot 8, con. 5, was taken off collectors roll as said lot is over 5 miles from school. On motion that the reeve and clerk are instructed to examine the treasurer's books, for the years 1894 and 1895, and if this municipality owes Thos. R. White, late collector, they to pass an order on treasurer for the same. On motion, the council is to be paid to date and orders drawn for the same: M. Mansfield, council fees, $5; G. McKee, council fees, $5; J. Allen, council fees, $5; J. Gilmour, council fees, $5; M. Collins, council fees, $5; clerk selecting jurors and financial statement, $2.50; clerk, miscellaneous, $4.10. On motion council adjourned sine die.

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. NEWS FROM OTTAWA

The City and Taxation of the Government.

POINTERS FROM THE OLD COUNTRY

London County Council Had a Lot of Information to Give—Edinburgh and Dublin Also Send Replies—No Special Inducements to Armenian Immigrants—Notes.

Ottawa, Dec. 30.—(Special.)—The corporation of Ottawa proposes to present as strong a case as possible to the Dominion Government in asking for a new arrangement of the financial contribution to the municipal exchequer. Communications have been sent to the principal capitals in the empire and the replies are well calculated to help Ottawa's case. To-night three replies were presented to the City Council from London, Dublin and Edinburgh. Further communications are expected shortly from the Australian and South African colonies. The communication from the clerk of the London County Council says:

"In reply to your letter of the 12th ult., asking for information with regard to the financial relations between London and the Imperial Government, and whether the Government makes any contribution towards services of a municipal character, I have pleasure in forwarding the following particulars on the subject:

"Under the Local Government Act, 1888, the metropolis, the extent of which is about 120 square miles, and which includes within its boundary the city of London, an area of only one square mile, was made a county of itself, but the city of London is comparatively unaffected by the act, and no contribution to the funds of the corporation is made by the Government. I assume, however, that your letter has reference to the County of London, in respect of which the Government makes payments to the council from (a) the receipts from the local taxation, licenses for game dogs, guns, auctioneers, tobacco, carriages, hawkers, pawnbrokers, armorial bearings, etc.; (b) the estate duty; (c) beer and spirit duties. These grants are made to each county in England and Wales and in substitution for annual local grants, which, prior to the passing of the Local Government Act, 1888, were paid out of the Imperial Exchequer to local authorities in aid of local rates. The council is required to pay from the moneys thus received certain sums for the following purposes: Teachers in poor law schools, public vaccinators, registrations of births and deaths, pauper lunatics, poor law medical officers, metropolitan police. The estimated amount receivable under these heads for the year 1896-7 is: Local taxation licenses, £425,000; estate duty, £375,000; total, £803,000.

"Amounts payable direct through the Local Government Board: Metropolitan police, £511,620; revising barristers' costs (County Electors' Act, 1888,), £1,-275,512 5s 5d; beer and spirit duties, £290,895. The council receives the residue of these duties after $150,000 has been deducted in aid of the police superannuation fund (£171,000); total amounts receivable, £402,105. The council also receives a contribution of £10,000 per annum from the Government towards the expenses of the fire brigade and about £3600 per annum towards industrial schools. In addition to the above contributions from the Imperial Exchequer, the Government also assists local taxation by paying rates on the property which it holds in the various parishes and upon an assessment decided upon by the Government valuer."

The Town Clerk of Edinburgh replies as follows: "The Lord Provost has handed me your letter of the 16th inst., and I reply to the questions you put to His Lordship as follows:

"1. The Government pays no city taxes.

"2. They give a contribution, however, in lieu of rates. I may mention that last year on a rental of £20,000 a contribution of £2311 7s 3d was allowed.

"3. They pay no sum whatever in respect of the services specified in your third query."

Town Clerk of Dublin: Referring to your letter of the 16th instant, addressed to Lord Mayor, I have much pleasure in replying as follows:

1. Government property in the city of Dublin is exempt from rating.

2. The Government, however, makes a contribution or grant to the corporation in respect of such property equivalent to the amount that would be payable if the property were rated in the usual way. They respect the domestic water rate, and pay for the water by meter, that is, at a fixed rate per 100 gallons.

3. The city rates, towards which the above mentioned contribution is made, are applied to the maintaining and improvement of streets, public libraries, the fire brigade, etc. The police force here is controlled by the Government, and not by municipal authorities.

These replies are considered of the most favorable character.

The Free Press, commenting on this subject to-night, says: "A Hamilton paper alludes to Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa as making an attack upon the public treasury. So far as the two first-named cities are concerned, the statement is untrue and preposterous. Demands have been made for money for local purposes, which cannot, in our opinion, be considered by the Government. The preposterous Cabot scheme got up in Toronto is a case in point. The proposed International Exhibition, also a very shadowy scheme, is another. But Ottawa has made no demands on the public treasury, much less attacks. The justice and desirableness of the Government contributing something to the municipality has been argued, and reasonably, that is all."

The Government does not propose to offer any special inducement to Armenians to settle in Canada. An Order-in-Council has been passed, dealing with the suggestion that the Canadian Government should furnish funds to transport a number of Armenians to the Dominion, setting forth that there was no appropriation for assisting emigrants to Canada, and that in view of the difference of climate in Canada and Turkey, it might not be in the interests of the Armenians themselves to bring them to Canada; at the same time it was pointed out that private companies and individuals under the existing law could take land and homestead it in the Northwest. Copies of the Land Act and other information were attached to the Order-in-Council sent to Mr. Chamberlain.

The Fisheries Department has been advised of the formation of a company in Newfoundland for the purpose of prosecuting the whale fishery on the coasts of Labrador and Newfundland. For several years past a very profitable whale fishery has been prosecuted on the coasts of Norway and Iceland by small steamers, each armed with a heavy harpoon gun and bombs. The same species of whales abound on the coasts of Canada, Newfoundland and Labrador. It is proposed to bring first steamers and the equipment, together with trained gunners, from Norway, but the other officers and crews will be obtained in Newfoundland. Mr. Adolphe Neilsen, himself a Norwegian, who has been superintendent of fish culture in Newfoundland for some years, will be the head of the new concern. Captain Spain, commandant of the fisheries protection-fleet, is inclined to think that the new company, if well managed, will have a lucrative return for its investment. He has seen many whales off our coasts during the past few years.

MR. E. W. HARLETT, Reeve of Chatham Township, Kent County, Ont., says: "My daughter has been very weakly for some years; she was very pale and always felt tired; she was prevailed upon by a friend to try a box of Miller's Compound Iron Pills. I must say it was a good investment; she at once began to improve. The colour came to her cheeks, she got stronger rapidly, and now is quite well." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

THE BEAUTIFUL STAR.

The wise men came out of the east,
Following the beautiful star,
And the camels they rode
Were weighed down with their load
Of spices and gold from afar.

They came to Jerusalem's gate,
And a message to Herod dispatched
Saying, "Tell us the news
Of the King of the Jews,
Whose wonderful birth star we've watched."

King Herod sprang up in alarm,
And the seventy summoned at morn,
And demanded of them,
"O King, Bethlehem,"
They replied, "is where Christ shall be born."

So the wise men to Bethlehem came,
Still following the beautiful star,
And they laid at the feet
Of the Christ Child so sweet
Their spices and gold from afar.

Then they reverently worshiped him there,
Though a rude manger cradled the boy,
And gave thanks to the Lord
For fulfilling his word,
And returned to their country with joy.

And the low bending heavens rang out,
While the thrilling, seraphic refrain
Filled the earth like a flood—
"Glory be unto God,
And on earth peace, good will unto men!"

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

Miss May Huebeck Receives a Handsome Silver Service.

A pleasant affair took place last night in St. Andrew's school room after the prayer meeting service. The pastor on behalf of the Session, read the following address to Miss May Heubeck, who is about leaving town to take up her residence in Chicago.

To Miss May Huebeck:

DEAR MISS HUEBECK,—We have learned with mingled feelings of pleasure and regret of your proposed departure from among us. We rejoice with you because you rejoice, and yet we regret that after years of loyal, faithful and devoted service with us, we are now called upon to loose one who had secured the admiration and esteem of officers and members. On behalf of the congregation, the Session and Managers of St. Andrew's desire to express their heartiest appreciation of your services in the choir and young Peoples' work, and as you have been a blessing to us we pray that heaven's choicest blessings may follow you into the new relationship that you are soon, in the providence of God, to form, and we sincerely hope and pray that you may be long spared to labour in the service of your Lord and Master in that same spirit of meekness and humility that has characterized you in the past.

G. W. MULLIGAN, Choirmaster. } Board of Managers.

After the reading of the address, Dr. R. W. Bell in a few words spoke in glowing terms of the faithful service rendered by Miss Heubeck. In times of difficulty and need she had been found ready and most willing to stand by the officers of the church, and consequently they were led to feel that in Miss Heubeck's departure they were losing a valued assistant. He then, in the name of the congregation presented Miss Huebeck with a case of silver, comprising table, tea, dessert and coffee spoons, tomato server, lobster forks, fruit forks and silver spoon basket.

Mr. G. W. Mulligan, on behalf of the choir, spoke of the great pleasure it gave him to testify to the excellent disposition of Miss Huebeck, and in his experience of ten years as a choir leader, he never met a more faithful and willing assistant.

Miss Huebeck then replied in feeling language to the kind things that had been said, and expressed her deep gratitude for the way in which the appreciation of the people had been shown, and in closing begged the prayers of the congregation on her behalf.

Refreshments were then served, and after a social hour, a pleasant meeting was brought to a close.

MR. AND MRS. ED. BROWN HANDSOMELY REMEMBERED.

Presented With Handsome Souvenirs by the Staff of E. Brown & Co.

This afternoon Mr. E. Brown, of the firm of E. Brown & Co., while he was comfortably discussing his dinner, was surprised by a messenger despatched by the staff of the firm. The staff, in recognition of the past prosperous year of business and a year of courteous and kindly treatment, sent Mr. Brown a handsome gold-headed cane and to keep it company, a dozen of gold bowled silver coffee spoons for Mrs. Brown. Mr. Brown is very highly pleased with this evidence that it pays to deal fairly and liberally with his employees and wishes to take this means of publicly acknowledging the graceful action on the part of his staff. At the same time it argues on the part of the employees a very proper degree of interest in the business, whose prosperity they are engaged to advance.

A Tribute to Mrs. Traill.

The Globe says: "Mrs. Traill of Lakefield, is still full of keen interest in all matters Canadian. She is now 95 years of age, and when she was lately elected honourary president of an historical society she at once set to work to write to a number of her Indian friends for historical records and articles of various kinds of older days, saying as she did so, 'I do not mean to be a figure head only.' The society referred to is the Peterborough Historical Society, and it is to the Indians of Hiawatha and the Rice Lake region, that she has written for relics. While we all appreciate such evidences of Mrs. Traill's interest, it is to be feared that Mr. David Boyle of Toronto, may resent anything like poaching on his prehistoric preserve.

A DECEMBER WEDDING.

Nuptials of Mr. John Anderson and Miss Eva Kindred.

The Temperance House, Hunter street, was, last evening, the scene of an exceedingly pretty wedding, when Miss Eva, third daughter of Mr. W. A. Kindred, was united in marriage to Mr. John C. Anderson, son of Mr. John Anderson, of Ashburnham.

The ceremony was performed, in the presence of about one hundred relatives and friends of the young couple, by Rev. W. R. Young, B.A., of the George street Methodist church, the bride being a member of the choir. The wedding march was played by Miss Florence Blewett, Hall's Bridge.

The pretty young bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a wedding costume of fawn tweed trimmed with old gold silk and gimp, and was assisted by her sister, Miss Etta, who was becomingly attired in a costume of Persian cloth with trimmings to match. Both carried beautiful bouquets. The duties of best man were satisfactorily filled by Mr. Bruce Anderson.

After the ceremony the gathering sat down to a sumptuous wedding supper in the dining hall, after which the young couple received the congratulations of all present.

Both young people, who are well and favourably known, received a large number of handsome presents, the Peter Hamilton Mfg. Co., of which Mr. Anderson is bookkeeper, adding a handsome present to the list.

During the evening the Fire Brigade Band (Mr. Anderson being an ex-member) serenaded the young couple. The evening was enjoyably spent by the gathering present in music and games, after which Mr. and Mrs. Anderson departed for their home, 487 Aylmer street.

THE SHEPPARD FAMILY.

The Parents Have Been Arrested and Brought to Town.

Last night at 11 o'clock Constable Cochrane brought in the Sheppard family—mother, father and three children, from the back country. The children were poorly clothed and in a generally unkempt condition. The investigation into the numerous complaints of neglect and desertion will not be held till Thursday next owing to the distance to be travelled in reaching witnesses. In the meantime through the kindness of the lady managers and the matron of the Protestant Home, the mother and children are placed there.

VETERANS OF 1837.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—In your report of a presentation to Mr. F. Edwards, of Douro, by the surveying staff of the T.V.C., you conclude by saying that Mr. Edwards and Mr. James Wasson, of town, are the only two living participants in the memorable march from Peterborough to Toronto in December, 1837. In this you are mistaken, as I know of at least one other survivor, who resides in Otonabee, near the village of Keene, and who has been a constant resident of the same place for about 75 years. I refer to Mr. William Howson. Mr. Howson is now 81 years of age, and, with the exception of being a little deaf, is hale and hearty. He is a capital hand to tell a story, and has entertained the writer many a time recounting the hardships and adventures of his early life, not the least interesting of which was his experience as a soldier in 1837. It was his duty to take charge of the prisoners captured on the route to Toronto, and there were quite a number of them, too, many of whom he thinks were arrested for very trivial offences.

I often notice you express a wish that more was known of the experiences, the hardships and privations, the sorrows and the joys (for they had their joys, too) of the early settlers of this country, and I as often wish that you could have a good week's chat with Mr. William Howson.

Yours truly,
G. H. B.

Peterborough Dec. 31st, 1896.

[At the time the EXAMINER wrote up the memorable march to Toronto, a few weeks ago the names mentioned in the paragraph referred to above were all that were then known. At the same time a request was made for others, if there were any, to leave their names at the EXAMINER office. The above is the first response we have had, and this afternoon Mr. Frederick Edwards, of Douro, who had been making inquiries, gave the names of three others, Mr. James Girvin, of Otonabee; Mr. John Torpey, Douro, and Mr. John Hendren, of Dummer.—[ED. PERSONAL

Miss Lillie Fitzgerald is spending a week or so in Toronto.

Mr. Geo. Gumpricht was in Lindsay on business yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sims, of the Montreal Bank, Lindsay, spent the day in town.

Miss Laura Dormer, of Mount Vernon, is visiting her parents, Brown street, Ashburnham.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Shaw of Cairnduff, Manitoba, are visiting friends in Peterborough, their former home.

Mr. George H. Halpin has returned to Toronto after spending his Xmas holidays with his parents, hunter street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Brown leave in the morning to take their New Year's dinner with Mr. Brown's mother in Port Hope.

Miss Helen Goldsmith of Belleville, daughter of Dr. Goldsmith, formerly of Peterborough, is visiting friends in town.

Miss Minnie O'Sullivan's many friends will be pleased to learn that an improvement in her very precarious condition is apparent.

Miss Maude Macfarlane left by this morning's early C. P. R. express for Winnipeg, where she will spend the winter.

Mr. Will Conger, who has been spending the Christmas week with his uncle, Mr. R. D. Conger, returned home to Belleville this morning.

Miss Sarah Robinson, daughter of Mr. T. W. Robinson, is visiting Miss Ethel Piper in Toronto. She will spend a month or so in the Queen City.

Mrs. R. M. Denniston was at home to several hundred of her friends in the Oddfellows' Hall last evening. A large number were present from out of town.

—The Lindsay Post says: Miss Maud Landry, of Peterborough, spent her Xmas holidays visiting her parents in the south ward. She was accompanied by several other friends from the same town.

The EXAMINER has to thank Mr. J. W. Garvin for the gift, on behalf of the North American Life Assurance Company, of a copy of a beautiful and convenient pocket diary, with the Company's compliments.

In the account published yesterday of St. Andrew's Sunday school entertainment the name of Mr. John Laing was omitted, as having participated in the programme. Mr. Laing's piano solo was greatly appreciated.

WISH THEIR MANY CUSTOMERS AND FRIENDS....

"A Happy and Prosperous New Year."

In this our closing announcement for the year 1896, we have very great pleasure in wishing all our customers and friends a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

It is gratifying to us to find the number of our customers steadily increasing, and to find a keen appreciation on the part of the general public of our efforts to give them an assortment of High-Class Goods at the lowest living profits, equal to that found in any city store.

It is now four years since we adopted the cash system which is the system adopted by nearly all the foremost stores of the Dominion, and the steady increase in our business is a proof that this is the only system at the present time by which a business man can treat all his customers alike. Our aim has been to serve you promptly and well.

By our connection with the Great Glasgow and Canadian Syndicate we are enabled to buy from manufacturers all over the world, at prices that cannot be repeated by any house outside this syndicate.

Thanking you one and all for your liberal patronage during the year just closing and soliciting your trade for the New Year.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Council meeting to-night—the last of the year.

—This is the time when electors should put on their thinking caps.

—Mayor Smith has been re-elected in Lindsay by acclamation.

—Jack Butler was allowed to go on suspended sentence this morning by the magistrate on a charge of larceny.

—This appears to be the regular January thaw. It is to be hoped that it will not last the usual week. This is the fourth day.

—The prettiest children's wool coats and bonnets to match, in town are on sale at Mrs. Appleby's fancy goods store, 426 Water street. 3d152

—Messrs. Sam Ray and John Stanger were out on a fox hunting expedition yesterday, but did not have the pleasure of a chase. A couple of rabbits were secured.

—Eighty-five hundred dollars, the whole profit for last season of the Imperial House of Commons kitchen, has been invested by the committee in a stock of claret. Evidently the Imperial House is not on the prohibition ticket yet.

—Merchants are taking advantage of the soft spell to give their windows one more wash before the winter finally sets in. Peterborough merchants are noted for their fine windows and the way they display their goods in them. Visitors to town always remark on this fact.

—There were seventy nominees for municipal honours in Lindsay, but for some reason so many declined that one seat in the council will have to go begging for an occupant, and another nomination will have to take place. In Toronto there were only 77 nominees. Lindsay is doing well.

—J. M. Barrie, the novelist, visited a girls' college in the south recently, and was asked by one of the young ladies to write in her album. This is what he wrote: "Beware of a pale woman with a large appetite." Nobody has yet been able to find out what Barrie meant, though hundreds have racked their brains over the mystery. Possibly that's just what Barrie intended.

—For the second time within a year the presidency of Levana society, of Queen's University, has become vacant through the incumbent resigning to enter the state of matrimony. The president who held office up to within a few days ago, will wed a minister stationed at Merrickville. This ought to be an inducement to a number of other young ladies to take a course at Queen's and to aspire to the presidency of the Levana society.

—The Riverside Park skating rink, Ashburnham, has been reflooded. The ice looks as if it were a mirror, so clear, smooth and level is it. No doubt there will be hockeyists, skaters, and those about to become skaters, on the rink to-morrow afternoon and evening in large numbers. The rink will again be reflooded to-morrow morning. A commodious waiting room has been erected on the east side of the rink for ladies and others who patronize the rink. It will be well heated as well as lighted. Attendants will be on hand to adjust skates, and see after the little ones at all times. The open air rink should be well patronized as there is a full acre of ice.

Sizing up the Situation.

For the few remaining days of the year there will be bargains at Routley's fancy goods store, enough to loosen the purse-strings of a skinflint. Stock-taking will be going on while a continued slaughter of the goods is in progress. The less stock we have to take the better, and almost any offer will influence sales. Mr. Routley is is open to receive offers for his valuable houses and other town properties, particulars of which will be cheerfully given to all enquirers. C. B. ROUTLEY.

HALL'S GLEN, DUMMER TOWNSHIP.

Rev. G. Warren, of Lakefield, Presented With an Address and Purse.

On Christmas evening the service of the Church of England was held in the Orange hall, at Hall's Glen, by the Rev. G. Warren, incumbent of the parish of Lakefield and Warsaw. Since the latter part of October the above service has been held almost weekly, and has been remarkably well attended, the people of the vicinity displaying great interest. The Orange Lodge very kindly gave the use of their hall; an act very much appreciated by the officiating clergymen. The services are held alternately by Rev. F. H. Hartley, of South Burleigh, and the Rev. G. Warren, of Lakefield. On Christmas evening, at the conclusion of Divine service, two lads, named Carveth and Dunford, stepped forward with an address, which was read to Mr. Warren before the assembled congregation. It was as follows:—

To the Rev. Geo. Warren:

The members of your congregation at Hall's Glen, recognizing the difficulty and hardship which you, as a faithful minister of Christ, have undergone in attending our services, desire at this festival season to show our appreciation of your unselfish labours on our behalf by more than mere words. Therefore we beg you to accept this purse, accompanied by our heartfelt prayers for your continued success here, and in the other congregation over which you preside.

Wishing yourself and family a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, we are

Yours sincerely,

THE CONGREGATION AT HALL'S GLEN.

Hall's Glen, Dec. 25th, 1896.

The two boys then handed the address to the clergyman, together with a purse containing $17.21. In a few words Mr. Warren expressed his surprise at so unexpected a gift, and his gratitude to the members of his congregation for the affection which prompted them to make it. He came among them as a minister of Christ, and was more than pleased to know that as such they received him.

The congregation then dispersed.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

CURLIANA.

The ice was very sticky at the rink last night, but nevertheless a couple of the rinks were occupied. The recent thaw has worked havoc with the fun of the skaters, as about half an inch of water covers the ice. Those of the curlers who tried their muscles by endeavouring to get the stones over the bog line, had plenty of fun and the results of the two games were as follows:

O B Shortly,	Herb Hall,
Geo Giroux,	R Kerr,
J S Kanpman,	C Rutherford,
Geo Brown, skip....16	J B Pentland... 13
Alf Terrill,	J Baptie,
A Blade,	H Snowden,
G Fitzgerald,	S Ray,
D Bellegham, skip..13	A McNeil, skip.....8

The meeting of the Thistles, which was to take place last night, was postponed until Monday, when skips will be chosen to play at the Lindsay bonspiel and in the Lindsay-Peterborough annual competition.

The Granites meet to-night at the rink to elect their skips for the above mentioned competitions.

The public are anxiously waiting to hear the announcement of one of the famous LaBrun-Brown games, which are always fraught with so much excitement.

No games for the brooms have been announced for this season as yet.

HOCKEY.

Mr. A. H. Beaton, secretary of the O.H.A., has, as requested, drafted a schedule for the Bay of Quinte League matches. Belleville, Trenton, Picton, Deseronto and Napanee will play. It is hoped that some of the stronger teams will join the O.H.A. next year.

AN ESTEEMED JOURNAL.

Friendly Appreciation of the "Witness Jubilee Year."

Under the above heading "Le Cultivateur," the paper of which the Hon. Mr. Tarte is editor, publishes the following item: "The year that is now drawing near to a close will remain a red letter day in the annals of the Montreal Witness as being the one in which the fiftieth anniversary of its foundation occurred. Since the month of December last the Witness did not pass a single week without devoting at least one page every Saturday to the celebration of its jubilee year, and the beauty of it is that the subscribers themselves have in every case furnished the elements for that weekly page. The historical or literary contributors were so much the more interesting that for the most part they referred to events contemporaneous with the foundation of the paper. If the public found a real intellectual treat in that original publication, the Witness itself must have found in the feeling which inspired it and nurtured it every week a very sweet consolation, that of knowing that it has the love of its readers, a love such as yet no other Canadian journal has been able to secure. That fact, now established beyond all doubt, is the greatest success which our worthy English confrere could have dreamed of fifty years ago for its golden wedding of 1896."

THE MAYORALTY CONTEST.

Both candidates in the mayoralty contest are actively working, and the electors have reason to put on their thinking caps and select the best man. But the majority, it seems, do not need to go through this mental process, for they have decided in favour of Mr. Yelland, who is without doubt the popular candidate in this contest.

And with good reason. The workingmen of Peterborough remember that during Mr. Yelland's occupancy of the Mayor's chair, they have had a large amount of employment which they would not have had had not the work of sewerage construction been pushed.

* * *

Mr. Yelland may be depended upon. He is, it is true, a plain and blunt everyday man, with the courage of his convictions. What he thinks is right he will do; what he thinks is wrong he will oppose.

And he is capable of dealing with public affairs practically. He had risen in the world by the work of his own hands—by his own unaided effort. He is a specimen of the best type of workingman—one who has succeeded by dint of intelligently directed, and hard work. He can sympathise with the workingmen, he is easily approached by the electors whom he represents and they can always be sure of a civil answer.

Mr. Yelland deserves the advantages that the custom of the past twenty years has accorded to a mayor who is elected after a contest. It would have been proper then in view of this custom to have allowed Mr. Yelland to be returned without opposition, unless some very grave and weighty acts forfeiting the public confidence could be laid to his charge. This cannot be done. His record is a good one; he has diligently looked after the business of the town, and been most attentive to his duties.

That no serious charge can be brought against Mr. Yelland was shown at the nomination proceedings, when in default of anything of importance, the most petty and puerile charges were brought, showing that there was nothing serious against his record.

It is claimed for Mr. Yelland's opponent in this contest as the first of the four reasons why he should be elected that he is "exceptionally well fitted to grace the mayor's chair." We are a plain practical people and the people who toil will not take much stock in in appeal to elect an ornamental mayor. We do not so much require a man to "grace" the mayor's chair, a man of good, strong, practical sense, who is in touch with the people, who can be approached by the humblest, and who does not move in a lofty atmosphere of "grace," inaccessible to ordinary mortals.

We all look forward to a happy new year, and we shall have it in a civic sense by electing Mr. Yelland mayor.

* * *

The town requires a good mayor for the year 1897. We shall have a good mayor in Mr. William Yelland, and no reasonable ratepayer can want any Moore.

MR. MIGHT'S STATEMENT.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I am very sorry to find my name again in the public press in connection with the mayoralty contest, but I do not like the inference that may be drawn from the article in yesterday's EXAMINER with regard to a conversation between the mayor and myself. What statements I have made regarding the mayor's action I did not retract, but for the sake of principle and harmony, I consented to say no more about the matter, he agreeing to do the same. However, for other reasons, given Mr. Yelland yesterday, I have every intention of supporting W. H. Moore. Thanking you Mr. Editor, I remain

Yours truly,

W. MIGHT.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 1.

Having again been honoured with a nomination as a candidate for Councillor in this ward I beg leave publicly to accept the nomination. I therefore respectfully solicit the vote and influence of the ratepayers of "the Banner Ward." If elected, I pledge myself to use my best efforts, as in the past, to protect the interests and promote the welfare of No. 1 Ward and of the whole town.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 2

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—Having offered my services as councillor for Ward No. 2, I respectfully solicit your votes on Monday next. I do not believe in going around town button-holing people for votes. I have been a builder and contractor in the town for over 20 years, so I think I am pretty well known. I leave to you the decision as to who shall be councillors for 1897.

Yours truly,

2d H. CARVETH.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 2.

At the request of many citizens and ratepayers, those largely interested in the welfare and progress of the Town, I have accepted the nomination as a Councillor for No. 2 Ward. I shall be glad to receive your vote and influence. Possibly I may not be able to see you before the election day to personally solicit your vote, and state my intentions, but you can rest assured, that if elected by your kind support, I shall do all in my power, and in as economical manner as possible, to press forward the interests of Peterborough so as to make it one of the most important centres of business and manufacturing life in the Province of Ontario.

Hoping to be favoured with your hearty support, and wishing you the compliments of the season, I am,

Yours Truly,

A. L. DAVIS.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 4

Having been again requested to stand for councillor for this ward, I have accepted the nomination and respectfully solicit your votes and influence. My record, as one of your representatives in the council and my position in regard to the leading questions before the ratepayers, are well-known to you all. I am therefore quite willing to leave myself in your hands and to be judged accordingly. If elected I will continue to exercise the same care in future over the interests of the town as in the past, keeping in mind, principally, to encourage an economical and consistent policy in the management of our corporation affairs.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 1.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—At the request of numerous ratepayers of Ward No. 1, to become a candidate for councillor, for 1897, I have decided to do so, and respectfully solicit your vote and influence. Should you elect me for the position I will use my best judgment in all matters that may come before the council, but more especially in the interests of economy and retrenchment in public affairs. I will endeavour to explain my views personally to as many of the electors as possible before election day.

Yours respectfully,

THOMAS J. MOORE.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 1.

Having been nominated for Councillor for Ward No. 1 for 1897 I beg leave to announce my acceptance of the nomination.

I take this opportunity of soliciting the support of the electors—the ladies as well as the gentlemen—and if elected the best interests of this ward and of the town at large will receive my careful attention.

Yours Respectfully,

WM. RUDKINS.

December 28th, 1896.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 1.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—Having received the honour of nomination as councillor, I hereby solicit your votes and influence to placing me in the council for 1897. If you do me this honour I pledge myself to use my best judgment and most diligent efforts to advance all the interests of this ward and of the town generally, and to insist on, as regid economy in civic expenditure as is consistent, with efficient management of the affairs of our progressive town.

I have the honour to be,

3d152 Your obedient servant,

CHARLES B. ROBERTSON.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 1

At the request of many of the intelligent ratepayers of the ward to become a candidate for councillor I have consented to do so and would respectfully solicit the favour of your votes and support. Being a large property holder in the town, my interest in the honest management of municipal affairs should be a sufficient guarantee that I would always favour the most careful economy—at the same time exercising my best judgment in promoting the growth, progress and prosperity of the town.

Yours respectfully,

3d152 NOAH T. LePLANTE.

TO THE RATEPAYERS OF WARD NO. 2

PETERBOROUGH, Dec. 29th, 1896.

Having been requested by a large number of influential ratepayers to allow myself to be nominated as a candidate for the councillorship, and believing that personal considerations should, if at all possible, be subordinated to public good, I respectfully solicit the votes of the ratepayers of No. 2 Ward. The very heavy demands of my business, (always abnormally large at this season of the year), will in a measure prevent my making a personal canvas, but if elected, I shall use every legitimate effort to further the interests of the town of Peterborough, and while endeavouring, as far as in my power lies, to oppose all useless expenditure, I shall as earnestly support every measure that may tend to build up the prosperity of the town, with which my interests are so closely connected.

I am, yours respectfully,

4d151 H. NEILL.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 3.

PETERBOROUGH, Dec. 29th, 1896.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,—As you are doubtless aware by the newspapers, I have accepted nomination as candidate for Councillor for No. 3 Ward. In respectfully soliciting your vote and influence, I consider the position I seek of so great importance, that I should state my position, in definite form, upon some of the leading questions that should engage the attention of a representative in the council of Peterborough, and I shall do so briefly.

I believe that in the interests of the town, as well as those of the great bulk of the ratepayers, our taxes should be collected in two instalments. I would be in favour of so changing the system of assessment as to permit of the first instalment being collected early in the autumn and not later than the first of October, and the second instalment on or about the first of February following.

I will advocate, if elected, the system of performing, as far as practicable, all works required by the town by contract, based upon public tender, and that it be made a provision of every such contract that labouring men should be paid not less than $1.25 per day of nine hours. This seems to me to be only a measure of fair play, when we consider that no man can keep a family in comfort on less wages, especially in view of the fact, as a rule, not being in any way constant during the year.

I believe that the agreement with the Street Railway Company should be carried out, especially in respect of providing better street car facilities for the western portion of the town by extending the line so as to give readier access to the beautiful resort in the western part of the town—Jackson Park—and a corresponding benefit to the residents of the west, to enable them to reach George street more conveniently.

I shall feel it my duty, if honoured with a seat in the council, to employ every reasonable means to add to our already extensive list of large and important manufacturing industries. But while I am in favour of offering reasonable inducements, I shall oppose every proposition of granting large and burdensome bonuses. We have in our own Ward a sample industry that has grown to a position ranking with the best in Canada, unaided by monetary favours and relying solely on perserverance and well directed enterprise.

I believe that it will be the best economy in the end to adopt the practice of looking to permanency in the construction of our streets and bridges, as it must be apparent to all that in the past a large proportion of the large annual expenditure on our streets has been wasted by makeshift construction, necessitating constant repairs, and, of course, unsatisfactory results. At the same time the streets would be kept in a condition that would reduce to a minimum the danger of accident, for which the town would be responsible, and saving a large expenditure in lawsuits and for damages, besides causing inconvenience and suffering to ratepayers who have paid their taxes in good faith.

While it may be in the interests of the country at large that party government should be the rule, I believe that only evil can result from introducing party politics into the management of municipal affairs.

As it will be impossible between this and the day of polling for me to call personally upon every ratepayer in the ward, I trust that if I find it impossible to call upon you that you will see your way clear to giving me your vote and support, upon my assurance that in addition to what I have stated above, I shall, if selected, make the interest of the town my first study, and that I shall oppose everything that will not tend to the promotion of the interests of this ward, and the town at large.

Wishing you the compliments of the season, I have the honour to remain

Your Obedient Servant,

J. B. McWILLIAMS.

Is there any reason for dodging and ignoring a great and vital fact simply because a few prejudiced, misguided people have antiquated ideas of what constitutes morality and modesty? Reason and honesty say —certainly not. Men and women are attracted to each other because they are men and women and because it is right and necessary that they should be so attracted. The things that make a man attractive are the characteristics caused by his inherent manliness—by the strength which makes him a perfect man. The same is true of woman. There is strong attractiveness in perfect health. There is fascination and magnetism in it. A woman cannot be entirely womanly—she cannot be a perfect woman—if she is not in perfect health. In just so much as her sickness affects the organs that make her a woman, in just so much she loses attractiveness. This is the vital part of her health. If anything is wrong there, it may result in all manner of ills all over the body. Careless, or too busy, physicians frequently treat the symptoms of this kind of disorder as separate and distinct ailments. The symptoms are many and varied, so much so that when a woman is sick in any way, the first thought should be given to the organs distinctly feminine. About 9 times in 10 the cause of the trouble will be found there. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures all disorders of this kind. There is no guesswork about it. There is no chance about it. It is a fact that has been demonstrated in 30 solid years of extensive practice.

Thousands of women have written grateful letters, who have wished the whole world of women to know the wonderful things the "Prescription" has done for them.

TWENTY-ONE DEAD.

The Horrors of the Train Wreck at the Cahaba Bridge Down in Alabama.

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 29.—Few further details are obtainable as to the terrible railway wreck at the Cahaba River bridge yesterday. The railroad officials have a list of twenty-one dead, that number of bodies having been taken out of the river, but the belief gains ground that there are more dead bodies yet in the river. The railway officials, however, say the place has been thoroughly searched. It seems impossible to ascertain how many passengers were on the train. Nearly all had round trip holiday tickets, and had been away from home to spend Christmas. Many were on their way back to the various mining towns when the disaster occurred. Only one ticket was sold out of Birmingham for the ill-fated train. Conductor Connell, who knew better than anyone else the number aboard, was killed and burned in the wreck. A man named Libbs and his wife got on the train at Gulners, six miles this side of the wreck. They are missing, and it is probable they were burned in the wreck. This runs the list of known dead up to 23. Others to the number of six, who were supposed to be missing, have been accounted for. The only persons of the train to escape unhurt were three little children of Mrs. Walker, who was slightly injured. It is thought that fully one-half of the dead were cremated alive. A further examination of the bridge shows that the spikes on one side had been drawn for a rail length, which indicates that the rail was moved out of place to deliberately wreck the train. The story that three men robbed the dead and dying, as told by one of the survivors, has not been confirmed.

A CASE OF DIABETES.

No Help from Medical Men—Suffered for Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

North Bruce, Dec. 21 (Special).—An old and well known settler in this township, named Thomas Brooks, who lives on lots 7 and 8 in the 14th concession, is rejoicing with his neighbours over his recent recovery, and he said:—

"I was cured by using twenty-four boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and, as nothing else ever helped me, I say they saved my life.

"I had tried all the doctors of this locality and was treated for Diabetes, hoping and suffering for years.

"From reading of cures I determined to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I must say that after using the first box I would have considered them reasonable at ten dollars a box."

Grain Receipts at Buffalo.

Buffalo, Dec. 29.—The following shows the grain receipts by lake during the season of 1896 (one vessel yet to arrive): Flour, 10,365,192 barrels; wheat, 54,159,183 bushels; corn, 47,670,537 bushels; oats, 39,973,512 bushels; barley, 16,787,285 bushels; rye, 4,461,307 bushels. Reckoning flour as its wheat equivalent, the grand total makes 214,878,284 bushels, the greatest quantity in the history of the port. Sixty years ago the sum total was 1,239,551 bushels, and 20 years ago it was but 48,184,034 bushels. Ten years ago it was only 94,858,931. Last year's total was 162,988,742. Thus this year's total exceeds that of last year by nearly 55,000,000 bushels.

The Bank Was Run Down.

Roanoke, Va., Dec. 29.—The failure of the Commercial National Bank, which closed its doors this morning, was caused by a run on the bank yesterday. Cashier Davenport resigned on the 20th instant, and turned over the bank's books in good shape to his successor and returned to his old home in Charlestown, W. Va. This fact did not become known until yesterday, and is said to have been the cause of the run. It is believed all liabilities will be paid in full. No other banks are in the least affected.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion, common diseases, but hard to cure with ordinary remedies, yield readily to Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound.

W. H. Buckingham, 396 King St. East, Hamilton, Ont., says:—"I was troubled with Dyspepsia and Indigestion for a long time, and could get no relief until I tried Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound, which cured me, and I cannot speak too highly in its praise."

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

More Bank Failures Across the Line—News Notes Gathered From the Daily Despatches.

The Washington Bank of Minneapolis has closed its doors.

Barbot, the French tenor, who first sang Gounod's "Faust," died yesterday in Paris.

Isaac Zuker, a New York firebug, has been sentenced to 36 years' imprisonment.

The failure is announced of the Commercial National Bank of Roanoke, Virgilia.

M. Nelidoff of Russia advises a military occupation of Constantinople. The Czar is said to oppose active coercion.

The Columbia National Bank of Minneapolis has closed its doors. It is claimed that depositors will be paid in full.

The Eastern Ontario Poultry and Pet Stock Association's annual show is in full blast at Kingston, and is a success.

New York State canals carried during 1896 3,714,894 tons of freight, an excess over 1895 of 215,580 tons.

Lansing W. Bancker, the oldest circus clown next to Dan Rice, died yesterday in the Philadelphia alms house, aged 75.

The Dime Savings Bank of Chicoga will, it is said, pay its depositors and get out of business. The savings deposits amount to $380,000.

The plant of the Electric Light Company of Newark, N.J., was burned yesterday morning and the 37 dynamos were all destroyed. The city is in darkness. Loss $175,000.

Mr. Woodhouse Currie, of the banking firm of Glyn, Mills, Currie & Co., London, Eng., and a brother of Sir Philip Currie, British Ambassador to Turkey, died yesterday of cancer, aged 69.

James L. Lawson has been arrested at Detroit on suspicion of having killed Farmer James Brown of Millington, Mich., last Wednesday night.

A bogus $10 National bank note has been discovered by the Treasury Department at Washington. It is a photographic reproduction of a note issued by the Union National Bank of Detroit.

Mrs. Jmes A. Burden, wealthy society woman of Troy, N.Y., was robbed of her purse yesterday in broad daylight on Fifth-avenue, New York. The woman was knocked down, but sprang up and chased the thief, who was captured.

The evidence given before the Tariff Commission at Washington favors specific instead of ad valorem duties. Cotton men want more protection, and silk manufacturers ask for a return to the McKinley duties.

The Bram trial at Boston was continued yesterday, but nothing new came out. The tendency of the evidence for two days has been to shift the responsibility for the murder of Captain Nash and wife to Seaman Brown.

Isaac H. Douglas, a well-to-do farmer, near Norwich, Conn., went crazy over religion and thought he had a mission to kill his weak-minded son, a man of 30. He tried to do so with an ax, and afterwards attempted to burn both the son and himself. Neighbors saved them.

Lord Dunraven yesterday evening presided over a meeting held at Limerick to protect against the excessive taxation imposed on Ireland. Politicians of all sades are unanimous in this movement. Among the speakers were Bishop O'Dwyer of Limerick and John Daly, the released dynamiter.

James Burdell, who was convicted at Sarnia some years ago for making counterfeit money, for which he was sent to Kingston for seven years, and who has been doing time at the Detroit House of Correction, has been pardoned by President Cleveland. Burdell floated about 2500 $10-bills along the frontier in 1893. Later he was rounded up with a gang in Brooklyn.

WALLER IN THE LEAD.

Only Two Laps Ahead of Maddox at Washington—Some Indoor Records.

Washington, Dec. 29.—The bike race was continued here to-day. Great disappointment resulted as Teddy Hale did not enter the contest. He is in Washington, and will ride a number of sprints, but is not fit to enter the six days' race.

The close of the second day left the score standing: Waller 291.6, Maddox 291.0, Ashluger 290.5, Lawson 288.5, Hunter 288.0, Chappelle 286.2, Forster 286.1, Ball 280.5.

Linton made three miles in 7.06, breaking the record by six seconds.

Eddie Bald made ¼ mile in 29 seconds, reducing the record by four seconds.

These spurts against time were made immediately after the international race closed for the night.

BIG PURSES FOR WHEELMEN.

Trotting Associations Propose to Turn Over Their Tracks to the Professionals.

New York, Dec. 29.—Indications point to professional bicycle racing next year being controlled by trotting associations. Prominent track owners and trotting men are considering the advisability of the idea. The plan is that an association composed of owners of trotting tracks and others in the National American trotting Associations be formed to promote and control professional bicycle racing. The plan was advocated about a year ago by W. J. Morgan of this city.

The National Trotting Association and American Trotting Association own and control over 1200 tracks. Many of these tracks are now idle, and it is claimed the owners of tracks will gladly embrace the opportunity to use them for cycle racing. It is the plan of Mr. Morgan to form a 50 or 100 track association out of the 1200 tracks, and have each track offer about $2000 in purses during the season. Instead of scratch and handicap races, as at present, Mr. Morgan purposes to have class races, as in trotting. This he claims will bring professionals of every class into the ranks, as they will all have an equal chance to win. It is expected that a call will be issued to a number of trotting men to attend a meeting to be held either in this city or Chicago for the purpose of forming an organization.

FOUND A JEWEL.

An Important Find by a Brockville Jeweller.

Mr. Joseph Lane, the well-known jeweller of Brockville, says: "For some years I have suffered with severe pains in my back and sides and flashes of heat between my shoulders. I had a tired, wornout feeling.

"The numerous medicines that I took gave me very little relief. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I thought I would try a box, and got one at Curry's drugstore.

"After the first two or three doses I felt much relieved, and the longer I took them the greater the change for the better in my condition. I am much better in every respect and recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from kidney trouble as the best remedy I know of."

ANOTHER CRASH IN CHICAGO.

The Collapse of the Atlas National Bank Carries Down the Vannortwick Firm.

Chicago, Dec. 29.—As a result of the voluntary liquidation of the Atlas National Bank, William M. and John S. Vannortwick, who held 484 shares of stock in that bank and were borrowers therefrom to the amount of $300,000, made an assignment yesterday to the Equitable Trust Company of Chicago, who took possession of the Vannortwicks' bank at Batavia.

The failure involves the entire interests of the Vannortwicks, whose estimated wealth, according to the last statements, is $2,500,000, often estimated at three times that amount, and representing besides the Vannortwick Bank and other property at Batavia, large manufacturing interests. The total liabilities will probably be near $2,000,000. Vannortwicks own the Western Paper Bag Factory at Batavia, employing several hundred hands, with a daily output of 2,000,000 bags; large factories at Kankana, Wis., for the manufacture of manilla paper, and at Memphis, Tenn., for the making of paper "woodenware." The Vannortwick Paper Company owns mills at Combined Locks, near Appleton, Wis., which cost $800,000, also the Appleton Manufacturing Company's at Vannortwick, Ill., with a capital stock of $200,000, which turns out windmills and agricultural implements. The Vannortwicks probably are the most extensive paper manufacturers in the West, and the ramifications of their business extend all over the western country.

A SPECIFIC
—FOR—
La Grippe, for Colds, Coughs,
AND LUNG TROUBLES,
AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Two years ago, I had the grippe, and it left me with a cough which gave me no rest night or day. My family physician prescribed for me, changing the medicine as often as he found the things I had taken were not helping me, but, in spite of his attendance, I got no better. Finally, my husband,—reading one day of a gentleman who had had the grippe and was cured by taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,—procured, for me, a bottle of this medicine, and before I had taken half of it, I was cured. I have used the Pectoral for my children and in my family, whenever we have needed it, and have found it a specific for colds, coughs, and lung troubles."—EMILY WOOD, North St., Elkton, Md.

PERTINENT HOLIDAY MESSAGES.

Fresh Sentiments Never Reft Photographed—They Embrace Things Clever, Things Reminiscent and Things Sad and Humorous—The Holiday Spirit Variously Reflected.

"Real people never seem as Christmassy as they do in books," said a little tot the other day. Nor do they. Our "peace on earth, good will to men," depends much upon the passing mood, however—yesterday's dinner, the sky overhead, the street down below, a broken shoestring and other petty things that so shape everyday life. Following will be found how Christmas strikes certain well known literary people. Tomorrow it may seem somewhat different, for they had not caught the reflection of the good cheer when they courteously replied to my query.

Interesting holiday messages have come to me from well known members of the literary craft. Send me, I said, exclusively for this holiday occasion and this article a few words that you have never embodied in print before. And I received the happy responses which are given below with a few explanatory sentences of my own. Junius Henri Browne writes the following:

Christmas has as a holy day and holiday many tender and joyous anticipations. Whether what it commemorates be fact or fiction it has great human interest. It should be remembered and observed, if for no other reason, for the rare happiness it has afforded children and will afford them for untold centuries to come. JUNIUS HENRI BROWNE.

Mr. Browne's number on the holiday programme identifies him as one of the delightfully old fashioned people who do not believe in helping children to grow old any more than any of us like the autumn leaves to fall too early or the cold to kill the bloom.

The following quaint dialect poem, fresh to print, is reproduced by permission from the scrapbook of the late Miss McClelland. It was written a few years before her death and is illustrative of an old negro who had literary aspirations and printed his efforts through the aid of a "'commodatin" editor. Feeling himself "gittin mos' too stiff" and probably near his last hours of usefulness one Christmas, he writes a poem of greeting and farewell to his publisher and readers:

UNCLE IKE'S CRISMUS GREETIN AND FAR'WELL.

You bin mighty 'siderate, mars'r, to ele lke for dis long while,
Although his 'munications very likely made you smile,
An I wanted for to thank you for de 'commodatin way
You is printed in de paper what dis darky had to say.
So as Crismus times is comin long I thought dat anyhow
You would lemme pull my fo'lock, sar, an make my bes'est bow,
An wish de "Merry Crismus" both to you an all de folks
Dat is listened to my talkin an is larfed at all my jokes
An express my yearnest 'sire (ef you'll lemme be so bold)
Dat ole "Santie" 'll fill your stockin's jus' as full as dey kin hold,
An fetch de fattest turkeys an de biggest piece of chine,
Wid all de udder goodies dat is floatin froo your min—
De candy for de chil'en, an de dry goods for de wife,
An all de odder blessin's dat is 'tendin on dis life.
I'se a-writin of my greetin kase I'se gittin mos' too stiff
For to slip aroun an see you all an ketch your Crismus gif'!
An I hope you won't forgit me, now de time is come to part,
Kase de po' ole nigger loves you from de bottom of his heart,
So dat now he's gwine to leave you, sah, de tears is in his eye,
An his throat feels mighty choky 'bout de wishin you goodby.

M. G. MCCLELLAND.

Miss McClelland will be remembered as a writer of dialect stories. Her novels had all the freshness and breeze of that special life her vein encompassed and were very popular and salable. Her sad death from consumption, in the midst of summer, success and cherished plans, was a shock to her many friends. She was one of the charming type of southerners noted for the refined essence of courtesy, and the doors of the Virginian home she loved so well stood always open.

Edith M. Thomas, one of the best known and cleverest writers of magazine poetry, puts in this plea for the mistletoe at my request:

HOLLY AND MISTLETOE.

Said the holly to the mistletoe:
"Of our holytide what canst thou know,
Thou a pagan, thou
Of the leafless bough?
My leaves are green, my scarlet berries shine
At thought of things divine!"

To the holly spake the mistletoe:
"This I of our holytide do know—
Many a tremulous vow
Thrills my leafless bough,
And human love, I deem, may give some sign
Of share in things divine!"

EDITH M. THOMAS.

Murat Halstead has sent the following:

It would be a privation and pity to do without Christmas if for no other reason than because the day has more poetry and love in it than any other. But it seems to me one ought not only to eat turkey with currant and cranberry jelly on this precious day, but to eat our native hickory nuts and walnuts and drink cider; then, if we could, have snow on the ground and wood fires, and, looking into the fire after dinner, one might see the faces one saw in youth that long ago faded from this world. MURAT HALSTEAD.

ROSE HAWTHORNE LATHROP.

But without the feast there stalks a ghost. Mrs. Jennie June Croly, in sad reflection, writes me:

Christmas was an ideal to me; but, like everything else, it is now being ground up into a powder for all sorts of gristmills. I think even Christ must have ceased to have pleasure in its recurrence. Yours sincerely,

J. C. CROLY (JENNIE JUNE).

Miss Julia Magruder, writing from the south, marshals up thought and retrospect in the words she has sent:

Now that wise men are able to measure almost everything let some computers of forces tell us to what extent peace and good will among men are enlarged and extended by the observance of the three hundred and fifty-ninth day of the year. Could this estimate be given us we should perhaps be surprised to find how much the other 365 days feel the influence of the Christmas spirit. And so, in 1896, we should be more ready than ever before to welcome and to celebrate merry Christmas.

JULIA MAGRUDER.

William H. Hayne, the southern poet, sends me the following poem:

CHRISTMAS.

The day divine, whose heavenly might Still floods the ransomed world with light—
That light, supreme and undefiled,
Borne from the cradle of a child.

WILLIAM HAMILTON HAYNE.

Mr. Hayne's poetry is widely known for its lightness, purity and grace.

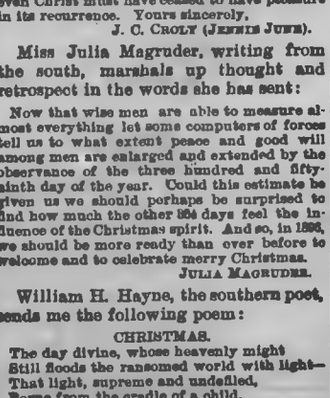
Mrs. Rose Hawthorne Lathrop writes as follows:

If on no other day, yet on this day
Of all the year
May I rejoice in joy not mine, I pray,
To some heart dear,
Living in life not mine most eagerly,
Since Christ, for love of others, came—to die!

ROSE HAWTHORNE LATHROP.

This from the famous daughter of Nathaniel Hawthorne is no empty text. It was dated from the scene of her active charity in New York city. Mrs. Lathrop is building for herself a more lasting pillar than mere literary fame—a monument in the house not made with hands.

Clinton Scollard's reply to my request comes to my hand, like the others, as a fresh effort of the author's pen—solely for use in this collection. Clinton



GEORGE W. CABLE.

Scollard needs no introduction. His own poetry and his lectures on modern English and American poetry have made his name a familiar and a pleasant one. This is the poem he sent me:

FOR CHRISTMAS MORNING.

Oh, wear for garment mirth
Upon the soul
As all the fields of earth
Wear one white stole!
A dream of things long gone
Let sorrow be!
Turn thou thine eyes on dawn,
Thy heart on glee!

CLINTON SCOLLARD.

George W. Cable writes me from Northampton, Mass., and I make his the parting message on the page of Christmas offering:

May Christmas bring us all rightfully the merriment of conquerors and the new year find us strong for fresh conquests.

G. W. CABLE.

Voice this message, for it is appropriate and acceptable. It erases the duller shades in the make up of holidays. At the birth of Christ a railroad was laid and an engine built. The railroad is civilization; the engine, joy. But, like all other railroads, civilization has side tracks and other engines. Alas for the side tracks and the other engines! But with Mr. Cable conquerors are not sad, nor are they side tracked. Forget, then, the sidings! The engine runs on the main track today.

LEGEND OF THE CHRISTMAS ROSE.

Ever westward sped the star I and faithful to its guidance followed the three kings with their retinues, journeying to offer gifts to a Babe to whose birthplace the star shall lead them. By ships of the sea and by ships of the desert they had slowly and wearily made their way to Palestine with no other pilot than the unsetting star. And as they travel on, the magnificent spectacle of a city set upon a hill attracts their attention—its heavy walls and solid proportions proclaim it a town of great importance; a fit birthplace for the coming King, think the magi—surely the star will set over that glittering temple whose splendor is such that in noonday glare the eye can scarce bear to gaze upon it—but still the star sped on, and with many a backward longing look the wise men followed. Melchior, the eldest of the trio, was most disappointed. Where, thought he, in this small country can be found so meet a birthplace for the King who shall crush the power of Rome as this walled and fortified city! A few miles further on the star paused over the obscure village of Bethlehem, and here the whole party dismounted from their camels and the camp was set up. Let us look at the three principal figures in this gorgeous caravan. Melchior, the venerable, was arrayed in striking Hindu garb of white and red, his snowy beard reached to his breast, and his intense dark eyes glowed with eagerness. He formed a complete contrast to the Egyptian Balthasar, whose stolid mein resembled that of his own sphynx. Was it stoicism that lent to his face the its absence of expression, or had he suffered so much that like the crater of an extinct volcano the very life was burned out! Recalling his past was but sorrow, and if

"The sunset of life brings him mystical lore
And coming events cast their shadows before"

his future is still more to be dreaded—trouble and disgrace for his beautiful daughter Tras and finally her death by drowning. Not even the prospect of the coming Messiah can awaken anything like enthusiasm in this Egyptian. The youngest and last of the three kings differs as entirely from the former two as they vary from each other. Behold a man in the prime of life. Fair and blue-eyed, the picture of health, was Gasper, coming from that happy land of Greece, where gloom is not tolerated and suicide and insanity are unknown. These were the royal three who were being guided by the star to "where the young child lay." It was night when the party encamped on a plain outside the village of Bethlehem. Never had its humble populace beheld such a display of wealth or such a gorgeous camp. Thoroughbred camels bearing silken awnings, retainers clad in rich Oriental garb, the profusion of everything necessary for travelling, all this was a source of wonder to the shepherd folk "who were abiding in the fields keeping watch over their flocks by night." Nearer and nearer pressed the children, eager for a sight of something new and strange and one shepherdess, little Madelon, forgot altogether her flock in the field, and stood entranced by all this splendor and by the grace of a little boy, being Gaspar's son, who was bringing sweet music out of the pipes hung around his neck. The three Kings, with servants bearing treasures, set out to seek the infant Jesus, who they had come so far to worship, guided by the star in the east, which had preceeded them, till it came and stood over the place where the young child was, not in a grand dwelling but in an unused khan, where cattle had been kept.

"Oh Bethlehem, for all, all men
The House of Bread.
The Great Love came at midnight then,
And was not fed.
With soldiers and a judgment hall,
And Romans grim.
Your inns were large enough for all,
Save only Him."

The door of the khan was opened by Joseph who, on learning his guests' errand said, "Enter, and peace be upon you." Melchior first advanced to where the Babe lay. Eagerly those piercing eyes sought for some supernatural sign, but, finding none, he had faith in God and the future and proffered his gift of gold—gold, the symbol of power. Did a silent prayer accompany his offering that when a man grown this Child might be the conquerer of Rome, the hated oppressor of the east? We cannot tell; the only words he said were: "We have seen His star and have come to Worship Him."

Gaspar, in whose heart was no bitterness, but joy, came next, offering frankincense, which symbolizes love, and as he laid it down before the Babe he prayed, "Lo, may this Child be love's high Lord," and the old khan was filled with sweet music from the Greek boy's pipes. With slow step the Egyptian advanced and proffered his gift of myrrh—bitter myrrh which symbolizes peace after pain. Myrrh which mixed with wine brings a deep calm.

Each King gave that which his own life had taught him was most precious, and still, as if loath to leave so fair a scene, the Greek boy played on and the stone walls of the old khan echoed and re-echoed the strains of music. The Jewish shepherdess, Little Madelon, had followed the procession into the building, and now, beholding the beauty of the Babe, she longed for some present to give Him, but because she was very poor she had no gift, so sobbing bitterly she stole away from the others, and, leaning outside the door, she wept as only a sensitive child can weep, when suddenly a bright light shone all around her, and looking up with fear she beheld a shining angel, who said:—"I am Gabriel, Little Madelon, why do you weep so?" and she answered, "Because I have no gift for the infant Jesus, whom I love." And Gabriel struck the frosty air with his rod, and, lo, there sprang up a rose-bush in bloom, and the little shepherdess gathered great handfulls of the white Christmas roses, and, returning to the khan, she showered them round the beauteous Babe, and the Virgin Mother smiled, and that night the star set and found rest at last. And as I write a sweet voice beside me says, "Mother," and looking up, I meet the tender eyes of my own little Madelon, my blessed child. In her hour of grief and supplication may good angels be swift to help, as Gabriel came to Little Madelon that first twelfth night in old Judea.

OUR RIGHT HAND

Is to-day extended to our host of friends and patrons in wishing them all A Happy New Year. Thirteen years have found us striving to make this the leading store in Ontario for Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Hats and Gentlemen's Furnishings. How the world moves! We look back and ruminate with feelings of pride and pleasure over our first start in Peterborough, in the unpretentious brick store on George street, which now marks Gough Bros. Two Mammoth Stores. All the power of this business has been reaching out during these 13 years to a single definite point—the reduction of prices. We only wish that all our work were as easy as it is to show why this store might be called the Porchway to Economy. Not that every price is lower, for that is not TRUE economy. Storekeepers shrewdly manage to sell at about the same price such goods as are easily recognizable. But the face of the article does not always show its grade. All milk looks alike, but by standing at the pump you will find that the quality cannot be told by the whiteness. In building up this store so that it will stay, we have it always in mind not to take money from our customers unless we return the largest value of goods and service. To the thousands of people who shop here year in and year out, we tender our grateful thanks for their appreciation of our efforts. We have our work cut out for us in 1897. The old-time retailers hibernated in January. But the live and progressive house of Gough Bros. must be more than ever alert in January. Our way expels dull seasons from the trading year. The after-holiday period gives scope for special offerings, and thus will come our Mammoth January Sale which will be duly announced on Monday next. Our good wishes are extended to all—Friends and Customers and the Ladies who read our advertisements—A JOYOUS NEW YEAR TO ALL. The silent store to-morrow—emptied of the thousands that have flocked to it during the dying year—suggests the quiet, the silence, and afterglow that follow the brilliant day.

JANUARY OFFERING

...IN...

DRESS GOODS

MEANS.

It means that all those pretty fabrics which you and others have admired are price clipped to nearly one half and less to take them away. Every yard was bought for regular trade and there are no flimsy, flashy fabrics at any price.

Come and get samples. Consult our Dress-Making Department. It's a chance for the cheapest, stylish Gown you ever had.

The Last Call on Cloaks.

This time the prices on all remaining Winter Garments will be cut so deep that there will be no chance for further reductions.

If the signs read aright the great majority of our present holdings in Mantle Coats and Capes will leave the store next week, for values like those quoted here never fail to bring the customers.

Quality!!!

If every one were to judge of what is good and what is not good in merchandise, a great many dry goods stores would be out of business. Don't always trust the price, it is very often misleading.

If you are a judge of merchandise, look at the goods first then the price. We are willing that you should try us in that way.

THE NEXT STEP.

Planning and preparing for 1897. Making prices still more interesting for the ladies. Going in for hard work. The beginning must be brilliant whatever the end must be.

SATURDAY will start our Annual Clearing Sale, previous to Stock-taking. We neither tax your imagination nor your credulity by statements that never produce results. We make no promise of 25 per cent. Reductions. We never put on that much profit and therefore can't be expected to take it off. Truthless tales and artful tactics are superflous here. Plain truth serves this business best. We treat our customers as intelligent women and men. Helping you to buy goods at about what they cost us is what we now stand ready to do during this month.

Our January Store news will be the brightest and breeziest of the year. Our Special January Reductions will be more certain than a January thaw! Everything goes at COST—mind that!

WEYLER'S MODESTY

Counsels Him to be Prudent as to His Policy.

HE WILL PUSH HIS ORGANIZATION

And Claims That He Will be Able to Wipe Out the Rebel Forces in Short Order —The Spanish Troops Said to be Hungry and Naked—Other News Regarding Cuba.

Havana, Jan. 1.—The correspondent of The Liberal of Madrid has had an interview with General Weyler at the latter's camp near Candelaria. When asked if he would issue a decree, declaring that the Province of Pinar del Rio had been pacified, General Weyler said he would not adopt such a measure. He added that his modesty and prudence counselled him only to dictate measures for the organization of the force remaining in the province to pursue bandits. It was his intention, he declared, to send two-thirds of his forces to the Provinces of Havana, Matanzas and Santa Clara, and to strengthen the central trocha, which extends from Jucaro to Moron. He would also order the concentration in the cities and towns of all the residents in the Province of Havana, as he had done in Pinar del Rio.

Regarding the sugar crop, General Weyler said he would decide, according to circumstances, whether or not to allow the planters to grind. The Captain-General said, in conclusion, that there were now only 500 rebels in the Province of Pinar del Rio, and that they were divided into two bands, commanded by Ruis Rivera and Ducassi.

A Cargo of Arms Cleared.

Jacksonville, Jan. 1.—The steamer Commodore, commanded by Capt. Edward Murphy, formerly of the steamship Laurada, was granted clearance papers yesterday by the collector of customs, and left port with a cargo of arms and ammunition for Cienfuegos, Cuba. The arms were loaded openly at the railroad wharf and no attempt was made to prevent anyone from seeing what was going on. The cargo was shipped by H. P. Fritot of this city and was consigned to S. Cisneros, President of the Cuban Republic. Spanish Vice-Consul Potis refused to give the clearance papers on the ground that arms could not be shipped to a Cuban port without permission of the Governor-General. He filed a formal protest with the collector against the vessel being allowed to depart. The protest was filed by the collector and the vessel was allowed to depart, as clearance had been granted. The Commodore carried a crew of 28 men, 20,000 cartridges, 175 rifles, 1000 pounds of giant powder and other munitions of war, besides a quantity of medicine and stores.

The sudden departure of the cruiser Raleigh from Key West has caused considerable uneasiness in Cuban circles, for it is believed that she has been given an order to stop the Dauntless and Commodore and search them to ascertain if they are violating the law by carrying a body of men, as well as a cargo of arms. If the men are found on either steamer, the vessel will be seized and brought back to this port. The Three Friends returned to port and is in charge of the collector of customs. Her crew came ashore and immediately disappeared. None of them would talk.

Fifty-One Filibusterers Drowned.

Madrid, Jan. 1.—A special despatch from Havana to The Imparcial says that 51 men, comprising the filibustering expedition recently landed upon a desert key by the steamer Three Friends, have been drowned. The men were hastily put ashore on the barren island after the Three Friends had been pursued by Spanish gun boats, with which the filibustering steamer had an exchange of shots, and the cargo of arms, ammunition, provisions, etc., on board the steamer, was also landed with the men. The Three Friends, being closely pursued by the Spanish war vessels, was compelled to put the men ashore on this barren island, or take them back to the United States and it was in making an attempt to leave the island, the despatch says, that they were drowned. The despatch also says that 360 rifles which the filibusterers had with them were lost in the sea.

The semi-official newspapers defend the action of the Government in seizing the issues of The Heraldo and Imparcial upon the ground that the articles published by those papers denouncing the policy of Capt.-General Weyler in Cuba had a tendency to create discontent among the troops in Cuba and to encourage Americas filibusterers. The Government will not permit the objectionable articles to be transmitted by telegraph.

Public opinion is greatly excited over reports that the Spanish troops in Cuba are compelled to undergo extreme hardships through hunger and nakedness, and that those who are confined in the hospitals by illness or because of wounds are suffering from neglect and an insufficient supply of medicines. As large sums of money have been sent to Cuba from Spain for the purpose of furnishing clothing, medicines, etc., for the troops, the question is asked, Where has this money gone? El Dia asserts that a Ministerial crisis is probable as the result of a change of policy. It is rumored that the Cabinet has approved the proposal to recall Capt.-General Weyler, but that Premier Canovas has delayed action in the matter, giving no reasons for so doing. All of the Ministers met at the residence of Premier Canovas last evening and drank to a toast of pressing hope for the speedy conclusion of peace in the disturbed colonies.

A BAD BARNARDO BOY.

He Shot His Employer in the Neck Without Provocation—He Skipped But Was Caught.

Thorold, Ont., Jan. 1.—A Barnardo boy named Bert Davis, about 18 years of age, who has been living for some time with Fred Grenville, a farmer, about two miles out of town, shot Grenville in the neck with a revolver last evening. It appears that Grenville had just returned home, and the two were unhitching the horses, when, without provocation or words, Davis fired the ball, which lodged in the back of Grenville's neck, and stunned him for a while. On recovering he saw Davis snapping the weapon at him again, but it failed to go off. Grenville hurried to town for a warrant for Davis' arrest and took the chief of police out, but Davis had cleared and is yet at large. It is supposed that Davis intended robbery, as well as murder.

Later.—Davis was arrested in Pelham by Chief Upper this afternoon. He will have a hearing before Police Magistrate Fish to-morrow morning.

WALKED 9000 MILES.

Toronto, Jan. 2.

Last evening a gentleman with weather-beaten countenance and keen eye walked into The World office and extended the compliments of the season to the staff. He gave his name as Francis Richardson, and announced that he had just completed a pedestrian tour of 9000 miles, ending at Toronto the previous evening at 7 o'clock. Leaving New York on Sept. 29, 1895, he proceeded via Utah and Salt Lake City to San Francisco, which he reached on May 4 last. Through California, Oregon, and Washington to British Columbia and then by the Canadian Pacific Railway he proceeded to Winnipeg, which he reached on Nov. 18, and thence via North Bay to Toronto. He has carried all his necessaries, weighing 45 pounds, in a knapsack slung from his shoulders and has performed his long journey entirely unarmed, save with a stout walking stick. An encounter with a grizzly 3 1-2 miles from Donald, which he escaped by strategy, and a contest with a panther, which was ended by the retreat of his assailant, upon the approach of a freight train, were the exciting incidents which are related of his trip. Mr. Richardson, who now claims the world's championship for long distance walking, holds the belt for the longest distance covered in a week's walk in London, Eng., and has also won records in Australia. The walk was undertaken for a wager of $6000, with Thomas E. T. Alden of England, and F. T. Simpson of Montreal, who are now verifying the authenticity of the performance. This champion continental trotter intends making a stay in Toronto and giving exhibitions of walking.

A BARBER IN TROUBLE.

William W. Lepper Accused of Making $5 and $10 Bills Contrary to Law.

Detroit, Jan. 1.—William W. Lepper, a barber in the Hotel Cadillac, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Secret Service Detective William J. Barnes on the charge of counterfeiting. Lepper was taken before United States Commissioner Graves and remanded to jail, pending examination, bail being fixed at $5000. The matter was kept as quiet as possible and no one but those immediately concerned with the arrest were informed of it. The idea was to not warn the rest of the gang. More arrests are expected. The specific charge against Lepper is that of manufacturing $5 and $10 bank bills. The $5 notes are on the National Bank of Commerce of Chicago, and the $10 notes on the Union National Bank of Detroit. They are said to be very clever imitations and the police and United States detectives have been on a still hunt for the author of them for weeks. It is thought that Windsor was the place selected for the business. Lepper, it is known, made his home there for a part of the time.

SMASH ON THE CENTRAL.

A Fireman and Brakeman Killed—Engineer Saved by Jumping.

Schenectady, Jan. 1.—Early this morning a rear-end collision occurred on the New York Central Railroad near here between two freight trains. John Cook, a fireman, and Charles Vogel, a brakeman, both of Albany, were killed. George Gilchrist, engineer of the rear train, saw that a collision was inevitable and jumped, thus saving his life. Several cars caught fire and were burned, causing a loss of $30,000.

Killed Himself With Poison.

Newark, N. J., Jan. 1.—B. G. Scanlan, general agent for Orator F. Woodward, proprietor of the Kemps Balsam manufactory at Leroy, N. Y., committed suicide at the Continental Hotel this morning by taking poison. He had lived at No. 252 West 28th-street, New York city. He was well known in Rochester.

Laying Off Men.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—In order to more easily meet the semi-annual interest payment of its bonds, the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic Railway Company has ordered the lay-off of all men who can possibly be spared from every department. The entire shop force at Marquette will be let out. The order affects 200 men.

THAT PLEURO SCARE

Tuberculosis Was What Ailed the Cattle

AND CAUSED THEIR SLAUGHTER.

Deputy Minister Scarth Has Looked Into the Eastern Townships Case and Finds Out the Particulars—No Pleuro-Pneumonia in Canada —News From Ottawa.

Ottawa, Jan. 1.—(Special.)—Mr. Scarth, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, was to-day shown the full report of the slaughter of diseased cattle in the Eastern Townships and was enabled to give a more circumstantial explanation of the matter than occurred to him during Wednesday night's hasty interview. The mention of Mr. Holden, of St. Armand, as the owner of the cattle, recalled the circumstances of the case, and Mr. Scarth at once gave the following official account of the affair:

On Nov. 7 the Messrs. Holden wrote to the department to the effect that they had 18 head of Jerseys which were tuberculosed, that they desired them killed, and asked that Dr. McEachren be sent down to look after them, and test the rest of their cattle. Dr. McEachren was sent at once, and tested the cattle, with tuberculine, the result of the test being that 22 animals showed signs of tuberculosis. Messrs. Holden, therefore, decided to slaughter these animals. Post-mortem examinations were made by Dr. Moore and Dr. McEachren, and tuberculosis was found in various stages, in every one of them.

Mr. Scarth, in the course of further conversation, emphasized his statement of the previous evening, to the effect that no cases of pleuro-pneumonia had ever been reported to the department as being absolutely correct. He added: "I believe from very careful enquiry, which I have made, and from reading all the files of the department, that it can be positively stated that no case of pleuro-pneumonia has ever been found in Canada. It is true that in 1886 an animal was brought to Canada by one of the Allan steamships and found, while in quarantine at Point Levis, to be affected with pleuro-pneumonia. The most energetic measures were immediately taken. The animal was destroyed, as well as those with which it had been in contact. Therefore, the affected animal and those with which it had been in contact, not having been allowed out of the quarantine enclosure, it cannot properly be said to be an importation into Canada; so that it can be positively stated that no pleuro-pneumonia has ever been found in the Dominion."

His Excellency the Governor-General, held his usual New Year's day levee in the Senate Chamber to-day. He was attended by Capt. Wilberforce and Lieut. Neve, as A.D.C's. Among the members present were the Premier, Hon. Messrs. Scott, Borden, Fielding and Davies. Manitoba Premier Greenway, Archbishop Duhamel, Bishop Hamilton, Lord Archibald Douglas, General Gascoigne and Col. Lake were in attendance on His Excellency. About 500 leading citizens called to pay their respects. For several days past an advertisement has appeared in the city papers urging the ladies of the Capital not to offer intoxicating liquor to New Year's callers. His Excellency accordingly adopted the request.

Ross Thompson, the founder of Rossland; J. M. Burke of Rossland, one of the best known mining men west of the Rockies, and Dennis Ryan of St. Paul are in town on mining matters. Mr. Burke says that, with his knowledge of mining, covering a period of 27 years, and extending over all the western mining States, not a single camp can be compared with Rossland at its present stage of development.

New Year's day passed off quietly in Ottawa. The weather was seasonable, although there was no sleighing, owing to the thaw of the early part of the week.

SHOT AND KILLED.

A Tragedy in Philadelphia, the Perpetrators of Which are Not at Present Known.

Philadelphia, Jan. 1.—Mrs. Emma Betz, aged 40 years, was shot and killed in the third storey of the house at 1216 North Fourth-street to-day. The police were not informed of the tragedy until an hour and a half after the woman was dead, and they have been unable to learn with certainty who did the shooting. They arrested Mrs. Christian Engle, an old woman, who is mistress of the place, and a man named "Andy" Schmidt, who lived in the house, has disappeared and is being sought by the police.

Mrs. Engle says the Betz woman came in about noon with a strange man as she was going out. When Mrs. Engle returned she found the man gone, she says, and the woman dying from a gunshot wound in the throat. The shooting was done with a gun owned by Schmidt.

JERNIGAN SHOT HIMSELF.

A Swindling Scheme of His Exposed and He Couldn't Stand the Pressure.

Austin, Texas, Jan. 1.—County Treasurer A. J. Jernigan, shortly after reaching his office yesterday morning shot himself through the body, the ball just missing the heart, and he will die. He states that he let a colored porter about the County Court House have $4500 of the county funds to put into a scheme to dig for Mexican gold supposed to be buried in the vicinity of this city. Two colored sharpers inveigled the porter into the scheme, fleecing him out of $6000 in addition to the amount Jernigan let him have. The scheme was exposed a few days ago and the sharpers were arrested.

A Montreal Firebug.

Monmouth, Ills., Jan. 1.—W. A. LaGrace, who was arrested here two weeks ago as the supposed New York firebug, J. L. Harris, has been identified by Officer McMahon as Isador Bolieu, wanted in Montreal for arson. The recognition was mutual and the prisoner accompanied the detective this morning without requisition papers.

THE NEW YEAR.

How You May Feel Happier and Better than in the Past.

Paine's Celery Compound Will Enable You to Thoroughly Enjoy Life.

Act Promptly and Your Fondest Desires Will be Realized.

Many of our readers can truthfully confess that the year just gone by was to them a period of pain, suffering, anxiety, disappointment and wretchedness. Some were laid on beds of sickness, weak and helpless; others, ailing and almost broken down, were just able to move about to imperfectly attend to daily duty and work. The sick and ailing ones met with many failures and disappointments in their efforts to regain health. Doctors failed to cure them, and the very ordinary medicines of our times failed to bring back the blush of health to the pale and wan face.

Those of our readers who were unhappy last year may this year throw off their burdens and shackles, if they use that marvellous source of health-giving—Paine's Celery Compound—that contributed to the happiness of so many thousands in past years.

There is no necessity here to enlarge on what Paine's Celery Compound has done or is doing at the present time. Every day it is making well rheumatic, neuralgic, dyspeptic and sleepless mortals, and giving a new life to those afflicted with kidney, liver and blood diseases.

All classes unite in praising and recommending Paine's Celery Compound as the most effective of medicines. The more physicians know of it, the more do they earnestly reccommend it for the sick. If you would be well, happy and vigourous all this year, begin at once with nature's healer and life-giver.

POLICEMEN THUMPED.

A New Year's Day Saloon Row at Grand Rapids, Mich., Which Had Serious Results.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 1.—Two men were shot and two policemen received a nearly fatal beating in a saloon riot here this afternoon. Officers John Verglever and William Herrington entered the place, suspecting that the laws were being violated in keeping open. Immediately they were confronted by an angry crowd, in which "Jimk" Treadwell and Orlo Kruger, the bartender, seemed to be leaders. The men demanded to see the officers' badges and almost immediately the crowd set upon the two policemen. Revolvers were drawn and shots were fired. Beer glasses and bricks and all sorts of instruments of assault were used. Treadwell was shot in the right breast and his condition is serious. Verglever is unconscious from the effects of the beating. A number of arrests have been made.

PYNY-PECTORAL

in a surprisingly short time. It's a scientific certainty, tried and true, soothing and healing in its effects.

W. C. McCOMBER & Son, Bouchette, Que., report in a letter that Pyny-Pectoral cured Mrs. C. Charron of chronic cold in chest and bronchial tubes, and also cured W. G. McComber of a long standing cough.

MR. J. H. HUTTY, Chemist, 296 Yonge St., Toronto, writes: "As a general cough and lung syrup Pyny-Pectoral is a most invaluable preparation. It has given the utmost satisfaction to all who have tried it, many having spoken to me of the benefits derived from its use in their families. It is suitable for old or young, being pleasant to the taste. For sale with me has been wonderful, and I can always recommend it as a safe and reliable cough medicine."

New Year's Honors Bestowed by the Queen.

A FOREIGNER MADE A K.C.M.G.

Prognostication as to What the Queen's Speech Will Advocate—Lord Beresford's Condition More Serious Than Was at First Thought—European News Notes.

London, Jan. 1.—Among the New Year honors conferred by the Queen is the appointment of Senhor Luis Pinto de Soveral, Portuguese Minister of Foreign Affairs, as a knight of the Grand Cross of the Order of St. Michael and St. George. The honor was conferred in recognition of his assistance in the settlement of the Anglo-Brazilian dispute regarding the ownership of the Island of Trinidad, off the coast of Brazil. Great Britain took possession of the island, with the intention of making it a cable station, but Brazil made a vigorous protest, claiming the island as her own. This claim was substantiated, and Great Britain withdrew.

The Queen's Speech

London, Jan. 1.—The Queen's speech opening the coming session of Parliament will, it is generally believed, refer to a closer union between Great Britain and the colonies, and will indicate the views of the Government in the matter.

GENERAL CABLE NEWS

King Humbert is Ill and New Year's Receptions Have Been Postponed.

Rome, Jan. 1.—King Humbert is ill and the New Year's receptions at the Quirinal have consequently been postponed.

Laurada Sailed for Baltimore.

Gibraltar, Jan. 1.—The former Cuban filibustering steamer Laurada, which arrived here from Messina yesterday, has sailed for Baltimore.

Mr. Eustis's Reception.

Paris, Jan. 1.—Hon. J. B. Eustis, the American Ambassador, held a New Year's reception to-day, which was very largely attended by the members of the American colony. Miss Eustis acted as hostess.

Lord Beresford is Very Poorly.

London, Jan. 1.—The condition of Lord William Beresford, severely injured by his horse rolling on him while hunting with the staghounds on Wednesday at Dorking, Surrey, continues to cause anxiety. He passed a restless night and a physician was in attendance upon him all night long. It is stated that his pelvic bones are broken and he has sustained internal injuries. Lord and Lady Charles Beresford will not delay their voyage to Egypt, having received assuring reports of Lord William's condition.

Bank Failure in France.

Paris, Jan. 1.—The bank failure is announced at Caen of David and Julien Renier & Co. for 1,250,000 francs. The books were found to be falsified and David Renier has falled.

Faure is Optimistic.

Paris, Jan. 1.—President Faure received the diplomats to-day, and in addressing them said that the ardent desire for concert and union which the powers show themselves to be animated by, justified them in looking forward with confidence to the year 1897.

Several days ago King Humbert caught a cold which he neglected. He became feverish, but his condition has never been serious. He is much better this evening.

Intend to Prosecute.

London, Jan. 1.—The Madrid correspondent of The Standard telegraphs that the Government intends to prosecute several newspapers for imitating The Imparcial and Heraldo, which was seized yesterday for condemning the military administration in Cuba and demanding Gen. Weyler's recall. The Government is determined to suppress the press campaign against the Cabinet's policy in Cuba, but notwithstanding this fact the Opposition has decided that it will stir up the Cortes on the Cuban question when the session opens.

Turkey's Hard-Up Condition.

Constantinople, Jan. 1.—Sir Edgar Vincent, Governor of the Imperial Ottoman Bank, has made a report to the Sultan on the finances of the Empire. The report shows an average yearly deficit of one million pounds (Turkish) since 1890, but Sir Edgar insists that there is nothing to prevent the restoring of a balance if the problem is honestly grappled with. He recommends a reduction in the military expenditures and suggests other reforms.

A COBBLER'S CRIME.

Blew the Top of His Wife's Head Off and Tried to Kill Himself With a Razor.

Boston, Jan. 1.—Samuel Whittaker, a shoemender, living in North Cambridge, at 3.30 o'clock this morning killed his wife, Catherine, by blowing the top of her head off with a shotgun. He then attempted suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. He was taken to the Cambridge Hospital in a critical condition. Whittaker is about 50 years old and his wife was a few years younger. The couple have had numerous quarrels, caused by drink. They have eight children.

A LIAR AND SCOUNDREL

Is What President Gompers Calls McCraith, Who Made These Charges Against Him.

Indianapolis, Jan. 1.—Secretary McCraith of the American Federation of Labor, who made the sensational charge against President Gompers at the recent convention of the Federation at Cincinnati, that he made a deal with Senator Jones, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, which contemplated giving the Federation's influence to the free silver forces, resigned his position yesterday. McCraith repeated his charges and produced letters purporting to have passed between Gompers and Col. Wetmore, of St. Louis, a representative of Chairman Jones, arranging for a meeting between Gompers and Wetmore, which meeting took place in Chicago. President Gompers to-day denied the charges of McCraith, saying that he was a liar and a scoundrel.

The camel is a beast of great strength and endurance. Nothing hurts it until the proverbial "last straw" is added to its burden. The human digestive system is very much like a camel. It is really astonishing how much abuse it will stand. Sometimes, however, something worse than usual will be eaten, and will go through the stomach into the bowels, and then it will stick—that's constipation. Nine-tenths of all human sickness is due to constipation. Some of the simplest symptoms are coated tongue, foul breath, dizziness, heartburn, flatulence, sallowness, distress after eating, headaches and lassitude. A little thing will cause constipation, and a little thing will relieve it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a certain cure for constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules, mild and natural in their action. There is nothing injurious about them. Sold by druggists.

NEW YEAR'S AT THE WHITE HOUSE

The President and Mrs. Cleveland Were Made Tired With Hand-Shaking, But Smiled Through It All.

Washington, Jan. 1.—The annual New Year's show at the White House took place to-day according to long-established custom. It constitutes the yearly ordeal of the President and mistress of the White House, for they must shake hands with many hundreds—several thousands in fact—of their fellow-citizens and a large number of distinguished foreigners.

They smiled and bowed and beamed through it all day, and stifled the winces that unconsciously followed the hearty grasp of some young subaltern, fresh from the frontier, or the grip of some horny hand that had done service in the late political campaign. It was one continual round of hand-shaking and exchanging the compliments of the season.

WONDERFUL.

Piles Cured in 3 to 6 Nights—Itching Burning Skin Diseases Relieved in One Day.

Dr. Agnew's Ointment will cure all cases of itching piles in from three to six nights. One application brings comfort. For blind and bleeding piles it is peerless. Also cures tetter, salt rheum, eczema, barbers' itch, and all eruptions of the skin. Relieves in a day. 35 cents. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

As Well as Ever

Dear Sirs,—After suffering for two years from acute indigestion I tried B.B.B. I took only three bottles, which made me as well as ever I was. I highly recommend B. B.B. to all dyspeptics.

HOT FIGHT IN TORONTO.

A Very Disorderly Meeting in the Pavilion —Police Called in.

Toronto, Jan. 2.

For two hours last night the Pavilion presented a scene of orderliness and enthusiasm seldom witnessed at a big municipal meeting. And for the following two hours it reached the other extreme and was a scene of tumult, wrangling and recrimination, in fact a veritable bear-garden.

The one who threw in the apple of discord was the redoubtable and irrepressible E. A. Macdonald, whose interruptions and contradictions of the Mayor's speech led to his being invited to the platform. Then ensued a re-enactment of the scene at the nomination at the City Hall. The lie direct was given scores of times between the Mayor and E. A. Macdonald. Vainly the chairman sought to stem the torrent of vituperation. Meantime the people enjoyed the fun and alternately cheered and hooted. At times it appeared as though the wordy contestants would come to blows. A motion was carried by the meeting that Mr. Macdonald be no further heard. This he stoutly resented, and the uproar and tumult became so great that the chairman, Dr. Barrick, called in the police. Inspector Hall and four constables advanced to the platform; the chairman ordered the arrest of E. A. Macdonald; the aqueductor stated that only by main force would he be removed from the platform and then they must fetch the patrol.

The Mayor interceded with the chairman and Mr. Macdonald was given five minutes to conclude his remarks. Then he abused this grace by reiterating, amidst constant interruptions, his old charges. These of course caused the Mayor to reply and the unseemly wrangle continued until a quarter after midnight.

SORE ON WEYLER.

Leading Papers of Madrid Condemn the Administration of the Butcher and Demand His Recall.

Madrid, Jan. 1.—The Imparcial and The Heraldo to-day publish articles condemning the military administration in Cuba, and pointing out that, despite his oft-repeated promises, Capt.-General Weyler has practically accomplished very little in the direction of suppressing the rebellion. Both papers demanded that Gen. Weyler be recalled and that Gen. Azcarraga, Minister of War, be appointed in his place. The articles caused a great sensation in the city and the Government, fearing trouble would follow, ordered that the issues of both papers be seized.

The Gazzetteta Official will to-morrow publish a number of decrees regarding the administrative and other reforms to be put into effect in Porto Rico. A preamble written by Prime Minister Canovas del Castillo, dealing with the colonial policy of Spain, will accompany the decrees.

The decrees appoint Feb. 11 as the date for holding municipal elections in Porto Rico, and April 14 as the date for the election of members of the Provincial Councils.

BRAM LOOKED ANXIOUS.

The Mental Strain on the Accused Man is Having Its Effect—The Jury Has the Case.

Boston, Jan. 1.—Thomas M. Bram, charged with the murder of Capt. Nash and his wife of the barquentine Herbert Fuller, wore an anxious look as he came into court this morning. The effects of the terrible mental strain he is undergoing are commencing to be seen.

District Attorney Hoar resumed his argument immediately after the judges had taken their seats. He assailed the testimony of Bram, whose story, he said, was not borne out in any essential particular. He defended Monks and Brown from the impeachments brought against them by Mr. Cotter, Bram's counsel, and contended that their evidence was truthful and sufficient to warrant the conviction of the prisoner. He closed with an eloquent appeal to the jurors to do their duty and return a verdict of guilty against the prisoner.

After a brief recess, Judge Webb delivered the charge to the jury. He said the jury must determine their verdict upon the evidence submitted and must not be influenced by any arguments of counsel, only as such arguments are supported by the evidence. He explained to them what constituted murder. The only question the jury had to decide was as to the death of Capt. Nash. They were simply to determine whether or not Bram did the killing. Judge Webb admonished the jury to take time and render a just verdict. The jury retired at 1.25 p.m. and the court adjourned until 5 o'clock.

After recess the court came together and Judge Colt announced that the court would convene at 10.30 o'clock.

Just as the court was about to leave the building the jury sent in a sealed communication. The judge ordered the defendant and jury brought in. The communication read: "What time was it when Brown saw Bram strike Capt. Nash with an ax, as testified by Brown on the witness stand?"

Judge Colt said that the jury might refresh their recollection, but should not base their judgment on the stenographer's report, but use their own recollection.

The jury then put the following question to the court, viz.: "What time was it when Brown said he saw Bram strike Capt. Nash? Brown's testimony at Halifax reads: 'From 1.15 to 1.50 a.m.,' and his testimony here says 15 minutes before he was relieved from the wheel, which was at 2 o'clock. He also testified that it was about 20 minutes or so before Lohaec relieved him."

This seems a most significant point and is interpreted as being favorable for the prisoner, for Lohaec testified that he saw Bram at the time up to about ten minutes of 2; so that, even if Bram committed the crime, he could not have done it at the time when Brown said he saw him do it.

The jury then retired again, and the court adjourned until 10.30 o'clock to-night.

No verdict having been reached up to 10.30 o'clock to-night, the court adjourned until morning.

AFTER THE WHEELMEN'S MEET.

Mr. J. F. Cairns Tells Why Chatham Should Get the Big Event.

The annual struggle for the C.W.A. meet has begun in earnest. The big bicycle event will, of course, go to the west, and Chatham, London and Brantford are after it, with the present chances in favor of the Maple City. Mr. J. F. Cairns of the Chatham Cycle Club was in town yesterday, and he says they will get it sure, although some of the C.W.A. magnates are pledged to one of their opponents. Their track is all that can be desired—a half-mile that has many seconds to its credit, good stands that will be enlarged and young men who are capable of conducting a meet in the most approved fashion.

In Mr. Cairns Chatham has an able representative. He is on a canvassing tour, and hopes to be able to report progress on returning home next week. To-day he will interview Secretary Donly at Simcoe, and set down the claims of his club.

Mr. Cairns is an old Association football man, and played with the Victoria University team before the Methodist College was removed from Cobourg. He also takes great interest in baseball, and was proud to say that the Chatham B.B.C. beat everything west of London last season. Percy Brown, who has Mr. Cairns in hand here, says that Chatham is the place for next year's meet, and he is already convinced that it will go there.

THREE WEEKS IN AGONY.

Inflammatory Rheumatism so Acute he could not Attend to his Daily Duties —Lived three Weeks in Agonising Pain when that "Good Samaritan" of All Cures, South American Rheumatic Cure, passed his way — It Helped in a few Hours and Speedily Cured—Cost 75 cents.

Mr. E. A. Norton, a well-known citizen of Grimsby, Ont., was severely attacked with inflammatory rheumatism some twenty years ago. After a time he recovered, but five or six weeks ago the dread disease returned so violently that he had to give up work. For nearly three weeks he lay in bed suffering terrible agony. Another resident of the town who had been cured by South American Rheumatic Cure persuaded him to try it, and to his great surprise, after using the medicine but one week, he was so far recovered as to go about town. From the first dose taken he felt marked improvement, and to-day he is most enthusiastic in singing its praises. No case too severe for South American Rheumatic Cure to check in six hours and cure permanently. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Mr. E. W. Hazlett, Reeve of Chatham Township, Kent County, Ont., says: "My daughter has been very weakly for some years; she was very pale and always felt tired; she was prevailed upon by a friend to try a box of Miller's Compound Iron Pills. I must say it was a good investment; she at once began to improve. The colour came to her cheeks, she got stronger rapidly, and now is quite well." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

MRS. CASTLE CURED.

The Unfortunate Kleptomaniac Fully Restored by a Surgical Operation at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Dec. 30.—Mrs. Ella Castle, the wife of the California millionaire, who was admitted to the Polyclinic Hospital three weeks ago, shortly after the return of the couple from their unpleasant experience in London, left that institution on Monday perfectly well. Mrs. Castle was suffering from an internal malady and was successfully operated on in order to restore her to her normal condition. The physicians at the hospital state that Mrs. Castle is now in excellent health and does not exhibit the least trace of her former malady.

Smallpox Has Increased.

Washington, Dec. 30.—Sanitary Inspector D. M. Burgess, in a report to the Marine Hospital service on smallpox and yellow fever in Cuba during the first two weeks in December, says that nearly all sperading diseases have been somewhat diminished except smallpox, which has increased.

San Francisco, Dec. 30.—Mrs. Nettie R. Craven, the claimant to a large portion of the estate of the late Senator Fair, is seriously ill. She may die at any time.

FOR

Grip & Colds

LA GRIPPE and COLDS are so similar that the skilled physician is ofttimes baffled. Your safety lies in "Seventy-seven," it cures both Grip and Colds; relieving the mind of uncertainty, which, in itself, goes a long way towards a cure.

"BONE-RACKING GRIP."

O. F. SPRING, publisher of the Preston "Times," Ia., writes:—"Your remedy '77' for Grip relieved myself and mother from the worst 'bone-racking' cases of Grip that we ever had, and in mother's case it saved a doctor's bill of about $10.00. The investment has brought returns that I little expected."

"COLD ON THE LUNGS."

HARRY MCDONALD, Rahway, N. J., writes:—I had a severe cold on my lungs that lasted over six weeks and could get no relief. One bottle of your '77' stopped the terrible cough and the second bottle completely cured me. It is with all confidence that I recommend '77' to my friends."

Mason & Risch Pianos

Probably the most striking fact in connection with MASON & RISCH PIANOS is their suitability to all conditions. That they satisfy the social and aesthetic sense is evidenced by the fact that our cultured homes, from Rideau Hall down, use them. The fact that of importance in Canada is supplied with them, gives testimony to their musical excellence, and even in the homes of far off British Columbia, deep in the forest and far removed from the tuner's visit or care, they are still to be found standing hard usage like a rock, and cheering the distant home with their musical tone.

Holiday Photographs.

G. R. Whiten, the new photographer of Peterborough, is doing a grand trade since coming here. He is kept very busy. He finishes most of his work on the new Platino finish. There is no better work made in Ontario to-day than is made at Whiten's New Art Studio, on Hunter street west, opposite Oak Hall. His prices are very reasonable. Go and see the quality of his work and be convinced there is none better, and few to equal his work. Give him a trial. dtf

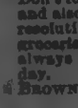
The President's Victory.

Mr. H. LeBrun, president of the Thistles, has reason to be proud of his victory yesterday—the first time a president's team has won against a vice-president. Mr. LeBrun's personal score was a fine one, and he marshalled his rink to victory. It was a great day for the French—Waterloo avenged—yesterday was Jean Baptiste's day. Canada with a French Premier and Peterborough with a French premier curling president make a happy blending. Bonjour, la Canada Francaise!

A Pleasant Evening.

At the close of the meeting of Peterborough Lodge, I.O.O.F., on Thursday evening, when the second degree was conferred on two members, Dr. Clarke, the Lodge physician, invited the members into the ante room to partake of a supper, which Caterer Long had provided under his instruction for the occasion. After discussing the refreshments a pleasant hour was spent in social converse, when a number of the members expressed the high opinion in which Dr. Clarke was held by the Lodge.

Peterborough vs. Toronto.



Attention is called to the Debate and Concert to be held in the Hall of the Catholic Literary Association on Tuesday evening, January 5th. The subject of discussion is: "That the Senate of Canada should be abolished." L. R. Keogh and A. LePlante will support the affirmative and W. J. Kenney and J. F. Thompson (son of the late Sir John Thompson) the negative. B. W. Dumble, Esq., Police Magistrate, will act as chairman. Tickets 25 cents. 2d1

Laid at Rest.

This morning the mortal remains of Minnie, eldest daughter of Mr. John O'Neil, Chamber street, one of our oldest and most highly esteemed citizens, were laid at rest. For many years—since the establishment of the business—she was forewoman for Parker's Dye Works, and was held in high esteem, not only by her employer and those associated with her, but by the community generally. There were numerous contributions of flowers, and a large concourse followed the remains of the deceased lady to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

Do You use a Diary?

Now's the time to secure the particular kind you prefer. The Peterborough Bookstore has a splendid assortment of office and pocket diaries for 1897, from the smallest to the largest made, in all forms and styles, with memorand spaces for each day, varied and arranged for all kinds of business. If you want to begin the year with a new set of account books, see our new stock before buying. We have a very superior line of account books, specially bound for the Peterborough Bookstore by THE EXAMINER Printing Company, in which the paper, binding and ruling are exceptionally good and warrant d for extra work and extra wear.—A. H. STRATTON & Co., 417 George street.

LOOKS LIKE EVANTUREL.

Member For Prescott Will be the Next Speaker for the Legislature in all Probability.

The Mail and Empire says,—There is an apparently well-grounded belief in political circles that Mr. Francis Eugene Alfred Evanturel, member for Prescott, will be chosen as Speaker of the Ontario Legislature when that body meets some time during the last week in January. The impression prevailed at one time that Mr. J. R. Stratton, member for Peterborough, would be the Government's choice for the position, but seemingly Mr. Stratton does not covet the honour. On the other hand, Mr. Evanturel, it is believed, would accept the office if proffered him, and would fill it with dignity. The Government are said to have fixed upon Mr. Evanturel, and it is considered almost certain, unless unforseen obstacles turn up, that he will be called upon to preside over the Legislature.

TALK WITH MR. STRATTON.

Mr. Stratton, who was in town yesterday, was seen last evening just before his departure for Peterborough, and reminded that his name has been mentioned in connection with the Speakership. Mr. Stratton stated that he could not say what the Government's intention was in regard to the office. He had not sought the confidence of the Administration upon the subject, and was not exercising himself over the matter, as there were plenty of suitable material in the House for the Speakership. So far as he was personally concerned, he was not seeking nor expecting the position, much as the honour was to be appreciated. Being questioned as to who would be Speaker, Mr. Stratton said he had not made any inquiries. With respect to Mr. Evanturel's possible appointment, Mr. Stratton said the former was in every way qualified for the position, and would fill it with dignity. He could not say what the Government's intention was, further than that he himself was not an applicant for the office.

WEEK OF PRAYER.

All over Christendom the various churches unite in a week of special prayer at the beginning of the new year. The meetings commence on Monday, January 4th. In Peterborough it will be observed as follows:

Monday, St. Andrew's church; subject, "Church and Missions"; speaker, Rev. A. T. Dykeman.

Tuesday, Charlotte street church; Subject, "The Home"; speaker, Rev. J. G. Potter.

Tuesday, Ashburnham Methodist church; subject, "The Home"; speaker, Rev. Dr. Torrance.

Wednesday, George street church; subject, "Charitable Institutions"; speaker, Rev. J. J. Rae.

Thursday, St. Paul's church; subject, "Educational Institutions"; speaker, Rev. W. R. Young.

Friday, Murray street Baptist church; subject, "Social Reform"; speaker, Rev. W. C. Bear.

The meetings will begin at 8 o'clock sharp. A cordial invitation is extended to everybody.

PERSONAL.

THEY WORKED WONDERS.

Two Years of Bladder Torment—Had Attacks of Inflammation—Cured by a Few Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Owen Sound, Dec. 28.—(Special)—The people of this town are talking again of another cure credited to Dodd's Kidney Pills. This is the case of Mr. W. Cruse, caretaker of the town buildings, who, when seen, had this to say of the matter:

"For over two years I have been an intense sufferer from kidney disease, with occasional acute attacks of inflammation of the bladder.

"Was under doctors' treatment and have been compelled to resort to instrumental relief many times.

"I have taken eighteen boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am satisfied with results, being perfectly relieved of all suffering."

THE McGILL STUDENTS WERE WELL RECEIVED.

TENDERED A RECEPTION AFTER THE CONCERT.

The Huffman House Ball Room a Blaze of Light and Beauty—The Social Event of the Season.

The visit of the McGill University Glee and Banjo Club proved quite an event in Peterborough's social circles. The concert was patronized by the elite of the town, who afterwards repaired to the Huffman House where a reception was held, which was quite the most enjoyable affair of this nature which has been held in Peterborough in years.

The club is composed of the following artists:

GLEE CLUB.

Conductor—Mr. Ed. Broome.
Leader—P. T. Moore.
1st Tenors—R. Paul, P. C. DuBuyse, Arts, '97; W. F. Connal, Sc. '97; R. T. Gough, Sc. '99.

Guitars—F. W. J. McKibbin, Sec. '97; R. E. McConnell, Arts, '98.
Violincello—W. A. Wilkins, Med. '98.
Reader—Mr. T. L. Packard, Sc. '97.

THE PROGRAMME

was excellently presented, opening with a grand chorus, "The Students of McGill," in which every member of the club participated. During the evening the Glee and Banjo Clubs rendered respectively a number of selections which were greatly enjoyed, being something entirely out of the usual line of concert entertainments.

Mr. Roland Paul, who accompanied the club, has a fine robust tenor voice, and his solo work during the evening was finely executed, his selections being Lane's "Black Eyes," and Balfe's "Come into the Garden, Maud." Mr. Fred McKibbon, of town, who is connected with the club, as well as Mr. Will Connal, took part in several banjo and guitar quartettes, which numbers were all rapturously encored, as in fact was nearly every number on the programme. Mr. F. L. Packard's "habitant" recitation has never been excelled on the local stage and Mr. Therriens' heavier work in the same line was a number deserving of the highest praise. Mr. Parker, the instructor of the Banjo Club, was fully appreciated in his solo selections and Mr. P. T. Moore's comic songs were

ALSO WELL RENDERED.

The entire entertainment was something so unique that the memory of it will live long in Peterborough.

The majority of those in attendance at the concert repaired at its conclusion to the Huffman House where a reception was held for the students under the management of the local students at the University, being Messrs. Fred McKibbon, Will Connal, Thos. Ferguson, Will Davidson, James and Milt. Hamilton, Court King and Harold Burnham. They were a most efficient committee and the manner in which the arrangements were carried out reflected great credit on the boys.

The patronesses were Mrs. C. Fessenden, Mrs. B. M. Dennistoun, Mrs. J. R. Stratton, Mrs. J. Burnham, Mrs. King, Mrs. S. McKibbin, Mrs. D. Landy, Mrs. R. S. Davidson, Mrs. Boucher, Mrs. Richard Hall, Mrs. W. G. Ferguson, Mrs. W. H. Moore, Mrs. R. B. Rogers and Mrs. R. D. Hamilton.

The Huffman House ballroom and dining room were gorgeously decorated for the occasion with festoons of bunting and flags. On the walls were such mottoes as "Welcome McGill," "Science," "Medicine," "Law," "Arts," etc. The ballroom never looked prettier, and as over two hundred dancers were on the floor the scene was one which impressed itself on the memories of all present. The fact that a number of society rosebuds were present and made their debut added eclat to the occasion.

The Misses Harley furnished the music for dancing.

The visiting students cannot speak too highly of the manner in which they were entertained in Peterborough. At the Huffman House the grand New Year's dinner was delayed until their arrival, and the boys captured all the menu cards to carry off as souvenirs of the event. The diningroom management was all that could possibly be desired. Amongst the invited guests present at the ball were:

Misses Wood (Montreal), Miss Walton.
Also the following members of the McGill Faculty and their wives:
Principal Peterson, Dean Johnston, Dean Bovey, Dean Crank, Dean Davidson and Dean MacEachran.
In the "wee sma hours" when the programme drew to a close the club gathered in the rotunda of the hotel, and as the ladies grouped themselves on the stairs they were gallantly serenaded. The picture was one which would have delighted the eye of an artist and can be more easily imagined than described.

Compliments of the season to our many customers and friends.

Beaten all Records.

The applications received by the Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada for the year 1896 amounted to the grand total of $11,105,000 00. This is over $1,000,000 in advance of the figures touched in any one year by any other Canadian Life Company. This is surely a record this company may well be proud of.

Solemn Requiem Mass To-day.

A solemn requiem high mass was chanted at St. Peter's Cathedral this morning for the repose of the soul of the late Richard Nagle, Esq., of Ottawa. The mass was sung by Ven. Archdeacon Casey, assisted by Rev. Fathers Scanlan and O'Sullivan, as deacon and sub deacon, respectively.

Skating on the Lake.

The lake is in first class condition. Don't forget to come and skate to-morrow, and also make it one of your first good resolutions for the new year to get your groceries from E. BROWN & Co.; best always on hand. Also fresh fish every day. Don't forget the address.—E. BROWN & Co., 394 George street.

Holiday Photographs.

G. R. Whiten, the new photographer of Peterborough, is doing a grand trade since coming here. He is kept very busy. He finishes most of his work on the new Platino finish. There is no better work made in Ontario to-day than is made at Whiten's New Art Studio, on Hunter street west, opposite Oak Hall. His prices are very reasonable. Go and see the quality of his work and be convinced there is none better, and few to equal his work. Give him a trial. dtf

The President's Victory.

Mr. H. LeBrun, president of the Thistles, has reason to be proud of his victory yesterday—the first time a president's team has won against a vice-president. Mr. LeBrun's personal score was a fine one, and he marshalled his rink to victory. It was a great day for the French—Waterloo avenged—yesterday was Jean Bantiste's day. Canada with a French Premier and Peterborough with a French premier curling president make a happy blending. Bonjour, la Canada Francaise!

A Pleasant Evening.

At the close of the meeting of Peterborough Lodge, I.O.O.F., on Thursday evening, when the second degree was conferred on two members, Dr. Clarke, the Lodge physician, invited the members into the ante room to partake of a supper, which Caterer Long had provided under his instruction for the occasion. After discussing the refreshments a pleasant hour was spent in social converse, when a number of the members expressed the high opinion in which Dr. Clarke was held by the Lodge.

Peterborough vs. Toronto.

Attention is called to the Debate and Concert to be held in the Hall of the Catholic Literary Association on Tuesday evening, January 5th. The subject of discussion is: "That the Senate of Canada should be abolished." L. R. Keogh and A. LePlante will support the affirmative and W. J. Kenney and J. F. Thompson (son of the late Sir John Thompson) the negative. D. W. Dumble, Esq., Police Magistrate, will act as chairman. Tickets 25 cents. 3d1

Laid at Rest.

This morning the mortal remains of Minnie, eldest daughter of Mr. John O'Neil, Chamber street, one of our oldest and most highly esteemed citizens, were laid at rest. For many years—since the establishment of the business—she was forewoman for Parker's Dye Works, and was held in high esteem, not only by her employer and those associated with her, but by the community generally. There were numerous contributions of flowers, and a large concourse followed the remains of the deceased lady to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

Do You use a Diary?

Now's the time to secure the particular kind you prefer. The Peterborough Bookstore has a splendid assortment of office and pocket diaries for 1897, from the smallest to the largest made, in all forms and styles, with memorand spaces for each day, varied and arranged for all kinds of business. If you want to begin the year with a new set of account books, see our new stock before buying. We have a very superior line of account books, specially bound for the Peterborough Bookstore by THE EXAMINER Printing Company, in which the paper, binding and ruling are exceptionally good and warrant d for extra work and extra wear.—A. H. STRATTON & Co., 417 George street.

LOOKS LIKE EVANTUREL.

Member For Prescott Will be the Next Speaker for the Legislature in all Probability.

The Mail and Empire says,—There is an apparently well-grounded belief in political circles that Mr. Francis Eugene Alfred Evanturel, member for Prescott, will be chosen as Speaker of the Ontario Legislature when that body meets some time during the last week in January. The impression prevailed at one time that Mr. J. R. Stratton, member for Peterborough, would be the Government's choice for the position, but seemingly Mr. Stratton does not covet the honour. On the other hand, Mr. Evanturel, it is believed, would accept the office if proffered him, and would fill it with dignity. The Government are said to have fixed upon Mr. Evanturel, and it is considered almost certain, unless unforseen obstacles turn up, that he will be called upon to preside over the Legislature.

TALK WITH MR. STRATTON.

Mr. Stratton, who was in town yesterday, was seen last evening just before his departure for Peterborough, and reminded that his name has been mentioned in connection with the Speakership. Mr. Stratton stated that he could not say what the Government's intention was in regard to the office. He had not sought the confidence of the Administration upon the subject, and was not exercising himself over the matter, as there was plenty of suitable material in the House for the Speakership. So far as he was personally concerned, he was not seeking nor expecting the position, much as the honour was to be appreciated. Being questioned as to who would be Speaker, Mr. Stratton said he had not made any inquiries. With respect to Mr. Evanturel's possible appointment, Mr. Stratton said the former was in every way qualified for the position, and would fill it with dignity. He could not say what the Government's intention was, further than that he himself was not an applicant for the office.

WEEK OF PRAYER.

All over Christendom the various churches unite in a week of special prayer at the beginning of the new year. The meetings commence on Monday, January 4th. In Peterborough it will be observed as follows:

Monday, St. Andrew's church; subject, "Church and Missions"; speaker, Rev. A. T. Dykeman.

Tuesday, Charlotte street church; Subject, "The Home"; speaker, Rev. J. G. Potter.

Tuesday, Ashburnham Methodist church; subject, "The Home"; speaker, Rev. Dr. Torrance.

Wednesday, George street church; subject, "Charitable Institutions"; speaker, Rev. J. J. Rae.

Thursday, St. Paul's church; subject, "Educational Institutions"; speaker, Rev. W. R. Young.

Friday, Murray street Baptist church; subject, "Social Reform"; speaker, Rev. W. C. Beer.

The meetings will begin at 8 o'clock sharp. A cordial invitation is extended to everybody.

THEY WORKED WONDERS.

Two Years of Bladder Torment—Had Attacks of Inflammation—Cured by a Few Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Owen Sound, Dec. 28.—(Special)—The people of this town are talking again of another cure credited to Dodd's Kidney Pills. This is the case of Mr. W. Cruse, caretaker of the town buildings, who, when seen, had this to say of the matter: "For over two years I have been an intense sufferer from kidney disease, with occasional acute attacks of inflammation of the bladder.

"Was under doctors' treatment and have been compelled to resort to instrumental relief many times.

"I have taken eighteen boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am satisfied with results, being perfectly relieved of all suffering."

TENDERED A RECEPTION AFTER THE CONCERT.

The Huffman House Ball Room a Blaze of Light and Beauty—The Social Event of the Season.

The visit of the McGill University Glee and Banjo Club proved quite an event in Peterborough's social circles. The concert was patronized by the elite of the town, who afterwards repaired to the Huffman House where a reception was held, which was quite the most enjoyable affair of this nature which has been held in Peterborough in years.

The club is composed of the following artists:

GLEE CLUB.

Conductor—Mr. Ed. Broome.
Leader—P. T. Moore.
1st Tenors—R. Paul, P. G. DuBoyce, Arts, '97; W. F. Connal, Sc. '97; R. T. Gough, Sc. '99.

Violincello—W. A. Wilkins, Med. '98.
Reader—Mr. T. L. Packard, Sc. '97.

THE PROGRAMME

was excellently presented, opening with a grand chorus, "The Students of McGill," in which every member of the club participated. During the evening the Glee and Banjo Clubs rendered respectively a number of selections which were greatly enjoyed, being something entirely out of the usual line of concert entertainments.

Mr. Roland Paul, who accompanied the club, has a fine robust tenor voice, and his solo work during the evening was finely executed, his selections being Lane's "Black Eyes," and Balfe's "Come into the Garden, Maud." Mr. Fred McKibbon, of town, who is connected with the club, as well as Mr. Will Connal, took part in several banjo and guitar quartettes, which numbers were all rapturously encored, as in fact was nearly every number on the programme. Mr. F. L. Packard's "habitant" recitation has never been excelled on the local stage and Mr. Therriens' heavier work in the same line was a number deserving of the highest praise. Mr. Parker, the instructor of the Banjo Club, was fully appreciated in his solo selections and Mr. P. T. Moore's comic songs were

ALSO WELL RENDERED.

The entire entertainment was something so unique that the memory of it will live long in Peterborough.

The majority of those in attendance at the concert repaired at its conclusion to the Huffman House where a reception was held for the students under the management of the local students at the University, being Messrs. Fred McKibbon, Will Connal, Thos. Ferguson, Will Davidson, James and Milt. Hamilton, Court King and Harold Burnham. They were a most efficient committee and the manner in which the arrangements were carried out reflected great credit on the boys.

The patronesses were Mrs. C. Fessenden, Mrs. R. M. Dennistoun, Mrs. J. R. Stratton, Mrs. J. Burnham, Mrs. King, Mrs. S. McKibbin, Mrs. D. Lundy, Mrs. R. S. Davidson, Mrs. Boucher, Mrs. Richard Hall, Mrs. W. G. Ferguson, Mrs. W. H. Moore, Mrs. R. B. Rogers and Mrs. R. D. Hamilton.

The Huffman House ballroom and dining room were gorgeously decorated for the occasion with festoons of bunting and flags. On the walls were such mottos as "Welcome McGill," "Science," "Medicine," "Law," "Arts," etc. The ballroom never looked prettier, and as over two hundred dancers were on the floor the scene was one which impressed itself on the memories of all present. The fact that a number of society rosebuds were present and made their debut added eclat to the occasion.

The Misses Harley furnished the music for dancing.

The visiting students cannot speak too highly of the manner in which they were entertained in Peterborough. At the Huffman House the grand New Year's dinner was delayed until their arrival, and the boys captured all the menu cards to carry off as souvenirs of the event. The diningroom management was all that could possibly be desired. Amongst the invited guests present at the ball were:

Misses Wood (Montreal), Miss Walton.
Also the following members of the McGill Faculty and their wives:
Principal Peterson, Dean Johnston, Dean Bovey, Dean Craik, Dean Davidson and Dean McEachran.

In the "wee sma hours" when the programme drew to a close the club gathered in the rotunda of the hotel, and as the ladies grouped themselves on the stairs they were gallantly serenaded. The picture was one which would have delighted the eye of an artist and can be more easily imagined than described.

Compliments of the season to our many customers and friends.

MAYORALTY CONTEST NOTES.

His worship Mayor Yelland has received a card of the season's congratulations from their Excellencies Lord and Lady Aberdeen, who evently have not forgotten the courtesies received at the hands of the Mayor, as representative of the people, during their visit to Peterborough last fall.

Their Excellencies are informed that the address need not be changed for their next year's card of Holiday greeting.

All the appearances indicate that the address of the mayor of Peterborough during the year of grace 1897 will be "His Worship, Mayor Yelland.

Mr. Yelland is a generous opponent—he fights hard, but he fights fairly. At the nomination meeting he gave Mr. Moore credit for what he had done, but he also held him to responsibility for any mistakes which had been made. Mr. Moore was not so generous. He consumed nearly an hour in picking flaws in Mr. Yelland's record, and didn't even draw blood.

The January thaw is a bad thing for Mr. Yelland. According to Mr. Moore the mayor is to blame because there is no snow to draw stone for the poor to break this winter. Mr. Yelland was guilty of the heinous offence of wishing to save the town's money by having the stone drawn more cheaply in the winter than on wheels.

Every mechanic and every man of affairs knows that the first week even the best mechanic is not as useful as he is after he has got into the ways of the shop. On the same principle a mayor is naturally not as useful the first year as he is after he has had an experience of one year, and that is the reason why in the past in Peterborough a mayor has been granted a second term without putting him to the trouble of a contest. Mayor Yelland has got himself into harness and shows that he can do effective work. It is to the interest of the town that a man who has got accustomed to the office and arrived at the period of greater usefulness, should again be returned.

He has a good record as mayor and the interests of the town will be served by re-electing him. He is a practical and progressive man. Under his mayoralty there has been abundant work for the unemployed and if he is again elected he will provide more—something that is needed till these hard times are succeeded by the better, which are coming.

Mr. Yelland is in favour of that great thing to be desired, permanent improvement in our streets. We want the work done well so that it will last and not cost more for everlasting patchwork than for the original construction.

And who is best qualified to see that work is done properly, a practical man accustomed to practical work or a gentleman who has only literary or clerical ability?

A spoke-shave in the hands of a practical man gives better promise of practical results than a goose-quill in the hands of the cleverest lawyer in Canada.

Mr. Yelland is in favour of the encouragement of new industries as a pressing need of the town if she should retain the foremost position she now holds.

This is a town of workingmen, and the best man for mayor is a practical workingman, who is honest, straightforward, direct, whose word is as good as his bond, who will do what he says—is not afraid to carry out what he believes is right—such a man is best for all classes of citizens.

There are very few that feel the need of an ornamental mayor. If one sent for a plumber and he came to the house dressed in broadcloth, his hands encased in kid gloves, you would expect to have trouble with your water pipes if you entrusted your work to him.

Mr. Moore criticises Mr. Yelland because the latter favoured a movement to postpone the date when a ratepayer should be fined for failure to pay his taxes. Mr. Yelland is not accustomed to law processes in the collection of taxes. He has paid taxes for over forty years in Peterborough, and at times it was no doubt a hard pull, therefore he can sympathise with others, and it is singular that he should be blamed for showing mercy to the poorer ratepayers.

To make the grievous burden of taxpayment as light as possible Mr. Yelland favours the payment of the taxes in instalment, one-half earlier in the season and one later.

Isn't that better for the poor man as well as the business man, than screwing out the whole tax bill at once by legal process—following up the bill with the bailiff?

Mr. Yelland wants Central Park put into better shape, and he believes in making the Dominion Government, who has the use of part of it, pay its share.

One sentence from Mr. Yelland's address to the electors furnishes a key to his character as well as a plea for his return as Mayor. It is this:

"It is true that I am a plain every-day citizen, who have gained all my substantial interests in the town by the labour of my own hands, but I have yet to learn that honest citizens regard that as a reason why they should withdraw the confidence I have enjoyed the past year."

And as Mr. Yelland further says the town does not require an orator or ornamental mayor.

We want a mayor of practical business experience, learned from forty-five years more or less direct contact with the growth of the town and its developing requirements—one more familiar with business than briefs—one more familiar with labour than law.

Will the workingmen of Peterborough vote for a journeyman or an apprentice to the office of mayor? Both candidates have experience in the council, but only one in the mayor's chair, and according to custom he is entitled to a second term.

The duty of the elector lies in the interests of the town, and the interest of the town lies in marking your ballot for Wm. Yelland as mayor of Peterborough for 1897.

Councillors Phelan and Moore moved the payment of one month's salary to the late collector of taxes.

Councillor Moore explained that the collector's year expired in October first, but she remained in the office for another month until another collector was appointed. Therefore another month's salary was due here.

The motion carried.

On motion an account of $32.00 for manhole pans were ordered to be paid.

THE STREET AND BRIDGE COMMITTEE

through its chairman, Councillor Langford, reported as follows:

The report was adopted.

GENTLEMEN,—Your Special Committee appointed to visit such cities as would afford object lessons in methods of constructing permanent roadways and sidewalks, with the view of gathering information that would assist the council in deciding upon the most suitable and most economical methods which could be adapted to the uses of Peterborough, beg leave to report that we visited Toronto, Buffalo, Tonawanda, Niagara Falls and other places and by observation and enquiry studied the methods which had been and were being employed in those places.

For the purpose of this report we will group our remarks on the different methods under their respective headings.

ASPHALT ROADWAYS.

The method of constructing these roadways varies somewhat, but in general it may be said that the road bed is first properly graded, being rounded with the centre perceptibly higher than the sides, and rolled until the bed becomes a solid foundation. Upon this a concrete bed of from four to six inches is laid to receive the asphalt, and the depth of the asphalt varies from two to two and a half inches. The cost of this method ranges from $3 to $3.75 per square

HEART PAIN.

Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart Defies the Most Intense Pains—No Matter how Long Standing the Trouble, it Masters Disease in Half an Hour, and in the Case of John Crow Five Bottles Cured Heart Disease of Ten Years Standing—Here's his Testimony Unsolicited.

John Crow, son of Mr. George Crow, farmer, near the village of Tara, Ont., writes: "I was alarmingly afflicted with palpitation and enlargement of the heart for nearly ten years. I doctored with best physicians and tried numerous remedies with very little benefit. In our local papers I noticed Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart advertised and I determined to give it a trial. Inside of half an hour I had relief. I have taken about 5 bottles, and feel to-day that I am as well as ever I was. I am completely cured." Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 2.

PETERBOROUGH, Dec. 29th, 1896.

Having been requested by a large number of influential ratepayers to allow myself to be nominated as a candidate for the councillorship, and believing that personal considerations should, if at all possible, be subordinated to public good, I respectfully solicit the votes of the ratepayers of No. 2 Ward. The very heavy demands of my business, (always abnormally large at this season of the year), will in a measure prevent my making a personal canvas, but if elected, I shall use every legitimate effort to further the interests of the town of Peterborough, and while endeavouring, as far as in my power lies, to oppose all useless expenditure, I shall as earnestly support every measure that may tend to build up the prosperity of the town, with which my interests are so closely connected.

I am, yours respectfully,

Goods the people want. Prices the people like. This is the whole story. The sale of this Stock will be short and profitable to buyers.

COME ONE. COME ALL.

W. W. JOHNSTON.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 1.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—At the request of numerous ratepayers of Ward No. 1, to become a candidate for councillor, for 1897, I have decided to do so, and respectfully solicit your vote and influence. Should you elect me for the position I will use my best judgment in all matters that may come before the council, but more especially in the interests of economy and retrenchment in public affairs. I will endeavour to explain my views personally to as many of the electors as possible before election day.

Yours respectfully,

THOMAS J. MOORE.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 1.

Having been nominated for Councillor for Ward No. 1 for 1897 I beg leave to announce my acceptance of the nomination.

I take this opportunity of soliciting the support of the electors—the ladies as well as the gentlemen—and if elected the best interests of this ward and of the town at large will receive my careful attention.

Yours Respectfully,

WM. RUDKINS.

December 28th, 1896.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 1.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—Having received the honour of nomination as councillor, I hereby solicit your votes and influence to placing me in the council for 1897. If you do me this honour I pledge myself to use my best judgment and most diligent efforts to advance all the interests of this ward and of the town generally, and to insist on, as rigid economy in civic expenditure as is consistent, with efficient management of the affairs of our progressive town.

I have the honour to be,

3d152 Your obedient servant,

CHARLES B. ROBERTSON.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 1.

Having again been honoured with a nomination as a candidate for Councillor in this ward I beg leave publicly to accept the nomination. I therefore respectfully solicit the vote and influence of the ratepayers of "the Banner Ward." If elected, I pledge myself to use my best efforts, as in the past, to protect the interests and promote the welfare of No. 1 Ward and of the whole town.

W. H. WHITE.

December 30th, 1896.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 2

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—Having offered my services as councillor for Ward No. 2, I respectfully solicit your votes on Monday next. I do not believe in going around town button-holing people for votes. I have been a builder and contractor in the town for over 20 years, so I think I am pretty well known. I leave to you the decision as to who shall be councillors for 1897.

Yours truly,

2d H. CARVETH.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 4

Having been again requested to stand for councillor for this ward, I have accepted the nomination and respectfully solicit your votes and influence. My record, as one of your representatives in the council and my position in regard to the leading questions before the ratepayers, are well-known to you all. I am therefore quite willing to leave myself in your hands and to be judged accordingly. If elected I will continue to exercise the same care in future over the interests of the town as in the past, keeping in mind, principally, to encourage as economical and consistent policy in the management of our corporation affairs.

Your obedient servant,

JOHN M. WHITE.

December 30th, 1896. 3d1w

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 3.

PETERBOROUGH, Dec. 29th, 1896.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,—As you are doubtless aware by the newspapers, I have accepted nomination as candidate for Councillor for No. 3 Ward. In respectfully soliciting your vote and influence, I consider the position I seek of so great importance, that I should state my position, in definite form, upon some of the leading questions that should engage the attention of a representative in the council of Peterborough, and I shall do so briefly.

I believe that in the interests of the town, as well as those of the great bulk of the ratepayers, our taxes should be collected in two instalments. I would be in favour of so changing the system of assessment as to permit of the first instalment being collected early in the autumn and not later than the first of October, and the second instalment on or about the first of February following.

I will advocate, if elected, the system of performing, as far as practicable, all works required by the town by contract, based upon public tender, and that it be made a provision of every such contract that labouring men should be paid not less than $1.25 per day of nine hours. This seems to me to be only a measure of fair play, when we consider that no man can keep a family in comfort on less wages, especially in view of the fact, as a rule, not being in any way constant during the year.

I believe that the agreement with the Street Railway Company should be carried out, especially in respect of providing better street car facilities for the western portion of the town by extending the line so as to give readier access to the beautiful resort in the western part of the town—Jackson Park—and a corresponding benefit to the residents of the west, to enable them to reach George street more conveniently.

I shall feel it my duty, if honoured with a seat in the council, to employ every reasonable means to add to our already extensive list of large and important manufacturing industries. But while I am in favour of offering reasonable inducements, I shall oppose every proposition of granting large and burdensome bonuses. We have in our own Ward a sample industry that has grown to a position ranking with the best in Canada, unaided by monetary favours and relying solely on perseverance and well directed enterprise.

I believe that it will be the best economy in the end to adopt the practice of looking to permanency in the construction of our streets and bridges, as it must be apparent to all that in the past a large proportion of the large annual expenditure on our streets has been wasted by makeshift construction, necessitating constant repairs, and, of course, unsatisfactory results. At the same time the streets would be kept in a condition that would reduce to a minimum the danger of accident, for which the town would be responsible, and saving a large expenditure in lawsuits and for damages, besides causing inconvenience and suffering to ratepayers who have paid their taxes in good faith.

While it may be in the interests of the country at large that party government should be the rule, I believe that only evil can result from introducing party politics into the management of municipal affairs.

As it will be impossible between this and the day of polling for me to call personally upon every ratepayer in the ward, I trust that if I find it impossible to call upon you that you will see your way clear to giving me your vote and support, upon my assurance that in addition to what I have stated above, I shall, if elected, make the interest of the town my first study, and that I shall oppose everything that will not tend to the promotion of the interests of this ward, and the town at large.

Wishing you the compliments of the season, I have the honour to remain

Your Obedient Servant,

J. B. McWILLIAMS.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 1

At the request of many of the intelligent ratepayers of the ward to become a candidate for councillor I have consented to do so and would respectfully solicit the favour of your votes and support. Being a large property holder in the town, my interest in the honest management of municipal affairs should be a sufficient guarantee that I would always favour the most careful economy—at the same time exercising my best judgment in promoting the growth, progress and prosperity of the town.

Yours respectfully,

3d152 NOAH T. LePLANTE.

The man who looks out at the world with clear and healthy eyes cannot help feeling great gratification at the thought that his children and his children's children have inherited from him no weakness nor tendency to disease. The healthy old man is the man who has throughout his life kept his digestion good and his blood pure. Once in a while you find such a man who has never taken any medicine. That man has lived a perfectly natural life. Not one in a thousand does do it. Sometimes very slight indiscretions or carelessness pave the way for serious sickness. The germ theory of disease is well authenticated, and germs are everywhere. This need make no difference to the perfectly healthy man. Germs go through the healthy body without effect. They are hurried along rapidly and thrown off before they have time to develop or increase. Let them once find lodgment or let them find a weak spot, they will develop by the million and the blood will be full of them. Instead of rich, life-giving properties, the blood will be a sluggish, putrid tide of impurity. Instead of giving strength to the tissues, it will force upon them unwholesome and innutritious matter, and the man will lose flesh. The more flesh he loses and the weaker he becomes, the more susceptible he is to disease. His trouble will become complicated and serious consequences will follow. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the only medicine that absolutely and infallibly cures all blood diseases, and almost all diseases are blood diseases. It isn't a medicine for some one particular so-called disease. It is a medicine for the whole body. It forces out all the germs of disease, replaces impurities with rich, red blood, feeds the tissues and makes strong, healthy flesh.

THE FLAVOR, BUT THAT'S ALL.

A Man Must Go Dry in Grand Valley Where Nothing is Sold.

Grand Valley, Dec. 30.—(Special.)—This thriving and stirring village was to-day treated to a matinee in the shape of three whiskey trials before Justices Gaviller and Johnson, the charges of selling liquor without the necessary license being preferred against Robert Hanna of the Commercial Hotel and John McClure of the uptown hostelry. As Grand Valley is the head centre of local option in this part of the province, the temperance people seem determined to stamp out the sale of intoxicants and the recollection of them. With this end in view, those prosecutions were instituted, and witnesses, without regard to age, race or creed, were summoned from far and near and rigidly examined as to where they had been and what they had drunk for a month past. Some remembered, others forgot, but all agreed that the liquor supplied by Grand Valley is not a shadow of its former self, unsubstantial and unsatisfying, lacking in nip and sting. The Crown Attorney spent the live-long day in search for a solitary man who had partaken of intoxicating liquor, but all in vain. The evidence disclosed the fact that, while the witnesses had "called" for birch beer, pop or cider, something came that resembled none of these things. A man of science explained that this was due to the new drink being kept in the old vessels in use before the local option bylaw cast its blight over the village. The ancient flavor is all that remains of the good old days. Many sigh as they pass the place regretfully on their way to Orangeville to supply themselves with the necessaries of life. Many are waiting patiently till the change comes. The cases were all dismissed. Crown Attorney McKay of Orangeville appeared for the prosecution; Mr. Haverson of the License-Holders' Association for the defence.

KIDNEY PAIN.

John Snell of Wingham, Ont., was in a Maelstrom of Pain and Agony from Diseased Kidneys—South American Kidney Cure was the welcome Life Preserver—It Relieves Instantly and Cures Surely.

"Five years ago I had a severe attack of La Grippe, which affected my kidneys and caused intense pains in my back and urinary organs. I suffered untold misery; at times I could not walk, and any standing position gave me intense pain. I became worse so rapidly that my family became alarmed. Just at this time I noticed South American Kidney Cure advertised. Although I had little faith left in any remedy—having tried so many worthless ones—but a drowning man will grasp at a straw, and I procured a bottle. In a few days it had worked wonders, and before half a bottle was taken I was totally relieved of pain and two bottles entirely cured me." Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

TORONTO MARKETS.

Flour—There is a moderate demand, but the high prices asked restrict business. Straight rollers are quoted at $4 to $4.10, Toronto freight.

Bran—Trade quiet and prices unchanged. Bran is quoted at $7 to $7.50 west, and shorts at $9 to $9.50.

Wheat—The local market is quiet and prices rule steady. Sales of red were made at 81c, and of white at 82c, outside. No. 1 Manitoba hard sold at 94c Toronto freight and at 96c grinding in transit. No. 2 hard is quoted at 92c, Toronto freight.

Buckwheat—The market is quiet, with car lots quoted at 28c to 29c outside.

Barley—The market is firmer. No. 2 is quoted at 28c to 29c, No. 3 extra at 25c to 26c, and feed at 21c.

Oats—Market quiet and prices unchanged. White sold outside at 18½c west, and at 19c on the Midland. Mixed 17½c west.

Peas—Trade quiet and prices steady, with sales at 41½c north and west and at 42c to 42½c on the Midland.

Corn—The market is dull, with new yellow offering at 24c outside. Old yellow is quoted at 27c outside.

Quackery is always discovering remedies which will act upon the germs of disease directly and kill them. But no discovery has ever yet been approved by doctors which will cure consumption that way. Germs can only be killed by making the body strong enough to overcome them, and the early use of such a remedy as Scott's Emulsion is one of the helps. In the daily warfare man keeps up, he wins best, who is provided with the needed strength, such as Scott's Emulsion supplies.

STABBED BY HIS BROTHER.

Dennis O'Connor is Now Lying in St. Michael's Hospital in a Dangerous Condition—Pat Locked Up.

Toronto, Dec. 31.

Dennis O'Connor is lying in the emergency ward of St. Michael's Hospital suffering from about a dozen knife wounds inflicted by his brother Pat.

Pat O'Connor and his wife Helen, who live at 934 Dufferin-street, are locked up, the former charged with wounding and the wife held as a material witness. The wounded man Dennis lived at his brother's. They had a disagreement yesterday morning. When Dennis returned last night from work he said to his brother: "You're a nice man, ain't you?" That evidently annoyed Pat, and he attacked Dennis, using a long-bladed penknife. He stabbed him twice in the head, gashed his arm in two places, stabbed him in the side and in the breast. The two last wounds are dangerous. One of the cuts would have reached the heart had it not been parried by bone.

Dennis was taken to St. Michael's Hospital about 10 o'clock. At midnight he became suddenly worse. Dr. Dwyer thought he was going to die, and notified Crown Attorney Curry and sent for O'Connor's spiritual adviser, who came quickly. The wounded man, who is a hardy young fellow, revived, and was much better at 2 o'clock this morning, although weakened by loss of blood.

The police story is that the whole affair was caused by liquor and the result of a drunken row.

SHE TOOK MORPHINE.

Florence Smith Quarrelled With Her Lover, and Will Likely Die From the Effects of Poison.

Toronto, Dec. 31.

Florence Smith, or Forsyth, a handsome girl about 20 years of age, attempted suicide by taking morphine last night, and at 3 o'clock this morning she was lying in an unconscious state at the house of Mrs. Hattie Ross, 11 Emily-street, and Dr. G. W. Badgerow, who was with her, was doubtful as to her recovery.

There is a story in connection with the case. It is alleged that the girl has for sometime past been the companion of a young man who occupies a prominent position at one of the down-town amusement resorts. Of late, it is alleged, there was a separation from some cause, and since then Florence has been living at Minnie Beatty's, 100 King-street west. She has threatened since the disagreement to commit suicide, and yesterday, it is said, she met the young man and had a violent quarrel with him.

At about 9 o'clock last night Florence, accompanied by a friend named "Gracie," went into McLaren's drug store, at King and Emily-streets, and announced that she had taken three grains of morphine. According to the story of the girl "Gracie," the drug clerk told them to go down to Mrs. Ross' house. The pair did this, and by the time the house was reached Florence had become so ill that she nearly fell inside as the door was opened. Mrs. Ross barely knew either of the girls, but seeing the serious condition of Florence, she took her in and sent for Dr. Badgerow. When he arrived Florence had lost consciousness and he called in Dr. Charles Temple. The medical men worked upon the girl continuously, Dr. Badgerow staying all night, but their efforts to bring her out of the stupor were unavailing. Mrs. Ross and her girls did all in their power to keep the unfortunate alive.

The girl Gracie gave no particulars concerning herself, but left the house a couple of hours after her friends became unconscious. Mrs. Ross and her companion, "Maudie," stated that they knew nothing about her excepting that she had said Florence's name was Forsyth, whereas they believed it was Smith. Both girls are said to have come here from Buffalo some time ago.

To the aged, with their poor appetite, feeble circulation, and impoverished blood, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a boon beyond price. Its effect is to check the ravages of time, by invigorating every organ, nerve, and tissue of the body. See Ayer's Almanac for the new year.

All the evidence went to show that the charges of mis-management and neglect were not well founded. Mr. Warren, the postmaster, was too ill to attend or to give evidence at his house in his own behalf. A petition or citizens was presented in favor of the postmaster and assistants.

THE POWER DUTIES.

John Farr of New York Says the Sugar Importers Want a Specific Duty of a Cent a Pound.

Washington, Dec. 30.—The session of the Committee on Ways and Means to-day was given to the question of sugar duties. The opening was given to the sugar importers, whose views were voiced by John Farr of New York, who said that at a recent meeting of the sugar importers of that city it was unanimously decided that an ad valorem rate of duty was unfair, unreliable and exceedingly difficult in practice; that one cent a pound should be imposed on all sugar below 75 degrees polariscope, and that additional discriminating duties should be levied on all sugars coming from bounty-paying countries.

Nervous Prostration
Complete Recovery by the Use of
Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. Hinson, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

HOUSE DECORATION.

What French Architects Are Doing in This Direction.

The French architects are seeking to rearrange the interior construction of our dwellings and adapt them to our modern and fin de siecle ways. This naturally applies principally to villas, mansions and private houses, but some of the large sets of apartments in Paris are being constructed on these new lines.

Thus, instead of the long, narrow windows that give so little air or light, very wide and large glazed spaces are made that can scarcely be called windows. These have panes of transparent, but softly-tinted glass, without any pattern or design; others have colored glass, ornamented with birds, flowers or figures. Openings are arranged for ventilation. These "baies," as they are called here, are put in halls, dining-rooms, libraries, or those long, narrow rooms sometimes called galleries, sometimes used as half drawing-room, half-library kink of morning room where the family spend their time, and which is replacing the stiff state drawing-room. A small room is often fitted as a retreat for the master or mistress of the house, called by the poetic name of "Asile de reve," the "boudoir" being quite out of date.

For furnishing these rooms, wood lacquered in white or light colors is used, also light oak carved, but nothing to recall the Moyenage. Renaissance or Louis XVI. styles, which have been overdone. The materials for hangings and covers can be cretonne, tapestry, silk or Utrecht velvet in rather sober shades, moss green, havane, dove-colored ground with large likes, passion flowers and birds in faded yellow, moss green or dead red. Sometimes the furniture is lacquered red or green, veined with the same in a lighter shade.

One of these new saloon bibliotheques or morning rooms destined for an elegant country house has doors, window frames, woodwork and ceiling painted or lacquered silver gray, the latter slightly vaulted for the electric illumination. On the floor is a carpet of one tint only, golden moss, faded plane tree leaf, or reddish brown. The walls are almost hidden with panels painted with landscapes, ancient temples, picturesque ruins, etc. In the middle of one side comes the large, wide window of transparent glass in big panes, so as not to cut the view. A gathered store or blind can be raised or lowered at will. On each side of this window is an immense mirror glass which reflects the painted panels, and at the foot of each glass is a wide seat or divan covered with a rich Oriental carpet, which falls also to the floor for several yards, and cushions are thrown about on this resting place. The furniture can be either in valuable Australian wood, very pale, almost white mahogany, or simple pine, or lacquered silver gray, table to match, chairs and armchairs plain and deep covered, with material and cushions all in light, faded tones. Here a bookcase, in three divisions, ornaments the mantelpiece, the sides covered or not with little plush curtains, the middle with an open recess in which to place a statuette of terra cotta. In this bookcase for general works, rather than learned or scientific ones, the books should be well bound in handsome bindings of leather or wood, or ornamented with flowers and figures in colored leather. In the angles and corners of the room various objects are placed; an easel with a portrait on it, or an enameled piece, or a pedestal with a statuette of white marble; in another a valuable vase of ceramic art, or a case containing small valuables.

The lighting of this large room is not the least curious or interesting. It is principally produced by the illuminated ceiling, which ought to give out all over a soft, subdued light, and then this is aided by a quantity of bronze fireflies, each holding a small globe for electric light. These insects, made about as large as a closed hand, are united at unequal distances with chains, and suspended in the folds of the store or blind before the side window. These can also be suspended otherwise, if wished, or the lights placed lower down, in shrubs with metal flowers beautifully painted, orchids, or falling flowers or climbers, in which are concealed the pear-shaped globes that contain the electric light. In a large ante-room, corridor or hall a statue looks well holding with an upraised hand a torch with several pear lights. Another idea is a small gilt peacock with spread tail, and a small electric pear globe at the end of each plume. All kinds of flowers and forms are used for this new style of illumination.—The Queen.

A PEDLAR'S EXPERIENCE.

ILLNESS BROUGHT HIM ALMOST TO THE VERGE OF THE GRAVE.

Pale and Emaciated, Suffering From Excruciating Pains in the Back. Life Became a Burden and Death Was Thought Not to be Far off.

From the St. Catharines Journal.

It is a curious pathological fact that spinal complaint has sometimes actually been mistaken for Bright's disease, and there is no doubt many have been maltreated for Bright's disease, when spinal trouble was the real malady. Geo. T. Smith, pedlar, of St. Catherines, is one who thus suffered. His narrative is as follows:—"In the fall of 1894 I began to experience alarming symptoms of what I thought to be spinal trouble. I resorted to lotions, plasters and other remedies, but to no avail, as I continued to grow worse. At this point my friends advised the services of a physician, which I gladly submitted to. The professional man made a minute examination, and pronounced mine a case of Bright's disease, which quite naturally gave me a severe shock, as I deemed the death sentence had been passed upon me. The doctor said he could alleviate my sufferings, but remarked that it would only be a matter of time with me. However, I accepted his medicine and took it according to directions with no beneficial results. In the meantime a friend procured a remedy said to be a cure for Bright's disease. This medicine I took, but with no effect whatever. Ten months had passed away and I had become so haggard, emaciated, stooped and miserable that my friends had difficulty in recognising me. In fact they, like myself, harboured the most painful apprehensions. At this juncture an aunt came to visit me, and strongly advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Like a drowning man reaching for a straw I did so. To my great surprise I soon noticed an improvement, the pain in my back began to leave, my appetite improved, my colour returned, and by the time I had used eight boxes not an ache or pain remained, and I am as able to travel about to-day as previous to the attack. I know that I owe my restoration to Dr. Williams Pink Pills, and I urge those ill or suffering to give them a trial."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills strike at the root of the disease, driving it from the system and restoring the patient to health and strength. In cases of paralysis, spinal troubles, locomotor ataxia, sciatica, rheumatism, erysipelas, scrofulous troubles, etc., these pills are superior to all other treatment. They are also a specific for the troubles which make the lives of so many women a burden, and speedily restore the rich glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. Men broken down by overwork, worry or excesses, will find in Pink Pills a certain cure. Sold by all dealers, or sent by mail postpaid, at 50c a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N.Y. Beware of imitations and substitutes alleged to be "just as good."

The Sexes in Burmah.

The new woman should take her way to Burmah. There, travelers say, is the only place on earth where true equality between the sexes exists. In spite of this, it is claimed, no women are more womanly than the Burmanese women whose good sense enables them to see the line where they ought to stop. In the higher classes a woman has property of her own and manages it herself. In the lower classes she always has a trade and runs her business on her own responsibility. The sexes choose their own occupations, and it is curious to see the men sometimes sewing on embroidery, while the women have nearly all the retail trade of the island on their hands.—St. Louis Republic.

"By a mere accident I came across Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder. I was a great sufferer from that dread malady—catarrh. To-day it gives me unbounded pleasure to state for suffering humanity's sake that this wonderful remedy effected a speedy and permanent cure in my case, and I have been so thankful for it that I am willing to spend the remainder of my days in spreading the good news to my fellow sufferers.' A PLEURO-PNEUMONIA SCARE.

One Report Says the Disease Exists in the Eastern Townships—Another Report Denies It.

Ottawa, Dec. 30.—(Special.)—A correspondent of The Citizen telegraphs from Bedford, P.Q., that, contrary to Mr. Fisher's declaration in Washington, pleuro-pneumonia exists in the Eastern Townships. The despatch says that by the order of the department, a herd of valuable Jerseys, owned by Mr. Holden, of St. Armand, has been slaughtered within the past two months. The Deputy Minister of Agriculture declares emphatically that no cases of pleuro-pneumonia exist in Canada. He says there may be cases of tuberculosis or lumpy jaw in the Eastern Townships, but any slaughter of cattle on that account must have been by direction of the veterinary officer of the district.

"Going to Insure."

THE Man who is simply "going to insure" is usually no better than the man who has'nt made the decision. In fact he is usually worse, because he has considered the subject and been convinced of his duty, but has not done it. "Nothing is done so long as anything remains undone." A TOAST!

Oh, ye who line the festive board
This season of the year,
May friendship's sacred ties afford
You social mirth and cheer;

And when ye toast each other's health
And all things mean abjure,
Don't fail to fill your glass with wine
From M. L. Henry's Store.

The fabled nectar of the gods
Could never mirth insure,
Like the juicy wine of the grapy vine
From M. L. Henry's Store.

We Extend a Cordial Greeting to all our friends—wishing them a Happy and Prosperous New Year; sincerely thanking them for their generous support during 1896—and determined that no effort on our part will be spared to merit its continuance during 1897.

THE COUNCIL'S LAST MEETING FOR 1896.

yard, and would on our business streets cost some $60,000 to $70,000 per mile. The maintenance of the asphalt roadways is very expensive, and there are several objections to it peculiar to our northern climate, and we consider it a luxury entirely beyond our means, for the present at least.

BRICK ROADWAYS.

In Toronto we noticed that some of the streets were paved with brick. These we found on inquiry were much liked, but they had not had sufficient experience with them to decide as to their longevity as they had been but recently laid. In Buffalo they have within the past two years laid a few streets with brick pavement, but there, as in Toronto, they are in the experimental stage. In Tonawanda, N. Y., they have some seven or eight miles of brick roadways, which have been laid for some years and have given most satisfactory results. In Niagara Falls, N. Y., we saw the roadways being laid with brick, and on inquiry found that they had constructed about one mile of roadway after having obtained all possible information from the experience of their use in other cities in the United States. The cost of the brick paved roadway varied in accordance with the manner in which it was laid, the expense incurred in preparing the roadbed and the cost of the brick employed. In some cases where, after the roadbed had been properly rounded and prepared and the bricks were laid on a bed of sand, the cost was not more than one dollar per square yard, and again in places where the bricks were laid on a bed of cement the cost reached $1.75 per square yard. This made, no doubt, a first-class roadway. The bricks are rounded on the edges and the joints filled in with cement grout, sand or pitch. The advantages claimed for these roadways are, amongst other things, that they are easily cleaned, easily repaired and impervious to frost. This for the business streets of our town would be the best pavement, if within our reach as to cost.

CEDAR BLOCK PAVEMENT.

On enquiry we found that little or no cedar block paving was being laid in the cities we visited on account of its supposed unsanitary tendencies, the difficulty of keeping it clean, and its short life. What was being laid cost about 40 to 45 cents per square yard.

MACADAM ROADS.

In the different cities we visited macadam was well spoken of when properly laid and the roadbed properly formed and drained. The method of construction in the places we inspected consisted in properly grading, rounding up and draining the road bed and covering it with from 9 to 12 inches of broken stone. The larger stone is placed at the bottom and the smaller on top, and it is well rolled in and consolidated. Then with a well-formed crown it will shed the water, which will not percolate through it and destroy the pavement, and the result is a good, smooth and lasting roadway with a good appearance.

SIDEWALKS.

Cement, concrete or artificial stone for permanent sidewalks was more generally used in replacing timber sidewalks than any other material in the several towns and cities visited by us, though in some instances we observed some extremely neat brick sidewalks which rather impressed with their clean, solid and durable appearance, and it was claimed for them that they had the considerable advantage of not being so slippery as the artificial stone. The cost of the artificial stone and of brick is nearly about the same.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

After learning all we could by observation and enquiry at the several places we beg to make the following recommendations:

First—That before any permanent construction of roadways is made all sewers and sewerage connections and gas and water mains and connections should be laid in position as far as possible, to prevent so far as it can be done the future breaking up and disturbance of the street surface.

Second—That the streets in the business portion of the town be paved with brick, and sidewalks constructed of either artificial stone or brick, as may be desired, provided the property holders on the streets so paved are willing to pay the customary proportion of the cost of construction of the pavements on the roadways and sidewalks by frontage tax.

Third—That the residential and other streets of the town be properly graded, rounded up, drained and macadamized, except in some places where gravel might be used instead of the broken stone, particularly on streets on which there is not much traffic.

Fourth—That for this purpose the corporation should at once make arrangements to purchase a stone crusher and a heavy steam roller, as none of the foregoing work can be properly done without these necessary machines.

We would also recommend that the corporation should purchase this winter a large quantity of field stone so as to be ready to commence operations in the spring. The teaming and breaking of the stone during the winter would provide employment for quite a number of our citizens, and the stone can be procured cheaper during the winter than in any other season.

Peterborough has many natural advantages, and among the most useful is the natural foundation and drainage provided for the construction of good roadways. Where the natural soil is clay, the practice is to excavate to the required width to receive the gravel for a foundation, but here, in a considerable portion of the town, we have a natural gravel foundation. This gives us an advantage and would to that extent lessen the expense.

To carry out the recommendations here made it would be well to issue debentures for the purchase of the roller and crusher, and it might also be advisable to raise by debentures sufficient money to purchase a quantity of stone and to pay for the labour at the commencement, say about $5,000 in addition to the cost of the machines. By doing this the debentures would provide funds to make a good beginning, and the work could be carried on as circumstances would permit, and the increase in the taxes would be minimized as much as possible.

While these permanent roadways are being constructed it would also be well, outside the business portion of the town, to narrow the parts of the streets devoted to carriage ways. The sides should have lines of curbing of stone or cedar plank, to define the carriage ways and protect the road metal, while the space between the curbing and the street line, except so much of it as would be used for sidewalks, could be beautified by boulevarding and the planting of trees. This would enhance the appearance of the streets and at the same time there would be less roadway to maintain.

The improved roadways would facilitate business, for it certainly is a material advantage to have well made and well kept streets, instead of rough, uneven and soft roadways, a fact which has impressed itself upon the people of Ontario during the past few years. The increased comfort in the use of such streets would also be gratifying.

The improvement in the appearance of the town by the construction of such roadways would not only be pleasing, but of material advantage as well. This town has excellent buildings and finely fitted up stores in the business portion, and in the residential parts of the town there are many handsome residences, while all citizens are showing a commendable desire to have their premises, whether large or small, present a neat, tidy and pleasing appearance. All this helps a town. It develops a spirit of pride in, and loyalty to, the home town which helps it along, and the impression made upon visitors is that the place is inhabited by a progressive people and that it is a good one to live in. But when the streets are not in keeping with the buildings, lawns and boulevards, and when the handsome business places look out upon roadways not in keeping with their surroundings, the good effect of private enterprise is partly lost by the public neglect. This is one particular in which we are not behind other places, for it would not be correct to say that, but in which we are not as far advanced as with our privileges we might be by taking hold of the matter in a business spirit, and by facing the expense necessary to construct permanent roadways, the streets could soon be so improved that the good appearance of the town would be greatly enhanced. This would help us in our efforts to promote the progress of the town, for it would attract those who desired an enterprising, progressive, clean, healthy and tidy town to live in. This is especially the case when we have already taken the step in advance of providing the entire business portion with a good system of sewers—a system which will no doubt be extended until it covers all parts of the town where sewerage is needed. The improved streets should follow the construction of sewers as speedily as the work can be done, and this is one of the first important works that the council, acting for the people, should take up.

There is a mistaken impression with some that purchasing those machines would deprive some men of work who might be engaged to break stones. This would not be the case. A number of men would be employed with the machines, and a number more on the work on the streets, so that the number employed would be greater, if these recommendations were carried out, than if the work were carried on as it has been heretofore. Besides the work would be such as the men could do to better advantage, to the town and to themselves, for in the same time they would do more effective work and they would earn more than in breaking stone by the cord.

We submit these results of our observations, and these recommendations, with the hope that, although it is too late to do any more this year, they may be of use to those who will have charge of the administration of the affairs of the town in 1897, and be of benefit to the town as a whole.

WM. LANGFORD,
HENRY BEST.

Councillor Moore expressed the thanks of the council to Councillors Best and Langford for the most comprehensive report which had been submitted. It had, he was sure, cost them a good deal of trouble and time to gather the statistics which had been compiled in the report. He accordingly moved a vote of thanks to these two gentlemen, seconded by Councillor Jno. White. The report was referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

THE LICENSE COMMITTEE

through its chairman, Councillor Hughes, recommended that no action be taken in reference to the application of Walter Kerr for a license for peddling, etc.

Councillor Hughes moved the adoption of the report.

Councillor Sawers and Moore moved that the request be granted.

Councillor Langford and John White moved in amendment that the report go back to the committee.

The report was adopted.

THE COURT OF REVISION

recommended through its chairman, Councillor Hughes,

1. That the assessors in assessing lot 15 south of Sherbrooke street and west of George street, take into consideration the burden of a special tax for the construction of the Park street drain from which the lot receives no benefit, and that the tax for this year be remitted, amount $3 77.

2. That W. H. Roberts be refunded $3 paid by him as costs with his taxes, and that a cheque be issued to him for that amount.

The report was adopted.

THE SEWERAGE COMMITTEE.

through its chairman, Councillor Best, reported that at a meeting on Dec. 21, that the accounts of Messrs. Grant & Winch for contract No. 3, Mr. Bogue, for contract No. 4, and of Mr. Belcher, town engineer, for his commission on contracts Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4, were taken up and dealt with. Your committee, in reference to these accounts, decided to recommend as follows:

1. That Messrs. Grant and Winch be allowed $108.55 in full and final settlement of Contract No. 3 from Townsend street to King street.

2. That Mr. James Bogue be allowed $12,212.40 for the full amount of his contract and extras for Contract No. 4, less the amount which had been paid him, which amounted to $9 342.60 at the time of the meeting of the committee, the drawback of 10 per cent. to be held back in accordance with the terms of the contract.

3. That Mr. J. E. Belcher be allowed $1,640.00 for his commission on the four contracts, less the amount which has been paid him, leaving $163.00 to be paid Mr. Belcher in full settlement for his services in connection with these contracts.

The report was adopted.

Councillors John White and Graham moved that Mr. P. H. Green be granted an electric light in the locality requested; Councillors Sawers and Weir asked for one on the corner Donegal and Murray streets; Councillor Wm. White and Hughes for one on Sherbrooke street, west of Park, and Councillors Phelan and Dunne for one on Scott and Rubidge streets.

Carried.

The council then adjourned.

OUR RIGHT HAND

Is to-day extended to our host of friends and patrons in wishing them all A Happy New Year. Thirteen years have found us striving to make this the leading store in Ontario for Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Hats and Gentlemen's Furnishings. How the world moves! We look back and ruminate with feelings of pride and pleasure over our first start in Peterborough, in the unpretentious brick store on George street, which now marks Gough Bros. Two Mammoth Stores. All the power of this business has been reaching out during these 13 years to a single definite point—the reduction of prices. We only wish that all our work were as easy as it is to show why this store might be called the Porchway to Economy. Not that every price is lower, for that is not TRUE economy. Storekeepers shrewdly manage to sell at about the same price such goods as are easily recognizable. But the face of the article does not always show its grade. All milk looks alike, but by standing at the pump you will find that the quality cannot be told by the whiteness. In building up this store so that it will stay, we have it always in mind not to take money from our customers unless we return the largest value of goods and service. To the thousands of people who shop here year in and year out; we tender our grateful thanks for their appreciation of our efforts. We have our work cut out for us in 1897. The old-time retailers hibernated in January. But the live and progressive house of Gough Bros. must be more than ever alert in January. Our way expels dull seasons from the trading year. The after-holiday period gives scope for special offerings, and thus will come our Mammoth January Sale which will be duly announced on Monday next. Our good wishes are extended to all—Friends and Customers and the Ladies who read our advertisements—A JOYOUS NEW YEAR TO ALL. The silent store to-morrow—emptied of the thousands that have flocked to it during the dying year—suggests the quiet, the silence, and afterglow that follow the brilliant day.

WHAT A

JANUARY OFFERING

...IN...

DRESS GOODS

MEANS.

It means that all those pretty fabrics which you and others have admired are price clipped to nearly one half and less to take them away. Every yard was bought for regular trade and there are no flimsy, flashy fabrics at any price.

Come and get samples, Consult our Dress-Making Department. It's a chance for the cheapest, stylish Gown you ever had.

The Last Call on Cloaks.

This time the prices on all remaining Winter Garments will be cut so deep that there will be no chance for further reductions.

If the signs read aright the great majority of our present holdings in Mantle Coats and Capes will leave the store next week, for values like those quoted here never fail to bring the customers.

Quality!!!

If every one were to judge of what is good and what is not good in merchandise, a great many dry goods stores would be out of business. Don't always trust the price, it is very often misleading.

If you are a judge of merchandise, look at the goods first then the price. We are willing that you should try us in that way.

THE NEXT STEP.

Planning and preparing for 1897. Making prices still more interesting for the ladies. Going in for hard work. The beginning must be brilliant whatever the end must be.

SATURDAY will start our Annual Clearing Sale, previous to Stock-taking. We neither tax your imagination nor your credulity by statements that never produce results. We make no promise of 25 per cent. Reductions. We never put on that much profit and therefore can't be expected to take it off. Truthless tales and artful tactics are superflous here. Plain truth serves this business best. We treat our customers as intelligent women and men. Helping you to buy goods at about what they cost us is what we now stand ready to do during this month.

Our January Store news will be the brightest and breeziest of the year. Our Special January Reductions will be more certain than a January thaw! Everything goes at COST—mind that!

WAR ON THE CLERGY

Mr. Tarte Appears Determined to Fight It Out.

BEAUGRAND AGAIN HEARD FROM.

The Minister of Public Works Proposes, It is Said, to Have the Election Law Amended So That Clerical Politicians Will be Liable to Criminal Proceedings.

Montreal Jan. 3.—(Special.)—The combat deepens and if Hon. Mr. Tarte succeeds he will be a man to be remembered, but if he fails the fall will be considerable. It is understood that the Minister of Public Works is determined that an important amendment to the election law will be introduced at the coming session of Parliament, and, although the details in full have not yet leaked out, it is stated that he will make it a criminal offence for any clergyman to exert political influence either from the pulpit, by means of the confessional or by private visit. Be the result what it may, Mr. Tarte is evidently a marked man for episcopal displeasure, as the attacks or writings in the Minister's personal organ, Le Cultivateur, against what is called clericalism have been much more severe than those of L'Electeur; consequently a good deal of surprise was felt when the first-named sheet did not meet with the same fate as its Quebec confrere. Le Cultivateur was not condemned by the prelates, but the priests are doing the work all the same. Hon. Mr. Tarte's friends were stating yesterday that no less than two thousand of Le Cultivateur's subscribers had given up the paper on account of its action on the Manitoba school question.

Mr. Beaugrand is still in the ring and in another vigorous article which was published in La Patrie yesterday, the ex-Mayor says, in opening, that the violence of his journalistic opponents would almost make one believe that they were inspired by a monastic abuse of Oka whisky. The reader outside this province will understand the French journalist's expression in recalling the fact that the rev. Trappists of Oka were fined some months ago for the illegal manufacture of whisky within their domain.

Continuing, he says: "But what an awakening! The letters of encouragement which reach me from all parts of the country make it evident that I will not be alone in the fight I am about to undertake, but even if I am absolutely alone that would not change my determination one iota. What will they do here in Montreal? I really know nothing, but if they launch their thunderbolts, I ask that it be of the first order and that there shall be no ambiguity about it. Let them be as explicit as in Quebec, so that it will make a cause celebre for the Privy Council. They finished by burying Guibord, and they will also finish by leaving politics alone. No one wishes any harm to the clergy of the Province of Quebec, and no one will interfere with their concerns if they will only do us the honor to keep out of politics. There is no air of bravado on my part or a tempestuous declaration of war against the clergy, yet, with three years of this kind of work, I have almost lost patience. Besides the letters of approval which I have received from all sections of the country, a great deal of correspondence has come to hand which it would be impolite to publish in La Patrie. The campaign which we have entered upon is so serious that we must direct it according to our own way of thinking; therefore I wish it to be thoroughly understood that Hon. Mr. Laurier and Hon. Mr. Marchand have not been, or will not be, consulted in this matter."

High Constable Bissonnette left for Quebec last night, bearing a warrant for the arrest of Mr. J. P. Tardivel, the so-called ultramontane editor of La Verite, the criminal action being taken by Dr. Louis Frechette, the well-known Canadian poet and litterateur. L'Institut Canadien of the Ancient Capital having invited Dr. Frechette to deliver a lecture, Mr. Tardivel wrote in his paper that he was under the impression that the institute was a respectable organization, hence the action in question. This Quebec journalist is the same gentleman who was condemened by the Montreal courts to pay $200 and costs for having called Mr. Marc Sauvalle, a former editor of La Patrie, a Mc n dist

A fatality occurred yesterday near St. Augustin, County of Two Mountains. As two men and a boy were crossing the railway track their rig was struck by the incoming train from Ottawa, killing one of the occupants named Desormeau, from St. Eustache. The other two escaped without much injury, but the horse was instantly killed.

Mgr. Langevin of St. Boniface has written a letter to La Croix of Paris, appealing for aid to enable His Grace to establish Separate schools in Manitoba. The Archbishop states in his letter that when these National schools were being forced upon them the Catholic minority, bishop, priest and people arose as one man and replied, "Potius mori quam foedari" (Death rather than dishonor).

It is more than likely that the gentleman appointed to succeed Archbishop Fabre will be the next Canadian Cardinal, as it is generally understood that when His Eminence Cardinal Taschereau dies the hat will come to Montreal.

The electric tramway is now in operation between Montreal and Lachine, over one thousand persons being carried over the line on New Year's day.

The body of the late Archbishop will be removed from the palace to the Cathedral to-morrow afternoon, and at the funeral Tuesday it is expected that 30 bishops and archbishops and 900 priests will be present.

Some of the Conservative members of the Club Canadien are making a fuss because of the little demonstration which took place there the other day in honor of Hon. Mr. Greenway.

WEYLER ISSUES EDICTS.

Hardware Business Prohibited—Zones of Cultivation Ordered Formed Around the Towns.

Havana, Jan. 2.—Gen. Weyler has issued from his camp at Bayete two edicts bearing date of yesterday. One of them prohibits the storage or sale of hardware, saddlery, clothing, provisions or medicines in unfortified towns. It also absolutely prohibits the removal of such goods from the towns in the Provinces of Pinar Del Rio, Havana, and Matanzas without a military permit. It is ordered that eight days after the date of the edict all stores in unprotected villages and hamlets must be closed and their goods removed to stronger places. This applies also to stores on unfortified sugar estates in the Provinces of Santa Clara, Puerto Principe and Santiago de Cuba. Those persons who violate the edict will be considered as rebel sympathisers and will be condemned as such.

The other edict orders the formation of zones of cultivation around the towns, for the cultivation of vegetables, etc., according to the ground. These persons will be allowed to hold the land free of all charges for six months after the insurrection shall have been suppressed. An exception is made, however, in the case of those families which have a brother or husband in the rebel ranks. To those no land will be allowed.

It is suspected that the rebel leader, Jose Maria Aguirre, has died from pneumonia.

An engagement has taken place at Blanquizal, Province of Pinar Del Rio, between a rebel party and a detachment of Spanish troops. The rebels were defeated after losing twenty of their number killed. Four insurgents were captured. The Spanish loss was a major, a lieutenant, and two privates seriously wounded.

BAD AS NEW YORK.

Manchester Chief of Police Bounced in Disgrace—How He Levied on Disorderly Houses

New York, Jan. 3.—A special cable despatch from London to The Sun says: On last Wednesday Mr. William Bannister, Superintendent of the Manchester Police Force, was dismissed with ignominy and fined by a police magistrate for what is euphemistically described on the charge sheet as "neglect of duty." The man ought to have been charged with pretty well every crime possible for a trusted public officer to commit, but there is a general desire in Manchester to keep the scandal within the narrowest bounds as far as the public is concerned, and so Bannister has been let off lightly, and other officers who ought to have been in the prisoners' dock with him have escaped with nothing more serious than a caution. The main trouble was connected with disorderly houses, but Bannister not only levied blackmail upon wretched women as a matter of routine business, but was actually part owner of a disorderly house himself, and tried to establish a monopoly for that establishment in its own particular district by persistently raiding rival houses within a specified radius. The keepers of these houses in other districts, who could not be regarded as rivals in business, were regularly warned when raids were contemplated and, of course, had to pay for the information. Bannister was within nine months of completing twenty-five years of service, which would have entitled him to a pension of $1000 a year, and this, of course, he has forfeited. But there is not the least doubt that he has made plenty of money by his nefarious operations, which will enable him to live in comfort for the rest of his life.

Immaculate Manchester is in a state of much virtuous indignation over these disclosures, but the feeling is apparently not strong enough to compel a searching investigation by an impartial body into the whole question of the connection of the police with illegal practices.

HON. THOS. McGREEVY DEAD.

The Man Who Was so Much Talked About in Political Circles in 1891 Has Passed Away.

Quebec, Jan. 2.—Hon. Thomas McGreevy died early this morning at the Hotel Dieu Hospital. After a long and painful illness. The hon. gentleman has been for a very long time identified with public matters in the city of Quebec. He was a Legislative Councillor from 1867 up to the last general elections, and represented Quebec West in the House of Commons, with the exception of the two or three sessions during which the seat was held by the late Hon. John Hearn. He was expelled from the House of Commons in 1896, following the revelations made by the Hon. J. I. Tarte of his connection with the Quebec harbor works scandals. He contested Quebec West in the general elections of last June, but was defeated by Hon. R. R. Dobell. The illness which resulted in his death was contracted almost immediately after he retired from Parliament.

MACOE STILL LIVES

So It is Again Reported From the Interior of Cuba.

SAID TO BE RECOVERING RAPIDLY

He Was Shot and His Followers Thought Fatally, But When Preparing to Bury Him They Discovered Signs of Life — Dr. Zertucha's Treachery Confirmed.

Havana, Jan. 3.—(Via Key West, Fla., Jan. 3.)—Reports that Maceo is alive are coming constantly from the field, and all tend to show that he is recuperating rapidly. Letters received in Havana from his medical attendants explain the nature of his wounds and confirm previous reports of the character of the same, and reports of Zertucha's treachery. They say that Maceo, with his staff, came to meet Ahumada with a flag of truce, and that Cirujeda and his comrades were in ambush. As soon as Maceo appeared the Spaniards opened fire. Maceo being in front fell from his horse. Gomes also fell at his side. The rest of the staff, some of whom were wounded, managed to escape and reach Baldomero. Acosta's camp instantly gathered all its small forces and rushed to the rescue. They made a desperate fight and drove Cirujeda into Punta Brava, recovered the bodies and carried the apparently dead Maceo with them. He remained unconscious four days and five nights, and when prepared for burial it was found that he was still alive. As soon as he was able to be transported he was carried with the greatest care and under a strong escort to the Cienega Hospital, though others say to Siguanea.

It appears that the project of the Cubans as soon as Maceo is able to move is to send him to the United States, and a steamer has already been ordered for the purpose, and thus personally prove that he is alive.

Great excitement prevails in Havana over the news. It is widely discussed, and even the Spaniards are talking of the possibility of his being alive. A member of the Produce Exchange created a sensation the other day when he announced the fact, and a commotion followed.

BAD FOR THE CUBANS.

The Loss of the Steamer Commodore Upset Some of Their Plans.

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 3.—The steamer Commodore sank in 20 fathoms of water 20 miles northeast of Mosquito Inlet at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. All of the men on board were saved, and 12 of them reached Jacksonville last night.

The story of the accident, as told by one of the men, is as follows: The steamer crossed the St. John's Bay at 2 o'clock on Friday, and at midnight was 100 miles down the coast. One of the men went into the hold for something, and found it half-full of water. Great excitement prevailed, but the pumps were started, and everyone on board was put to work bailing. The water gained steadily, and at 3 o'clock the steamer was deserted, L. A. Delgado taking command of one boat, with 11 other men, and Capt. Murphy commanding the other. The Delgado party landed on the beach near New Smyrna at 10.30 a.m., but Capt. Murphy's boat load did not land until 9 o'clock to-night. The boat is said to have been overloaded with coal when it left here, and it is thought that she sprang her seams when she grounded on Commodore Point in going down the St. John's. Stephen Crane, the novelist, was on board, and was in Capt. Murphy's boat.

The Cubans here are downhearted at the accident, as the Commodore was expected to carry the men left by the Three Friends on No Name Key.

A. A. Blabee, owner of the Dauntless, received the following from that Key: "The Dauntless rescued a large body of men and a cargo from No Name Key. Many of the men were in a helpless condition. The Dauntless will wait and meet the Commodore and deliver the men and cargo to her. Will report as per signals seen at Miami, and will return as soon as we meet the Commodore, probably Friday."

This confirms the reports received from Key West Friday night, stating that the Dauntless was anchored off No Name Key, Friday afternoon, taking on men and cargo.

BLOOD POISONING KILLED HIM.

Mr. Watson of Reaboro Was Skinning a Cow Which Died, Touched a Slight Cut in His Face and Was Fatally Poisoned.

Lindsay, Ont., Jan. 3.—Mr. Isaac Henry Watson of Reaboro', a widely known and much respected citizen, was buried here to-day. Mr. Watson spent the Christmas holidays with friends in Midland, returning home on Monday last. On his return he found out one of his cows had died, and he at once proceeded to skin the animal so as to secure the hide. While thus engaged he chanced to touch his face with one of his hands where he had slightly cut himself while shaving at Midland a day or two previous, and a little of the blood from the cow got into the cut. Blood poisoning set in at once, and he died in three or four days. While at the funeral to-day some parties noticed a cat eating at the hide of this cow, and the cut was suddenly seized with violent sickness and died in a few minutes, thus proving it to be a case for investigation by experts. Mr. Watson was one of the most respected men in the neighborhood, a member of the Church of England, and a staunch Conservative, being chairman of the Conservative Association, and a prominent Orangeman and Forester. The funeral was a very large one, over a mile and a half long.

A VERY BAD BOY.

He Was Convicted of Picking Pockets, His Mother Begged Him Off, and Now He is Suspected of Murder.

Philadelphia, Jan. 3.—A few days before Christmas two boys, giving the names of James Hagen and Edward Burns of New York, were arrested here for picking pockets. Hagen was identified as a boy who had served time on Blackwell's Island for picking pockets in New York, but nothing was learned of the Burns boy. Both boys were convicted and sentenced to two years' imprisonment in the Huntingdon Reformatory. On Friday a middle-aged woman and a well-dressed young man visited Judge Yerkes, who sentenced Burns, and told him they were the mother and brother of the boy. They said their name was Canover, and that the boy lived in Chicago. The woman made such a piteous plea that yesterday Judge Yerkes had the boy brought into court, and after giving him some good advice set him free. Not two hours after the happy mother and her boy left the court room a telegram came from Chicago saying that Edward Burns was wanted there for murder. The Chicago despatch contained no details, but the police here think the boy is the one wanted. They have been unable to get any trace of him or his mother and brother. The boy is only 15 years old and wears knee breeches.

Secretary of Agriculture Morton replies warmly to Sam Allerton's letter criticising the cattle regulations regarding Canada, and shows that Allerton is out of his calculations. Mr. Morton says shipments of cattle by United States exporters have increased under the new arrangement, and that Canadian ports will soon be open to United States cattle shippers.

That

Extreme tired feeling afflicts nearly everybody at this season. The hustlers cease to push, the tireless grow weary, the energetic become e.servated. You know just what we mean. Some men and women endeavor temporarily to overcome that

Tired

Feeling by great force of will. But this is unsafe, as it pulls powerfully upon the nervous system, which will not long stand such strain. Too many people "work on their nerves," and the result is seen in unfortunate wrecks marked "nervous prostration," in every direction. That tired

THE RAILWAY EMBANKMENT DITCH.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I notice in the WEEKLY EXAMINER published on December 24th, an account of the proceedings at the meeting of the council of the township of Otonabee in which it is stated that a grant was made to me of $8.33, being the municipality's share of the work of excavating a ditch through the old Cobourg Railway to take the water off the road allowance,

Now Mr. Editor I would like to ask a little space to let the public know the facts regarding this matter. The embankment on the old railway which ran through my farm in Otonabee caused the water to dam back and flood the Keene road, one of the most travelled roads in the township. Last spring the water was more than three feet deep in the middle of the road for a distance of about 150 yards for four or five weeks. During most of that time the road was very dangerous and almost impassable, endangering the lives and property of those requiring to use the road. The water was also forced back on a portion of my land. To remedy the evil it was necessary to cut a ditch through the embankment, which at the place in question was 23 feet high and 66 feet wide at the base. The council agreed to pay one-third of the cost of making the ditch through the embankment and advertised for tenders for the work, the lowest tender being $111.00, and the others being much higher. The contract was not let, but as the season was advancing I got the work properly done at a large expense and now the council make me a grant of $8.33 as their share of the work. Now if the council think that this is all that a permanent improvement, such as I have made, is worth to the people of the township they can keep the money, for I will not accept any such sum as the township's share of the expense, Thanking you for the space, I am yours, etc.,

ALEX. MCFARLANE.

Otonabee, January 2nd, 1897.

CENTREVILLE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. M. R. Hutchinson, who is carrying on quite an extensive boot and shoe business in Millbrook, formerly one of our popular young men here, took unto himself a partner in life on Wednesday, Dec. 23rd. His affianced one was Miss Hattie M Walter, a very estimable young lady, daughter of Mr. Walter of Cedar Valley. The marriage took place at the residence of the bride's father at 2.30 p.m., the Rev. Mr. McKee of Fraserville officiating. The bride was supported by her sister, Miss Nettie Walter, and the groom by his brother, Mr. Wm. Hutchinson. Miss Ida Munro of St. Thomas, played a wedding march admirably. The bride received many valuable tokens of regard. After the marriage ceremony was over, and partaking of an elaborate dinner, the happy couple took the five o'clock train going west on a wedding tour.

South Monaghan councillors were elected by acclamation: Messrs. J. W. Dawson, Herb Perrin, Alex. Anderson and John Buckham. Messrs. Jas. Greer, Bailieboro, and H. Hutchinson, near here, are in the field as candidates for the reeveship.

KEENE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. Robert English has moved into his handsome new residence on Main street.

Mr. Walter Bryce is spending his Christmas holidays with his father in Keene.

Mr. W. A. Eaton spent a few days in the village last week.

Master Croyland Yokome, of Peterborough, spent a few days in the village the guest of Master Cluny Reed.

At the regular hockey meeting the following officers were elected:

President—F. Burnham.
Vice-President—A. Walsh.
Secretary—J. McCarthy.
Chaplain—J. McIntyre.
Hon. Pres.—R. J. McCamus.
Committee—C. Fife, W. Brown, R. Dickson and F. Quinn.

Practice three nights in the week from 7 to 9 p.m.

The rink is now in good running order, under the very able care of Mr. R. Brown, who fully understands his business.

Mr. R. Brown has moved to the village.

Mr. Jas. Ashburn has moved into the brick dwelling lately occupied by J. Powell.

Dr. Shields, an eminent physician of Tennessee, says: "I regard Ayer's Sarsaparilla as the best blood-medicine on earth, and I know of many wonderful cures effected by its use." Physicians all over the land have made similar statements

BENMORE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. M. J. Carroll is spending the Xmas holidays here, after teaching for the past year in Ottawa.

Miss Annie Crough of Ottawa is spending her holidays at her home here.

Miss Katie Guiry is home from Lindsay for her Xmas vacation.

Mr. Herbert O'Donoghue of Buffalo is spending a couple of weeks visiting relatives in this vicinity.

Miss Dorgan of Emily is the guest of her friend, Miss Mary Twomey.

Mr. Jas. Kearney spent a few days in Bobcaygeon last week.

A very interesting entertainment was given in the town hall on Tuesday evening, 29th inst., by the pupils and teachers of the public schools, assisted by the Young's Point Dramatic Club. The manner in which the children acted their several parts reflects great credit on their teachers, Miss Agnes Hanahoe, Miss Maggie Fobert and Mr. E. Bolton. The following is the programme:

PART I.

Welcome chorus.....Children's singing class
Recitation; "A hole in my pocket".....Gertie Mahoney
Song.....Mr J E Galvin
Tableau, "The Shrine of St. Agnes".....
Dialogue, "The rival speeches".....Walter O'Connor and Willie Bull
Recitation.....Miss Louise Kearney
Violin solo.....Mr James Hollihan
Recitation.....Miss Agnes Hanahoe
Vocal solo.....Miss Aggie Fobert
Dance.....Masters Joe and John O'Connor
Refinement, "A charade in three acts".....Young's Point Dramatic club

PART II.

Tableau.....Medley
Instrumental duet, violin and piano....Misses J Kearney and M Fobert
Club swinging.....Learnie Sullivan
Recitation, "Little Jim".....Gertie Mahoney
Vocal solo.....W Bull
Dialogue, "He lost their sympathy".....children
Vocal chorus, "The Merry Brook"...Children's singing class
Recitation, "A visit to grandma".....Minnie Costello
Vocal solo, "Flowers, Flowers, who wants to buy".....Lillie O'Connor
Dialogue, "The Yankee stratagem,".....Mr E Bolton and P Moher
Tableau, "The Angel's Whisper".....

While all did their parts well in the programme some are deserving of special mention. The charade, in three acts, by Young's Point Dramatic club was splendidly acted, while the song, "Flowers, Flowers, who Wants to Buy," by little Lillie O'Connor, was sung with a sweetness of tone seldom heard in a little girl. The entertainment closed by the singing of the National Anthem.

WALLER WON THE RACE.

Two Laps Ahead of Maddox, with Ashinger Third—They Covered 674 Miles.

Washington, Jan. 2.—The six-day, eight-hour bicycle race closed to-night in the presence of the largest crowd that has yet been in attendance, and with a fine burst of speed on the part of Maddox, the New Jersey man who, during the last three minutes almost gained one of the five laps he was behind the leaders. Six men were in at the finish. The prize money was $3500, of which $1500 went to the winner, the remainder divided among the men according to position and distance covered. The track was again officially measured and found to be three feet too long on each lap, thus adding almost seven miles for each rider. The race ended with a number of exhibition riders. The following is the score:

	Miles.	Laps.	Feet.
Waller	674	5	28.5
Maddox	674	3	42.9
Ashinger	673	7	14.5
Lawson	671	10	429.1
Hunter	671	10	423.9
Forster	670	3	225.1

GIDEON WILL RETIRE.

Philadelphia, Jan. 2.—Chairman George D. Gideon of the Racing Board of the League of American Wheelmen is sincere in his announcement that under no circumstances will he accept a reappointment to the position. The duties pertaining to the office are not only arduous, but very often unpleasant. Mr. Gideon has given good satisfaction, but several times his rulings, though admittedly fair, have made him the target of much abuse. He has always performed his work without regard. It is now the intention of the L. A. W. to make the position a paying one, and at their annual meeting in February next a salary will be decided upon. Mr. Gideon will retire, and three of the other members of the Racing Board also intend dropping out. The list includes D. W. Robert of St. Louis, Fred Gerlach of Chicago and E. H. Grindinger of Cincinnati. The retirement of these four officials will cause the appointment of an almost entirely new board.

AS WELL AS EVER.

A Brickmaker Listens to Reason—Uses Six Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and Tells it.

Brockville, Jan. 4 (Special)—Mr. W. H. Odell, perhaps one of the best known citizens of this town has lately recovered from a long continued and painful kidney ailment. He tells the story of his experience to the correspondent as follows:

"I have suffered for over a year from kidney disease, the pain in my back being so severe that I was unable to stand to my work."

"Noticing the published cures of what Dodd's Kidney Pills were doing for others I concluded to use them."

"Having used only six boxes I can say that I am perfectly cured and well so that I can attend to business as well as ever I could."

THE TORONTO MARKETS.

VICIOUS ITALIANS.

Three of Them in Montreal Stabbed a Young Man and His Father, Killing the Latter

Montreal, Jan. 2.—(Special.)—Three Italians are under arrest to-night charged with a very grave crime. Last evening, as a young man named Lintens was coming down Montcalm-street he was attacked and stabbed by the two in question. He staggered home, and his father, coming out, was set upon in turn and stabbed to death. The son will also probably die.

Lady Aberdeen's Brother Engaged.

A FAMOUS MAN!

What His Researches Have Done for the World.

DR. CHASE.

All successful and distinguished men have imitators, and Dr. Chase, the well-known author of Chase's Recipe Book, proved no exception to the rule. Dr. Chase's discoveries have many pretended rivals, but no equals.

Long scientific researches produced Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Chase's Ointment, the first a certain cure for all kidney, liver, stomach, bladder and rheumatic troubles; the latter an absolute specific for chronic and offensive skin diseases. Among his other discoveries were Chase's Catarrh Cure and Chase's Linseed and Turpentine for colds and bronchitis.

During 1895 the Canadian manufacturers, Edmanson, Bates & Co., 45 Lombard street, Toronto, gave away free 500,000 samples of Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and 100,000 samples of Chase's Ointment. The return they brought proved how much they were appreciated. The same free distribution of samples will be continued during 1896. Those at a distance should enclose a 5-cent stamp and also receive a sheet of the latest music in return.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In the Matter of the Estate of Robert Hall, of the Town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, Dry Goods Merchant, Insolvent.

TAKE NOTICE THAT THE ABOVE named has made an assignment to me under the Provisions of R. S. O. 1887, Chapter 124, of all his estate in trust for the general benefit of all his creditors.

A meeting of the creditors of the said estate is hereby called and will be held at the office of Messrs. Stratton & Hall, in the Town of Peterborough, on Thursday, the Seventh day of January, A. D. 1897, at 3 p. m., for the appointment of Inspectors and the giving of directions with reference to the disposal of the said estate.

All the creditors of the said estate are hereby required to fyle their claims and prove their security on or before the date of said meeting. After the second day of February next I shall proceed to distribute said est to having regard only to such claims as I shall then have due notice of and proof and I shall not be held responsible for the assets of said estate nor any part thereof to any person or persons whose claim shall not then have been fyled.

CHARGE AGAINST A LIQUOR SELLER

He is Alleged to Have Adulterated Whiskey and Sold It—Ottawa Shaken by Earthquake—Project for Increasing Trade in Frozen Fish—Ottawa News.

Ottawa, Jan. 3. — (Special.) — A militia general order was issued yesterday. The Major-General announces the receipt from the Colonial Office of the Secretary of State's expression of satisfaction at the success of the detachment of the Canadian artillery at Shoeburyness. Col. R. M. Stewart, R. A., the Commandant of the School of Gunnery, states that the Queen's prizes were well won and deserved by the Third Middlesex Volunteer Artillery and the Canadian Artillery, "a very smart soldier-like detachment."

The case against the Ottawa liquor liquor seller, D. B. Ranger, by the well-known distillery firm of Hiram Walker & Sons of Walkerville was called in the Police Court yesterday. The charge is that Ranger has in his possession a counterfeit seal of Messrs. Walker, and that he has from time to time opened barrels of liquor upon which was the Walker seal, adulterated the liquor and sealed it up again. For some time past it appears that numerous complaints have been going in to Messrs. Walker's office that their liquor was not up to the standard. The firm were at a loss to know what the cause of the complaints were and the services of Detective Carpenter of Montreal were obtained. The detective worked very quietly on the case, and finally located the source of the trouble. Mr. Ranger purchased large quantities of liquor from Messrs. Walker, and in turn sold it to outside parties as coming direct from the distillery. This liquor was found to be inferior in quality, and a close investigation showed that the seals had been tampered with, the bungs removed and a counterfeit seal replaced. These barrels of liquor were in possession of various customers, and sold in each case by Mr. Ranger. Mr. Latchford, for the prosecution, quoted the criminal code, chap. 447, in reference to any person having in his possession any die, lock, machine or other instrument that is used as a trade mark. Mr. N. A. Belcourt, who represented Mr. Ranger, said he desired the case adjourned until Tuesday to allow him to see his client. He had no explanation to offer until then. The case was the leading topic among business men about the city, and the outcome will be watched with interest. Witnesses will be brought here from Windsor.

There are two charges against Mr. Ranger. The first is that on December 21 he sold a barrel of adulterated whisky. The other is with intent to defraud by having in his possession a brass seal for the purpose of using as a trade mark, which is the registered property of Hiram Walker & Sons of Walkerville.

The Marine Department yesterday received a request that when the Government is carrying out its scheme for placing cold storage accommodation on board the vessels sailing from Montreal and Halifax, there should be room provided for shipping fish to the Old Country market.

The Premier has ordered an investigation in the matter of the charge laid against the postmaster of Crane Island, Charlevoix County, of having destroyed copies of L'Electeur which passed through his office, and which were destroyed in compliance with the order of the cure of that parish after the reading of the mandement last Sunday.

A sharp shock of earthquake that lasted fully ten seconds, and was accompanied by a dull, rumbling noise, was felt in various parts of the city yesterday morning between 12.15 and 12.45 o'clock. According to various statements people who were awake at the time felt it distinctly, and quite a few who were asleep were awakened by the force of the shock.

Lord Haddo, the eldest son of His Excellency the Governor-General, is spending the Christmas holidays at Government House.

Forty young ladies took the veil and pronounced their final vows at the Grey Nuns' Convent on Water-street yesterday. Archbishop Duhamel presided at the ceremony. The sermon in French was preached by Rev. Canon Campeau, and the sermon in English by Rev. Father Pallier, O.M.I. A large number of priests attended the service; also the parents and friends of those making the profession. Pupils of the Hull Convent conducted the greater part of the musical service.

The trade in frozen fish between Canada and the Old Country is to receive large encouragement. Some of the largest fish dealers of London, Eng., have had representatives in this country making purchases and arrangements for shipment. British dealers our rowing advantageous rates for the carriage of their consignments.

It is officially stated that so far as Canada is concerned Mr. J. M. Lemoine is the only Canadian who has been the recipient of an Imperial honor bestowed by Her Majesty at the New Year.

The crop of applications for the Crow's Nest Pass Railway charter is multiplying, and promises to give the Railway Committee plenty of work at the coming session. There are two new applications in this week's Canada Gazette, one for a line from Lethbridge to Fraser River, the other from Burrard Inlet to Lethbridge.

The militia list for 1897 is out. Major Bliss is prompt on time with his useful militia guide.

There were 21,595 visitors at the Geological Survey during the year 1896.

Owing to outside bakers being allowed to come into the city and cut prices, the managers of a few large establishments in the city have arranged to lower the price of bread to ten cents per loaf. This had to be done, they claim, in order to compete with those who pay no taxes to the city.

It is reported in political circles that Mr. Laurier was offered a knighthood, but declined to accept the honor, preferring to follow the example of men like Gladstone and Bright.

Last night Mr. Wm. Craig, merchant and ex-M.P. of Russell, died at his home in Duncanville, Russell. Mr. Craig was a prominent business man in the county he represented in Parliament for four years, and was very highly respected.

The Curfew law went into operation on Friday night.

Rev. Lord Douglas of England is staying at the Archbishop's palace. Father Douglas is looking after the orphans all over the Dominion, and will spend a few days in Ottawa, during which time he will visit the Orphans' Homes of this city.

Her Excellency the Countess of Aberdeen sent to the wives of the Cabinet Ministers and to several other prominent ladies whom she honors with her friendship, very beautiful baskets of roses and best wishes for the new year.

Rev. Father Cloutier, Roman Catholic chaplain at Stoney Mountain penitentiary, Manitoba, has been suspended. It was reported that politics had something to do with Sir Oliver's action towards Father Cloutier, but as far as can be learned in official circles this statement is not correct. It is simply a question of contravention of the prison regulations.

BRAM FOUND GUILTY.

The Jurors Deliberated Long and Finally Decided That the Mate Murdered Capt. Nash and Wife.

Boston, Jan. 2.—Long before the hour of the meeting of the Circuit Court hundreds were struggling to get into the room where they expected to hear the final verdict of the jury either convicting or acquitting Thomas Bram. The jury came in at 9.45 and the court soon followed. Judge Cott asked the foreman if there was a verdict. The foreman stated that there was none yet. Judge Cott then read to them in some regard the evidence and the jury retired for further consideration. At 12.45 o'clock the jury came into court for further instructions and again retired. The court then took a recess until 2.30. At that time the jury announced that they had agreed upon a verdict.

The clerk of the court, after the judges had entered, facing the prisoner, requested Bram to rise. The jury was then polled as usual, after which they rose. Bram was told to look upon the gentlemen of the jury and the jury to look upon the prisoner. After the clerk had completed the usual formula, asking the foreman to pronounce the verdict, the foreman allowed the fatal word "Guilty" to escape him.

The effect upon the prisoner was hardly noticeable. He still maintained the composure which has characterized his action all through the trial, with the exception that under the eyes a deep flush gradually appeared.

After he had seated himself Judge Cott asked the prisoner's counsel, Mr. Cotter, how much time he required to file his exceptions.

After Mr. Cotter had expressed his desire the court said that he might have two weeks in which to examine exceptions and then make his application. District Attorney Hoar agreed to this. Then Judge Cott discharged the jury, thanking them for their attention.

PUT IN SIX BOGUS BALLOTS.

The Confession of a D.R.O. Named Uriah Scrammel in Macdonald Constituency—Rev. Father Cloutier Bounced.

Winnipeg, Jan. 3.—(Special.)—In an election trial in the constituency of Macdonald a deputy returning officer named Uriah Scrammel, having been promised immunity, swore that he inserted in his ballot box six ballots marked for Nat Boyd, the successful Conservative candidate. He did it without any inducement, and on his own responsibility.

A petition has been filed in the courts to disqualify Winnipeg's Mayor-elect, W. F. McCreary, on the ground of lack of property qualification.

A telegram has been received at the Archbishop's palace, St. Boniface, dismissing Father Cloutier as chaplain of Stony Mountain Penitentiary. No cause is given. Father Cloutier is now in the East with Archbishop Langevin.

John A. Wood Couldn't Shoot Himself But He Could Fall From a Window.

White River Junction, Vt., Jan. 2.—John A. Wood of Taftville, this State, aged 23 years, unmarried, committed suicide at the Junction House to-day. He fired two charges from a shot gun, one of which had no effect and the other wounded him in the left arm. Failing to inflict a mortal wound in this manner he jumped from a fourth storey window, breaking his neck and fracturing his skull.

TAKEN POSSESSION

I beg to announce to the citizens of Peterborough and vicinity that I have purchased the business lately conducted by Mr. C. B Routley, and will continue to carry on a First-class Fancy Goods Store with full lines in all departments as heretofore.

Orders will be placed as rapidly as possible for an entirely new stock of goods for each department and the establishment will soon be overflowing again with an assortment of the very latest goods, unequalled by any retail Fancy Goods Store in Canada.

Ten Days Longer.

For ten days longer, still more Sweeping Clearing Sale prices will be continued until stock-taking is fully completed.

Mr. Routley will be found at the office in the store during the next few weeks to settle his outstanding accounts and wind up his business affairs.

Respectfully soliciting a continuance of your esteemed patronage.

C. F. KUTZBACH,
Successor to C. B. Routley.

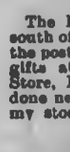
To Examine the Extent of Pine.

The Crown Lands Department will send as soon as possible a corps of rangers to examine into the value and extent of the pine forests existing north of Lake Wanhapitae, with a view to throwing open the land to miners. The land has never been opened to prospectors but it is said that valuable mineral deposits are to be found in parts of this now forest-covered area. The reason for this is that the prospector's camp fire often endangers the pineries, and extensive fires have been traced to this origin.

Peterborough vs. Toronto.



Attention is called to the Debate and Concert to be held in the Hall of the Catholic Literary Association on Tuesday evening, January 5th. A Rarity of a Walking Stick.

Mr. James Hall, Donegal street, has received from Mr. W. E. Earle a walking stick made of the celebrated "Amara" Wood, which was cut on the famous disputed territory between British Guiana and Venezuela. It was purchased of a native by Mr. Earle, on March 30th, 1896. On its journey to Peterborough from its native woods it had to travel about 4,000 miles. The stick was purchased in Georgetown, Demarara. The stick is a very heavy one, and the colouring goes right through the fibre of the wood. The land in which this stick grew is below the sea level, being protected from overflow by immense sea walls.

The Children's Aid Society Takes over Another Little One.

It will be remembered that at the instance of the Children's Aid Society County Constable Cochrane a few days ago arrested the parents of three children in the north country and brought them to town on a charge of neglecting their offspring.

It was alleged that the children had been often left for days in a destitute condition, whilst the parents were away from home and therefore the society felt justified in interfering.

The case, however, has been settled without the assistance of the courts, the parents consenting to give up the youngest child, a boy, and being permitted to retain the two older children conditional on their good treatment.

S. S. ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.

The Charlotte Street Sunday School Children Assemble.

Special Sunday school anniversary services were held in the Charlotte street Methodist church yesterday, being conducted by Rev. L. Phelps, of Millbrook.

In the morning Mr. Phelps spoke directly to the parents of the children, urging them to look well to the religious training of their little ones at home and not leave that most important duty to the Sunday school. The Sunday school was a place where the education of the child could be continued along religious lines, but the seed should first be sown in the homes.

The discourse was of a very impressive character and the eloquent words of the the speaker evidently sank very deep into the hearts of his hearers.

In the afternoon the Sunday school children assembled in the church where they were addressed by Rev. W. R. Young, B. A., of the George street Methodist church and by Rev. Mr. Phelps. The former made a few remarks on the duties of parents towards the children and the latter spoke on the "Rose of Sharon," drawing an apt comparison between the fragrance of the rose and the love of the children of Christ, which he pointed out should be as characteristic of them as perfume was of the rose.

During the services Miss Florence Hall and Mr. A. L. Davis contributed solos of unusual excellence.

This evening an entertainment will be held in the Sunday school for which an elaborate programme has been prepared, including lecture by Mr. R. M. Roy, which will be richly illustrated with some of his fine stereopticon views.

CHURCH CHIMES.

St. Andrew's choir sang as a recessional last night, "Behold I Bring You Good Tidings"

Rev. Dr. Smith, of Kingston, took the evening sermon in St. Paul's church last night.

St. Paul's choir sang "All Thy Works Shall Prove Thee" as an anthem last night.

The choir of St. Andrew's sang as an anthem last night "Safely through another year."

Miss Potter sang "What will you do with Jesus" very sweetly last night in St. Andrew's church.

Rev. Walter Roger, brother of Mr. G. M. Roger, of town, preached in St. Paul's, yesterday morning.

Rev. R. E. Spence, of Victoria University, occupied the pulpit of the Mark street Methodist church last night and delivered a most eloquent sermon.

Rev. J. J. Rae drove down to Millbrook yesterday and conducted both the morning and evening services in the Methodist church there.

Holy Communion was celebrated in St. Andrew's church yesterday morning. Rev. Dr. Smith, of Kingston, delivered the sermon.

At the Christmas ordinations in St. James' Cathedral, Montreal, by Mgr. Emard, Bishop of Valleyfield, the following Peterboroughnians were ordained: J. J. O'Brien, minor orders; F. J. O'Sullivan, sub-deacon, and M. J. O'Brien, deacon.

A meeting of the special committee on the division of the Diocese to confer with the clergy of the Deanry of East York, will be held to-morrow at Pickering. Archdeacon Allen, of Millbrook, Col. Boulton, of Cobourg, and Rev. H. Symonds, of town, will attend.

From Wednesday to Friday a reunion of the Clerical graduates of Trinity University, Toronto, will be held in that city. Papers theological and devotional will be read. Amongst others are by Rev. G. Warren, of Lakefield, on "The moral element in the teaching of Christ." Rev. H. Symonds and Rev. W. L. B. Reed will attend this meeting.

Off to School Again!

To-day the school bell again summoned the scholars to their studies for 1897. Now for another term of earnest work. But first, scholars must be equipped with new school books and other school supplies. The Peterborough Bookstore is provided, as it always is, with a full and complete stock of every requisite for pupils of every grade and form. Scribblers for 1c, 2c, 3c, 4c and 5c. Exercise books for 3c and 5c. All sizes of slates and all numbers of copy books and drawing books. The handiest scholar's companions for 5c, and your choice of lead pencils at 1c, 2c, 3c, and 5c each. Every lesson book from Part I up. High School students' books and supplies of every kind, and every order carefully filled according to latest authorised publications and school orders, at the Peterborough Bookstore.—A. H. STRATTON & Co.

DON'T!

Don't slack up or quit advertising altogether as soon as the holiday season is over. Don't say: "Well, we can't sell goods in the dull season, no matter how hard we try, and advertising is just money thrown away." Your bustling competitor, with no better chance or location than you have, keeps business booming all the time by advertising all the time in the most vigorous way. He has no "dull season," why should you?

The pushing, prompt, persistent men
Who advertise each day,
In every year, can always make
Their advertising pay.

General Grant once said there is a time in every battle when each side thinks it is whipped. He learned by experience that if he kept up the fight until the other side thought it was whipped, he was pretty sure to win. There is something for advertisers to learn from this. If, when they begin to think, advertising does not pay, they would fight a little harder to make it pay, they would be pretty sure to win.

RESPECTFULLY REMEMBERED.

Address and Presentation to Mr. Wm. McAllister.

Mr. Wm. McAllister, one of the most prominent and highly respected residents of the township, was, on Tuesday evening, Dec. 29th, made the recipient of a very cordial tribute to his worth.

A large number of his friends invaded his reidence on Tuesday night, and though the numbers looked like a threatening demonstration, the peaceful demeanour of the invaders dispelled this idea and they were cordially welcomed as friends and neighbours. At nine o'clock, Mr. Wm. Rutherford called the gathering to order and called upon Mr. Geo. L. Fair, secretary of the South Monaghan Agricultural Society, to read the following

ADDRESS:

SOUTH MONAGHAN, December 29th, 1896.

Mr. Wm. McAllister, South Monaghan:

DEAR SIR,—On behalf of the South Monaghan Agricultural Society, Township Council and other friends, we desire to convey to you our deep regret that, after a residence amongst us of over forty years, you have decided to remove from your old home, where you have so many friends, to take up your residence more convenient to the town of Peterborough and to enjoy a well-earned rest.

During the past twenty years you have upon different occasions represented the people in Township Council most satisfactorily and efficiently, and your services in connection with the Township Agricultural Society have been most valuable to your co-dire tors during the past thirty years, during which you have been identified with the South Monaghan Agricultural Society.

Not only in the official relations which you have sustained with the people of South Monaghan have you shown the possession of the best qualities of citizenship, but also as a member of the community generally, and in all relations of society, as a neighbour, friend, and as a co-worker in the promotion of the moral and material interests of the community at large have you shown qualities that have endeared you to all.

It would be only a simple statement of truth for us to say that we shall very greatly miss, not only yourself, but your amiable wife and daughter, and we have the greatest pleasure in wishing you the utmost happiness and contentment in your new home, where we are sure the same qualities that have made so many friends for you in South Monaghan will raise up other friends for you.

In earnest of our good wishes, we ask your acceptance of the accompanying gold headed cane for yourself, and easy chairs for yourself and wife.

Wishing you both not only a Happy New Year, but many years of peaceful and prosperous happiness, we remain, on behalf of the people of South Monaghan,

Yours very sincerely,
WM. RUTHERFORD.
W. H. HUTCHINSON,
J. W. DAWSON,
GEO. L. FAIR.
JOHN LIGHTFOOT,
ALFRED MAYCOCK,
HERBERT PERRIN.

The presentation of the articles enumerated in the address was as follows:—Mr. Rutherford presented the gold-headed cane to Mr. McAllister and Councillors Dawson, Hutchinson and Perrin the easy chairs to each Mr. and Mrs. McAllister.

Mr. McAllister, though completely taken by surprise in the matter of the presentation, made a feeling and suitable reply thanking the donors for their very cordial and kindly address. He feeling referred to the unvarying kindness and courtesy he had received at the hands of all his South Monaghan neighbours, among whom it had been the greatest enjoyment to reside for so many years. He regretted very deeply the separation that was about to take place and assured all that he should always hold their kindness, which had been crowned by the act of the evening, in the fondest remembrance. He very heartily appreciated their kindness and concluded his remarks by extending to his many guests the warmest compliments of the season.

At this stage the ladies of the party took possession of Mr. McAllister's home and brought forth their well-laden baskets. The tables were soon spread with a most sumptuous repast, which was enjoyed to the accompaniment of social intercourse.

After supper a season of social chat was enjoyed, varied with music, and the younger enjoyed a few turns at tripping the light fantastic toe, and not the youngsters only, for it was very difficult to draw the line at which some guests considered themselves old.

In the wee sma' hours when the company was thinking of dispersing, somebody called upon Mr. John Riddell for a speech. Mr. Riddell, as he does in every good work, nobly responded. He paid a tribute to Mr. and Mrs. McAllister's worth of character, and referred to the fact that Mr. McAllister came from the Green Isle in his teens in humble circumstances. Since that time he has spent the rest of his life in the township and by the exercise of integrity, industry and ability he has developed into one of the foremost farmers in the township, respected on all sides for his sterling qualities of character. The respect in which he was held and his interest in benefitting his neighbours, were shown by Mr. McAllister successfully representing the township in the council for many years. He was an energetic supporter of the South Monaghan Agricultural Society, and of the church of his choice, the Presbyterian. His worth was so highly appreciated that his departure, as well as that of Mrs. McAllister, would be a distinct loss to the community. He would be followed to his new home, near Peterborough, by the best wishes of all his old neighbours, and his hosts of friends in the township.

Mr. McAllister has purchased a residence east of the Locke, adjoining the town, and entered upon his new home with the new year. The EXAMINER welcomes him to town, and hopes that his residence with us may be happy and prosperous.

AN OTONABEE WEDDING.

Nuptials of Mr. Thos. Sargent and Miss Eveline Hanbidge.

A pleasing event took place on Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. Robt. Hanbidge, Otonabee, the occasion being the marriage of hi eldest daughter, Eveline, to Mr. Thos. Sargent. Only the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. W. C. Bear. The bride, who was prettily arrayed in a becoming travelling dress, carried a beautiful bouquet of flowers and looked very attractive. Miss May Hanbidge, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Mr. Wm. Sargent, brother of the groom, acted as best man. A wedding march was played by Miss L. Bear. A bounteous wedding supper was enjoyed by the guests present. The many handsome presents, of which the bride was made the recipient betokened the high esteem in which she is held by her friends.

CURLIANA.

The Thistles meet this evening in the rink parlours to select their skips to play in the Lindsay-Peterborough competition and at the Lindsay bonspiel.

Peterborough, it is said, will send up about fifteen rinks to play in the single rink competition at the big Lindsay bonspiel.

The Kendry Cup competition begins to-night when rinks skipped by Messrs. D. Bellegham and E. LeBrun, well represent the Thistles and Judge Weller and Harry Allen will skip the opposing rinks of Granites. Players are again reminded that if absent only one substitute can be taken on end that if two are away from the same rink their skip forfeits the match.

Appended will be found an extended report concerning the personnel of the fourteen rinks which battled in the President vs. Vice-President match on New Year's Day:

HOCKEY.

The "Umpire" in Saturday Night's hockey notes says:—"From the showing Peterborough made against the Imperial Bank they appear to have a good senior team. King who was U.C.C.'s best man last year and Phelan are two of the best forwards in Ontario and the combination of Peterborough's forward line will be hard to beat."

It will be remembered that when the O. H. A. schedule was drawn up the Peterborough seniors were to play home and home games with the R. M. C. team of Kingston and Queens would play the winners one match on the latter's ice. Peterborough confidently expected to win from the R.M.C. team and with Queens having to play here, it was presumed that the local team would again win and thus find its way into the finals, but Queen's intend a kick, with the result that the sub-committee of the executive changed the schedule so that the winner of the R. M. C.—Peterborough series will have to play home and home matches with Queen's. Although Peterborough had somewhat of an advantage by the first arrangement, yet the change favours Queen's entirely too much, as that team is a bye in the first series, with no travelling to do, whilst Peterborough will have to go to Kingston twice. Entirely too much of a good thing—for Queen's. Mr. G. J. Hopkins is in Toronto to-day at a meeting of the Executive of the O. H. A. to endeavour to have a further change made.

If Queen's insists on home and home games, a new drawing might be made, pitting that team against the R.M.C. men for the first round, when Peterborough could play home and home games with the winner. This looks like a more equable arrangement—an arrangement which would allow Queen's the extra game, which it wants, and at the same time give Peterborough less travelling to do.

The Queen's men were of the opinion that Peterborough had too much of a snap, but when making their kick they forgot apparently that they themselves were not altogether neglected, as through the draw they were a bye in the first round, and did not have to play a single game to occupy that position.

If the Peterboroughs are allowed to take Queen's place, as a bye they should be willing to play home and home games with the winner of the R.M.C.-Queen's games.

The above suggestions are just suggestions and nothing more, but are given for what they are worth as a good way to settle the difficulty. It looks fair enough.

NORWOOD'S NEW RINK.

(From a Correspondent.)

On New Year's eve Norwood's grand skating rink, of which she is a little vain, and justly so, considering it is an excellent building of its kind, was opened for the season's enjoyment. By 8 o'clock quite a crowd of skaters in all sorts of attitudes and ages were skimming around or trying to do so. Old men and young men, pretty misses and austere dames, skilful skaters, and those who needed a little more of the swamp for their fancy figure cutting, performed upon the ice, while ranged around were sightseers galore, watching those most favoured and endeavouring to solve the problem, "Hadn't I better buy a pair of skates?" While above the band discoursed melodious sounds, which "the ladies declared was quite delightful to skate to.

But the excitement grew intense when the champions skaters, McGuire, of Havelock, and Fraser, of Norwood, lined up for a mile dash. At the start McGuire led for four laps and then the fairplay of Norwood's sports asserted itself, groan after groan crept slowly along the ice, not a word, a look or a sign of encouragement for the visitor, but instead, Dave! Dave! and Dave! in softer accents kept a constant murmur in the air! Urged forward by such pitying cries Dave did go ahead, then the manly tongues broke forth in voices loud and long, the arenes echoed, the building trembled and the band forgot to play. People bent forward with expectant glance and the wrinkles gradually unfolded themselves into wreathes of smiles, while the tune was changed to "all right Dave, you've him beaten, mind the corners, Dave! etc.," and when at length Dave finished first, huzzah! huzzah! From the outcry you would have thought the champion of the Olympian games had struck the town. I could not help but admire the way McGuire skated even in the midst of all the turmoil, no hurrying! no anxiety. He never quitted the long, long skilful stroke nor graceful bend with which he started.

We do not doubt that Norwood has a grand skater, but common courtesy is due anyone, who is a stranger to us, and accepts a challenge for the amusement of a Norwood crowd or the successful opening of a skating rink.

In the Militia General orders appears the following memorandum:—"Prince of Wales Canada Dragoons; to be Honorary Chaplain, as a special case, Rev. H. Symonds.' Rev. Mr. Symonds is to be congratulated. No doubt this flattering appointment is a recognition more or less direct of his effective services in the church militant.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

It is said that a new interlocking apparatus is to be placed in position at the Locks' bridge shortly by the G.T.R. When this is in working order, it will be impossible for the bridge tender to open the swing unless both semaphores are at danger, nor can the semaphores be let down until the swing is securely locked. It is said that a derailing switch may also be put in, so that an engineer who persists in going ahead against a danger signal will find his engine ditched instead of in the river.

Mr. Robb, late of Belleville, entered on the duties of Mechanical Superintendent of the Midland Division of the G.T.R. yesterday, vice A. H. Smith retired.

The Grand Trunk Railway have one of their bridge gangs at work repairing the trestle work near the Barnardo Home. The bridge is receiving a thorough overhauling and strengthening in anticipation of the increased traffic, which will pass over it when the bridge at Auburn is completed, and the trains to Lakefield take this shorter and more direct route.

A Credit to Canadian Patriotism, Patience, Acumen, Art and Typography.

"A thing of beauty," is a phrase that, true as it is, only partially describes the "Cabot Calendar," compiled by Mary Agnes Fitzgibbon and Sara Mickle. It consists of a dozen calendar pages, with an artistically simple, yet striking, title page, bearing a portrait and autograph of Sebastian Cabot, flanked by the significant numerals, 1497-1897, the calendar being a timely and happily conceived contribution to the commemoration of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of Canada. Everyone of the twelve monthly calendar pages is a mine, or rather, a collection of nuggets, of historical information, as to events of, or touching upon, Canadian history, set opposite the date—day and year—of its occurrence. Thus for every day in the year some significant Canadian record is provided. Every calendar page is different in design, yet all harmonize with the general plan, and each contains portraits with autographs of men prominent in Canadian history, with the names of the months dropped in at artistic random. Every page is as dainty as a daisy. Interleaved between the calendar pages are full-page lithographed portraits, with autographs of Champlain, Frontenac, Wolfe and Brock, that of the latter from a hitherto unpublished miniature recently discovered in Toronto.

The typographical excellence of this calendar is in keeping with the artistic features and the two combined furnish as fine samples—both pencil and press—of workmanship of its class as can be produced in any country—another credit to Canadian skill.

While the compilers must have employed an infinity of research in collecting, and patience in selecting and arranging data so minute in detail and so comprehensive as a whole, their patriotism must have been behind the patience required to reach such results. They as well as the lady artists that furnished the excellent drawings deserve the highest credit and should receive due appreciation.

A copy of the Cabot Calendar should be in every school in Canada, both for its stimulus to patriotic sentiments and for its educative effects—for the assistance it would give in developing a fondness for the study of history, by robbing it of its dryness. If the teacher throughout the year took the date and event for the day and invited the pupils to suggest other events, in either Canadian or British history, of the same date, a spirit of rivalry and research would be aroused, with the most beneficial results. The school boards of Winnipeg, Hamilton and Toronto have provided a copy of the Cabot Calendar for each room of their schools, an example which the Peterborough board could follow with great advantage to the pupils. The calendars will be furnished school boards at wholesale rate. Wm. Briggs, Publisher, Toronto, price 50 cents. To be had at the Peterborough Bookstore.

The Late Mrs. Samuel McKee of Bruce County.

Mr. John McKee returned home on Friday night from Teeswater, Bruce County, where he was attending the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Samuel McKee. Mrs. McKee, whose maiden name was Margaret Rosebargh, was a former resident of Smith township. She has been a resident of Bruce county for about 20 years, and her many friends in this county will learn with deep regret of her demise, which took place at the advanced age of 77 years, resulting from la grippe, following an attack of congestion of the lungs. Mrs. McKee left behind a family of seven sons and one daughter, all living. Mrs. Gerald Fitzgerald, of Lakefield, is her only surviving sister.

A HEART-BROKEN MINISTER.

The Death of the Late Rev. A. H. Munro Attributed to the Effects of Grief.

The Toronto News has the following:—"Quite recently there died in St. Thomas an aged minister named Rev. A. H. Munro. It is said that he died of a broken heart, in a physical as well as an emotional sense. The indications as diagnosed by physicians after his death, seem to show that peculiar form of breakdown which is occasionally produced by great grief was responsible for his death. He was a Baptist minister, formerly of Peterborough, and late in life he was expelled from his church on the testimony of a woman, who claimed that he had wronged her. The woman was afterwards found to be insane, and it is now believed that all her assertions were absolutely false. She is in an asylum and her conduct is said to have been due to her intense affection for him, and to her crazy view that she might become his wife by making such a ruinous accusation against him. Exactly the same situation is to be found in a Spanish novel "Faith," by Armando Palacio Valdes, in which a woman drives a pure and devoted young priest into disgrace by a similar assertion. Valdes is a realist and possibly his tale was founded on an incident within his own experience; or perhaps this recent episode is only fiction coming true. Additional pathos is lent to Mr. Munroe's death by some stanzas written shortly before his death. Two verses serve to show the bitterness of the man's heart:

Daily men to heaven pray;
Silence is their sole reply.
Why the answer's long delay?
Proof put off until we die!

Generations fresh graves fill,
Night ends day forever more,
All the hopes men cherish still
Have been buried long before.

Bad Blood Between Them.

The ever slaving farmer's wife, her delicate sister in the city, suffer more than they care to tell. The dark rings around the eyes, dizziness, headache, palpitation or rheumatic twidges, betoken a run down system. The blood is poor, and is a bar to the enjoyment of life. Scott's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, strengthens and vitalizes the system, and speedily restores the bloom of health to the cheeks. It cures when all others fail.

"New Woman" will be a stronger woman than the old one. Certainly, fresh air and the right exercise will do much for her. Fresh air is a great restorative, exercise a great nerve tonic if a woman be in condition to take it. A healthy woman can avoid disease. She can avoid the seemingly almost inevitable "weakness" of her sex if she pursues the proper hygienic methods. The same methods will not cure her if she be already sick. Taken under medical direction, in connection with the right medicine, they will help effect a cure. No women who suffers at all from so-called "female weakness" should attempt athletics of any sort. She should first put herself into possession of strong and hearty health by taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. After she is thoroughly well, exercise and diversion will help to keep her well. The cure should come first. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is designed and recommended for only the one thing. It acts directly upon one set of organs. No matter what is the matter with them, it will cure it. It will not cure anything else. It is a wholesome tonic, an invigorating nervine, or nerve-food as well as a healing medicine, and thousands of perfectly well women have found that by taking it regularly during the period of pregnancy, the danger and pain of parturition were much lessened, and in many cases, almost entirely obviated.

In every American household, there should be a copy of Dr. Pierce's great work, "Common Sense Medical Adviser." One copy free to any address on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay for customs and mailing only. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

AFTER A MONOPOLY.

Suit Commenced at Topeka to Dissolve the Kansas City Live Stock Exchange.

Topeka, Kas., Jan. 1.—Suit was commenced in the United States Circuit Court here yesterday to dissolve the Kansas City Live Stock Exchange. The petition was prepared by United States Attorney W. C. Perry, and was signed by Attorney-General Harmon. The petition charges that the object of the organization is to control the charges for the handling, selling and buying of live stock at the Kansas City stock yards, and that its existence restrains trade, is against public policy, and is a violation of the federal anti-trust laws. The petition alleges that the Live Stock Exchange and the Stock Yards Company, working together and doing business in common, are operating a monopoly in that it is impossible for any other than a member of the exchange to do business in Kansas City markets, and are placing an obstruction and embargo on the marketing of all stock shipped from the Western States to the Kansas City market, which is not consigned to the Kansas City Stock Yards Company, or to the defendants or other members of the exchange, who alone are permitted by said Stock Yards Company to transact business at its yards. An order is asked for dissolving the Live Stock Exchange and enjoining against the enforcement of the rules of the exchange. The application for a temporary injunction in the suit will be heard before Judge Foster of the Federal Court on Jan. 14. This proceeding is the outgrowth of the fight between Groer, Mills & Company and the Kansas City Live Stock Exchange.

Two Years of Bladder Torment—Had Attacks of Inflammation—Cured by a Few Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Owen Sound, Dec. 28.—(Special)—The people of this town are talking again of another cure credited to Dodd's Kidney Pills. This is the case of Mr. W. Cruse, caretaker of the town buildings, who, when seen, had this to say of the matter:

"For over two years I have been an intense sufferer from kidney disease, with occasional acute attacks of inflammation of the bladder.

"Was under doctors' treatment and have been compelled to resort to instrumental relief many times.

"I have taken eighteen boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am satisfied with results, being perfectly relieved of all suffering."

Tom Flanagan Killed Three Persons in Three Seconds on Thursday Night in Georgia.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 1.—Tom Flanagan, a carpenter, killed three persons last night near Decatur in three seconds. Flanagan boarded with G. W. Allen and wife, who lived in DeKalb County, just beyond the city limits. The Allens were an old couple, both over 70 years of age. They kept a boarding house and had five boarders. At 7 o'clock last night the Allens and their boarders sat down to supper in their dining room. Flanagan was in an adjoining room. He had been drinking, but the family did not know that he was drunk. He was called to or three times and finally he appeared at the door leading from his room into the dining room and without a word, began firing a pistol at the people seated at the table. His first shot struck old Mrs. Allen and she fell over fatally wounded. The next shot hit the aged husband and he dropped to the floor. The boarders sprang from their seats to escape. Just as Miss Ruth Black rose a bullet struck her in the head and she fell dead. The others ran out followed by the remaining bullets in Flanagan's pistol. The old man and his wife died on the floor in a few minutes. The boarders called for help and a posse soon rushed into the house and took Flanagan a prisoner, without resistance on his part. He was too drunk to realize what he had done. When asked why he had committed the crime he said he did not know anything about it. He seemed to be crazy drunk. The marshal of Decatur brought Flanagan into the city to get him away from the scene, as there was talk of hanging him before morning.

THE DEFUNCT STEEL POOL.

A Plan Proposed to Resurrect the Dictator and Control Prices.

Pittsburg, Jan. —The special committee, appointed at the last meeting of the Bessemer Steel Association to figure out a plan by which the defunct pool may be again placed on its feet as the great dictator of prices in the iron and steel world, has completed its report, which will be presented at a meeting of members to be held Monday next. The plan is that the larger concerns shall buy up the allotment of the other and smaller mills, and pay the owners to practically retire from the billet-making business with the exception of pocketing the dividends that they will receive from the concerns that will then make the billets for the whole country. In this respect the billet pool will emulate the methods of the nail pool, but with more hopes of success. The consummation of the project means that the trade in billets and finished products would be confined to the larger producers, or a concentration of production placed in the hands of a few large firms, who will then control production, set the price and share the profits with the idle mill owners.

WHOSE ARE THE LOCKETS?

James Porter Charged With Stealing Them —No Owners Have Yet Been Found.

Windsor, Jan. 1.—James Porter, who claims to be a resident of Detroit, was in the Police Court yesterday, charged with the theft of several gold lockets. One was from Bradley Bros. in this city. He has pawned two others, one in Windsor and the other in London, but no owners have yet been found for them. The lockets are gold and set with diamonds, each being valued at about $40. Porter pleaded guilty and was remanded until Jan. 5, when he will receive sentence. In the meantime his record will be looked into by the police. It is known that he stole a sum of money from a nurse in a Chatham hospital, after she had nursed him through an illness.

ZEHRUNG KILLED HIMSELF.

A Popular Business Man of Lincoln, Neb., Got Tired of Life.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 1.—Ex-State Senator Henry C. Zehrung, at the head of the Standard Glass and Paint Company, one of the most prominent as well as most popular business men in Lincoln, committed suicide by hanging yesterday. He was 54 years old, high in the ranks of Masonry, and was reputed to be wealthy. Originally a Republican, he deserted that party at the last election and was one of the strong supporters of Bryan, of whom he was a near neighbor. On the subject of free silver he was almost a fanatic, and among his intimates it is known he brooded much over its defeat and that of his candidate for the Presidency.

Cattle Men in Consternation.

Perry, Okla., Jan. 1.—The report from Washington that Secretary Francis will soon declare the Wichita, Kiowa and Comanche Indian lands open for settlement has caused consternation among the cattlemen, and they will try to prevent early action. In the meantime, many companies are being formed to secure the best lands.

The kidneys are talking trouble.
Here is some Norwood talk:

Mr. George Taylor, well known in Norwood, has this to say about Doan's Kidney Pills:—

"For a great many years I have been a sufferer from kidney disease. Terrible pain in my side and back made my life a burden. The urine was a dark wine colour, and I was greatly troubled with frequent urination. My sleep was destroyed because of this annoying trouble.

"I have taken scores of medicines, but could get no relief, and thought that I would never be cured. Happily I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, and got a box at J. C. Moffett's drug store, and have continued their use for one month.

"I am thankful to say as a result that they have fixed me up. I feel like another person. I do not now have to get up at night, and in fact am entirely cured.

"I think they are the grandest medicine ever placed before the public, and I heartily recommend them to all sufferers from kidney disorder of any kind."

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Send 5c. silver to cover postage and address, Mr. Geo. G. Strong, North Rockwood, Mich.

BUILT UP THE SYSTEM IN A WONDERFUL MANNER.

James A. Bell, of Beaverton, Ont., brother of the Rev. John Wesley Bell, B.D., prostrated by nervous headaches A victim of the trouble for several years.

South American Nervine effected a complete cure.

In their own particular field few men are beter known than the Rev. John Wesley Bell, B.D., and his brother Mr. James A. Bell. The former will be recognized by his thousands of friends all over the country as the popular and able missionary superintendent of the Royal Templars of Temperance. Among the 20,000 members of this order in Ontario his counsel is sought on all sorts of occasions. On the public platform he is one of the strong men of the day, battling against the evils of intemperance. Equally well known is Mr. Bell in other provinces of the Dominion, having been for years a member of the Manitoba Methodist Conference and part of this time was stationed in Winnipeg. His brother, Mr. James A. Bell, is a highly respected resident of Beaverton, where his influence, though perhaps more circumscribed than that of his eminent brother, is none the less effective and productive of good. Of recent years, however, the working ability of Mr. James A. Bell has been sadly marred by severe attacks of nervous headache, accompanied by indigestion. Who can do fit work when this trouble takes hold of them and especially when it becomes chronic, as was, seemingly, the case with Mr. Bell? The trouble reached such intensity that last June he was completely prostrated. In this condition a friend recommended South American Nervine. Ready to try anything and everything, though he thought he had covered the list of proprietary medicines, he secured a bottle of this great discovery. A second bottle of the medicine was taken and the work was done. Employing his own language: "Two bottles of South American Nervine immediately relieved my headaches and have built up my system in a wonderful manner." Let us not deprecate the good our clergymen and social reformers are doing in the world, but how ill-fitted they would be for their work were it not the relief that South American Nervine brings to them when physical ills overtake them, and when the system, as a result of hard, earnest and continuous work, breaks down. Nervine treats the system as the wise reformer treats the evils he is battling against. It strikes at the root of the trouble. All disease comes from disorganization of the nerve centers. This is a scientific fact. Nervine at once works on these nerve centers; gives to them health and vigor; and then there courses through the system strong, healthy, life-maintaining blood, and nerveous troubles of every variety are things of the past.

Complete Recovery by the Use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. HINSON, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS ALWAYS CURE

AFTER TEN YEARS SUFFERING

Two Box Cure

MILVERTON, 25TH JULY, 1895.

Gentlemen,—For the last ten years I had been troubled with kidney disease, being so bad at intervals that I could not lie in bed at night nor stoop to the ground.

I had tried all the remedies I could find without effect, but heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured a box.

I am most happy to say it for my own sake as well as for others that I am perfectly cured after using four boxes.

A WOMAN BEAUTIFUL.

SHE SUBMITS TO SCOURGING TO ATTAIN THIS DESIRED RESULT.

The Tools With Which It Is Done and the Modus Operandi—The Effects in Detail in a Progressive Sort of Way—What is Accomplished.

They literally beat women in some of the continental cities now—beat them with rattans. And the women submit to it voluntarily. It's the new muscle-beating fad—a fad by which women who are passee, who have become physically played out by late nights and bad food and fast living generally may be rejuvenated, rehabilitated, with color in their pale cheeks and elasticity in their step.

SCOURGING A WOMAN WITH RATTANS

It has just reached this country and the strictly up-to-date society woman is taking her daily muscle beating religiously.

In muscle beating a woman has to go through about the same treatment as criminals of old did in the days when the knout was used.

The patient is undressed and laid face downward on a couch. Then the beating begins. An attendant is armed with an implement consisting of a rubber ball attached to a flexible rattan or whalebone handle, which bends with the force of the blow, and has the elasticity of a coach whip.

With this instrument of torture the beater first brings down the rubber ball on the thick and fleshy muscles of the back. These being the most important muscles treated by the new process, the whipping goes on with enthusiasm until the beater is tired and the beaten ready to offer a bribe for a cessation of treatment.

Leaving for awhile the shoulder muscles, the beater then attacks the lower anatomy of the patient, taking the muscles around the waist and beating a tattoo from side to side, until the red blood is forced to the surface and sent surging through the veins.

Then the hips come in for punishment. The tune of the rubber balls is played with renewed force, for here the blows can be administered as heavily as is compatible with the feelings of the patient, without any fear of the punishment being dangerous. Having hammered the patient's hip muscles into a state of abject submission the attendant then travels along to the thighs and calves, administering such a flagellation with the two light weapons as only confirmed faddists would be willing to submit to.

By this time the muscles of the back have recovered their wonted composure. Having beaten the jaded muscles of the back into life and vigor again, the woman under treatment is then placed on her back, and the muscles of the chest and stomach come in for a rain of blows from the merciless rubber balls.

When the beating is done by an accomplished hand it produces the most beneficial and pleasant results. Ordinary massage treatment is not in it with the drumstick method of muscle beating. There is as much difference between the benefits produced as between those that follow genuine gymnastic exercise and ordinary hand massage.

The impurities that have clogged the system and rendered the patient languid and half-lifeless are beaten into action and forced along to where they can be thrown off. The flabby and almost helpless muscles respond to the energetic hammering of the rubber balls and become hard and useful once more. The blood, the great nourishing factor in the human system, is beaten into activity where it has been sluggish, and the whole system is revived.

BEATING THE BACK.

Sufferers from feeble muscular power who have tried the new muscle beating fad are unanimous in declaring it to be superior to the old massage treatment in every way, and it is probable that the system of hand massage will soon give place to the flagellating idea.

The implements used are not all made alike. Some have two and three balls attached to the flexible rod, and these balls may be of any size that the patient prefers.

Another flagellating implement consists of a number of hollow rubber tubes attached to a handle, making an implement like a whitewash brush. The treatment with this implement is much severer than with the drumstick muscle beater, as the action is more like a cat-o'-nine-tails thrashing than a gentle hammering.

AN AUTUMN SONG

The leaf's cavorting o'er the lots,
The goat is on the jig;
The crisp zephyr sets the spots
A changing on the pig,
The price of overcoats is up,
The price of ice is down,
And gilt-edge rapture fills my cup—
She's coming back to town.

The salaries are waxing red,
As ever they can wax,
And to the last rose in the bed
I sigh, "Vobiscum pax!"
Like yonder bat I'd swirl and swerve
Around the statue brown,
Upon the hyperbolic curve—
She's coming back to town.

The woodcock's scooting through the wood,
Untoasted on the fly,
And yonder gem of gobblerhood,
Suggests Olympus high,
And while the moments swiftly wing,
I wear the airy crown,
On which the patent's owned by Spring—
She's coming back to town.

If I am standing on my head,
Or feet I do not know;
My thoughts are poems rosy red,
That like new cider flow,
There's music in the atmosphere
That turns me upside down,
And not a discord can I hear—
She's coming back to town.

MUCH TOO UNANIMOUS.

The Girl's Best Fellows Worried the Old Man.

When the rich but crotchety old man, Humpley, assembled his five daughters in a room the other day, he didn't do a thing but pound the table, swing his arms frantically and roar out this kind of a campaign speech:

"You're about as sleepy and frowsy an aggregation as ever threw domestic regularity off the trolley by coming down late to breakfast. Just take a look at each other and keep right on giggling. You would disappoint my judgment if you didn't giggle.

"I'm here to call a halt! Understand? I'm not running a matrimonial bureau. This is no summer resort. I'm not going to enlarge this house, cut it up into smaller rooms or build a new one. You've got to size up to that, ladies. I'm going to keep right on living here and have some of the comforts of home.

"When I tiptoed in last night there was one girl and some dude on the first stair landing. I dodged into the parlor and there were two more trying to look as though they had met to discuss theosophy. In the sitting room Mame let out a screech and some peaked-shouldered fellow fell over the piano stool trying to sit down. Out in the kitchen I found the cook and a policeman. The coachman was swinging the second girl in the hammock in the back yard, and as I came back looking for a place to sit down and smoke there was a brace of noodles in the sitting-room.

"I scurried to the library, where I felt sure of haven, and there were two couples huddled up in opposite corners. I went to bed hungry, disgusted and without a smoke. I came within an ace of cutting loose and having the house cleared.

"You can't come any King Lear business on me. Understand? I'm going to have reform or there'll be a rough-and-tumble trouble 'round here. Have some system. Arrange a schedule. Leave one or two rooms available for the rest of the family. Have your beaux come in relays instead of being so infernally unanimous. Understand?"—New York World.

The camel is a beast of great strength and endurance. Nothing hurts it until the proverbial "last straw" is added to its burden. The human digestive system is very much like a camel. It is really astonishing how much abuse it will stand. Sometimes, however, something worse than usual will be eaten, and will go through the stomach into the bowels, and then it will stick—that's constipation. Nine-tenths of all human sickness is due to constipation. Some of the simplest symptoms are coated tongue, foul breath, dizziness, heartburn, flatulence, sallowness, distress after eating, headaches and lassitude. A little thing will cause constipation, and a little thing will relieve it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a certain cure for constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules, mild and natural in their action. There is nothing injurious about them. Sold by druggists.

Six Negroes in Danger.

Milan, Tenn., Jan. 1.—Six negroes are under arrest for the murder of Capt. H. P. Miller, proprietor of the Southern Pacific Hotel, whose body was found yesterday in an unused bar room with his head beaten to a pulp. The negroes are heavily guarded, but as soon as any sort of proof is obtained the entire six will probably be lynched and burned, as 2000 people are at fever heat over the affair. Capt. Miller was beaten over the head with brass knuckles and the cash drawer robbed of its contents.

Killed by Coal Gas.

Youngstown, O., Jan. 1.—Early this morning boarders at the home of James Bets, near the Struther Furnace, on returning home from a party, found Bets, his wife and 2-year-old child dead and four boarders unconscious. The latter were carried out into the air and revived. Escaping coal gas was the cause of the asphyxiation.

The Indefatigable Arrives.

Halifax, Dec. 30.—The British warship Indefatigable is reported having arrived at Bermuda yesterday from England. She came to the British North-American station to relieve the man-of-war Mohawk, which returns home.

Mrs. S. says: "I had been suffering from Rheumatic Pains for months. Miller's Compound Iron Pills cured me." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

No. LXXXIV.

The Two Rabbis.

The Rabbi Nathan, two score year and ten,
Walked blameless through the evil world and then,
Just as the almond blossomed in his hair,
Met a temptation all too strong to bear,
And miserably sinned. So, adding not
Falsehood to guilt, he left his seat and taught
No more among the elders, but went out
From the great congregation girt about
With sackcloth, and with ashes on his head,
Making his gray locks grayer. Long he prayed,
Smiting his breast; then as the book he laid
Open before him for the Bath-Col's choice,
Paused to hear that daughter of a voice,
Behold the royal preacher's words: "A friend
Loveth at all times, yea unto the end;
And for the evil day thy brother lives."
Marvelling, he said: "It is the Lord who gives Counsel in need. At Echatana dwells
Rabbi Ben Isaac, who all men excels
In righteousness and wisdom, as the trees
Of Lebanon the small weeds that the bees
Bow with their weight. I will arise, and lay
My sins before him."

And he went his way
Barefooted, fasting long, with many prayers;
But even as one who, followed unawares,
Suddenly in the darkness feels a hand
Thrill with its touch his own, and his cheek fanned
By odors subtly sweet, and whispers near
Of words he loathes, yet cannot choose but hear,
So, while the Rabbi journeyed, chanting low
The wail of David's penitential woe,
Before him still the old temptation came,
And mocked him with the motion and the shame
Of such desire that shuddering, he abhorred
Himself, and crying mightily unto the Lord
To free his soul and cast the demon out,
Smote with his staff the blankness round about.
At length, in the low light of a spent day,
The towers of Echatana far away
Rose on the desert's rim; and Nathan faint
And footsore, paused where for some dead saint
The faith of Islam reared a domed tomb,
Saw some one kneeling in the shadow, whom
He greeted kindly: "May the Holy One Answer thy prayers, O stranger!" Whereupon
The shape stood up with a loud cry, and then,
Clasped in each other's arms, the two gray men
Wept, praising Him whose gracious providence
Made their paths one. But straightway, as the sense
Of his transgression smote him, Nathan bore
Himself away: "O friend beloved, no more
Worthy am I to touch thee, for I came,
Foul from my sins to tell thee all my shame.
Happily thy prayers since naught availeth mine
May purge my soul, and make it white like thine.
Pity me O Ben Isaac, I have sinned!"
Awestruck, Ben Isaac stood. The desert wind
Blew his long mantle backward, laying bare
The mournful secret of his shirt of hair.
"I, too, O friend, if not in act," he said,
"In thought have verily sinned. Hast thou not read,
'Better the eye should see than that desire
Should wander?' Burning with a hidden fire
That tears and fires quench not, I come to thee
For pity and for help as thou to me.
Pray for me, O my friend!" but Nathan cried,
"Pray thou for me, Ben Isaac!"

Side by side
In the low sunshine by the turban-stone
They knelt; each made his brother's woe his own,
Forgetting in the agony and stress
Of pitying love, his claim of selfishness;
Peace for his friend besought, his own became;
His prayers were answered in another's name;
And when at last they rose up to embrace,
Each saw God's pardon in his brother's face!
Long after, when his headstone gathered moss,
Traced on the tayum-maye of Onkelos
In Rabbi Nathan's hand these words were read:
"Hope not the cure of sin till self is dead;
Forget it in love's service and the debt
Thou canst not pay the angels shall forget;
Heaven's gate is shut to him that comes alone;
Save thou a soul, and it shall save thy own!"

FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD.

Mrs. Liscumbe Makes a Statement for the Benefit of Others.

Mrs. Liscumbe is well known in Havelock and this is how she spoke to our representative:—

"I have been troubled for some time with severe pains in the side and back. I took many medicines of various kinds, but got no relief.

"The box of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at W. H. Jeff & Co's. drugstore gave me wonderful relief from the start. The improvement in my general health is not the least of the benefits which I have derived from the use of this remarkable kidney remeny.

"I can recommend them very highly to anyone troubled with any form of kidney disease."

FIVE KILLED TWENTY INJURED.

A Town in Louisiana Almost Blown Off the Face of the Earth by a Cyclone on Saturday.

Shreveport, La., Jan. 3.—A cyclone from the southwest struck and almost literally demolished the town of Mooringport, just north of this city, at 3.45 p.m. yesterday. Over twenty dwellings were blown down and only seven buildings are left intact. Four persons were killed and 20 injured.

The dead are: Willie Goodman, Maud Goodman, Hill Goodman, infant daughter of Mr. Jesse Goodman.

Wounded: Mrs. Jesse Goodman, Alice Goodman, Para Lee Goodman, wife and two daughters of Jesse Goodman; his nephew, Clyde Goodman; Mrs. Effie Morgan and infant baby injured; Mrs. Head, mother of Mrs. Morgan, 68 years old.

All the children killed were Mrs. Head's grandchildren; Mrs. Milan and two children slightly injured; Mrs. Aitkin, hurt in head; Thomas Elgin, arm broken; Thomas Elliott, injured in head; Dr. J. B. Harris, head cut and left side injured; Tom Yeat, head cut; Mrs. Tom Yeat, internally injured; Miss Yeat, aged 14, and Alvin Yeat, 7 years of age, slightly injured; Mrs. Davis, slightly injured; Jordan Robinson, colored, arm badly fractured.

The following houses were destroyed: W. B. Broom's grocery and cotton-seed houses; Main store and residence safe; Fain's saloon; Fuller's residence; Christian's store, warehouse, residence and tenant house; Morgan residence; Milan residence; Frank Ivy's residence; Goodman's residence; F. A. Yeat's residence; Methodist parsonage; C. I. Groom's residence, stable and smokehouse. The only houses left uninjured are: Mrs. C. S. Crom's residence, J. S. Noel's store and residence, Methodist church, Mrs. Caldwell's residence, W. H. Groom's Main-street residence and the depot.

Physicians and a relief corps left here at 6.30 o'clock on a special train, and everything is being done to relieve the wounded. It has been decided to take the wounded to the hospital at daylight in the morning.

ANOTHER SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

To keep up the interest in our new system of doing business. Every person purchasing goods from us will receive a ticket issued from the NATIONAL CASH REGISTER and to every one that receives the 100th purchase ticket issued, we will give one of our Fine Fur Felt, $2.50, Stiff or Soft Hats, or anything else they may wish of the same value. No matter if the purchase be only 10c. or $10.00 every 100th purchaser gets a present of $2.50 worth of goods.

Special Prices on all Fur Goods

After the Holidays will now be in order. Our large stock of Coats, Jackets, Collarettes, Capes, Caps, Gauntlets, Muffs and Ruffs must be sold during January, and in order to push these goods out we will reduce prices to as low a figure as is compatible with doing business at all. The prices ruling will be found very low considering the excellence of the stock offered, we therefore ask of all old customers and all intending purchasers a continuance of their patronage throughout the coming year. We wish all a very Happy and Prosperous New Year

WHAT A

JANUARY OFFERING

...IN...

DRESS GOODS

MEANS.

It means that all those pretty fabrics which you and others have admired are price clipped to nearly one half and less to take them away. Every yard was bought for regular trade and there are no flimsy, flashy fabrics at any price.

Come and get samples. Consult our Dress-Making Department. It's a chance for the cheapest, stylish Gown you ever had.

The Last Call on Cloaks.

This time the prices on all remaining Winter Garments will be cut so deep that there will be no chance for further reductions.

If the signs read aright the great majority of our present holdings in Mantle Coats and Capes will leave the store next week, for values like those quoted here never fail to bring the customers.

Quality !!!

If every one were to judge of what is good and what is not good in merchandise, a great many dry goods stores would be out of business. Don't always trust the price, it is very often misleading.

If you are a judge of merchandise, look at the goods first then the price. We are willing that you should try us in that way.

Commence the New Year by being a little more particular about your Clothes.

Some Men

Buy Clothes like they take an emetic—shut their eyes and down it goes. Then they expect everything to turn out all right. Anything seems good enough for them, at long as it looks well—until some day the colour begins to fade, the buttons begin to drop off, seams begin to rip, linings give out—then they know the difference.

WISER MEN

Investigate before they buy, and come here to be measured. The result is they are always well dressed, because their clothes are built on honour, made of trustworthy fabrics, and finished by tailors who have their reputation at stake.

THE ANNUAL FIGHT.

Decisions of the People All Over the Country.

AND THERE ARE SOME SURPRISES

Fleming Carried Toronto by a Large Majority, But Tuckett, to the Astonishment of His Friends, Was Badly Beaten in Hamilton—Results in Leading Places.

Toronto, Jan. 5.—A heavy vote was cast in the municipal contest yesterday. Mr. R. J. Fleming defeated Mr. George McMurrich for the Mayoralty by 1604 of a majority. There was a good deal of interest taken in the battle and thousands of men stood for hours around the newspaper offices until a late hour, when the full result was known.

The polling for aldermen in the various wards resulted as follows:

First Ward—John Russell, Thomas Allen, John K. Leslie, James Frame.

Second Ward—John Hallam, F. S. Spence, Daniel Lamb, W. L. Beale.

Third Ward—A. F. Rutter, John Shaw, O. B. Sheppard, Bernard Saunders.

Fourth Ward—W. P. Hubbard, William Burns, James Crane, William Carlyle.

Fifth Ward—R. H. Graham, W. T. R. Preston, F. H. Woods, John Dunn.

Sixth Ward—James Gowanlock, James Scott, J. J. Graham, Dr. Adam Lynd.

Two money bylaws were submitted for the approval of the property owners, and were endorsed by large majorities. The electors were also asked to express their opinion as to the advisability of holding the municipal elections on New Year's Day. By a majority of 10,000 the people declared themselves in favor of the change, and there is little doubt the Legislature will make the necessary amendment to the Municipal Act to allow the City of Toronto to vote on the holiday. The result of the vote upon these questions was as follows:

HAMILTON.

Hamilton, Jan. 4.—(Special.)—The story of to-day's election is a short one. It resulted in the defeat of Mayor Tuckett by ex-Ald. E. A. Colquhoun by 808 votes in a total vote of about 6500, something less than 2200 of the average polled during the past three years.

The day opened up wet and nasty, a fact which accounted in a measure for the smallness of the vote, but not altogether. Mr. Tuckett, probably feeling secure in his position, made little or no effort to organize his forces, with the result that many hundreds of his friends and likely supporters remained away from the polls. The election of Mr. Colquhoun is not a surprise. In most quarters it has been generally claimed during the past few days and the people had come to look upon it as a foregone conclusion. Old-time politicians incline to the belief that Mr. Tuckett's failure to open his barrel is responsible for his failure to secure a second term. They argue that a political barrel once opened should be kept open, and, judging by the quality of the men who withheld their votes until the eleventh hour, it would appear that this theory is not so bad.

Mr. Colquhoun and his friends are holding the customary jubilee tonight. The streets are jammed with a noisy, apparently happy, crowd and pandemonium reigns supreme. The greatest clatter, however, is contributed by the small boys with the overgrown horn. The saloons are all complying with the law of the land, and in the absence of the seductive beverage, nothing has occurred to mar the customary good-nature of an election celebration.

In the aldermanic contests Ald. Reid of the First Ward alone falls of those who offered themselves for re-election.

First Ward—Clappison 444, McDonald 486, McKay 153, Reid 379, Watkins 438.

Sixth Ward—Hill 844, Miller 758, McAndrew 600, Phillips 591, Malone 246.

Seventh Ward—Baugh 754, Dixon 838, Fearnside 561, Ross 603, Waters 371.

KINGSTON.

Kingston.—Mayor—J. S. Skinner, by 234 majority. Aldermen: Sydenham Ward—G. H. Allen, James Stewart, James Minnes. Ontario Ward—R H Toye, J B Walkem, Robert Kent, St. Lawrence Ward—Charles Livingston, John McKelvey, Thomas H Johns. Cataraqui Ward—Dr J H Bell, W Robinson, Dr E Ryan. School trustees: Ontario Ward—Dr A F Knight. Frontenac Ward—Thomas Lamont. Rideau Ward—J G Elliott. Victoria Ward—Henry Newman.

Kingston, Jan. 4.—The bylaw granting $17,000 for the purchase of the property of the Midland Fair Association was carried by a large majority.

LONDON.

London.—Mayor—John W Little, 2526 majority. Aldermen: Ward 1—Joseph Johnston, F C Rumball and Charles Taylor. Ward 2—H M Douglas, George Olmstead and S O'Meara. Ward 3—R A Carruthers, S Steveley and W H Winnett. Ward 4—Neil Cooper, E N Hunt and John Turner. Ward 5—R W Bennett, H Dromley, John Nuttalns (all re-elected). Hon. G. A. Kirkpatrick in a London Hospital.

TO BEAR A SURGICAL OPERATION

Sir Edward Clarke Thinks Ireland Has Been Over-Taxed, or at All Events, He Upholds the Report Presented by the Royal Commission—Other Cable News.

London, Jan. 4.—Sir Edward Clarke, M. P., formerly Solicitor-General, today delivered a speech at Plymouth, which place he represents in the House of Commons. In the course of his address he took occasion to refer to the claim of the Irish that they are overtaxed to the amount of about two million pounds yearly, and to their demand that taxation be reduced and restitution made of the excess of taxes collected during the past 40 years or so. After referring to the commission on the financial relations between Great Britain and Ireland, which recently submitted a report favoring the Irish contention, Sir Edward said he could not hesitate to accept the decisions on matters of fact on such a strong commission.

This declaration is noteworthy as being the first from an English Tory in support of the report of the commission. As a body the English Tories are bitterly opposed to the acceptance of the report as final, and during the coming session of Parliament will seek to obtain the appointment of another commission to reinvestigate the question.

HON. G. A KIRKPATRICK

In a London Hospital Awaiting a Surgical Operation

London, Jan. 4.—A representative of the United Associated Presses in London visited the private hospital in which Mr. George A. Kirkpatrick, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, is being treated, and was admitted to the presence of the patient. Lieutenant-Governor Kirkpatrick was found sitting in a comfortable drawing room in the hospital, and appeared to be in a cheerful mood. He is suffering from an internal complaint, and his visit to England was made for the purpose of consulting experts in regard to his disease.

The operation, which, it has been decided, would be necessary to effect a complete cure, will probably be performed on Jan. 11, by which time it is expected Mrs. Kirkpatrick will have arrived. Mr. Kirkpatrick is attended by Sir Charles Tupper, late Canadian High Commissioner in London, in the dual capacity of physician and friend, and also by Mr. Harrington Howard, and others. The operation to be performed will necessitate a complete rest for Mr. Kirkpatrick for some months, but the Lieutenant-Governor is confident of its success, and of his ultimate return to his home perfectly cured of his troubles.

GENERAL CABLE NEWS.

The Trial of Lady Scott and Others for Libel of Earl Russell Resumed.

London, Jan. 4.—The trial of Lady Selina Scott, John Cockerton and William Aylott, upon charges of criminally libelling Earl Russell, Lady Scott's son-in-law, which has been under adjournment for several weeks in consequence of the illness and subsequent death of Frederick Kast, one of the original defendants, and the illness of Lady Scott herself, was resumed in the Central Criminal Court, Old Bailey, this morning.

Dr. Scott, the chief physician of Holloway Jail, in which institution Kast died from pneumonia on Dec. 11, was called to the witness stand and testified that Sir John Bridge, the Chief Magistrate of the Bow-street Police Court, had visited the hospital of the prison for the purpose of examining Kast, but had refrained from so doing upon learning that, in the opinion of the witness, Kast was not in a condition to undergo an examination.

Several witnesses were called who were on board Lord Russell's yacht when the improper acts alleged to have been committed by His Lordship were said to have occurred. All of these witnesses testified that they saw none of the improprieties which the defendants have declared took place. Some of the witnesses spoke of money having been offered them through the defendant, Cockerton, in consideration of their giving testimony against Earl Russell. Upon cross-examination these witnesses admitted that Cockerton did not directly offer them money, but suggested such an offer by intimating that there was plenty of money on his side of the case.

The Czar Warns the Sultan

London, Jan. 4.—The Daily Telegraph publishes a despatch from Constantinople, saying that the Czar has sent a message to the Sultan recommending him to most seriously consider the remonstrances and advice of the great powers regarding the reforms necessary for the empire, and adding that if he does not do so he will expose himself to the gravest consequences, even foreign intervention. The Czar further says that the Sultan's acceptance of this advice is an indispensable condition to the integrity of his empire and the maintenance of peace.

Routed the Angonis.

London, Jan. 4.—Advices received here from Blantyre, the mission town of British South Africa, announce that the British force sent last month against the Angoni Zulus under Chief Chikusi, who had invaded Southwest Nyassaland and burned a British mission station besides massacring the inhabitants of a number of villages, has routed the Agonis with heavy loss after some sharp fighting. Chief Chikusi was captured and hanged. Five men of the British force were wounded.

Height at Which Meteors Burn.

It is supposed that meteors begin to burn when they are within about 125 miles of the earth, and that combustion is completed and they disappear at from 25 to 50 miles above the earth. When we see a falling star, therefore, we may consider that we have watched it through a flight of about 100 miles before it finally burns out and disappears from view.

A Sore

two inches across formed and in walking to favor it I sprained my ankle. The sore became worse; I could not put my boot on and I thought I should have to give up at every step. I could not get any relief and had to stop work. I read of a cure of a similar case by Hood's Sarsaparilla and concluded to try it. Before I had taken all of two bottles the sore had healed and the swelling had gone down. My

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Evening Telegram, Toronto, says: "Parts of Wirfrid Laurier's speech at Montreal for strength and nobility of thought and beauty and dignity of language excel the powers of any other orator on the American continent, and equal the best efforts of any living speaker of the Anglo Saxon tongue." And Mr. Laurier is as wise in council and energetic in action as he is eloquent in speech.

THE Montreal Witness has the following to say of Most Rev. Edouard Charles Fabre, Metropolitan of Montreal, Arch bishop of that province: The venerable prelate whose remains are now exposed in St. James Cathedral will be ever remembered by those who had the fortune to know him as a genial personality of strict personal character, yet of kindly disposition, who was never willingly and of his own choice intolerant. He was, we believe, always a total abstainer, and did much to encourage efforts to secure the bettering of our license laws, failing in frankly with suggestions coming from those with whom he was thought to differ and cordially co-operating in the common cause.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

Mr. A. A. Ayer Thinks the Farmers Should be Bonused.

(Montreal Star's Report.)

Mr. A. Ayer, the well known butter and cheese merchant, was next introduced to the commissioners, and stated that he represented an industry through which the farmer got a great part of what he earned. He was interested in knowing how the farmer could get most out of his business. He had been brought up on a farm which he still worked, and he, therefore, had had some practical experience. He understood that one of the reasons for there being a duty on corn, was that there were only one or two counties in Ontario where corn was produced. He thought that there must be some mistake about this. There must be some other reason for the duty. He had never heard of the farmers in these counties selling a great quantity of corn. The Commissioners were no doubt aware that we export $14,000,000 worth of cheese annually, At the present rate we export $2,000,000 worth of butter. We consume five times as much as we export. The selling of these two products becomes a very important matter to the farmer. Cows were now milked far longer than they used to be; in the words of a Dairy Commissioner: "The cow now knows her business." There is nothing so good for cows as corn or oatmeal. It is used very much in the Eastern townships, and large quantities of American corn are brought in.

EVERY CENT OF DUTY

which put on it is so much taken out of the farmer's pocket. He had not gone into the subject deeply enough to have any figures upon it. It would be better to bonus the farmers instead of having them suffer, because they cannot get their corn at lowest prices. Very few of the farmers could raise corn to advantage. They could bring in the American corn cheaper than they could raise it. One of the principal difficulties, in his opinion, which the farmer had to contend with to-day and which the farmer did not seem to realize, was that though he thinks that the price for his products is lower, which is the case the converse was also sometimes true. The farmer forgot that the price of labour was about the same as was paid nearly twenty years ago. The dairy industry is teaching the men who are farming two hundred acres that they should farm only a hundred. They must get out of their farms as much as they can. As for himself, he had always made something out of his farm. Corn comes in as an important factor in the farmers business. Years ago thirty cows would be kept on a two hundred acre farm. Now the same number were kept on one hundred acres. But in order to do this the farmer needed corn, and needs it cheap for he must have a cheap food for his cattle.

Bad Blood Between Them.

The ever slaving farmer's wife, her delicate sister in the city, suffer more than they care to tell. The dark rings around the eyes, dizziness, headache, palpitation or rheumatic twidges, betoken a run down system. The blood is poor, and is a bar to the enjoyment of life. Scott's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, strengthens and vitalizes the system, and speedily restores the bloom of health to the cheeks. It cures when all others fail.

BURNED 200 REBELS.

A Great Victory Gained by the Spanish Forces in the Philippines—1300 Killed.

Madrid, Jan. 4.—The Queen Regent and the Government have sent messages to Gen. Polavieja, Captain-General of the Philippine Islands, congratulating him upon his great victory over the insurgents on the heights of Caracon, Province of Bulacan. In the first engagement the loss of the rebels was 600 killed. The troops captured a large quantity of munitions of war and a factory in which the rebels had been making cartridges.

While the Spaniards were pursuing the fleeing rebels it was suspected that the latter would attempt to lead the troops into an ambuscade in the dense thickets through which the pursuit led. The troops were therefore ordered to set fire to the bushes in many places in order to drive out any rebels who might be lurking in them. The flames spread with great rapidity and it was soon learned that the suspicion of an ambuscade was well founded.

A large number of the insurgents were in hiding in the bushes, evidently waiting for the troops to pass, when they would have attacked them in the rear. Many of the rebels succeeded in making their escape for the time being, but 200 of them perished in the fire. In the meantime other Spanish columns had been hurriedly despatched to outflank the fleeing insurgents, and in this they were successful. The rebels were utterly routed, losing 500 killed. The total insurgent loss was 1300, 200 in excess of the number given in yesterday's despatches. These 200 were without doubt those who were burned to death. The Spanish loss was one officer and 26 privates killed. The victory, which, it is believed, will prove a crushing blow to the insurrection, is hailed everywhere with delight.

Gen. Polavieja has confirmed the sentence of death imposed by a court martial on 11 rebel chiefs, including three priests. They will be shot to-morrow at Manila.

A court martial sitting at Manila has commenced the trial of 18 alleged rebels. The evidence thus far adduced shows that the accused were in correspondence with patrons in Japan who were interested in fomenting and aiding the insurrection. The prosecutor ordered that sentence of death be passed on the whole 18 prisoners. The trial of 80 other men accused of complicity in the revolt is impending, and sentence of death will be asked in the case of each of them. The despatch from Manila states that a great sensation has been caused there by the revelations that have been made by conspirators now under arrest. One of the prisoners has stated that he knew that Japan intended to send a squadron of war ships to the Philippine Islands, and that she would recognize the belligerency of the rebels if all the provinces revolted. This confirms the belief that has been entertained ever since the outbreak of the insurrection, that Japan, which is very anxious to secure possession of the islands, is responsible for much, if not all, of the trouble.

CRUELTY IN CUBA.

Insurgents Sent in Squads to be Picked Off One at a Time by a Sharpshooter.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—A Kansas City special says Thomas Lovelace, second lieutenant of the Soledad, which was wrecked off Central America last October, is here. He said:

"I am convinced Maceo is not dead. He is recovering from wounds. The insurgents will take no aggressive action until his complete recovery.

"In three days at Havana I saw 68 insurgents executed on a sand bar near the ship. They stood the prisoners up in squads of eight or ten, and then one soldier was selected to pick them off one at a time, just as though he were shooting rats.

"The prisoners were in all sorts of attitudes while the shooting was going on. Some were kneeling in prayer, others were standing erect, but none of them showed any signs of fear. The prisoners ranged in age from boys who could not have been over eighteen to grey-headed men. None of the executions lasted long. I saw one squad of the men shot down in about fifteen minutes. At one time I saw three officers of the insurgents executed, and they were allowed a volley from ten soldiers."

He Found Terrible Distress.

New York, Jan. 4.—A special from Havana to The Herald contains an account of its correspondent's observations in the Pinar del Rio Province during his stay of a week at the front with Gen. Weyler. He says he found terrible distress everywhere among the pacificos, many of whom are starving. He declares they sleep in huts and on the ground, and the Spanish furnish their only food. At San Cristoba the misery is appalling. From talks with pacificos the correspondent says he learned that neither Cuban nor Spanish regular troops harm women or children, except through accident, when they get in line of fire.

Weyler Again in Havana.

New York, Jan. 4.—A special to The Journal from Havana says: "General Weyler is back from Pinar del Rio. He was received with a pompous demonstration and immediately drove to the palace. He refused to make any statement regarding the operations in Pinar del Rio, or to say why he has left the field, and whether or not he will return.

The column of Lieut. Aguilera engaged the rebel forces of Aranguen, Raoul, Arango and others, aggregating 2000 men, on the estate of Sacramento, near Gallega, fighting for five hours. The rebels are said to have left 38 on the field. The Government had fourteen privates wounded and lost many horses.

IT IS IN THE AIR.

Tweed People Talk About it.

It is in the air.
Can't stop it spreading.
Can't keep down a good thing.
People who don't know about it want to known.
People who do know, want to tell about it.
It is kidney education.
Tweed people are learning fast.
Here are some facts.

One of the best known residents of Tweed is Mr. W. H. Houston, who relates the following interesting facts: Mr. Houston says, "I have been very bad for several years with pains in my side and back.

"I had to urinate very frequently, in fact my rest was disturbed by frequent rising at night for that purpose. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, at Newton's drugstore, and have experienced great relief from the first.

"I am sure that I have been greatly benefited, and can recommend them highly to anyone troubled as I was."

THE HALF-RATE DOLLAR.

Sterling Value and Full Strength in Diamond Dyes.

Sixteen ounces of silver for the coining of $18.60 in silver dollars, can be bought to-day for 9.94!

Think well of the true value of the silver dollar if its coinage were made free and unlimited.

Just another important thought for the ladies. It takes from two to three packages of the common imitation dyes to do the work that one single package of the Diamond Dyes will do. If you wish to know why we will tell you. It is simply because the ingredients of the common dyes do not possess the strength, purity and penetrating powers of the Diamond Dyes.

Just think of having to spend thirty cents for adulterated dyes for your work, that can be done by the Diamond Dyes at a cost of ten cents. You will always be on the wrong side as long as you allow profit-loving merchants to supply you with their poor, weak dyes; it is certainly to their pecuniary benefit, but you are the loser in every way. The all-important question is, "Will you work with dyes of full strength, or will you blindly risk your goods with the kind that have only one-third the colouring power, and that cost as much as the "Diamond I"

Latest in Artificial Legs.

A European experimenter has produced an artificial leg. It as nearly resembles a human member as any that can be devised.

This artificial leg is a curious contrivance of hinges, screws and elastic bands. Extending downward from about what in the human leg is the ankle, to a point midway between the heel and the instep, are two steel rods, placed one in front of the other.

One rests on a sort of roller hinge, and allows the foot to give or bend with each step. The other serves the purpose of bringing the foot back into place after the step is taken. Any lateral movement of these rods is prevented by the sides of the slot through which they move. A screw and a nut at the top of the rod also prevent the rod from turning and thus giving trouble in walking. An artificial heel tendon is placed within the foot, behind the ankle point, and extends loosely through a hole in the leg, where it connects with a nut at about midway up the limb.

The Czar's Blue-Eyed Horses.

The Emperor of Russia has four separate "services" of horses and carriages—the gala set, and the French, English and Russian sets. Each set comprises at least fifty horses. The Russian set accompanies the Emperor wherever he goes, and at Gatchina it is used, together with the English set. The gala and French horses and carriages are housed at St. Petersburg, in the Winter Palace stables.

The Emperor's gala turnout consists of fifty Hanoverian horses. These horses are perfectly white, with blue eyes, and anything more magnificent in the way of trappings than their harness could hardly be conceived.

The state carriages are of the Louis XV. style and the one which carries the sovereign has a large circle of diamonds set inside among the cushions and on the roof. The imperial crown surmounts this state carriage, which is drawn by eight white horses, each led by a postillion dressed in white and gold.—Answers.

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Send 5c. silver to cover postage and address, Mr. Geo. G. Strong, North Rookwood, Mich.

FAVORED FREE PORK

What Lumbermen Said to the Tariff Commission.

THEY BUY UNITED STATES PORK

Because it is Heavier and Answers Their Purposes Better Than Canadian—If Not Free Pork Let Corn Come in Free for Fattening Purposes—Ottawa News.

Ottawa, Jan. 4.—(Special.)—The Tariff Committee of the Cabinet held a sitting here to-day. Little interest was taken in the proceedings, owing to the municipal elections. Sir Richard Cartwright and Mr. Paterson were not present. The commission was to have commenced business at 10 o'clock, but it was an hour later before any evidence was taken. In the meantime Hon. Mr. Fielding sat at the table awaiting the coming of his colleagues, the first of whom to arrive was the Minister of Marine and Fisheries. At 11 o'clock the Premier, who had been taking a morning walk in company with the Postmaster-General, put in an appearance, whereupon Mr. Fielding announced that hearings would begin.

As the banner industry of the Ottawa Valley, the lumber industry was given precedence. The first witness was the Hon. E. H. Bronson, who came he said, to express his individual opinions as a lumberman rather than the opinions of lumbermen generally. He added, by way of further introduction, that the trade, being mainly an export one, was only affected in individual instances by the tariff. He, however, desired to draw the attention of the commissioners to the matter of pork, which now pays a considerable duty. He would not ask the Government to make any change, though, as he was aware that the duty was imposed to stimulate the production of pork in Canada, and therefore he felt some diffidence about making suggestions upon that point. But if the Government saw its way to assist otherwise in the production of pork by the removal of the duty on corn it might, by thus giving cheaper feed, lower the prices. His only other recommendation would be the removal of duties as far as possible from the necessaries of life.

Mr. Davies enquired what proportion of home-made pork is used in the lumber camps as compared with the imported article.

Mr. Bronson: We use American pork almost exclusively, because we require in the lumber camps a heavier class of pork than is produced in Canada.

Mr. Davies: So that the duty does not increase the consumption of Canadian pork?

Mr. Bronson: Not in the lumber camps. The pork from the United States is heavier and firmer, and we find that it does not waste so much in the cooking.

Mr. Laurier: What is the reason?

Mr. Bronson: It is a firmer pork, owing to the way it is cured and raised, being fed on corn, so that the reduction of the duty on corn would lead to the production of a more suitable class of pork in this country.

Mr. Davies: Then, it is owing to its superior quality that you prefer the United States pork?

Mr. Bronson: I will not say that the Canadian pork is not as sweet and of as good quality, but, being younger, it is not the same in weight and firmness. Anything that would cheapen the cost of living to the laboring man would indirectly benefit the lumber trade, said Mr. Bronson. Then he continued on another topic:

"There is just one other point that I desire to refer to," he said. "A strong effort is being made in the United States to have the duty re-imposed on Canadian lumber. If successful we are aware it will result in strong pressure being brought to bear on the Government here to place an export duty on Canadian logs and pulpwood. I am not prepared to express an opinion on that point just now, because the action of the Government as well as the feeling of the trade would depend, no doubt, upon just what was done in the United States, and the spirit in which it was done. But I would just like to bespeak a hearing in connection with that question when a change does take place, that being the most important question the Government could touch in connection with the lumber industry."

Mr. J. R. Booth was next called upon. He did not propose to add much to Mr. Bronson's remarks in reference to the lumber trade. As a class the lumbermen, he said, have generally accepted what was imposed on them in the way of tariffs, and he had no serious complaint to make in regard to the lumber business. He thought, however, that some things in a general way might be changed. "My idea is," said Mr. Booth, "to foster in every way what is natural to this country and what is not natural to make as free as possible."

And Mr. Booth didn't think it natural to raise pork in this country to compete with that produced in the Western States, where they can raise corn for 15 or 16 cents a bushel. Therefore, he thought, it would be in the interest of a large class and perhaps the most useful, the working class, that the duty to Mr. Booth the question seemed to be: Should the laboring classes be heavily taxed for their meat to help the farmer? The duty on food products was something the farmer could not realize. Being able to raise cattle, sheep and hogs, he did not find the effect of the duty, but the workingman of the towns and cities had to suffer. He did not know, either, that Canadian pork had been any more plentiful since the imposition of the duty. The lumbermen generally buy in two or three carload lots at a time and they found it impossible to get Canadian pork in such large quantities. Besides, it was said Canadian pork did not keep as well in the shanties. As they had never tried Canadian pork in his own lumber camps, he did not know how it was, as to cooking, but the general opinion was that American pork as preferable, as being more economical.

Mr. Davies remarked that he had been told that, notwithstanding the Canadian duty, the price paid for hogs in this country is regulated by the price in Chicago.

Mr. Booth replied that he did not know personally, but from watching the markets he was inclined to think that was so. He noticed that when pork was selling here at 4c and 4 1-2c the price in Chicago was 3c, being about the difference of the duty.

Mr. Davies: You think that it pays thefarmer to raise pork at that price?

Mr. Booth: I have been experimenting in that line at my farm near the city. I raised there about 150 hogs hogs and have satisfied myself that there is no money in raising hogs at the prices mentioned. I did this just to find out how it paid. We kept close count, and I have come to the conclusion that it does not pay. I do not think it is possible in this country to raise pork on a large scale to compete with the United States. I think therefore, that pork ought to be made as free as possible.

The next witness introduced was Mr. R. Reford of Montreal, who desired, he said, to give the commission the benefit of his views as to what the duty should be on certain lines of Canadian products if the United States re-imposed the duty on Canadian lumber. He was aware that the feeling had been expressed that even in such case it would be unwise for the Canadian Government to re-impose the duty on sawlogs. For himself, he did not think that Canadian lumber could be marketed on the other side of the line if the American duty were re-imposed. This was especially true of spruce from the Province of Quebec.

Mr. Davies: Are you seeking their market, or are they seeking your lumber?

Mr. Reford: Both; but with the duty we cannot send it there.

The re-imposition of the duty on sawlogs would be a benefit to Canada, he considered. Our forests are being denuded without profit to this country. "I am told," he said, "that pine lumber has been sold here in Ottawa for $4 per thousand; it was never made for that money." He thought that the timber was better growing in the forests than being thus sacrificed.

Mr. Laurier: Are our lumbermen making a slaughter market of the United States?

Mr. Reford: Well, yes. They produce incidentally a certain quality of lumber that is not saleable in England or in the South American markets. It must be sold and, therefore, it is sold to the United States at a sacrifice.

Mr. Reford believed the movement in the States for the re-imposition of the duty on Canadian lumber would be successful.

At this Mr. Fielding remarked that it would be better to act on the assumption that our American friends are not going to legislate against our interests.

Mr. Reford then tackled the pork question. He thought the duty had done good to the Canadian farmer. For the last year or so his firm supplied their lumber camp with Canadian pork, and the men liked it well. The pork industry is an important one, he said. This he knew, being also a farmer, and he found the fattening of pigs one of the most profitable industries in Canada.

Mr. Reford's suggestions were re-retention of the duty on pork, imposition of an export duty on sawlogs and pulp wood, and enforcement of a limit of size of trees to be cut for sawlogs.

Mr. B. T. A. Bell appeared as the representative of the Ontario Mining Association, of which he is secretary. He wanted a change in the interpretation of the law in regard to the admission of mining machinery. Mr. Bell went fully into the subject, claiming that while the tariff admitted free mining machinery of a class and kind not manufactured in Canada, the latter qualification was so interpreted as to prevent the importation of some of the most essential mining equipment. Mr. Bell said the interest he represented would shortly appear before the Government and ask that all classes of mining machinery and explosives be made free. He briefly impressed upon the commissioners the importance of this step in the interests of the development of the vast mineral resources of Canada.

To-day was the "Fourth" at the banks. Inquiries at the Banks of British North America, Montreal, La Banque Nationale, Quebec, Commerce and Merchants' Bank of Canada elicited the information that the paper has been well taken up. At some of the banks it was exceedingly well met, at others fairly well.

It is stated that the report that the Government had decided not to repeal the Franchise Act at the next session of Parliament is premature and misleading, as it is the intention of the Government to introduce a bill early during the coming session repealing the present Franchise Act.

Two Years of Bladder Torment—Endless Attacks of Inflammation—Cured by a Few Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Owen Sound, Dec. 28.—(Special)—The people of this town are talking again of another cure credited to Dodd's Kidney Pills. This is the case of Mr. W. Cruse, caretaker of the town buildings, who, when seen, had this to say of the matter:

"For over two years I have been an intense sufferer from kidney disease, with occasional acute attacks of inflammation of the bladder.

"Was under doctors' treatment and have been compelled to resort to instrumental relief many times.

"I have taken eighteen boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am satisfied with results, being perfectly relieved of all suffering."

The Three Days of Grace.

"Bankers and business men generally," said the cashier of a Dearborn-street bank to a Chicago Times-Herald reporter, "will be glad when all the states enact legislation disposing of the survival of medieval business methods known as 'days of grace.' They have been abolished for some time in California, Oregon, Vermont, Wisconsin and recently New York has passed a similar law. Days of grace originated in times when means of communication were difficult and uncertain, and the latitude allowed to the debtor was reasonable; but in these days they are a nuisance, as they impose on those holding other people's paper the necessity of keeping in mind in what State the expression 'thirty days' means 'thirty-three.'"

Dr. Shields, an eminent physician of Tennessee, says: "I regard Ayer's Sarsaparilla as the best blood-medicine on earth, and I know of many wonderful cures effected by its use." Physicians all over the land have made similar statements

Philosophy of Giving.

The man who starts out to buy presents does not stop to count the cost or inspect the quality of the articles profusely exposed to his fancy. Everything goes, as the saying is, and he crams his pockets with a miscellaneous assortment of things for which he pays two or three times as much as they are worth, when they are worth anything, and which nothing could induce him to purchase, or hardly to carry home without expense at any other time of the year.

This is not the highest expression of the meaning of Christmas, but it is authentic and salutary as far as it goes. It is in harmony with the spirit of the festival, and its efforts tend to keep alive those feelings and inspirations which are the mainstay of society and the basis of morality and religion. So long as the germs remain there is sure to be growth and product.

MONDAY'S MUNICIPAL CONTEST.

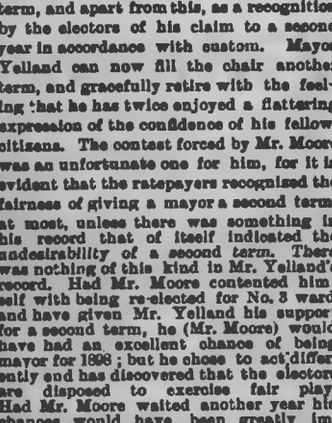
Keenly Contested Mayoralty Election.

MR. WM. YELLAND RE-ELECTED MAYOR.

HIS MAJORITY TWO HUNDRED AND TWENTY-THREE.

The Vote Polled—A Shaking up in the Council—Eight of the Twelve Members New Men—The Result in Ashburnham—The Township and Village Elections.

Yesterday a very briskly contested struggle for the honour of representing the town as mayor resulted in the re-election of Mr. Wm. Yelland by a majority of 223. While in some respects the contest seemed to be keener than that of last year there were actually fewer votes polled than last year. In 1896 the total number of votes cast in the mayoralty contest was 1991, yesterday there were 1961 ballots marked for mayor—30 fewer than the previous year. Mr. Yelland's majority was somewhat reduced—the decrease being pretty evenly distributed in Nos. one, three and four wards. In No. 2 ward he showed a small gain. The result of the recent election is in every way satisfactory. Mr. Yelland has made a good mayor and has reason to regard his re-election as a vindication of his course during his first term, and apart from this, as a recognition by the electors of his claim to a second year in accordance with custom. Mayor Yelland can now fill the chair another term, and gracefully retire with the feeling that he has twice enjoyed a flattering expression of the confidence of his fellow-citizens. The contest forced by Mr. Moore was an unfortunate one for him, for it is evident that the ratepayers recognized the fairness of giving a mayor a second term, at most, unless there was something in his record that of itself indicated the undesirability of a second term. There was nothing of this kind in Mr. Yelland's record. Had Mr. Moore contented himself with being re-elected for No. 3 ward and have given Mr. Yelland his support for a second term, he (Mr. Moore) would have had an excellent chance of being mayor for 1898; but he chose to act differently and has discovered that the electors are disposed to exercise fair play. Had Mr. Moore waited another year his chances would have been greatly improved. Mr. Yelland would then have had his second term unopposed, and he would not have had the claims arising from custom that he was able to present this year, for while the people of Peterborough are willing to extend fair play to a mayor in regard to a second term, they will not favour a monopoly of the position. Mr. Yelland will now have an opportunity of even bettering his first year's record as mayor, for he will be able to profit by experience of the past year. If he improves on the past the people will indeed have reason to be pleased with the selection of Mr. Wm. Yelland as mayor for 1897.



MAYOR YELLAND.

In the council there has been a decided shaking up, new blood being added in every ward. In No. 2 ward two old members are replaced, and in No. 3 there are three new members. In this ward Mr. J. B. McWilliams entered the field as a new man, and the public confidence in him was shown by his being placed at the head of the poll. That he should poll the largest vote in the town yesterday in this largely Conservative ward, shows that the ratepayers have a proper estimate of their duty as ratepayers, and that, in the selection of municipal representatives, they desire to avail themselves of the best business and administrative talent, entirely irrespective of the political opinions of the possessor of these qualities. In No. 1 Ward Mr. Best, as he did last year, headed the poll, an honour that fell to Mr. A. L. Davis in the second ward, a flattering record for a new man. Mr. Meldrum took the lead in No. 4 Ward. He is a good addition to the new council, with a good business grasp and a good record of past efficiency as a councillor.

Altogether the people have reason to expect good civic government from the present council, which will be confronted with important questions to be dealt with, such as permanent improvements, etc. Much will depend upon the appointment of proper committees for the several requirements of the council. It is always important that we should have a strong street and bridge committee, and especially so when the question of permanent improvements is so prominent, and in view of the prominence that has been given the subject recently an equal importance attaches to the appointment of a strong manufacturers' committee, who will deal wisely with the question of inducing the establishment of new industries in the town, and while liberal treatment is indicated care should be exercised that no expensive sacrifices of the interests of the citizens are involved.

The mayoralty returns were received at Mr. Yelland's committee rooms, in front of which on the street, a great crowd had gathered, enthusiastically cheering the mayor-re-elect. The more enthusiastic spirits had laid hands on Mr. Yelland and wrapped him in the folds of the old flag which had hung out upon the outer walls, indicating the site of the committee rooms. Mr. Yelland briefly addressed for the worship accorded support that had again placed him in the mayor's chair. It would be his study to deserve the confidence that had been reposed in him. The company separated after rousing cheers for Mr. Yelland, for the workingman and for the Queen.

The following are the figures of the voting in town and Ashburnham:—

THE WEEK OF PRAYER.

The First Service Held Last Evening in St. Andrew's Church.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather and the excitement that prevailed owing to election returns there was a large congregation at St. Andrew's church.

Rev. J. G. Potter presided and with him on the platform were Rev. Messrs. Young, Dykeman, Torrance, Bennett and Rogers. Rev. Mr. Dykeman gave an excellent address on "The Church and its Missions" which was appreciated by all present and which gave stimulus to and thought for prayer.

Prayer was asked for the church as an organization, for her office bearers, for her work. The singing was hearty and helpful.

The meetings to-night will be in Mark street Methodist church Ashburnham, when Rev. W. R. Young will preside and Rev. Dr. Torrance will give an address on "Home"; and also in Charlotte street Methodist church, Rev. J. J. Rae will preside Rev. J. G. Potter will give an address. Everybody is invited to come and bring friends.

A CHRISTMAS TREE.

St. Luke's Church Annual Christmas Entertainment for the Sunday School Children.

St. Luke's annual Christmas tree and distribution of prizes was held in the school house last night, which was, notwithstanding the disagreeable weather, filled to the doors with a very happy and harmonious audience.

The programme for the evening fell into three parts. First came some recitations and vocal and instrumental pieces, and a dialogue, all by children of the school, who acquitted themselves in a very creditable manner. Next followed the distribution of prizes, consisting of Bibles, prayer books, hymn books, and story books. The number of prizes was larger than usual, showing that the average of attendance and marks was higher than in previous years.

Lastly the Christmas tree was lit and unveiled amidst shouts of approval. Lt.-Col. Rogers, the Superintendent of the school, apologised for the absence of Santa Claus, who, he understood, owing to the state of the roads, was stuck fast some where near Keene. A thoroughly enjoyable evening was terminated by the singing of the National Anthem.

The Annual Returns Concerning the Interments.

Appended will be found the annual returns from the Little Lake Cemetery, showing the interments to be 149 during the year, or 31 less than in 1895. Pneumonia seems to have carried off a large number of those dying, resulting probably from the fact that this disease frequently follows close upon the heels of typhoid fever, of which a light epidemic swept over Peterborough :—

AN ENJOYABLE EVENING.

The Grand Central the Scene of a Merry Gathering Last Night.

Mr. A. W. Meyers, of the firm of Meyers Bros., left this evening for Toronto, but in a few days intends opening up in Lindsay.

Although Mr. Meyers has only been in Peterborough for a few weeks he has made many warm friends, and last evening, as a proof of this, he was given a royal send-off at the Grand Central Hotel, when several of the professional men of the town, as well as a number of the leading merchants assembled to do honour to Mr. Meyers.

During the course of the evening the guest was presented with a very handsome silver-mounted silk umbrella, after which an appetising banquet was partaken of. The evening was most enjoyably passed with music and songs, and Mr. Meyers' contributions to the programme were greatly appreciated. He is a most accomplished linguist, speaking six distinct languages, including Sanscrit, German, Swedish, French and Norwegian, and having travelled extensively, he is a rare ranconteur.

The evening is one which will not soon be forgotten by those who were privileged in participating, and the guest should indeed feel honoured by the high expressions of esteem for his companionship, which were vouchsafed whilst the toast list was being proposed.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Rink Talk and Items of Local and General Interest to Sportsmen.

HOCKEY.

Trinity's team will probably be down from Toronto next week.

The Toronto Globe says: Peterborough has developed a "star" in young Graham, who played with the Collegiate team last year. He is only 16, but he is as fast as chain lightning and a beautiful stick-handler. According to Vice-President Hopkins, of Peterborough, the Frontenacs have the intermediate and junior series at their mercy. But it will be shown before the season is over that they are not so "many." There are no less than 40 men from which to select Peterborough's three teams, and they are all "shining lights" if report is to be believed. The Peterborough senior team would like to arrange games with any of the local clubs."

"Chewing the rag," the rather inelegant expression used by one of the members of the executive of the O.H.A., was the chief occupation of that august board, says the Toronto Globe, at its session last night, and although the meeting was of some hours duration, very little was done. President Macfadden came all the way from Stratford to attend the gathering, and G. J. Hopkins came up from Peterborough. E. P. Brown, U.C.C.; T. L. Morrison, Wellingtons; D. F. Campbell, Trinity; Secretary A. H. Beaton and Treasurer A. Creelman were the other members in attendance. The only thing of importance done was the rejection of the applications of the Seaforth and Riverside hockey teams for admittance to the association, as their coming in would greatly interfere with the schedule. Some minor changes were made in the schedule.

CURLIANA.

A well attended meeting of Belleville curlers was held for the purpose of organization and other business. The following officers were elected for the year :

Patron—H. Corby, M. P.
Patroness—Mrs. H. Corby.
Vice-President—Thos. Ritchie.
Representative Members—W. H. Biggar, M. P. P., and W. W. Pope.
Chaplain—Rev. D. F. Bogert.
Secretary-Treasurer—T. W. R. McRae.
Committee—E. H. LaRoche, chairman; W. H. Biggar, M. Wright, J. F. Wills, A. Dolan and F. G. Lewis.

THE WHEEL.

The railroad magnates are uncommonly reticient regarding their intention in the baggage matter, and, although they virtually promised to grant certain concessions to the wheelmen when interviewed by the C.W.A. committee in Montreal over two weeks ago, nothing has been received from them since. At that time they said an answer would be forthcoming inside of ten days, but E. R. Ryckman, the chairman of the Rights and Privileges Committee of the C. W. A., and one of the members of the deputation which met the railroad people, has not given up all hope. He thinks that they will come to time this week, and that, the present baggage restriction will be considerably modified. This is not the view that A. F. Webster, Chairman of the Transportation Committee, holds. He knows, from bitter experience, that the railroad officials will entertain delegations seeking privileges with all courtesy, listen to their request, and discuss them, but will not commit themselves in any way, and then dismiss the matter altogether. He thinks that the C.W.A., to obtain their rights, will have to go to law about it, as it is not likely that the railroaders will do away with the charge, considering how short is the time that it has been in force.

CARD OF THANKS.

To the Editor of the Daily Examiner:

SIR—I beg to avail myself of the earliest opportunity of sincerely thanking my supporters in the late municipal contest for their zealous efforts on my behalf and shall ever remember their services with deepest gratitude. I did not seek the office of mayor, the effort to make a change was urged upon me by prominent citizens and their appeal was supported by a most representative requisition. Having accepted the nomination, I joined with them to make the best fight possible, but it was evident that influences which were foreign to the consideration of the proper administration of the town's affairs entered largely into the election and contributed to my defeat. Personally I am content, and I trust the result will prove the wisdom of the selection.

Faithfully yours,
W. H. MOORE.

ASPHODEL.

A Retiring Teacher Handsomely Remembered.

At the close of the school term in the Cameron school house boundary of Asphodel and Otonabee, Miss Edith Stewart, the teacher who has occupied the position, retired at the end of the year's service to fit herself for a higher position in the profession. To mark approval of her services a large gathering assembled at the school house to enjoy a social evening. The parents of the section brought baskets, and a most enjoyable repast was provided, and the children were each presented with a bag of candies, etc., to their great delight. Mr. Andrew Cameron, one of the trustees, occupied the chair. A delightful feature of the evening was the presentation to Miss Stewart of a handsome pair of seal gauntlets. Miss Stewart made a most affecting reply, and complimentary remarks appropriate to the occasion were made by the trustees and other ratepayers, all complimenting the retiring teacher upon the satisfactory manner in which she had discharged her duties and wishing her a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

CARD OF THANKS.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough :

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,—I wish to take this means of heartily thanking those ladies and gentlemen to whose support I owe my election as Mayor of Peterborough for a second term.

I have particularly to thank those who assisted in the organization that so materially assisted in contributing to the result.

I shall endeavour to so discharge the important duties of the position as to as fully as possible justify the confidence the electors have reposed in me, and to impartially administer the affairs of the town in the town's interest.

WM. YELLAND.

Peterborough, June 5th, 1897.

CARD OF THANKS.

To the Electors of Ward No. 1:

I desire to thank all those electors who accorded me their support and votes and helped to elect me as one of the councillors of "the Banner Ward" for 1897. I feel it as no small compliment to be elected as one out of seven in a hard contest, split as it was by the friends of so many candidates.

I feel the responsibility that rests upon me, and it will be my aim to favour such acts as will be for your benefit and the benefit of the town.

I am especially grateful to the ladies of the ward for turning out so well for me, and also to my friends who worked so hard for my election. I have no fault to find with those who did not vote for me, and will feel myself equally bound to consider their interests as if they had voted for me.

Yours respectfully,
NOAH T. LaPLANTE.

CARD OF THANKS.

To the Electors of No. 1 Ward :

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN :—I take this opportunity of returning my warmest thanks to all those who voted for me for councillor for this ward yesterday. Although not elected, I can congratulate myself and my friends that I came so very close in one of the hardest fought contests that has taken place in the ward for years.

Yours respectfully.
W. H. WHITE.

THANKS TO THE ELECTORS.

Fellow Electors of Ward No. One:

I desire to publicly express my sincere thanks to all who voted for me and worked so energetically for my election for Councillor yesterday. When I consider to many of the electors of the Ward I was a comparative stranger—never having taken any active part in public affairs before—I feel that I made a very good run for a first start. I can, therefore, appreciate the efforts put forth in my behalf, both by the Ladies and Gentlemen of this important Ward.

Although beaten, I am not vanquished. At some future time, I may be permitted to again ask the electors for a renewal of the support which they so freely accorded me yesterday.

Respectfully Yours,
THOMAS J. MOORE.

CARD OF THANKS.

To the Electors of No. 2 Ward :-

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—I beg to offer you my sincerest thanks for your support in the recent municipal contest, for the compliment you have paid me by placing me at the head of the poll.

Yours faithfully,
1d A. L. DAVIS.

JOHN CRANE, Sec.-Treas.

grain of ——— will color a ton of wine. A grain of permanganate of potash will redden seven thousand times its weight of water. The most trifling disorder will disarrange every organ of the body and cause eventual disease and death. It is the little ailments neglected that make the big diseases. Most serious diseases have their inception in a disordered digestion and faulty nutrition. This is true of that most deadly of diseases—consumption. It is also true of nervous prostration and exhaustion and also of all forms of wasting disease. Ailments of this description may not only be prevented but cured by a resort to the right remedy.

An unfailing cure for all diseases that have their origin in disorders of the digestion and faulty nutrition is found in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures digestive disorders, restores the appetite, invigorates the liver, purifies and enriches the blood, builds healthy flesh and muscle and drives out disease-germs. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. Thousands have testified to these facts. Druggists who suggest substitutes are dishonest.

Mrs. Ursula Dunham, of Sistersville, Tyler Co., W. Va., writes: "I should have been dead had it not been for your medicine. I was nearly dead when I began taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I had a pain in my side all the time, had but little appetite, and grew very thin. The 'Golden Medical Discovery' promptly cured the pain, restored my appetite, and increased my weight."

Dr. Pierce's wonderful free book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," will be sent paper-bound, for thirty-one cents in one-cent stamps to pay the cost of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y. For handsome, durable cloth covers, beautifully stamped, send 19 cents more (50 cents in all), to pay extra cost for this style of binding.

A MONSTER DEBT.

The Philadelphia & Reading Co. Wipes Off One $60,000,000 Obligation and Assumes Another.

Norristown, Pa., Jan. 2.—An obligation for $60,000,000 was cancelled here to-day when a mortgage given by the Philadelphia and Reading Company on July 1, 1874, for this amount to the Fidelity Safe and Trust Company of Philadelphia, formally recorded in Montgomery County, was marked satisfied by the Trust Company. The obligation was given to secure sixty thousand $1000 general mortgage bonds bearing interest at the rate of four per cent., and payable in 1908. Counsel for the Fidelity Trust Company also placed on record a deed from Osler & Stetson of New York, the purchasers of the Reading Railroad under foreclosure proceedings, to the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company, conveying the property to the new organization. At the same time a mortgage for $3,000,000 from the railroad company to the Central Trust Company of New York was recorded.

LEND YOUR EARS

To Your Back and Listen to its Talk—A Peterborough Man Tries It.

Did you know the backfound talk;
Tell you why it aches and pains;
Tell you why it's lame and weak;
Warn you of the kidney's ills;
Tell you of Doan's Kidney Pills?
Listen to them when they speak.
Relieve the kidneys, cure the ache.
Bad back, acute pains and kidney ills,
Are quickly cured by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here is proof of it at home. The testimony of Mr. George N. Graham, the genial host of the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, is as follows:—

He says:—"I have been a great sufferer for some time with pain across the back, extending up between the shoulders, swelling of the limbs, dizziness, loss of appetite, and in fact felt completely broken up.

"I had lost 17 pounds in three months, and thought that I would never get better. I have taken many kinds of patent medicines, and have also been treated by medical men, but did not seem to get any better at all, in fact was constantly growing worse.

"I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertisement and got a box of them at Lynch's drugstore, and by the time I had taken one box noticed a marked change for the better.

"I have taken seven boxes altogether, and am now free from pain; the swelling in the limbs has disappeared, and my appetite is good. In fact, I feel that I am completely cured.

"I can heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to those suffering from any form of kidney trouble. They are the best kidney medicine I have ever used.

With What He Saw in His Tour of the Pacific Province—Crow's Nest Road Needed.

Toronto, Jan. 4.

The Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, passed through the city on Saturday night on his way home to Ottawa from the Kootenay, via Chicago. With him was Lieut.-Col. Domville, M.P.

When seen at the Union Station both expressed themselves most enthusiastically as to the resources of British Columbia. Mr. Blair stated that he was tremendously pleased with the country and that its gold and silver mines were simply wonderful.

Col. Domville went even further than his superior, speaking of the Pacific Province's "mountains of wealth." The resources of the Kootenay, the Slocan and other districts, he said, were nothing short of marvelous. The member is so enraptured over the possibilities of the western land that he stated that if he said all he believed his assertions would not be credited, so he would have to tone down his utterances to a plane which his hearers could understand.

Among other statements made by the Colonel was one to the effect that Rossland would be a big city within a year.

Both the Minister and the member were agreed as to the necessity of the construction of the Crow's Nest Pass Railway.

Interviewed at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Jan. 3.—(Special.)—Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, returned to Ottawa to-day after a visit of some weeks' duration in British Columbia. The Minister is greatly impressed with the Pacific Province. Indeed, he says he can hardly find words in which to adequately express his wonder and admiration of all he has seen during his visit to British Columbia. The marvelous mineral wealth of Southern Kootenay had particularly impressed him. He believes that with the railroad development now just commencing and the influx of capital from all quarters of the globe already coming in, British Columbia will go ahead at a rate unprecedented in any other part of the world.

His mission, as Minister of Railways, had been more particularly to look into the needs of the province in the matter of railroad extension, and especially the feasibility of the proposed Crow's Nest Pass Railway. What he saw had convinced him of the necessity of railroad extension. It was in the interest of not only British Columbia but the whole of Canada that this question should be taken up as soon as possible. He feels that the east is as keenly interested in the opening up of British Columbia as are the residents of the province themselves. Whilst in the province the hon. gentleman was asked to lend his countenance and assistance to no less than seven railway projects, having a total of 1840 miles. These are, viz.: Crow's Nest Pass, 380; Coast line from Robson, 460; British Pacific, 480; extension of the E. and N.R.R. to Comox, 60; Nanaimo to Alberni, 60; Rossland to Penticton, 280; other interior railways, 120; grand total in miles 1840. This enormous mileage would, at the rate of $25,000 per mile, amount to no less a sum than $46,000,000.

A Tragedy in Philadelphia, the Perpetrators of Which are Not at Present Known.

Philadelphia, Jan. 1.—Mrs. Emma Betz, aged 40 years, was shot and killed in the third storey of the house at 1216 North Fourth-street to-day. The police were not informed of the tragedy until an hour and a half after the woman was dead, and they have been unable to learn with certainty who did the shooting. They arrested Mrs. Christian Engle, an old woman, who is mistress of the place, and a man named "Andy" Schmidt, who lived in the house, has disappeared and is being sought by the police.

Mrs. Engle says the Betz woman came in about noon with a strange man as she was going out. When Mrs. Engle returned she found the man gone, she says, and the woman dying from a gunshot wound in the throat. The shooting was done with a gun owned by Schmidt.

BUILT UP THE SYSTEM IN A WONDERFUL MANNER.

James A. Bell, of Beaverton, Ont., brother of the Rev. John Wesley Bell, B.D., prostrated by nervous headaches A victim of the trouble for several years.

South American Nervine effected a complete cure.

In their own particular field few men are better known than the Rev. John Wesley Bell, B.D., and his brother Mr. James A. Bell. The former will be recognized by his thousands of friends all over the country as the popular and able missionary superintendent of the Royal Templars of Temperance. Among the 20,000 members of this order in Ontario his counsel is sought on all sorts of occasions. On the public platform he is one of the strong men of the day, battling against the evils of intemperance. Equally well known is Mr. Bell in other provinces of the Dominion, having been for years a member of the Manitoba Methodist Conference and part of this time was stationed in Winnipeg. His brother, Mr. James A. Bell, is a highly respected resident of Beaverton, where his influence, though perhaps more circumscribed than that of his eminent brother, is none the less effective and productive of good. Of recent years, however, the working ability of Mr. James A. Bell has been sadly marred by severe attacks of nervous headache, accompanied by indigestion. Who can do fit work when this trouble takes hold of them and especially when it becomes chronic, as was, seemingly, the case with Mr. Bell? The trouble reached such intensity that last June he was completely prostrated. In this condition a friend recommended South American Nervine. Ready to try anything and everything, though he thought he had covered the list of proprietary medicines, he secured a bottle of this great discovery. A second bottle of the medicine was taken and the work was done. Employing his own language: "Two bottles of South American Nervine immediately relieved my headaches and have built up my system in a wonderful manner." Let us not deprecate the good our clergymen and social reformers are doing in the world, but how ill-fitted they would be for their work were it not the relief that South American Nervine brings to them when physical ills overtake them, and when the system, as a result of hard, earnest and continuous work, breaks down. Nervine treats the system as the wise reformer treats the evils he is battling against. It strikes at the root of the trouble. All disease comes from disorganization of the nerve centers. This is a scientific fact. Nervine at once works on these nerve centers; gives to them health and vigor; and then there courses through the system strong, healthy, life-maintaining blood, and nervous troubles of every variety are things of the past.

OVERWORK
—INDUCED—
Nervous Prostration
Complete Recovery by the Use of
Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. HINSON, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

FAR-OFF FALKLANDS

A BRITISH COLONY THAT HAS AN OVERFLOWING POPULATION.

Several Times Abandoned Because They Were Bleak and Barren, the Islands Proved to Be Ideal Sheep Ranches and Now the People Flourish.

In one respect the English colony known as the Falkland Islands is the most remarkable portion of the Americas. In spite of the facts that the islands are treeless; that the climate is not only bleak but is so cold as to prevent all kinds of agriculture save only hothouse gardening; that the islands are located where communication with the rest of the world is impeded by natural difficulties, here alone of all the regions of the Americas has man flourished so well that the population has filled the country to a point where a surplus is produced that must emigrate.

According to Mr. R. M. Routledge, formerly a Government official there, who has recently described the present condition of the islands in the Scottish Geographical Magazine, Port William, on a bay in the largest of the Falklands, is a remarkable village. A single street runs along the beach on the south side of the bay. It is a mile and a half long, and has at one end the Government buildings in a field some acres in extent, and at the other a hotel "very fitly named First and Last." The houses are built of wood and corrugated iron. There are three churches—Episcopal, Catholic and Baptist. There are two public schools, one Catholic school and a private school. There are two hotels, while saloons "abound, and from these a good revenue is derived, for beer is largely consumed, and not much blame attaches to the people, for the water is for the most part collected from off the houses after rain."

It is noted that the Episcopal Church is a new structure, built at a cost of $40,000, after a former structure had been destroyed by "what is known as a peat slip, by which a large part of the town was also carried away." Peat is the natural fuel of the islands, but some of the wealthier people of Port Stanley import coal.

Besides Port Stanley, there is another village in the group that is named Darwin. Outside of Port Stanley and Darwin there is neither church nor schoolhouse, nor any other public highway than the sea. The group includes nearly 200 islands, large and small, and the area of land fit for pasture is estimated at 6000 square miles. Every foot of this has been taken up. Most of it is held under lease from the Government. The land is divided into sections of 6000 acres, and anyone can hold as many of these as his inclination and means will permit. Quite a number of islands are held by individuals who live Robinson Crusoe fashion, or at best, a man with his family only on each island. On the larger islands the holdings range from 6000 acres up, and each holder, living alone or his holding, is thus well nigh as isolated as if he lived on an island. All travel over the island is by horseback alone. There is not one wheeled vehicle outside of Port Stanley. There being no roads, and the land being divided by wire fences, a traveler, when crossing any island, must needs employ a guide to find the gate.

No other oil and no other medicine has ever been discovered which can take the place of Cod-liver Oil in all conditions of wasting. New remedies come, live their little day and die, but Cod-liver Oil remains the rock on which all hope for recovery must rest. When it is scientifically prepared, as in Scott's Emulsion, it checks the progress of the disease, the congestion and inflammation subside and the process of healing begins. There is the whole truth. Book about it free.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Belleville, Ont.

Of course, since the houses are so far apart, the children of these ranchers get no education save only such as their parents give them, and that is of only the most primitive character. They learn to herd and shear sheep; to pack the wool for market and sell it; to buy supplies at the store (the trade of the island is practically the monopoly of one company), and deposit their surplus money in the Government savings bank. Most of the boys learn, in addition to this, to handle the sloops and small schooners that are found in large numbers there.

All the available land having been occupied, the gradual increase of the population finds no place to occupy. In consequence, the young people go away to the unoccupied lands of Patagonia and Terra del Fuego, taking as an inheritance the surplus sheep of their parents, for the sheep have increased until all the pasture is occupied.

The scenery of the islands is at once barren and picturesque. Grass makes them green, but there is not a tree in the group. Every attempt to cultivate trees, even the rugged beeches of Terra del Fuego, has failed. The surface of the islands is undulating and even rugged, some of the mountains rising 2000 feet above the sea. There are absolutely barren rocks and precipices and gulches. More interesting still there are "rivers of stone"—streams in the mountains whose courses are marked only by the winding banks, filled with broken rock, beneath which the torrents of water run. The water may be heard, as it roars along, but is never seen.

In the mountains there are still to be found wild cattle, and wild fowls in great numbers inhabit the coasts, but the people are not much given to sport.

The climate is also interesting. Snow never falls to a depth of more than an inch, while the fresh water ponds freeze no more than a mere film of ice. On the other hand, the thermometer runs usually from 30 to 50 degrees Fahrenheit, while the wind blows so steadily and so hard that the people of the interior are said to have a gait peculiar to the region—a gait in which they bend to the gale, and tack to windward like a sailing ship. It is nevertheless a healthy region, the death rate being no more than six in a thousand annually, and the appearance of the people is hale, hearty, and rosy-cheeked. In connection with the climate it is worth mentioning that the waters have a chill, peculiarly their own, that is so penetrating that no one has ever plunged into the sea for a bath there and returned to the surface to relate his experiences. At least that is what Mr. Routledge says.

While the people of the ranches live desolate and lonely lives, society at Port Stanley seems to have an attractive life. There is a social club with a reading room and a library, and meetings to hear and discuss papers and essays, but not politics. They have balls twice a month and theatricals and concerts occasionally, everything being done, of course, under the patronage of His Excellency the Governor. They have a rifle team that has been beaten but once. It happened when the British war ship Sirius was in port that for once the wind did not blow, and that was a condition on the range for which the local shots were wholly unprepared.

They have a newspaper, the Weekly Government Gazette.

They have a national guard of 100 men.

They have a police force and magistrate at Port Stanley and life is sometimes lively there when the seamen from some Cape Horn ship get ashore with money to spend at the numerous grog shops.

That the people are intensely loyal scarcely need be said. After Prince Alfred visited the colony some years ago, they were so proud of the fact that they built a monument over the spot where he first placed his sacred foot on the landing dock.

The statistics of population and products are not without interest. Mr. Routledge places the number of inhabitants at 1900 and odd, who occupy the 4,160,000 acres of land. They own 750,000 sheep (round numbers) and in 1894 the colony exported 3,500,000 pounds of wool, valued at £105,000. Besides this, they exported sheep skins worth £16,480, frozen mutton worth nearly £5000, and tallow worth £2000. The thrift of the colony is shown in the fact that the total exports were £131,851, while the imports were but £62,270. The public revenue amounted to £11,958 and public expenses to £12,395. The Governor, Sir Roger Tuckville Goldsworth, K.C., M.G., draws a salary of £1200 and has a lot of fees in addition, but Mr. Frederick Crage-Halket, who has two offices, Secretary and Treasurer, gets only £450 and no fees.

The islands are easily reached from either Montevideo or from Punta Arenas in the Strait of Magellan, a German line of steamers making regular calls with the mails.

Wonders of Plant Growth.

The growth of all plants is, in the essential analysis, the same thing, says the Republic, viz., the simple reproduction of cells. If a thin slice of the stem of a rapidly growing plant be made and this be laid in water and examined under a microscope, it will be found to be composed of a tissue containing numerous cavities separated from each other by very delicate partitions. These little cavities are cells. Under the microscope these minute cells may be seen to expand until they burst, each forming two or more smaller cells, but each perfect in every detail. These two or more cells which have been formed from the original one under observation expand and go through the bursting process just as their progenitor did. Sometimes the division of cells takes place only in one direction; at other times it acts on all sides alike. New cells sometimes grow on the surfaces of the old ones, thus forming what the botanists term "cell aggregates," or new tissue. These tissues are later on provided with all the various organs which go to build up the higher life of the plant. All vegetable growths are carried on by this plan.

Queen Amelie's Hobby.

In revisiting Paris after some ten years of absence, Queen Amelie of Portugal shows an evident desire to forgive and forget the affront which was offered to her when the Republic fixed upon her marriage as a fitting occasion for banishing all her family from France, says the London Chronicle. Her Majesty is endeavoring, perhaps, to apply to politics those principles of the healing art to which she has of late devoted herself with so much assiduity. Within a stone's throw of the Palace of Necessitades, at Alcantara, may be seen the "Dispensaria de Sua Majestade la Rainha," where every year some 1500 children are treated for the various ailments and injuries to which their tender years are liable. The Queen and her ladies in waiting are almost daily in the wards, preparing food, administering remedies and bandaging wounds. A similar institution has been started at Operto under her auspices. If royalty must have its hobby, one can hardly conceive a better one than that of Queen Amelie.

The camel is a beast of great strength and endurance. Nothing hurts it until the proverbial "last straw" is added to its burden. The human digestive system is very much like a camel. It is really astonishing how much abuse it will stand. Sometimes, however, something worse than usual will be eaten, and will go through the stomach into the bowels, and then it will stick—that's constipation. Nine-tenths of all human sickness is due to constipation. Some of the simplest symptoms are coated tongue, foul breath, dizziness, heartburn, flatulence, sallowness, distress after eating, headaches and lassitude. A little thing will cause constipation, and a little thing will relieve it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a certain cure for constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules, mild and natural in their action. There is nothing injurious about them. Sold by druggists.

DELIVERY OF BAKERS' BREAD.

It Might be Wrapped in Paper First.

Walking along one of our uptown streets the other day a lady noticed the driver of a baker's waggon drop a loaf of bread on on the street. Quick as a flash he picked it up again and flung it into the wagon, and now that lady is wondering if she herself will not have eaten part of the same loaf before this gets into print, says the Montreal Witness.

As a whole, the methods of delivering bread have improved much of late years. The time was when every one had to be satisfied with bread that had been driven around the dirty streets all day uncovered on the top of a wagon. Now the waggons are double decked affairs, all closed in, and at least some of the drivers deliver the bread at the doors in baskets. But is not still more care needed? The driver handles every loaf of bread with the same gloves in which he handles the waggon and the horse, and the combination is anything but a pleasant one to think of. There is surely a remedy.

Why should not each loaf before it leaves the bakery be wrapped in paper. The waxed, or parchment papers seem the nicest, but plain white paper of the cheapest kind, or even the cheapest brown paper would serve the purpose. Will not some of our advanced bakers start the fashion?

HOTEL MEN TO DINE.

The Bonifaces of the Midland District Will Fraternize in Belleville on January 22nd.

The following circular, which explains itself, has been handed to the hotelmen of the Midland district:

Belleville, Dec. 30th, 1896.

DEAR SIR,—It has been decided by the committee to hold an annual dinner for the purpose of meeting each other once a year, and at each of these meetings a vote will be taken to decide upon where the dinner will be held the year following. The district for these annual dinners will be from Kingston to Port Hope on the main line of the Grand Trunk; from Port Hope to Lindsay on the Midland, and from Lindsay to Belleville. Hoping that all will approve of the innovation, and feeling confident that you will agree with the committee that this annual meeting and dinner will be of mutual benefit to us all. A favourable reply as early as possible will be appreciated.

The committee extend their compliments for a prosperous and happy New Year.

I remain, my dear sir,
Yours truly,
JOHN F. BAIRD,
Hon. Sec'y.

The dinner will be held at Hotel Quinte, Belleville, on Jan. 22nd, and arrangements have already been completed. It will undoubtedly be one of the most elaborate affairs ever held in this district.

You can't be well if your blood is impure, but you may have pure blood and good health by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

DON'T!

Don't slack up or quit advertising altogether as soon as the holiday season is over. Don't say: "Well, we can't sell goods in the dull season, no matter how hard we try, and advertising is just money thrown away." Your hustling competitor, with no better chance or location than you have, keeps business booming all the time by advertising all the time in the most vigorous way. He has no "dull season," why should you?

The pushing, prompt, persistent men
Who advertise each day,
In every year, can always make
Their advertising pay.

General Grant once said there is a time in every battle when each side thinks it is whipped. He learned by experience that if he kept up the fight until the other side thought it was whipped, he was pretty sure to win. There is something for advertisers to learn from this. If, when they begin to think, advertising does not pay, they would fight a little harder to make it pay, they would be pretty sure to win.

Mr. McAllister has moved to his place near Peterborough to make room for his son, who was married to Miss Hatherley of Otonabee.

Mr. John Smith has gone to Toronto to have an operation performed on his eyes, over which cataracts were forming.

Mr. Abbie Poe is suffering from a slight indisposition at present, the result of so much exposure to the mercies of the weather in the Northwest.

Mr. Isaac Kerr is laid up with boils on the back of his neck. Mr. Kerr has just recovered from the effects of a very sore hand which he got crushed early in the fall.

Mr. Thos. Dodds, jr., from Toronto University, is spending his holidays with his family.

The weather at this writing is very unseasonable. The flies and mosquitoes are flying around and the roads are as bad as they ever get to be in Benefort.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

From our own Correspondent.

W. T. McLean, of the Institute at Brantford, has been spending his holidays at the parental home in Mount Pleasant.

Mount Pleasant Foresters (Court Primrose) will hold their annual supper on the 20th inst. This will be the great feast of the season, and the entertainment cannot be excelled. All are invited to come and have a grand time.

Tore His Flesh in Agony

"I was troubled with blind itching piles for twenty years; was unable to work and tore my flesh in agony. United States and Canadian doctors failed to relieve. Chase's Ointment was a God-send. I am a better man than in twenty years, and am able to work every day." Philip Wallace, blacksmith, Iroquois, Ont. Chase's Ointment cures, piles, eczema, and irritant diseases. All druggists, 60c. per box.

Holiday Photographs.

G. R. Whiten, the new photographer of Peterborough, is doing a grand trade since coming here. He is kept very busy. He finishes most of his work on the new Platino finish. There is no better work made in Ontario to-day than is made at Whiten's New Art Studio, on Hunter street west, opposite Oak Hall. His prices are very reasonable. Go and see the quality of his work and be convinced there is none better, and few to equal his work. Give him a trial. dtf

KILLED BY A FRISKY COLT.

The Horrible Death of a Farmer Near Hanover Yesterday.

Hanover, Ont., Jan. 4.—This afternoon Mr. Charles Habermehl, a farmer living about three miles from this place, hitched up a colt to come out to vote. He got into his buggy, and his son put a cross-cut saw on behind. The noise of the saw frightened the colt, and it ran away, throwing him against a post, knocking the upper part of his skull clean off and killing him almost instantly. He leaves a wife and large family.

BARN AND GRAIN BURNED.

Serious Loss to Messrs. James McClintock and J. Lunau, of Ballantrae.

Ballantrae, Ont., Jan. 3.—The large barns on the farm of James McClintock, occupied by J. Lunau, were destroyed by fire Saturday night. Mr. Lunau, while in the barn, left his lantern on a flight of stairs and went to an adjoining room. Returning, he found the floor in flames, which he crossed, escaping with a few slight burns. It is supposed the lantern exploded. Mr. Lunau's loss is heavy, all his implements and about 1000 bushels of grain being burned. Insurance on implements, $300; insurance on barns, unknown.

CANADIAN BUILDING AT BISLEY.

Plans of Montreal Architects Accepted by the D.R.A.—Chances for Canada to Do Business With Scandinavia—Ranger Get Off Lightly—Notes From Canada's Capital.

Ottawa, Jan. 5.—(Special.)—The council of the Dominion Rifle Association met to-day to consider the plans for the proposed Canadian building at Bisley, and unanimously selected those sent in by Saxe & Rodden, architects of Montreal. They show the typical Canadian cottage of one and a half storeys in height, of neat appearance, wide verandahs all around, and to be finished in Canadian woods. These plans were the only ones coming within the requirements of the association and the fixed cost of $7500.

Commercial Agent Soncum, at Christiania, Norway, sends a valuable report to the Department of Trade and Commerce. He says that a coal made from peat has been invented there, and is proving a most valuable fuel.

Canadian wood pulp manufacturers will learn with interest that a Norwegian has invented a machine for washing off the bark instead of planing it, thereby affecting a great economy.

American shoes are becoming very popular in Norway. Canadian manufacturers will make a note of this.

Canadian rolled oats are getting a good footing in Scandinavia. The prospects are very good there for all classes of Canadian cereals, as also fresh apples, if free from black spot, and evaporated apples of good quality. Large quantities of butter are now being exported to Norway from the United States. Canadian exporters should be able to find good market there.

The Railway Committee of the Privy Council had a sitting all day, when a large number of applications were disposed of. Mr. D. B. McTavish, Q.C., of Ottawa, appeared for the corporation of Toronto in its application for permission to re-open the mater of the Lansdowne-avenue crossing, which was decided in 1895. The committee decided to hear all parties at the next meeting.

The application of the Hamilton Radial Company to cross the G.T.R. at Burlington was granted, the Electric Company to pay costs.

The London Street Railway Company got permission to cross the G.T.R., C.P.R. and London and Port Stanley in the city of London.

The T., H. and B. road applied for permission to be relieved from the order directing it to be responsible for the crossings over the roads of the Hamilton and Milton Road Company, and asking that the city of Hamilton and the County of Wentworth should bear all expenses in connection with the matter. Mr. Waddell strongly protested on behalf of the Road Company against this concession, Mr. Carscallen appearing for the Railway Company. Decision was reserved.

The Lake Erie and Detroit Railway secured permission for the construction of branch lines at Ridgetown and Blenheim respectively.

David B. Ranger, the liquor-seller, who was prosecuted by Messrs. Hiram Walker & Sons of Walkerville, got off pretty lightly at the Police Court to-day. Two charges were preferred against him of having in his possession a forged trade mark, the property of Messrs. Hiram Walker & Sons, the distillers of Walkerville, and the second charge was of selling goods with a forged trade mark. Ranger pleaded guilty in both cases. Mr. Belcourt, who appeared on Mr. Ranger's behalf, said that as far as he could learn, it was not an uncommon occurrence among the liquor men to reduce the strength of liquor. He pointed out that in this case the bung of the barrel had been taken out and that the seal had been procured to properly replace it. No other whiskey had been added to that which was reduced in strength. Mr. Belcourt contended that there had been no disposition shown by his client to do any underhand work. There was no secret about where the seal had been made, as Pritchard & Andrews of Sparks-street had done the work. When the detectives called upon Mr. Ranger he had made no hesitation in at once giving it up. Mr. Belcourt did not think, under the circumstances, there was any intention of forging the seal. He asked the court to deal as leniently as possible in imposing the fine.

Mr. Latchford, Messrs. Walker & Sons' representative, thought the punishment should be made to fit the crime. The seal on the barrels was a guarantee to the purchaser that the liquor was made by Messrs Walker & Sons.

Magistrate O'Gara, in summing up, said that, in view of what Mr. Belcourt had said, and that the matter would not occur again, also taking into consideration that Mr. Ranger was such an ignorant and simple man, he would impose a fine of $50 in each case. The fine was paid.

The Postmaster-General has received the report of Lieut.-Col. Lazier, of Belleville, who was appointed sometime ago a commissioner to enquire into the charges of political partisanship laid against Mr. Farrow, ex-M.P. of Brussels. The commissioner finds that Mr. Farrow did not take an offensive part in the campaign, and consequently the charges against him will be dismissed. Mr. Farrow will retain his position as postmaster.

AS TO THE TARIFF.

Mr. Eddy of Hull Advocates Protection All Round—Farmers Want the Tariff Revised.

Ottawa, Jan. 5.—(Special.)—The Tariff Committee of the Cabinet had another meeting here to-day. Mr. Eddy of Hull and Mr. Kane of Newmarket, Ont., appeared jointly in the interests of woodenware manufacturers. Mr. Eddy advocated an increase in the duty of from 20 to 30 per cent. Mr. Eddy said he sold his goods at the same price in Ontario and throughout the Maritime Provinces. In other words, he obtained in Nova Scotia the amount of the freight less for his goods than in the west. Mr. Eddy would concede that this was "slaughter" in the same sense that American manufacturers were said to slaughter their goods in Canada. The prices in the Maritime Provinces were fixed by the competing American producer.

Mr. Kane remarked that the manufacturer of woodenware was in a worse position now than under the Mack mile regime. True, the protection then was but 1-2 per cent., but as a general thing the raw materials of the trade were free.

Mr. Eddy did not propose to speak for manufacturers of woodenware alone, but for manufacturers generally. He thought they should all be protected. If the Government of the United States placed a protective duty on manufactured goods, why should not the Government of Canada protect its manufacturers to the same degree?

Sir Richard Cartwright wanted to know where the consumer came in.

Mr. Eddy's reply was that the consumer and the farmer were dependent upon the manufacturer, and this he maintained despite Mr. Fielding's endeavor to controvert the position. "What was the condition of the farmers here 20 or 30 years ago?" asked Mr. Eddy.

"Infinitely better off," replied Sir Richard Cartwright, warmly.

Mr. Eddy's rejoinder to this was that around his district at any rate the farmers were poor enough. Continuing, he said he believed in manufacturers being protected and farmers too. He was not one of those who was all for self interest.

Mr. Eddy drew the attention of the commission to the discrepancy between the duty on paper sacks and bags (25 per cent.), and that on envelopes (35 per cent.). This difference of 10 per cent., he urged, should be eliminated by making the duty on paper sacks and bags 35 per cent.

Mr. Eddy went fully into the subject of an export duty on pulpwood, which he strongly favored. We had for the past eight years, he said, been allowing our forests to be denuded and the product taken to the other side, without any value or revenue accruing to the country. So, too, with our sawlogs; they were cut up on the other side and turned into lumber to compete with the Canadian product. Mr. Eddy believed that the Americans were taking about a million cords of pulp wood yearly from Canada, with the result that upon this Canadian material they are building up towns and villages all over the United States. If we have an export duty of $1 a cord, a prohibitory duty, Mr. Eddy admitted it would prevent the export of our raw material and bring capitalists over here, so that we would soon have villages of three, four and five thousand inhabitants each at all the suitable water power locations scattered between here and the Lake of the Woods. When he had put this proposition to Sir John Abbott a few years ago that gentleman's only observation was; "But what will the Americans say?" to which Mr. Eddy had made answer, "What need we care what they say? It is the duty of Canada to look out for herself." Private owners of spruce for six might, Mr. Eddy admitted, kick against such an export duty as he proposed, but it will be better for them in the end. The United States must have the pulpwood to work upon, and in less than four years, they would have their capital invested in this country in the grinding of pulpwood to the extent he had just mentioned.

Mr. Eddy's parting word to the commission was a plea for protection. Although American born, he wanted the Government to look after this young country as sharply as he would if he had the power.

Next were heard delegates representing the North Lanark Farmers' Institute. There were two of them, Messrs. Kossmack and McLean, and both urged tariff reform. The farmers of Carleton County were next heard. Four of them were introduced to the commissioners by H. H. Lang, merchant, of this city. One of them was Mr. McKellar, the late Liberal candidate in the County of Carleton. Mr. McKellar said that an attempt had been made to have a delegation present to represent the farmers of Carleton County on the 24th inst. Members of the Carleton Farmers' Institute met at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. "We discussed the subject," he said, "from that hour until dark, but I am sorry to say that in the end we separated, largely on political lines."

Mr. McKellar, in a deprecatory tone, went on to tell how he himself had urged the meeting to accept the tariff plank of the Liberal convention of 1893 as their representation from the Carleton County farmers to the Ministerial Commission on the tariff, but (and here Mr. McKellar grew more serious still), "I could not get a seconder." He added that they were to have met and talked it over next day, but they did not meet.

As to coal oil, Mr. McKellar had noticed that lately a member of the tariff commission had been through the County of Lambton, and was much impressed with the magnitude of the Petrolea coal oil fields. Mr. McKellar therefore did not know but what, if this Petrolea industry was given an honest product, it should be given protection if it needed it.

To Sir Richard Cartwright he said the average annual consumption of coal oil in the farm house in Carleton would be about 65 gallons. In this he was supported by Mr. McLean, while the four other county farmers agreed that twelve gallons a year was the average consumption in the outlying farm districts. Mr. McKellar concluded his observations with the reassuring statement that, the farmers being loyal, they would cheerfully pay whatever was needed for the public revenue. This latter declaration Mr. Geo. Boyce concurred in. For the rest he was fairly well satisfied with the present tariff conditions, and thought that it would pay farmers to raise a heavier grade of pork for the supply of the lumber camps.

On behalf of the lime and cement manufacturers Mr. Wright pointed out that the industry could not stand any reduction of the present tariff duty of 40 cents a barrel on imported cement.

Mr. G. T. Borrell, president of the Brockville Public Library, asked for the removal of the duty on books, claiming that publishers would be amply protected by the copyright law.

Others who gave testimony were Mr. John Nesbitt, a rich farmer of Carleton County, and Mr. John Conmee, hardware merchant. The latter had little fault to find with the present tariff, but severely condemned the wholesalers' combine. The meeting then adjourned.

To-morrow, being Epiphany, will be a holiday in the public departments.

Hon. R. Harcourt was in town to-day.

Mr. Speaker Edgar is in the city.

Mr. J. K. Kerr, Q.C., was here to-day.

Hon. J. M. Gibson and Major J. J. Mason of Hamilton were here to-day, attending the D.R.A. meeting.

Sir Richard Cartwright and Messrs. Fielding and Mulock have been appointed a sub-committee of the Cabinet to prepare a new superannuation bill.

A CASE OF SELF-HYPNOTISM.

Frank Dougherty Returns to Life While Funeral Services Were Being Held Over Him.

Newport, Del., Jan. 5.—The extraordinary case of Frank Dougherty, the youth who was supposed to have died last Tuesday night, and who returned to life Friday, while funeral services were being held over him, has given doctors in this vicinity a problem to solve. The solution of the case seems to be that the appearance of death was produced by self-hypnotism.

The true history of the case is as follows: The boy is 18 years old, and is a student at Delaware College. He is a big boy for his age and is a deep thinker. A company of hypnotists came to the Opera House at Wilmington in October for a few weeks' stay. The first night they created a sensation by hypnotising a boy and placing him in a window for 48 hours without food or drink.

Attracted by this feat, Dougherty, who is of a scientific mind, went to Wilmington and became one of the subjects of the hypnotists, and since their departure he has been making a deep study of the science of hypnotism. Young Dougherty was an apparently healthy boy, and his sudden death was a great surprise in the neighborhood. He returned home from school, which is seven miles distant, early Monday afternoon, and retired at ten o'clock.

When called at the accustomed hour Tuesday morning, he failed to respond, and then it was that Mrs. Dougherty discovered him apparently dead. His body seemed to be cold, and there was no visible pulsation or palpitation of the heart.

The family doctor, who was called in, after a careful examination, pronounced the boy dead, although at the time he could detect a slight beat near the boy's temples.

The only theory that Doughtery's friends can advance regarding his strange experience is that he fell into a hypnotic sleep by concentrating his attention upon one object.

They say that he frequently expressed a desire for hypnotic sleep, and that he often said it would be produced by concentration of the mind upon one thought or object.

When Dougherty was found in bed the gas was burning and a revolving instrument used by a noted French hypnotist in his seances was found on the floor beside his bed.

Dougherty's friends believe that before he went to bed he placed the instrument with the purpose of causing him to sleep.

With a view to studying the unusual case, several Wilmington doctors came here this morning and drove to the Dougherty home, a mile and a half away. Crowds of people living in the neighboring county also called at the Dougherty house to take a look at the boy, but few gained admittance to the room where the boy was still confined.

Dr. Palmer, who is caring for him, reported this morning that he is improving rapidly, but that he is not yet entirely out of danger. His long sleep has so weakened his nervous system that the doctor says the least excitement may cause a relapse. For this reason he directed that his patient be kept as quiet as possible, and that few persons should be allowed to speak to him.

The parents of the boy declined to discuss the matter, but they did not deny that their son had had the unusual experience of death and return to life in three days.

AFTER A MURDERER.

Detectives From New South Wales in Pursuit of a Man Who is Said to Have Killed Mining Prospectors.

Victoria, B.C., Jan. 5.—Detectives McHattie and Conroy arrived here from Sydney last night, and left at once for San Francisco, where they expect to accomplish the arrest of Frank Butler, alias Harwood, who is wanted in New South Wales for a long series of cold-blooded murders.

His plan was to lure to the gold fields prospectors who had a little money, shoot them and bury their bodies; then return to the city to again advertise for a "mate" with a little ready money to go prospecting. The murders of Captain Lee Weller and A. O. T. Preston have been traced to Butler, and he is more than suspected of 12 other similar crimes in the Blue Mountains, N.S.W., and in Western Australia. It has been ascertained that under the name of Weller he sailed from Newcastle for San Francisco Nov. 25, as the guest of the captain on board the ship Swanhilda. She has not yet arrived, and the officers are tolerably sure of their man.

KNIFE STAB IN THE HEART.

A Boy of 14 Was Killed in Indianapolis by Another Lad of 16.

Indianapolis, Jan. 5.—Richard Falk, a 14-year-old son of Dr. Frederick Falk, one of the leading physicians of the city, is dead from a knife stab in the heart, for which Thomas Hanna, jr., the 16-year-old son of Thomas Hanna, ex-Lieutenant-Governor, is responsible. Young Hanna yesterday called to see a sister of young Falk. While he was waiting just inside the door for the girl, who was to take a walk with him, he took out a penknife to sharpen a pencil. The Falk boy asked for it, and, being refused, grabbed for it. In the scuffle that followed the knife blade was sunk into his heart. He died in 45 minutes. It is maintained that the killing was accidental.

Sour

Stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour

with severe pains across my shoulders, and great distress. I had violent nausea which would leave me very weak and faint, difficult to get my breath. These spells came oftener and more severe. I did not receive any lasting benefit from physicians, but found such happy effects from a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I took several bottles and mean to always keep it in the house. I am now able to do all my own work, which for six years I have been unable to do. My husband and son have also been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla—for pains in the back, and after the grip. I gladly recommend this grand blood medicine."

Y.P.S.C.E. NOTES.

Paragraphs of Local Interest to Endeavourers Supplied by the County Union.

WORLD'S CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR PRAYER CHAIN.

(Subject of Prayer for January.)

FOR THE CONVERSION OF THE WORLD.

Pray that the beginning of the new year may witness the beginning of a universal revival of of religion. Pray for a great manifestation of the Holy Spirit throughout the world, and that the unsaved everywhere may be turned to Christ.

A LITTLE LESSON IN THE SCHOOL OF PRAYER.

The whole Christian world on its knees! What a spectacle is this that we behold the first week of the new year! The Spirit of the Master who so fervently prayed for the unity of his followers is yet with the church in power, as we may know by this united and Christlike action. It is a glorious and priceless privilege to share in this mighty community of believing prayer for the unsaved world. Who can measure the joy of being a part of this revolutionary power? Not until we stand in the light of the clearer day shall we know of the miracles of grace wrought because of the commingled prayers that have risen to God on the first days of each new new year. But that we may add our prayers—especially we of the Prayer Chain, whose January topic is practically the same as that appointed for all believers during next week—is a boon for which we should not cease to give God thanks. The immensity of the subject, the overpowering importance of the subject sought, the vital consequences of answer to the supplication, should make our prayers this month of wrestling earnestness and of constant duration.

WITH THE LOCAL UNION.

The local union held their annual New Year's meeting on New Year's morning, in the Y. M. C. A. Hall, between nine and ten o'clock. While the attendance was not large the spirit of the meeting was good. All those who were present received a blessing. Mr. Stanley, president of the local union, presided and Mr. G. W. Mulligan officiated at the piano.

ENDEAVOUR DAY.

The local executive will meet sometime next month to arrange for the celebration of Endeavour Day, which falls on February 2nd. Most of the societies of town called off their regular weekly meeting this week on account of this being the week of prayer.

Many of the societies distributed Christmas cheer among the poor of the town, as has been the custom for years past.

Next week we all look forward to better attendance at our meetings, as the holiday rush is over.

WARSAW.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Did you lose your vote.

Times are looking up in Ashburnham again.

Will Watts will attend the high school in Norwood during the coming term.

Rev. Prof. Badgely, of Toronto, conducted the anniversary services held in the Methodist church on Sunday and Monday last.

The skating rink has been completed and will be opened as soon as possible.

Mr. Henning left for Goderich on Monday.

While driving down the 3rd line a few days ago Mr. E. Bickle's team attempted to run away. They ran about half a mile, when one going each side of a milkstand their career was brought to a sudden close. Securing the services of a local horse trainer Mr. Bickle soon had his outfit in shape again and got home without further mishap.

Owing to the increasing demand for cutters, sleighs, etc., W. J. Doughty has decined to build a wareroom on the lot opposite T. Wilson's shop, having leased the ground from Mr. Wasson. The building will be 30x50, and will be completed in the course of a month or so.

When the rigs were leaving church on Sunday evening the carriages of Messrs. Miles and Rose collided and a broken pole was the result.

Miss Laura Hughes, of Peterborough, was in town on Monday.

The death of Mrs. Mary Ann Crowe occurred on Saturday evening last, after an illness of six weeks, at the age of 78 years. She came to Canada from Cornwall, England, in 1830. Ten children, five boys and five girls, survive her.

PRINCESS DE CHIMAY

Said to Have Had Her Supply of Money Cut Off and to Have Accepted a Music Hall Engagement.

Paris, Jan. 5.—Newspapers here declare that the uncle of the Princess de Caraman de Chimay, who recently eloped with Janos Rigo, a Hungarian Gypsy musician, has stopped her supply of money until her affairs are settled. Her husband, Prince de Caraman de Chimay, has brought an action for divorce at Charleroi, Belgium, and the case promises to be very sensational. The papers add that Rigo and his paramour have accepted an engagement in a music hall in Buda Pest. Rigo, who will play the first violin, will receive a salary of $1000 a month. The Princess will sing and dance, but the salary she will receive is not stated. The pair will prove great attractions in Buda Pest, where much curiosity has been displayed to see them.

DESTRUCTION BY FIRE.

A Barn Burned and Other Property Damaged at Port Colborne.

Port Colborne, Ont., Jan. 5.—A barn, the property of Mr. Samuel Cook, standing in the rear of his residence and adjoining the Roman Catholic Church, was destroyed by fire with all its contents, except one horse, on Sunday afternoon. The stained glass windows of the church were practically ruined, and a building in the rear of Charles Hart's place of business, adjoining, was burned to the ground. The property owned by Jas. Twohey, also close by, suffered considerably. There is no fire department in the village, and but for the work of a volunteer brigade, much of the property contiguous to the burned buildings would have been destroyed. There was no insurance on Cook's property.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

The Mackinaw Railroad has been sold to Senator Calvin S. Bryce for $1,000,000.

William H. Pancoast, M.D., an eminent physician and surgeon of Philadelphia, died yesterday.

Grand Trunk earnings for December showed an increase of $81,604, compared with the same month in 1895.

Edward and John Pettit of Hunter, North Dakota, were caught in the blizzard of Sunday and frozen to death not far from their home.

Railway traffic is impeded in Missouri by the storms. All streams are flooded, and lumber and boat houses have been swept away from St. Louis.

During the year ending with September 191,000,000 fry were hatched and distributed by the fish hatcheries of the United States, at a cost of less than 20 cents per 100.

The Newfoundland Legislature will open on Feb. 11, and it is said a resolution favoring reciprocity with the United States will be introduced as a Government measure.

An application was filed yesterday for a new trial for Thomas W. Bram, who was convicted at Boston of murdering Captain Nash and his wife of the barquentine Herbert Fuller.

Superintendent Annin of the New York State Fish Hatcheries has had men at work catching Labrador whitefish in Canandaigua Lake and taking eggs from them. In one month 13,160,000 eggs were secured from 8827 fish, and 7111 of the fish were returned to the water unharmed.

R. A. Campbell, a Hamilton carpenter, working on the roof of the new Grand Trunk car shops in London, fell 555 feet to the floor yesterday, striking on his face and knees. Two of his teeth were knocked out and he was badly bruised. He struck a beam on the way down, and that saved his life.

Francis J. Kiekkhoffer, late disbursing officer of the State Department at Washington, has been indicted by the grand jury on the charge of embezzling international indemnity funds entrusted to his keeping. Constantinople, Jan. 5.—Bedros Effendi, the Armenian recently appointed sub-Kimakan of Tscharsan, was assassinated two days after his arrival there.

TWEED TOPICS.

Mrs. James Davenport Makes a Statement for the Benefit of Others.

Mrs. Davenport is well-known in Tweed, and this is how she spoke to our representative concerning Doan's Kidney Pills. Said Mrs. Davenport:—

"I have suffered for some years from dizziness puffing under the eyes, pains in the side and back, sleeplessness, poor appetite, and in fact, was in a bad state generally.

"I took two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at P. K. Newton's drugstore, and experienced immediate relief from their use.

"I am now very much better indeed; appetite improved, pain almost disappeared and I feel stronger and healthier in every particular.

"I heartily recommend them to all sufferers from kidney trouble."

FANCY WAISTS.

Very High Embroidered and Furred Collars.

EMBROIDERY says Le Bon Ton, is lavishly used on evening bodices and quantities of lace. Both black and colored silk or velvet skirts are suitable with the separate waist, but too violent contrasts of color are to be avoided. Marvelously high collars embroidered in jewels and edged with fur and ruffled chiffon are used. The bolero of Russian or duchess lace enhances the richness of this elaborate garment. Besides there are crushed satin girdles, peasant girdles of velvet or beaded or jeweled girdles, which all add a touch of elegance to the bodice.

In neck dressing the variety is enormous, for no matetr how plain the gown, the neck has some kind of fancy finish. The velvet bound ribbon frills sewed on to a band are durable and becoming. Then there are lengths of mull or chiffon with lace edged turrets or Venetian points, plisses of ribbon, mull or silk, and a number of other styles. There are even stock collars made of fur with upstanding pleatings of silk or mousseline.

Collars made of artificial flowers are a fitting finish for an evening gown. Many of them are finished with wide lace.

Collarettes of changeable coq feathers are very stylish to put on either over a waist, jacket or cape. Gray or black ostrich collarettes are softer but not as durable as those of fur.

Bad Blood Between Them.

The ever slaving farmer's wife, her delicate sister in the city, suffer more than they care to tell. The dark rings around the eyes, dizziness, headache, palpitation or rheumatic twidges, betoken a run down system. The blood is poor, and is a bar to the enjoyment of life. Scott's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, strengthens and vitalizes the system, and speedily restores the bloom of health to the cheeks. It cures when all others fail.

One Every Night.

One Laxa-Liver Pill taken each night during 30 days will cure Constipation, oft-returning Headaches and irregular action of the bowels. Laxa-Liver Pills leave no unpleasant after-effect.

MUNYON'S COLD CURE

Colds lead to coughs, coughs to pneumonia and consumption; therefore, it is all important to check a cold before it reaches the lungs. Munyon's Cold Cure will positively break a cold inside of twenty-four hours if taken as soon as the cold manifests itself. When the cold reaches the lungs or bronchial tubes the Cough Cure should be used alternately every half hour with the Cold Cure. The Cold Cure is guaranteed to prevent pneumonia if used in the beginning of a cold. Pneumonia, or inflammation of the lungs, can be controlled by the use of these two cures.

The Cough Cure positively cures bronchitis, tickling in the throat, hoarseness, loss of voice, soreness of the chest, difficulty in breathing, hacking cough and all pulmonary diseases where the lungs are not too far consumed by disease or covered with tubercles.

A separate cure for each disease. At all druggists, mostly 25 cents a vial.

Personal letters to Prof. Munyon, 11 and 13 Albert street, Toronto, answered with free medical advice for any disease.

Colonial Gentlemen Dined by St. George's Club.

SPEECH BY SIR CHARLES TUPPER

Canadian Loyalty an Impassable Bar to Absorption by the United States—The Pacific Cable Conferees Decide to Recommend That the Cable be Built.

London, Jan. 5.—Sir Charles Tupper, formerly Canadian High Commissioner to Great Britain, and more recently Prime Minister of Canada, which office he resigned on July 8 last; Sir Robert George Wyndham Herbert, who was permanent Under Secretary of State for the Colonies, from 1870 to 1892, and who is now Agent-General for Tasmania, and the Hon. Duncan Gillies, Agent-General for Victoria, were the guests of honor this evening at a banquet given by the St. George's Club of this city. Major-General Sir Owen Burne presided in the absence of Lord Loch, formerly Governor of Cape Colony and Her Majesty's High Commissioner to South Africa. Among those present were Sir Donald Smith, Canadian High Commissioner to Great Britain; A. G. Jones, Sanford Fleming, Major John W. Laurie, M.P., who at one time was a Colonel in the Canadian militia, and Mr. Rufus Pope, a member of the Canadian Parliament.

Gen. Burne, in toasting Sir Charles Tupper, made a lengthy reference to his distinguished career.

In replying to the toast, Sir Charles said that he did not go from London to Canada for the purpose of succeeding Sir Mackenzie Bowell in the Premiership, but that he was summoned by the latter to confer with the government on important public business connected with Canada and the Empire. He had been reluctantly drawn into politics when he thought he had retired from an active political life. The Liberal-Conservative party in Canada had asked him to re-enter the arena.

Referring to the Washington treaty of 1888 respecting the fisheries, which the American Senate refused to ratify, Sir Charles paid a high tribute to the tact and ability of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain. Sir Charles declared that the governing principles of his career had been to preserve British institutions and to promote unity between the different parts of the Empire.

Referring to the situation in Canada Sir Charles said that if the Dominion were isolated it must fall into the lap of the United States. Consolidated, it would remain firmly attached to Great Britain. He greatly admired the United States, but was profoundly convinced that union with Great Britain was the only true security for real liberty to all parties. The United States, he added, desired to absorb Canada. (Cries of "They will never get it.") The Canadian fisheries were the chief attraction for the United States, and the minerals of the Dominion were another. Canada could give the United States the finest harbors in the world, besides bringing that country six hundred miles nearer to Great Britain. He contended that Canada's deep-seated loyalty to Great Britain would always constitute an impassable barrier to absorption.

Sir Charles spoke in praise of Sir Donald Smith, his successor in the Canadian Commissionership, who, he said, was highly esteemed by all the present parties in Canada. His reference to Sir Donald was greeted with cheers.

The St. George's Club, which tendered the banquet, is a social, colonial and cosmopolitan club, and has a membership of about 3000. The clubhouse is at No. 4 Hanover-square.

THE PACIFIC CABLE.

Delegates to the Conference Unanimous in Favor of Its Construction.

London, Jan. 5.—It is stated here today that the Pacific Cable Conference has about completed its labors, nothing now remaining to be done except to sign its report, which will be done at a meeting of the conference a fortnight hence. The proceedings of the conference were secret, but it is stated on good authority that the report will show practical unanimity among the delegates in recommending the construction of a cable, the testimony adduced having shown that the scheme is entirely feasible and that, commercially and politically considered, it is necessary to Great Britain and Australasia and Canada. Some difference of opinion existed as to the relative share of the expense of the construction to be borne by the Mother Country and the colonies, but the matter was adjusted by the delegates agreeing to recommend that instead of carrying out the original proposition regarding the expense, Great Britain should pay a less sum than was first allotted as her share, the colonies making up the difference. Drafts of the report signed by the Canadian and Australian delegates will soon be sent to their respective governments for their approval.

LADY SCOTT TRIAL.

Mr. Santiano of Harvard Was With Earl Russell and Saw Nothing Wrong.

London, Jan. 4.—The trial of the action brought by Earl Russell against his mother-in-law, Lady Scott, and others, for criminal libel, was resumed in the Central Criminal Court, Old Bailey, this morning.

George Santiano, an instructor in Harvard University, was called to the witness stand and testified that he had met Earl Russell in the United States in 1888, and had visited His Lordship at Winchester in 1887. Witness said he had gone on a cruise with Earl Russell on board the latter's yacht, and had never on that occasion seen any improper act on board the vessel, nor had he ever heard of any complaint on the part of any member of the crew of the yacht that any act of impropriety had occurred.

With the testimony taken to-day, the case for the prosecution was closed and the court adjourned until to-morrow.

Quebec Loan Said to Have Failed.

London, Jan. 5.—All information is refused as to the result of the issue to-day of the city of Quebec conversion loan, invited in the middle of December for £654,480 ($3,272,400), 3 1-2 per cent. registered stock at 96, for the purpose of redeeming and converting outstanding issues of the city of Quebec debentures, bearing interest from 4 1-2 to 6 per cent. It is generally stated in the city, however, that the loan was a failure, owing to the close price asked. It is stated that the loan may possibly work off during the next four months.

Lord Beresford Was Feverish.

London, Jan. 5.—Lord William Beresford, husband of the former Duchess of Marlborough, who was injured by the falling of his horse while riding to hounds a few days ago, is not progressing as favorably towards recovery as could be desired, though he does not appear to have grown weaker. He passed a very restless night and was somewhat feverish this morning.

He is Very Reticent.

London, Jan. 5.—Solicitor Russell, son of Lord Russell of Killowen, Lord Chief Justice of England, and counsel for Edward J. Ivory, alias Edward Bell, the alleged Irish-American dynamiter, is extremely reticent in regard to the line of defence to be pursued in behalf of his client at his coming trial, but emphatically denies the statement that he has advised Ivory to plead guilty.

Two Years of Bladder Torment—Had Attacks of Inflammation—Cured by a Few Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Owen Sound, Dec. 23.—(Special)—The people of this town are talking again of another cure credited to Dodd's Kidney Pills. This is the case of Mr. W. Cruse, caretaker of the town buildings, who, when seen, had this to say of the matter:

"For over two years I have been an intense sufferer from kidney disease, with occasional acute attacks of inflammation of the bladder.

"Was under doctors' treatment and have been compelled to resort to instrumental relief many times.

"I have taken eighteen boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am satisfied with results, being perfectly relieved of all suffering."

WHY SUFFER WITH PILES?

Dr. Chase's Ointment Will Cure Them at a Cost of But 60 Cents.

Piles, scrofula, eczematic eruptions, scald head, salt rheum and all other annoying and painful skin diseases can be easily cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

"I had protruding piles for ten years," writes H. H. Sutherland, commercial traveller, of Truro, N.S.; "tried many remedies, and had doctors operate. It was no use. Was completely laid up at times. Chase's Ointment was recommended to me by Mr. Brennan, of the Summerside, P.E.I., Journal. I tried it, and one box completely cured me."

Mr. Statia, the editor of the Streetsville, Ont., Review, gives this unsolicited testimonial under date of Nov. 6, 1895: "Half a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment cured my daughter of eczema. That was six months ago, and there has since been no reappearance of the disease."

T. Wallace, blacksmith, of Iroquois, Ont., was troubled with blind itching piles for 20 years. "I tried every remedy that came out in vain," he writes, "until I tried Dr. Chase's Ointment. It was a godsend. One box cured me."

All dealers and Edmanson, Bates & Co., manufacturers, Toronto. Price 60c.

Linseed and turpentine are every mother's household remedy for coughs, colds, throat and lung affections. Dr. Chase has disguised the taste and made the remedy pleasant to take. Large bottle only 25c.

THE SUPERVISION COMMITTEE,

through its chairman, Dr. Caldwell, reported:

That the boundaries for the Sr. III and Jr. IV classes be as follows:—Beginning at the west of the town on McDonnel street, east to Rubidge street; south on Rubidge street to Dalhousie street; east on Dalhousie to the river.

That the changes in limit table proposed by the principals at the last meeting of the Board have mostly been acceded to by the Inspector and committee.

That of the classes placed in the George street school, all the primary classes in first and second books, the third class being divided between the Central and South Central Schools.

That the Inspector proposes to keep a diary in which a summary of his work each day will be recorded and to give a duplicate slip to each teacher at his official visits, so that no misunderstanding may arise in the future regarding the nature of report from Inspector to teacher.

We recommend that these proposals be adopted.

Adopted.

Mr. Ferguson then read the following statement:

To the Chairman and Members of the Board of Education:

GENTLEMEN,—In submitting the statement of receipts and expenditures for the past year you will notice that we have a surplus in the Collegiate Institute accounts of $375, the fees being $2,742, about $100 more than any time in the history of the school, and being more than double the amount collected in the year 1890, the amount for that year being $1,345.10. Our demand on the town for the last two years was $7,000 and this year we expect to reduce this amount by $200.

In the Public school account there is a deficit of $927.83, caused mainly by employment of four extra teachers and the renting and fixing up of the Menzie property on George street for school purposes.

I would also draw your attention to the fact that the addition to the South Ward School cost about $1300 over and above the amount of the debenture sold for that purpose, and which amount has been paid out of the current year account. There is also a small increase in the printing and stationery account.

We have now 22 teachers on Public School staff and for the month of November last the number of pupils enrolled was 1498, an average of 47 pupils to each room, so even with the addition of four extra rooms the average in each room has only been reduced about six.

All of which is respectfully submitted,
W. G. FERGUSON,
Chairman.

SOME RESOLUTIONS.

On motion it was resolved "That pursuant to 57 vic., cap. 50, sec. 5, the municipal council of the town of Peterborough be and they are hereby required to pay to the Treasurer of the Board of Education in monthly instalments the money to be raised for the current expenditure of the Public and High Schools of the town of Peterborough and be paid on the 15th day of each month as follows:—January, $3,000; February, $3,000; March, $3,000; April, $3,000; May, $2,500; June, $2,500; July, $2,000; August, $500; September, $500; October, $1,900; November, $1900; December, $2,000—$24,800.

Moved by Trustees Hamilton and Fair, that the secretary be instructed to apply to the town council to have the property leased by the Board of Education from Mr. Sheppard exempted from taxes owing to occupancy of the same for Public School purposes.—Carried.

Trustees Hill and Bamford moved that one month and twelve days salary be paid Miss Aldridge—twelve days of which she is entitled for services performed during the past session, and she is also entitled to the one month's salary by law, while absent through sickness.—Carried.

Mr. James Stevenson drew the attention of the board to the fact that some of the parents had complained to him about their children being pushed too hard at the schools. He asked that the inspector be instructed to look into the matter. This was more particularly the case in regard to the primary classes.

Dr. Caldwell had also heard complaints.

Inspector Walker stated that, although he was an advocate of home work, the first consideration should be the health of the pupil. Home work was an excellent means of training a pupil. No scholar was too young for home work, but care should, of course, be taken to avoid the imposition of it.

Trustee Hamilton was in accord with the inspector in his views.

The Board then adjourned.

OBITUARY.

Interment of the Late Mrs. Donald McIntyre at Elmvale.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Donald McIntyre took place on New Year's Day from the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Drysdale, of Elmvale, where she had been visiting. On December 26th, 1896, Mrs. McIntyre took a stroke of paralisis, from which she never recovered consciousness. She lingered till the 31st, when she passed peacefully away, in her sixty-second year. Her maiden name was Ann West. She was a resident of Keene nearly all her life and was highly respected by all who knew her. She leaves behind her two sons and two daughters. Mrs. A. Weir, Keene, Mrs. Drysdale, Malcolm and A. A. McIntyre, of town, who have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

A JANUARY WEDDING.

Nuptials of Miss May Heubeck and Mr. Geo. W. Pearse.

Rev. J. G. Potter, pastor of St. Andrew's church, officiated at an interesting ceremony yesterday afternoon, at half past two o'clock, at the residence of Mr. Frederick Heubeck, No. 536 Bethune street, when he united his only daughter, Miss May Heubeck, to Mr. Geo. W. Pearse, formerly of Lindsay, but now a resident of Chicago.

The bride looked most charming in a chic travelling gown of dark green with garniture of velvet and sequins. She carried a handsome bouquet of cream Marechal Neil roses, and was assisted by Misses Emma Sherlock and Bessie Hepwood, both of Lindsay, who were most prettily attired, in costumes of blue and black and heliotrope and black, respectively.

The groom was supported by Mr. David Spence, cousin of the bride.

Only the relatives and most intimate friends of the bride were present at the ceremony. The drawing room, which was the scene of the wedding, looked most attractive, being most tastefully arranged for the occasion with trailing vines of smilax caught up with ribbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearse will spend the next few days in Lindsay, after which they will leave for Battle Creek to stay for a time there before finally taking up their residence in Chicago.

Miss Heubeck has been an active member of St. Andrew's Sunday school and societies, as well as of the choir since girlhood, and her presence will be greatly missed by her associates in church work, who evidenced their esteem for her by overwhelming her with gifts on the day of her wedding.

THE SENATE STILL LIVES.

AN ABLE DEBATE ON THE QUESTION LAST NIGHT.

Messrs Keogh and LePlante Argue Against Messrs. Thompson and Kenny, of Toronto—Many Strong Points Brought out During the Argument.

The rooms of the Catholic Literary Association were crowded to the doors last evening, it being the occasion of the much anticipated deabte on, "Resolved that the Canadian Senate should be abolished."

The affirmative was upheld by Messrs. Keogh and LePlante, of town, whilst the negative was taken by Messrs. Thompson and Kenny, of the Toronto Catholic Literary Union. Particular interest was centered in the debate through the fact that Mr. Thompson is a son of the late Sir John Thompson, Premier of the Dominion of Canada at the time of his lamentable death.

Mr. Keogh opened the debate for the affirmative. He objected to the existence of the Senate on

THE FOLLOWING GROUNDS:

It did not fulfil the ends for which it was created.
It was unnecessary.
It was a needless expense.
It was cumbersome.
It favoured special legislation.
It was a danger to our country.

It was created, Mr. Keogh held, for the purpose of giving equal representation, but this plan had not been carried out. The proportionate number had been changed since Confederation. Ontario and Quebec had now by far the greatest representation.

On the ground of expense, he estimated that the cost of keeping up the Senate figured up to an amount, which was equal to the interest yearly on $5,000,000. It was not, he contended, a good investment.

The predominant party in the House were accustomed to appoint friends to the Senate, and therefore their presence there was no check on the actions of the lower House. Again, Senators being usually men of considerable wealth, they were apt to legislate in their own favour, to the detriment of the poorer classes, exhibiting a tendency to plutocracy.

Mr. Keogh was followed by Mr. Thompson. He contended that the onus was on the affirmative and thought that the Senate was necessary, as the controlling and advising power over the lower chamber. Quite frequently a bill might be passed in the Lower Chamber by which would be against the will of the people. By their cool deliberation the Senators could advise a reconsideration of the matter and thus the evil results of too hasty legislation would be avoided.

In her Upper House Canada has what every other civilized nation on earth possesses—two chambers. To have the needed beneficial influence the members should be appointed and not elected to office, as in the former case their conclusions would be reached without bias.

Mr. LePlante followed Mr. Thompson, speaking for the affirmative. He criticized the remarks of the previous speaker as being theoretical and not practically applicable to the facts of the case.

The statement, he held, that other nations possessed two chambers could not be applied to Canada with the same force, her population being as yet very small. He further asserted that all constitutional writers of the present day approved of the abolition of the Senate; that the Senate was not utilised for the purpose created, but rather was only continued for the purpose of giving seats to defeated members and he thought, if possible, this unfortunate state of affairs should be done away with as speedily as possible. If Ontario and other provinces succeeded without a second chamber it was a good and sufficient reason for the Dominion being also able to transmit its business without one.

Mr. Kenny then followed for the negative. He refuted the statement that there were only inferior men in the Senate. It would be unwise for any party to make unpopular appointments. The expense was no doubt great, but justifiable

UNDER THE CIRCUMSTANCES.

He cited the instance of Canada having framed its constitution on that of England—the most successful country in the world, and held that Canada could not do better than follow in the footsteps of the country from which she derived her existence. The comparison between the provinces of Ontario and the Dominion in reference to the matter, he thought, could not apply, as only local questions came before a provincial house, whereas such mighty matters had to be counselled by the Dominion Parliament that the adjudication of an Upper House was an absolute necessity.

It would be impossible to abolish the Senate without a revolution, as its formation was embodied in the constitution, and in order to do away with the Senate would have to vote itself out of existence, which it was hardly possible would occur.

Mr. Keogh then summed up the arguments of the previous speakers, and refuted Mr. Kenny's statement that a revolution would have to take place before the Senate could be abolished. The power, he held, which created that body could also abolish it.

Mr. D O'Connell, who occupied the chair during the evening, reviewed all the arguments used, picking out the strong points in an able manner. As the result of his criticism he pronounced himself in favour of the negative side of the question.

During the evening the following varied programme was rendered:—

Piano solo.....Miss K Hurley
Vocal solo.....Mrs Geo Ball
Fancy drill....Pupils of the Convent under the [supervision of Miss M Dougherty
Vocal Solo.....Miss K Simons
Quartette..Messrs Brown, Miller, Skitch and [Edgcumbe
Violin solo.....Miss Bell

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD.

Great Success of the "First Night" of Miss McCollum's new Setting of This Nursery Legend—A Crush House and Excellent Performance.

A Queen's "drawing room" is the only thing comparable, in the way of crush, to the attendance at St. John's school house last night to witness the presentation of the comedietta or rather operetta—for it was largely musical—of "Little Red Riding Hood" cleverely dramatized, by Miss Alma Frances McCollum. At an early hour every inch of standing space in the school house was occupied and for an hour after, the omnibus shibboleth—"always room for one more," added to the crush. And the interest of the occasion justified the large attendance for the little play was capitally put on and the several performers—stars as well as asteroids—cleverely filled their respective roles. Mr. Max Dennistoun acted as impressario and furnished the necessary explanatory eloquence. The performance was preluded by a spirited Christmas carol, sung in excellent manner by the members of St. John's Mission Band, under whose auspices this Twelfth Night performance was presented.

The following is the cast of characters of the little play:

Little Red Riding Hood.....Alice Firth
Red Riding Hood's Mother.....Eileen Rogers
Grandmother.....Dollie Comstock
Foresters: Hugh, Percy Clark; Dick, Jack Fessenden
Wolf.....Fred Sawers
Fairies: Violet, Geraldine Billington; Daisy, Lillian Dean
Brownie.....Alan Campbell

The stage setting was very good considering the limited capabilities of the platform of the school house room, and was true to what was required. The forest scene was especially effective. The first first scene represented Red Riding Hood's humble home; the second, the forest; the third, "granny's" cottage, and the acts corresponded to the three scenes.

The performance was an immense success from the rise of the curtain to the last—the dread denouement,—when the wolf reaped the reward of wickenness and was overthrown, and virtue was triumphant. Miss Alice Firth, in the title role, "Little Red Riding Hood," performed her part in a very capable manner, and is entitled to much praise. Her presentation of the part indicated considerable matured histrionic ability, quite free from the amateur gaucherie that characterizes new performers. Miss Eileen Rogers, as the mother, acted her part well, and in a very housewifely way. Master Fred Sawers, as the wolf, was well "got up," and exhibited a very appropriate lupine and blood curdling ferocity; Dollie Comstock was a fine "granny," Percy Clark and Jack Fessenden made two stalwart foresters; Lillian Dean and Violet Billington were fairy-like fairies, and Master Alan Campbell did the brownie "up brown." The Fairy and brownie scene was one of the prettiest of the play.

Altogether the performance was a most creditable and enjoyable one. Miss McCollum was most happy in her dramatization of the nursery legend. Not only was it quite above mediocrity in a literary sense, but its adaptation to stage presentation was excellent. The audience present are indebted to her for a decided treat, and the school house extension fund for a handsome addition to the treasury, as well as a stimulation of new interest. Mr. Dennistoun only voiced the feelings of all present when he most cordially thanked her and those who had acted with her.

Quite en regle, the chief performance was followed by a one-act farce, "The Tables Turned," in which the parts were taken, and taken in a capital manner, by the following artists:—

Molly.....Hazel Dean
Jack.....Roy Stone
Punch.....Warren Dean
Judy.....Addie Armstrong
Mr. Prat kins.....Mr F Lount

The excellent evening's entertainment was concluded by the singing of another carol by the girls of the Mission Band.

The excellent singing of the carols, as well as the unusually creditable manner in which the several performers did their work, is due to the indefatigable and effective training given by Miss McCollum, who has not spared any pains to arrive at the extremely satisfactory result, which must be a gratifying reward for the exertions she has made.

She was greatly assisted by Mrs. H. S. Greenwood, who as maitresse des robes, was of the greatest assistance, and by Mrs. Finnemore, who supplied the accompaniments to the carols, as well as other valuable assistance. Mrs. G. A. Smith performed the duties of the orchestra, and the lively music she furnished was greatly appreciated.

A special vote of thanks is due the performers; and all, who assisted in anyway in contributing to the marked financial and histrionic success of Little Red Riding Hood, are gratefully remembered.

So great was the success of the first night that the performance will be repeated next Thursday night in the school house at 7.30 o'clock, when the Sunday school children will be admitted free, and parents and others asked for a small per capita contribution.

HOME OF THE HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

Apartments Selected at Inverlea—The Next Meeting of the Society.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Richard Hall, in company with Col. H. C. Rogers and Mr. Hampden Burnham, representing the Historical Society, visited Inverlea House in the Nicholls Park and selected the rooms on the immediate right and left of the main entrance for the Society's permanent habitation. These apartments, in which the museum and general meeting rooms will be established, are the best of the kind in the Province without a doubt. The fine lofty rooms of the old Judge Dennistoun residence are most suitable in every way.

The museum will be on exhibition before long for the benefit of those who take an interest in such things. The Society is anxious to be of general benefit, and it is certainly a good thing that custodians have been found to take care of the many relics of former days in the County of Peterborough, which would inevitably be lost if not taken in hand. The Society will hold its first general meeting in the County Council Chamber next Saturday evening. The furniture to be used will be, as far as possible, of some historical interest, and will help to give a historical air to the general surroundings. Mr. Hall is anxious that the public should receive the full benefit of the munificent bequest of the late Mrs. Nicholls, and the Historical Society will assist him in so far as it can in carrying out the intention.

THE WEEK OF PRAYER.

Meetings held in the Mark Street and Charlotte Street Methodist Churches Last Night.

Very interesting services were held in the Mark street church, Ashburnham, and the Charlotte street church, last night. In the Charlotte street church there was a large attendance and a deeply impressive service. Many of the laymen and women took part in prayer. The subject was "the Home," which was presented in an address by the Rev. J. G. Potter. Among those present on the platform were Rev. Messrs. J. J. Rae, A. T. Dykeman, Wm. Grant, E. C. Cragg, W. M. Roger and Jas. G. Potter.

In Ashburnham a very appreciative and helpful address on "The Home" was given by Rev. Dr. Torrance. Rev. W. R. Young presided.

There ought to be a large and rousing meeting to-night in the George street Methodist church. Being the regular night for weekly prayer meeting, there will be a union of forces. The Rev. W. H. Young will lead the meeting, and the Rev. J. J. Rae will give an address on "Charitable Institutions."

THE FIRE BRIGADE'S ANNUAL MEETING.

THE OFFICERS ELECTED FOR THE ENSUING YEAR.

Statement of Fires Attended During 1896—The Boys had to Turn out Just 31 Times During the Year—Their Efficient Work Has Saved the Town Many Thousands of Dollars.

The annual meeting of Peterborough's crack Fire Brigade took place last evening with a large attendance of members.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Captain.....J Craig
1st Lieut.....J Hayes
2nd Lieut.....W Turner
Secretary.....J H Yelland
Treasurer.....C Rutherford
Janitor.....C Montgomery

The Treasurer's report shows a balance on hand of $39.45.

Appended will be found a statement of the various fires attended during the year by the Brigade:

January 1—E. Welsh's store, Hunter street, floor burnt.
January 17—Mrs. Foy's, No. 1 Ward, Brigade's services not required.
January 22—Mr. Webley, No. 3 Ward, Brigade's services not required.
March 21—Mr. Smith's greenhouse, Paterson street, Brigade's services not required.
March 25—On Elm street, services not required.
April 6—Mr. Donovan's residence, Charlotte street, Brigade's services not required.
April 8—Mr. McKee's residence, Water street, chimney.
April 26—Mr. W. Aldridge's residence, Weller street.
May 11—Mr. Gilchrist's residence, Murray street, services not required.
May 14—Meldrum & McAllister's mill, No. 4 Ward.
May 18—False alarm from No. 1 box.
May 23—Ruins of Meldrum & McAllister's mill.
May 24—False alarm for Dickson Coy's yards.
May 30—Fire at W. B. Kelly's mill, Bridgenorth.
June 3—Miss Rudkin's store; services not required.
June 13—Test alarm in No. 4 ward.
June 20—Mr. Carnegie's residence in Smith.
July 2—Grass on Charlotte street.
July 3—Matthews barns, Ashburnham.
July 23—Canadian General Electric Works.
August 8—Behind the Charlotte rink, services not required.
August 23—Col. Gibson's residence, Park street.
Sept. 15—R. Hall's store; services not required.
September 27—G Schneider's stables, London street.
September 30—Wesley's store, George street.
October 4th—Mr. J. Haggart's residence, Brock street.
October 21—Mrs. P. Kenny's residence, Charlotte street.
October 25—Dickson Coy's big fire.
November 21—Lockington's residence.
December 15—Underwriters' test.
December 27—False alarm.

It will be seen that in all there were 31 fires, to which the brigade turned out. On no occasion could fault be found with the manner in which the boys fell to work and without doubt their zeal has saved the citizens many thousands of dollars. The alacrity with which Peterborough's fire laddies, under their able staff of officers, answer every call upon them, speaks well for the administration of that department. If all the civic servants discharged their duties as faithfully and efficiently as the members of the Fire Brigade, their would be no cause for complaint.

Thousands of women are cast-up dead on the shores of life because of their own ignorance or neglect. No woman can be free from pain, or safe from the ever-threatening breakers of death, who neglects to take proper care of the organs that constitute her womanhood. A woman who neglects her womanly-self will be sickly, nervous, pain-racked and fretful, and approaching maternity will be a menace of the grave. It is easy for a woman to avoid this suffering and danger.

Wise women know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a marvelous remedy for those troubles that make a woman's life miserable, and fill the period of prospective motherhood with fears. It is the discovery of an eminent and skillful specialist, Dr. R. V. Pierce, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Over 90,000 women have testified to the almost miraculous action of this wonderful remedy. It works directly on the organs distinctly feminine. It makes them strong and healthy. It cures all weakness and disease. It prepares for wifehood and motherhood. It insures baby's health and makes its advent easy and nearly painless. Druggists sell it. Nothing else is "just as good."

Mrs. G. A. Connor, of Alleghany Spring, Montgomery Co., Va., writes: "My daughter, aged 15 years, had a goitre coming on her neck and it disfigured her very much. I am happy to say that it has disappeared after the use of one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

SIR JOSEPH HICKSON DEAD.

The Former Manager of the Grand Trunk Succumbs to a General Break-Up.

Montreal, Jan. 4.—(Special.)—The procession continues with alarming regularity. Sir Joseph Hickson, ex-general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, died at noon to-day, aged 67 years. Sir Joseph was first seized at his office a little more than three weeks ago, and was taken to his home, where medical assistance was called, and the patient was found to be very much run down and was not able to again leave his room. A few days later symptoms which pointed to the possibility of approaching paralysis manifested themselves, and he was compelled to take to his bed. Dr. Craik, dean of the medical faculty of McGill University, was in constant attendance and did all in his power to grapple with the disease, but Sir Joseph sank lower and lower, and at noon yesterday the long-feared change came. The paralytic stroke deprived him not only of the use of his limbs, but even of speech, and he became unconscious, lingering for 24 hours, but recovering neither his reason nor the use of his limbs. The end came quietly, life ebbing away peacefully and without pain.

The remains of Archbishop Fabre were removed to-day from the palace to the Cathedral, Mgr. O'Brien presiding over the levee du corps, and Bishops Sweeney, Langevin, Gravel, Duhamel and Emard also being present.

As Archbishop O'Brien of Halifax passed out of the palace to-day an eminent Sulpician priest, who has just returned from Rome, remarked to your correspondent: "There goes the next Canadian Cardinal."

The news spread like wildfire to-day that Yvette Guilbert, who had been booked by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murphy to appear at the Monument National on Monday, Jan. 18, would not be allowed to sing under any circumstances. The St. Jean Baptiste Society own the hall, and it is in reality controlled by the Seminary of St. Sulpice, which explains why the lady has been shut out. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy have secured the Windsor Hall.

THE WOMEN TOO.

Back Talk Not Man's Monopoly.

Mrs. Jemima Cole, Havelock, told the following wonderful story:—"For a great many years I have suffered from disease of the kidneys. The pains in my back and side were sometimes excruciating.

"My limbs were so swollen that I could scarcely lift my feet from the floor, and I was in great agony nearly all the time. I thought that I would surely die from the pain.

"I have taken dozens of advertised remedies, and got no better during their use. I was also treated by several doctors, but am sorry to say they did me little or no good. In fact they stated that they could do me no good, which made me despair of ever getting better.

"When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised I sent to W. H. Jeff & Co's. drugstore and got a box thinking I would try them as a last resort.

"The change from the start was very great and now after one month I am free from all pain. The swelling has gone down and I feel quite strong and healthy.

"I was also troubled with rheumatism and neuralgia which have completely disappeared, thanks to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. In fact I do not think there is a medicine in the world that in such a short time could have taken me from the almost dying condition in which I was to the healthy and vigorous state that I am in now.

"I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for their wonderful virtues in curing kidney troubles."

DREAM WITHIN A DREAM.

Story Told by a Broker That Terrified an Attentive Listener.

They were discussing the subject of dreams, says the Detroit Free Press, and the broker, after hearing from most of the others, declined to advance an opinion, but said he would relate a dream he once had, and leave his hearers to draw their own conclusions.

"I was a young man of active habits and anxious to get rich by the shortest possible method consistent with honesty. I found myself in the western part of what is now the State of Washington. I met a rough miner who said he was about to depart for the section where the Blewett gold mines are now being operated, and wanted me to go along. His inducement was that we could realize 50 cents a pan at placer miner, which was a dazzling bonanza.

"I also met a man whom I had known in the East, and he advised against the project, because my proposed partner was under suspicion. He had started out on half a dozen expeditions with some tenderfoot, and always reurned alone, though nothing had been proven against him. But I resisted all opposing advice and went. The third night out we spread our blankets early and laid down, for we were tired, and a storm threatened. It must have been about midnight when I had the most blood-curdling dream. As plainly as I see you gentlemen now I saw that rough miner, who was accustomed to losing men whom he took out, standing over me with a drawn bowie and about to plunge it into my breast.

"I could not scream or move to offer resistance. The very terror of the situation must have awakened me. The cold sweat was pouring from every pore, and it was only when I realized the immediate safety of my position that I could move. Stealthily I moved with my trappings to where my horse was tethered, hastily prepared him for the journey, and soon went galloping over the back trail. I imagined pursuit, but no shots were fired, and my escape was assured."

"Did the man turn out to be a murderer?"

"What man? The whole thing was a dream, I told you. There was a dream within a dream. I was never west of St. Louis in my life."

A Way to Test Your Eyesight,

You may be your own oculist, and in a very practical and simple way. All you need is a stereoscope and a photograph.

That arrangement in which the picture holder slides up and down a flat frame, trombone fashion, is the best sort of stereoscope for the purpose, although any will do, and the photograph that will give the best results is a cabinet size view of some locality, with people in it.

You put the photograph in the holder and focus it just so that you can see the faces clearly. Then close the left eye and look at the picture intently with your right eye, while you count thirty slowly. Now close the right eye and look at the picture with the left eye for the same time. Then open both eyes and stare at the picture without changing the focus.

Something queer will happen. The figures on the one side of the view will seem to move across the view and group themselves with those on the other side, and—this is the point of the experiment—the figures will always move away from the weak eye. Moreover, they move with a very precise relation of speed to the weakness of vision.

If the left eye, for example, is quite weak, the figures will move very quickly across the plane of sight to the right side, while if there is but a slight defect, the movement will be gradual, and so on.

A queer thing about this experiment is that, simple as it seems, it will bring out defects of vison that have never been suspected, and another queer thing is that it will demonstrate the cases in which both eyes are of equal power to be surprisingly exceptional.

Tit For Tat.

A British sailor being a witness in a murder case, was called to the stand and was asked by the counsel for the Crown whether he was for the plaintiff or defendant.

"Plaintiff or defendant?" said the sailor, scratching his head. "Why, I don't know what you mean by plaintiff or defendant. I come to speak for me friend," pointing to the prisoner.

"You're a pretty fellow for a witness," said the counsel, "not to know what plaintiff or defendant means."

Later in the trial the counsel asked the sailor what part of the ship he was in at the time of the murder.

"Abaft the binnacle, me lord," said the sailor.

"Abaft the binnacle?" replied the barrister. "What part of the ship is that?"

"Ain't you a pretty feller for a counsellor," said the sailor, grinning at the counsel, "not to know what abaft the binnacle is!"

The court laughed.—Harper's Round Table.

A Venomous Bird.

New Guinea is the home of the most wonderful feathered creature known to the student of ornithology—the awful rpir n'doob, or "bird of death." The venom of this bird is more deadly than that of any serpent except the cobra. In fact, no antidote for the bite of the creature is known. A wound from its beak causes excruciating pains in every part of the body, loss of sight, speech and hearing, convulsions, lockjaw and certain death.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Brickmaker Listens to Reason—Uses Six Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and Tells it.

Brockville, Jan. 4 (Special)—Mr. W. H. Odell, perhaps one of the best known citizens of this town has lately recovered from a long continued and painful kidney ailment. He tells the story of his experience to the correspondent as follows:

"I have suffered for over a year from kidney disease, the pain in my back being so severe that I was unable to stand to my work."

"Noticing the published cures of what Dodd's Kidney Pills were doing for others I concluded to use them."

"Having used only six boxes I can say that I am perfectly cured and well so that I can attend to business as well as ever I could."

Rain in the Desert.

A rainstorm in the Colorado desert is a stranger thing than many of the curious tales which for ages gave Herodotus a unique reputation among historians for mendacity. During a rainstorm in the Colorado desert not a single drop of water touches the earth. The rain can be seen falling from the clouds high above the desert, but when the water reaches the trata of hot, dry air beneath the clouds it is entirely absorbed before falling half the distance to the ground.

Exploring Australia.

In June last an expedition started with the object of exploring central Australia, says the Detroit News. It is not generally known that there is an unexplored region in that island continent six times the size of England. The great difficulty of pushing into this terra incognita has always been its waterless character. The new expedition, under the command of Mr. L. A. Wells, is provided with camels and equipped with all necessaries.

Two Box Cure

MILVERTON, 8TH JULY, 1895.

Gentlemen.—For the last ten years I had been troubled with kidney disease, being so bad at intervals that I could not lie in bed at night nor stoop to the ground.

I had tried all the remedies I could find without effect, but heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured a box.

I am most happy to say it for my own sake as well as for others that I am perfectly cured after using four boxes.

Nervous Prostration
Complete Recovery by the Use of
Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. HINSON, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

SOCIETY'S LATEST.

THOUGHT PHOTOGRAPHY HAS BECOME THE SCIENTIFIC FAD.

The Results of Experiments of Dr. Baraduc, as Found in His Report to the Academy of Medicine, the Basis—What They Are.

A new fad has seized upon society. Thought photography clubs have been formed with surprising and sometimes startling results. By fixing the gaze upon an undeveloped photographic plate or even holding these plates in the hands, figures of persons and forms of a very extraordinary character have been produced when these plates were developed. The facts in the matter are well substantiated.

This is far and away more interesting than palmistry and crystal-gazing. A brilliant society woman who is up to date in everything, including the latest scientific discoveries, reflected that if Dr. Baraduc, the Parisian electro-therapeutist, could obtain these pictures and astonish the French Academy of Medicine with them, she ought to be able to do the same, since the method was simplicity itself, and the cost not worth considering, nothing more being necessary than a box of plates and from two to a dozen people who were capable of concentrating their thoughts on a given person or subject for a few minutes.

Inviting a few trusted friends, a circle was formed and a box containing four unopened plates placed in the center. The results were astonishing when the plates were developed. She was an amateur photographer herself and did the developing. Luminous pictures made their appearance. On the top plate no distinct form was visible, but in the shadowy outlines various figures and faces could be discerned by a lively imagination. On the next plate, however, there was a well-defined finger shape, across which lay a light figure that might be held to resemble a female. But the really startling result was the pictures which developed themselves on the two middle plates. On these were distinct faces, recognised by members of the circle as perfect pictures of living friends they had held in their thoughts. In one case the photograph was that of a brother who had been lost at sea. All the plates had pictures, but some were positives and others were negatives. Two had to be transformed to a lantern-slide before they could be printed from.

The thing was a success, and now society has a fad that it will not tire of for some time to come.

How is this photography accomplished? Dr. Baraduc's explanation is that every human being has the power of expressing conscious or unconscious thought exteriorly. He believes that a mysterious, impalpable force resides in and emanates from the human body. In the sphere formed about us by this vital emanation our thoughts create forms which the sensitive plate seizes upon and retains. The discovery of the Roentgen rays was a preparation for this statement. Dr. Baraduc has proved his statement in regard to the existence of this luminous radiation by his magnetometers and by photographs, over 300 of which he reproduced in his report read before the Academy of Medicine, "The Photography of Thought." The society women must be well up in this knowledge and know that the magnetometers are small dials marked off with 360 degrees. Over the surface of each dial moves a fine needle as carefully balanced and as free as possible. The dial is protected from all exterior influences by a glass globe. Not a breath of air can move the hands. These, moreover, are of especially prepared copper and are not subject to magnetism.

The investigator points both hands toward the magnetometers and watches what follows. In about two minutes, if he or she is of normal temperature, he sees the needle nearest his left hand move away from zero so far as degree 5. It is repelled. At the same time the needle nearest the right hand is attracted 15 degrees. It moves toward the fingers of the right hand. The existence of the vital force is next demonstrated in a more definite manner. All light is excluded from the parlor or laboratory, and a photographic plate is interposed between the hands and the magnetometers. Under these conditions the nitrate of silver of the plate is incapable, according to all previous experience, of receiving any impression except by actually touching some substance. It would remain intact for an indefinite period. But here Dr. Baraduc's vital force comes into play. When the plates are developed in a bath by the members of the thought-photography club, it is found that the one which was nearest the left hand has received one impression and that which was nearest the right another. It, therefore, seems that the vital force has not only penetrated the glass, but is luminous.

The photograph proves it, and the skeptical may, with the greatest ease, make tests for themselves.

Dr. Baraduc calls the vital force given out on the left side the "expir" and that attracted on the right side the "aspir."

The experiment has been repeated 300 times, and in every case the photographic plate has shown an impression.

The members of the club are instructed that it is to be noted that while the left side exerts only five degrees of force, the right absorbs fifteen. There remains a difference of ten degrees accumulated in the system. This, according to Dr. Baraduc, is psychic force, which can be exerted on external objects by the will.

This brings us to the most important part of the experiments. The magnetometers are taken away and a society man places himself in front of a fresh photographic plate. He extends his hands in the direction of the plate and is requested to think of some one particular thing with all the energy and concentration of mind of which he is capable.

At the end of a period which varies from two minutes to two hours the plate is impressed by a sort of luminous cloud, in which the outlines of certain objects can be discerned. These vary in distinctness, according to the character of the thinker, and can only be expected to appear when he has fixed his mind on some concrete and clearly defined subject.

The kind of thought photograph most easy to produce is a likeness of some person.—San Francisco Call.

The best way to cure disease is to drive it from the system by purifying the blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

How Lincoln Kept Books.

In his early life Abraham Lincoln had a primitive method of keeping books. At the time his law partner, John T. Stuart, represented the Springfield district in congress, Lincoln was forced, much against his will, to keep an account of some kind. The plan he adopted was somewhat remarkable. When he received a fee he divided it in halves. His half he put in his pocket; Stuart's portion he put in an envelope and, labeling it "Stuart's half," threw it into a drawer until his partner's return from Washington.

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Send 5c. silver to cover postage and address, Mr. Geo. G. Strong, North Rockwood, Mich.

Progressive Hens

Russian hens are progressive. They laid 11,000,000 eggs for export in 1870, 235,000,000 in 1885, and 1,250,000,000 last year. The eggs are sold in Russia at from 6 to 10 cents a dozen. They are exported to Hungary, then sold to Germany as Hungarian eggs, and finally to England as German eggs.

North Sea Fishing Fleet.

The number of smacks employed in deep sea fishing in the North Sea is over 5000. They fish in fleets of 150 vessels. Over 20,000 men are employed in this fishery alone, and they remain at sea never less than two months at a time.

THE MITTER.

The night was frosty, bright and clear,
And Bessie, cozy as a kitten,
Was snuggled at my side, her dear
Small hand held in mine, for fear
It might chill through her mitten.

The sleigh bells jingled. I, absurd,
With Bessie's charms was deeply smitten.
The mare skimmed onward like a bird;
Of love I uttered not a word,
But still clasped hand and mitten.

"'Tis love that makes the world go round."
No truer words were ever written.
My tongue and Bessie's lips I found;
And when we parted, on the ground
I found her tiny mitten.

I have it yet. It's contraband.
My wife don't know how I was bitten.
'Twas long ago, you understand.
Some other fellow got her hand,
And I—I got the mitten.

The camel is a beast of great strength and endurance. Nothing hurts it until the proverbial "last straw" is added to its burden. The human digestive system is very much like a camel. It is really astonishing how much abuse it will stand. Sometimes, however, something worse than usual will be eaten, and will go through the stomach into the bowels, and then it will stick—that's constipation. Nine-tenths of all human sickness is due to constipation. Some of the simplest symptoms are coated tongue, foul breath, dizziness, heartburn, flatulence, sallowness, distress after eating, headaches and lassitude. A little thing will cause constipation, and a little thing will relieve it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a certain cure for constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules, mild and natural in their action. There is nothing injurious about them. Sold by druggists.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD
Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognized this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

HOCKEY.

So many clubs in the O. H. A. have sent in red and white as their colours that some change will have to be made when clubs sporting those tints meet, or when two teams play who have colours identical. Secretary Beaton will notify each club at once that before competing it will be necessary for the home team to notify the visiting club of the colours proposed to be worn by the home seven. In case both teams have chosen the same colours the visitors will have to make a change in their uniforms. This forewarning will possibly do away with a difficulty which it would be hard to remedy if the teams came on the ice similarly costumed, with no preparation made for a change of uniform by either team.

The Globe says: The adherents of Peterborough and Stratford think that it is all over but the hurrahing, and are both confident that they will scoop in the championship in the senior division. Queen's, Varsity and T.A.C. will adduce some strong arguments before the season is over, which may cause them to change their views.

Because Peterborough has three teams in the O.H.A. series a slight change has been made in the intermediate and junior series, which does away with having this club travel so much in case they win their first rounds of these respective series. The change made is as follows:

In the first round of the intermediate series, group 4, the play-off between the winners of the Kingston and Peterborough groups will take place on the ice of the latter. This arrangement was made because of the fact that Peterborough with its three teams will have a great deal of travelling before the season is over.

Junior series, second round, under No. IX—Winners of I. play winners of II. on ice of winners of I.

CURLIANA.

A meeting of the Thistle Curling Club will be held this evening to elect skips for the Lindsay competition and for the Lindsay-Peterborough Cup. Every member is requested to be present.

LACROSSE.

The Lacrosse Club wish to thank Mr. G. E. Whiten, photographer, for a most handsome photograph of the club of 1896. The picture is on view in Mr. W. A. Sanderson's store, and is resplendent in a gilt frame. It has been decided that the photo is to be in the possession of the captain of the club each year, so at present Mr. George Lipsett is its proud owner. Needless to say Mr. Whiten's gift is greatly appreciated. The familiar faces of Messrs. W. A. Sanderson, R. J. Fife, James McCabe, Lionel King and Jos. Begley are missed from the group, as they were unable to be present. A new photo is, however, being taken which will include them.

Lacrosse will start in with a big boom next season, as arrangements are already being made to have the opening game with the "Young Capitals," of Ottawa.

CATTLE, FRUIT, FISH

The Subjects Before the U. S. Tariff Commission.

HIT BY CANADIAN COMPETITION.

Mr. Sherman Opposed to Cattle Duties Because They Shut Out Mexican Live Stock—Wilson Bill Has Killed the Cattle Trade of California, Says Mr. Bowers.

Washington, D.C., Jan. 5.—Before the Ways and Means Committee to-day, cattlemen having interests in grazing in Mexico and Kansas opposed high duties on cattle as injurious to the farmers as well as the cattlemen. Mr. Sherman, representing, he said, two-thirds of the cattle importers from Mexico, also opposed high duties as inimical to the interests of farmers, feeders and dealers. Mr. Sherman thought that the high duties on cattle had been decided upon by Congress to keep out Canadian competition, without thought of Mexican business.

Congressman Curtis of Kansas asked to have restored the duty of $1 a head on all cattle one year old or over, and $2 a head on calves less than one year old. Curtis would have a duty absolutely prohibitory on every agricultural product that can be raised in this country. Kansas would like duties on hay, oats and flaxseed."

Representative Bowers of California declared that the Wilson law had killed the cattle business in California. He then turned his attention to the fruit trade, for which he demanded a high protective tariff. Such a tariff would not increase prices. If given protection California would flood the country with certain grades of fruit and he said $16,000,000 now sent abroad for fruit would be kept at home. Then representatives of the National Grange urged for a bounty on exports of agricultural products. Others asked for specific duties. The representative of the National Hay Association wanted a duty of $4 a ton on that product. He did not refer to the competition from pauper hay, but he told the committee the eastern farmers suffered from Canadian competition. He also asked for a restoration of the McKinley duties on hops, which was 15 cents per pound (it is now 8 cents), and he said that if the American hop growers did not soon receive aid through tariff legislation by having the duty on foreign hops placed at not less than 15 cents per pound they would be driven out of business.

Representatives asked for protective duties on rice and macaroni.

Then pro and con speakers were heard on the salt duties, and C. H. McCue of Boston took up the rights of the United States fishermen. He asked for an increase of 3-4 of a cent per pound in the duty of mackerel, 1-4c on cod and a new clause giving 1 1-2c on skinned and boneless and all other fish. The Dominion authorities, he said, hampered American fishermen in every way possible, denying them all commercial rights and treating them in the most brutal manner.

B. F. De Buts of Boston, representing some sixty firms, claimed that Mr. McCue did not speak for all fishermen. In fact he did not represent more than 15 per cent. of them. He thought the present rate of duty on fish was sufficient and did not want more. American fishermen would not be protected by the increase, he said, as the statistics showed that over 85 per cent. of the men engaged on our fishing vessels were foreigners coming here during the season, and at its end returning to their homes.

S. S. Smith of Boston said Mr. De Buts represented only importers and did not speak for the fishermen.

Representative Moddy of Massachusetts was given permission to file a written reply to Mr. De Buts as far as his statement referred to the fishermen of Massachusetts.

F. W. Kelsey, representing the Florists' Club of New York city, advocated a duty of ten per cent. ad valorem on all trees, shrubs, vines and bulbs.

The committee adjourned until to-morrow morning, when schedule K., raw wool, will be taken up.

MURPHY GETS BACK.

But Seven Men are Still Missing From the Wrecked Commodore.

Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 5.—Capt. Edward Murphy, the commander of the wrecked filibustering steamer Commodore, and the remainder of those saved from the wreck, arrived in this city from Daytona last night. Seven men are still missing, and are believed to be drowned.

When asked if there was treachery on board, Captain Murphy said last night: "No, I do not think so." It was neglect more than anything else."

Paul Rojo, the Cuban commander, said: "I think the engineer was drunk and neglected his duties."

DON'T!

Don't slack up or quit advertising altogether as soon as the holiday season is over. Don't say: "Well, we can't sell goods in the dull season, no matter how hard we try, and advertising is just money thrown away." Your hustling competitor, with no better chance or location than you have, keeps business booming all the time by advertising all the time in the most vigorous way. He has no "dull season," why should you?

The pushing, prompt, persistent men
Who advertise each day,
In every year, can always make
Their advertising pay.

General Grant once said there is a time in every battle when each side thinks it is whipped. He learned by experience that if he kept up the fight until the other side thought it was whipped, he was pretty sure to win. There is something for advertisers to learn from this. If, when they begin to think, advertising does not pay, they would fight a little harder to make it pay, they would be pretty sure to win.

Facts About Blue-Eyed Cats.

It is a curious fact that blue-eyed cats are invariably deaf. Mr. J. Harrison Weir, a great authority on the cat, once bought a big, white, blue-eyed beauty, which seemed to be every inch a good cat, except that its vocal organ was of such robust power that her cries drove the household frantic. After some strange experiences the problem was solved by this voiceful specimen being taken home by a kind, old lady, who was herself stone deaf.

Commence the New Year by being a little more particular about your Clothes.

Some Men

Buy Clothes like they take an emetic—shut their eyes and down it goes. Then they expect everything to turn out all right. Anything seems good enough for them, as long as it looks well—until some day the colour begins to fade, the buttons begin to drop off, seams begin to rip, linings give out—then they know the difference.

WISER MEN

Investigate before they buy, and come here to be measured. The result is they are always well dressed, because their clothes are built on honour, made of trustworthy fabrics, and finished by tailors who have their reputation at stake.

LONG MAY SHE REIGN

The Story of the Queen's Abdication Was Groundless.

HER KNOWLEDGE IS UNIMPAIRED

And Our Gracious Sovereign Will Occupy the Throne During Her Life—The Pacific Cable Commission Favors the Immediate Construction of an All British Line.

London, Jan. 6.—(Julian Ralph's cable to The New York Journal.)—The legend of Queen Victoria's approaching abdication is now quite an old friend. In the Jubilee year many people had quite comfortably fixed this little family arrangement up. It was so natural, so just and so obvious, they said.

Now! the same people are saying the same thing, with the happy consciousness, if they would only admit it, that the Queen is resolved to reign on during the rest of her natural life. The sentimental side of this matter does not count here. If the Prince of Wales was to have had a chance he ought to have had it many years ago, when it was possible to infuse that measure of life and vitality into the forms of royalty which would have delighted the commercial instincts of the nation and gratified the popular liking for display.

Despite her bodily infirmity, which practically reduces her to carriage exercise, the Queen retains unimpaired her knowledge of affairs, her practical common-sense and her sound judgment, and is probably a better monarch than any possible living successor would be. Sentiment apart, her retirement would not be popular, and it certainly would not be practical nor desirable, from a British point of view.

The Prince of Wales carries his sportsmanlike instincts to seeing with resignation his chances of ascending the throne diminishing yearly. He loses nothing in public estimation thereby, and if he doesn't get the greater glory he gets all the solid advantages of his rank.

MUST BE ALL BRITISH.

The Pacific Cable to be Finished in Two Years Will Cost $10,000,000.

London, Jan. 6.—The report of the Pacific Cable Commission was signed this afternoon on behalf of the British, Australian and Canadian Governments, after many months of investigation. The result, which is kept strictly secret for the present, is awaited with keen interest, as the first tangible product of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain's aggressive colonial policy, an important step towards establishing British supremacy in the Pacific and supplying the Empire with trunk line Imperial cables, free from possible foreign interference. It is understood that the report favors laying a cable at the earliest possible moment between Vancouver and Australia under joint subsidies by England, Canada, certain Australian colonies and New Zealand. It must touch none but British territory, leaving Hawaii to be tapped by a branch line.

The Laurier Government made Canadian support absolutely conditional upon the absence of foreign stations, which would destroy the strategic value of the cable to the Empire in case of war.

The Canadian delegate strongly favored the construction and operation of the cable as a joint Government enterprise by an Imperial-Colonial cable trust—England, Canada and Australia—each paying one-third of the cost.

English official opinion, supported by some of the Australasian colonies, backed by strenuous opposition to the existing Eastern Company monopoly, favored a subsidy to an independent company, which course probably will be adopted.

The cable will cost about $10,000,000 to put down, and will be ready within two years. The project now awaits the approval of the Imperial and Colonial Cabinets, and the passage of the necessary votes by the various Legislatures. The only difficulty is expected in Australia, where intercolonial rivalries are certain to create opposition.

The Canadian Gazette says that the report of the Pacific Cable Commission will be signed this week, after which it will be submitted to the legislative bodies of the colonies interested. It is believed that the report of the commission will satisfy the desires for the establishment of a Pacific cable service.

CLARA AND JANOS

The Princess de Chimay Sends a Letter to a Brussels Newspaper.

Brussels, Jan. 6.—The Chimay scandal is now the talk of Europe. The Princess has sent a long letter to a paper here, wherein she said:

"I come from a country where men and women are not more infallible than elsewhere but have the courage of their opinions. If need be Americans brave prejudices, public opinion, stupid talk, falsehood and calumny. I followed the fashion of the matrimonial union of nobility of rank with the nobility of money, noblesse blason et noblesse argent, and I was wrong. Instead of practising duplicity and hypocrisy, I preferred to leave the conjugal roof. My marriage with Rigo is, moreover, a thing now quite settled."

The Princess absolutely denies all interviews emanating from Buda Pest, as well as anecdotes that she tattooed her arm. She declares she never said anything to reporters, and, at the same time, she confirms the statement that she has nothing to reproach the Prince with. The Princess finally pays the highest possible praise to the self-help and progress accomplished in the instruction of the young American girl.

A despatch received here to-day from Buda Pest records there is a rumor that the Princess, for want of money, will appear as a singer at a cafe concert. Rigo has studied the violin at the Brussels Conservatoire, and for two years belonged to the orchestra at the Theatre de la Monnaie."

LADY SCOTT'S CASE.

The Defence Opened in a Detailed Speech by Mr. Walton, M. P.

London, Jan. 6.—To-day's proceedings in the trial of the action of Earl Russell against Lady Scott, his mother-in-law, and others for criminal libel, began with the opening of the case for the defence. John L. Walton, M. P., counsel for Lady Scott, made the opening speech, the court room being crowded with friends of Lady Scott who had assembled to hear her defence. Mr. Walton contended that Lady Scott had not prosecuted Earl Russell, as alleged, but had only interfered in behalf of her daughter, Earl Russell's unhappy wife. Alluding to other defendants, counsel said that Kast, even upon his deathbed, had not shown any sign of wishing to remove a cloud from his conscience by retracting anything that he had previously said.

Mr. Walton continued by criticizing the life which Earl Russell had led, and maintained that Lady Scott was justified in seeking to alter public opinion of him as a husband.

GENERAL CABLE NEWS.

Famine in India Described as the Most Widespread of the Century.

London, Jan. 6.—A Bombay despatch to The Daily Mail reports that all of the leading journals there describe the famine as the most widespread of the present century. It is the general opinion that the Viceroy erra in refusing English aid.

Japan Buys a Warship

London, Jan. 6.—The Times announces that Brazil has sold the cruiser Almirante Barrozo, which has just been built at the Elswick works, to Japan.

The Sultan is Defiant.

London, Jan. 6.—The correspondent of The Times at Constantinople says that diplomacy there credits the palace with inciting the Asiatic provincial Governors to foment demonstrations against the proposed reforms in the provinces.

TRAINING RAILROADERS.

A School Established at Niagara Falls for the Grand Trunk—Notes From the Cataract Town.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Jan. 6.—(Special.)—A school for the training of Grand Trunk employes has been formed here. The Westinghouse air brake is receiving the attention of the instructors at present. The method of working the brake and rapid repairs are being studied.

The Grand Trunk Fire Department of this town was greatly surprised when Supt. Broughton presented them with a cash prize and declared they had won the annual race against time, for the southern division.

Corporals E. A. Fischer and E. L. Brown of No. 1 Company, 44th Battalion, left this morning to take a course in the Royal Military College.

The monthly returns of the Customs Department at this place are: Imports $53,888, and exports $18,587. The collections from duties only amount to $7559.77.

The new transfer sheds at the M.C.R. Montrose yards, are still unopened. It was expected they would be opened at the beginning of the year, but nothing in connection with them will be done until traffic, which is now dull, regains sufficiently to make the transferring methods pay the company for their operation.

The town band was around the town almost all last night serenading the successful candidates.

Capt. Carter's patent acetylene gas generator has been pronounced a success, and the Wilson Carbide Gas Company at Merritton, who manufacture the gas, have introduced it in the factory. The generators will all be manufactured at this place, and, as the new gas becomes an article of commerce, a successful industry will be built up. The generator is not only an improvement on the articles now in use, but will be sold considerably cheaper. Capt. Carter said he would be able to place a generator for 15 to 25 lights on the market for about $40. This will enable farmers and others living in isolated residences to hang their houses lighted with a brighter and more cheerful light than is now seen in the town and city mansions.

Mr. C. Patten of Niagara Falls South is at present working on a difficult job across the river. During the past summer he built four large stone foundations for the new steel arch bridge, which will replace the upper Suspension Bridge. Near one of these foundations is the mouth of the big tunnel, and the water, rushing out of the tunnel with such rapidity, runs farther up the stream than was expected. The force of the water carried away a portion of the bank and undermined the bridge foundation. The work now under way is to strengthen the foundation, build a breakwater and blast away a portion of the rock on the lower side of the tunnel, which will cause the water to flow down stream.

A rumor has been freely circulated about here that the Canadian Niagara Power Company have been granted an extension of time, four years being stated as the limit. This is without foundation, as the company or the park officials have heard nothing of it, and furthermore the company only asked for an 18-months' extension to get the work prepared. The rumor however had the effect of disturbing the peace of mind of many real estate holders, and caused ill-feeling against the politicians, who it was presumed had granted the extension. The Canadian Niagara Power Company claim they have good reasons to expect the requested extension and have just paid in the quarter's rental on the option held by them. They are a bona fide company and purpose beginning immediate operations on a rapid development, as soon as a market for 5000 horse-power of electricity can be secured on the Canadian side. Other power sufficient to pay expenses will be exported to the Buffalo market. A portion of the 5000 horse-power will be taken as soon as developed by the Pittsburg Reduction Company, who will operate a branch of the aluminum works on the Canadian side of the river. The Carbide Company will also start a branch of their works on this side. The company is willing to develop the power, but the market is lacking.

One of the candidates for the council in the West Ward, who was defeated by one vote, is dissatisfied and a re-count will be the probable result.

The Niagara Central train broke down again at St. Catharines to-day and, consequently, the scheduled connection at this place was not made this afternoon. The road will be in operation again to-morrow.

The Rosit Hotel had a narrow escape from fire this afternoon. The electric light wires set fire to the wood work in the front hall and the flames were extinguished with difficulty, although very little damage resulted.

Samuel Neale, son of Alderman S. Neale, died of typhoid fever this afternoon, after a short illness.

Alderman Davis banqueted the Mayor and members of the new council last evening.

Trainmaster Cunningham of the G.T.R. was in town to-day.

J. G. Boultbee, Inspector of Customs, was in town to-day.

H. C. Hammond of Toronto and William Hendrie of Hamilton, directors of the electric road, were the guests of Manager Phillips to-day.

Henry Wood, an aged gentleman, residing with his son-in-law, Mr. M. M. Buckley, fell down stairs last night and sustained serious injuries. Mr. Wood has been in delicate health for some time, and this accident may prove dangerous to his life.

SEATON WILL DIE.

Caretaker of the Royal Insurance Building Falls Downstairs This Morning and Fractures His Skull.

Toronto, Jan. 7.

Between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning, while at work in the Royal Insurance Company's building at the corner of Wellington and Yonge-streets, Thomas Seaton, the caretaker, suddenly slipped and fell down the stairway. He was picked up immediately and Dr. Garrett summoned by P. C. Armstrong (44). It was found that the unfortunate man's skull was fractured and little hopes are entertained for his recovery. Mr. Seaton is 68 years of age.

IT WILL BE LIVELY.

The Coming Bye-Election in St. Boniface Will be a Fight of the Church Against the Government.

Winnipeg, Jan. 6.—(Special.)—The election in St. Boniface to fill the vacancy in the Legislature, caused by Hon. Mr. Prendergast's retirement, will be a most interesting contest. St. Boniface is exclusively Catholic, but it is alleged that a large element is willing to give the schools settlement a fair trial. J. Ernest Cyr, who spoke at the Laurier banquet in Montreal, will likely be the candidate of this element. He will no doubt be bitterly opposed by the church, but will have the active assistance of the Greenway Government and Hon. Mr. Prendergast's not insignificant following.

Hon. Mr. Fielding sent a wire to-day to Mr. R. L. Richardson, M.P., that the Tariff Commission would visit Winnipeg, though dates could not be fixed just now.

In addition to its heavy flour shipments to Australia the Lake of the Woods Milling Company is shipping there one thousand tons of Manitoba wheat for home grinding.

HARRY HASSARD'S DEATH

It is Thought the Shock of Seeing Mrs. Lucas Fall Brought on Heart Failure.

Toronto, Jan. 7.

Mr. Harry Hassard, a young man of 28 years, who lived with his widowed mother at 45 Camden-street, died suddenly Tuesday night. He entered his home and began to retire about 10 o'clock, and when half undressed fell back on his bed and died three minutes later, before a doctor could be summoned. Mrs. Hassard thought the demise peculiar, and had a post-mortem performed by Drs. Atkins and Little, who pronounced death as the result of heart disease. Mr. Hassard was a most exemplary young man, and his sudden death will be a severe shock to his many friends in the city.

Young Hassard came down Spadina-avenue about the time Mrs. Lucas dropped dead, and it is thought he saw her drop, and that the shock had something to do with his death.

THE FARMERS ARE HIT.

Mr. Bush, M.L.A., is in Financial Trouble and Has Assigned to Sheriff Smart.

Brockville, Jan. 6.—Quite a sensational story was in circulation around town to the effect that Mr. O. Bush, M.L.A., a prominent cheese manufacturer, with headquarters at Kemptville, was not only in financial difficulties, but that he had left for parts unknown. Mr. Bush is about as well known in Brockville as he is in the back country, and the ugly rumors naturally caused somewhat of a surprise among his numerous friends. It has been known for some time past that his financial standing was in rather a shaky condition. He cleared up the story about his disappearance by arriving in town late last evening, and acknowledged being in financial trouble. He was not long in interviewing Sheriff Smart, to whom he made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors.

His liabilities are said to be in the neighborhood of $10,000 or $11,000, with approximate assets of $7000. Mr. Bush was the owner of several large cheese factories, and, though he has always borne the reputation of being a careful business man, his reverses are said to have been brought about by bad speculations on last season's output, all of which he has sold, so that there are no valuable assets from that quarter.

The principal creditors are the farmers who are patrons of Mr. Bush's factories. These will be heavy losers, as Mr. Bush has announced that he cannot pay more than 50 cents on the dollar. A meeting of the creditors is called at the sheriff's office for Friday, the 15th inst.

Sour

Stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour

with severe pains across my shoulders, and great distress. I had violent nausea which would leave me very weak and faint, difficult to get my breath. These spells came oftener and more severe. I did not receive any lasting benefit from physicians, but found such happy effects from a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I took several bottles and mean to always keep it in the house. I am now able to do all my own work, which for six years I have been unable to do. My husband and son have also been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla—for pains in the back, and after the grip. I gladly recommend this grand blood medicine." MRS. INDUSTRIAL EXPANSION.

Some Conservatives and many, perhaps from honest conviction, claim that Liberal triumph in the last general elections would have an effect on industrial enterprise, as blighting as the upas tree. But the reverse has been the case, for steady progress is being made under the new order of things. The London Advertiser has recently given many instances of the confidence which men of money and ability have in the future of the Dominion, and the other day made a further contribution to the list.

In Kingsmill, Essex county, a fruit basket and veneer manufactory will be started early in 1897.

The Wilson Carbide Works Company has been incorporated at St. Catharines with a capital of $200,000.

In Stratford the Shoe Company has increased its capital from $3,000 to $35,000 and will extend its operations.

J. Walshaw, manufacturer of blankets and woollen goods in Bolton, Ont., whose factory was destroyed by fire last summer, informs the Canadian Manufacturer that he is rebuilding on a much larger scale.

The Jordan Willow Beach Harbour Company is being incorporated with a capital stock of $50,000, to construct and operate a harbour at Twenty-Mile Creek, in the township of Louth, Lincoln county, Ontario, to build docks, buildings, etc.

A large pulp mill will be built by Hamlin & Ayers at Lachute, Que.

In Stony Point, Ont., a new flax mill has been resolved on.

A manufactory of bricks will be started in Rossland, B. C.

Robert Lillie, Perth, Ont., is seeking a suitable location in Sudbury, Ont., for building a foundry and machine shop.

The Mount Forest Woollen Mills Co. (limited) has been incorporated.

The Chesley Chair Company has been incorporated with a capital of $30,000.

Ontario tanners are opening up a market for their leather in Antwerp, Belgium.

British capitalists having bought the asbestos mine near Danville, Que., for a large sum, propose to engage a still larger number of hands than is already employed there (some several hundred), and considerably increase the output of 'asbestic.' This is the remarkable plaster (made from the short fibred asbestos) which has the merits of hardness, whiteness, penetrability and noncombustibleness. The "asbestic" made from the short fibered abestos (hitherto regarded as useless) is now proving more useful and valuable than the fine long fibres of that remarkable mineral. The lesson taught is that the metamorphic rocks of the eastern townships can bear plenty of investigation and study yet for economic results.

It is contemplated to turn an old brewery in Brantford into a furniture factory, to employ from 40 to 50 hands.

The Star Iron Company, Beauharnois, Que., who have closed a successful and busy year, are making additions and improvements to their works, and putting on additional hands to overtake orders.

The new car wheel works at Perth, Ont., will soon be ready for operations.

The W. R. Gardner Tool Company, of Brockville, have moved to Sherbrooke, Que., and doubled the capacity of their works, according to the Canadian Manufacturer.

A pulp mill, with a capacity of 100 cords per day, is to be built at Webbwood, in Algoma, Ont.

In addition to these we have a boom in the gold and other mining industries all over the country, enterprises putting millions into active use and outputting many millions of products.

While industries are coming to the front, it is worth Peterborough's while to be alert in attracting to the town more new industries. Our natural water power facilities, our excellent railway facilities indicate the fact that this town is especially fitted to become the home of many more than the many thriving establishments we have now in operation. Those officially charged with looking after the interests of the town will be remiss in their duty if they fail to use every legitimate inducement to attract new manufactories to Peterborough. We firmly believe that a change of Government instead of hindering, will help the industrial development of the country.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Ontario Legislature has been summoned to meet on Wednesday, Feb. 10th, for the despatch of business.

MR. SPEAKER EDGAR has issued his warrant for bye-elections in Brant, vacated by Henry; East Simcoe, vacated by Bennett, and North Ontario, vacated by McGillivray. All these setts were occupied by Conservatives. The election will all take place, it is understood, on the same day, probably some time in the second week in February.

A GREAT sensation has been created throughout France by the action of the Pope in peremptorily instructing his new Nuncio in Paris to discourage and oppose the candidature of any ecclesiastic for the seat in the Legislature left vacant by the death of Bishop d'Hulst, and to indorse and recommend the election of the well-known politician, Etienne Lamy, former Deputy of the Jura Department. This is the first time that the Holy See has ever come out so definitely against the monarchy and in favour of the republic in France.

THE London Daily News (Independent) says: If Mr. Laurier fulfils the promise of his present, he will go down to history as the greatest of great Canadians . . . There is something almost pathetically paradoxical in the fact that out of French Canada should have sprung one who shows, as no other Canadian has shown, with the possible exception of Sir John Thompson, the true grandeur of British strength and firmness and fairness and of Canadian common sense.

Dr. Shields, an eminent physician of Tennessee, says: "I regard Ayer's Sarsaparilla as the best blood-medicine on earth, and I know of many wonderful cures effected by its use." Physicians all over the land have made similar statements

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

It is more like spring than winter, and one of the villagers states he saw a robin recently.

A number of the young men of Young's Point have formed an athletic club. They have boxing gloves, dumbells and games. On Tuesday nights there is a literary programme, and Saturday nights is devoted to the athletic sports. Mr. F. Barlee, of Lakefield, has been engaged to give instructions with the boxing gloves.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lundy, who have been up on Stony Lake at their cottage since Last May, are spending a few days at the Lake View House. They are going to Toronto for the winter.

Mr. F. Taylor, of Buckhorn, is the guest of the Rev. Mr. Hartley.

New Year's passed off very quietly here on account of no sleighing, although there was very good wheeling.

"Prof." Richard McBride, is spending a few days at the Point.

The Young's Point Dramatic club held a meeting on Thursday night (New Year's eve.) They held a debate, the subject of which was: "Which is Canada or the United States the best country to live in." The negative was taken by Miss Leonard and L. Anglesey; the affirmative by Miss Nellie Young and Will Young. The judges gave a decision in favour of the affirmative. After the debate a short programme was run off. Miss Emma Scollard favoured the audience with a recitation. Mr. Harry Kearney danced an Irish jig, and also gave a vocal solo. Miss Jennie Kearney favoured the club with a violin solo, accompanied by her sister Miss Ida Kearney.

Mr. William Scollard has gone to Orillia for a couple of weeks.

GALWAY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

After a long and painful illness Mrs. Buckley, widow of the late Jas. Buckley, died at her residence, lot 5, con. 13, Galway, just opposite the Roman Catholic church. Her illness extended through many weary months. It was thought at times that deceased would recover, but a few weeks previous to her death she began to sink gradually, and it was then known that the end would soon come. She expired on Dec. 28th, and was removed across the road, only a short distance to the burying ground, in connection with the above named church, on the 30th inst. Her funeral was well attended. Deceased lady was one of Galway's pioneers, who came and settled in the township when it was a dense forest. Her husband predeceased her about ten or twelve years ago.

Miss Emma Long, of Otonabee, is visiting friends here. She will probably remain a few months.

LOCAL LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

[Supplied by H.P. Kennedy, live stock dealer, 240 George street, Peterborough.]

The past two weeks have been very quiet in live stock circles, as all dealers have had a heavy stock laid in for the holiday trade. At the present there is some sign of improvement. Stock is scarcer in the country, and everything tends to higher prices in the near future for choice stock. Butcher's cattle offer sparingly, that is, the right quality, and are worth from 2 to 3c per lb. live weight. Some of the cattle offering is is impossible to give quotations on them, as if they are sold, it must be at a sacrifice.

Sheep and lamb are firmer, and sell at 2 to 2½ for sheep, and 3 1-4 to 3½ for lambs. Fat hogs are also firmer, selling at $3.75 to $3.90 for choice selections, with heavy hogs and sows still dull at 3 1-4 to 3½. In the dressed meat market hogs are firmer at $4.50 to $4.75. Beef by the quarter, $4.00 to $6.00, and some inferior stock offering as low as 3½ to 3c.

One Every Night.

One Laxa-Liver Pill taken each night during 30 days will cure Constipation, oft-returning Headaches and irregular action of the bowels. Laxa-Liver Pills leave no unpleasant after-effect.

SPRAYING OF TREES.

Experiments Made by the Ontario Government.

WERE A PRONOUNCED SUCCESS.

A Chemical Mixture Composed of Paris Green and Sulphate of Copper Was Used—Northern Spy Trees Yielded Double Quantities—Worms Were Destroyed.

Toronto, Jan. 6.

The process of spraying fruit, and particularly apples, with a chemical mixture of paris green and sulphate of copper, experimented with throughout the province on behalf of the Ontario Government, would appear to have resulted in unqualified success. Mr. W. M. Orr, who has perhaps the finest fruit farm in America at Fruitland, Ont., and who was deputed by the Department of Agriculture to make enquiries as to the effects of the spraying upon the quantity and quality of the fruit yield, has prepared a report, which will be published in a few days.

To illustrate the contents of the report, a few answers to the enquiries of Mr. Orr are worthy of notice

Mr. J. Pay of St. Catharines, for instance, says that his trees have borne fruit for many years, but that last year they gave the first yield fit to pack.

Mr. Robert Granger of Stoney Creek says that the sprayed Northern Spy trees yielded double the crop that the unsprayed ones did.

Capt. Henderson of Burlington states that his sprayed fruit is entirely free from worms, while the unsprayed yield is by no means so.

Mr. Mumm of Drumbo has also had this year his first crop of clean snow-apples in six years. His sprayed trees yielded 40 per cent. more fruit, which was as well larger and 50 per cent. cleaner than the unsprayed crop.

Mr. James Vanatter of St. George, Ont., makes perhaps the most conclusive statement. Of his sprayed snow-apples, he claims, 95 per cent are clean, while of his unsprayed apples but 4 per cent. are free from blemish.

Mr. J. M. Robertson of Galt and Mr. Jacob B. Shantz, Waterloo, speak in a similar manner.

Many well-known fruit growers in the eastern part of the province speak in like terms of the satisfaction which the spraying process has given them, and, as the cost for a large orchard does not exceed 5 cents per tree, it will be seen that it must prove, when its use becomes general, a boon to the country.

Bad Blood Between Them.

The ever slaving farmer's wife, her delicate sister in the city, suffer more than they care to tell. The dark rings around the eyes, dizziness, headache, palpitation or rheumatic twidges, betoken a run down system. The blood is poor, and is a bar to the enjoyment of life. Scott's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, strengthens and vitalizes the system, and speedily restores the bloom of health to the cheeks. It cures when all others fail.

OUR TRADE MATTERS

The Cabinet Talked for Three Hours Yesterday.

PROJECTS FOR LARGE EXPANSION

Efforts Will be Made to Secure Business With South America, South Africa and Italy—Speaker's Warrants Issued for Bye-Elections—Ottawa News.

Ottawa, Jan. 6.—(Special.)—The Cabinet had a three-hours' sitting this afternoon, at which, it is said, the question of extending Canadian trade was under consideration. It is admitted that Mr. J. S. Larke has done good work as Trade Commissioner in Australia, and it is now proposed to take steps to develop as much as possible trade with South Africa, South American and Mediterranean ports. Some years ago Mr. Simeon Jones of New Brunswick visited South America, and made a valuable report respecting the opening up of trade with the different countries of the southern continent, but no steps were taken towards carrying out his suggestions beyond the West Indian trade. The present Government will endeavor to secure for Canada a share of the trade in the localities named.

There has been considerable talk in the city to-day respecting the hitch which occurred at Archbishop Fabre's funeral yesterday as to precedence of Federal and Provincial Ministers. In the table of precedence laid down by Her Majesty the Dominion Ministers rank away ahead of Provincial Ministers, but a high authority states that at the function yesterday the Imperial order would not apply. The funeral was a function under the auspices of the Catholic Church, and as it was not a State affair the authorities of the church could do just as they pleased in the matter. The same gentleman pointed out the curious fact that according to the precedence table, Sir Richard Cartwright and Mr. Scott, who are seniors to the Premier as Privy Councillors, are entitled to take precedence over Mr. Laurier at State functions, although the rule laid down by Her Majesty has, by custom, been violated as regards the First Minister for years at State gatherings in Canada. If these funeral yesterday had been under the charge of the Government, as was the interment of Sir John Thompson, no such question as that which arose could have occurred.

This was a holiday in the public buildings, being the feast of the Epiphany. All the departmental buildings were closed, as well as the Printing Bureau. In the latter case it is somewhat of a hardship upon the employees, who are Protestants, as they are compelled to lay off simply on account of the religious views of the Roman Catholics, and the pay of all the men is docked. There seems to be a growing feeling, even among Roman Catholics, to abolish these holidays, and retain them simply as holy days.

In this connection a good story is told of Mr. E. B. Eddy, the well-known manufacturer of Hull. Mr. Eddy was waited upon by a deputation of his workmen, who informed him that they wanted a holiday next day, as it was All Saints' Day, and the rules of their church required that it should be observed. Mr. Eddy replied "All right," and next day the works were shut down. Some time after the delegation waited upon Mr. Eddy again, and informed him that the next day was also a holiday. "What is it this time?" Mr. Eddy is credited with asking. "Oh, it is St. Peter and St. Paul's Day," was the reply. Then, it is said, Mr. Eddy remarked: "Why in thunder couldn't Peter and Paul take their holiday at the same time as all the other saints without requiring a special day, and inconveniencing business men?"

Report does not say whether the men got their holiday or not. However, it illustrates one of the inconveniences which public men in this section have to contend with.

Dr. Wakeham, Canada's representative on the International Fisheries Commission, has returned to Ottawa, having completed his duties as Canadian Commissioner. The reports of the American Commissioner, Mr. Rathbun, and himself, have been handed to their respective Governments. The commissioners were appointed in 1893 for the purpose of reporting jointly or separately on (1) the prevention of destructive methods of fishing in the territorial and contiguous waters of the United States and Canada respectively, and also in the waters outside the territorial limits of either country; (2) the prevention of the polluting and obstruction of such contiguous waters to the detriment of fisheries and navigation and (3) the protection and preservation of the fisheries in the waters aforesaid, and the means by which the same may be enforced and observed in such waters by the inhabitants of both countries; and (4) on the subject of restocking and replenishing such contiguous waters with fish ova, and the means by which fish life may be therein preserved and increased. There is no disagreement between the two commissioners, their report being a joint one. It will now be the duty of the Governments of Great Britain and the United States to give effect by convention or treaty to the recommendations of the commissioners. It is expected that there will be an immediate exchange of views by the two Governments, to be followed by a treaty and such legislation as may be deemed necessary. So far as the inland waters are concerned, as the Governments of the several States have control of the fisheries, all that the Federal Government at Washington can do will be to endeavor to influence them to adopt legislation similar to that which Canada will pass.

During their peregrinations, which have extended from the Atlantic to the Pacific, the commissioners gathered a vast amount of evidence and they also came across some strange theories. Thus, for instance, on the Great Lakes some American fishermen were found who believed that the three-mile limit extended to the inland waters. This false theory was corrected by the commissioners. The boundary line is pretty sharply marked through the Great Lakes, and the jurisdiction of either country extends to it.

A writ was served on Mr. John O'Meara, ex-Reeve of Hintonburg, today, at the instance of Mr. Andrew Holland, claiming $5000 damages. The action arose from a statement made by Mr. O'Meara during the recent election campaign to the effect that Mr. Holland had perjured himself in the Sparks v. Corporation of Hintonburg case. There will be three other suits brought against Mr. O'Meara, as it is the intention of Messrs. Sparks, Reid and Newton to also take action.

A large number of mutilated coins are in circulation in this country. Coins so mutilated not only cease to be legal tender, but persons so mutilating them are subject to a criminal action and liable to imprisonment under the criminal code. It may not be generally known that it is an offence punishable by imprisonment for a person to deface a coin by stamping on it any name or words.

Mr. Speaker Edgar has issued his warrant for the writs in South Brant, East Simcoe and North Ontario. These seats are vacant through the unseating in the courts of Messrs. Henry and Bennett and the resignation of Mr. McGillivray. The three elections will be simultaneous, probably in the first week in February. The writs for West Prince, P. E. I., and Champlain, vacant through the unseating of Messrs. Hackett and Marcotte, will be issued as soon as the usual formalities have been complied with.

Out of the 40,000 stand of Lee-Enfield ordered by the Dominion Government some 33,000 have been delivered in Canada. Major Perley of the headquarters' staff, a high authority on rifle shooting, is to lecture next week on the new weapon. Gen. Gascoigne will preside.

Senator George A. Cox and Mr. Robert Jaffray of Toronto were in town to-day and had interviews with Mr. Blair and other Ministers.

It is the intention of the Council of the D. R. A. to push the construction of the Disley building as rapidly as possible, in order that it may be completed in time for occupancy next July.

The doctors who resigned from the staff of the County Protestant Hospital talk about establishing another institution.

Since Capt. Douglas went east as a commissioner to enquire into the charges of alleged partisanship in the Maritime Provinces among members of the outside service, considerable matter has been forwarded by him to the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

Hon. Dr. Borden has gone to Nova Scotia on a business trip.

The Premier and Hon. J. I. Tarte are in Quebec to-day.

Although to-day is a departmental holiday, those of the Ministers who are in the Capital, attended their offices and received a number of callers.

Mr. S. H. Janes of Toronto is reported to be after the Lieut.-Governorship of Ontario. He was in the Capital yesterday.

Mr. Hugh Ryan, contractor, is in town.

Prof. Robertson, Dominion Agricultural and Dairy Commissioner, left for Brockville this morning, accompanied by Mr. Fletcher, to be present at the dairymen's convention.

George W. Dawson, ex-M. P., of Addington, has been appointed organizer for the Eastern Ontario Liberal Association, with headquarters at Ottawa.

Ex-Ald. McGuire, one of the defeated candidates in Dalhousie Ward, has applied for a recount. He was only five votes behind the third successful candidate.

Chief Postoffice Inspector Sweetnam is in town.

Peter Kennell, an inmate of the county jail, died suddenly this morning.

HON. G. A. KIRKPATRICK.

The Condition of the Lieut.-Governor of Ontario is Serious—A Companion Patient With Dr. Jameson.

Montreal, Jan. 6.—(Star Special.)—Lieut.-Governor Kirkpatrick, who is lying seriously ill in a private hospital in the West End, has a companion patient in the person of Dr. Jameson, the Transvaal raider, who is also being treated. The Lieut.-Governor's wife has been cabled for. This was done in view of a proposed and serious operation for a complaint from which Sir John Abbott suffered. It is useless to disguise that His Honor's condition is quite serious.

TWEED TOPICS.

Mrs. James Davenport Makes a Statement for the Benefit of Others.

Mrs. Davenport is well-known in Tweed, and this is how she spoke to our representative concerning Doan's Kidney Pills. Said Mrs. Davenport:—

"I have suffered for some years from dizziness puffing under the eyes, pains in the side and back, sleeplessness, poor appetite, and in fact, was in a bad state generally.

"I took two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at P. K. Newton's drugstore, and experienced immediate relief from their use.

"I am now very much better indeed; appetite improved, pain almost disappeared and I feel stronger and healthier in every particular.

"I heartily recommend them to all sufferers from kidney trouble."

Bishop Sullivan of Toronto Preached the Sermon at Quebec.

Quebec, Jan. 6.—The consecration of Bishop Thornloe took place at the English Cathedral at 11 o'clock this morning. The church was filled to its utmost capacity with clergy and laity from all parts of the Province. The following bishops were present at the consecration: The Lord Bishop of Montreal, the Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia, the Lord Bishop of Ottawa, the Lord Bishop of Fredericton, Bishop Sullivan, the Ven. Archdeacon Mills, the Ven. Archdeacon Evans; Rev. Mr. Baylis, secretary of the House of Bishops; Ven. Archdeacon Roe; the Rev. Mr. Boydell, representative of Algoma; Principal Adams, the Rev. Prof. Alnatt; the Rev. Dr. Dumbell, newly appointed rector of Sherbrooke in place of Bishop-elect Thornloe, and the Rev. Prof. Wilkinson. The ceremony commenced with a procession, and the collect for the Epiphany by Bishop Sullivan and the Bishop of Nova Scotia. The sermon was preached by Bishop Sullivan, late of Algoma. The sermon was a masterpiece of sacred eloquence.

MCKINLEY AT THE THROTTLE.

Started a Salt Train at Silver Springs From His Home in Canton

Silver Springs, N.Y., Jan. 6.—One hundred and sixty cars loaded with 5,450,000 pounds of salt left here to-day consigned to New England firms. The throttle of the engine on the first section was opened, and the train started by a unique electrical contrivance operated by wire from President-elect McKinley at his home in Canton at 7 o'clock this morning. Mr. McKinley touched a button in his library, 300 miles away, the current leaped over the special wire into the engine cab, and the throttle opened. The train was the Worcester salt special, bearing a consignment of orders to New England which had been given contingent upon President McKinley's election.

CATARRH

Mrs. Dobell, of London, Ont., Cured for 25 Cents

Doctors Could Help, but Couldn't Cure—Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure Released the Prisoner, and To-day She is as Well as Ever—She Says it is a Great Remedy

"Yes, I am Mrs. Dobell," said a comely, pleasant-faced woman at her home on Horton street to a News reporter to-day, "and I will very gladly tell you what you want to know. About three years ago my husband was very ill, and I had frequently occasion to rise in the night and go for a doctor or to the druggist. In my hurry I often neglected to properly clothe myself, and contracted several heavy colds, which turned at last to chronic catarrh. I tried doctors, who helped me, but did not cure me, and several special catarrh medicines. I was relieved but not cured. I was suffering intolerably when Mr. Shuff recommended me to try CHASE'S CATARRH CURE, and it began at once to help, and in about two months had entirely cured me. I cannot speak too highly of this remarkable medicine, and cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers from catarrh." The blower included is a great help to sufferers.

Special Notice.

All members of Court Little John, No. 92, C.O.F., are requested to be present at our next meeting, Monday, Jan. 11th inst., and bring their wives or lady friends with them. Business—installation of officers and a social evening to be spent. By order of Committee. 4d5

Little Red Riding Hood.

There were so many who were unable to see the presentation of the operatta, "Little Red Riding Hood" in St. John's School House Tuesday evening, on account of the large attendance, that it will be repeated again this evening. The proceeds will be applied to the Sunday School extension fund.

The Carnivals.

Court Peterborough, Canadian Order of Foresters, met last night and installed the newly elected officers. Afterwards refreshments were served. During the evening it was resolved to push forward and arrange all preliminaries for the series of carnivals which are to be given under the Court's auspices in the rink this winter.

Millbrook Without Light.

At the meeting of the Millbrook council the other evening, the Electric Light Co. were notified that their services were no longer required. Thus after enjoying electric light for a little over a year the town will again be in darkness. This move is owing to the very poor service the company has been given the town.—Port Hope Times.

Monday Night's Play.

"Joshua Simpkins," a story of New England farm life, will be seen at Bradburn's Opera House, Monday night, Jan. 11th. It is said to abound in novel features, wonderful mechanical effects, excellent singing and dancing and plenty of refined, wholesome fun, and brings to light in the third act a real saw mill in operation, which is claimed to be the greatest realistic stage effect ever produced. Between the acts a high class orchestra renders some excellent music, and also aids in the introduction of many pleasing, singing and dancing specialties during the progress of the play. Seats now on sale. Prices 25c, 35c and 50c.

Sale of Fine Furs.

W. S. Johnston's great sale of Ladies' fine Furs is creating quite a storm amongst our local furriers—and no wonder when they are brought to compete against the name of Joseph Rogers, Toronto, as the manufacturer. The public well know the reliability of this house, which up to the date of failure was considered Toronto's leading fur house. Every garment is up to date in style and Mr. Johnston is certainly giving the ladies a splendid opportunity of securing Joseph Roger's furs at prices away below even the ordinary furrier.

AUCTION SALE

On Market Square next Saturday—A Family Cutter, little used. —Chas Stapleton, Auctioneer.

A HARVEY FARMER BECOMES MENTALLY DERANGED.

Mr. Harry Nesbitt's Mind Gives Way and he is Placed Under Arrest.

High County Constable G. Cochrane and Constable Moore had an unpleasant duty to perform yesterday, when they drove out ten miles beyond Buckhorn, in Harvey township to execute a warrant for the arrest of Mr. Harry Nesbitt on a charge of being insane and dangerous to be at large.

About fifteen of the neighbours have been watching Mr. Nesbitt closely for the last few days, as it was feared he might harm his wife or children and the constables arrived just in the nick of time, for as they entered the gate Nesbitt exhibited signs of becoming violent, and had ejected the neighbours from the house by force. The last man had just been flung out when the constables entered the house.

County Constable Cochrane was instantly recognised and collared, but Constable Moore and a couple of others, entered immediately behind him, and Nesbitt was quickly tied hand and foot.

The struggles of the prisoner to obtain release, and the tears of his wife and children was a very sad scene, and one which will not be soon forgotten by those who witnessed it.

Mr. Nesbitt was brought in to the gaol to await medical examination, and during the long ride he never ceased talking for an instant, giving undoubted signs of his mind being unsettled.

The prisoner is a well-to-do farmer in Harvey and ran for the office of councillor in the recent election. He has been in poor health for some time but only gave signs of mental derangement on the Sunday before the election. The family has the most sincere sympathy of the entire neighbourhood in their great misfortune.

Mr. Nesbitt has been remanded until the 13th instant.

THREE MONTHS IN GAOL.

For an Infraction of the Game Laws in the North.

James Johnston, of the north country, is locked up in the county goal for three months, or until he can raise a fine of $20 and costs, imposed by Game Warden Smith some time ago on a charge of allowing his hounds to run at large during the close season for deer in the vicinity of the mica mines.

The game Warden caught Johnston, it seems, in the act of infringing the game laws as stated above, and imposed the fine, but Johnston neglected to pay up and threatened to shoot the first man who attempted to collect the fine. The game warden gave High County Constable Cochrane the warrant for his arrest, at the same time telling him that he was being awarded the high honour of being the first man Johnston would have to use as a target. As stated last week Constable Cochrane ran his man down in Norwood. The costs now amount to about $40, so that the prisoner will doubtless have to serve out the three months in gaol.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—The Local Legislature opens February 10th.

—Where are Peterborough's amateur minstrels this year.

—It is almost time to talk up the annual curlers' excursion to Toronto.

—The first meeting of the new county council will be held on January 26th.

—Owing to the week of prayer the Y. M.C.A. Bible class will not meet to-night.

—The rink is again open for skaters. The curlers were able to use the ice last night.

—With so many hockey clubs in the vicinity, Peterborough should have a lot of good games this season.

—The first meeting of the new town council will be held on the morning of the 15th, according to statute.

—Have you tried "Gold Cure" for Asthma. If not call on J D. Tully and get a sample. 6d2-1w

—The annual meeting of the Board of Health will be held in the town clerk's office to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

—A few cases of la grippe have been reported during the week, and in every instance in the full semblance of its former self. There seems to be some infallibility about grip.

—The first solar eclipse of this year occurs on the first day of February, but it will be invisible in Canada. Another is set down for the 29th July, partly visible here.

—The warden of the counties, under the new Act, holds his seat for one year only, but he is eligible for re-election the second year. County councillors hold peaceable possession for two years.

—A Mr. Cutler took ill in Morristown, N.J., the other day, and Dr. McBurney proceeded to operate for appendicitis. On opening the abdominal cavity the doctor discovered that nature had forestalled him and that Cutler had no appendix to extirpate. People in Morristown are thinking deeply about this.

—It is puzzling to the minds of the iron clad weather prophets to know what has become of the extremely severe weather which threatened this province during the month of December. Bare fields, clear of even a fleck of snow, and an entire absence of frost for several days the beginning of January, is looked upon as an occurrence that is remarkable for Ontario.

Silverware.

The largest and handsomest assortment of silverware in town is to be found at China Hall. Prices and quality guaranteed.

Mutilated Coins.

Attention has been called to the fact that a large number of mutilated coins are in circulation in this country. It ought to be understood generally that coins so mutilated not only cease to be legal tender, but persons so mutilating them are guilty of a criminal offence and liable to imprisonment under the Criminal Code. It may not be generally known that it is an offence punishable by imprisonment for a person to deface a coin by stamping on it any name or words.

M. L. Henry & Co. to Their Customers.

The very encouraging nature of our business during the past year has determined us to use our very best efforts in continuing to give our customers very special advantages in goods and prices during 1897. In order to do this we must have the cash to pay for what we buy. Our customers will therefore help us and help themselves as well by settling their accounts without delay. Our customers owing overdue accounts will confer a favour by calling at the store before January 20th, and make arrangements for settlement of same. M. L. SCRAP IN THE SOUTH END.

A Deadly Warfare in Full Swing—Some Hairpulling.

There lives in the south end two sisters. One lives with a private family, cooks the meals, washes the clothes and perambulates the baby. The other resides with a family not so private, but her little pastimes are about the same as her sister's.

When not otherwise employed these two sisters, curly headed and comely, turn themselves loose in "sassiety" giddy whirl and let 'er whirl, too. They are favourites, and by the same token will remain favourites for some time.

For ways that are dark and tricks that are vain, the South End matrons are peculiar. The matrons took umbrage or something of the sort at the popularity of the sisters, and pretty soon there were wise headshakings, knowing nods and quiet tips being passed around that all was not well in the south end. Dame rumour went so far as to say that one of the sisters was not just as she should be. The other, who lived with the private family, got wind of it and started out on the warpath. There were a number of back yard interviews and she and the neighbours stood on their back lawns, over by the ash barrel, and "sassed back" till all was blue. It was by long odds the tallest and breeziest chinning match the south end ever witnessed. The girl was bent on finding out where the slanderous story originated. One of the ladies, whom she interviewed upon this vital point, rather pointedly informed her her that "she could take a fine tooth comb and rake h—l over and not find who started it." There was a lot more choice English aired and finally a hand to hand hair pulling contest ensued in the summer kitchen of the lady interviewed. No one was seriously injured and the cruel war is still on and promises to outlive the Cuban insurrection.

BATTALION NOTES.

Five of the Boys Off for the Military School.

That the 57th intends to maintain its name as a crack regiment is shown by the fact that every year a contingent of the members go up to Toronto and take a course at the Stanley barracks to perfect themselves in drill and be fitted to take higher positions in the ranks.

On Tuesday morning last five of the members left to take a three months course, viz: Corporal Pratt, Private's Craig, Haws and Ringer, and Bugler Galley. The Peterborough boys will doubtless reflect credit on the local corps by the stand which they will take in their examinations at the end of the term.

PERSONAL.

Mr. A.A. McDonald was in Belleville yesterday.

Mr. Will Connors has returned from a visit in Lindsay.

Mrs. D. A. Shaw and daughter are visiting friends in Barrie.

Miss Agnes O'Connor, of Lindsay, is visiting her brother, Mr. L. V. O'Connor, of the local legal firm of O'Connel & O'Connor.

The Toronto Granites are in Lindsay this afternoon. Messrs. Flavelle, McLennan, Needler and Little will skip the Lindsay rinks against them.

The many friends of Rev. Father Lynch, of Port Hope, were glad to see him in town to-day, and have an opportunity of wishing him the compliments of the season.

Miss Hattie Cahill, daughter of Mr. Thos. Cahill, has been appointed to succeed Miss Ryan, resigned, as teacher of the junior department in the Murray street Separate School.

The Lindsay Post says: Miss Josie Morrow of Peterborough, who has been visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Brien, of Melbourne street, south ward, returned home last evening.

It has been decided to send a rink from Lindsay to take part in the international bonspiel at Toronto on Thursday of next week. Messrs. Flavelle, McWillan, Needler and Millar compose the rink.

DON'T!

Don't slack up or quit advertising altogether as soon as the holiday season is over. Don't say: "Well, we can't sell goods in the dull season, no matter how hard we try and advertising is just money thrown away." Your hustling competitor, with no better chance or location than you have, keeps business booming all the time by advertising all the time in the most vigorous way. He has no "dull season," why should you?

The pushing, prompt, persistent men
Who advertise each day,
In every year, can always make
Their advertising pay.

General Grant once said there is a time in every battle when each side thinks it is whipped. He learned by experience that if he kept up the fight until the other side thought it was whipped, he was pretty sure to win. There is something for advertisers to learn from this. If, when they begin to think, advertising does not pay, they would fight a little harder to make it pay, they would be pretty sure to win.

WEEK OF PRAYER.

Rev. J. J. Rae Speaks from the George Street Church Pulpit.

A large audience assembled at the George street Methodist church last night, and a very encouraging meeting was held.

Rev. W. R. Young presided, and associated with him were Rev. Messrs. Torrance, Dykeman, Rae and Potter. The Rev. J. J. Rae introduced the subject for prayer, viz., "Charitable Institutions," in a manner that enlisted the sympathies and the hearty interest of all in the great work that is being carried on all over the land for the good of our fellow men. These institutions, he claimed, formed a true expression of the Christ within us.

The service was thoroughly enjoyed by all, and a deeper interest in the proposed County House of Industry ought to be a practical result.

The meetings have increased in interest each night, so that at to-night's service a profitable and inspiring time should be spent. The Rev. W. R. Young will introduce the subject for prayer, viz., "Educational Institutions." Rev. Dr. Torrance will preside.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 7, 1897.

A CHEESE MANUFACTURER ASSIGNS.

A despatch from Brockville states that Mr. O. Bush, M.P.P., a prominent cheese manufacturer, with headquarters at Kemptville, who it was reported had not only got into financial difficulties, but had left for parts unknown, settled speculation by suddenly returning and making an assignment. His liabilities are placed at $11,000 and assets at $7,000. He owned several large factories, but lost heavily by speculation in last season's output. Farmers—patrons of his factories—are the chief creditors.

MILLBROOK.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The municipal elections for Millbrook resulted as follows:—Reeve, W.S. Pickup; Councillors, R. W. Clarke, John Clarke, Thomas Gilliott and S. Bateson; School Trustees—Dr. Turner, T. B. Collins and L. E. Needham.

The commissioners elected for Division No. 3, of East Durham, comprising the north of Hope, south of Cavan and Millbrook, are Alex Ferguson and Thomas Donaldson.

For Division No. 3, comprising the north of Cavan and the township of Manvers—J. J. Preston and S. E. Ferguson.

The first carnival of the season here will be held on Friday evening.

The "at home" given in the Methodist church on New Year's night proved to be a grand success. Miss Ethel Richardson rendered two solos which were greatly liked by the audience.

Master Fred Tully, of Peterborough, spent a few days in town the guest of his cousin, Walter Hetherington.

Miss Annie Wood, who has been spending her holidays at home, returned to Toronto to assume her duties.

Mr. J. A. Woodhouse, of Port Hope, was in town on Monday.

Mr. L. F. Clarry returned to Toronto on Monday.

Miss Lillie Burton is in Barrie visiting friends.

Mr. Geo. Dean, who has been in town for a week or more, returned to Agincourt on Saturday.

Mr. John Pendrie, of Rochester, is visiting his mother, Mrs. Pendrie, King street.

Messrs. Walter Coombe and Geo. Burnham have bought out the general store of Mr. William Lang, having taken possession on January 1st.

The concert to be given on the evening of Jan. 14th, under the auspices of the Hockey club, promises to be one of the best of the season. Besides the very best local talent some good outside talent will also make their appearance for the first time before a Millbrook audience.

Rev. Mr. Phelps exchanged pulpits with the Rev. Mr. Rae, of Peterborough, on Sunday last.

SPECIAL—Men's Scotch Knit Shirts and Drawers, worth 65c, this week 35c, at Grafton & Co.

Salvation Army Notes.

Captain and Mrs. Rowe, who had been in charge of the Salvation Army in Uxbridge, were transferred to Gravenhurst recently, and on the Sunday previous to his departure the captain submitted a financial statement, showing his supporters how their money had been expended during his six months term. Capt. Rowe and wife received free house, fuel and lighting (the two latter items costing $6.31) and $25.00 as salary. Any donations of food for the "officers' mess" were entered at a valuation and formed part of the munificent salary of $25.00. After existing on a salary of $1 per week Capt. Rowe and wife had not a cent left to defray their expenses to their next charge, and had to canvass the town for subscriptions to raise the amount. This does not speak well for Army management at headquarters.

Furniture by Private Sale.

The handsome furniture and contents of Mr. P. Henry's residence, No. 218 Charlotte Charlotte street, opposite Charlotte street Methodist church, is open for purchase by private sale—either in part or en bloc. Parties can view the furniture on and after Monday, January 11th, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 9 p.m., for one week. The furniture is all new and modern in design, having received comparatively little wear, and is well worthy the attention of housekeepers wishing to make additions to their furniture, or those about to start housekeeping. 6d5

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Rink Talk and Items of Local and General Interest to Sportsmen.

CURLIANA.

At a meeting of the Thistles held last night, Messrs. Ray and Rutherford were elected skips to play in the double rink competition at the Lindsay bonspiel. Skips Kells, Ferguson and LeBrun will represent the Thistles in the annual matches of the Lindsay-Peterborough competition.

The Kendry Cup matches began last night, the result of the games played being as followed:

Thistles.		Granites.
G Giroux,		E H Stone,
W H Meredith,		R H Fortye,
A St A Smith,		G E Whiten,
John McClelland, sk. 21		G W Hatton, sk 16
O B Shortly,		W H Hill,
Jr Greer,		F J Rogers,
W J Thompson,		R Stevenson,
J McKee, sk..... 7		R M Donaldson, sk.. 25

A scratch match was played among the Thistles with the following result:

Herb Hall,	R Kerr,
Alf Terrill,	J Amos,
G Fitzgerald,	H Snowden,
D Bellegham, sk....16	A Blade sk.....v....11

In the Kendry cup series the following skips are drawn to play off to-night:

Thistles.		Granites.
W G Ferguson	vs.	E B Edwards
S Ray	vs.	T P Atrill

FRIDAY.

E H Kells	vs.	D W Dumble
R B McKee	vs.	W D Parker

SATURDAY.

T Rutherford	vs.	Dr Boucher
G J Hopkins	vs.	Geo Edmison

The following draws will have to be worked in during the afternoon:

D Bellesham	vs.	Judge Weller
H LeBrun	vs.	Harry Allen
Sam Clegg	vs.	R S Davidson
J B Penhapd	vs.	J Consal

The Ontario Tankard Group composed of Lakefield, Bobcaygeon, Lindsay, Orillia, and Peterborough Thistles, has been ordered to play off the draw in Lindsay by Umpire J. A. Vance, of Millbrook. A strong but ineffectual effort was made to induce the umpire to have the draw played played off here, where the ice is always true. Lindsay, however, had the biggest pull, Orilla and Bobcaygeon both preferring to go there.

The first match Lindsay-Peterborough competition will probably be played off on Tuesday next when three of the Thistle rinks go to Lindsay to play and three Granite rinks play against three Lindsay rinks here. The Granites have not selected their skips yet.

HOCKEY.

A meeting of the Executive of the Peterborough Hockey Club is called for this evening at the rink parlours.

Queen's has won the senior championship twice in the last six years, but has been in the finals no less than five times, as shown in the appended table:—

1891—Ottawa beat Queen's	4-1
1892—Ottawa beat O-goods Hall	10-4
1895—Ottawa beat Queen's	6-3
1894—Osgoode Hall beat Queen's	5-2
1895 Queen's beat Trinity	17-3
1896—Queen's beat Stratford	12-3

The Peterborough Collegiate Institute hockey team goes over to Lindsay for a friendly game with the Collegiates of that place on Friday evening next.

Kingston undoubtedly hasn't had any more ice lately than Peterborough as the Whig says:—"If a spell of cold weather does not come along very soon the hockey players will have to jump into the league matches without any previous practice. The first round is set down for the 15th inst. Ice in the Kingston skating rink will be good enough to-night for the Frontenac hockey team to have a practice. The boys will have to do some fine hustling to get into shape before the league matches are called on."

ICE TROTTING.

Belleville will give a two days' trotting meeting on the ice on January 21st and 22nd and the programme has been arranged as follows:

First Day—Named race, $75; 2.30 class, $100.

Second Day—3 minute class, $100; free for all, $200.

The following officials were appointed:

Subscription Committee—H. Corby, M. P., Geo. N. Leavens, J. V. Jenkins, W. H. Biggar, M. P. P.

Managing Committee—James Ketcheson, Dr. Dolan, S. Curry, Dr. Quackenbush, Jas. A. Roy, Jas. McGuire, W. Clark, Geo. I. Thomas, T. H. Purdy, J. C. Lake.

Treasurer—Geo. N. Leavens.

Secretary—John F. Baird.

O'CONNOR.

Mr. J. H. Taylor's Acknowledgment.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Having enjoyed the honour of being a teacher of an adult class in the Sabbath school for a period of six or seven years, and during that time having been remembered twice by the class, and once or twice by individual members thereof in a very tangible manner, the last having been presented to me at the close of teaching. I wish to thank any who in any way contributed to make me feel that my work was appreciated.

This new year what solemn thoughts force themselves upon the mind. How many have attended for a time and then ceased to attend. How gladly would we welcome back any. Perhaps I was to blame. Some who attended for a time have passed away. Have I been faithful.

What a privilege to be a teacher! How many hours we dwell upon the lesson which we likely would not do but for the Sabbath school. How many beauties we see in the sacred page we likely would miss but for the Sabbath school. The sweetest hours of my life appear to have been while dwelling upon the sacred page or sitting under the preached word. I have said nothing about omissions and mistakes, I have felt them at times keenly enough without repeating here. That we may spend this year better than ever before, and at last meet in our Father's house through the merits of Him who said: "I go to prepare a place for you," is the sincere prayer of

J. H. TAYLOR,
Keene.

HARVEY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Miss Aggie Crowe, who was home spending Xmas with her parents, has returned to Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Bickle, of Bowmanville, are here visiting Mrs. Bickle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Crowe.

The school question is once more a thing of the past. At the annual meeting, last Wednesday, W. Beatty, the retiring trustee, was again re-elected.

Mr. J. S. Cairnduff is at present suffering severely with inflammation in one of his eyes. It is to be hoped that he will soon be well again.

Mr. R. Gerrard is here visiting some of his old friends. He is looking well.

There is to be a basket social on the 15th in aid of the Presbyterian mission here.

On Friday night about forty young people gathered at Mr. R. Richmond's and spent a jolly night to the strains of the violin.

A. Wilson drowned a horse yesterday morning whilst crossing to the north side.

Tore His Flesh in Agony

"I was troubled with blind itching piles for twenty years; was unable to work and tore my flesh in agony. United States and Canadian doctors failed to relieve. Chase's Ointment was a God-send. I am a better man than in twenty years, and am able to work every day." Philip Wallace, blacksmith, Iroquois, Ont. Chase's Ointment cures, piles, eczema, and irritant diseases. All druggists, 60c. per box.

LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Rev. John McEwen occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening.

Mr. Albert Hamilton of Peterborough, spent New Year's Day in the village.

Mr. N. Nelson and wife, who have been visiting their parents here for the past two weeks, returned to their home in Essex on Monday.

Miss Dafoe of Norwood has been visiting friends here.

Mr. T. W. Stevenson of Norwich is visiting friends in the village.

Mr. R. Q. Dench was called suddenly to to Toronto, owing to the illness and death of his brother-in-law, Mr. Thos. Leeds.

Miss Mann of Bridgenorth is the guest of Mrs. Paul.

Rev. George Warren is in Toronto this week attending a clerical conference.

Mr. Jas. Humphreys of Griswold, Manitoba, is the guest of Mr. T. Gordon.

Mr. Geo. B. Hilliard will shortly remove to the Bowker residence after it has been suitably repaired.

OMEMEE.

(From an Own Correspondent.)

The health of the citizens is good.

The village is now quiet again after the departure of the holiday visitors, which were unusually numerous.

The cantata, "Story of the Star," rendered by the Presbyterian Sunday school teachers and scholars on New Year's night, gave great satisfaction. The decorations of the church by Mr. and Mrs. Hunt were excellent.

Emily township—Reeve—R. Boates, defeating Adams by 8 votes. Deputy Reeve—J. J. Mitchell, Emily, by acclamation. Councillors—Scully, Fee and Kennedy.

Village—Reeve—T. Stephenson, defeating Parsons by 40 votes. Councillors—Stephenson, Beasty and two yet to be nominated.

School trustees—Dr. Thompson, J. McCrea, T. Laidley, J. J. Lang, J. J. Lamb and Jas. Johnston. There was considerable excitement over the elections.

A TOUGH PLACE.

Owen Sound is Getting to be a Very Bad Town.

The Owen Sound Times says: "A deplorable case was ventilated in the police court this week, when a couple of young girls, aged fourteen and fifteen years respectively, were sentenced to a year each in the Industrial Refuge for Girls, Toronto. They were arrested in the post office while intoxicated, and the Children's Aid Society took hold of the matter, with the above result. A terrible condition of affairs has existed in Owen Sound for some time, many boys and girls scarcely in their teens being scandalously dissolute, in most cases as the result of criminal negligence and indifference on the part of parents."

CANADIAN HOME JOURNAL.

The January number of the Canadian Home Journal contains many bright things of interest to women. Among them the latest fashions in evening dresses, as worn by the leaders of society in Toronto; a chapter on palmistry; notes of pictures, music and books, the stage and the household, all by well-known writers; Talks with People we Meet, by Faith Fenton, the editor, is especially interesting. "Faith that Removes Mountains," by Clifford Smith, and a number of other stories by favourite authors, appear in this number.

Eccentricities In Palaces.

The King of Siam, who, according to late reports, has had a palace constructed which he can submerge in the sea at will and so live under water whenever he chooses, is not the only monarch who has indulged in eccentricities of this sort.

For instance, history has preserved the memory of the ice palace built by the Russian Empress Anne, who punished several of her dainty courtiers by compelling them to pass the night in this great chamber of state, where they were almost frozen to death.

The Czar Paul, ancestor of the present Emperor of Russia, constructed a room formed entirely of huge mirrors, where he spent hours walking to and fro in full uniform—a singular taste for the ugliest man in Russia.

One of the native princes of Java cooled his palace by making a stream fall in a cascade over the gateway, and the Indian despot Tippo Sahib placed beside his dinner table a life size figure of a tiger devouring an English officer, the roar of the beast and the shrieks of the victim being imitated by hidden machinery.—Harper's Young People.

point where he has to inject the deadly extracts of opium under the skin in order to get rest and sleep, the grave is not far distant. The time to take care of health is before it is utterly and irretrievably gone. The man who works on and on, utterly heedless of health and too busy to occasionally take a little necessary medicine, is committing suicide as surely as if he turned a pistol on his heart. When a man dies by little degrees. First a little indigestion and a little neglect. Then loss of appetite. The bowels get clogged and the blood receives poisons instead of healthy nutriment. Old, inert tissues in flesh, muscle, nerve and brain are not replaced by new. The whole body gets stale. The very sleeping-room of a man in this condition is filled in the morning with unwholesome odors as if it had been occupied by a decomposing corpse. It has been occupied by a man half-dead. The poisoned brain refuses to sleep and hates to work. Then comes the resort to the hypodermic injection of morphine and—speedy death.

All this may be prevented by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It corrects all disorders of the digestion, makes assimilation perfect, fills the blood with the vital elements that make new tissue, builds healthy flesh, firm muscles, strong nerves and active brain cells. It drives out impurities and disease. Thousands of men in all walks of life have testified to its wonderful merits.

It's an insult to your intelligence for a dealer to attempt to palm off upon you a substitute for this world-famed medicine. You know what you want. It's his business to need that need. When he urges some substitute he's thinking of the larger profit he'll make—not of your welfare. Shun all such dishonest dealers.

The man or woman who is regular as clockwork is seldom troubled with disease or mental or bodily lassitude. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a safe, sure, speedy and permanent cure for constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. You will have reason to regret it if you let a dishonest druggists induce you to take a substitute.

THE ALADDIN OVEN.

Even Chuck Roasts Made Tender and Appetizing by Its Use.

A well-known writer on financial and economical subjects, Edward Atkinson, has been striving for years to teach the people that they can make of an ordinary box an oven which will cook meats and other food much better and more cheaply than is done with a stove. He calls his apparatus the Aladdin oven. He derived his theory from the Norwegian cooking box, says the American Agriculturist. The principle of the Aladdin oven is that heat may be conveyed by a lamp to the inside of a box so as to cook food. The box should be made of incombustible, non-heat-conducting material. It should be lined with metal. A given temperature can be maintained for any length of time; herein is the secret of this method of cooking. An inner oven made of sheet metal, with shelves, and in other ways corresponding to the common oven, should be placed in the outer box, as shown in the accompanying illustration. There is no opening between the lamp and this inner oven, the heat circulating around the outside, and the products of combustion escaping by way of the same opening through which the heat passes. When the heat is kept at 300 degrees to 350 degrees Fahrenheit, no offensive odors are generated and no injury is done to the food. Meats, fish, vegetables, custards, etc., may all be cooked in the same oven at the same time without either imparting any flavor to the other or losing any of its own special flavor or juices.

THE ALADDIN OVEN.

One of the chief recommendations of the Aladdin oven is its economy. Cheap cuts of meat can be made tender and appetizing. Mr. Atkinson states that a piece of beef, commonly known as the chuck roast, costing 10 cents per pound, or the shoulder, costing 5 cents per pound, put into this box and allowed to remain three hours, will be taken out as tender and nutritious as the best tenderloin, and of the most excellent flavor. Food cooked in this slow oven is far more nutritious than when done in a range, as the juices are preserved. Food can be put into the oven at night, the lamp being then lighted. In the morning the cooked food is taken out, ready for consumption, without waste. This apparatus can be made at home, or the so-called Standard oven, with its complete equipment, can be bought for $30.

THEY WORKED WONDERS.

Two Years of Bladder Torment—Hec Attacks of Inflammation—Cured by a Few Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Owen Sound, Dec. 28.—(Special)—The people of this town are talking again of another cure credited to Dodd's Kidney Pills. This is the case of Mr. W. Cruse, caretaker of the town buildings, who, when seen, had this to say of the matter:

"For over two years I have been an intense sufferer from kidney disease, with occasional acute attacks of inflammation of the bladder.

"Was under doctors' treatment and have been compelled to resort to instrumental relief many times.

"I have taken eighteen boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am satisfied with results, being perfectly relieved of all suffering."

Its Value in the Household Illustrated by a Few Examples

One pint of fine salt mixed with two pints of wood ashes and mixed with water will mend cracks in stoves. When clinkers accumulate in the grate, throw in a handful of salt, let stand a few minutes and they will be easily removed.

A teaspoonful added to the water in which cut flowers are placed will preserve them for a considerable time, and a little rubber on the griddles before greasing will prevent cakes from sticking. Damp salt will remove the discoloration caused by tea on cups and saucers; if sprinkled immediately over any spot where something has boiled over on the stove, there will be no odor, and the spot will be easily cleaned. A tablespoonful put in a kerosene lamp will make the oil give a brighter light, and a small pinch added to the starch will prevent it sticking to the irons. If your ingrain carpet looks dingy sprinkle a little salt over it and let it lie for at least five minutes, then sweep it thoroughly, and you will be surprised to see how much brighter it will look.

One of the best things for cleaning brass is salt dissolved in vinegar Cotton fabrics are less likely to fade if allowed to lie for a short time in a strong solution of salt and water.

Sprinkle damp salt around where there are moths and they will speedily take their departure.

If a small pinch is added to the whites of eggs they will froth quickly.

Small doses given at short intervals will stop hemorrhage of the lungs; for stings or bites of any kind of insects apply it damp and bind tightly; for neuralgia or severe pains in the stomach, fill a muslin bag, heat it and lay it against the aching place.

If the throat is very sore, wring a cloth out of cold salt water and bind it around the neck, covering with a dry towel; a weak solution gargled will also help the throat. A sponge bath in salt water will arrest night sweats, and if used cold is one of the best solutions for restoring firmness of the flesh; bathe the face upward and then wipe dry. One-half a teaspoonful dissolved in water will almost instantly relieve dyspepsia, or cure colic in a grown person.

Two teaspoonfuls in about a half pint of tepid water will act as an emetic, or if snuffed up the nostrils will relieve a cold in the head or catarrh.

Salt should be eaten with nuts to aid digestion.—Home Queen.

A January thaw is always more productive of colds and coughs than a January freeze. Then is the time Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is needed and proves so extremely efficacious. Ask your druggist for it, and also for Ayer's Almanac, which is free to all.

QUAKER MARRIAGE CEREMONY.

How Members of the Society of Friends Wed Each Other.

A young man and woman in this city, belonging to the Society of Friends, who have certified their intention of marriage at the City Hall, are having to undergo the regular form which the society imposes by waiting for the approval of the monthly meeting before they can be married, says the Worcester (Mass.) Gazette. The first stage in the proceedings is for them both to appear at the monthly meeting of the society, which is the only time that any business is done, and make known their intention. They both stand up before the meeting, and the man says: "With divine permission and Friends' approbation, I declare my intention to take this woman (and he calls her name) to be my wife," and then they sit down. But the sanction of the society for the marriage requires more than this formality. It is never granted unless both parties are Friends, and so if one of the young people is out of the fold they have to be married without the formal approval of the society.

When the approval is secured the couple marry themselves. The ceremony is appointed by the society to take place at some regular meeting, or else at one specially appointed. In the latter case it may be at a house where any one of the society has the right to be present. But the most interesting ceremony is that which takes place in the regular assembly of the society at the meeting house. Anyone who has been to a Quaker service knows the fashion of the meeting house, with its high seats in front, facing the rest of the meeting. The elders usually sit there, but when a couple of young people are going to get married they have to occupy this conspicuous place, and have to stand up bravely, without minister or elder, and marry themselves.

An old Quaker minister, who said he had seen six couples stand up in this way before the congregation, was asked why the young people had to do it alone, and he said it was a matter that did not concern an intermediate person, but rested between themselves and God. Then he described how the young man would stand up in that high-perched place in the meeting house along with his bride and, taking her hand, say: "In the presence of God and this assembly, I take thee, A. B., to be my wife, promising to be unto thee an affectionate and loving husband until the hand of the Lord by death shall separate us." The bride then speaks in a similar fashion.

At the end of this ceremony a minister prays or speaks, and then, when there is a pause and the spirit moves no one else, the meeting is adjourned. At the close of the meeting the marriage certificate, which is made of parchment, is brought forward, and anyone can sign it. A special law sanctions this marriage ceremony. This document, which amounts to the legal sanction of the marriage, is greatly prized among the descendants of Friends, so much so that the children often have similar marriage certificates made for themselves, though they may have been married outside of the society.

Brockville, Jan. 4 (Special)—Mr. W. H. Odell, perhaps one of the best known citizens of this town has lately recovered from a long continued and painful kidney ailment. He tells the story of his experience to the correspondent as follows:

"I have suffered for over a year from kidney disease, the pain in my back being so severe that I was unable to stand to my work."

"Noticing the published cures of what Dodd's Kidney Pills were doing for others I concluded to use them."

"Having used only six boxes I can say that I am perfectly cured and well so that I can attend to business as well as ever I could."

"Going to Insure."

THE Man who is simply "going to insure" is usually no better than the man who has'nt made the decision. In fact he is usually worse, because he has considered the subject and been convinced of his duty, but has not done it. "Nothing is done so long as anything remains undone." Nervous Prostration
Complete Recovery by the Use of
Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. Hinson, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

WINTER DRAPERY.

LOUIS XVIII. IS THE MODE OF THE SEASON.

Beds, Chimney Pieces, Dressing Tables, Corners and Sofas Are to Be Elaborately Draped This Winter—Also the Windows.

Draperies are distinctly the most important of all features in the new autumnal decorations for houses, both small and great, says the Chicago Record. Draperies, too, in the exact definition of that word—not falling portieres and perhaps simple lambrequins at the doors, mantel shelves and windows, but yards and yards of fringed, embroidered and variously decorated fabric, looped and gathered wherever an opportunity offers.

This winter not only the chimney pieces, but the mirror above it, the doors and beds, the corner divans and dressing tables are all literally and completely dressed, for all of this is in strict compliance with the period of a Bourbon king whose fashions we have never imitated before. This time it is his majesty, Louis XVIII., who has become the mode and the style of decoration he employed is happily almost distinct from any Louis one revived before in Paris and imported for our American homes.

Apparently the decorators who served by special appointment to the XVIIIth Louis not only advocated draperies wherever they were possible, but a great abundance and variety of materials used in combination. Velvet is nearly always the foundation hanging and upon this at a single door or window as many as three or four different types of silk, brocaded, or muslin goods are looped on over it.

The looping upon all occasions is made to fall from rosette knots, and uniquely enough quantities of fringes, feathers and ribbons are utilized to complete the effect of great elaboration. For example, here is a doorway showing how peacock plumes are being adopted for interior adornment, because the peafowl in some way is closely connected with the Bourbons of one century. This door itself is framed first in carving that imitates the joints of Japanese bamboo. This is all richly gilded, and from the top fall two curtains of the thickest red satin, brocaded all over in big yellow and peacock-blue figures.

Upon these hangs the lambrequin of Aubusson velvet in brilliant tone of peacock green, with blue and yellow designs on it, and then from a bow-knot above the door frame is looped a scarf of the loveliest soft yellow Japanese silk, edged with yellow silk fringe. Over the door is fastened a pyramid of peacock feathers and below that the iridescent soft breast plumage of the same bird, set in two oriental fan frames. Carved rosettes of gilded wood and yellow satin ribbons serve to catch the silk drapery of either side of the door, and, though all this blaze of color may sound bewildering and in bad taste, the actual results are wonderful and truly beautiful.

Naturally, an entrance or window, frilled, flowered and feathered in this style, costs the householder considerable, but as cheaply as one can buy inexpensive Louis XVI. wall papers and chintzes, just as the frugal but progressive woman can do over her own pretty rooms in charming machine-made Aubusson tapestries, damasked cottons and Bauvais velours, with jute fringes, that deceive the eye and last as long as the genuine velvets and satin brocades.

As might be expected, the latter are very costly, for all the Louis XVIII. draperies are of most fantastic weave, and it is safe to say that interest was aroused in them by their very extensive use in Bernhardt's revival of "La Dame aux Camelias." Throughout the velvet, satins and silks, and even in the tapestry upholstery, deep-rose and the varying tones of peacock-green and blue predominate. Now where a bed is to be draped a scalloped lambrequin of velvet or velours must first be set on plain about the canopy top. At every corner large puffy cabbage knots of satin or silk are fastened, with what are called jabot falls, depending from them, and their wide fringed loopings of silk festooned from point to point. Inside both lambrequins and curtains are nearly always lined with thin rose silk, and on wall-hangings considerable use is made of the thick silk cord and heavy fringy tassels.

Big, conventionalized roses, arrows, piercing double hearts, tasseled trumpets and braids of variegated morning glories are the favorite designs woven in these decorative goods of the first half of the century—all of them a great relief from medallions, wreaths, fleur-de-lis and miniature ovals of the eighteenth century periods, so done to death in the last five years.

The really most striking effect secured from this rage for swathing everything in folds and flutes of some goods or other is that most of the gilt and ormulu is blotted out of sight. In bedrooms even the tables are diligently petticoated and the mirrors carefully curtained by a long gracefully festooned scarf, on three sides; but these bedroom draperies are done in flowered French cottons. They are not so crisp as chintz, nor have quite so much body; therefore they fall easily into festooned valances for the bed,

The impurities in the blood which cause scrofulous eruptions are thoroughly eradicated by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Try it.

The Funnel Trick.

Jerry Lynch has finally learned the funnel trick. He took it in two doses—one on one evening and the other the next. The senator sauntered up to the Bohemian Club the other day and saw two or three of the younger members attempting a new feat, and he watched them with interest. One of them stuck a funnel in the top of his trousers, threw his head back, placed a fifty-cent piece on his forehead and tried to drop it in the funnel by slowly lowering his head. After all had failed Jerry insisted on trying it, though all had tried to dissuade him from attempting a feat too difficult for them. The funnel was placed in the waistband of his trousers and he threw back his head to receive the coin on his expansive brow. At that juncture a pitcher of ice water was emptied into the funnel, and by the time Jerry got through dancing the jokers had vanished. The senator's temper improved with dry raiment and the next night at the club he started in to show a couple of friends the funnel trick.

"It's this way," he explained, "you put the funnel in the top of your pantaloons, so, then throw your head back, so and— wow!"

Again Jerry was forced to change his raiment, and he is not showing people what he knows about the funnel trick.—San Francisco News Letter.

The sick man knocking at the door of health gets in if he knocks the right way, and, stays out if he doesn't. There are thousands of ways of getting sick, but only one way to get well. Do whatever you will, if you do not put your digestion in good order, and make your blood rich and pure, you will not get well. Rich, pure blood is the only thing that can bring perfect health. Constipation is a disease of the blood. A large part of all diseases are traceable directly to impurities in the blood, and can be cured by eliminating them with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The first thing it does is to put the whole digestive system into perfect order. It stimulates the appetite, excites a copious secretion of the digestive fluids and promotes assimilation. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be, kills them and forces them out of the system. The "Golden Medical Discovery" has been used with unvarying success for over 30 years.

Constipation Cured.

Gents,—I was in very poor health for over four years; the doctor said it was constipation. Not wanting to spend too much cash I got three bottles of B.B.B. and took it regularly, I can certify that I am now in the very best of health and feel very grateful to B.B.B.

What to Say About the Baby.

One is always expected to say something when looking for the first time on a new baby, and, as it is neither kind nor safe to tell the truth and say that the little, red, podgy creature doesn't look like anything, an English magazine gives a list of unpatented and uncopyrighted remarks to be used on such occasions:—

"Isn't he sweet? He looks like you!"

"I think he is going to look like his father."

"Hasn't he dear little fingers? Do let me see his dear little toes!"

"Isn't he large?"

"Isn't he a tiny darling?"

"How bright he seems!"

"Did you ever see such a sea little mouth?"

"Isn't he just too sweet for anything?"

"The dear little darling! I never saw so young a baby look so intelligent!"

"Do, please, let me hold him just a minute!"

Any and all of these remarks are warranted to give satisfaction, just as they have been giving satisfaction from time immemorial until the present day.

FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD.

Mrs. Liscumbe Makes a Statement for the Benefit of Others.

Mrs. Liscumbe is well known in Havelock and this is how she spoke to our representative:—

"I have been troubled for some time with severe pains in the side and back. I took many medicines of various kinds, but got no relief.

"The box of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at W. H. Jeff & Co's. drugstore gave me wonderful relief from the start. The improvement in my general health is not the least of the benefits which I have derived from the use of this remarkable kidney remedy.

"I can recommend them very highly to anyone troubled with any form of kidney disease."

Curious Storage of Hay.

An English traveler through Kashmir found in practice there a novel method of putting fodder up for winter use. The country lies in a valley among the Himalayas. The chief industry of the people consists in raising fine wool, and in making this into fabrics which have carried the name of the country all over the world.

A curious custom in some places is that of hanging quantities of hay up among the branches of trees. Why it was done was more than I could guess, till my guide informed me that in winter the snow lies five and six yards in depth, and that the supplies of hay, which now look as if they were meant for camelopards, are then easily reached by the flocks of sheep which abound there.

Scrofula is a word you don't quite understand, but if you talk with your doctor, he will tell you that it is generally believed to be due to the same cause which gives rise to Consumption. It appears mostly in those who are fat-starved and thin, usually in early life. A course of treatment of Scott's Emulsion with the Hypophosites wherever Scrofula manifests itself, will prevent the development of the disease. Let us send you a book. Free.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD
Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognised this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

NORWOOD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Miss Maggie Nelson is home after having travelled for about two months.

Mr. Geo. Elmhirst is visiting at Mr. Eaton's.

Mr. Geo. Rose left for College on Saturday.

The Misses Bark returned to Toronto, where they have been teaching.

Mr. Wm. Gebbie, who has been attending school in the United States and who has been visiting friends here, left for home on Monday.

Messrs. McGillivray, of Whitby, and Rutherford, of Toronto, spent New Year's at W. E. Roxburgh's.

Mr. Keifer is visiting his brother, the worthy editor of the Register.

Miss B. J. Roxburgh left on Sunday for her school in Keene.

Mr. F. D. Roxburgh returned to Toronto on Tuesday last, where he intends to finish his year at Knox College.

A week of prayer is being held here in which the clergy of all the churches are taking part. On Monday the meeting was addressed by Rev. Mr. McCamus in the Presbyterian church. On Tuesday evening the meeting was held in the Methodist church; on Wednesday evening in the Baptist; on Thursday evening in the Methodist; on Friday evening in the Presbyterian. Rev. Mr. Pierce was not able to attend these meetings until Wednesday evening on account of previous engagements.

On Thursday, the 31st of Dec., the annual meeting of the N.C.C.C. was held here and the following officers were elected:—

Hon. President—Mr. Eaton.
Commodore—F. Ruthford.
Vice-Commodore—Dr. Hall.
Sec.-Treas.—J. E. Roxburgh.
Purser—T. Wigmore.
Steward—D. Booth.

The High School opened on Monday morning with a large number of new pupils. Miss Campbell and Miss Garratt arrived on Tuesday.

The formal opening of the rink was held on New Year's night, and as there was a large number of people on the ice it shows how well it is appreciated. In the races D. Fraser won the mile race quite easily, and R. Pierce got the trophy in the half mile race, as all the others dropped out after the first couple of rounds.

The Norwood Canoe and Cruising Club held their annual "At Home" in the Oddfellows' hall on New Year's evening. Shortly after 8.30 o'clock the guests began to arrive and soon the comfortable hall presented a gay appearance. The lady members of the club looked charming in their evening dresses, the hon. presidents and their better halves lend dignity and propriety to the occasion, while the canoeists themselves were active in their efforts to entertain their friends. Crokinole, pedro and other games were indulged in, but the feature of the evening was the supper which was served at 12 o'clock. In many merry couples the guests seated themselves around the tables, and with campers' appetites did full justice to the good things provided. A programme was then rendered, in the course of which old Stony Lake songs were sung with old time vigor. Most of the entertainment was derived from toasts which were proposed and replied to by members of the club. The Queen received her regular homage, then the hon. Presidents were landed in complimentary terms. These were followed in turn by toasts to the club, and last, but not least, to the guests and ladies. On the last were showered floral eloquence. The speeches were given in good form and a pleasant evening closed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

Those present from a distance were Misses E. G. Brown, Annie Patterson, Ella Christie and Mary Erskine, Peterborough; Misses Laura and Jean Fowlds and Messrs. W. Fowlds and J. Fraser, Hastings; Misses Sutherland and Brook, and Mr. F. Spence, Toronto; Miss Allie Sherin, Lakefield; Miss Blezard and the Misses Miller, Keene, and Miss M. Anderson and Mr. McGillivray, Whitby.

The Loyal Orange Lodge and Royal Black Knights meet Tuesday next.

HAVE THEY FIXED IT?

Report That Nat Boyd Will Confess Bribery by Agents, Vacate and Run Again in Macdonald.

Winnipeg, Jan. 6.—(Special.)—A Portage la Prairie despatch says proceedings in the Macdonald election trial tomorrow will be brief, and that the party leaders have effected arrangements, which were consummated in Winnipeg on Dec. 26. Mr Boyd will confess to bribery by agents and relinquish his claim to the seat, thus saving considerable costs to the petitioners, and in return much of the evidence against the deputy returning officers will be suppressed at the preliminary hearing of the cases, so that none will be sent up for trial. The Conservatives, however, are somewhat suspicious that this will not be carried out on the part of the Liberals, as there seems to be a desire to prosecute the criminal charges against the deputies.

There is considerable indignation among the more patriotic that a few should assume to control the constituency. It is said that both Dr. Rutherford and Mr. Boyd will be again nominated as candidates and that Joe Martin will also run.

FOUND A JEWEL.

An Important Find by a Brockville Jeweller.

Mr. Joseph Lane, the well-known jeweller of Brockville, says: "For some years I have suffered with severe pains in my back and sides and flashes of heat between my shoulders. I had a tired, wornout feeling.

"The numerous medicines that I took gave me very little relief. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I thought I would try a box, and got one at Curry's drugstore.

"After the first two or three doses I felt much relieved, and the longer I took them the greater the change for the better in my condition. I am much better in every respect and recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from kidney trouble as the best remedy I know of."

ALL HOLIDAY FURS MUST BE SOLD

no matter what the loss. It does not pay to pack goods away. We are not offering the fag end of a bankrupt stock bought last summer; we would not insult the buying intelligence of the people of this community by offering them "Splendid Furs" that are the residue of an old bankrupt stock, the leavings, so to speak, of the good people of a neighbouring city. It might suit some places, but it won't suit Peterborough. Here are a few of our bargains:—

WHAT A

JANUARY OFFERING

...IN...

DRESS GOODS

MEANS.

It means that all those pretty fabrics which you and others have admired are price clipped to nearly one half and less to take them away. Every yard was bought for regular trade and there are no flimsy, flashy fabrics at any price.

Come and get samples. Consult our Dress-Making Department. It's a chance for the cheapest, stylish Gown you ever had.

The Last Call on Cloaks.

This time the prices on all remaining Winter Garments will be cut so deep that there will be no chance for further reductions.

If the signs read aright the great majority of our present holdings in Mantle Coats and Capes will leave the store next week, for values like those quoted here never fail to bring the customers.

Quality!!!

If every one were to judge of what is good and what is not good in merchandise, a great many dry goods stores would be out of business. Don't always trust the price, it is very often misleading.

If you are a judge of merchandise, look at the goods first then the price. We are willing that you should try us in that way.

BUSY JANUARY

There is to be no loitering by the way at this store. Close upon our holiday trade comes the activity stimulated by our Special January Values created by lowering the prices on all winter goods.

We know the ladies are interested in buying to the best advantage. They are not so firmly wedded to anyone store that they will not look elsewhere. All we want is a little of their attention—their good judgment will do the rest when they see our—

THURSDAY, MARCH 4

Said to be the Date for the Meeting of Parliament.

THE SOO CANAL STAFF LAID OFF

Conscience Money From a Lady Parcel Post Arrangements for Australian Points—Minister of Militia Preparing a Pension Scheme—Postal Wants of Rossland.

Ottawa, Jan. 7.—(Special.)—Thursday, March 4, is now suggested as the most probable date for the pening of Parliament. This will allow the Cabinet about eight weeks in which to get the legislative program of the session in order—not any too long a period for the serious work involved in the process. Legislation is promised on several important subjects, such as the franchise, the civil service and the tariff. The latter, of course, will demand the most attention and take longer time to get in shape for legislation, so that the investigating proceedings of the commission will have to be brought to a close before many days. In this connection it is given out that after sitting at Guelph next Tuesday the Ministers will proceed to the Maritime Provinces, where hearings will take place at two centres only, Halifax and St. John. It is not likely the commissioners will be able to give Manitoba a hearing at all.

All the staff of the Canadian Sault Canal, with the exception of Superintendent Boyd, have been laid off. Those discharged include Mr. Montague, mechanical superintendent and brother of Dr. Montague; the electrician, two clerks and one watchman. At the department no information can be obtained as to the reasons which led to these dismissals.

It is not often that money is received by the Customs Department over such a circuitous route as that by which a remittance of one dollar reached the controller to-day. It was conscience money representing the amount of duty which an Ottawa lady considered she owed the country on some little purchases she made in Chicago last year for friends in the Capital. She therefore forwarded a dollar with explanations to the Canadian Customs official of the Wabash Railway in Chicago, by whom it was duly transmitted to the department here. The conscientious sender may rest assured that her remittance has reached the proper quarter, and is now safe in the Government strong box on the hill.

The Tariff Commission meets to-morrow in Brockville, and in Guelph on Tuesday. The principal object of selecting these points is to give an opportunity to the agricultural classes to give their testimony. These two meetings will close the work of the commission in Ontario. Sir Richard Cartwright left for Brockville to-night.

The Postoffice Department has issued a notice stating that parcels for the Australian colonies of Queensland, Victoria and South Australia may in future be forwarded to Vancouver to be included in the parcel mail made up by that office for Sydney, New South Wales. The rate of postage for parcels for Queensland, Victoria and South Australia, sent via Vancouver and Sydney, will be the same as that on parcels for New South Wales, 24 cents per pound or fraction of a pound, up to eleven pounds.

Lieut.-Col. Borden, Minister of Militia, is at work on a scheme of pensions for the officers and men of the permanent corps, and members of headquarters and district staffs. These parties maintain that at present the system is unjust, that they spend their lives in the performance of duties that unfit them for anything else, and that when their usefulness is gone they are turned out to starve. Hitherto it has been the custom to make retired officers an allowance of two years' pay, and the Minister is now in consultation with insurance experts with the view to devising a plan by which these allowances may become the nucleus of a fund for the purchase of annuities.

Ministers here refuse to say anything about the report of the Pacific Cable Commissioners, which has been signed in England, but it is understood to give the cost of construction and to recommend that the work be done by Britain and the different colonies interested. An estimate of what the Mother Country and the colonies should each pay towards the scheme is also given. The provisions of the report will not be made known until such time as it has been received by the different Governments who are interested.

Owing to pressure of official duties and the near approach of Parliament, Mr. Laurier has been obliged to decline a pressing invitation extended to him by the Boston Merchants' Association to speak at a banquet to be given in that city on the 15th inst. It is the intention, however, of the Premier to take a short holiday before the work of the session begins, and he proposes at the end of the month to visit some of the principal cities of the New England States, and will probably extend his trip as far as Washington.

Complaints have been made to the Fisheries Department that in many of the most valuable fishing grounds so-called sportsmen have been making much larger catches than legitimate sport calls for. For instance, 100 salmon or bass have been taken by some sportsmen day after day, and those not required for their own use are subsequently sold. It is difficult to see how such a practice as this can be termed sport. It is conceded that something must be done to put a stop to unreasonable abuses of the kind, and it is suggested that there be a limit placed on the number of fish that can be taken per diem by sportsmen.

The arrangements in regard to a new hall between E. B. Butterworth and the Masonic fraternity of the city are off. Mr. Butterworth was to have erected a building on Sparks-street, five stories in height, the fourth and fifth stories to be occupied as Masonic quarters. Owing to the stringency of the city fire bylaws, Mr. Butterworth finds that he cannot furnish the rooms at the rent stipulated; in consequence, the craft will be compelled to seek other quarters.

Mr. D. M. Armstrong of the Toronto postoffice, was sent to Rossland, B.C., by Mr. Mulock to enquire into the mail service there, which was not giving general satisfaction, is in Ottawa making his report to the Postmaster-General.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries has decided that net fishing shall be prohibited in West Lake, Prince Edward County, Ontario. Representations were made that the lake, which is quite a resort for anglers, had recently been so depleted of its fish by reason of extensive netting that it threatened to be entirely fished out in a couple of years.

Hon. Thomas Greenway, Premier of Manitoba, arrived in Ottawa to-day from Toronto. Mr. Greenway will remain a couple of days in the Capital before proceeding to Winnipeg. Mr. Greenway was unable to say on what date the Manitoba Legislature would likely meet.

Mr. Burnett, M. P., and Mr. Fredenburg, the Liberal candidate in South Leeds, had an interview with the Controller of Customs and other members of the Government to-day.

Mr. Harry Furniss, the well-known artist of Punch, delivered one of his entertainments here to-night to a very large audience. Their Excellencies the Governor-General and Lady Aberdeen were present.

The contract for the construction of the electric cars for the Quebec Electric Railway has been awarded to the Ottawa Car Company. Thirty cars will be required.

POOR JENNIE GREY!

A Midland Girl Whose Death is Believed to Have Resulted From a Dose of Strychnine

Collingwood, Jan. 7.—Last night some boys who were playing on Cedar-street, between Third and Fourth, found a young woman walking backward and forward and piteously crying. When first spoken to by one of the lads, she would not reply, but in a few minutes asked them to keep her from falling. A son of Mr. R. Conn, who was present, noticed that the woman was sick and he asked the driver of a laundry wagon to convey her to a physician's office. He took her to Dr. Aylesworth's office. Dr. Arthur was called in, but the physicians could not save the woman's life. She died a few minutes after reaching the office. The body was afterwards removed to the undertaking warerooms of H. F. Trott & Son, and Coroner Stephen was notified, but decided not to hold an inquest. The body was identified by a number of people as that of Jennie Campbell, an employe of the Queen's Hotel. They, however, were mistaken, as a letter found under a pillow in the Toronto House proved the deceased to be Jennie Grey of Midland. The deceased was employed by Mr. Cook last summer, but had been away until a few days ago. On Tuesday night she remained at the Toronto House. In the note, which was addressed to Sadie, she said: "If you do not see me alive again, you will find two dollars in my pocket, which you can send to my mother to buy a pair of boots or dress for Belle. Thank your mother for me. Jennie Grey."

Another note, which was found on Cedar-street, admitted taking strychnine. On searching her clothes $2 was found, also a letter from a young man in town to herself. An orange, which is said to contain poison, was found near the place where she spoke to the boys. The young woman was apparently about to become a mother. The body was sent to Midland this afternoon.

The New York Central earned gross for December, $3,038,167, a decrease of $382,670; for three months ended Dec. 31, $11,668,564; decrease $738,352; and from July 1, to Dec. 31, $22,058,483; decrease of $1,050,898.

Hon. Mr. Mr. Laurier addressed his constituents in the Drill Hall at Quebec last night on the school question. He defended the settlement, and said he would as long as he lived fight for civil liberty and clerical non-interference in matters political. A resolution approving of the Government's policy was adopted.

HERE IS A MYSTERY.

A Brantford Young Man Takes His Own Life.

HIS NAME WAS FRED MELLISH.

He Rented a Room and After Occupying It a Day Shot Himself. Was Dead When Found—Left a Letter Saying He Was Tired of Life—Had Plenty of Money.

Toronto, Jan. 8.

Fred Mellish, a young man whose home is in Brantford, shot and killed himself some time yesterday afternoon in his bedroom at the residence of Daniel L. Cowle, 69 Sumach-street.

There is a mystery surrounding the cause of the man's self-destruction. He came here from Brantford last Tuesday in response to a letter from his brother Alfred W. Mellish, who is foreman for O. A. Barthelmes & Co., and resides at 447 Marion-street west, Parkdale.

A World man saw this brother last night and, although he seemed to be aware of a reason for his brother's rash act, he did not care to say what it was. All he cared to say in response to the reporter's question was that the young man "had troubles of his own." At present Mr. Mellish did not care to tell the reporter what these troubles were, but he says that there is no woman in the case, as far as he knows, but that the recent loss of a good situation had considerable to do with it. Regarding the cause of deceased's visit to Toronto, Mr. Mellish said it had nothing whatever to do with his brother's death. "He came in response to a letter from me regarding an insurance matter we wanted him to take a share in," said Mr. Mellish.

When deceased arrived here on Tuesday he went to his brother's house on Marion-street, where he stayed until yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Mellish did not care to be questioned concerning the matter and it was with some difficulty the above information was got from him.

Deceased was the son of Mr. Mellish, the well-known book and stationery man of Brantford. His step-mother and sister reside there. He has three brothers, Alfred W. and Frank, who reside in Toronto, and George, who formerly lived here.

The story of the man's suicide, as told by Mr. Daniel L. Cowle, at whose house the tragedy occurred, is substantially as follows:

Mellish only rented the room on Wednesday evening. He went to Mr. Cowle's house, accompanied by his brother Frank, at about 8.30, saw the room, said it suited him, and that he would take possession right away. His brother remained talking with him for half an hour or so, and then went home. The young man apparently retired soon afterwards, as everything was quiet after the brother left. Yesterday morning Mellish got up at about 10 o'clock and went out, returning at about 11. At noon a daughter of Mr. Cowle's saw him reading or writing.

During the afternoon he closed his door and nothing more was seen of him. Soon after 7 o'clock last night Mrs. Cowle wanted to get some children's clothes that had been left in the room, so she went upstairs and knocked at the door. Receiving no reply, she tried the knob, but the door was apparently locked on the inside. She broke it open and found it had been locked by a patent fastener, which Mellish had apparently carried with him. Mellish lay on his side on the bed when Mrs. Cowle broke into the room, and he looked so strange that the woman called her husband, who at once saw the man was dead. He was lying on his left side on the bed and in his right hand, which rested on his thigh, was a small silver-plated revolver, with one chamber empty. A small hole just under the temple, which was slightly covered with blood, showed where the ball had entered.

Mr. Cowle called in a policeman at once and Coroner Greig was sent for. When the Coroner arrived the man's effects were examined. In his pockets were found $448 in bills in three separate wads of $53, $125 and $265; an English sovereign, some small change, a watch and chain and ring, apparently a woman's wedding ring. He carried three pocketbooks, which contained, besides the money, some photographs and papers.

In one was a letter which said that he was tired of life, that even his own friends had deceived him, and that when they received the letter, he would be no more. He directed that his landlady be recompensed for any trouble his death in her house might incur and asked that his body be cremated. No report of a revolver had been heard by the occupants of the house, but the man had been dead some time when found.

After the body had been examined by the coroner, Inspector Brackenreid of No. 4 Police Division ordered its removal to Ingram's undertaking establishment in Queen-street east.

Deceased was a very handsome young fellow about 25 years of age, and a printer by trade. He wore a dark mustache and was about six feet tall and well built.

His relatives in Brantford were notified by telegram of the occurrence.

A warrant has been issued for an inquest.

HIS CHARRED REMAINS.

Edward Fenton Tried to Save His Cattle and Lost His Life by Fire.

Corbetton, Jan. 7.—Edward Fenton, a young farmer 25 years old, lost his life near here yesterday morning in an endeavor to rescue his stock from a burning barn. He, with his aged parents, whom he supported, lived on what is known as the Hunter farm. About 2.30 o'clock neighbors noticed smoke issuing from the large barn at the rear of the house. They raised the alarm and Fenton rushed to liberate the three horses and five head of cattle confined in the building. He got the horses out, but as the cows were chained to their stalls, it was with great difficulty that he could loose them. Once he was overcome with smoke and had to desist for a time. A second attempt, however, cost him his life. The loft above fell upon him, and when the embers cooled his charred remains were found among those of the cattle. The fire was of incendiary origin. Not long ago Fenton purchased the Gooderham farm, known in the locality as the Model Farm, and intended moving there in the spring.

Mothers

Anxiously watch declining health of their daughters. So many are cut off by consumption in early years that there is real cause for anxiety. In the early stages, when not beyond the reach of medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla will restore the quality and quantity of the blood and thus give good health. Read the following letter:

"It is but just to write about my daughter Cora, aged 19. She was completely run down, declining, had that tired feeling, and friends said she would not live over three months. She had a bad

POULTRY AND EGGS.

At the last meeting of the Farmers' Institute in Peterborough one of the delegates spoke on poultry raising and showed how profitable an annex it was to general farming. There is plenty of surplus stuff on the farm that can be fed profitably to poultry, which would otherwise be wasted. In the mere matter of eggs there is a tremendnous demand in Great Britain. That country consumes annually nearly one hundred and twenty million dozens. Last year Canada shipped a little over two million dozens, showing what an opening there is for eggs in Johnny Bull's larder. By paying more attention to poultry raising another profitable market can be opened. But to get a grip on the English market, which is hard to do, we must supply what that market demands and send them what it demands. We must take the greatest pains, as we have done in the cheese trade, and we shall have as good a market for butter and eggs in Great Britain as we now have for cheese. In the matter of eggs there are certain precautions to be used, and in this connection a letter of Mr. E. Morgan, of Delhi, Norfolk county, to the St. Thomas Journal is to the point: "As you are no doubt aware we have only one market in which to dispose of our surplus stock, i.e. that the British Isles, and in order to be able to compete in those markets which are open to the whole world, we must first produce the quality desired, viz: Eggs that will average up 1½ lbs. to the dozen; secondly the eggs must be clean and have a bright appearance. This can easily be done by keeping clean straw in the nests. Eggs should be gathered daily, and kept in a cool, dry room, not in a cellar, which is worst of all places. They should be marketed at least once each week, and storekeepers should exercise more care in buying in, and hand back all dirty, chipped and small eggs, or buy them as seconds, which they are. This may seem hard but it is not, as the dealer is paying for them all they are worth. Why is it wrong to cull eggs any more than it is to cull grain, or any other article of commerce? It is the only fair way to do business and the only way to raise the standard. We must produce what people want or lose their trade. The only complaints I have had this last season from Britain is that our eggs are too small, are not kept clean, and have not a good appearance. These defects we must remedy if we are to make a success. The poultry business is one of the best paying businesses the farm has, if it is given the care and attention it should have. There is no reason why hens should not lay all winter when fresh eggs bring a good price, but in order to do this warm houses, food, light, etc., must be furnished. When it is considered that I paid out in 1896 over $24,300 in cash for eggs, and I know that there has been shipped from the Delhi station over two thousand five hundred dollars worth of turkeys, to say nothing of the poultry canned and shipped in other ways, which will total altogether over $30,000, we have reason to be proud of our market. This output of eggs can be largely increased if properly looked after. You look after and house your cows, sheep, etc.; why not your poultry?

DOUBTFUL ELECTION METHODS.

Mr. N. Boyd, the Conservative member for Macdonald, in the Northwest, it seems achieved success by very crooked methods. The trials of the parties concerned in his election continue to be exciting and show that there was considerable tampering with the ballots. In some cases the ballots in the box exceed in number the names of those on the poll book. Freebora, a canvasser for Boyd testifies that he received a bunch of 30 blank ballots from a man named Brown. Ten of these he gave to Saunders, a deputy returning officer, with instructions as to how to substitute them in the box for Rutherford and Braithwaite ballots. On the night of the election, Saunders gave witness the nine ballots exhibited in court, marked for the defeated candidate, and said there was one spoiled ballot, which had been destroyed. Another deputy has admitted stuffing a ballot box with six bogus Boyd ballots.

GOOD ROADS LOGIC.

THE Canadian Wheelman puts it pithily thus: "The farmer who wants to buy a good farm, and who is willing to pay a good price for it, also wants good roads leading to it. Therefore, the farmer who wants to sell a good farm, and who wants to gets a good price for it, must see that the roads leading to it are good." Farmers, as well as others, are wakening to the importance of good roads, and are beginning to realise that money, even liberally spent, to secure good highways is a paying investment. And the people are beginning to think on the subject, and to see the mistakes of the past. One radical and costly mistake in both country roads and town streets is the too great width of the driveway. Wide driveways cost more to construct, are much more expensive to maintain, and less satisfactory in every way, than narrow ones. A wagon way of 21 or 22 feet in a town residential street is as good for every practical purpose as a forty foot roadway. It costs less to construct and is more easily kept in repair.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THERE are 16,091 miles of railway in Canada.

THE total imports into Peterborough in 1895 amounted to $338,464, and the exports to $414,480.

THERE have been expended on the canals of Canada to June 30th, 1895, $77,119,319. Up to that date there has been expended on the Trent Valley Canal, $1,145,804.

IN Ontario the convictions for drunkenness in 1894 was 3,267, as against 4,694 in 1884, a decided decrease. In Quebec in 1894 the convictions were 4,212, as against 1,624 in 1884—a decided increase.

IN 1895 Canada exported cheese to Great Britain of the value of $15,086.22. The value of the horses exported to the some country was $6,791,615; sheep $755,506; sheep, $1,253,399; wheat, $7,256,246.

THE estimated amount of coal in the mines of Nova Scotia is placed at seven thousand million tons. At the present rate of mining—two and a quarter million tons per year, these deposits will last 3,121 years.

Two Years of Bladder Torment—Had Attacks of Inflammation—Cured by a Few Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Owen Sound, Dec. 28.—(Special)—The people of this town are talking again of another cure credited to Dodd's Kidney Pills. This is the case of Mr. W. Cruse, caretaker of the town buildings, who, when seen, had this to say of the matter:

"For over two years I have been an intense sufferer from kidney disease, with occasional acute attacks of inflammation of the bladder.

"Was under doctors' treatment and have been compelled to resort to instrumental relief many times.

"I have taken eighteen boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am satisfied with results, being perfectly relieved of all suffering."

NATURAL GAS A MINERAL.

The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals Decides That Gas Piped From Canada is Free of Duty.

New York, Jan. 7.—By a decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals handed down to-day natural gas is declared to be a mineral for all the purposes of the statutes and customs laws of the United States. The court affirms the decision of the United States Circuit Court of this district, which affirmed a decision of the Board of General Appraisers, declaring that gas piped from Sherkston, Canada, into Buffalo was not subject to duty, as it comes within the definition of crude materials.

Sealskins are Down.

Victoria, B.C., Jan. 7.—Until the result of the second big sealskin sale in London is known, few if any of the fleet remaining in port will start for the hunting grounds, as the owners are determined to take no more long chances. Mrs. H. DeCourcey, 201 Chestnut Street, Toronto, says:—"The cure of my daughter by Munyon's Remedies was indeed a marvellous one. For ten years she had suffered with stiffness of her limbs, and had been treated by two of the most successful physicians in Toronto; besides this we had paid out a great deal of money for all kinds of medicines in an effort to improve her condition but she seemed to get no better. Her condition became such that she was unable to ascend the stairs and had often climbed up on her hands and knees or be carried. The stiffness in her wrists and fingers had compelled her to abandon her music lessons. A few weeks ago she began to use Munyon's Nerve and Blood Cures, and now she walks about with perfect freedom. She is able to attend school, and is again taking her music lessons. To say that we are deeply grateful for what Munyon has done for her is but mildly expressing our thanks. BRITAIN PROSPERS.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach Says So at Bristol.

A VERY LARGE INCREASE IN TRADE

Exports and Imports Heavier in 1896 Than in 1895—Lady Scott Admits Having Libeled Earl Russell—Matters Looking Better in India—Other Cable News.

London, Jan. 7.—Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Chancellor of the Exchequer, addressed his constituents at Bristol to-night. He said that the prosperity of the country in 1896 even exceeded that of the preceding year, the value of imports showing an increase of twenty-five million pounds, while the exports increased in value fourteen million pounds. He had reason to anticipate a fair revenue, and declared that the surplus would be beyond what was generally expected. He foresaw that Ireland would be a powerful claimant on the surplus, and he did not intend to discuss the difficult question of the financial relations between that country and Great Britain until Parliament met. He did not wonder that the Irish, in the face of the report of the Finance Committee, were demanding consideration, but there was no subject which required to be approached with a more judicial mind and which was further apart from sentiment. Sir Michael deprecated the unworthy charges that Great Britain had plundered the Irish taxpayers. The whole matter was one for reason and argument. He regretted that the Irishmen had seized part of the Blue book on the subject and had overlooked five different reports therein qualifying the same, besides contrary reports by two royal commissioners. The question must be dealt with in a spirit of justice to the United Kingdom, not to Ireland nor England alone.

THINGS ARE LOOKING BETTER.

Rains Have Done Much Good in India, But Still Relief is Needed.

Calcutta, Jan. 7.—At a meeting of the Council to-day Sir John Woodburn, the revenue member, said that the timely rains in November and December had saved India from the greatest calamity of the century, so widespread and severe was the drought, but a large area sown, with the assistance of the November rains, had been greatly benefited by further rains last week, and an addition to the food stocks was expected in April. In spite of this, he continued, the present situation was very grave. Nearly 750,000 persons were already in receipt of relief, and in the task of providing for these enormous numbers the Government was giving unstinted help in men and money.

The Viceroy, the Earl of Elgin, endorsed the statement of Sir John Woodburn, and said it was what the Government was awaiting in order to enable it to give better effect to the proposals which it would now gladly receive. In regard to the obligations of the Government, the Viceroy emphatically declared that it had and can have nothing to do with an appeal to private charity, nor could private charity be allowed to interfere with its own duties. These were clear and the Government was determined to fulfil them. The funds were ample and it should never be said that the full resources of the Empire had not been used for relieving the distress.

LADY SCOTT OWNED UP.

Caused a Profound Sensation by Pleading Guilty of Libeling Her Son-in-Law.

London, Jan. 7.—The spectators who crowded the Old Bailey Court room this morning to watch the proceedings for criminal libel brought by Earl Russell against Lady Scott, his mother-in-law, John Cockerton and William Aylott, were treated to a genuine surprise. Immediately after the court was called to order, Solicitor Walton arose and announced to the court that, under the advice of counsel, the defendants withdrew their plea of justification in uttering the libels complained of by Earl Russel, and pleaded guilty, as charged. The announcement created a profound sensation.

When Mr. Walton had ceased speaking the judge announced that a recess would be taken, and the prisoners were removed from the room and the court cleared. When the sitting was resumed the prisoners were brought in. Lady Scott was in a highly excited condition, but Aylott and Cockerton maintained an air of unconcern.

Mr. Walton addressed the court, saying that he had consulted with his client, Lady Scott, who had left herself entirely in his hands. As His Lordship, the Judge, had ruled that Kast, who died in Holloway jail on Dec. 11, was the principal witness in the case of the defence, as well as a defendant, he said the plea of justification must be withdrawn.

The jury then rendered a formal verdict of guilty in the case of each of the defendants, and the court announced that sentences would be imposed on them to-morrow.

The case is a sequel to the difficulties which have existed between Earl Russell and his wife for a number of years. In 1891 Countess Russell, formerly Miss Mabel Scott, daughter of Lady Scott, brought suit against her husband for divorce, and in her complaint made accusations against him of the most shocking character, accusing him not only of cruelty, but of crimes of a most revolting nature. Countess Russell was not successful in proving her charges, her suit suffering a complete breakdown, and she was condemned to pay the costs of the action, amounting to over £5000.

Earl Russell then secured a judicial separation from his wife, but about two years ago the Countess sued for a restoration of conjugal rights, and was again defeated.

This suit was followed by an action brought by H. A. Roberts, master of Bath College, and one of Earl Russel's Oxford friends, against Countess Russell, claiming damages for libel in having testified in the divorce action that certain immoral relations had existed between Roberts and her husband. The result of the suit was that Roberts secured a verdict for £3000.

Lady Scott was arrested on Oct. 10 last upon a charge of criminal libel brought by Earl Russell, and next day John Cockerton, an engineer, and Frederick Kast, a groom, were arrested in connection with the case. William Aylott was also wanted, but he fled to Algiers to escape arrest. Later, however, he returned and surrendered himself for trial. The acts of which the defendants had accused Earl Russell were said to have been committed on board the Earl's yacht, upon which Cockerton, Kast and Aylott were employed.

On Nov. 30 Kast was taken ill with pneumonia, and died in Holloway jail on Dec. 11, Lady Scott having in the meantime been ill also. The trial of the case was resumed on Jan. 4.

The Boer Government Wants John Bull to Whack Up About $2,000,000.

Johannesburg, Jan 7.—The Johannesburg Standard announces this morning that the Government has completed its bill against the British Government, demanding indemnity for the Jameson raid, and is about to forward it to London. The amount of the Boer claims, the paper says, is under £2,000,000.

Yankee Girl Weds a Turk.

Paris, Jan. 7.—The marriage of Miss Edith Lyman Collins of New York to Rechid Bey (Count Czaykowski), an attache of the Turkish Embassy at Rome, took place in this city at 1 o'clock this afternoon in the Church of St. Germain L'Auxerois, near the Louvre. The porch and main aisle of the church were covered with carpet, and the edifice was filled by a large and fashionable company of guests. The interior of the church was profusely decorated with palms and flowers, white chrysanthemums, etc. The bride walked to the altar on the arm of her father, Clarence L. Collins of New York. Miss Collins wore a white satin robe, with a train three yards in length.

NORTH ONTARIO.

Mr. Angus McLeod of Bracebridge the Unanimous Choice of the Conservative Convention.

Beaverton, Ont., Jan. 7.—The Liberal-Conservative convention of North Ontario met in Alexandria Hall here to-day for the purpose of selecting a candidate for said riding for the House of Commons. Dr. Gillespie of Cannington, president of the association, was in the chair, with Mr. Walsh, "the old veteran secretary" of Sunderland, in his place as usual. Upwards of 200 delegates, coming from all sections of the riding, were present. The names brought before the convention were as follows: A. McLeod, P. McCrae, A. A. Mahaffy, Dr. Gillespie, N. F. Paterson, Q. C.; A. Hunt, W. Hoyle, Charles and William Junkin, William Gibbs, George Proctor, A. J. Reid, Hugh Wilson, William Bell, Thomas Treleaven. With short addresses all retired with the exception of Mr. Angus McLeod of Bracebridge, who was made the unanimous choice of the convention by the hearty singing of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

GOUGH'S OVERWHELMING UNLOADING SALE

Extraordinary Measures to Cut Down a Mountain Of Merchandise

Comes at a grand time for buyers. This is our spick-and-span brand new Winter Stock which we expected to have well sold by this time. But the mild weather made buyers think winter was'nt coming at all, leaving us with a stock which we must move out during January to the music of double quick time.

We are willing to pay you well to buy now. This ought to be pleasing news to prospective buyers. Just when actual winter weather is likely to set in, and zero weather will create heavy demands for warmer clothing, we sound

The Death-Knell to Profits.

The goods you want at any price you want to pay—forming a two-fold incentive without a parallel in business. Quick Sales is what we want, and that means giving us plenty of business at a time when everybody says there's none to be got.

TAKEN POSSESSION

I beg to announce to the citizens of Peterborough and vicinity that I have purchased the business lately conducted by Mr. C. B. Routley, and will continue to carry on a First-class Fancy Goods Store with full lines in all departments as heretofore.

Orders will be placed as rapidly as possible for an entirely new stock of goods for each department and the establishment will soon be overflowing again with an assortment of the very latest goods, unequalled by any retail Fancy Goods Store in Canada.

Ten Days Longer.

For ten days longer, still more Sweeping Clearing Sale prices will be continued until stock-taking is fully completed.

Mr. Routley will be found at the office in the store during the next few weeks to settle his outstanding accounts and wind up his business affairs.

Respectfully soliciting a continuance of your esteemed patronage.

C. F. KUTZBACH,
Successor to C. B. Routley.

New Chromatic Calendar.

We have received from the Peterborough Hardware Co. a copy of the Winchester Repeating Arms Co's new calendar for 1897. The hanger is quite an attractive design in chromatic effects, depicting two hunting scenes, "An Interrupted Dinner" and "A Chance Shot," in both of which the repeating rifles of the company are getting in some good work.

Stole a Plate.

On the night of Jan. 7th some person or persons broke open the show case at the entrance to Mr. Whiten's photo studio, No. 158 Hunter street, and stole a photograph of J. G. Gaudaur, champion oarsman of the world. Mr. Whiten will give a reward for the apprehension and conviction of the thief or thieves.

Little Red Riding Hood.

This tidy little operatta was repeated at St. John's school house last night, with even greater success that on Tuesday night. The house was again crowded and all were more than delighted with the bright and piquant entertainment provided. Miss McCollum is deservedly receiving compliments for her clever dramatization of the nursery tale, and those taking part are to be warmly commended for the spirit with which they profited by her instruction in presenting their parts so admirably. A handsome sum was realised for the Sunday school fund. The fame of this entertainment has gone abroad and an earnest request for its presentation at Lakefield is under consideration.

M. L. Henry & Co. to Their Customers.

The very encouraging nature of our business during the past year has determined us to see our very best efforts in continuing to give our customers very special advantages in goods and prices during 1897. In order to do this we must have the cash to pay for what we buy. Our customers will therefore help us and help themselves as well by settling their accounts without delay. Our customers owing overdue accounts will confer a favour by calling at the store before January 20th, and make arrangements for settlement of same. M. L. HENRY & Co., Family Grocers Wine and Liquor Merchants.

WAGES CASES

Against Messrs. Corry & Laverdure Trent Valley Canal Contractors.

Several wages cases were brought in the police court this morning against Messrs. Corry & Laverdure. The men, it appears, were paid at the rate of ten cents an hour when twelve and a half had been promised.

Mr. Laverdure was present and acknowledged the correctness of one account, but paid the other under protest.

A large number of cases against the same firm have been in court lately.

The magistrate in adjudicating on the cases remarked that it would probably cause less trouble if the men waited a day or two after being discharged and endeavoured to arrange a settlement with the firm, without bringing the case into the police court as soon as they could get to the magistrate. At the same time he also thought that before discharging a man the firm should endeavour to have his account in such a shape as to be able to pay him immediately if possible.

THE WANDERING WILLIES.

A Hundred Less Accommodated in 1896 Than in 1895.

Constable Adams had tabulated the number of tramps who have been accommodated in the police cells during the year and finds that there were 335 who applied for and received lodgings, as compared with 453 for the year 1895.

The decrease of 117 is attributable, probably to the fact that for some time after the row at Heaps' Cut the Magistrate was more than unusually severe with the gentry of the road. There were also several other affairs in which the tramps were concerned, and in which they received heavy sentence. All this had the effect of clearing the neighbourhood of their undesired presence for some time.

PERSONAL

Mr. Robert Missen, formerly of the Port Hope Lacrosse Club, was in town yesterday on business.

Messrs. Reggie Turner and Fred Logan are attending the Millbrook carnival this evening in costume.

Miss Lizzie Fallis, of Cavan, has been visiting at the residence of Mr. A. J. Edwards, of the C. P. R. day staff.

Mr. Bert Thompson is making Peterborough his headquarters for a day or two and is being welcomed back to town by his many friends.

Hon. Wm. Harty has written to the Department of Public Works to the effect that the treatment which he received in New York has resulted in a great improvement in his health. He will leave shortly for a visit to Ottawa, and will be in Toronto before the session begins.

The Millbrook Reporter says.—Rev. J. J. Rae, of Peterborough, delighted the large congregation who turned out to hear him in the Methodist church on Sunday last. Mr. Rae is one of the most earnest and pleasing speakers in the conference and is rapidly advancing to prominence.

Mr. J. A. Campbell, of Port Hope, who was the representative sent from that town to the annual meeting of the Midland Colts held here last month, is leaving to take up his residence in New York city. Mr. Campbell's occasional presence in Peterborough will be greatly missed.

Dr. Chamberlain, Provincial Inspector of Prisons, Asylums and Hospitals, is in town to-day on official business. He looked over the several institutions in town coming within his inspectorate, and reports them all well conducted, well kept, and the public interests well looked after.

Double Wedding.

A double wedding took place at the Methodist parsonage, Norwood, on Wednesday, of last week, the contracting parties being Mr. Jas. Albert Lawrence, of Marmora, and Miss Sophrona Munro, of Methuen, and Mr. Sheldon Walbridge and Miss Lavina Munro, also of Methuen. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. A. McCamus.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Rink Talk and Items of Local and General Interest to Sportsmen.

HOCKEY.

The hockey match with Trinity University, which was to have taken place on Tuesday next, has been declared off, as Mr. G. J. Hopkins received a telegram cancelling the game yesterday. As the seniors are badly in need of something better than a practice to get them into shape, arrangements will be made to take the members down to Norwood early in the week for a match.

A scratch team has been made up to give the Lindsay Collegiates a game in that town to-night. All the boys are aspirants for places in the first and second Peterboroughs, and doubtless they will give a good account of themselves. The team is composed as follows: goal, Wasson; point, R. Thorne; cover point, A. Hollingshead; forwards B. Belleghem, C. Graham, W. Crossley and H. King. Jockey Hopkins will go along with the boys, who will also be accompanied by a number of friends.

The Executive Committee of the Peterboroughs met last night in the rink parlours for the purpose of making such arrangements as to prevent the overcrowding of the hockey ice, as is frequently the case. The following provisional schedule was drawn up, to go into effect on Monday night next, allotting the players to the following nights:

Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays—R. Davidson, W. Phelan, Chris. Graham, F. LeFevre, W. J. Montgomery, S. Adams, E. Wasson, A. Hollingshead, B. Belleghem, F. Dixon, R. Thorne, W. Crossley, P. Rubidge and E. Grubbe.

Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays—King, Watt, Borland, McNee, MacGachan, Rickey, Thompson, Morrow, Logan, Fife, Kenner, Stinson, Hopkins and such of the first mentioned group as the captain sees fit to select. This arrangement is only provisional and players may be transferred at the direction of the Executive. Three or four more playing members could be accommodated on the ice. All members who have not paid for their tickets are requested to do so before the new schedule goes into effect.

Last night there were eighteen players on the ice, and the checking was entirely too close for good practice.

The senior team will not put its strongest seven on the ice in the first match against the Royal Military College team, and a few of the best men will be given the intermediates and juniors to help them through with their first games.

Mr. "Bob" Missen, of Port Hope, was in town last night and was around with his old lacrosse friends. "Bob" says Port Hope has a pretty "nifty" hockey team this winter. What's the matter with sending the intermediates down to give them a game?

At the re-organisation meeting of the Keene hockey club, the following officers were elected: R. McCamus, hon. pres.; F. Burnham, pres.; A. Walsh, vice-pres.; J. McCarthy, secretary; J. McIntyre, captain; Dr. Shaw, general manager; C. Fife, W. Brown, B. Dickson and F. Quinn, committee.

CURLIANA.

The curlers got word last night from Mr. J. D. Flavelle, of Lindsay, that Monday would be the most convenient day to play off the first match of the year in the Lindsay-Peterborough competition.

The curlers are making up for lost time and the three rinks are going both afternoon and evening. Yesterday the following scratch games were played:

A J Gough,		F J Rogers,
J D Baptie,		R H Fortye,
Ed Brown,		G E Whiten,
H LeBrun, skip	10	G W Hatton, skip	13

S Ray, sk.....15	T P Attrill, sk.....14

The following matches in the Kendry Cup series are drawn for to-night:

R H Kells.....vs.....D W Dumble
R B McKee.....vs.....W D Parker

A meeting of the Granite Club is called for to-morrow evening in the rink parlours at eight o'clock sharp. All members are requested to be in attendance.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Good ice at the rink.

—An assault case was dismissed in the police court this morning.

—Farmers are praying for sleighing in order that they may fulfil their wood contracts.

—The annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society will be held on the afternoon of the 15th inst.

—Have you tried "Gold Cure" for Asthma. If not call on J D. Tully and get a sample. 6d2-1w

—Lindsay will have a civic holiday on February 2nd—the date of the curlers' excursion to Niagara Falls.

—On a charge of being drunk and disorderly a citizen was fined two and dollars by Magistrate Dumble this morning.

—Dwight L. Moody, Sam Jones, Francis Murphy and Archbishop Martinelli are all trying to overcome the sins of Boston. Boston must begin to feel like a modern Nineveh.

—Tuesday night, Jan. 12th, a grand boxing entertainment will be given in Bradburn's Opera House. Jem Mace, John F. Scholes, Dick Collier, Lew Morris and other noted pugilists will take part. This will be the greatest exhibition of the manly art ever given in Peterborough. Prices are only 25, 35 and 50c. Seats now on sale.

—The management of the Riverside Park open air skating rink has added a portable steam flooder to its equipment. Manager Young states that the rink will be flooded each evening at 10 o'clock, giving those who patronize open air skating good, keen ice each day, while the skating season lasts. The ice at present is in excellent condition, and was reflooded this morning in order to make good skating over the entire acre.

—On Monday night next Joshua Simpkins, the funniest of all rural plays, will be seen at Bradburn's Opera House. The singing and dancing is all good, and the thrilling saw mill scene is something marvellous. A grand concert will be given at noon, corner of George and Simcoe streets. Come and hear the Joshua Simpkins' wonderful Farmer Band. Prices 25, 35 and 50c.

A MARRIAGE OF TRUST.

All Available Assets Absorbed by the License Fee—Nothing Left for the Minister.

The blissfully uncertain and problematical felicity of the matrimonial estate might be easily accounted for if we could only know the multiform conditions, material and moral, that influence those taking part in this game of chance. "Love in a cottage" sounds very romantic, but the prosaic element, represented by bread and butter, must be reckoned with. Many would be found to confidently predict failure from a marriage under the following conditions. Not long ago a minister was called upon to celebrate marriage in a home at a long distance—in a pedestrian sense—from his residence. He walked down to the house and found, when the bridal pair had taken their position, that the marriage license had not been procured. Of course this necessitated a stay of proceedings; and there was no other course open to the minister than to accompany the pair up town to an issuer of marriage licenses and procure the essential document. Then another long trudge back to the house, and the solemn ceremony was duly celebrated. When the formality, of considerable material interest to the officiating minister, came to be observed, it was found that the bridegroom had expended all his worldly possessions in payment of the two-dollar fee for his license, and the minister was compelled to accept the situation—he could not undo the marriage and did not like to propose to the issuer of the license a "divvy" of his fee. However he had what was better than money—the consciousness of having made two hearts happy. If they could in simple trust face the future and the naturally accumulating responsibilities of matrimony, without a cent in their pockets, they doubtless reasoned that the minister might trust them for the marriage fee. He had to trust them anyway and he thinks, from some of his past experiences in this direction, he will have ample opportunity for the development of the virtue of faith and charity, if not of hope.

COMPLIMENTARY REFERENCE

To Peterborough's New Inspector, and to Mr. Pakenham, Formerly of Town.

The following minutes were passed at the last meeting of the Brockville Board of Education in reference to Mr. Pakenham and Mr. Walker, respectively, in both of whom Peterborough is interested:

The committee of school management reported as follows:

That pursuant to the direction of the board a minute in reference to Mr. Pakenham and Mr. Walker, respectively, should be prepared, your committee has prepared such and report thereon as follows:

That Mr. Wm. Pakenham became head master of the Brockville Collegiate Institute immediately after the Easter holidays in 1894. His engagement commenced at a time when matters were in such a state as to render his work extremely difficult, and to call for the exercise of high qualities as a disciplinarian and teacher. He proved that he possessed these qualities, and by the due exercise of them, he has brought our institute to a stage of success greater than it had ever before attained and one most satisfactory to all concerned.

Mr. Pakenham's success in the discharge of his duties has been such that great regret has been felt at his asking to be allowed to resign in order to accept a better position offered to him by the honourable Minister of Education. Nor is such regret limited to this cause only. Mr. Pakenham as a citizen has won esteem and good will, and the best wishes of the trustees and our people generally follow him and his esteemed wife to their new home.

That Mr. Duncan Walker became mathematical master in the Collegiate Institute, Brockville, after the summer holidays in 1894, and held the position until the Christmas holidays of 1896, when he resigned, having been offered the position of inspector of schools for Peterborough, Ontario, and having accepted the same.

Mr. Walker, during his engagement to the Board, proved himself to be an excellent disciplinarian, and was faithful, painstaking and successful as a teacher. He gained the respect and good-will of his fellow-teachers, the trustees and the citizens generally, and the Board, while pleased at Mr. Walker having obtained promotion, much regret losing his services.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. A. GILMOUR,
Chairman school management committee.

Brockville, 5th Jan., 1897.

Moved by W. A. Gilmour, seconded by Jas. A. Hutcheson, that the report of the committee of school management be and is hereby received and adopted. That the minutes in reference to Messrs. Pakenham and Walker respectively be entered in full in the minutes of the Board, and that a certified copy thereof, as far as concerns himself, be furnished to each of these gentlemen.—Carried.

"POLITICS AND MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS."

To the Editor of the Daily Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—In last evening's issue of the Review, I notice a communication from a "Conservative" upon "Politics and Municipal Elections," in which he advocates that all candidates for councillors in Peterborough and elsewhere should be supported from the standpoint that they are good Conservatives, and should be nominated with the sole object in view of distributing all offices of emolument from pathmaster up, amongst their own friends and supporters, and he states that the Conservatives party are greatly to blame for not adhering more strictly to this line of policy. He complains that they have been cajoled right and left by the Grits, who are accused of endeavouring to introduce politics into municipal elections when ever opportunity arises. I may say for the benefit of the Review newspaper and the "Conservative" who devotes his time to scribbling this kind of rubbish, that myself and hundreds of others are disgusted with the party and the leaders of the party in Peterborough for their miserable cringing to everything in the shape of spoil, and sacrificing principle upon every occasion for the advantage of some of their friends or supporters who may happen to be needy. I have been a reader of the Review for a great many years, and no homily need be read that organ upon its servility to party, for it is because it has been pulled through the mire by the leaders of the party that it finds itself and the party in the position they are in.

The council of Peterborough has been managed for many years by a Conservative majority, and they have no particular record to be proud of to look back upon. It is true that they have secured all the municipal appointments for Conservatives with the exception of an assessor, and what more could they procure for them without putting their hands directly into the treasury, and taking the common funds of the people, both Liberals and Conservatives? If a "Conservative" will take the trouble to look up those whose taxes are remitted, he will find that nine out of ten are Conservatives, that the business of the town has not been conducted upon a principle of what is right, but it has been conducted in a truckling manner to every party interest rather than on the ground of the public welfare, and even in the last municipal mayoralty contest, wherever an opportunity was afforded of appealing to a man upon his Conservative principles to vote for Mr. Moore, it was done, and I know it was done. I took no interest in the mayoralty contest excepting to cast my vote for Mr. Yelland, for the simple reason that he was not being given fair play in not being allowed a second term. He ran a contest which Mr. Moore refused to run when asked last year. He won and was entitled to a second term. I do not even think he was a fit man for the position, but of the two he had the virtue of honesty to commend him to my support. I had no feeling against Mr. Moore. I personally do not think that either Mr. Moore or Mr. Yelland are the men that should have been selected, but of the two evils I chose the lesser. For my part I would be very glad to see a Liberal council, or any council, having only the welfare at heart of the town where I have my own interests. I would be very much delighted to see the people rise above any party feeling whatever, and elect a man who is fit for the position, and who will administer our affairs in the best interests of all the people. Whether it be a Liberal or Conservative council I care not, neither do the majority of the ratepayers. A "Conservative" need not go to Archie McKellar for rubbish of this kind he need only go to Sir Charles Tupper's speech in Toronto very recently in which he again stultified himself by advocating policy instead of principle and the sooner the Review newspaper and a "Conservative" learn to fully realize the fact that there are electors who vote for principle and not party, they will probably more fully realize the duty that a citizen owes to a community.

I am a Conservative, and, thank God, a Conservative of the old school, when it was below the dignity of a great historical party to spend their energies in capturing a poundkeepership or a pathmastership. A continuance of the policy advocated by "A Conservative" will give the finishing touch to the blow that has been given the party by the tactics that have been pursued the last few years.

I have always been, and hope to always be, a Conservative, but I never will stoop to the level of peanut politics in my efforts to advance Conservative principles.

Yours truly,
"CONSERVATIVE."

The Board then adjourned.

After the adjournment of the board Mr. Quinlan, the chairman, invited the members to partake of an oyster supper, which was served in Welsh's restaurant, Hunter street.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN BISSETT.

A Former Resident of Dummer Dies in Cleveland.

Mr. John Bissett, a former resident of Dummer, died at his home in Cleveland, Ohio, after a few days illness, on Dec. 27th, in his eighty sixth year.

Mr. Bissett was well known in the county, being one of the early settlers. He was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, and came to Canada in 1838, settling near Warsaw in the township of Dummer. Here he lived for thirty-three years, taking an active interest in all the affairs of the township. He married in 1842, Sarah McMillan, a native of Glasgow, Scotland. In 1871 he removed with his wife and family to the city of Cleveland, where he has since resided. He leaves a son and three daughters—Mrs. W. McKnight, and Misses Anna L. and Lizzie E. Bissett, of Cleveland, Ohio, and Dr. J. A. Bissett, of Kansas City. The late Mrs. Chas. Nicoll was also a daughter of the deceased.

DIVINITY GRADUATES GATHER.

Local Clergy Attend a Theological Conference in Toronto.

The first annual gathering of graduates and under-graduates in Divinity of Trinity University, Toronto, began yesterday. Amongst the local clergy present are Rev. H. Symonds, of St. Lukes; Ven. Archdeacon Allan, Millbrook; Rev. Rural Dean Allan, Millbrook; Rev. G. Warren, Lakefield; Rev. C. B. Kenrick, Port Hope; Rev. W. L. Baynes Reed, Keene.

The Ven. Archdeacon Allan, of Millbrook, was elected chairman.

After the transaction of various matters of business, the Rev. George Warren, of Lakefield, read a most interesting and valuable paper on "The Ethical Teachings of our Lord Jesus Christ." He pointed out that increased activity and knowledge of the present day called for earnest study of ethics. The scholar, however, must be merged in the disciple, and we must learn the vital principles of Christian activity from the living teacher. The summum bonum of the Gospel teaching was emancipation of the soul, the restoration of life and the construction and perpetuation of a society. Moral movement towards perfect righteousness was a characteristic of the ethics. The only way to carry out the true principles of Christian ethics is to become filled with the spirit of Christ, and seek to follow Him in singleness of affection, in reverence, humility and love. This can only be attained by prayer and self-denial.

A number of other most interesting papers were read.

In the evening the question of establishing a bishopric in Japan was earnestly considered, and the Trinity men will probably endorse the proposition.

WEEK OF PRAYER.

Rev. W. R. Young Occupied the Pulpit of St. Paul's Church Last Evening.

St. Paul's church was comfortably filled last night at the service in connection with the week of prayer. The Rev. Dr. Torrance presided and Rev. Messrs. Rae, Dykeman, Cragg, Mayor Yelland and Mr. Gilchrist assisted in the exercises of the evening. The Rev. W. R. Young, B. A., gave a thoughtful dissertation on "Educational Institutions." He remarked that as Canadians we might well be proud of our educational system, from the kindergarten to the most prominent university. There were three facts worthy of consideration. 1. Mental culture is essential to the prosperity and progress of a country. 2. Moral education gives value to mental culture. 3. To the Christian church to-day is given, and laid upon her the responsibility of the proper mental and moral culture of our children. We should pray that our educational institutions might be permeated by a religious influence (1) through the lives of the teachers—men and women of unblemished characters—possessing graces and qualities worthy of imitation. (2) From the proper position given the Bible in our schools (3) by the Christian church throwing her protecting ægis around our institutions. The meeting throughout was intensely interesting.

THE CLOSING SERVICE.

The closing service is always the most solemn. The meetings throughout the week have been beneficial to all, who have taken advantage of them, and to-night's meeting in the Murray street Baptist church will be of special interest to every Christian. Evangelist W. M. Roger will address the meeting on Social Reform, touching upon temperance and purity. The Rev. A. T. Dykeman will preside. Let there be a full house, and let all seek a fuller blessing.—COM.

ADVERTISING IN THE EXAMINER PAYS

A woman's work is hard in many ways. Unless the woman is strong and healthy her work will cause her much distress and pain, and she will suffer from headaches, and backaches and side-aches, and each evening will find her utterly worn-out, sick and disgusted with life. In this condition of mind and body she cannot be a loving and amiable companion for her husband when he returns from his work weary too in body and mind.

If a woman wants to live a happy, contented, loving, helpful married life she cannot take too much care of the health and vigor of the organs distinctly feminine, for her general health and strength is largely dependent upon her special health in a womanly way. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription enables a woman to be always well and strong where a woman most needs health and strength. It acts directly on the important and delicate organs involved in her wifehood and motherhood. It makes them strong and healthy. Taken during the period preceding motherhood it banishes the usual discomforts and makes baby's coming easy and comparatively painless. It insures the new-comer's health and provides an ample supply of natural nourishment. It cures all weakness and disease, and headaches, backaches, and side-aches no longer torture her in her work. Over 90,000 women have testified to the wonderful virtues of the "Favorite Prescription" over their signatures. An honest druggist will not try to force on you a substitute for the sake of a few pennies of added profit.

Dr. Pierce's 1000-page "Common Sense Medical Adviser" will be sent free, paper-covered, for 21 one-cent stamps to pay cost of customs and mailing only. Or cloth-bound for 50 stamps. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

PAYING A BROTHER'S DEBT.

"O, Charley, Charley, how could you do such a thing?"

"Lily, I couldn't help it. I tell you I was hard up. A fellow must have money. You women don't know anything about the temptations and necessities of the world!"

"But, Charley," she faltered, "do you know how this same world, as you phrase it, looks at the deed you have just committed? It is forgery! That a Wayland should come to this!"

"Dared!" he echoed, recklessly: "It was but a stroke of the pen, after all, and old Glencross would be a paltrier miser than I take him to be if he makes a fuss about a matter of $500."

"It is the right and the justice of the thing," cried Lilias, almost frantically "If we could pay him in any way; but I have sold everything that remains of our former wealth. Last night I sat up until midnight sewing, to have a little money to pay the rent. I have not a jewel left, nor a trinket!"

"O, bother, Lill. If old Glencross cuts up rough, it is only taking a trip across the water. I know lots of ship captains that would stow me away under their holds any moonlight night."

After he had gone, Lilias sat down to try and realize the new situation in which she and her brother were placed. All now dependent upon the spirit in which Paulus Glencross should receive this new encroachment upon his purse and patience.

Lily had never seen this distant relation, yet she had formed an opinion of him in her inmost mind, and whenever she thought of Mr. Glencross the image of a hook-nosed man, yellow-skinned and cadaverous, suggested itself to her mental eye.

"But he must be human, at least," throught Lily, in the agony of her distress. "If I go to him myself and tell him just what poor Charley's necessities were, and how good-hearted he really is, in spite of all his faults and thoughtlessness—if I say frankly that I will stay and work for him as a servant girl might work in the kitchen, until I have discharged the horrible debt, surely, O surely he cannot have the heart to refuse."

Two days from the evening in which she had bidden goodby to her handsome, reckless brother, she stepped from the cars at the New York depot.

A little inquiry sufficed to bring her to the street where Mr. Glencross resided—a stately avenue, lined on either side with palaces, the like of which Lily had never seen.

As Lilias sat on the silken sofa waiting with a throbbing heart for the appearance of her unknown cousin, the thought stole into her mind that he was not so much of a miser after all; and then came a sick sort of misgiving that her mission was all in vain.

"For surely," she thought, glancing tremulously round the elegant apartment, "he will not want any one to make bread or look after the kitchen expenditures! I wish—O, I wish, that I was safe at home again!"

The thought had scarcely framed itself in her mind when a door was opened, and a tall, handsome man, scarcely 30 years of age, entered.

"I—I beg your pardon, sir," faltered Lilias, all in a flutter, but I wished to see Mr. Glencross."

"I am Mr. Glencross!"

"I am Lilias Wayland," she answered, in a tone that was scarcely audible.

"Wayland!" A shadow, faint, yet distinctly perceptible, spread over his face at that word, and Lilias saw it with a failing heart. She remembered only poor Charley and her own sickening idea of debt, disgrace and ruin; and sinking on her knees at his feet she sobbed out her pitiful story.

"He is so young," she wailed, "so young, surely you will not refuse to give him another chance. I will work and toil for you until the $500 are every cent paid. I will be a servant, a seamstress—what you please."

"I will take the matter into consideration," said Mr. Glencross, gravely, yet not without a certain gleam of amusement in the corners of his mouth at the idea of that pretty, slender creature rendering to him the equivalent of the $500.

"And now, cousin Lilias—for I believe that we can claim relationship, although it is somwhat distant—I shall insist upon you as my guest. Let me send for my mother!"

Mrs. Glencross, a stately old lady, welcomed Lilias with a smiling hospitality, which belonged to the ancient regime, and almost before she knew it, the girl found herself chatting innocently away to her hostess, as if she had lived all her life in the sunshine of that pleasant smile.

When Lilias wrote her happy letter home that night, Mr. Glencross added a pleasant postscript, and Charley Wayland knew that his season of peril was over.

Lily had been nearly a month the guest of the stately old lady, when one day Paulas, coming suddenly into the drawing room, found her sitting all alone, with tear drops glittering on her peachy cheek.

"Why, Lily, what is the matter?"

"Nothing, Paulus"—they had grown to be good friends by this time—"only I have been dreaming very pleasantly, and the time of waking has come at last."

"You mysterious little sphinx, what on earth do you mean?"

"The $500, Paulus—they are yet to be paid. No—don't interrupt me. I must pay you; and there is no other way for me than to seek a situation as governess or instructress in some seminary. So, Paplus, I have written an advertisement, and if you will be so kind as to take it down to the office of some of the daily papers—"

"Lily, this is all nonsense. If you want to pay me, you can."

"But, Paulus, you know I have nothing in all the world!"

"You have yourself—to me the most precious gift the aforesaid world contains."

"O, Paulus," she faltered, "I never dreamed of so much happiness!"

And so Lilias Wayland's indebtedness was settled most satisfactorily.—New York News.

"No, not to day!"

The poverty-stricken writer turned a beseeching eye toward the stern face of his landlady and assured her that he would settle before long.

"I have had so much difficulty in making any money lately!"

As she shut the door with a slam, he turned with a sigh to his "Secrets of Success; or, The Road to Wealth."

Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease. It may lead directly to consumption. Catarrh is caused by impure blood, and the true way to cure it is by purifying the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures catarrh because it removes the cause of it by purifying the blood. Thousands testify that they have been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

HOod's Pills are purely vegetable and do not purge, pain or gripe. All druggists. 25c.

An Apple Problem.

Once upon a time there were two old men who sat in the market early every morning and sold apples. Each one had thirty apples, and one of the old men sold two for 1 cent, and the other old man sold three for 1 cent. In that way the first old man got 15 cents for his basket of apples, while the second old man received 10 cents; so that together they made 25 cents each day. But one day the old apple man who sold three for 1 cent was too sick to go to the market, and he asked his neighbor to take his apples and sell them for him. This the other old man very kindly consented to do, and when he got to the market with the two baskets of apples, he said to himself: "I will put all the apples into one basket, for it will be easier than picking them out of two baskets." So he put the sixty apples into one basket, and he said to himself: "Now, if I sell two apples for 1 cent, and my old friend sells three for 1 cent, that is the same thing as selling five apples for 2 cents. Therefore, I will sell five apples for 2 cents." When he had sold the sixty apples he found he had only 24 cents, which was right, because there are twelve fives in sixty, and twice twelve are twenty-four. But if the other old man had been there, and each one had sold his apples separately, they would have received 25 cents. Now, how is this explained?—St. Nicholas for November.

An Invalid's Night Dress.

The difficulty of changing a night-dress when a sick person is too feeble to aid the process is a problem, the sufferer being often quite exhausted by the effort. Experience of this has taught me that a design for a night-dress that would slip on without strain or difficulty would be a boon and a blessing. The simplest way is to make it to button all the way down from neck to hem.

One of these is of longcloth, trimmed with insertion and embroidery, the yoke of alternate tucks and insertion. It opens all the way to the feet, the buttons being concealed by the trimming, but if liked the trimming may cease in the ordinary way a little below the waist, a neat false hem, worked with buttonholes, carrying down the necessary opening to the feet. For such a garment about four or five yards of longcloth will be required, four and a half yards of insertion and nine yards of embroidered edging, if this is brought all the way down the front.

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia—Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Scores of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—So says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

After Acute Bronchitis

CURED BY USING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

A PREACHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"Three months ago, I took a violent cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis. I put myself under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has relieved me almost entirely of all unpleasant symptoms, and I feel sure that one or two bottles more will effect a permanent cure. To all ministers suffering from throat troubles, I recommend Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—E. M. BRAWLEY, D. D., Dist. Secretary, Am. Bapt. Publication Society, Petersburg, Va.

TO STAIN FLOORS.

A Bit of Housewife Information of Service at This or Any Other Season.

The knowledge of the use of stains and varnishes and how to polish and clean furniture is invaluable to an economical housekeeper, who can easily, with the help of an intelligent maid, keep her house clean and bright and freshen it up when need be, without calling in the aid of an expensive workman. Formerly stains were confined to the colors nearly resembling natural woods, but of late colors are used—greens, blues, reds and yellow—which partake in no sense of the nature of paint, but are stains pure and simple, showing the grain of the wood.

The most fashionable stain at present for cottage furniture is green, not a sage green, but good, old-fashioned regular green, which when rubbed well into the pores of the wood and then polished is really beautiful. The two transparent colors, Prussian blue and raw sienna, make, when mixed together, an excellent green, or if a brighter tint is desired, gamboge and Prussian blue. A very little of the latter goes a great way, as it is altogether the most powerful color known and completely overcomes any other pigment if mixed in equal proportions. In staining, it should be borne in mind that it is not paint, but stain, and that a very little should be used, a pound being sufficient to stain a whole set of furniture.

To get a good color the wood must be light. Oak, yellow or white pine, maple, any of these are suitable, and the more grained the better, the more effect of bird's-eye maple, the heavy markings of oak and the picturesque knot so often seen in yellow pine, all coming out particularly well through the translucent color.

The best way to apply stain and bring out the grain of the wood is to put it on quite thick and then rub it off with a linen or cotton rag, and it is absolutely necessary that the wood should be in its natural condition without paint or varnish. By sending a special order to the manufacturers it is easy to get sets of furniture without either; but if it is an open piece that is to be renovated it must be thoroughly scraped. After staining, a coat of hard oil finish may be applied as a filler, and then, after it is dry, it should be rubbed all over with the prepared beeswax that comes in cans for floors, and then rubbed with a flannel cloth until it is quite shiny and bright. After the wax is rubbed on it should be allowed to harden before polishing it. Prussian blue alone makes a very pretty peacock blue stain, raw sienna a yellow or orange, according to the amount of color used, crimson lake a lovely red, burnt sienna an almost exact imitation of new mahogany. All these are what are called transparent colors, and are, therefore, especially adapted for stains; but even opaque colors, if put on thin enough to show the grain in the wood, produce sometimes very pretty effects. White on certain woods has a milky opalescent coloring that is very harmonious with delicate chintzes. Light blue, canary yellow, apple green and pink all may be used on woodwork as stains if applied in the way that house painters call "priming"—that is, one coat of paint put on so thin that it shows the markings of the wood beneath. Georgia pine looks particularly w[illegible] when treated in this way.

THE QUEEN'S ESCAPES.

Seven Different Attempts Have Been Made on Her Majesty's Life.

A singular fact about Queen Victoria is that she has not only always enjoyed exceptionally good health, and that even at her present advanced age she is unusually strong and well, but that she has had more hairbreadth escapes than any other sovereign in history. No fewer than seven attempts have been made on her life, and there have been many occasions when the Queen has seemed to be face to face with death.

Hyde Park was the scene of the first attempt on the Queen's life, which was made by a youth of 17, who, on the 10th of July, 1840, fired at Her Majesty with a pistol. The Prince Consort, to whom the Queen had been married a few months before, happily saw the youth in time to draw his wife down beside him, so that the ball passed over her head. The mad youth was for some time confined in Bedlam, and was afterward allowed to go to Australia.

Only two years passed away before the second attempt, when, almost on the same spot, a man named Francis fired at the Queen as she was again driving with the Prince. The shot missed, and Francis was sentenced to death for high treason, the sentence being afterward commuted to transportation for life by desire of the Queen.

Strange [illegible]ough, on the very day [illegible]'s clemency became known a hunchback named Bean, a mere youth, made another attempt to injure the Queen. He was transported for seven years.

A bricklayer was the next seeker after notoriety. He fired at the Queen as she rode in her carriage, on July 9, 1849, but his pistol missed, and he was sentenced to seven years' transportation.

Less than a year after this, as Her Majesty was returning from a visit to the deathbed of her uncle, the Duke of Cambridge, an ex-captain of Hussars rushed forward and struck her on the face with a small stick. The blow caused a wound, but the Queen was not seriously hurt.

It was 1872 before another attack was made. In the early part of that year a boy ran up to the Queen with a pistol and a petition. He was arested before he could fire, however, and was declared insane. Ten years later a madman, named Robert Maclean, aimed a pistol and shot at the Queen as she entered her carriage at Windsor Railway station.

On many other occasions the Queen has been within an ace of death. When a child, six months old, she was at Sidmouth, on the Devonshire coast, when a boy shooting sparrows accidentally discharged his gun at the window of the nursery in which the Princess was playing. The shots passed close to the baby's head, but did not, fortunately, do any harm.

When Queen Victoria was 4 years old her life was saved by an Irish soldier who happened to be passing when the royal carriage was overturned. But for the soldier's intervention the carriage would have fallen on the Queen. Half a century passed away before the soldier knew whose life he had saved.

A yachting excursion was the occasion of an alarming accident when the Queen was a girl of 15. The young Princess stood on a yacht watching a storm that had suddenly arisen, when the topmast became dangerous. The pilot quickly conveyed the Princess to a safe place, and the next minute the mast fell with a heavy crash on the spot where the royal passenger had been standing.

Twenty-one years ago, when the Queen was crossing to Gosport from Osborne, there was a fatal collision with the royal yacht, in which three persons perished. But once more her life was preserved.

On many other occasions the Queen has been in great danger, such as when, in August, 1851, Her Majesty was in a railway accident, and when, soon after her accession, the horses attached to her carriage bolted. On each of these occasions the Queen's self-possession has been remarkable.

Coolness and presence of mind have been characteristic of her whenever danger has threatened her. "Great events," she has said, "always make me calm."

Others have found health, vigor and vitality in Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it surely has power to help you also. Why not try it?

Lilies of Brilliants.

Have you seen the descriptions of the new Duchesse d'Orleans' diamond crown? writes Cousin Madge. It is high, and is entirely made of magnificent brilliants. In the centre rises the Bourbon lily, three of the leaves bent down and one erect, this last consisting of an immense diamond. Smaller lilies form the rest of the regal crown.

Her bridal dress must have been superb. It was cloth of silver, with the Bourbon lily glittering all over it in raised gold. She is tall, dark and handsome, and, I believe, just 20.

AS WELL AS EVER.

A Brickmaker Listens to Reason—Uses Six Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and Tells It.

Brockville, Jan. 4 (Special)—Mr. W. H. Odell, perhaps one of the best known citizens of this town has lately recovered from a long continued and painful kidney ailment. He tells the story of his experience to the correspondent as follows:

"I have suffered for over a year from kidney disease, the pain in my back being so severe that I was unable to stand to my work."

"Noticing the published cures of what Dodd's Kidney Pills were doing for others I concluded to use them."

"Having used only six boxes I can say that I am perfectly cured and well so that I can attend to business as well as ever I could."

Never Satisfied.

The reason that he who is striving for wealth or renown for his own personal good or aggrandizement is never satisfied is because there is a want in his nature that is never met, and never will be until he opens his purse or seeks to bless others. That man alone is truly blessed and happy who seeks to gain that he may bestow on others. And finally the great lesson taught us is that God himself only lives and labors to save and bless all his creatures, and that His happiness and the perfection of His purpose will not be attained until every creature will be saved from sin, misery and death.

The sick man knocking at the door of health gets in if he knocks the right way, and, stays out if he doesn't. There are thousands of ways of getting sick, but only one way to get well. Do whatever you will, if you do not put your digestion in good order, and make your blood rich and pure, you will not get well. Rich, pure blood is the only thing that can bring perfect health. Constipation is a disease of the blood. A large part of all diseases are traceable directly to impurities in the blood, and can be cured by eliminating them with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The first thing it does is to put the whole digestive system into perfect order. It stimulates the appetite, excites a copious secretion of the digestive fluids and promotes assimilation. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be, kills them and forces them out of the system. The "Golden Medical Discovery" has been used with unvarying success for over 30 years.

OVER 100 CHARGES OF BRIBERY.

Bill of Particulars Filed Against Hugh John Macdonald—Mr. Boyd Admits Bribery by Agents.

Winnipeg, Jan. 7.—(Special.)—The bill of particulars on which the petition to unseat Hon. Hugh John Macdonald is based was filed to-day. It contains over one hundred charges of bribery by agents, but there are no personal charges against Mr. Macdonald. Several of Winnipeg's most prominent citizens, including J. H. Brock, Thomas Kelly, D. D. Wood, T. H. Gilmour, W. H. Hastings, E. L. Drewry, William Georgeson, Daniel Sprague, Frank Fairchild and Dr. Englis are charged with wrongful acts in Hugh John's interests. It will take a month to hear evidence on all the charges. The Tribune, Liberal organ, publishes to-night the complete bill of particulars, which occupies two pages.

It is stated to-night that Hon. Hugh John Macdonald will resign the seat for Winnipeg, and announce himself as a candidate for re-election. There is now little doubt that Mr. Martin will be the Liberal candidate. Another battle royal may be looked for soon.

In the election trial for the Macdonald constituency to-day proceedings were brought to an abrupt termination by the addmission on the part of counsel for Mr. Boyd, the member-elect, of bribery by agents. The judges then declared the election void, pending judgment by the Ottawa Supreme Court on the appeal respecting preliminary objections. If the judgment at Ottawa favors Mr. Boyd he will retain the seat, as all the petition proceedings will fail.

BURIED AT MIDNIGHT

Wm Absconder Dunham of New York, Who Was Killed in a Gold Mine in British Columbia.

New York, Jan. 7.—Secretly and under an assumed name the body of Oscar M. Dunham, the absconding president of the Cassell Publishing Company, was brought to this city a few days ago and buried in Greenwood Cemetery.

Mr. Dunham's death near Vancouver was as tragic as the end of his business career in this city, when, three years ago, he was suddenly discovered to have nearly wrecked the concern of which he was president by his operations in Wall-street. To avoid arrest he fled the city, and since then has been a fugitive, living nearly all the time in the mining districts of British Columbia.

For years Mr. Dunham had been a prominent figure in business circles in this city. When the Cassell Publishing Company was organized he was made president and took $140,000 of the capital stock of $350,000. He did not have the money with which to pay for the stock, but raised it on notes, which he had discounted by various brokers.

The company soon became a paying investment, but before this had come about Dunham's notes had fallen due. He did not have the money to meet them, and gave other notes of the company signed by him as president in exchange for the personal paper.

Then, in the hope of redeeming this paper when it came due, Mr. Dunham began speculating in Wall-street. He lost, and to cover his losses he gave more paper of the firm. The failure of the Cordage Trust was a final blow, and in June, 1893, he left his home, taking with him, it is thought, only a few thousand dollars. It was found that paper to the amount of $168,500, bearing the name of the firm, was outstanding, but that from none of it had the firm received any money.

It is now known that Dunham at once changed his name after reaching Canada, and, after a short stay in the Eastern Provinces, went West. For a time he was in Banff. Then, going from Banff to Vancouver, he sought employment in some of the mines which were being opened in the British territory.

He finally prospected for himself, the tracts he selected showing that they contained valuable veins of ore, and for some years he employed a force of several men. Large masses of valuable ore were in sight, and fortune seemed again about to smile on Mr. Dunham, when death came upon him. One day early in December he was superintending the hoisting of some machinery, when the cable holding a huge iron beam gave way, and the mass of metal fell, striking Mr. Dunham and pinning him to the earth.

One of his legs had to be amputated, but blood poisoning set in. Then when he was told that he must die he revealed his real name, and asked that his wife, who was living in Reading, Pa., be sent for. Mrs. Dunham was notified at once, but before she could reach Vancouver her husband was dead and his body had been buried. Mr. Dunham's life had been heavily insured, and to obtain the money it was necessary to have the body exhumed and identified. This was done, and then the remains were shipped to this city.

The body was taken from the train direct to the cemetery, the only services being held at the grave. Besides the widow, Mr. Dunham leaves six daughters, three of whom are married. His mother, who is now more than 70 years old, also survives him.

Members of Mr. Dunham's family would not discuss the details of his death last night, although they admitted that he had met his death in a mine in British Columbia.

ANOTHER MANDEMENT.

Ecclesiastical Thunder Expected From the Pulpits o. Quebec Next Sunday.

Montreal, Jan. 7.—(Special.)—It is understood that the ecclesiastical thunder will fall from a thousand pulpits on Sunday next, and that the settlement of the Manitoba school question, as entered into between the Ottawa and Manitoba Governments, will be emphatically condemned, as being at variance with the judgment of the Queen's Privy Council and a cowardly sacrifice of Roman Catholic interests in the Prairie Province. The condemnation will come in the shape of a mandement signed by every archbishop and bishop in the Province of Quebec, the signature of Rev. Mr. Bourgault, Vicar-General and Administrator, being affixed for the Diocese of Montreal. It is also said that this episcopal document will be accompanied by a letter written by Mgr. Fabre a few weeks before his death, in which the prelate concurs in the views of his episcopal confreres in the matter of the Manitoba schools.

La Patrie and other French Liberal newspapers, as well as their supporters, declare that the episcopacy is divided on this question, and that, although a mandement will be forthcoming on Sunday next, it will lack the signatures of Mgr. Emard of Valleyfield, Mgr. Larocque of Sherbrooke and another bishop, whose name has not transpired. This, however, is a vain hope, as your correspondent has it upon the authority of Mgr. Begin himself and another bishop, that the entire episcopacy is thoroughly united on this question. There is, however, some little difference of opinion among the hierarchy as to the advisability of censuring public newspapers, and this fact may possibly prevent any further episcopal utterance on the subject of the public press. It is quite probable that Mgr. Emard and one or two of the other prelates are against condemning La Patrie, Le Cultivateur and Le Signal, but there is no authority for the statement that these bishops will not follow their confreres in the general bombardment of Sunday next.

Mr. Charles M. Hays, General Manager of the Grand Trunk system, intimates that if the city would grant the company the land, the general offices might be removed from Point St. Charles to a more convenient place in the city.

CRUELTY IN CUBA.

Spaniards Charged With Butchering Defenceless People—Hacked Them to Death With Machetes.

New York, Jan. 7.—A World special from Key West, Fla., says: Reports of many murders committed almost daily in Guanabacoa, only six miles from the centre of Havana, continue to come in.

A letter received last night from a leader of the Cuban Junta in Havana says the half has not been told. Sixteen bodies, those of ten men, four lads and two girls, were discovered on Sunday, according to this correspondent, in a ravine not more than a mile from Guanabacoa. In several cases the bodies were nearly nude. All these persons have been killed by the machete and their bodies were horribly hacked. In some cases the trunks alone remained, head, arms and legs being cut off. In one case the upper part of the body was shockingly disfigured through pure devilry. The arms and legs of others were cut off only, as if the victims were killed by inches, so to speak. Some Cubans went out at midnight and buried the remains.

These facts are known in Guanabacoa, but friends and relatives dare not say a word about the atrocities, knowing that a breath of suspicion would bring down the vengeance of the Spanish commandant, who is called "Weyler's assistant butcher."

More than 40 men, girls and boys are missing from this suburb, and their families have given up hope of ever seeing them alive. It is the common impression that the commandant will be assassinated, if opportunity offers, as his barbarity has infuriated those whom he has bereaved.

The Herald's Havana correspondent says: Yesterday afternoon Gen. Lee called on Gen. Weyler with Senator-elect Money, and Gen. Weyler assured him that he could guarantee very shortly the practical pacification of Pinar del Rio, Havana, Matanzas and Santa Clara Provinces. Surely if he can do that he will not be removed.

It is becoming apparent that Mr. Money is here with the knowledge of the Committee on Foreign Relations, which wants facts, and yet could not come in an official way. I learn that money was much impressed the other day with what he learned in the country. He was informed that the insurgents were well armed and splendidly mounted in Havana Province, and he was impressed with the fact that even with their base of supplies cut off they might live on indefinitely on the exhaustless supply of edible roots, fruits, etc.

Delegate Palma of the Cuban Junta gave out the following statement last evening: "I have received a letter from Gen. Jose Lacret, who is in charge of the Matanzas Province and who the Spaniards claim was killed several weeks ago. Gen Lacret writes me that everything is prospering in his province and that the Cubans have started two newspapers, which shows that they are not always fighting. He further states that he is expecting Gen. Gomez in his province and is making preparations to receive him. He reports everything within the Cuban line to be prospering."

A despatch to The Herald from Havana says: The Diario De La Marina says the Three Friends' last expedition shows the bad faith in the United States, inasmuch as she was allowed to sail after Minister De Lome protested against her being set frte. The paper believes there will be an entente cordiale and a commercial agreement between Spain and the United States, and then claims for damages on both sides will be in order.

DON'T!

Don't slack up or quit advertising altogether as soon as the holiday season is over. Don't say: "Well, we can't sell goods in the dull season, no matter how hard we try, and advertising is just money thrown away." Your hustling competitor, with no better chance or location than you have, keeps business booming all the time by advertising all the time in the most vigorous way. He has no "dull season," why should you?

The pushing, prompt, persistent men
Who advertise each day,
In every year, can always make
Their advertising pay.

General Grant once said there is a time in every battle when each side thinks it is whipped. He learned by experience that if he kept up the fight until the other side thought it was whipped, he was pretty sure to win. There is something for advertisers to learn from this. If, when they begin to think, advertising does not pay, they would fight a little harder to make it pay, they would be pretty sure to win.

A Wise Office Boy.

There comes to the office boy a time when he begins to worry about the affairs of the concern that employs him.

He is a creature of extremes. He is either whistling like a hysterical calliope or he answers only in gruff monosyllables. He is either rushing with cyclonic swiftness or lagging with feet of lead. His attire suddenly varies from the most negligo to rigid fashionableness. It is not surprising that this creature of moods should at some point in his career emerge from serene apathy concerning the affairs of the establishment into a condition of brain-wrecking solicitude.

"I can't help thinkin' about it," the young man of 14 or 15 was saying; "they ain't running the affairs of dis place right."

"You can't do nothin' ter make it different.

"Im tinkin' very emphatic about gettin an' interview with de boss an' givin' him some tips on how ter run de biz."

"Wot's de use o' kickin'. Yon ain't paid fur thinkin'."

"Dat shows yer short-sightedness. Ain't I got no interests ter perteet?"

"Youse ain't no stockholder."

"Jes' de same it makes me nervous ter see de way dis t'ing is allowed ter go 'long. An' I'm goin' ter go before de prez o' dis here company an' tell 'im a lot fur its good."

"Wot's dematter wit' mindin' yer own affairs an' enjoyin' life?"

"I ain't no flyanthropist, but I can't set by an' watch things go ter ruin. Spozen I go on in silence an' let de boss wreck de hull concern?"

"Spozen ya doss."

"Well, den what becomes o' my tree dollars an' a half a week?"—Washington Star.

Bad Blood Between Them.

The ever slaving farmer's wife, her delicate sister in the city, suffer more than they care to tell. The dark rings around the eyes, dizziness, headache, palpitation or rheumatic twidges, betoken a run down system. The blood is poor, and is a bar to the enjoyment of life. Scott's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, strengthens and vitalizes the system, and speedily restores the bloom of health to the cheeks. It cures when all others fail.

Facts About Furs and Bankrupt Stocks.

Some dealers in Furs believe in selling Bankrupt Stocks but others there are who do not; yet, at the same time have offered several bankrupt stocks for sale within a short time, while claiming also to sell nothing in Furs but of their own manufacture. We certainly must stand away ahead of our competitors as we do not require the aid of such stocks but stand on the merits of our own manufactured goods, which we can always guarantee as such. Our reputation of 36 years standing without a failure is the best proof that customers believe in us and support us so well. We do not require to make any bombastic statements regarding the size or quality of our stock; both are only too well known in the town as well as in many other places at great distances. We wish to thank our customers for their patronage through the late season.

JANUARY OFFERING

...IN...

DRESS GOODS

MEANS.

It means that all those pretty fabrics which you and others have admired are price clipped to nearly one half and less to take them away. Every yard was bought for regular trade and there are no flimsy, flashy fabrics at any price.

Come and get samples. Consult our Dress-Making Department. It's a chance for the cheapest, stylish Gown you ever had.

The Last Call on Cloaks.

This time the prices on all remaining Winter Garments will be cut so deep that there will be no chance for further reductions.

If the signs read aright the great majority of our present holdings in Mantle Coats and Capes will leave the store next week, for values like those quoted here never fail to bring the customers.

Quality!!!

If every one were to judge of what is good and what is not good in merchandise, a great many dry goods stores would be out of business. Don't always trust the price, it is very often misleading.

If you are a judge of merchandise, look at the goods first then the price. We are willing that you should try us in that way.

Carry Over Stock

From One Season to Another.

Rather sell below Cost. It brings trade and gives us money in hand, and helps to keep stock fresh.

We have'nt any unsaleable goods stowed away in our cellar or garret.

If we make a mistake in buying a lot of goods and they don't move, we don't fret, worry or feel sore. We Move Them—price will do it. Bring the people in by low prices—they bring other money with them.

If trade is dull, we can force it. Push comes first, prosperity comes next. Our January Clearing Sale is always a flyer.

We never leave our store to take a social drink, or smoke a Cigar, during business hours.

THE OTTAWA BUDGET

Railway Mail Clerks to Have a Better Footing.

WILL BE MADE INSIDE MEMBERS

And Have a Permanent Head at the Capital—Hon. W. D. Hoard on a Visit to Ottawa—A Funny Incident With the Funny Artist of London Punch.

Ottawa, Jan. 8.—(Special.)—The Postmaster-General has in contemplation a radical change affecting railway mail clerks. It is proposed to constitute them members of the inside service of the Postoffice Department with a permanent head at Ottawa. This alteration in their status is regarded as more in consonance with the responsibility of their position than that which they now occupy. D. M. Armstrong of the Toronto division is spoken of as head of the new branch.

Chief Inspector Sweetnam and Mr. Armstrong have been here consulting with Mr. Mulock about the details of organization.

Hon. W. D. Hoard, ex-Governor of Wisconsin, is in the city, the guest for a few days of Prof. Robertson, Agricultural Commissioner. Mr. Hoard occupies in the States the position in regard to dairying that Prof. Robertson does in Canada, being the best known authority in the country. Mr. Hoard's name has been mentioned as the coming Minister of Agriculture in the new McKinley Ministry. He has been a frequent visitor in Canada. The occasion of his last visit here was when he attended the great agricultural conferences in the Maritime Provinces three years ago, with the Governor-General and Countess of Aberdeen. Mr. Hoard is also a newspaper man, and, while earnestly loyal to his own country, has published many articles in his paper speaking in the highest terms of Canadian opportunities and Canadian agriculture. Much of the Abraham Lincoln type is Mr. Hoard. Among those who know him best he is spoken of as the best story-teller on the continent.

A deputation from the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham waited upon Mr. Blair to-day and solicited Government action in the matter of an obstruction to the Trent River, which, it is claimed, has outlived its usefulness as an aid to lumbering. The request of the deputation was supported by voluminous petitions to the same effect, which was that this dam be removed, thereby rendering useful for agricultural purposes an area of some 30,000 acres at present inundated by the waters of the River Trent, which are retained by the dam in question. This work was constructed over fifty years ago as part of the plan of a Trent Valley canal system, and has since been chiefly useful to the Gilmours, Rathbuns and others lumbering in the country drained by the Trent River. The deputation, however, pointed out to the Minister that the dam is no longer a requisite in this respect, as the timber areas which the Trent River served are practically exhausted, while, if the Trent Valley Canal scheme is not to be prosecuted to completion, neither will the dam be of any further use as an aid to navigation. On these grounds, therefore, they submitted that the entire structure, which is rapidly falling into decay, should be removed forthwith and the acreage now under water restored to cultivation. The subject was fully discussed and at the close of the interview Hon. Mr. Blair promised that after a consultation with the departmental engineers an answer would be returned without delay.

The spokesmen of the deputation were Mr. J. B. McColl, member of the United Counties Council; Dr. Wade, warden; William McCallum, Reeve of Hope; Hugh Ross, Reeve of Haldimand; J. J. Preston, Reeve of Manvers; A. M. Mackimm, Reeve of Brighton; E. Terrill and D. C. Stewart, also of Brighton; A. M. Lovitt and J. H. Brenton, Reeves of Murray; C. West, Reeve of Seymour; J. H. Douglas, W. R. Mather, D. J. Lynch, W. W. Farley and William Anderson. A section of the deputation are seeking the dismissal of the superintendent of the Murray Canal, whom, they claim, has acted as a most violent partisan. They charge malversation, favoring those of the Tory persuasion in matters of business. There is also a largely signed petition in favor of the retention of the superintendent's services, and both these will go before the Minister for his consideration.

To funny men funny experiences often happen in a most unexpected manner. Such was the case with Harry Furniss, who gave his entertainment here last night and spent to-day making sketches of Ottawa and its surroundings. Previous to leaving his hotel this morning a card was handed to him by the bell boy of the Russell. It was that of one of the leading Presbyterian clergymen of Ottawa. "Show him up," said the man of Punch, and the bell boy obeyed the order. The cleric entered the parlor, and was greeted with great affability by Mr. Furniss, and asked to seat himself. This the visitor did. He made himself comfortable in the arm chair, clasped his hands, and then opened the conversation. "I must thank you, doctor," he remarked to Mr. Furniss, "for your treat of last evening." The funny man of Punch could not understand the title of doctor, but, with a pleased look, replied: "I am much obliged for your kind words." Then the clergyman continued: "Yes, you are doing a grand work for Christianity, and deserve our sincere thanks." By this time it had dawned upon Harry that there was a mistake somewhere. He replied: "Well, I can't say there was much Christianity about it." The clergyman arose aghast. He ejaculated: "Are you not Dr. Munhall?" "No," was the reply, "I am Harry Furniss," whereupon the clergyman retired precipitously. He was desirous of seeing Dr. Munhall, an American revivalist, who is holding meetings here, but who had got into the wrong room by mistake. The incident is the talk of the town to-night.

Chief Veterinary Inspector McEachren was here to-day after a short visit to the ranching districts of the Territories. He says that, while the outlook for ranchmen at one time was very discouraging, owing to the deep snow and low temperature, and the don't whether it was possible that the herds could feed, meaning inevitable losses, as a matter of fact scarcely any cattle had died north of Old Man's River. During his visit the weather was such as is only seen in the Northwest, bright sunshine, a clear sky, and so mild that a fur coat was quite out of place and gloves superfluous. There was no snow excepting in the coulees and among the brush and twigs. The prairie grass in the light of the evening sun was green for miles around. He drove through bunches of cattle on the way, aggregating about a thousand head, and it was difficult to believe that they have been exposed to any hardships. Looking to the south and southwest, towards Pincher Creek, snow was still deep on the ranges, but even there he believed it would be found that the losses will be far below what has been reported. Asked as to the feeling amongst ranchmen with respect to the abolition of quarantine regulations, Dr. McEachren said that, while some of the ranchmen in the Northwest and British Columbia were afraid removal of the quarantine would injuriously affect their business by allowing a too free importation of American cattle from the south, those ranchmen who were engaged in raising thoroughbred and high grade cattle were strongly in favor of the removal of the quarantine, as they believe it would open for them a good and remunerative market for high-class cattle in the United States. While, therefore, there was some difference of opinion, he thought a majority of ranchers were well pleased and satisfied with the action taken by Mr. Fisher in Washington. Speaking for himself as a ranchman, D. McEachren reiterated the opinion already expressed, that he thought the removal of quarantine detention would be an advantage rather than a disadvantage to ranching in the Northwest.

The Interior Department is receiving inquiries from the United States regarding immigration, indicating that there will be a movement towards Canada on the part of many families when spring comes. The letters come generally from Michigan and the Northwestern States, and include both Americans and Canadians who went across the line and are now glad to return.

British Columbia sealers consider their chances of making any profit during the coming season extremely slim. They are discouraged over last year's failure and the stringent regulations framed to keep them from making even a means of livelihood. The attempt to form a combination among the vessel-owners has fallen through.

Mr. Windsor, of the firm of Malcolm & Windsor of Stevenson, B.C., had an interview to-day with the Commissioner of Fisheries on the subject of salmon regulations. The firm of which Mr. Windsor is a member is one of the largest canning concerns on the coast.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries has ordered an investigation into the complaints made by Indians on Georgina Island as to the fishery regulations concerning Lake Simcoe, with which they are very much dissatisfied at present.

WORRY KILLED HIM.

Donald Stephenson Dies in East Toronto Village.

ONCE WARDEN OF YORK COUNTY.

Everybody Liked and Trusted Him—Business Trouble Came and He Fled to the United States—Returned Secretly 18 Months Ago and Died of Grief Yesterday.

Toronto, Jan. 8.

A career as full of mystery and romance as any that appear in the exciting pages of the tales of Jules Verne came to a close yesterday in the village of East Toronto. The actor in this instance, however, was sphere of action in the moon or the heart of Africa, but a Scarboro man by birth, no citizen of the Old World who had his and one whose deeds were witnessed daily by the residents of the city and those of its eastern suburb. Donald Stephenson had the qualities which enable a man to rise with rapidity in his chosen sphere. He was tall, well made, with the appearance of a man who is born to command. He had an off-hand manner that put you at ease at once, a sleepless eye for business and a personal magnetism that made all women love him and men eager to do his bidding.

It was not strange, therefore, when he came to East Toronto, in 1884, to start a lumber business that he at once played the leading part in its destinies. Through his efforts, East Toronto, in 1888, became a village, and he its first reeve. Waterworks were brought in, streets laid out and lighted, the thoroughfares to the city placed in first-class condition and the suburb connected with the city by a car line. This position of reeve, held six years in succession, brought a seat in the County Council, and in 1894 Mr. Stephenson was elected to the Wardenship. The lumber business had in the meantime gone ahead with bounds. The real estate boom was on and the reeve invested heavily. When the wind began to escape from the balloon, the village speculator found he had too much ballast aboard and looked around him for assistance.

Not only were there numbers in East Toronto and Scarboro who were willing, but dozens of day laborers and servant girls rushed forward and actually forced their earnings on the reeve, and such was their faith in him that they took no security but his word. Among those was a servant girl living on the Danforth-road, who withdrew a legacy of $1000 from a city bank and laid it at his feet to employ it as he willed. Then came the elevation to the Wardenship and a big dinner to 200 guests at Victoria Park in commemoration. This was late in the fall.

A few weeks later it began to be whispered that things were not going well with the Warden, and then, one fine morning, it leaked out that the official head of the county had vanished from East Toronto and cleared out for the States. The investigation into the business affairs revealed that, with all his gifts, the Warden was no bookkeeper, in fact had kept no books at all, and the thousands of dollars handled had been jotted down nowhere but upon slips of paper carried in the Warden's pocket and lost as soon as made. Of course there was much wailing and angry talk, but the hundreds of creditors had to content themselves with the proportion received by the Danforth-road servant girl, who got $40 as her share.

For 18 months there were no tidings, but one morning about that time a paragraph in The World stated that the ex-Warden had been seen in Front-street in this city. Some people called it a reporter's yarn, and again the matter dropped. When Donald Stephenson left, his wife and daughters stayed behind and, to keep up their big residence, Mrs. Stephenson took in boarders. Some eight or ten professional and business men were furnished cosy rooms and had board equal to the best.

Yesterday morning the hostess came down to breakfast, looking thoroughly depressed, but declared there was nothing serious the matter with her health. At noon, however, the repeated appearance of a doctor and much hurrying here and there, while the landlady herself directed all efforts, aroused curiosity, and finally, with a flood of tears, Mrs. Stephenson announced to the astonishment of all that the ex-Warden, after being under her care within the house for the 18 months past, lay just dead upstairs. The doctor corroborated this, and said that death was due to heart failure brought on by mental misery. That this is correct is borne out by the late Warden's troubled appearance. Originally stout, and broad-shouldered, he had become mere skin and bones, and the glossy black of his head and beard, which surrounded a pinched and sunken face, are now as white as snow. The funeral of this no longer leader of men, taken off at 62 years of age, will take place probably to Highland Creek on Monday.

THIRTEEN MEN DEAD.

Among Them Was a Brave Englishman, Who Lost His Life in Trying to Save Others.

San Diego, Cal., Jan. 8.—Details of the burning to death of thirteen men in the Santa Gertiduds mine at Pacahuca, State of Hidalgo, Mexico, Dec. 31, have been received here.

The night shift was about to go off duty, and a number of the men had already reached the cage, when a terrific explosion occurred in one of the drifts. Several men who were between the fire and the cage ran up, and others could be heard shouting for help. Ned Richards, an Englishman, called two companions to his assistance and ran back, braving the smoke and flames, and saved a Mexican who was fainting in the drift. They dragged him to the cage and then, a number of others running up, it was thought that all were accounted for, and the men all went to the top. The roaring of the fire could be heard in the lower levels, and a great volume of smoke began to fill the shaft. The foreman procured his book and checked off the names of the men. All answered to their names except eleven. Then, in face of the danger, Richards offered to be one to go below again and get the missing men. Three Mexicans volunteered to accompany him. They jumped into the cage and were lowered down. Two of them went to their death—Richards and an unknown Mexican.

The four men, when they reached the level where the fire was raging, got out and made a quick search for the missing men, but the fire, feeding on gas and released by the explosion, filled the empty spaces and forced the men back to the cage. Richards made a gallant atempt to penetrate into one of the drifts, and was overcome by gas and smoke. He failed to return, and the unknown Mexican went after him. He found the Englishman unconscious and dragged him to the cage, but was in turn overcome. The others gave the signal and were hoisted up. Richards and the Mexican died within a few minutes after being raised to the surface.

President Isaac Lewis of Sabina, Ohio, is highly respected all through that section. He has lived in Clinton Co. 75 years, and has been president of the Sabina Bank 20 years. He gladly testifies to the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and what he says is worthy attention. All brain workers find Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiarly adapted to their needs. It makes pure, rich, red blood, and from this comes nerve, mental, bodily and digestive strength.

"I am glad to say that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a very good medicine, especially as a blood purifier. It has done me good many times. For several years I suffered greatly with pains of in one eye and about my temples, especially at night when I had been having a hard day of physical and mental labor. I took many remedies, but found help only in Hood's Sarsaparilla which cured me of rheumatism, neuralgia and headache. Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved itself a true friend. I also take Hood's Pills to keep my bowels regular, and like the pills very much." ISAAC LEWIS, Sabina, Ohio.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE total municipal bonded debt of Ontario is $49,734,587, or an average of $25 68 per head of population.

IN 1895, Canada exported to Great Britain cheese to the value of $14,220,505; wheat, $5,339,085; sheep, $1,253,399; cattle, $6,979,615; eggs, $524,577.

THE statistics published by the Ontario Bureau of Industries, shows that Ontario is more fertile or better farmed than any of the older States of the American Union, and that Manitoba is more fertile than any of the prairie States. The estimate is based on the yield of barley and wheat per acre.

THE Mail and Empire is carrying the Christmas spirit of peace and good will to extremes. It is very kindly suggesting detailed subjects for cartoons to the Globe. This is a good deal like carrying coals to Newcastle. So long as the Mail and Empire follows its present policy of manufacturing party opinion, so long will the follies into which it is leading its party furnish "night work" for the cartoonist, without dearth. The Globe and its cartoons are all right. The latter may cut deep, but remove the cause and the effect will cease.

THOUGH the bicycle has not yet extinguished the horse, yet in Ontario it has had some effect in decreasing the number of this class of horses that would compete with the wheel as a means of travel or pleasure. In 1892 the number of working horses in Ontario was 358,008, and in 1895 the number was 423,673, an increase of 65,005. In 1892 there were 220,291 other horses, used for driving, pleasure, etc., and in 1896 the number was 151,867. While the working horses in the province had increased by over 65,000, pleasure and driving horses had decreased 68,414. Still in spite of this increase, the horse will still hold his position as man's noblest four footed friend, and there will probably always be a paying market for good horses.

MR. SIFTON, Minister of the Interior has not long been installed in office, but he has set energetically to work to minister to the chief want of our great interior, the Northwest—population. He has turned his back on the effete and unproductive methods employed in the past to induce settlement of our untenated acres. The old system of advertising the country by means of lectures and lime-light views is condemned, and a personal canvas of those in the old country who are likely to become successful settlers is advocated. The same plan is urged for dealing with those farmers who are inclined to move from the provinces to the States so that they may be induced to go to the Northwest if they are discouraged in the east. The Globe in referring to the subject says:—"Immigration agents should be familiar with conditions in Ontario and the eastern provinces. Such knowledge could be used to advantage among those whose standing and tastes would incline them toward the older and more settled districts. Migration from one province to another is not the business of the Federal Government; but it is a lamentable fact that many farmers who grow dissatisfied in the older provinces remove to the Western States while better opportunities are open to them in the Canadian Northwest. Something should be done to direct this migration towards our own country."

THE details of the disastrous destruction by fire of the convent at Roberval, Quebec, shows that the seven unfortunate sisters that perished in the flames, met a fate that was in keeping with the lives of self-sacrifice and devotion they lived—they died the death of heroines. Many with a less lofty standard of devotion and duty than they, may be inclined to blame the nuns, after they were safely out of the burning building, for returning to save costly and cherished ornaments of the convent chapel, but they cannot blame the four heroic sisters who when their companions failed to return, with the hope of rescuing them, rushed into the blinding smoke of the burning building, which demanded the whole seven lives. While we all deplore from the bottom of our hearts the sad fate of those sisters, we must all admire the heroism displayed, but we need not wonder at it, for it is but of a piece with the spirit of self-sacrifice for religion and humanity that has distinguished these noble women from the earliest history. While our finite human understandings fail to comprehend the workings of the divine Providence that permits such disasters as those referred to, yet when we reflect that the Christian religion is founded upon the sublimest of sacrifices, we can feel assured that some wise and great purpose is to be served by a calamity that, to human seeming, has no redeeming feature. From the ashes of martyrs the tree of truth has risen in stately proportions.

Philosophy.

Mr. Grigsby—My dear, do you think it's quite right for Lucy to go so much with that wild young Mr. Stivers?

Mrs. Grigsby—There's no cause for any worry. Lucy is more than 4 years old. Let me tell you, though, you should say something to Tom about that Dingleberry girl.

Mr. Grigsby—But, my dear, Tom is more than 4 years old.

Mrs. Grigsby—Tush! No man is more than 4 years old where a designing girl is concerned.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

MACDONALD AND MARTIN

Will Probably Fight the Battle Over Again in Winnipeg—Conservatives are After Richardson.

Winnipeg, Jan. 8.—(Special.)—Conservatives are so sure of unseating R. L. Richardson, member for Lisgar, that they are already talking of a candidate. The choice seems to be Mr. Gordon of Gordon & Ironsides, cattle exporters.

There is now little doubt that Joseph Martin has decided to make another attempt to carry Winnipeg if Hugh John Macdonald is unseated. Politicians here do not seem to doubt Mr. Martin's decision, but they express very serious doubts whether, under existing circumstances, he could get the Liberal nomination. The Greenway wing of the party is opposed to his candidature, and just now seems to have the upper hand. Conservatives have unbounded confidence that with Hugh John as their candidate they can win another victory. It will be a great fight.

Of course the heart fails to act when a man dies, but "Heart Failure," so called, nine times out of ten is caused by Uric Acid in the blood which the Kidneys fail to remove, and which corrodes the heart until it becomes unable to perform its functions.

From the Quebec Telegraph.

Those who have attended the performances at the Academy of Music this week, will readily concede that Miss Zelma Rawlston is one of the brightest soubrettes on the stage. She is a clever musician and a charming singer, and as an impersonator shows a talent considerably above the average. She has winning ways, a mischievious twinkle in her eye, and a captivating manner. Her magnetism for drawing large audiences is not alone confined to the stage, as she is possessed of a character which is pleasing to come in contact with. It is full of good nature, amiable qualities, and a charm that endears her to all who have been so fortunate as to have made her acquaintance. A telegraph representative had the pleasure of an interview with Miss Rawlston, which resulted in a biographical sketch of her life being published in these columns on Saturday. During the course of the interview Miss Rawlston let out a secret, which she consented to allow the Telegraph to make public. For many years she has devoted the best part of her time to study, sometimes practising at the piano alone for 10 hours a day. It is not therefore astonishing, that under a strain of this kind, she began to feel the effects upon her nervous constitution. She is of a robust build, and apparently strong physique, and stood the strain without interrupting her studies, until she had perfected that which she desired to accomplish. Like many other artists who have gone before, she completed her work, graduated with the highest honours, and prepared to enter upon her stage career. The reaction of over study and long hours soon began to tell upon her, and although it did not interfere with her climbing the ladder of fame as an actress, she very soon became cognisant of the fact that she was suffering from a strain on the nerves which threatened sooner or later to result seriously to her health. Her sufferings did not interfere with her engagements, but prevented her from participating in pleasure of any kind. The nervousness increased to such an extent that she became a victim to insomnia, and slowly her digestive powers gave out and she was fast becoming a chronic sufferer from nervous debility. After trying many remedies and prescriptions, she one day read an advertisement in one of the daily papers, referring to the complete recovery of a similar case as her own with the aid of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She had tried so many patent medicines that she almost despaired of trying any more. Something seemed to influence her to test this preparation, and she ventured to purchase one box of the pills. Before she had used half of them she began to feel an immediate improvement in her condition, and by the time she had used two or three boxes she was a different woman entirely, and to-day there are few actresses who display a better example of perfect health than our representative found Miss Rawlston in when he called upon her last week. The subject was suggested by our reporter seeing a box of Pink Pills in Miss Rawlston's possession. "I always carry them with me," she said, "and would not be a day without them; although I do not take them regularly, I find them a very beneficial stimulus for one in our profession. If the assertion of the benefit which these pills have worked upon me will do the public any good, I am perfectly willing that my name should be mentioned, and that the facts should be given to the public."

Miss Rawlston's permanent address is in care of her manager, Mr. Tom McGuire, Room 5, Standard Theatre Building, New York City.

Jennie Grey of Midland Was Betrayed and Deserted.

AN INQUEST HELD AT COLLINGWOOD

The Girl Blamed William Simmons for Her Troubles, and in Her Dying Agony Cried "Oh, the Villain! "Oh, the Villain!"—Jurors Found a Verdict of Suicide.

Collingwood, Jan. 8.—An inquest was held here to-day into the case of Jennie Grey of Midland, who suicided on Wednesday evening. The court room was crowded. A jury was empanelled by Dr. Stephen, coroner, and the evidence of William Conn, Fred Sullivan, J. Sullivan, Charles Willison, Dr. G. M. Aylesworth, W. J. Douglass, druggist, was taken, which detailed the story of Miss Grey's death as told yesterday. The doctor believed the girl died from strychnine poisoning, and stated that she was enciente.

Mr. J. Sullivan told of assisting the girl into the wagon, and of her sufferings. All she would say in answer to questions was, "Oh, the villain! Oh, the villain!" Asked the cause of her trouble, she answered, "William Simmons."

Sarah Cooke, sworn, said: On June 1 Jennie Grey came to our place off the 6 o'clock train and stayed until after tea. In the evening she went out, but came back between 8 and 9. I asked if she had seen the party she wanted to. She said no. She went out at 10 o'clock to stay for the night. She said she was going home on Saturday at 4 p.m. She called on Saturday to say good-bye. I asked if she had seen her brother, and she said no, but she wished she could see Will Simmons. I asked her if he was the cause of her trouble. She said yes. She said good-bye and went off to the train. About 5 o'clock she was back, and I said, "Didn't you go?" and she said "No, I missed my train." She stayed until after tea and went out. On Sunday she went out and said she saw William Simmons with a Bible under his arm going to church. She called him and said she wanted to see him. She told me that she had heard man speak brutally to women, but she had not heard a man speak to a woman as he spoke to her. She told him she was going home on Monday, and he asked her to stay and meet him on Monday night, where she had met him before. She went and waited an hour and a half, but he did not appear on Monday evening. On Tuesday she went to his house to see him. She stayed at our place Tuesday night. On Wednesday she said she would go to the station to see if he was going away. She came back and about 5.30 p.m. she asked for a lead pencil and went up to her room. She came down about five minutes to 6, and went out with a small parcel under her arm. I found a note under her pillow:

"To Sadie: If I don't come back alive the $2 in my pocket send to mother to buy Belle a pair of boots or rubbers, and thank your mother for keeping me, and I hope that she will never want. There is a stamp in the pocket. So good-bye, from your loving friend. Miss J. Grey."

Wesley McDermid, clerk in the drug store of W. J. Douglas, said: "On Wednesday Jane Grey came to the store and asked for five cents' worth of strychnine. I got it for her and had her sign the register—(register produced. Gave her ten grains. She said it was for rats.

William Simmons said he had known deceased since August, 1896, and had had improper intimacy with her.

A Juryman: Did she intimate to you on Sunday night that she would make away with herself if you did not attend to her?

Witness: I did not.

Juryman: What conversation did take place between you and deceased on Sunday evening?

Witness: She said, "I am in trouble and you are to blame." I said, "Time will tell, and if I am I will look after the child."

While this witness was giving his evidence he was hissed by the large audience which had gathered.

Chief Lewis, explained how he obtained the letter which was picked up at the feet of teh deceased.

Margaret Bayley, sworn, said: On Wednesday I went out and saw Jane Grey walking up and down, crying very bitterly. I went across sto her and asked her what she was crying about. She said she was in trouble and had taken poison and would I help her up to Mr. Cook's. She started to walk and fell. I did not recognize her voice. I did not know her before Wednesday evening.

John Simmons, sworn, said: On Wednesday night I called at my mother's house. My mother told me about a woman calling the night before. I said, "We must have this stopped." I went out to the front of the house and saw the woman there. I went to my own house. On the way down she stopped me and asked me if my brother was in. I told her that he was not. She said, "I want to see him." I told her that she could not see him. She said, "I will break every window in the house." I told her she could not stop there. She told me that she was on the highway and that I could not remove her. I went out and searched for the chief of police. On my return I was informed that a woman had been picked up dead.

The jury retired at 6.30 p.m. and at 8.55 brought in a verdict "That the said Jane Grey came to her death by taking strychnine, administered by her own hand, while in a state of mental agitation. We moreover find from the evidence given that the cause of the said Jane Grey having taken poison was by reason of the treatment and gross neglect of William Simmons, and would further recommend that the law governing the sale of poison be more rigidly enforced."

Facts About Blue-Eyed Cats.

It is a curious fact that blue-eyed cats are invariably deaf. Mr. J. Harrison Weir, a great authority on the cat, once bought a big, white, blue-eyed beauty, which seemed to be every inch a good cat, except that its vocal organ was of such robust power that her cries drove the household frantic. After some strange experiences the problem was solved by this voiceful specimen being taken home by a kind old lady, who was herself stone deaf.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

A George Street Church Sunday School Teacher Remembered.

Mrs. James Kendry was genuinely surprised last evening when her entire Sunday school class filed into her rooms at the Oriental Hotel for the purpose of making a presentation. Mrs. B. A. Hamilton read the following address, which explains the object of the visit:

Dear Mrs. Kendry.

We, the members of your Sunday school class, cannot allow the holiday season to pass without in some way expressing to you our appreciation of the services you have so cheerfully and faithfully rendered. The interest you have taken in the class, the careful preparation you have always made of the lessons, the clear and loving manner in which you have presented the truth, and the anxiety always shown that each member might be made better, have endeared you to us and won for you our love and esteem. We desire to assure you that your efforts have been highly appreciated, and that we have been assisted to a clear and better understanding of the sacred Word by your faithful instruction. When sickness prevented your attendance, we sympathized with you and prayed for your recovery and your return to the class room was hailed with gladness and thankfulness. Our earnest hope is that you may be permitted to continue your work and that you will be able upon the year which we have entered to see greater results from your labours. We ask you to accept this small gift as a token of our esteem, assuring you that neither words nor gifts can express our appreciation of your services.

Signed on behalf of the class,

MRS. B. A. HAMILTON.
LILLIE EDGAR.
NELLIE WOOD.
EVA GOLDIE.

The gift consisted of a very handsome and useful writing desk and was presented on behalf of the class by Miss Lillie Edgar.

Mrs. Kendry acknowledged the gift and kindly sentiments expressed in the address, after which the members of the class remained and spent a social hour with their teacher.

MISS DENNISTOUN'S WEDDING.

Further Particulars Concerning it in the Ladies' Pictorial.

The Ladies' Pictorial for December publishes the portrait of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Kirkpatrick and the following particulars concerning their recent marriage:—

"On the 16th inst., at St. Peter's church, Cranley Gardens, by the Rev. Alexander Kirkpatrick, canon of Ely cathedral, Captain George Macauley Kirkpatrick, R. E., eldest son of Hon. G. A. Kirkpatrick, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, Canada, to Miss Mary Lydia Dennistoun, third daughter of the late James Frederick Dennistoun, Q. C., of Castlenock, Peterborough, Canada. The bride was attired in a lovely gown of pearl white satin duchesse, the skirt being perfectly plain. The bodice was artistically draped with soft folds drawn up on the left side, finished with an Empire bow of chiffon, with long ends falling to the hem of the skirt, held at the bottom with tufts of orange flowers and myrtle. The bow was also caught to the bodice with a trail of the blossoms, this falling on the sleeves, and the high collar-band and yoke were of drawn chiffon, the Medici collar, in transparent drawn chiffon, giving a soft effect. The transparent sleeves of chiffon were ruched and finished at the wrist with ruffles of of the same, three pretty frills, edged with narrow frillings of chiffon, falling gracefully from the shoulders. The bride also carried a handsome bouquet of choice white flowers. The bridesmaids were the Misses Annie and Louisa Dennistoun, sisters of the bride, who wore gowns of white poplin, with trimmings of cherry-coloured velvet and white chiffon, and large white felt picture hats with white ostrich feathers, cherry velvet and bands of mink. They carried bouquets of white hyacinths and chrysanthemums, tied with cherry-colored ribbons, and wore pearl and enamel brooches, the gifts of the bridegroom. Captain Cartwright, R E., acted as best man, and after the ceremony a reception was held at 23 Queensbury place by Mrs. Dennistoun, the bride's mother, the happy pair leaving later on the honeymoon."

HOCKEY MATCH.

The Juniors Win From the Lindsay Collegiates.

A scratch hockey team went to Lindsay yesterday and enjoyed a friendly game with the Collegiate Institute team of that town, winning the match by the score of 11 goals to 8.

In the first half the Peterborough boys scored seven goals to their opponents' two but apparently couldn't stand success, and went to pieces for a time in the second half.

Harry King is stated to have played a star game on the forward line.

The team which went over was composed as follows: Wasson, goal; Thorne, point; Hollingshead, (Capt.) coverpoint; Graham, King, Belleghem and Crossley, forwards.

Better To-day Than Yesterday.

Edward Atkinson, the Economist, says that 20 per cent. of the business of the country is of such a nature that it must be done whether the times are good or bad. The man who slows down or closes up simply leaves his competitor that much more business. He who stops advertising withdraws himself from the channels of trade, and no one who is really in business should be asked to pay any attention to his croaking about hard times, but should make a better effort to-day than he did yesterday.

OSGOODE HALL NOTES.

Henderson vs. Henderson.

Mr. Justice MacMahon delivered judgment in this somewhat celebrated case at Osgoode Hall on Thursday last. The judgment is in favour of the plaintiffs and finds that they are entitled to the possession of the lands in question as Executors of the will of the late David Henderson, deceased. A declaration of absolute title in the plaintiffs, as against the defendant and all other persons, will be embodied in the formal judgment.

The action was tried at the recent non-jury sittings at Peterborough when judgment was reserved to enable the judge to peruse the evidence given at the formal trial with the above result.

The parties reside in Otonabee, and this action is the outcome of a former action brought in the year 1895 by the Plaintiffs, Messrs. David and John Henderson, against Mrs. Annie Henderson, to recover possession of the same land. Mrs. Henderson claimed to be the owner by virtue of the Statute of Limitations, she and her husband, the late Robert Henderson, having been permitted to reside on the farm and get their living out of it, paying the surplus profits in each year to the late David Henderson, who was the true owner. Mrs. Henderson also set up, but failed to prove, a verbal agreement alleged to have been made between her husband and his father.

After hearing all the evidence Mr. Justice Street, presiding judge, delivered judgment immediately, finding in favour of the plaintiffs on all the questions raised, and the defendant was ordered to deliver up possession of the farm to them. From this judgment the defendant appealed to a Divisional Court composed of three judges, the result being that Mr. Justice Meredith, one of the three, entirely agreed with Judge Street, and gave judgment in favour of the plaintiffs. The other two Judges, Mr. Justice Ferguson and Mr. Justice Robertson, also agreed that no agreement had been made between the late Robert Henderson and his father with respect to the ownership of the land, but the Judges held that the defendant had acquired title by length of possession and the statutes of limitations applied. The majority of this Court being against the plaintiffs, the judgment of Mr. Justice Street was set aside. The plaintiffs then appealed to the Court of Appeal for Ontario, the highest court in the Province and composed of four judges. The appeal was heard in March last and judgment was delivered on the 30th June following, when the Court of Appeal unanimously reversed the judgments of Mr. Justice Ferguson and Mr. Justice Robertson, and restored the judgment of Mr. Justice Street, finding that the plaintiffs were entitled to the ownership and possession of the farm.

Mrs. Henderson was again ordered to deliver up possession, and she moved off the farm but left her daughter, a child of ten or eleven years, in possession, and a claim was then set up on behalf of the daughter, against whom the present action was brought. Several offers of settlement were made by the plaintiffs, both before and during the litigation, but none were accepted. By the judgment just delivered the plaintiffs are declared to be the absolute owners of the farm, as executors of the late David Henderson. Hall & Hayes for plaintiff; E. B. Edwards for defendant.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 9, 1897.

EXPLANATORY.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I have been informed that Mr. Moore construes a reference in my letter of yesterday on "Politics and Municipal Elections," into a reflection upon his personal honesty. I wish to say that Mr. Moore is entirely mistaken. I had no such intention. Personally I respect Mr. Moore very much, and as to my opinion of his honesty, if he passed me his word, I should rely upon it as confidently as upon that of any citizen I know. My only reference as to the relative honesty of Mr. Yelland and Mr. Moore, was intended in an academic and impersonal sense, also to imply that Mr. Yelland was the more outspoken and more easily understood. I spoke of both as candidates and not as citizens, and have heard, so far, of no person who thinks I intended to cast the slightest doubt upon Mr. Moore's personal or professional honesty. I am not much accustomed to writing, and may have failed to express myself clearly, but I assure Mr. Moore that I intended to cast no reflection as to his personal honesty and hope that he will consider my explanation satisfactory.

Yours very truly,
"CONSERVATIVE."

MEDICAL HEALTH OFFICER'S REPORT

SUBMITTED TO THE BOARD OF HEALTH YESTERDAY.

The Sanitary Condition of the Town Improving Yearly—The Death Rate Last Year was Seventeen per Thousand.

The last meeting of the Board of Health of the year of 1896 was held yesterday afternoon, with Mr. B. Shortly in the chair and the following members present: Dr. Burnham, Henry Denne and R. Innis.

Dr. Clarke, medical health officer, presented his report, as follows:

To the Chairman and Members of the Peterborough Board of Health:

GENTLEMEN,—In presenting my report for the year of 1896, I am glad to record a moderate death rate and a very low percentage of mortality from infectious disease. No deaths from diphtheria occur ed throughout the year, a statement I have been unable to make in any annual report since the Board of Health was first inaugurated. Death from other infectious diseases were moderate. Sanitary work was well attended to by the citizens of town. With the exception of a rather larger number of cases mild typhoid, or typho malarial, fewer than has occurred for some years, the sanitary condition of the town has been good.

SLAUGHTER HOUSES.

No complaints have been made during the year as regards slaughtering, except an occasional one in reference to the Matthews pork packing establishment. Frequent inspections have been made and we have always found that every effort had been made to keep down the nuisance. The introduction of a new and improved deodorizing apparatus has to a large extent done away with the offensive odors formerly complained off. Pigs are not fed on the premises except in case of an urgency.

REMOVAL OF GARBAGE AND EXCRETA.

This, as in late years has been pretty thoroughly attended to. Very few complaints were made regarding deposits, and cases of disease traceable to that cause were very rare.

PURITY OF WATER

Many samples have been sent in for analysing and the results have shown, as might be expected, that the greater care taken in the vicinity, the purer the water supply. However, it occasionally happens that a well is found to be impure, after repeated analyses and no source of contamination can be seen in those cases the only explanation is that some underground current is the source of impurity. A few years ago when floods took place in London, Ontario, fire engines and hose were used to empty cellars, and it was found that in some cases there was a direct communication between them and wells 300 feet distant. Where this occurs the only remedy is the introduction of water from the pumoing station, which has always been found good.

ICE.

I made several analyses of ice supplied to the public and found it always pure. The lake water is becoming constantly purer on account of drainage from the town being carried off by the main sewer, and the stoppage of sawdust deposits. The Little Lake will in future be a convenient and trustworthy source of ice for the town.

MILK SUPPLY.

Fewer complaints were made during the year than before, as to impurities in milk supplied by dealers. Watering is carried on to some extent, and I would again advise a thorough system of milk inspection as is done in large cities.

SEWERAGE.

The work done on the sewers during the past year is matter for great congratulation. This cannot fail to be of immense benefit to the health of the town, and it is to be hoped that the work will be extended and connections made as rapidly as possible. This will prevent the construction of cess-pools—one of the worst evils, from a sanitary point of view, in a thickly inhabited town.

DEATH RATE.

The death rate for 1896 was almost exactly 17 per thousand. This, though not as low as in some previous years, is a very good showing. As I have said before, it is considered by high sanitary authorities as a rate to be aimed at. Any rate much below this must be followed by a reaction.

DEATH CERTIFICATES.

By a recent enactment of the Ontario Legislature all death certificates must be countersigned by the Medical Health Officer. The object is undoubtedly to give him a more complete idea of the sanitary condition of a municipality than formerly, cases of infectious diseases being usually reported, but not deaths therefrom.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

As nearly as can be ascertained 67 cases of typhoid or typhoid-malaria fever and 26 cases of scarlet fever occurred throughout the year. These were mostly mild, sanitary work having done much to mitigate the severity of all classes of infectious disease. Only two deaths resulted from scarlet fever and six from typhoid. The greatest difficulty in obtaining accurate information regarding these cases is that it is sometimes impossible to draw the line between scarlet fever and a simple rash or between typhoid and continued fevers. Authorities differ and much must be left to the discretion of the medical attendant or the Health Officer.

CONSUMPTION.

I think something ought to be said about the mortality from this disease which is now classed among the infectious diseases. Seventeen deaths occurred in town from this disease during 1896. This is a very large mortality and the matter ought to be considered seriously by Boards of Health throughout the Province, with a view to pressing on the legislature the importance of appropriate measures for checking the disease. It must be remembered that consumption is not always hereditary. It is easily acquired and may often be prevented by proper measures.

Many complaints have been sent in to your officers, which we have endeavoured to attend to as far as possible. Altogether the year has been a satisfactory one, and it is to be hoped that the low ratio from infectious disease may be maintained.

I am, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
J. CLARKE, M.D.,
Medical Health Officer.

SANITORY REPORT FOR 1896.

Geo. I. Rossel, Sanitary Inspector, presented the following report for the year:

No. of notices served	634
No. of yards and closets examined	2,246
No. of yards cleaned	1,552
No. of manure heaps removed	20
No. of dead animals buried	26

On motion of Dr. Burnham and Mr. Denne, the report of the Medical Health Officer and Sanitary Inspector were adopted as the report of the Board, and as such, ordered to be forwarded to the Provincial Board of Health.

The matter of the closer inspection of bakeries was brought up by Dr. Burnham, who urged the personal inspection of the men employed in baking, as disease might easily emanate from a man thus employed who was consumptive.

Other matters of minor importance were discussed, after which the Board adjourned.

Tore His Flesh in Agony

"I was troubled with blind itching piles for twenty years; was unable to work and tore my flesh in agony. United States and Canadian doctors failed to relieve. Chase's Ointment was a God-send. I am a better man than in twenty years, and am able to work every day." Philip Wallace, blacksmith, Iroquois, Ont. Chase's Ointment cures, piles, eczema, and irritant diseases. All druggists, 60c. per box.

TOWN COUNCIL COMMITTEES.

On Monday night next the practically inaugural meeting of the town council will be held, and it is in one particular respect, the most important meeting of the year. At this meeting the standing committees for the year will be struck, and upon the efficiency of these committees will depend, to a very large extent, the efficiency for the council's work for the coming year. The chairman of these committees are, in reality, the mayor's cabinet, and it is to these committees that the people look for the originating and guiding of the civic matters that are to be dealt with.

The Finance Committee is an important committee in providing funds for the expenditures under the several other committees.

The Charity Committee is another important committee, requiring a broad spirit in the chairman and members, that will deal generously with the claims that are made upon them, while at the same time prudently distributing the funds of the town to relieve distress—or in providing employment, in which direction it is almost impossible to err on the side of liberality, so long as even approximate value is received for the labour employed.

The Fire, Water and Light, the License and Supervision of Police Committees, and the Court of Revision have all important functions to perform.

A committee whose selection should have the minutest care and deliberation, is the Street and Bridge Committee, which has control of the chief spending department of the town. Especially is wisdom needed of the members in view of the probability of a start being made in the construction of permanent pavements and sidewalks. It is essential to future success that a right beginning be made and the very best system adopted. We have learned by costly experience the wisdom of keeping our streets in good condition and there is a popular demand that what money shall hereafter be spent upon our streets shall, as far as possible, not be wasted in makeshift work, but on work that will last, and be the cheaper in the end. It is very necessary, in addition to having the committee composed of men of broad views and practical, well balanced minds, that the chairman should be a man of resource, and of sufficient leisure to enable him to give the large attention to the duties of the office that the public interests demand. He should be practical in experience, independent and impartial, with a strength of character to take the course that is right and not be swayed from a proper course when once decided upon and approved, by personal or sectional influences. Sauviter in modo, fortiter in re, should be his motto.

* * *

Perhaps at the present time the most important of the committees is the Manufacturers' Committee. This committee in the past has been regarded as a somewhat ornamental one, and there is reason for this feeling. Last year's committee has not, we believe, held a meeting. But this year there will have to be a change, and the committee will find its work cut out for it.

* * *

There is a feeling of no little intensity, especially among those who have considered the situation, of the necessity of adding to the manufacturing industries of the town. We hold already a prominent position, but if the town is to grow and advance as we all wish it to do, we must look to manufacturing as the basis of such growth and advancement. We have all the conditions to successfully follow out the indications of our needs in this direction. Our central situation in the province, our unsurpassed railway facilities and water power, are factors of prime importance. We have a considerable sum remaining of the special fund set apart to assist in attracting manufacturing industries to the town, and what we most need is the men so take advantage of the conditions and to give them practical effect. For this reason it is of the very first importance that the greatest care should be taken in selecting the Manufacturers' Committee and in placing at its head a practical, shrewd, as well as cautious, and prudent chairman. There is a revival in industrial activity throughout the country and many concerns are seeking for the best place to establish their factories. We can show that Peterborough is the place, but we need careful, prompt and energetic action on the part of our representatives; and our responsible representatives in this connection are the members of the Manufacturers' Committee. The council in making its selections should have in view the appointment of only the best men for positions on this very important committee.

MIRACLES TO-DAY.

Wm. H. White of Portuguese Cove Racked by the Tortures of Rheumatism, is Quickly Relieved and Permanently Cured by the Great South American Rheumatic Cure.

"I was a martyr to acute rheumatism for years. All the known remedies and best doctors were given a trial, but nothing ever gave me any permanent relief until I obtained your great South American Rheumatic Cure. It has done so much for me that I gladly give my testimony, that other sufferers from the agonies of rheumatism may take my advice and try this great remedy. I am satisfied that it will cure them as it has me." Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

New Furniture.

WEEK OF PRAYER.

The Services Last Night Were Held in the Murray Street Baptist Church.

Murray street Baptist church was filled to its utmost capacity last night. Being the closing meeting of the week, special importance was attached to all that was said and done.

Rev. A. T. Dykeman presided and many of the clergymen and laymen took part in the various exercises of the evening. The Rev. W. M. Roger gave a very practical and profitable address on "Social Reform." Many Christians are discouraged and conscious of inability, yet our great encouragement is that God is with us as we work with Him. When we see the wicked exalted and the righteous abased we are often led to think that the world is turned upside down; but we see a band of disciples being sent forth as sheep among wolves with the command "Go ye into all the world and disciple all nations;" and we hear it said of them, "These men turn the world upside down," but we are glad to say it is the right side up. There are times of progress as well as times of reverse, and our inspiration is that the word of God is for the healing of the nations. We may be few among the world's millions, but many an illustration proves that God can overcome great evils by the fidelity of the few. What is the remedy for social reform? Surely not fine theories that some men have dreamed of—not the beautiful and plausible hopes that men have written for the heart and brain of the weary labourer. The rose bush as presented in "Looking Backward" so situated with adverse surroundings, would be different if given a better chance. Yet men forget the words of Christ—"Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all things shall be added unto you," and as the word of God, "Behold I make all things new . . . . a new world wherein dwelleth righteousness." For this we need to pray.

Special reference was then made to the great evil of intemperance, and the speaker pleaded with all present to do all they could in the coming plebiscite to sustain the efforts of godly men and women, who through much personal sacrifice and frequent discomforture had still continued under the guidance of God to battle for the right with manifest triumph.

...who sacrifices his health for the sake of the excitement of work and money-getting, is dancing with Death. It is a dance in which Death always comes out victor. If a man will only spare enough time to take care of health, to eat, and rest and sleep properly, and when he feels slightly indisposed will resort to the right remedy, he may work as hard as he pleases, and pile up money steeple high, without fear of untimely death.

The worst enemy with which hard-working men have to contend is a disordered digestion. It is the starting point for most sickness and disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery prevents sickness and disease. Its use insures a hearty appetite, and healthful, restful sleep. It corrects all disorders of the digestion, invigorates the liver and purifies the blood. It tones the nerves. It makes pure, rich blood, builds firm healthy flesh, and strong, elastic muscle. The man who resorts to it whenever he feels out of sorts, may, within reason, work as hard as he pleases. Druggists sell it.

"Enclosed please find 21 one-cent stamps," writes James Trent, of Clarendon, Donley Co., Texas, "for which please send me a copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser in paper covers. I have been taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the blood and think it is the best blood-purifier in existence."

One of the best-known of American medical men said: "If you want to reform a man, begin with his grandfather." That would be wise if it could be done. Since it cannot be done, try something else. Reform the future grandfathers and grandmothers. Do this through education. The greatest thing for a man or woman to know is himself or herself. To know one-half the capabilities and disabilities of the human body is a liberal education. A good start for this education is Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Any one can have this finely illustrated 1000-page book for the small price of thirty-one one-cent stamps to pay for customs and mailing only. If you would like the book in fine cloth binding instead of paper, send fifty stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

EIGHT MONTHS IN PRISON.

That is the Sentence Imposed on Lady Scott for Libelling Earl Russell.

London, Jan. 8.—The Old Bailey court room was crowded this morning when Lady Selina Scott, John Cockerton and William Aylott, who yesterday pleaded guilty of having criminally libelled Earl Russell, Lady Scott's son-in-law, were brought up for sentence. Lady Scott entered the court room accompanied by her daughter, Countess Russell. When the prisoners were called to the bar for sentence John Lawson Walton, M. P., solicitor for Lady Scott, addressed the court in behalf of his client, saying her ladyship pledged herself not to re-publish any of the libels she had uttered against Earl Russell. Solicitor Hall, speaking for Cockerton and Aylott, said that his clients did not withdraw a single word they had said, or any statement that they had made concerning Earl Russell, having told nothing but the truth about him.

Lady Scott, in reply to the usual questions by the court as to what she had to say why sentence should not be pronounced upon her, said she was perfectly willing to accept any punishment that His Lordship the judge might see fit to inflict. All that she had done, she said, was in defence of her darling daughter, and she would gladly suffer anything for her sake.

The judge then addressed the prisoners, speaking for half an hour. He was repeatedly interrupted by Lady Scott, who finally became exasperated at the lecturing of the court, and exclaimed: "For goodness sake, let me have my sentence. I am only a woman."

The judge then pronounced sentence upon the prisoners, condemning each of them to eight months' imprisonment without hard labor. Lady Scott, on account of her delicate health, will be treated as a first-class misdemeanant, but Cockerton and Aylott will be treated as ordinary prisoners.

As Lady Scott was leaving the prisoner's dock after the judge had sentenced her, she turned and said: "Every word I uttered against my daughter's husband is true."

In the course of Justice Hawkins' summing up he alluded to the day when Earl Russell made the acquaintance of Lady Scott as an ill day for him, and characterized her as the "origin of all his unhappiness," whereupon Lady Scott mockingly bowed to the court, and said: "Thank you, my lord."

The judge did not appear to notice the remark, but Mr. Hall, counsel for Cockerton and Aylott, became aroused at the judge's language, and threw down his brief, saying: "I abandon the case."

The episode created a sensation and there was great disorder in the court, every one present standing up. During the disturbance Lady Scott became hysterical, and, pounding the railings of the dock, cried out: "This is abominable."

After the sentence was passed upon her mother, Countess Russell screamed loudly, and Lady Scott cried: "There isn't one word of truth in it." Then, turning to her daughter, she said: "You said it was impossible to get justice." This reflection upon the court angered Justice Hawkins, who said in a loud tone: "I will not permit you to address me in that manner." Lady Scott was quickly removed from the court and taken to prison.

UNHAPPIEST WOMAN ALIVE.

The Princess de Chimay Writes Sorrowful Letters to Her Former Friends.

London, Jan. 8.—The Pall Mall Gazette publishes a despatch from its correspondent in Brussels saying that the Princess of Chimay and Caraman, formerly Miss Clara Ward of Detroit, Mich., who eloped from Paris in November with a Hungarian gypsy musician named Janos Rigo, has recently written letters to a number of her former aristocratic friends in Belgium, in which she confesses that since she left her husband and children she has been the unhappiest woman alive. The Princess is living in Buda Pest with her Hungarian lover, and a few days ago it was announced that arrangements had been made with a theatrical manager for her appearance on the stage as a singer and dancer in conjunction with her paramour's musical performance.

SOLD AT A LOSS.

In order to convince the public that Dr. Agnew's Liver Pills are far superior to any liver pill ever placed on the market, the manufacturer has for the past six months sold them at 10 cents a vial of 40 doses; or at a clear loss of 50% of their cost price. The truly wonderful merit of Dr. Agnew's Pills is now recognized in three-fourths of Canadian homes, and from this time on the retail price for a vial of 40 doses will be 20 cents, or five cents a vial less than is charged for other brands of liver pills. They are the smallest, cheapest, best. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

An Experiment That Failed.

A bee is a busy little creature, and as wise as he is busy. It can gather about a grain of honey a day, which seems very small, but as there are 10,000 bees in a hive, the aggregate is very large. Years ago a speculator sent swarms of bees to the West Indies, hoping to have honey in plenty, but he was disappointed. The wise little insects soon learned that there was no use piling up honey for winter, because the flowers were in blossom all the year round, so they only made as much as they could eat, and the experiment failed.

"So Long."

An English correspondent says the expression "so long" is the same as the "sa lange" of the Swedes, which corresponds to the "a tantot" of the French. "Sa lange," as pronounced by a Swede, is almost identical, he says, with what you would hear from a Northumbrian, if you got him to say the English words "so long."

Two Box Cure

MILVERTON, 5TH JULY, 1895.

Gentlemen.—For the last ten years I had been troubled with kidney disease, being so bad at intervals that I could not be in bed at night nor stoop to the ground.

I had tried all the remedies I could find without effect, but heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured a box.

I am most happy to say it for my own sake as well as for others that I am positively cured after using four boxes.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

A PREACHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"Three months ago, I took a violent cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis. I put myself under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Ayer's Cherry

Pectoral. The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has relieved me almost entirely of all unpleasant symptoms, and I feel sure that one or two bottles more will effect a permanent cure. TIMELY NOTES OF INTEREST AND PRACTICAL UTILITY.

A Hat That is Having Great Vogue—A Symmetrical and Beautiful Winter Outfit in Velveteen—Notes for Maids and Matrons.

The illustration (from the December Season) shows the European idea of a model that has had and is still having great vogue in our larger cities. There are innumerable variations of crown, bell and width and roll of brim, but the material points bear a resemblance to the model. New York, London and Paris trim their hats of this description, using coque, birds, ribbons or ostrich, preferred in the order named; Berlin and Vienna wear them plain, as in the picture. The preferred model is lower crowned, with a high rolling brim shorter in the back. The hat is silk beaver, with a brim of cloth, and has the same well-groomed, neat appearance that the stovepipe lends to a well-dressed man.

Some hands use new mats to place under the jardinieres kept on polished tables are squares of white china silk, with a border of plush almost a finger wide. These mats are made over a stiff foundation of crinoline or canvas, covered with a layer of cotton and lined at the back with silk of a contrasting color. For instance, one of those seen, which is in a room where there is much green of various shades, has a border of olive plush and is covered at the back with olive china silk. The center of white China silk is covered with an all-over pattern of flowers of about the size of a twenty-five cent piece. These flowers are outlined in coarse green embroidery silk. On the mat was a green jardiniere holding a palm. The plant was placed on a Turkish coffee table of mahogany. These low tables are much used in all kinds of wood for holding a single plant. In a room with a different coloring the mat could be made of white and dark or old blue, or of raspberry color and white. A spread made for a large mahogany dining table is a larger square of this kind, so that when laid on the table it leaves the corners bare. It has a border of apple-green satin.

A WINTER OUTFIT IN VELVETEEN.

Here is a very simple routine which is considered most beneficial by Delsarte teachers in imparting a good carriage to the body, and which has the further advantage of requiring little of one's time to carry it out.

Every morning before you leave your bedroom, stand as close to the wall, facing it, as you can approach. Try touching the nose, the forehead and chest to the wall while the rest of the body is quite away from it. Then preserve the very same attitude in walking about the room for a few moments. This will inevitably, if persevered in, give one a fine, upright bearing, and the right position of the body's members.

No longer are tall flowering plants used for decorating the table. Instead, there are low dishes tastefully arranged with choice flowers and delicate trailing plants, mingled with appropriate leaves and mosses. Another pretty way to arrange flowers for the table is to fill a low dish with small blocks of ice and sweet-smelling buds and blossoms.

The sweetest flower silks, that fairly send out fragrance from the buds, are sold this year for ball gowns. The silk is a taffeta, and the roses stand out in satin.

One of these dresses depends entirely upon lace and pink taffeta ribbon for its sleeves. The ribbon winds in and out of the lace irregularly, and is brought out and tied in knots and bows, at intervals. The color of the ribbon sets off the lace admirably.

The groundwork of the dress is cream, with lady slipper pink roses. The belt is a crush of velvet of a peculiar crimson known as crimson lake, and the ribbons repeat this color.

Catarrh is a constitutional disease and requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies the blood.

A Home Kindergarten.

Every house that has one or more little children should own, if possible, one of the low tables and several of the small, low chairs that are used in the kindergarten. If there is no regular nursery the tables may be kept in one corner of the living room, as they provide a most convenient place for the work and games of children, a place to rest their books when reading, and because they are their own special property give great satisfaction in many ways. Another piece of furniture that helps the children to keep an orderly nursery is a window seat—that is, a large, long box with a hinged cover, where their toys may be placed when they are through using them. In one nursery, where there are three children, each one has her own special treasure chest placed under a window and her own low shelf for books.

The sick man knocking at the door of health gets in if he knocks the right way, and, stays out if he doesn't. There are thousands of ways of getting sick, but only one way to get well. Do whatever you will, if you do not put your digestion in good order, and make your blood rich and pure, you will not get well. Rich, pure blood is the only thing that can bring perfect health. Constipation is a disease of the blood. A large part of all diseases are traceable directly to impurities in the blood, and can be cured by eliminating them with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The first thing it does is to put the whole digestive system into perfect order. It stimulates the appetite, excites a copious secretion of the digestive fluids and promotes assimilation. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be, kills them and forces them out of the system. The "Golden Medical Discovery" has been used with unvarying success for over 30 years.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn says: "Shiloh's Vitalizer 'Saved my Life. I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used." For Dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excels Price 75c. Sold by John Nugent 289 George Street.

Constipation Cured.

Gents,—I was in very poor health for over four years; the doctor said it was constipation. Not wanting to spend too much cash I got three bottles of B.B.B. and took it regularly, I can certify that I am now in the very best of health and feel very grateful to B.B.B.

Death of Captain George Irving.

Windsor, Jan. 7.—Captain George Irving died last evening at the residence of his son-in-law, D. B. Odette, aged 81. He was one of the oldest captains on the lakes, and was well known to most of the vessel-owners from one end of the lakes to the other, and enjoyed the distinction of being the first man who took a vessel from Lake Huron to Lake Superior before the canal was constructed. He superintended the construction of the gates on the Soo Canal when it was built.

Burglars at Beamsville.

Beamsville, Jan. 7.—George A. Beatty's store was entered last night by breaking the glass in the front door. With lighted matches the thieves made their selection of goods and ransacked the store from end to end. Ready-made clothing, gloves, hose and tobaccos were taken. The operators made their exit by the back door. The raid is supposed to have been made by home talent.

Brockville, Jan. 4 (Special)—Mr. W. H. Odell, perhaps one of the best known citizens of this town has lately recovered from a long continued and painful kidney ailment. He tells the story of his experience to the correspondent as follows:

"I have suffered for over a year from kidney disease, the pain in my back being so severe that I was unable to stand to my work."

"Noticing the published cures of what Dodd's Kidney Pills were doing for others I concluded to use them."

"Having used only six boxes I can say that I am perfectly cured and well so that I can attend to business as well as ever I could."

MR. MAXWELL JOHNSTON

One of the Best Known Printers in Canada,

Tells the story of his terrible sufferings, and gives an account of his rescue from the Jaws of Death.

Probably no one is better known to the printing trade of Canada than Maxwell Johnston, of Maxwelell Johnston & Co., 72 Bay street, Toronto. His many years of experience have acquainted him with almost every person in the entire trade. To many of his friends it has been known that he has suffered during very severe illness the past year, and in regard to the same Mr. Johnston writes the following letter:—

TORONTO, Dec. 3, 1896.

MESSRS. T. MILBURN & Co.:

DEAR SIRS,—For over ten months I suffered from dropsy, caused by kidney trouble which followed an attack of la grippe. The symptoms rapidly became serious and medical aid was called in. Among others who were consulted were Dr. Wallace, Dr. Norman Allen, Dr. Weir and Dr. Glass, all of this city, and I can truly state that they made every effort that medical skill could provide. Seven operations were performed within six months, during which time I visited at different periods for the purpose of these operations the following hospitals, viz: The Toronto General Hospital, St. Michael's Hospital and Grace Hospital. Although all that could be done for me was faithfully and skillfully performed, I received only temporary relief, the operations only serving to remove the enormous quantities of water which constantly accumulated. As a matter of fact, 17 gallons of water were removed during the last two operations. After the last operation I was given up to die and was given only six to twelve days to live.

In addition to the best medical skill which money could procure, I used all kinds of patent medicines which promised relief, but without effect. All the family remedies suggested, such as Milkweed Tea, Pumpkin Seed Tea, Mullein Leaf Tea, Spanish Onion Tea, Sweet Nitre and Buchu, etc., were faithfully tried but gave not the slightest relief, so that I had lost all hope, when I was persuaded to try Doan's Kidney Pills, together with Laxa Liver Pills. To my surprise I received almost immediate relief. At this time I was unable to lie down and for three and a half months previously was forced to sleep in a chair. My waist measure was then 49 inches; it is now 33 inches since the wonderful cure made by these pills.

I consider myself perfectly cured and feel strong and well. My weight when I was attacked was 198 pounds. After the operations I was reduced to 130. I weigh now 160. By carefully watching the action of Doan's Pills and Laxa Liver Pills I am positive that to them alone is due the wonderful cure which has taken place in my case.

I am a printer by trade and have held positions in the offices of The Globe, Mail, Methodist Book Room, etc., as well as in Ohio and Detroit, Mich., and have been an employing printer since 1877.

Although it may seem incredible, every word I have stated is the truth, and I am prepared to back it by the evidence of hundreds of citizens and friends who knew me before I was sick and afterwards, while I was near death's door, and who now, to their surprise, see me restored to complete health by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, assisted by Laxa Liver Pills, I shall be glad to answer inquiries from sufferers from kidney or liver troubles at any time, and refer to the following gentlemen who have knowledge of the facts, and can verify every word I say. Many of these gentlemen knew me before my sickness, during my terrible sufferings, and since I was restored to health. My testimony is given voluntarily and without any consideration of any kind, either directly or indirectly. I give it solely for the benefit of my fellow beings who may be afflicted with Dropsy or Kidney troubles of any kind, viz.:—

Tennyson's "Vision of Sin."

[The following study of Tennyson's "Vision of Sin" is taken from "A Study of the works of Lord Tennyson" by Edward Campbell Tanish. We would ask ask all our readers who have access to Tennyson's Works to read this study in conjunction with the original.]

"The Vision of Sin" is a poem, the interpretation of which it is not easy to read. It opens with a glowing picture of sensuous beauty and enjoyment. But the sensuousness is low, ministering rather to the excitement of passion than to the sense of beauty. In the midst of this picture are many human figures, but chiefly one—a newcomer—a youth and

"He rode a horse with wings that would have flown,
But that his heavy rider kept him down."

This image is doubtless borrowed from Plato and understanding it so, we learn that the young man was one of high capacities, but of low aims—fitted for a spiritual life, but deliberately choosing the sensual. The solemn beauty of God, and the slow-coming but inevitable Nemesis descending from the heavens, alike fail to raise him or to warn him.

"I saw that every morning far withdrawn
Beyond the darkness and the cataract,
God made Himself an awful rose of dawn,
Unheeded, and detaching fold by fold,
From those still heights, and slowly drawing near,
A vapour, heavy, hueless, formless, cold,
Came floating on for many a month and year, unheeded."

* * *

The vision changes; the young man has grown old, the vengeance has partly fallen. All the sensuous, beautiful surroundings have vanished—low and coarse companions and circumstances have taken their place. There is a horse still, but one altogether wingless. All that power of voluptuous enjoyment is gone; the old man asks for wine, but it is wine simply, a stimulant and no more. He says—

"I remember, when I think,
That my youth was half divine."

For to the palled appetite of the sensualist, the keener sensibilities of youth, tinged as they always are, with an idealising touch, even though sensual, too, may well seem as "half divine." To the sensualist grown old there is left but coarse appetite at most; oftentimes not even that. From this old man self-respect had fled, and belief in all the higher qualities and the higher aims of man.

* * *

The meaning of thus much of the poem is clear. A life of sensuous, or sensual pleasure in youth is avenged by the loss of even that and the incapacity for anything higher as age comes on. But towards the end of the monologue of the old man a touch of something else shows itself. He grows bitter, and scornful of himself as well as others, and even despair seems to glimmer out from his talk. And then he ceases and the vision changes again. The end has come, death and decay spread over all, and the solemn, silent beauty of God alone remains. Then two voices are heard; one pleads for the old man that sense has avenged the sin. He did not indulge malignant passions did not use his higher nature to pervert it, but neglected it only and lived for the lower nature. The higher nature remains though all unused and undeveloped, yet not slain by crimes of malice. Thus seems to plead the first voice. But the second voice answers—

"The crime of sense became
The crime of malice, and is equal blame."

He who will live for his lower nature alone must needs be guilty of sins against the higher nature; it is not permitted to him simply to ignore it. Crimes of sense must lead to crimes of malice through the channel of selfishness, and these, then, are not less blameworthy and they so arose. The pleading voice urges again—

"He had not wholly quenched his power;"

there was still left in him the perception of, and the capacity for higher things; had it not been so he would have content in his lowness; but he was bitter and scornful of himself, and by this it was manifest that conscience was not wholly dead in him—

"At last I heard a voice upon the slope
Cry to the summit, 'Is there any hope?'"

And in that question are expressed the limit of human knowledge, and the suspense of human anxiety. Concerning millions of wasted lives that lie decaying in the hollow, nobler men, who are half way up the slope, cry to the summit, "Is there any hope?"

"To which an answer pealed from that high land,
But in a tongue no man could understand;
And on the glimmering limit far withdrawn,
God made himself an awful rose of dawn."

The answer comes, but it is unintelligible—a sealed answer to human wisdom. But as it peals the dawn of God rises in the far distance, and the light thereof may seem to mingle with the eager question of man, as the last word lingers upon his tongue, and the light and hope commingling may, perchance, bridge the way to a joyous interpretation of the mystic answer that pealed from the heights of God.

[We hope next week to give the same suggestive writer's interpretation of a kindred poem to the "Vision of Sin," viz., "The Palace of Art."—Ed. F.C.C.]

The rinks which have not yet played off are as follows:—

Thistles.		Granites.
J B Pentland	vs	J Connal
T Rutherford	vs	Dr Boucher
Geo J Hopkins	vs	Geo Edmison

The Granites meet to-night to elect skips for the Lindsay bonspiel and Lindsay-Peterborough competion.

The following skips have been chosen to take charge of Lindsay's rinks against Peterborough on Monday next. Messrs. Flavelle, Needler and Little will play in Peterborough, and Messrs. McMillan, Ferguson and Kennedy in Lindsay.

The Lindsay rinks in the double rink competition are L. McIntosh, J. G. Edwards, J. A. McMillan, J. D. Flavelle, skip, and T. McConnell, M. W. Kennedy, G. A. Little and W. McLennan, skip. These are two good strong rinks and should make a hard fight for first place.

Outside clubs, the Post says, are going to come with their strongest aggregations and Lindsay should have five or six very strong rinks in the single rink competition in the bonspiel. The outside curlers are already looking after hotel accommodation during the 'spiel. We are informed that one hotel man has received word to keep accommodation for seven rinks.

HOCKEY.

Queen's University hockey club has challenged the Yale hockey club for the intercollegiate and international championships, naming January 23rd for the meeting. Since issuing the challenge, however, events have transpired that may baulk the intention of the members. If it is found impossible to get away to play the match at New York the team may, at a later date, take a short western tour. If it is found possible both tours will be taken in at the same time.

The Kingston Whig says.—Jock Harty this morning received a telegram from New York, announcing that the Yale team had accepted the challenge issued by the Queen's team for the inter-collegiate and international championships of America. The match will take place on the ice in the famous St. Nicholas skating rink, New York. All of the Queen's players will be able to get away and will leave here at noon on the 21st inst., the time set for the match being the 23rd inst. Queen's team will be picked from these players,—Hiscock, Curtis, Merrill, Birkett, Irwin, Harty, Waldron, McLennan, Brock. Likely the team to play the match will consist of:—Goal, Hiscock; point, Curtis; cover point, Merrill; centres, Harty, Waldron; wings, McLennan, Brock.

If Queen's wins this match and Peterborough in turn win from them, it will make the local team the international champions, presumably.

The Kingston Whig says: Berlin hockeyists are "kicking" roundly at being sent to Ayr to play on the small rink there, when there is a large rink available at Berlin. Frontenacs are in a similar position as regards Peterborough.

Capt. Curtis continues to practice with Queen's hockey team, but has not given a definite answer as to whether or not he will be a member of the representative team. What would a championship hockey match be like without Curtis in it? A Hamlet without a chief character.

REFEREE YOUNG'S OPINION.

"Weldy" Young, who refereed the recent hockey match for the Stanley Cup between the Victorias of Montreal and the Victorias of Winnipeg, returned from the latter city this morning, says the Ottawa Journal. Mr. Young does not confirm the press despatches sent out from Winnipeg that the defeat of the Prairie City team was due more to over-confidence than anything else. Mr. Young says that the game was won clearly on its merits. The Winnipeggers met a faster and stronger hockey aggregation, took defeat like men and acknowledged a square beating at the end of the match. Mr. Young admires the spirit with which the western men took their defeat, and says that the treatment accorded to the visitors from the time of their arrival till they were sent off with a parting cheer on Sunday afternoon could not have been better. Hockey, as far as the Victorias are concerned, he thinks, has received somewhat of a set-back in Winnipeg. The Montreal Victorias, Mr. Young says, are a much stronger aggregation than than the team defeated by the western men last winter.

HEALTH'S PARADISE.

Regained after Twenty Years' Torture From That Disease, Catarrh—Hon. George Taylor, of Scranton, Pa., Tells The World What Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder Has Done For Him.

I was a martyr to catarrh for twenty years—tried every known remedy, but got little or no relief. Was troubled with constant dropping in the throat, terrible pains in my head, and my breath was very offensive. I was induced to give Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder a trial, and the result was magical. The first application cleared my head instantly. I persisted in its use and to-day I am a cured man, and it affords me pleasure to lend my testimony.—Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

A CHEERING TRUTH.

Thousands Prove the Statement.

That Paine's Celery Compound Makes People Feel Strong Again.

A Cured Man Says:

"I Feel Just as Bright as a Boy."

The Right Medicine for Every Ailing Man and Woman.

All the combined powers of earth cannot stem the tide of truth that sweeps over this Canada of ours, in regard to the curing and life-giving virtues of Paine's Celery Compound. Thousands of the best people back up the sensible, plain and unvarnished statements about Paine's Celery Compound published from time to time. The cured thousands send such convincing letters of testimony that the most hardened skeptics are forced to admit that they are founded on the rock of truth and honesty.

The following letter from Mr. A. R. McGruer, Dixon's Corner's, Ont., assures you, though your case may be desperate and death very nigh, and though doctors fail and other medicines prove unavailing for your relief, that Paine's Celery Compound will do more for you than you can justly realize or hope for. Mr. McGruer says:

"Some time ago my condition of health was alarming and I suffered very much. I was laid up three days out of every week; and I often said to my friends that it would be better, if it was the Lord's will, that I should be called away. Three of the best doctors attended me, and could not relieve me in any way. It was then I was advised to use Paine's Celery Compound, which brought relief at once. After using this great remedy I find myself a new man, and feel just as bright as a boy of eighteen years. I think it is the greatest medicine in the world, and would strongly recommend it to all who suffer.

TOWNSHIP ELECTIONS.

The results of the voting in Burleigh, etc., was as follows: Mr. C. R. D. Booth reeve. Councillors—Messrs. Tucker, Kilborn Hales and Boulton.

In Chandos the reeve and councillors were elected by acclamation.

Bad Blood Between Them.

The ever slaving farmer's wife, her delicate sister in the city, suffer more than they care to tell. The dark rings around the eyes, dizziness, headache, palpitation or rheumatic twidges, betoken a run down system. The blood is poor, and is a bar to the enjoyment of life. Scott's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, strengthens and vitalizes the system, and speedily restores the bloom of health to the cheeks. It cures when all others fail.

FINE FURS
Are Coming Well To the Front.

THEY ARE ALL AFTER US, AND WE'LL LEAD THEM A MERRY CHASE.

From the business men of 36 years experience, to the dry goods merchants that handle furs, all seem to realize that we set the pace in the FUR trade. Unlike some men who are so egotistical and hide-bound to custom, we are not afraid of injuring the reputation we have as MANUFACTURING FURRIERS by buying and selling a Bankrupt Stock, made by a Manufacturing Furrier of 38 years standing, (J. J. Lugsdin); which was sold at 50c. on the $; and we think there are not a few of the purchasing public who were benefitted by this piece of business enterprise, during last season.

WE MANUFACTURE ALL OUR OWN FUR GOODS.

When we buy a bankrupt stock we sell it as such, and at prices that clean it out the season it was bought. We do not unload on a believing public the residue or "fag-end" of a last season's bankrupt stock—hawked-all-over-the-country—under the guise of it being up-to-date Fashionable Furs. We could not if we would, as all has long since been sold. The trouble is, some people have business corns and the shoe pinched, and just to make the shoe pinch harder we have commenced a

WHAT A

JANUARY OFFERING

...IN...

DRESS GOODS

MEANS.

It means that all those pretty fabrics which you and others have admired are price clipped to nearly one half and less to take them away. Every yard was bought for regular trade and there are no flimsy, flashy fabrics at any price.

Come and get samples. Consult our Dress-Making Department. It's a chance for the cheapest, stylish Gown you ever had.

The Last Call on Cloaks.

This time the prices on all remaining Winter Garments will be cut so deep that there will be no chance for further reductions.

If the signs read aright the great majority of our present holdings in Mantle Coats and Capes will leave the store next week, for values like those quoted here never fail to bring the customers.

Quality!!!

If every one were to judge of what is good and what is not good in merchandise, a great many dry goods stores would be out of business. Don't always trust the price, it is very often misleading.

If you are a judge of merchandise, look at the goods first then the price. We are willing that you should try us in that way.

Robt. Fair,

Importer of Dry Goods & Carpets

Sign of the Golden Lion, 328 George Street, Peterborough.

We Never, NEVER like to Carry Over Stock

From One Season to Another.

Rather sell below Cost. It brings trade and gives us money in hand, and helps to keep stock fresh.

We have'nt any unsaleable goods stowed away in our cellar or garret.

If we make a mistake in buying a lot of goods and they don't move, we don't fret, worry or feel sore. We Move Them—price will do it. Bring the people in by low prices—they bring other money with them.

If trade is dull, we can force it. Push comes first, prosperity comes next. Our January Clearing Sale is always a flyer.

We never leave our store to take a social drink, or smoke a Cigar, during business hours.

Don't shop here if you don't want BARGAINS—especially this month.

CECIL RHODES HAS MADE A STIR

His Bombastic Utterances at the Cape Have Stirred Up Criticism—The Queen's Diamond Jubilee—Hidden Horrors of the Seine—A Scare at Dublin Castle—Other Items.

London, Jan. 9.—The sensation of the day in Paris is the new deputy for Pontarlier, Dr. Grenier, who is a convert to Islamism and is styled the Dervish of the Doubs. He is the son of a cavalry officer and a Roman Catholic born and bred. In his younger days he practised medicine at Pontarlier, and was noted for his kindness to the poor. Owing to the state of his health, he removed to Alegria, where he spent several years among the Arabs, adopting the Mussulman religion, entered a convent of muftis, and would have developed into a full-blown marabout if a slight lameness had not disqualified him for the priesthood. "Never mind," exclaimed a sympathising authority among the Arabs, "you will be better than a mufti—you will be a 'prophet of God.'" The speech was accepted in the light of a revelation, and Dr. Grenier speedily returned to his home at Pontarlier to fulfil his new vocation, much to the horror of his relatives. Since that date he has been the wonder of the town. The most devout of Mohammedans, he never quit his white burnous, and at the hours prescribed by the Koran, whatever he may be, he pops down on the floor or ground, bangs his forehead against the wood or stone, to the bewilderment of the spectators, laves his hands in the nearest gutter, and invokes the name of Allah in loud and fervent tones.

The death is announced at Bromley, Kent, of Sir John Brown, the founder of the celebrated Atlas Armor Plate Works at Sheffield. Sir John began steel-making in 1844, and at later periods introduced the making of iron suitable for conversion into steel. He was one of the first to put into operation the Bessemer process, and was the pioneer of the armor plate making for the defence of battleships. He was knighted in 1867, for his services in this direction. He filled many civic offices in Sheffield, and was in his eighty-first year.

A gentleman, who has lived 24 years in Paris writes, apropos of the drowning in the Seine of Mr. Hubert Crackenthorpe, the novelist and Yellow Book man—one of the Beardsley—Wilde school: "I think Englishmen frequenting this gay city ought to be warned of the danger of crossing any of the bridges which traverse the Seine along and on foot after midnight. There are no policemen stationed on them, and it is rare to find one at either end. Midnight prowlers go in pairs, and if they meet a straggler about the centre of the bridge they throw a handful of pepper in his eyes, and relieve him in a twinkling of whatever valuables he may have. If he resists they twist him over the parapet.

"I know a man to whom the first part of this happened a few years ago. Not being a strong man, he did not resist, and is alive to-day. I saw with my own eyes one morning the body of a young English gentleman being drawn from the Seine. He was a tall, fine man, and his gloves were well buttoned on his hands, which alone showed he must have been taken by surprise. No matter what the French police may say on the subject, if the beautiful Seine had only a voice its dirge would be deeper than that of our own broad and murky Thames."

The Cape Times protests against the following reference to Englishmen made by Mr. Rhodes in his speech at Port Elizabeth: "I am now going to meet and be examined by my fellow-countrymen. I know there unctuous rectitude, but I also know I have your sympathies with me in the trouble I am about to meet." In commenting upon the passage the journal says: "There is something in colonial ovations that makes Mr. Rhodes bully the British public. There are many ears on which the chord Mr. Rhodes has struck falls ungratefully. The British public has stood by Mr. Rhodes during a year of trouble, and most even of his countrymen who blamed him are prepared to give him a fair hearing whenever he chooses to speak."

Even his friends stood aghast this week at the tone of Mr. Cecil Rhodes' speeches in Cape Colony. In addition to his sneer at England's unctuous rectitude, he said: "Some great men rear orchids (Mr. Chamberlain's one hobby), others pursue Masonry (the Marquis of Ripon was a leading Freemason before he became a Roman Catholic). I added 2,000,000 square miles to the Empire." He made a mocking parody of the scriptural style of the Boer president, whose rule he is charged with conspiring to overthrow, and finally he swept contemptuously aside, as a mere caucus, "that Afrikander bond between the English and the Dutch, which affords the only hope for a united and peaceful South Africa." What other man in the empire would do the like and do it on the eve of his trial for his share in a transaction which almost plunged Europe and Africa into war.

There was a scare at the Viceregal Lodge in Dublin the other day. Shots were heard and hurried preparations were made to turn out the soldiery. Investigation proved that amidst a fog two sentries had challenged each other, and getting no countersign had simultaneously fired. Fortunately their muskets were not loaded with ball cartridge, so that no damage was done; but there will be a trial by court martial nevertheless.

The most important of a series of amendments to the address will directly challenge the Government on the Irish financial reform question. John Dillon and John Redmond will each offer an amendment, but under the development of what is called the "new Unionism," the Government will have to face much more formidable opponents than the leaders of the two sections of the Irish Parliamentary party. The Irish Unionists, led by Col. Saunderson, member for North Armagh, who is celebrated for his bitter opposition to Home Rule, purposes to attack the Government on the taxation question, and if the pending arrangements are carried out Col. Saunderson will move an amendment, which will be seconded by either Mr. Dillon or Timothy Healey, showing the strange political bed-fellows that have been made by the taxation agitation.

The British delegates to the International Postal Congress, to be held at Washington, are Spencer Walpole, Secretary to the Post-office; H. Buxton Forman, one of the assistant secretaries and controller of the packet services; C. A. King, receiver-general of the department.

The Duchess of York, daughter-in-law of the Prince of Wales, expects to be accouched in April.

Orders have been given for the complete overhauling of Buckingham Palace, Marlborough House and Clarence House, where the crowd of foreign royalties, who come to the Queen's sixty years' reign jubilee in June, are to be put up.

The Manchester Guardian says that a number of leading Americans in London have started a movement with a view of inducing the Government at Washington to send a special embassy to London to congratulate the Queen upon the occasion of the celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of Her Majesty's reign next June.

English uneasiness is intensified by the situation behind the famine in India in Lord Robert's book, "Forty-one Years in India," the author finds a revival of the signs of unrest, which sowed the seed of the mutiny. An over-centralized departmental spirit, with new forestry and sanitary laws, exasperates the native. The legislative, fiscal and judicial systems outrun the native wants, money lenders being allowed to ruin peasant proprietors, while the native press is left free to misrepresent English motives. Making due allowance for a soldier's alarms, the situation is grave enough.

Lord Penrhyn seems destined by his high-handed treatment of his Welsh quarrymen to do for English employers what Lord Clanricarde has done for his fellow-landlords in Ireland, who protest that the rent reductions of the land courts are driving them into bankruptcy. The Chronicle fund to help the quarrymen fight for the right to combine includes contributions from Privy councillors Sir George Trevelyan, Sir Thomas Acland and Sir Charles Dilke. The miners, engineers and other trades unions are making weekly grants, Canon Scott Holland, a high church dignitary, declares that property is only held on the condition that it does not arrive at such an issue. The Rev. Dr. Parker says that the very solemn question is raised whether one man should have the power of life and death over ten thousand human beings.

The Miners' Federation this week demanded better protection for the men in the mines. They say that a thousand persons are killed and 25,000 injured in British mines every year. They demand a Government inspector for every ten thousand workers.

The Government clearly are awaiting to feel the pulse of the party before committing themselves as to the Irish overtaxation grievance. The announcement of changes in the Irish constabulary, whereby mounted men will be dismounted and the force reduced by 2,000, saving $100,000, suggests that a solution may possibly be sought in the retrenchment of the wasteful Dublin Castle system.

Local Government costs $5 per head in Ireland, and less than three in England. Few suppose that the Government is prepared with a radical remedy as a counter scheme to Home Rule.

QUEBEC LEGISLATURE CLOSED.

Lieut.-Governor Chapleau Dismisses His Faithful Law Makers With Words of Thanks and Counsel.

Quebec, Jan. 9.—The Legislature was prorogued at 8.30 this evening. The following is the speech delivered by Lieut.-Governor Chapleau:

"Hon. Gentlemen of the Legislative Council, Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly,—I congratulate you on the manner in which you performed your legislative duties throughout this laborious session.

"Amongst the laws you have discussed and which I have sanctioned in the name of Her Majesty the Queen there are some whose importance deserves to be specially noticed; such as the act abolishing taxes on transfers of real estate, and those respecting the conversion of the debt of the province; re-organization of the public departments, homesteads, subsidies to railway companies, the code of civil procedure and education. I have followed your deliberations with interest through the votes and proceedings of both Houses and the reports of my advisers. In them I have found new evidence of this important fact, that the public men of our province have the necessary ability and constitutional knowledge to give the country the benefit of the valuable resources offered by our representative institutions.

"Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly,—I thank you in the name of Her Most Gracious Majesty for the sums you have voted for the public service. I will see that they are expended judiciously, according to law and to the best advantage of the province.

"Honorable Gentlemen of the Legislative Council, Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly,—In closing this last session of the eighth Parliament of the Quebec Legislature, I pray God to enlighten the people of this province in the exercise of constitutional prerogatives, and in everything on which the future well-being of our families and of the country depends. I thank you for the zeal and assiduity you have manifested during this session and trust that you and your families will enjoy prosperity and happiness."

A HAMILTON SUICIDE.

James Hodge Shot Himself in the City Hall.

HE ONCE BELONGED TO NEWMARKET

Had Considerable Money a Few Years Ago But Went Through It All Said to Have Been a Hard Drinker of Late—Appeared Quite Cheerful Before Firing the Shot.

Hamilton, Jan. 10.—(Special.)—One of the most sensational suicides that have occurred in this part of the country for some time took place in this city last night. About 8.30 James Hodge, 68 years of age, strong and heavily built, walked into the City Hall and, after looking around for a few minutes, seated himself at the foot of the stairway leading to the council chamber and, pulling a revolver from his pocket, sent a 38-calibre bullet through his brain.

The spot where the man ended his life is not more than 20 feet from the office of the chief of police and the detectives' headquarters, and Chief Smith and Detective Inspector McMahon, being in their offices, hastened out to learn the cause of the loud report. In a reclining position on the stairway dead was the sturdy form of Hodge, who a few minutes before bade Mrs. Hurton, the wife of the caretaker of the City Hall, good evening, apparently in good spirits. He held the revolver in his right hand, and in the right side of his head, just over the ear, was a wound showing where the bullet had entered. In his pocket was a note stating that he had been worth a great deal of money, but his relatives had been the means of robbing him of it.

About 15 years ago the suicide and one of his brothers had a successful stove and tinware business in Newmarket. Leaving Newmarket, James, the suicide, bought a farm in West Flamboro, which he worked until about eight years ago, when he sold it for $5000 and came to this city. Since his arrival here he has been drinking heavily and has done very little work. His sister Emma died about four months ago, leaving him $300, and he has spent all this. So far as is known he has only one brother and one sister living. His brother William is in South Africa, and the sister, Susan, in Newmarket.

Coroner White was informed of the circumstances of the case and decided that an inquest is unnecessary.

AWFUL PLACE TO LIVE IN.

Highwaymen in Chicago Decoyed a Lady Into a Cab on a Pretence and Robbed Her.

Chicago, Jan. 9.—Mrs. Bouchain of Clark-street was attacked by two highwaymen at Kinsey and West Water-streets late last night, assaulted and dragged from a cab in which she was riding and robbed. About 11 o'clock a cab called at her home and the driver gave her a note purporting to have come from a friend, asking her to take a cab to his home at once. Mrs. Bouchain departed in the cab. West Water-street is a dark thoroughfare, and as the driver turned into it two men ran out from a building and threw open the door of the vehicle. One of the men dashed red pepper into the woman's eyes to blind her. She was then beaten with a revolver until she was unconscious. Her assailants deprived her of her jewelry, valued at $1500, and secured her pocket-book, which contained $400. She was then dragged into the street and her assailants escaped in the vehicle. Her injuries are said not to be dangerous.

EXTENSIVE BLAZES.

Valuable Race Horses Burned at Norfolk, Va.—Two Big Fires in Buffalo—Firemen Hurt.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 10.—The extensive racing stables of the Norfolk Driving Club and Fair Association were burned this morning and 13 valuable racing horses, including John Marino's $10,000 Tiddleywinks, were cremated. Tony Brown, a hostler, in attempting to lead a horse from the burning building, was burned about the face and back, and his recovery is doubtful. The loss will be about $30,000, on which there is barely $2500 insurance. William Hurst, a colored watchman, was arrested, charged with having fired the building.

Blazes in Buffalo.

Buffalo, N.Y., Jan. 10.—Fire broke out in the Richmond Block about 7 o'clock last evening and damaged the building and contents to the extent of about $150,000. The building is a five-storey structure, located on the corner of Seneca and Ellicott-streets, and is occupied by the clothing firm of Altman & Co. The retail store is on the first floor and the other four floors were used as store rooms for the manufacturing department. Nearly $200,000 worth of stock was in the building at the time and all of this is more or less damaged. The insurance on stock is between $175,000 and $180,000. The building was fully insured, but it is not greatly damaged. Conflagration started in piles of clothing near the elevator shaft, but the origin of the fire is a mystery.

The large lumber yards of Haines & Co. were discovered on fire this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The yards are at the foot of River-street. The flames spread quickly and in response to a second alarm all the fire apparatus in the southern section of the city responded and were reinforced by the fire tugs Potter and Hutchinson. Fully 15,000 people gathered to see the conflagration. While the fire was prevented from spreading further, the utmost efforts of the department were powerless to entirely subdue the blaze, and up to a late hour the firemen were at work on the place. There is $149,000 worth of lumber in the yard and this is insured for $120,000. The present loss is estimated at about $10,000. Three firemen were overcome by smoke and had to be carried from the scene.

Big Packing House Burned.

Minneapolis, Jan. 10.—Fire this morning destroyed the packing house of the Anchor Flour Mill, owned by the Pillsbury-Washburn Milling Company. Loss $300,000; fully insured.

Nervous

People find just the help they so much need, in Hood's Sarsaparilla. It furnishes the desired strength by purifying, vitalizing and enriching the blood, and thus builds up the nerves, tones the stomach and regulates the whole system. Read this:

"I want to praise Hood's Sarsaparilla. My health run down, and I had the grip. After that, my heart and nervous system were badly affected, so that I could not do my own work. Our physician gave me some help, but did not cure. I decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Soon I could do all my own housework. I have taken Hood's Pills with Hood's Sarsaparilla, and they have done me much good. I will not be without them. I have taken 13 bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and through the blessing of God, it has cured me. I worked as hard as ever the past summer, and I am thankful to say I am well. Hood's Pills when taken with Hood's Sarsaparilla help very much." MRS. M. M. MESSENGER, Freehold, Penn.

Cured

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE most maligned mother-in-law has just got her lesson. Lady Scott in England exercised her privilege as mother-in-law of making her son-in-law miserable, but she overstepped the mark and became libellous, and now four good stone walls circumscribe her personal liberty, and she will have time to moralise over the hardness of the law that deprives her of privileges sacred to the mother of a man's wife. As for Lord Russell, he is a happy man this day—he is free. His wife won't live with him, and he doesn't want her to do so, and his mother-in-law is in jail.

REV. JOHN HUNT, who visits Methodists patients in the city hospitals, reports that during the past year 85 Methodists were treated in St. Michael's Hospital, to whom, he says, he had perfect freedom of access at all times. It is positively refreshing, says the Globe, amid the beating of creed and race tom-toms, to come across a paragraph of this kind. If we can only start a competition between denominations as to how many of their theological opposites they can do good to we may get rid of some of those mischievous prejudices that are now bedevelling the country.

A GOVERNMENT WITHOUT AN OPPOSITION.

Montreal Star.

What would Parliament be without an Opposition? It seems that it is not necessary to go to our imagination for the answer to this question, but only to Regina! They have so happy a Legislative family up there that the Qu'Appelle Vidette comes upon the platform with the tentative air of one arguing for the unheard of and the generally scouted, when it suggests that it might be better for the Government and incidentally for the rest of the community if they could get up a formal Opposition in the House. It begins by assuring the Ministry that there is, of course, practically nothing to oppose. "It is true that there is no burning question on which public opinion in the Territories generally is strongly divided," it says; "it is true that the legislation passed, under guidance of the Executive, has met with fairly general acceptance, and we do not say that it would be possible under present circumstances to replace the Executive by a better one. At the same time," it ventures to add, "we believe that such an unquestioned supremacy in the Assembly as is now enjoyed by the Haultain-Ross Executive is not in the best interests of the country."

In what a political paradise the Haultain-Ross Government must live! It seems that they have refrained from publishing the public accounts for some time, and have given, according to the timid Vidette, "paltry excuses" for their conduct. Yet we are told "they were accepted readily by nearly every member." Imagine the tornado of wrathful protest that would tear through this province if the Government would not print their public accounts! "It was almost amusing in some of the debates at the last session to note," says the Vidette, "the apologetic style in which the ordinary member addressed the House when he did venture to express an open dissent from the views of the Executive."

A Forty-Year Old Grievance Removed.

In Bath, Ont., Chase's Kidney Pills are a standard remedy. Joseph Gardner, of this town, suffered for 40 years with indigestion and its ever present accompaniments—constipation and headache. K. & L. Pills are the only remedy that gave him relief. 25c. a box, of all druggists.

MRS. A. B. SAXTON, of Port Burwell, Ont., says: "I had been troubled with sick headache for years and two boxes of Miller's Compound Iron Pills cured me." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

BEEF HERE AND THERE.

"The Flag," of Ottawa, has this week an interesting article on the British beef-eater and Canadian beef. Speaking of the comparative prices there and here, the writer says:

"In Canada prime beef is obtainable this season of the year at every market at 9½d. per pound, taking the hindquarter of 70 or 80 pounds, or at 1½d. per pound for a forequarter of 50 or 60 pounds. You hang it up in your summer kitchen, where it keeps cool, and cut as required. Some people have a butcher boy saw up the whole quarter at once when bought of the farmer. This is the sort of beef you see in London, Liverpool, Manchester, Birmingham, Leeds, Sheffield, Bristol, and other important centres of population, labelled:

"PRIME SCOTCH."

"This 'Prime Scotch', from the highlands and lowlands of Ontario and the prairies of the Northwest, is the kind, mind you, that John Bull pays 1s. for (24 cents) a pound. In Ottawa, it is the ordinary hind quarter of the country at 5 cents ($ 1-2 d.) the pound."

Continuing, the writer remarks that Great Britain is only six days distant, and there ought to be a nice margin for profit when good Canadian beef is sent there. This is but one of a series of striking articles in The Flag, mostly by Prof. Robertson, on the possibilities of Britain as a customer for Canadian farm products.

These articles all suggest, too, the greater cheapness of good food here, which far more than offsets the cheapness of clothing and most manufactures there—and this country gives far better wages as a rule.

PROTECTING CHEESE INTERESTS.

Absolute Honesty, Cleanliness and Care Necessary to Keep up the Standard.

Canadian cheese stands at the head of the markets of the world for quality; and to keep that position increasing care has to be observed. There is a danger of over production, and some recommend that less cheese of higher quality be produced, and the increased price will not only compensate for decreased output, but will perform the more important part of keeping up the standard and of coarse the leading position of Canadian cheese. The importance of improved methods and care of milk in all departments of cheese making from the cow to the curing room, is shown by the following extract from the report of the proceedings of the Eastern Dairymen's Association at Brockville:

The third day's proceedings of the eastern dairymen's convention were full of interest. The meeting was opened by the presentation of reports of the instructors and inspectors of cheese factories. Instructor Benaley said that of 5,331 samples of milk tested fifteen were found to be tampered with. Ten of the patrons settled with him and five were prosecuted. All were convicted and paid their fines except one, who preferred to go to jail. He urged greater cleanliness on the farm and in factories. However, there was some improvement in these respects. Instructor Purvis had taken 5,300 samples of milk and had detected adulteration in 23. About four of these settled with the managers. Two had settled with him and two were brought before a magistrate and fined $5 each. There was a tendency among makers this season to allow the milk to mature too much before setting. He found improved work being done by the students of the Dairy School. Instructor Hewey said he had been appointed late in the season but had 2,297 samples, 19 of which were found fault with. Fifteen of these offenders paid $205 for sending inferior milk and the other four cases were dealt with by the factorymen. Inspector Publow had handled 8,508 samples of milk and of these 38 were found to be tampered with. Fines amounting to $305 had been collected from 27 of these, and the remainder were let off with a warning. He instanced a case of a man who was fined in 1895 for adulteration of milk. The offender appealed, and the decision of the High Court of Justice sustained the conviction. He was glad to be able to state that makers as a class were doing very satisfactory work. With the dairy school there was no excuse whatever now for makers not being thoroughly proficient in their business. A most interesting and instructive discussion on cheesemaking then followed, many questions being put to Mr. Publow. He was in favor of a law that would make the milk be paid for according to quality. Makers were too often afraid to object to milk deficient in fat.

"Old, yet ever new, and simple and beautiful ever," sings the poet, in words which might well apply to Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the most efficient and scientific blood-purifier ever offered to suffering humanity. Nothing but superior merit keeps it so long to the front.

THE GRAIN MARKETS.

There has been some demand for grain for export in this market the past week. A feature of the business was the export of some good-sized lots of barley both to the United States and Great Britain. The prices paid for the grain were low however, and although there is a good deal of barley still in the hands of the farmers the prices were so low that it is not likely the sales will result in very much increase in the deliveries in the country. In wheat the deliveries are small. There has not been any more taken for export in Toronto market owing to the fact that prices are above an export basis. Oats are also firmer but the demand for them is slow. In Chicago the market for wheat has been dull and disappointing to holders. A week or two ago there was enough ball talk, one would have thought, to put prices to a dollar, but during the past few days May wheat has fallen three or four cents, and it closed Friday at a decline of 1½c for the day. It is, however, over 20c above the prices that ruled a year ago.

THE CHEESE SITUATION.

The cheese markets are improving, and the prospects are that the wind-up of the season may be very satisfactory. Quite an active demand for export has set in in Montreal, and sales are reported at 10⅝c. to 10¾c. west. The London correspondent of the Montreal Trade Bulletin, writing under a recent date, said: "There has been no boom. We do not look for one. There is no fall, we do not expect it. But unless something extraordinary occurs prices cannot go lower, having regard to the statistical position, and unless the Antipodes do something vastly different to what they are doing now, or promise to, quotations must not only not move backward but must inevitably go forward.

Thirteenth Second and Queen's Own Third.

THE RESULT OF THE INSPECTIONS

Major Mason of Hamilton to be the Commandant of This Year's Bisley Team —Revenue for the First Half of the Fiscal Year—Mayor Bingham to Wear Official Robes.

Ottawa, Jan. 10.—(Special.)—The 43rd Battalion, Ottawa, takes the cake as the crack city corps of the Dominion. The returns of comparative efficiency have been compiled upon the basis of the last general inspections, with the result that the 43rd scores 153.01 points. Next come Hamilton's favorites, the 13th, with an average of 144.84, and then the Queen City's pets, the Q. O. R., a close third, with 143.45 points. The 43rd will consequently hold the Gilmour Cup for a second year.

It seems to be definitely settled that Major "Johnnie" Mason of the 13th Battalion, Hamilton, will be commandant of this year's Bisley team. The selection of Major Mason will be popular all over the country. He is a first-class shot himself, and with lots of "savoy" to enable him to discharge the duties of commandant with dignity and ability. As regards the adjutancy, the pendulum swings between Major Dunbar of the 8th Royal Rifles, Quebec, and Lieut. Henry Panet of the R. C. A., Quebec. The latter is a son of Col. Panet, Deputy Minister of Militia. In some quarters an effort is being made to work up a prejudice against him because he is an officer of the permanent force, and artillery at that. This, however, should not prejudice his chances for the adjutancy. Lieut. Panet has been a competitor at Ottawa matches for some years, is a capital shot, and would make a competent coach. Besides, he is a French-Canadian, and if Ontario can accept a French-Canadian Premier, surely this branch of our people might once in a while give the country a Bisley adjutant, especially when the candidate possesses all the qualifications for the position.

The Premier and Madame Laurier have decided to remain this winter in the house which they are now occupying, and which they have rented from Major and Mrs. Chapleau.

Mr. Stapleton Caldecott, chairman of the Council of the Toronto Board of Trade, and Mr. Wills, secretary, were in the city yesterday and had an interview with Mr. Blair in regard to the difficulty over the transfer of freight and express goods at Scotia Junction, on the Parry Sound Railway, with the Grand Trunk. They ask the Government to interfere, so as to have the difficulty remedied.

Magistrate O'Gara yesterday dismissed the case against Mrs. Pettie of the Dominion Hotel, who was charged with selling liquor to a policeman when on duty. In giving judgment the magistrate said the law applicable to the case was fully discussed in Shanon v. Rutyen, 1 Q. B. D., 1895, page 918. In the present case the prosecution had not proved that the barkeeper in supplying liquor to the constable, knew that he was on duty.

The revenue for the six months ending Dec. 31, 1896, in consolidated fund, was $17,452,000, compared with $17,621,000 for the same period in 1895, or a decrease of $169,000. This decrease was chiefly in customs duties. The December returns, however, show that the customs receipts are as large as the previous December, and the aggregate revenue for the month is in excess of 1895 by $50,000. The net debt on Dec. 31 was $356,667,476.

There are to be no spots on Mayor Bingham's civic regime. He will appear in full regalia at the inaugural meeting of the City Council to-morrow, wearing the Mayor's gown and chain. Yesterday he gave instructions to have the dust of years removed from the silk gown, that it might be in proper condition for him to wear. Not since Charlie Mackintosh of the Northwest Territories sat in the Mayor's chair in 1879, 18 years ago, has any Mayor wore the gown while in the chair.

Owing to the bad caligraphy of some of the Ottawa aldermen, City Clerk Henderson is to read all motions, the Mayor simply putting the question to the council.

The Executive of the Ontario Provincial High Court, Catholic Order of Foresters, was in session yesterday. Those present were: Provincial Chief Ranger W. T. J. Lee, Toronto; Provincial Vice-Chief Ranger C. S. O. Boudreault, Ottawa; Provincial Secretary Arthur Morel, Ottawa; Provincial Treasurer George W. Seguin, Ottawa; Provincial Trustees John A. Chisholm, Cornwall, and V. McCullough, Ottawa. Matters affecting the internal management of the society are under consideration.

Major G. C. Kitson of the King's Royal Rifle corps has, on appointment as commandant of the Royal Military College, Kingston, been promoted to a half-pay Lieutenant-Colonelcy in the Imperial army.

Among the recipients of the distinguished service order for the recent operations in the Soudan is Lieutenant Edouard P. C. Girouard, Royal Engineers, a graduate from the Royal Military College, and son of Mr. Justice Girouard of this city.

Hon. C. A. Geoffrion is in the city.

Mr. Laurier returned from Quebec last evening.

The Ontario and Pacific Railway, which will run from Cornwall to Ottawa, will apply next session for an extension of time to complete the road.

Lawyer Charged With Stealing.

Fort Scott, Kas., Jan. 10.—Judge John M. McDonald, a prominent attorney of this city, and a leading Kansas Populist, being an ex-member of the Board of Pardons under Governor Llewellyn, is charged by his partners, Judges McCleverty and Hill, with embezzling $7000 or $8000 belonging to the firm.

RHEUMATISM CURED.

Eighteen Months Trying to get Cured —Had the Best Doctors—He Found What he Wanted in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Goderich, Jan. 11 (Special)—A case of great interest here just now is that of Mr. Alexander J. Sharkey, who for some time has been an extreme sufferer from Rheumatism. His statement to the correspondent is as follows:—

"For eighteen months I was a victim of Rheumatism and during the whole of that time was trying every means to cure it. I had the best doctors in Canada and took their prescriptions with faith and patience.

"I got tired at last, for I found the disappointment nearly as killing as the disease.

"But one friend wiser than others convinced me that my disease must be cured by way of the kidneys and recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I have used two boxes of these pills to effect a perfect cure, and I don't care who knows it."

Fire at Barnum's Show Yards.

Bridgeport, Conn., Jan. 10.—The storage barn and adjoining sheds at the winter quarters of Barnum & Bailey's show have been burned. Close by is the main building, where the animals are housed. The flames spread to this structure, and there was a scene of great excitement as the keepers transferred elephants, lions, tigre, bears, reindeer, camels and horses to places of safety. The cries of the terrified animals made a terrible din. After the fire the keepers got all the animals back into their accustomed quarters, and found not one missing.

Seven Men Went Down.

Ameca, Mex., Jan. 9.—Parties who have arrived here from Ponitza, on the Pacific coast, report that a boat containing five half-famished men landed there on Thursday. The men claimed to be the only survivors of the crew of 12 men of the schooner Tobasco, lumber laden, bound from Mazatlan to Acapulco, which foundered at sea near Banderas Bay. The other seven men of the crew went down with the schooner.

Two Years of Bladder Torment—Had Attacks of Inflammation—Cured by a Few Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Owen Sound, Dec. 28.—(Special)—The people of this town are talking again of another cure credited to Dodd's Kidney Pills. This is the case of Mr. W. Cruse, caretaker of the town buildings, who, when seen, had this to say of the matter:

"For over two years I have been an intense sufferer from kidney disease, with occasional acute attacks of inflammation of the bladder.

"Was under doctors' treatment and have been compelled to resort to instrumental relief many times.

"I have taken eighteen boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am satisfied with results, being perfectly relieved of all suffering."

Bought a Gold Mine.

A local syndicate has been formed with a paid up capital of $30,000 and is acquiring the possession of several gold mines in British Columbia.

Grand Flower Social.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the C.L.A. will hold their annual Flower Social on Wednesday evening, January 13th, in the Catholic Association rooms. Butcher's orchestra in attendance. Also cards and games. Tickets including supper, 50 cents. 9d

Lindsay vs. Peterborough.

Unless the Thistles are doing some grand work over in Lindsay, the curlers of that town have a cinch in the first match in the Lindsay-Peterborough competition, as the Granites were beaten by a big score on the local rink to-day.

Again to the Front.

We have now got over the holiday rush and are prepared to give our undivided attention to your special requirements in all the best lines of groceries and provisions, wishing you all a prosperous New Year. E. BROWN & Co., 294 George street.

Special Notice.

All members of Court Little John, No. 92, C.O.F., are requested to be present at our next meeting, Monday, Jan. 11th inst., and bring their wives or lady friends with them. Business—installation of officers and a social evening to be spent. By order of Committee. 4d5

No Business There.

The attention of the police department is called to the number of men and boys who stand about the butter market on busy days. These individuals have apparently no business to transact. They take up a great deal of the too little space left for those who are anxious to make purchases, and should be told to "move on" by the police.

Business College.

The attendance at the Peterborough Business College is rapidly increasing. More students are now enrolled than at any time last year. The following entered last week: Mr. Harry Burnham, Keene; Mr. Wilbert Miller, Otonabee; Miss Beatrice Elliott, Miss Maggie Elliott and Mr. John F. Elliott, Norwood; Mr. Noble Kelly, Bridgenorth; Mr. Frank Hill, Hastings; Miss Carrie Knox, Miss Annie Cromie, Miss Sophia Lamb, Mr. Wm. Richardson, Mr. Jack Forlong and Mr. Walter Milburn, Peterborough.

Fancy Skating Championship.

A gentleman whose record in encouraging the youth of the town is well known, adds another clasp by offering a silver medal, emblematic of the fancy skating championship of Peterborough, town and county. The competition is to take place towards the end of February prox., and is open to all residents of town and county. The donor of the medal stipulates that in the competition gracefulness of execution shall count 30 per cent.

Jem Mace's Milkman.

The world is very small after all. One can hardly drop down anywhere on the globe without meeting somebody one knew in another place. For instance, Mr. John Taylor, of Drummond's, Otonabee, supplied the veteran, Jem Mace, with milk when the champion, in the height of his pugilistic glory, kept a "pub" at Strowbridge, England. The two should be brought together at the Opera House when Jem comes here to-morrow night, and they might brew a popular drink.—Taylor could supply the milk and Mace the "punch" and the boys could have as a result, a rattling milk punch.

FIRST MEETING OF THE NEW TOWN COUNCIL.

Mr. A. N. Clarke and Sheriff Hall Appointed Auditors—The Assessors to be Selected To-night.

The first meeting of the Council for 1897 was held this morning at 11 o'clock according to statute. Those present were the Mayor and Councillors Henry Best, Noah T. LePlante, Chas. Robertson, T. H. G. Deane, Robt. Neil, A. L. Davis, Adam Dawson, J. H. Cobb, J. B. McWilliams, W. H. Meldrum, J. Graham and John White.

It was decided to lay over all communications, etc., until the evening meeting.

Councillor Best introduced the bylaw for the appointment of auditors.

The Mayor nominated Mr. Andrew N. Clark as one auditor, and on motion of Councillors Dawson and Deane, Sheriff Hall's name was inserted in the bylaw as the other.

The salary was fixed at the usual amount, viz., $75 each, on motion of Councillors Dawson and Meldrum.

Councillor McWilliams and White moved "that H. Best, H. Deane, W. H. Meldrum, A. L. Davis and the mover and seconder be a committee to strike the standing committees."—Carried.

Councillors Best and Davis moved the adjournment of the council until eight o'clock.

Councillor Best stated that he proposed bringing up a question for discussion, this evening, which would enable the tax collector to return his roll earlier in the year. He intended to move for the immediate appointment of assessors, so that they could begin their duties at once. He also was anxious to see the inauguration of a scheme whereby a portion of the taxes could be collected about the month of July. He was open to conviction as to whether a sliding scale or a half-yearly system was he best to adopt.

Before leaving the council chamber the Mayor welcomed the new councillors, and also the old ones, and asked them in the coming year to use as much forbearance as possible, and in order to promote harmony to all, he proposed to give and take a little, even if one did not see exactly eye to eye with another. In concluding he invited the members to dine with him this evening after the adjournment of the council.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY MUSEUM.

Contributions of Antique or Old Fashioned Furnishings Requested—A Practical Outlet for Patriotic Sentiment.

As is well known now, Mr. Hall, trustee of the Nicholls Estate, has placed the drawing room and library of the Judge Dennistoun residence, Inverlea, at the service of the society for the purpose of a museum. The question of suitably furnishing the rooms was brought up at the meeting on Saturday night and it was decided to have the furnishings take on as historical a character as possible, to conform to the associations of their surroundings.

To the end the society, through the EXAMINER, asks the public for suitable contributions. The articles asked are those that may have been discarded and replaced by more modern furnishings—such as old settes, couches, chairs, old fashioned cabinets, fire dogs, spinning wheels et hoc genus omne. The articles required are supposed to have no commercial value, but to derive their merit from their antiquity, associations etc. Persons having such articles who may not be willing to donate them to the society, may loan them for the purpose of carrying out the scheme of furnishing, with the assurance that they will be well cared for, and returned if required. Those having suitable articles of the kind mentioned are requested to leave their names and the nature of their proposed contributions with Mr. T. A. S. Hay, C.E., Secretary, (at the Trent Valley Canal office, Post Office building) or with the EXAMINER.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Rink Talk and Items of Local and General Interest to Sportsmen.

CURLIANA.

In the Kendry Cup series it looks very much as though the Granites would win the trophy. They are now fourteen points ahead, although it was expected that Skips Rutherford and Hopkins would pull the Granite lead down to almost zero on Saturday night. The Granites were 21 points up, and the result of Saturday's game was as follows:

Thistles.		Granites.
R A W Hay,		J D Collins,
C LeBrun,		F McNee,
E Rutherford,		Geo Morrow,
G J Hopkins, skip...12		Geo Edmison, skip....9
H Snowdon,		— Fennimore,
A Blade,		W Manson,
C Rutherford,		Geo Matthews,
T Rutherford, skip..16		Dr Boucher, skip....12
	28	21

Majority for Thistles, 7 shots.

As will be seen the result pulled the Granites' lead from 21 down to 14. Two rinks have still to play off this week, viz:

Thistles.		Granites.
S Clegg	vs	R S Davidson
J B Pentland	vs	J Connal

The Thistles are pinning their faith to Skips Clegg and Pentland to wipe out this lead, but fourteen looks very large when two such skips as R. S. Davidson and Jimmy Connal are guarding it.

In the event of the Granites winning the trophy, which now seems almost a certainty, they will play off for its possession amongst themselves, thereby deciding which rink will hold it for the year. The games already played have resulted as follows:

Thistles.		Granites.
John McClelland..21	vs	G W Hatton.....10
J McKee..... 7	vs	R M Dennistoun...25
W G Ferguson....14	vs	E B Edwards.....13
S Ray.....15	vs	T P Attrill.....14
D Belleghem.....13	vs	Judge Weller.....17

R B McKee.....16	vs	W D Parker.....8
T Rutherford.....16	vs	Dr Boucher.....13
G J Hopkins.....12	vs	Geo Edmison.....8
137		151

Majority for Granites, 14 shots.

Innes Medal matches begin this evening and will be played off as follows:—

Thistles.		Granites.
MONDAY.
Sam Ray	vs	H M Allen
John McKee	vs	Dr Boucher
TUESDAY.
R H Kells	vs	J Connal
T Rutherford	vs	R S Davidson
WEDNESDAY.

J Pentland	vs	E S Edwards
FRIDAY.
John McClelland	vs	W D Parker
D Belleghem	vs	D W Dumble
SATURDAY.
Geo Hopkins	vs	G W Hatton
S Clegg	vs	Judge Weller

On Saturday night the Granites held a meeting in the rink parlours and elected skips for the following matches:—

Ontario Tankard—Skips Attrill and Weller.

Lindsay Bonspiel—Skips Davidson and Allen.

Lindsay-Peterborough Competition—Skips Connal, Edwards and Hatton.

The following scratch matches were played on Saturday evening:

H J Grassett,	Milne,
Geo Giroux,	E Weddel,
H Morrow,	E H D Hall,
G W Dumble,	G M Roger,

HOCKEY.

The Lindsay Post has the following to say of the hockey match which was played over there on Friday:—"Last evening about two hundred spectators witnessed the hockey match in the Victoria skating rink between the teams of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute and the Lindsay Collegiate Institute. The game started a few minutes after 8 o'clock, and continued for two hours. In the first part of the game the Peterborough team, through excellent combination play, won 7 goals, while the Lindsay team secured 3 only. Thorn, who played point for the Peterborough team, made such quick time with the puck towards Lindsay's goal that he went headlong into the board railing, breaking a board completely in two. In the second half of the game Vin. Keenan, who is an old-time player, acted as a substitute in the place of Green, who received a slight injury which necessitated his retiring for the evening. Keenan played cover point and put up a good game. The Lindsay Collegiate Institute team scored the finals, securing two goals in succession owing to better combination work. Near the finish of the game a Peterborough man collided with a Lindsay player, the former receiving a bad wrench in the wrist. The game resulted in Peterborough's favour by a score of 11 to 8.

LACROSSE.

A meeting of the lacrosse club is called for to-morrow evening at the Oriental. A full attendance of members is requested.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Horse races on the ice will be held at Trenton and Belleville this winter. Horsemen are wondering if there will be a meet on the ice here.

H. S. Folger, of Kingston, has in his possession a pair of moccasins with a history. They are not the common moccasin of Indian origin, made of barnyard deer, but are of seal skin, tanned in some peculiar manner. They resemble "top" boots, but the welts are made much in the shape of the ordinary moccasin. The hair, of course, has been removed and the leather treated to some process known only to natives of Norway, where these interesting curiosities were made. When "dry" the skin is stiff and is perfectly waterproof. To don them it is necessary they should be immersed in warm water, upon which they become quite pliable. In process of "drying" they harden again and conform to the shape of the foot and almost become part of the wearer. These moccasins or snow boots have quite a history. They were made for and worn by a Norwegian named Hans Olsen, who was a member of the crew that manned the barque in which Nansen, the intrepid navigator, made his recent trip to the Arctic regions. A resident of New York who was travelling in Norway about the time Nansen returned from his voyage, among other things purchased this particular pair of "Artics." Knowing Mr. Folger's love for ice-yachting, and wishing to add to his comfort while enjoying the delightful sensation of skimming over the frozen bosom of the noble St. Lawrence, this New York friend sent the moccasins to Mr. Folger, who will use them this winter while enjoying his favourite winter pastime.

Is Your Piano in Tune?

The change of season affects pianos as well as anything else. Mr. Geo. Gumpricht, practical piano maker and tuner, with 28 years experience, attends to all orders left at Mr. H. S. Macdonald's drug store.

Adulterated Milk.

At the meeting of the Eastern Dairymen's Association at Brockville, Inspector Bensley reported 15 adulterated samples out of 13,908 tested; A. P. Purvis reported 28 out of 5,300; and Hugh Howey reported (Belleville and Tweed district) 19 out of 2,297. These facts carry their own comment on their face and are not at all creditable.

High Hats Prohibited.

The Chicago city council has passed unanimously Ald. Plotk's resolution prohibiting high hats at theatrical performances, and making the offence punishable by a fine of $10. Has any newly elected member of the local city council sufficient stamina to follow the move of our cousins in the "windy city?" Say that the fine for the first offence be $1, and $2 for each additional offence. The man in Peterborough who would do this would be conferring a boon on a long-suffering public.

The Annuals Nearly All Gone.

Bear in mind that we have a very limited supply of Sunday at Home and Leisure Hour—latest editions. Furniture by Private Sale.

The handsome furniture and contents of Mr. P. Henry's residence, No. 318 Charlotte street, opposite Charlotte street Methodist church, is open for purchase by private sale—either in part or en bloc. Parties can view the furniture on and after Monday, January 11th, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 9 p.m., for one week. The furniture is all new and modern in design, having received comparatively little wear, and is well worthy the attention of housekeepers wishing to make additions to their furniture, or those about to start housekeeping. 6d5

Got an Eagle,

The Bobcaygeon Independent says: President Cleveland is hereby notified that the emblem of his blooming country is at this moment hanging by the feet among the tin pails and coal oil cans at Mr. A. E. Bottom's hardware store. And no wonder. Worried with being eternally knocked around on silver dollars worth fifty cents, and sore at heart with the jawsmiths of his nation, it came over to the quiet seclusion of our woods and took a dose of strychnine. Mr. Wm. Oliver, of Harvey, went to Round lake about two weeks ago and put out some poisoned bait for wolves. When he went again to look for wolves he found a poisoned bait had been taken by the noble bird. He is brown, flecked with white, the lower part of the back and tail being more white than brown. He stands three feet from foot to beak and his wings spread 7 feet 10 inches. Mr. Bottom will have him skillfully mounted by a Peterborough taxidermist, and when our American cousins come over next summer they will find still greater difficulty in discovering the difference between the north and south sides of Lake Ontario.

CURLING WISDOM.

A Few Words to Curlers and Skips.

BY J. D. FLAVELLE, OF LINDSAY.

(From the Royal Caledonian Curling Club Annual, Edinburgh, Scotland, '96-'97.)

The committee on the Annual have great pleasure in enriching its pages with the following valuable paper by Mr. J. D. Flavelle, of Lindsay, Ontario, who, in a modest preface, says: "A few hints to beginners may not be considered amiss from one who has been curling for over twenty years, accepting, during that time, a great many defeats, and also being fortunate enough to participate in some important victories":

A WORD TO THE PLAYERS.

Obey your skip implicitly, even though it may seem to you he is directing wrong. No success can be obtained unless, for the time being, strict loyalty is maintained to your skip. If you think he is not skipping you properly, speak to him quietly between the ends, suggesting where you think he is in error; if you fail to convince him, waive your judgment, and carry out his instructions to the best of your ability.

United action on the part of the rink is the only possible way of ensuring success; individual brilliancy will never succeed if coupled with insubordination. If your skip proves a failure, depose him when the proper time comes, but, while he occupies that position give him your unqualified and cheerful support.

When not playing yourself, keep in your proper position along the rink, ready to sweep when called upon, and above all things, do not loaf around the tee. It is contrary to the rules of the game, annoying to your skip, demoralizing to discipline may be the means of losing the match through not being in your place sweeping an important stone when called upon.

Never call out to your skip, challenging the shot he is giving you, or argue with him so that the same is audible to onlookers. If he is not self-confident it tends to rattle him, and in any case must necessarily ruffle him, and no curler can be skip, or occupying any other of the positions, and do himself justice in playing if he loses his temper.

A FEW WORDS TO THE SKIP.

Never abuse your player for making a bad shot. The worst punishment is his own feeling of annoyance with himself; when a man makes a mistake in any sport it never improves matters to rub it into him, and this is especially the case in curling.

Encourage your players as far as you can consistently do so, particularly those who are not inclined to be bumptious.

When commencing a match, watch very carefully the run of the ice, both when your own and your opponents' men are playing. It is of great importance to learn the ice thoroughly in the beginning of the game. Try and ascertain from the play any weakness that may develop in any one of the opposing rink, and if you find such weakness try and force him to play from that standpoint. For instance, if you see that one of the players cannot play the out turn well, try and arrange your head so that when it comes to that player's turn to play he will be compelled to play the out turn, and the same reasoning will apply to any other weak spot that may appear as the game progresses.

Again, if you find, after playing a draw game (which is generally the safest) your opponents are outdrawing you, change your tactics and play some running shots, which, if successful, very often upsets your opponents' hitherto strong play.

A very important matter is to know the run of all your own players' stones, also what kind of shot he plays best, and, when, there are several shots of about equal advantage, always try and give him that one you think he prefers. A player will naturally play with greater certainty if he feels assured the shot given him is the right one.

In fact, the motto to follow is, "Use your head as well as your hands," particularly the former. I have often seen a very brilliant curler, who displayed poor judgment as a skip, defeated by a very ordinary player, who was a good skip. It simply resolves itself into a minuature battle on ice—as in real war, a great deal depends on the generalship.

Finally, let neither skip nor players ever forget that the game of curling is strictly an amateur sport, and is only one of the many factors in developing manhood; therefore keep in mind that it is a game for gentlemen, to be carried out in the most courteous and gentlemanly spirit, whether as victors or vanquished, and when a curler finds that, in playing the game, it does not conduce to fostering that spirit, my advice would be—better stop curling.

When playing, strive with all your might to win. A man is worth very little who has no ambition to excel; but, if defeated, accept the same gracefully, and if you win, let it be as far as possible a victory on the ice—the result of skill displayed. Very little countenance should be shown to the player who adopts the course to win all hazards, whether by fair means or doubtful expedients. Indeed, in my experience, I have generally found that the pot-hunter is left, and the large measure of success is accomplished by the generous player.

While certain rules are very properly made for our guidance, and to prevent disputes, still, in my opinion, the true sportsmanlike spirit is to exercise the broadest possible latitude in interpreting the same, and, when, through an honest oversight or unavoidable accident, your opponent is placed at a disadvantage, enabling you, in strictly legal sense, to profit by the same—waive such right, and do your utmost to defeat him on the ice; but, if otherwise, never regret defeat that is accompanied by maintaining self-respect.

A victory obtained at the cost of your own self-respect and the esteem of your opponents would, to me, prove a very hollow victory.

THE HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

A Successful Meeting Held on Saturday Night—Constitution and Bylaws Adopted—Organization Completed—New Members Elected—Minor Matters Dealt With.

At the meeting of the Peterborough Historical Society, held in the County Council Chamber on Saturday evening, there was a large attendance of members.

The president, Col. H. C. Rogers, occupied the chair. After routine the report of the sub committee, respecting a constitution and bylaws, was presented. The constitution and bylaws submitted were adopted.

The chairman presented a report of the visit to the Iuveriea House, at West Nicholls Park, two rooms of which have been kindly disposed at the disposal of the historical society for the purposes of a museum, by Mr. Richard Hall, trustee of the Nicholls estate. Mr. Hall intended these rooms for such a purpose from the beginning. They are excellently adapted to the use to which they will be put and have now only to be furnished in order to have a beginning made. There are already many articles ready to be placed in the museum, including the large mineral collections of Messrs. J. M. Irwin and J. B. McWilliams, as well as most interesting documents presented by Mr. R. E. Birdsall, relating to the early settlement of Peterborough, including the original letter of Mr. Ridout to the late Richard Birdsall P. L. S., instructing him to make a survey of the present site of the town of Peterborough, and also part of Mr. Birdsall's original field notes, also the original lease for the "mill seat," granted to Mr. Fothergill in 1819.

A letter was read from Miss Mary Agnes Fitzgibbon, who has given invaluable services to the society in connection with its organization. She offered to deliver a lecture in the interests of the local society. The matter of the lecture was talked over, but no date was decided upon.

THE HONOURARY PRESIDENT.

In answer to an invitation to attend the meeting a letter was read from Mrs. Traill, stating that the date of the meeting falling upon the 96th anniversary of her birthday, which was consecrated to her children., she would be unable to be present. She closed her letter with greetings and congratulations to the society and earnest wishes for its success.

The mails bringing this letter crossed en route, those carrying a resolution of congratulation to Mrs. Traill, adopted at a day meeting of the Executive. The resolution which was endorsed by the meeting, was as follows:

That the Town and County of Peterborough Historical Society send the society's congratulations to the Honourary President, Mrs. Traill, upon the occasion of her 96th birthday, and that in so doing, the gratitude of the Society be especially expressed to Mrs. Traill for her ceaseless endeavours towards the welfare of Canada; and that the Society further express its sense of the honour conferred upon it in the acceptance of the office of Honourary President by Mrs. Traill.

Miss Mary Agnes Fitzgibbon, Toronto, and Mrs. Chamberlain, of Lakefield, were made honourary members.

Fourteen new members were added to the roll of the Society, which now bears exactly fifty names.

The constitution having been adopted, the question of a motto for the society was referred to and a suggestion made that each member should submit a suggestion of a motto to be considered at the next meeting. It is desired that each member have his or her motto written on a slip of paper and sent to the secretary or handed to him at the next meeting, which will be held on Thursday, Feb. 4th. It is evident that an interesting quart d'heure may be passed in discussing the mottoes submitted.

The regular meetings of the society were fixed for the first Thursday of each month.

After some minor matters were talked over the meeting adjourned. The success of the society seems to be assured, especially in view of the very warm interest which the lady members take in its welfare.

The matter of furnishing the rooms of the museum is referred to in another place in this issue.

CHURCH CHIMES.

St. Andrew's choir contributed the anthem "Lift up your Heads," at the morning service.

Miss Vair took the solo work in admirable voice in the anthem "Softly now the light of the Day, which was sung in St. Paul's church last evening.

In the evening at the George street Methodist Church, during the offertory, Mrs. Seward and Mr. J. Miller sang a duet entitled, "Sing to the Lord," with fine effect.

In St. Andrew's church last evening Miss Potter sang in fine voice the solo, "Now the day is over," the choir singing in perfect harmony in the unaccompanied chorus.

Rev. Mr. Young wishes to correct an announcement made last evening re the cantata on Tuesday night. It is given under the auspices of the Sunday school and not the Women's Missionary Society.

Yesterday morning the scholars of the George street Methodist Sunday school attended church in a body. The Rev. J. P. Wilson of Oshawa, preached an eloquent sermon, which was much appreciated by all. Instead of the choir singing the anthem as usual after prayer, the scholars of the Sunday school sang a hymn, "Children, sing to Jesus."

The Rev. W. Beer was not in his pulpit yesterday. His youngest son has a mild attack of diphtheria and it has been thought advisable to use every precaution. In the morning his place was taken by the Rev. E. Cragg, who gave an admirable sermon. In the evening Mr. Sutherland conducted divine service. On the 17th the Rev. Wm. Allen, of Bethany, will preach the annual missionary sermons.

ASHBURNHAM BRIEFS.

Meeting of the Mark Street Church Women's Missionary Society.

Mrs. James Kandry, of Peterborough, was present, and presided at the last regular meeting of the Mark street Auxiliary of the W.M.S.

She gave a number of very valuable hints and suggestions on the work. Those who were absent missed a treat.

The outcome for the Auxiliary is improving; new members are joining. The next regular meeting, at which all ladies will be welcome, will be held in the Mark street church on Wednesday, February 3rd, at 3 o'clock.

GEORGE STREET SUNDAY SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY.

The Sermons Delivered by Rev. J. P. Wilson, of Oshawa.

Sunday school anniversary was observed yesterday in the George street Methodist church, and Rev. J. P. Wilson, of Oshawa, delivered both the morning and evening sermons to large congregations.

In the evening he took for his text the words "And this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our sins."

"Faith" was the theme of the sermon and a very forceful address was delivered on the subject. The speaker claimed that almost everyone believed in a Supreme Being. The creation of the world had to be attributed to something. Either it had been created or had existed for all time. The latter supposition was one absurdity and the thinking public of to-day could hardly entertain such a thing. The world therefore must have been created and this creation was enveloped in mystery to the sceptic.

Belief and faith were two very different things.

A man might believe that the planets were all or partially inhabited, but this would not change his mode of living. He might believe that the Scriptures were inspired and yet continue to live a life of sin. Faith is belief and love combined and controls a man's life.

A number of apt illustrations were then given of the power of faith, an instance of which was seen when a portion of the English army was being driven back in a great battle—the gunners had deserted their guns and a panic was about to take place. Suddenly the Duke of Wellington appeared on the scene, calm and collected. Confidence was instantly restored. His presence was more effective than a brigade of soldiers. The guns were retaken as the men had faith in his presence. How much more faith then should the Christian have? Has He not said, "Lo! I am with you always?" He is a power to every Christian, as he knows he fights the battle in the presence of the Master.

Better To-day Than Yesterday.

Edward Atkinson, the Economist, says that 20 per cent. of the business of the country is of such a nature that it must be done whether the times are good or bad. The man who slows down or closes up simply leaves his competitor that much more business. He who stops advertising withdraws himself from the channels of trade, and no one who is really in business should be asked to pay any attention to his croaking about hard times, but should make a better effort to-day than he did yesterday.

CURED BY USING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

A PREACHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"Three months ago, I took a violent cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis. I put myself under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Ayer's Cherry

Pectoral. The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has relieved me almost entirely of all unpleasant symptoms, and I feel sure that one or two bottles more will effect a permanent cure. A TULIP LAMP SHADE.

DIRECTIONS FOR MAKING THIS ARTICLE OF HOME ADORNMENT.

The Material Required and Its Selection—How to Go About the Work—The Petals and How They Are Made—The Finishing Touches.

Among the pretty shades to be seen in the stores and homes of to-day, one of the daintiest and most artistic is the delicate flower shade. One made in the design of the tulip, in any of its natural colors, the fiery red, the yellow with its tinting of red, or the white with delicate streakings of crimson on the outer edges of the petals, is a delight to the eye. This shade is especially appropriate for lamps with white globe-shades, and shows off to its full advantage as a nail lamp where it rests or swingly airily. One can be bought at any price ranging from three dollars upward, but to make it costs little time and trouble for skillful fingers.

To begin with, select crepe paper of the color desired; the stiffest quality is much the best to work with. A spool of fine copper wire and a ring of heavy wire for the base of the shade are the other requirements. The petals often vary in number and therefore in width. This design is for six, slightly overlapping each other. Cut six strips of wire the length of the longest part of the pattern, and twelve pieces from the crepe paper, the size of the pattern (it takes two pieces to form a complete petal). The grain of the paper must run diagonally—bias, shall we call it?—so the petals can be pulled into shape.

The two pieces of each petal must be carefully pasted together down the middle, with a strip of wire between. Corn-starch paste applied with a small brush is best for that purpose. Lay each petal away to dry, under some pressure, if there is a slight tendency to curl.

1. Pattern for Half of Petal. 2. Completed Petal. Lamp With Tulip Shade.

When dry, take each of the pieces and bend the wire gently with the fingers, a slight curve outward at the centre and a decided bend out at the tip, just like the natural flower with its beautiful curves. A tiny piece of invisible wire is twisted into a little hoop on the inner side of each petal, about two-thirds of the distance from the base. Through these loops a string or a fine wire is run, to hold the parts in place after the shade is ready to be fastened over the globe. Cut the small sepals at the base of the flower out of green paper of whatever kind best suits the taste. Cut them the same shape as the completed petals, about one-fourth as large, and make whatever number it requires to give a pretty finish to the shade. Make the ring of wire at the base the exact size required, then turn up the lower part of each petal and paste over the wire, and add the sepals one at a time. If the shade is to represent a yellow or white tulip the edges should be delicately shaded with vermillion in water-color.

JOANNA E. WOOD.

A Young Canadian Writer Who Is Sojourning in Philadelphia.

Lack of nationality in her work and in her personal characteristics inclines us to place the author of "The Untempered Wind" among the cosmopolites. Of Scottish birth, Canadian education and American literary training, she is a person of such wide sympathies that no other classification would readily suggest itself.

While she was yet an infant, her parents came to this country and chose for their home a picturesque spot on the Heights at Queenston overlooking the Niagara River. Here Miss Wood's childhood was spent and no doubt the splendid natural environments among which she was reared played no small part in forming the future writer. Her education was received at the St. Catharines Collegiate Institute, a school which in its 39 years of existence has trained scores of those who are now Canada's best known men and women.

To write was Miss Wood's ambition from her earliest years, and very thorough has been her preparation for her chosen work. So thorough that it was only after much study and hard reading that she thought of giving her writings to the public. For a long time they were shown only to her elder brother, who had been her constant critic. In fact, it is to him that Miss Wood ascribes her subsequent success, for, in spite of his severity with her literary fault, it is to him that she owes all her stimulus and inspiration. But life, even more than books, she has studied in a most systematic way. Frequent trips to Europe have formed part of her training, while each winter she takes up her residence in some center of social or literary life; sometimes she has chosen New York, oftener Boston, and this winter Philadelphia is her temporary home. Her literary work and study are varied by numbers of social duties, for Miss Wood has hosts of friends. Last winter she did no writing, but threw herself heartily into the social life of that gayest of cities, Paris, chiefly for the purpose of bringing herself more in touch with French literature through a better knowledge of the people. In London, too, she had every opportunity of seeing the best of English life, while the purpose of her last visit to Scotland was to collect material for a story of the mining district.

At present Miss Wood is working at a story of the New England hills, and when this is finished, she hopes to begin the Scotch tale for which she has so long been collecting material.

The sick man knocking at the door of health gets in if he knocks the right way, and, stays out if he doesn't. There are thousands of ways of getting sick, but only one way to get well. Do whatever you will, if you do not put your digestion in good order, and make your blood rich and pure, you will not get well. Rich, pure blood is the only thing that can bring perfect health. Constipation is a disease of the blood. A large part of all diseases are traceable directly to impurities in the blood, and can be cured by eliminating them with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The first thing it does is to put the whole digestive system into perfect order. It stimulates the appetite, excites a copious secretion of the digestive fluids and promotes assimilation. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be, kills them and forces them out of the system. The "Golden Medical Discovery" has been used with unvarying success for over 30 years.

The Stanley-Pooley Wedding

A wedding of much interest to Canadians recently took place at Esquimault, B.C., the contracting parties being Miss Annie Pooley, daughter of the Hon. C. E. Pooley, President of the Council of British Columbia, and the Hon. Victor Stanley, second son of the Earl of Derby. The bride, as may be seen from the accompanying portrait, is a very beautiful young woman. The bridegroom is well known in Canada, especially at Ottawa, where, while his father, then Lord Stanley of Preston, filled the office of Governor-General, he frequently appeared at the entertainments at Government House. The wedding was the most brilliant which ever took place at Esquimault, and probably also in British Columbia. The presents from friends both in Canada and England were very numerous and many of them most costly and beautiful, especially those from the bridegroom to the bride, consisting of two valuable bracelets and other articles of jewelry. The Hon. Victor and Mrs. Stanley have sailed for England, where their future home will be.

When we read of a mother who leaves her newborn babe shivering on a doorstep, unguarded from the elements, and to suffer at the mercy of strangers, we wonder at her cold heart and lack of mother-love. There are other ways, than desertion, of exposing a child to a life of suffering. The mother who, through ignorance or neglect of the health and vigor of the organs that make motherhood possible, brings into the world a sick and puny child is at fault for the life of suffering to which it is condemned. If a woman would have healthy, robust, happy children, with bright futures, she must take proper care of her womanly self.

The best of all medicines for women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly and only on the delicate and important organs that bear the burdens of maternity. It makes them strong and healthy. It prepares for wifehood and motherhood. Taken during the expectant period it banishes the usual discomforts and makes baby's coming easy and almost painless. It insures a robust, healthy newcomer and ample, natural nourishment. Over 90,000 women have testified to its merits over their signatures. All good druggists sell it.

Mrs. Ursula Dunham, of Sistersville, Tyler Co., W. Va., writes: "My baby now is nearly a year old. She was born last March. After she was born I had local weakness. I could not stand up long enough to wash the dishes. In September I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took three bottles and it has cured me. I can now do all my work."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets.

If constipation was painful like a toothache, sickness would to a very great extent be a thing of the past. If it was painful, the proper remedy would be promptly resorted to, and the long train of disorders for which it is responsible would cease to exist. But unfortunately constipation is the easiest to neglect of all sickness-breeding conditions. A resort to the right remedy is put off from day to day. It shows itself in a headache, and some injurious headache powder that gives but temporary relief is used. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets go to the first cause of the trouble and cure it. They are a prompt and permanent cure for constipation. They cause no pain and never gripe. Druggists sell them, and sell nothing else that is "just as good."

MACE AND SCHOLES.

The Former Champion of England Has a Bout With the Toronto Boxer.

Toronto, Jan. 9.

The handsome Princess Theatre was comfortably filled last night by followers of the manly art, who turned out to give Jem Mace the welcome he deserved.

A big program was put on and everything was carried out with neatness and despatch. Mr. George Cooper made a perfect master of ceremonies. Part I included Thompson and Jones, a clever pair of amateurs, on the horizontal bar; Hernon and Babcock, in feats of strength: sword and bayonet exercises by Corp. Medhurst, R.C.D., Pte. Inslie, R.C.D., Lance-Corp. King, R.R.C.I., and Pte. Warr, R.R.C.I., from the Garrison, and a wrestling bout between Richardson and partner.

The big house warmed up when the boxers came on. Roach outpointed Wright, and then came a bout between McCann and Healey, local middleweights, that tickled everyone. Both men had striking attitudes, and McCann had his man going in the third round. They hit hard. John Scholes, jr., and Bobby Thompson gave a clever exhibition with the gloves. Jack Hanley, who has won two fights here, was a little too good for Jim Lovett, although they gave an interesting bout. Bob Harrison towered above Dick Collier, and they also made an interesting, though friendly, go. The English middleweight champion showed marvelous agility and was repeatedly applauded for cleverly avoiding his opponent's swings.

The master of ceremonies introduced Jem Mace and John F. Scholes, and their seconds, Morris and Hanley, who were in the Englishman's corner, and Maber and Popp, who looked after the Toronto heavyweight. Mr. Cooper paid a glowing tribute to Maber's record and told the crowd they would see a good 20-round bout between the Shadow and Prof. Bosworth in the Princess two weeks hence.

Jem Mace made a speech, and said he was always pleased with hi receptions in Toronto. He had come thrice and had met great crowds and a great boxer on each occasion. Although the bout was thoroughly friendly, there were lively exchanges and Scholes fought the veteran down in the second round. Mace showed wonderful cleverness with both hands, and the four rounds were received with applause. The two made a most interesting set-to, and all present were well pleased with the science displayed. All through it was a capital and well-conducted entertainment.

Peter Folix, the colored Australian boxer, who claims the heavyweight championship of the Antipodes, is said to be on his way to America.

Dan Creedon says that as soon as his match with Jim Williams is decided he will go to South Africa and meet Kid McCoy for the $15,000 which a club at Johannesburg has offered.

Martin Burns, champion catch-as-catch-can wrestler, and Edward Atherton of New York, wrestled at Rock Island, Ill., last night for $500 a side and 75 and 25 per cent. of the gate receipts. The match was [illegible], who took the first and third [illegible].

IT IS IN THE AIR.

Tweed People Talk About It.

It is in the air.
Can't stop it spreading.
Can't keep down a good thing.
People who don't know about it want to known.
People who do know, want to tell about it.
It is kidney education.
Tweed people are learning fast.
Here are some facts.

One of the best known residents of Tweed is Mr. W. H. Houston, who relates the following interesting facts: Mr. Houston says, "I have been very bad for several years with pains in my side and back.

"I had to urinate very frequently, in fact my rest was disturbed by frequent rising at night for that purpose. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, at Newton's drugstore, and have experienced great relief from the first.

"I am sure that I have been greatly benefited, and can recommend them highly to anyone troubled as I was."

Constipation Cured.

Gents,—I was in very poor health for over four years; the doctor said it was constipation. Not wanting to spend too much cash I got three bottles of B.B.B. and took it regularly, I can certify that I am now in the very best of health and feel very grateful to B.B.B.

FARMERS ON THE TARIFF.

They Want the Duty Taken Off Coal Oil, Corn, Cheese Bandage and Factory Supplies—A Free Trade Manufacturer.

Brockville, Jan. 8.—The Dominion Tariff Commissioners held two sessions here to-day. There were present Hon. W. S. Fielding, Sir Richard Cartwright, Hon. William Paterson and Hon. Sydney Fisher.

George Hutton, President of the South Grenville Farmers' Institute, wanted the duty taken off coal oil, corn, cheese bandage and factory supplies.

John Stagg of Brockville, a prominent farmer, a cattle feeder, advocated taking the duty on corn, but strongly held that the duty on pork should be continued.

C. S. Cossitt of the Cossitt Bros.' Company considered the tariff as it affected agricultural implements unjust, in that it reduced the duty on implements. The duty on raw materials used in their construction had not been reduced in a corresponding degree.

D. L. McPherson, M.L.A., Lancaster, wanted the duty on corn removed, also taken off coal oil and cheese bandage.

F. L. Moore of Addison and F. W. Fulford of Brockville wanted legislation to prevent adulterated honey being placed on the market, without being properly labelled as such.

Robert Alder of Prescott advocated free corn and coal oil.

Mr. Bissell of Algonquin thought coal oil and corn should be free and the tariff on cheese bandage and dairy utensils should be taken off. The duty on pork tended to keep up the price here.

Dr. Williams of Cardinal appeared on behalf of the farmers of East Grenville. They were all in favor of free coal oil, but there was considerable difference of opinion regarding the duty on corn. The general feeling is that the duties bear unfairly and that the manufacturer takes full advantage of the duty through combines that exist.

A delegation from the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Asso. then waited on the Commissioners. They wanted the duty taken off dairy utensils, cheese bandages and caps, also off cream separators. They did not think it advisable to take the duty off pork. Babcock testers and corn should also be free.

James Publow, manager of the Mann Company, stated that, while their raw material was taxed 35 to 36 per cent., they had only a protection of 20 per cent. on the manufactured implements.

J. H. Burrows of the Canada Carriage Company said that if the duty on vehicles were lowered at all he could import buggies cheaper than he could manufacture them. He was in favor of removing the tariff walls between Canada and the United States altogether. He was ready to compete with American factories on equal terms.

John McLaren of the James Hall Company wanted the duty on gloves valued at $7 per dozen and over to be not less than 35 per cent. ad valorem, and that there be a specific duty of $3.50 per dozen on all classes of gloves, valued at less than $7 per dozen.

TWO DEATHS AT SMITH'S FALLS.

John Phillips, Aged 15, Drowned While Skating, and Mrs. Thos. Shaw Taken Off by Heart Disease

Smith's Falls, Jan. 8.—A sad drowning accident happened on the river a short distance from the Bolt Works this afternoon. John Phillips, the 15-year-old son of John Phillips, who resides on Queen-street, started for home at noon, putting on his skates, when he came to the river. This was the last seen of him alive. When he did not get home his people made enquiries and at last searchers found the log on which he sat to put on his skates and followed his tracks along the ice. They found the place where he had broken through, and their worst fears were realized when they saw his head a few inches under the water. He was standing straight up, his feet embedded in sad-dust. Much sympathy is felt for the afflicted family.

Death claimed this afternoon a most estimable lady in the person of Mrs. T. Shaw, wife of Thomas Shaw, editor of The Chesterville Record, Chesterville, Ont., and third daughter of Samuel M. Barnes, Mayor of this town. The young woman was most highly respected by all with whom she had any acquaintance. She, with her husband, previous to moving to Chesterville, resided in Toronto for about five years, where Mr. Shaw had a position on The Toronto World. The cause of death was heart disease. Mrs. Shaw came to her parents' home only a few days ago to be present at the marriage of a sister, and while here became ill, from which she never rallied, though the sad end was not expected. She leaves a grief-stricken husband and one child to mourn her great loss, besides father, mother, brothers and sisters.

A Herrmann Gift.

"I once thought Herrmann had made me a very valuable present," said Oscar Hammerstein. "The occurrence was two or three years ago at my Columbus Theatre, in Harlem, where Herrmann was playing at the time. I was approached by a large-sized man, who began to abuse me terribly for trying to steal some of the apparatus or tricks. The war of words brought Herrmann out from his dressing-room. I explained what had happened, and he was profuse in his apologies for the way his servant had talked to me. He was in a hurry to begin the performance, and suddenly seized the big diamond-studded locket which he always wore, broke it from his chain, and, as I thought, wrapped it up tightly in a little piece of paper and handed it to me, saying: 'Here, Hammerstein, here's a little trifle which I hope you will accept for the manner in which you have been treated to-night. Keep it and remember me by it.' I took the little package to my private office, opened it, and, instead of the locket, found an old baggage check, belonging to some Western railroad company."—New York Journal.

Facts About Furs and Bankrupt Stocks.

Some dealers in Furs believe in selling Bankrupt Stocks but others there are who do not; yet, at the same time have offered several bankrupt stocks for sale within a short time, while claiming also to sell nothing in Furs but of their own manufacture. We certainly must stand away ahead of our competitors as we do not require the aid of such stocks but stand on the merits of our own manufactured goods, which we can always guarantee as such. Our reputation of 36 years standing without a failure is the best proof that customers believe in us and support us so well. We do not require to make any bombastic statements regarding the size or quality of our stock; both are only too well known in the town as well as in many other places at great distances. We wish to thank our customers for their patronage through the late season.

THE DAMARA OVERDUE.

Seventeen Days Out From Cardiff With Coal for Naval Authorities at Halifax—A Vessel in Distress.

Halifax, N.S., Jan. 9.—The Furness Line steamer Damara is out seventeen days from Cardiff for this port with a cargo of coal for the British naval authorities. She should have been here a week ago and the length of her voyage is attracting more attention than would otherwise be the case because of the disasters that have during the past season befallen steamers carrying coal from Wales to Halifax. Two cargoes were to be shipped to this naval station. Of four steamers there were previously chartered only one of them, the Wordsworth, reached her destination. The Tomore was wrecked on the Newfoundland coast; the Moldavia struck an iceberg and foundered and an explosion of gas in the hold of the Manilton caused the abandonment of the voyage. The fifth steamer, the Damara, with the second cargo on board, is now a week overdue.

A report was received here late to-night that an unknown ocean steamer was sending up signals of distress off White Head, 600 miles east of Halifax. At the time she was first observed darkness was coming on, and she was about seven miles distant. She was then showing a flag calling for assistance, and seemed to be running a westerly course and keeping off the shore. After dark came she discharged a number of sky rockets. Thick snow squalls set in after 7 o'clock, and nothing more was seen except an occasional rocket. When the signals were first observed the schooner Hannah E. Eldridge, a life boat and several small boats started from shore towards the steamer. When the snow began to fall the small boats returned without having reached the steamer, but up to 10.30 p.m. here was no sign of the Hannah E. Eldridge or the life boat.

At 11.15 p.m. it was reported from White Head that the life boat and the schooner Eldridge had returned without finding her. Owing to the thick snow falling they could discern nothing, and had to give up the search.

The steamer State of Georgia, from Dantzic, with a cargo of sugar is also due here. J. H. Hugill, Halifax manager of the Furness Line, thinks that the ship in distress is either the Damara or the State of Georgia. The vessel reported signalling for help is in a dangerous position, as hidden shoals and ledges extend for some miles along the coast from White Head.

A WOMAN MURDERED.

Left Her Home Early in the Evening to Do Some Shopping and Was Strangled by Footpads.

Greenfield, Mass., Jan. 9.—Mrs. Hattie E. McCloud was found murdered at 10 o'clock this morning beside a lonely road near Shelburne Falls, by George D. Crittenden. She was the widow of W. L. McCloud of New Haven, Conn., and left her home at 5 o'clock Friday evening to do some shopping in the village. Her family supposed her to be with a sister. An autopsy this afternoon showed that death was caused by strangulation, there being marks on her throat and right arm. She had $18 when she left home, but only 8c were found on her person. There is no clue to the murderer.

LUCIE LESSARD KILLED.

Picked Up by a Man and Thrown Over a Verandah to the Ground Thirty Feet Below.

Montreal, Que., Jan. 9.—During the past few weeks the city has been disgraced by several hideous crimes, among them the killing of the man Linleau and the mysterious death of the woman Ridout. Another murder has now been added to these.

About noon yesterday a quarrel took place in a house of ill-fame on Jacques Cartier-street, which, after the lapse of several hours, resulted in the death of Lucie Lessard, aged 20 years. It appears the woman had an altercation with the mistress of the house, followed by blows, and ultimately the unfortunate was turned out of the house. Lucie Lessard then roamed about the streets, and in a short time she came across several acquaintances, with whom she visited numerous saloons and in the end became very much intoxicated.

The woman then proceeded to the house on Jacques Cartier-street, where she arrived about half-past 5 o'clock. On her arrival she began another row by smashing panes of glass and pounding the door. Noticing that this did not attract the proprietor's attention, Lucie went to the rear of the house and stepped onto the gallery. Here she began again breaking the windows, whereupon a young man, who was evidently an inmate of the house, rushed out, picked her up in his arms, and flung her over the verandah, a distance of about thirty feet from the ground.

The woman fell with a dull thud to the ground, and the brutal perpetrator of the deed re-entered the house, apparently unconcerned.

Subsequently a crowd gathered, and it was found that the poor woman had received severe injuries, which necessitated her immediate removal to the Notre Dame Hospital. Here she succumbed to her injuries in the early hours of this morning.

During the course of the evening Inspector Lapointe and Constables Geoffrion and Poissant visited the house for the purpose of arresting the man on the charge of aggravated assault, but the fellow had already vanished and no trace of him could be found. The charge will now be changed to that of murder, and as the officers are in possession of his name it is expected his arrest will be effected before many hours.

The dead woman is one of the two who were stabbed by Francesca Taranto in a disreputable house on Jacques Cartier-street last October. The Italian pleaded guilty to the charge and was condemned to seven years in the Penitentiary.

Daniel Sheehan, a well-known lightweight, has been arrested on the charge of causing the death of Lucie Lessard by throwing her downstairs at a house of ill-fame in the East End.

TORONTO WOMAN WRONGED.

Illegally Sent to the Workhouse in New York, But Afterwards Released.

New York, Jan. 10.—On Friday last Magistrate Mott of the Police Court sent Mrs. Lizzie Sommers to Blackwell's Island for five days for soliciting. The woman indignantly protested that the charge was false and called her husband, who was in court, to prove that she was a respectable woman. The Magistrate, however, took the evidence of two policemen, one of whom accosted Mrs. Sommers on the street, asking her where she was going. The woman replied: "I'm going home." Then the officer called another policeman, who arrested Mrs. Sommers on the allegation of the first policeman that she had solicited him. Friends of the woman took the matter up, and on Saturday Justice Lawrence discharged her from the workhouse. Mrs. Sommers stated in court when being tried by Magistrate Mott that she was married to Mr. Sommers, who is a carriage painter, three years ago in Toronto. Both the woman and the husband wept when sentence was pronounced.

FATAL GUN EXPLOSION.

A Young Girl Starts to Shoot a Cat and Receives the Charge Herself.

Port Rowan, Ont., Jan. 9.—About 1.30 yesterday an explosion, followed by a scream, was heard coming from the rear of W. C. Stearns' residence on Main-street. Neighbors near by rushed to the scene and found his eldest daughter, Miss Grace Stearns, dying in a pool of blood on the floor, and her clothes on fire. Medical attendance was immediately summoned, and on examination it was found the wound was fatal. It appears Miss Stearns, who was an expert shot, went to the barn to get a gun for the purpose of shooting a troublesome cat, and in pulling the gun out it exploded. The whole charge entered the girl's right side. Miss Stearns was one of the leading ladies of the village and a promising scholar.

THE CABOT CELEBRATION.

Descendants of the Famous Sebastian and John Invited to Visit This Great Country.

London, Jan. 9.—Messrs. A. G. Jones and Sandford Fleming, Canadian delegates to the Pacific Cable Conference, called upon the Italian Ambassador, Signor Ferrero, today and conferred with him in regard to the Canadian celebration of the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of Newfoundland by John Cabot, on June 24, 1497. The purpose of the delegates was to ascertain the possibility of having representatives of the Cabot family living in Italy, visit Canada upon the occasion of the celebration, and the ambassador promised to communicate with his Government upon the subject.

Rubbing It In.

Never use a liniment for rheumatism, says a high medical authority. Don't rub it in—drive it out. FAIRWEATHER'S

FINE FURS

Are Coming Well To the Front.

THEY ARE ALL AFTER US, AND WE'LL LEAD THEM A MERRY CHASE.

From the business men of 36 years experience, to the dry goods merchants that handle furs, all seem to realize that we set the pace in the FUR trade. Unlike some men who are so egotistical and hide-bound to custom, we are not afraid of injuring the reputation we have as MANUFACTURING FURRIERS by buying and selling a Bankrupt Stock, made by a Manufacturing Furrier of 38 years standing, (J. J. Lugsdin), which was sold at 50c. on the $; and we think there are not a few of the purchasing public who were benefitted by this piece of business enterprise, during last season.

WE MANUFACTURE ALL OUR OWN FUR GOODS.

When we buy a bankrupt stock we sell it as such, and at prices that clean it out the season it was bought. We do not unload on a believing public the residue or "fag-end" of a last season's bankrupt stock—hawked-all-over-the-country—under the guise of it being up-to-date Fashionable Furs. We could not if we would, as all has long since been sold. The trouble is, some people have business corns and the shoe pinched, and just to make the shoe pinch harder we have commenced a SPECIAL SALE of all HOLIDAY FURS Not Yet Sold.

A glance at the price tickets in show windows will convince anyone who intends purchasing Furs that the pace we set is hard to follow.

We believe that our public is looking for Good Reliable Goods at Low Prices, quite indifferent as to whether they are made by this man or that as long as they are guaranteed by a Respectable firm as Reliable and Fashionable Goods.

We Never, NEVER like to Carry Over Stock

From One Season to Another.

Rather sell below Cost. It brings trade and gives us money in hand, and helps to keep stock fresh.

We have'nt any unsaleable goods stowed away in our cellar or garret.

If we make a mistake in buying a lot of goods and they don't move, we don't fret, worry or feel sore. We Move Them—price will do it. Bring the people in by low prices—they bring other money with them.

If trade is dull, we can force it. Push comes first, prosperity comes next. Our January Clearing Sale is always a flyer.

We never leave our store to take a social drink, or smoke a Cigar, during business hours.

Don't shop here if you don't want BARGAINS—especially this month.

BRITONS MASSACRED.

A Peaceful Expedition Slaughtered in Upper Guinea.

THE QUEEN'S DIAMOND JUBILEE.

Her Majesty's Desire is That it be Celebrated by Works of Mercy—The Lieut.-Governor of Ontario in an Improved Condition—Storms on British Coasts.

London, Jan. 11.—The Prince of Wales, in response to requests made to him for advice as to the most fitting plans for celebrating the occasion of the completion of the sixtieth anniversary of the Queen's reign, has caused it to be announced that he is confident that Her Majesty would prefer that the occasion should be marked by works of mercy among the sick and suffering, embracing any movement tending to brighten the lives and ameliorate the condition of the Queen's poorer subjects.

BRITISHERS MASSACRED.

A Peaceful Expedition Proceeding Up the Benin River, Upper Guinea, Killed to a Man

London, Jan. 11.—A despatch from Bonny, on the coast of Upper Guinea, reports the massacre of all the members of a peaceable British expedition, which left the coast about Jan. 1, intending to proceed to Benin City, on the Benin River, by way of Sapele. The expedition consisted of Acting Consul-General Phillips, Major Copland Crawford, Capt. Boisragon, who was commandant of the force of the Niger Coast protectorate; Capt. Maling, belonging to the same force; Messrs. Campbell and Locke, Consular officials; Dr. Elliott, Messrs. Powis and Gordon, civilians, and a number of Kroomen and native carriers. The yacht Ivy, belonging to the British Consul, has returned to Bonny, and reports that the entire expedition were killed by subjects of the King of Benin, which territory is included in the Niger Coast protectorate.

TERRIFIC STORMS.

North Sea and Bay of Biscay Churned Up in Serious Fashion.

London, Jan. 11.—Terrific storms have prevailed within the last twenty-four hours in the North Sea, and the Bay of Biscay.

The steamer Three Brothers, belonging at Fecamp, France, is overdue at that place, and it is reported that she has foundered off Ushant. She had 16 men on board.

The British steamer Diomedea, belonging to the Diomedea Steamship Company of London, has been sunk in a collision off Yarmouth. All on board were saved. A wreck can also be seen from the Fame Islands. A number of Yarmouth fishing boats have been wrecked or damaged by the storm, but the loss of life is not known.

The British barque Lavinia, Capt. Thomas, from Greenock, Dec. 8, for St. John's, Nfld., has put into Fayal, having lost bulwarks, stanchions, a boat and galley.

The report that the British steamer Lord Gough, Capt. Crombie, from Dantzig, Jan. 1, for Philadelphia, which grounded when leaving the former port, was obliged to jettison several thousand bags of sugar in order to float, appears to be erroneous.

HON. G. A. KIRKPATRICK BETTER.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick is in Attendance at His Bedside, Nursing Him Carefully.

London, Jan. 11.—The condition of Hon. George A. Kirkpatrick, Lieut.-Governor of Ontario, who is lying ill in the South-street Hospital, is somewhat improved, and he is now in a state justifying hopes of his speedy recovery. His wife, who has arrived here from Canada in response to a summons from England, is in constant attendance at his bedside, and her presence has been of great assistance to his medical treatment and careful nursing in bringing about his present favorable condition. The operation which the physicians decided a week ago was imperatively necessary in order to save the patient's life has now been postponed until Wednesday.

TRIAL OF IVORY.

The Alleged Dynamiter Was Before the Old Bailey Court Yesterday.

London, Jan. 11.—The case of Edward J. Ivory, alias Edward Bell, the alleged Irish-American dynamite conspirator, who was arrested in Glasgow Sept. 13, and subsequently brought here, was heard in the Central Criminal Court, Old Bailey, for the first time, to-day, the previous hearings having taken place in the Bow-street Police Court. After Ivory was formally arraigned the recorder, Sir Charles Hall, charged the grand jury, asking that body to give most careful attention to the case, which was one of the highest importance. The charge against Ivory, he said, was that of having conspired with Tynan, Kearney and Haines to destroy life and property with dynamite. The jury, in following the movements of the conspirators, would find a remarkable chain of evidence linking Ivory with his alleged associates. The recorder then described the evidence which connected Ivory with the other conspirators up to the time he was arrested. The letters and documents found in his possession when he was taken into custody clearly showed the character of the plot in which he and his associates were engaged. Having due regard for all the circumstances of the case, the grand jury would doubtless feel it to be their duty to find a true bill against the prisoner.

MASSACRE OF CHRISTIANS.

Rumors are That Butchery Has Taken Place at Trebizonde.

London, Jan. 11.—A despatch from Constantinople to The Standard says that rumors of a massacre of Christians at Trebizonde, which originated by the statement that an Italian gunboat had been ordered thither, was untrue. It appears that an Italian subject named Marani was secretly shipped at Trebizonde for exile to Erzeroum. The Italian Ambassador, Signor Pansa, demanded the immediate return of Marani to Constantinople for proper trial, and threatened to send gunboats till the Porte gave a written promise of compliance. The incident has caused a sensation at Constantinople on account of the belief that Italy was backed by the powers.

A despatch to The Daily News from Rome on the same subject says: Everybody remarks that the Sultan has never had such a humiliation as for an Ambassador to openly refuse to accept his promise, but to insist upon a written confirmation.

NO CAUSE FOR REJOICING.

London Globe Does Not Approve of the Anglo-American Arbitration Treaty.

London, Jan. 11.—The Globe this afternoon says it sees no reason for Britishers to rejoice at the conclusion of the arbitration treaty with the United States, adding: "Great Britain's experience in arbitration with America has always been futile and ridiculous. It is no particular triumph for the Marquis of Salisbury's statesmanship and most self-respecting Englishmen would like to forget the circumstances leading to it. The passage in our history beginning with the Venezuelan trouble and President Cleveland's gross insult and ending with the conclusion of the treaty contains nothing to be proud of, and a great deal which most of us would be glad to obliterate."

GENERAL CABLE NEWS.

The Anglo-American Arbitration Treaty Not Yet Ready for Signature.

London, Jan. 11.—A despatch to The Times from New York says that the agreement between Sir Julian Pauncefote, British Ambassador at Washington, and United States Secretary of State Olney upon a system of general arbitration is ready for signature and only awaits the formal acceptance of the King of Sweden, who will name the umpire in certain cases. The King's acceptance, the despatch says, was expected by Jan. 10, when the treaty would be signed and sent to the Senate on Jan. 11.

The Anglo-Venezuelan treaty is not yet completed, and will not be finished for a fortnight. The question of the place of meeting of the tribunal has not yet been settled.

No Fear of War.

Paris, Jan. 11.—L'Echo de Paris states that the Admiralty Council is in favor of using squadrons in war time, and has rejected Admiral Aube's proposal for a fleet of fast cruisers with a view to privateering. These decisions are interpreted as meaning that there is no prospect of a war with Great Britain within the sphere of practical politics.

Copious Rains in India.

Calcutta, Jan. 11.—Copious rains have fallen in most of the famine-stricken districts of India, but a great deal more rain is needed.

Storms and Fogs.

London, Jan. 11.—Storms and fogs continue along the coasts, and wrecks have been reported at many points. A trawler, with six men, has been lost off Yarmouth. The steamer Gulf of Siam is ashore in Morrock Bay and other ships and boats have been picked up. The crew of the British steamer Strathmore, from Genoa, numbering 30 men, has been taken off that vessel by a trawler and landed at Hull. No details of the wreck of the Strathmore have been received.

Why the Mandement Was Not Read

Quebec, Que., Jan. 11.—It now transpires that some time ago 1500 copies of a mandement condemning La Patrie and other Liberal papers were shipped to Montreal and Valleyfield from the Archbishop's palace here. That the mandement was not read has caused a surprise here. It is said here that orders were sent from Rome not to condemn the papers.

ARBITRATION GOES.

Anglo-American Treaty Signed at Washington.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT.

An Event Which Marks a New Era in the Settlement of International Disputes—Mr. Cleveland Expresses a Hope That the Treaty Will be Approved by the Senate.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The Anglo-American general arbitration treaty was signed in the diplomatic parlor of the State Department at 12.30 o'clock to-day by Secretary Olney and Sir Julian Pauncefote. The latter was accompanied by Lord Gough, secretary of the embassy. The American witnesses were Chief of the Diplomatic Bureau Cridler and Private Secretary Blandford. The meeting was devoid of any spectacular proceedings, the two plenipotentiaries simply signing their names to the two copies of the important document, one of which will be sent to the Senate for ratification and the other to Lord Salisbury by special messenger, who will sail on the Majestic from New York on Wednesday.

Sir Julian Pauncefote and Minister Andrade, as plenipotentiaries of their respective countries, to negotiate the Anglo-Venezuelan arbitration treaty, have, it is claimed, not yet completed their work, although the main points of the convention, as agreed upon in the Olney memorandum, were long ago disposed of. Other details, with one or two exceptions, involved no delay. The place of meeting of the tribunal is the chief point of difference, Venezuela preferring Washington.

The Official Message.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The President sent the following message to the Senate this afternoon, transmitting the Anglo-American general arbitration treaty:

"To the Senate: I transmit herewith a treaty for the arbitration of all matters in difference between the United States and Great Britain.

"The provisions of the treaty are the result of long and patient deliberation, and represent concessions made by each party for the sake of agreement upon the general scheme. Though the result reached may not meet the views of the advocates of immediate, unlimited and irrevocable arbitration of all international controversies, it is, nevertheless, confidently believed that the treaty cannot fail to be everywhere recognized as making a long step in the right direction, and as embodying a practical, working plan by which disputes between the two countries will reach a peaceful adjustment as matter of course and in ordinary routine. In the initiation of such an important movement it must be expected that some of its features will assume a tentative character looking to a further advance, and yet it is apparent that the treaty which has been formulated not only makes war between the parties to it a remote possibility, but precludes those fears and rumors of war, which of themselves too often assume the proportions of a national disaster. It is eminently fitting, as well as fortunate, that the attempt to accomplish results so beneficial should be initiated by kindred peoples, speaking the same tongue and joined together by all the ties of common traditions, common institutions and common aspirations. The experiment of substituting civilized methods for brute force as the means of settling international questions of right will thus be tried under the happiest auspices. Its success ought not to be doubtful, and the fact that its ultimate ensuing benefits are not likely to be limited to the two countries immediately concerned should cause it to be promoted all the more eagerly. The example set and the lesson furnished by the successful operation of this treaty are sure to be felt and taken to heart sooner or later by other nations, and will thus mark the beginning of a new epoch in civilization.

"Profoundly impressed as I am, therefore, by the promise of transcendent good which this treaty affords, I do not hesitate to accompany its transmission with an expression of my earnest hope that it may commend itself to the favorable consideration of the Senate. Grover Cleveland.

"Executive Mansion, Jan. 11, 1897."

Winnipeg Notes.

Winnipeg, Jan. 11.—(Special.)—Hon. Dr. Montague and Hon. Mr. Haggart, at dinner at Government House last night, met several prominent Winnipeggers. They continued their journey to the Pacific Coast to-day.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper will arrive here to-morrow from the Pacific Coast to meet Lady Tupper, who is en route from Ottawa. They will then proceed to Victoria, where Sir Charles is engaged on the sealing arbitration.

PROHIBITION AT THE R. M. C.

Col. Kitson, the New Commandant, Banishes the Sale of Liquor.

Kingston, Ont., Jan. 11.—Col. Kitson, the new commandant of the Royal Military College, has inaugurated a number of reforms at the institution since taking command. The most noteworthy is the abolition of all kinds of intoxicating liquor from the mess where the cadets dine. It was the only place within the bounds of the college where liquor was procurable, and by forbidding its sale there it is banished from the precincts of the institution.

The City Council was inaugurated to-day, and though politically a tie, there was no deadlock, as the aldermen made an equal division of honors.

LAURENTIAN DAMAGED.

The Allan Liner Struck on Main Head and Her Forehold is Full of Water.

London, Jan. 11.—The British steamer Laurentian, Capt. McDougall, from Portsteamer Wickham, Capt. Vigers, has arrived at Moville. She struck on Main Head, County Donegal, Ireland, yesterday evening and her forehold is full of water as the result of the damage she sustained.

HOW THE BOODLE GANG GAGGED MANITOBA.

THE WAY THE TUPPER GOVERNMENT WON THEIR SEATS.

Ballot Boxes Stuffed—Card Sharpers, Gamblers and Crooks Co-operate With "Statesmen"—Money "to Burn" and Beer Galore.

Winnipeg, Jan. 10.—(Special)—Manitoba during the past two or three weeks has been thrown into a state of excitement by startling developments as to the methods used by the Tupperites to carry this province at the last general election for the Conservative party, and the wonder now is among ourselves not that Manitoba only returned two Liberals and an Independent but that she managed to send east a single Opposition member to the powers that then existed. It has been often stated, and few Conservatives seem to think it should be denied, that if the Tupper Government had had the ghost of a chance of survival after the eastern returns were all in, Mr. Richardson's seat in Lisgar and Mr. Macdonell's in Selkirk could have been stolen before the declarations of the returning officers were made by some means as peculiar as those employed to elect Mr. Boyd in Marquette and Mr. Hugh John Macdonald in Winnipeg. No reflection is intended on the returning officers in either Lisgar or Selkirk constituencies, but it is known that emissaries of the late Government did act in a manner to arouse the gravest suspicion and set people thinking as to what terrible work had been resorted to. Manitoba was stunned by the verdict of her people, but the events of the past few days have shown that not the school question nor other public questions but a few criminal deputy returning officers really elected Mr. Boyd in Marquette by a system of ballot-box stuffing unparalleled in the history of Manitoba; and the corruption in Winnipeg, to say nothing of what may have been done in ballot-box stuffing, is stupendous. There has been a good deal of specious special pleading by a section of the Conservative press here on behalf of the men charged with stuffing or inciting to stuff ballot-boxes, but the answer to it all has come promptly and effectively. Mr. Boyd was declared elected after the general elections by a majority of 398 over Mr. Rutherford, a most considerate action, because there was no real reason, considering the skill and instructions of the deputy returning officers, blank certificates to be filled in by anybody, and other interesting circumstances of the case, why it should not have been 598 or 998. However the majority was "fixed" at 398. The Dominion law requires that on the trial of a petition it is not sufficient to prove single or isolated corrupt acts to set aside an election, but there must be shown to be such a number as would lead the trial judges to the conclusion that corruption prevailed on such an extensive scale as to account for the majority. Three hundred and ninety-eight is a large, a very large, majority. But when Mr. Boyd was brought face to face with the bill of particulars he promptly admitted that his election had been bought and stolen for him through his agents, and vacated his seat, never to enter public life again.

DISGRACEFUL PARTICULARS.

Look at the record of charges and developments so far:

R. R. Herriman was arrested on the charge of ballot-box stuffing and destroying good ballots given him to be put in the ballot-box. His case is still proceeding at MacGregor, Man. Herriman is a notorious gambler. He has served a term in the Winnipeg Provincial jail on a gambling charge. He is a resident of Winnipeg, yet he was taken out of the city 70 or 80 miles to act as a deputy in Boyd's election. Why was he appointed? The question needs no answer. He is out on $6,000 bail.

W. J. Parker, charged with inciting to ballot-box stuffing, comes up for a further hearing at Treherne to-morrow. At the trial last week Deputy Returning Officer Scammell swore Parker handed him a parcel containing eighteen blank ballots, adding: 'I put six of these eighteen papers into the ballot-box at poll No. 11, Rathwell. I marked them myself for Boyd. They had not been marked by voters in the usual way. The other twelve I destroyed. Voters for whose ballots I substituted them were strong Liberals. I got $35. In addition to being a farmer I held a position under the late Government, that of timber inspector." The accused is out on heavy bail.

Fred Brown, charged with destroying ballots, will have a preliminary hearing at Portage la Prairie on the 14th inst. He is out on heavy bail.

Wm. Clarke, deputy returning officer at poll 36, charged with stuffing ballot boxes, is on trial at Carberry. At this poll the official returns showed nineteen votes for Rutherford, Liberal. Twenty-nine voters have already sworn that they voted for Rutherford, ten more than the poll returns give him, and a dozen or more are to follow, to say nothing of those who are in Ontario or elsewhere. Braithwaite, (Patron) voters are also appearing to give evidence, and they may make a little showing. The case was remanded till Wednesday next. Impassable roads, owing to the late blizzard, prevented the attendance of other witnesses.

Thomas Anderson, another deputy, is on trial at Carberry for stuffing. His poll showed fifteen votes for Rutherford. Eight electors have already sworn that they voted for Rutherford. The roads are bad, preventing the attendance of witnesses, and the cases are adjourned till Tuesday.

Charles Brooks, deputy at poll 38, is charged with stuffing a ballot-box. His case goes on at Carberry on Tuesday.

Malcolm Orr, deputy, is on trial at Glenboro', charged with stuffing. Sixty-five witnesses have already been examined. There is little doubt that the number of votes sworn to for Rutherford will be considerably greater than the number of ballots marked for him in the box. The case proceeds to-morrow.

G. W. Saunders, deputy returning officer, is on trial at Gladstone for stuffing the ballot box. Nine ballots more than the number in the poll book are produced in court initialed by Saunders, and the initials sworn to by the poll clerk. J. A. Freeburn swore that he gave Saunders ten blank ballots to mark for Boyd, and by sleight-of hand process deposit in the ballot box in place of genuine ballots. After the election Saunders handed to Freeborn nine ballots, six marked for Rutherford and three for Braithwaite, the initials on which are sworn to by the poll clerk as those of Saunders. The tenth ballot was not forthcoming because two ballots had slipped into the box at one time. The nine ballots in question have been in the possession of the Attorney-General's Department since shortly after the election. Freeborn, in his testimony, said he got a bunch of 30 blank ballots from F. M. Brown to distribute among the "right" men. Not only was Saunders and other deputies instructed to stuff ballot-boxes, but Freeborn and Harry Waller, another exponent of the crooked election methods, instructed them how good ballots marked for Rutherford and Braithwaite might be destroyed by having a small piece of pencil lead waxed under the nail of his forefinger, and thus marking them so that those so marked could be rejected. This instruction in Saunder's case took place on June 13 and 19. Freeborn at the present time is an interesting character. He showed the Globe's correspondent how ably substituting work, or in other words ballot box stuffing, could be done. By way of a hint it may be wholesome for some of the Conservative organizers in Ontario not to talk disparagingly of Freeborn. He has not told all he knows—not for publication at present. Saunders case will be continued this week.

Harry Waller is under arrest on four charges of inciting deputies to stuff ballot boxes and destroy ballots. He was one of Boyd's right hand men, and also had the confidence of eastern managers. His trial has not yet taken place.

W. Mawhinney's trial at the Portage for stuffing a ballot box goes on this week.

William Huwick, deputy returning officer, is on trial at Neepawa charged with stuffing. The evidence already given shows that Returning Officer Hamilton sent blank certificates to the Boyd canvassers, who filled them out indiscriminately for men who had no right to vote, and signed Richardson's name. The case will be continued on January 14.

W. J. Hamilton, another deputy, is charged with stuffing. The case is proceeding.

All the above and other suspects are out on bail ranging from $4,000 to $6,000.

Mr. H. M. Howell, Q. C., a leading lawyer in the Province, is directing the prosecutions and has a large staff of lawyers at work in various sections of the large constituency, which covers 100 miles square. In more than two-thirds of the the polls there is the strongest evidence that ballot-box stuffing was resorted to.

While the above election in the constituency of Macdonald was crooked enough to satisfy the most exacting healer, it will appear that the Winnipeg election was many degrees worse. The bill of particulars filed in connection with this protest is a terribly formidable document, and shows a condition of political depravity that would disgrace Tammany. Beer and bribery—beer flowing like a Northwest Niagara, and according to the slang way of putting it—"money to burn." From what has been revealed in the Macdonald election, there is reason to believe that the counts in the Winnipeg bill of particulars will be substantially proven. Everybody wondered that Fighting Joe Martin should be so disastrously defeated by Hugh John Macdonald; if one tenth of what is charged, as to the methods employed to subvert the will of the electors, is proven, there is no room for surprise.

WORK SPOILED.

Did Not Get the Right Kind.

Why labour in vain? Why do you try to dye cotton or mixed goods with common dyes that the makers prepared for all wool goods?

Well, you are not altogether to blame; the dealer who sold you the dye, and who told you it was good for either cotton or wool, is the one who is directly responsible for your loss and failure. He sold you worthless dyes because they gave him a large return of profit.

If you had bought the Diamond Dyes made specially for Cotton and Mixed Goods your work would have been well and truly done. These special cotton colours of the Diamond Dyes are the latest discoveries of the best chemists of the world, and are far superior to all other dyes for the colouring of cotton goods.

Fast Diamond Dyes for Cotton are quite fast to light, and if you use them your carpets and rugs will be as bright after years of wear as the most expensive carpets you can buy. For dyeing Cotton or Mixed Goods, ask for Fast Diamond Dyes for Cotton; take no others.

Facts About Furs and Bankrupt Stocks.

Some dealers in Furs believe in selling Bankrupt Stocks but others there are who do not; yet, at the same time have offered several bankrupt stocks for sale within a short time, while claiming also to sell nothing in Furs but of their own manufacture. We certainly must stand away ahead of our competitors as we do not require the aid of such stocks but stand on the merits of our own manufactured goods, which we can always guarantee as such. Our reputation of 36 years standing without a failure is the best proof that customers believe in us and support us so well. We do not require to make any bombastic statements regarding the size or quality of our stock; both are only too well known in the town as well as in many other places at great distances. NEWS FROM OTTAWA

P. O. Department Bookkeeping to be Looked Into

WITH A VIEW TO IMPROVING IT.

Decisions Rendered by Justice Burbidge in the Exchequer Court—Probability That Brennan, the Barrie Murderer, Will be Reprieved—Officers Want to Trade Jobs.

Ottawa, Jan. 11.

The Postmaster-General has decided to have a thorough investigation into the methods of keeping the accounts in his department. For this purpose he has brought down from Toronto two expert accountants, Messrs. W. H. Cross and W. F. Munro. They are thoroughly examining the books of the accountant's branch and will report to Mr. Mulock their views as to any improvements which may be made in keeping the accounts of the department. There is no insinuation of wrongdoing in this action on Mr. Mulock's part. All that he desires is to improve the departmental bookkeeping if such be possible.

The Trade and Commerce Department has received from the International Board of Customs the new tariffs of British Honduras, Portugal and Sierra Leone.

In the Exchequer Court to-day Justice Burbidge gave judgment in the Goodwin case. Mr. George Goodwin, contractor of the Soulanges Canal, sued the Government for about $74,000 in connection with his contract. The case was before the Exchequer Court some time ago, when judgment was given for $57,000, but it was sent back by the present Government for decision on certain legal questions reserved. In his judgment to-day Justice Burbidge decides against Mr. Goodwin. Judge Burbidge points out that the engineer's certificate did not state that the work was done to the satisfaction of the engineer in charge. Evidence was produced to show that the work was done to the engineer's satisfaction. In his own opinion, the judge said that the work was done to the satisfaction of the engineer. In the case of Murray v. the Queen, however, the Supreme Court expressed the opinion that a certificate was not valid, because it did not state that the work was done to the satisfaction of the engineer. The case, therefore, was not before him on its merits. Under section 33 of the contract it was provided that a dispute be referred to the Exchequer Court, and therefore it was referred to him under that clause. That being the case, he had to decide against the contractor. If it were before him on its merits he would have decided that the contractor was liable to recover. The decision reverses the judge's previous decision.

In the case of the Auer Incandescent Light Manufacturing Co. v. William M. O'Brien for infringement of their patent, in the manufacture of what is known as the Auer Lamp, the judge found that O'Brien's lamp was in its essential principles a reproduction of the other, which was of earlier patent. Therefore judgment was entered in full in favor of the suppliants.

Judgment was also given in Myles v. the Queen, a case arising upon a contract for the sale of certain timber to the Dominion Government. Plaintiffs reside in Toronto, and made the contract through T. M. Woodburn of Ottawa. Judgment was given for $425, distributed as follows: First, the Crown to be paid costs out of the amount; second, five per cent. of the $425 to go to Woodburn as his commission; third, the balance to Myles & Co.

Messrs. W. L. Hamilton, Inland Revenue Inspector of Kingston division, and J. K. Barrett, Inspector of Winnipeg district, are in the city with a view to exchange of position, if the consent of the Controller of Inland Revenue can be obtained. The applications are both made for private and personal reasons of the two officers. Mr. Hamilton's appointment dates from Dec. 7, 1868, and Mr. Barrett's from Sept. 5, 1873, respectively. Both are old and tried officers in their respective divisions.

The case of Michael Brennan, who was some months ago sentenced to be hanged for the murder of Mr. Strathy, a wealthy banker in Barrie, will be under consideration by council this week. The indications are that Brennan will be reprieved, as he is a dying man. He has been starving himself, and the effect of the two trials has been to place him in such a position mentally and physically that it was thought for months he would never live to see the scaffold. The report of a medical examination seems to justify the executive in the exercise of the prerogative.

Messrs. Fielding, Fisher and Paterson left for Guelph to-night.

Lieut.-Col. Borden, Minister of Militia, has returned from the Maritime Provinces.

Premier Greenway had a long interview with the Premier to-day. Mr. Laurier returned from Quebec yesterday.

The Government is making arrangements for the bye-election in South Brant. It is understood the election will be held on Feb. 4. The writ will probably be issued to-morrow.

A. E. Forget of the Indian Department, Regina, who has been in the city for the past few days, had an interview with Mr. Sifton to-day on matters affecting the department in the Northwest.

Sir Richard Cartwright left for Kingston Saturday evening, and will go from there to Guelph, where the Tariff Commission meets to-morrow.

Mr. Tucker, M.P., to-day secured an order for resumption of dredging in the St. John harbor, which was stopped by Mr. Tarte last week.

Chief Engineer Schreiber and Mr. Pottinger of the I.C.R. have gone to New York on business in connection with the Intercolonial Railway.

Dr. W. F. Scott was to-day elected Mayor of Hull by acclamation.

There is talk of sardine canning being tried on the Pacific Coast, and a wealthy concern, who have been looking over prospects on the British Columbia coast, are about erecting a sardine factory.

Dr. Wakeham left for Gaspe to-day on a brief holiday.

Hon. Thomas Greenway left for Toronto to-night.

Ex-Governor Hoard of Wisconsin was entertained at lunch by the Minister of Agriculture to-day. Among the guests were the Premier, Messrs. Blair, Davies and Sifton. In the evening Hon. Mr. Hoard was the guest of Their Excellencies the Governor-General and the Countess of Aberdeen at Government House. He leaves for Toronto to-morrow.

WOMEN'S WEAKNESS.

Female Complaints Combined With Kidney Troubles are Fatal.

LUCKY WOMAN ESCAPED.

Consented to Try Dodd's Kidney Pills, the Premier of Proprietary Medicines, and is Now Strong and Well—One Box Cured Her.

Walkerton, Ont., Jan. 11.—Half a dollar saved a woman's life in this town not many months ago—only last August, to be exact.

Half a dollar is the price of a box of DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS. One box of these far-famed and justly-famed pills was enough to put Mrs. Elwena Ady on her feet, when she was very ill with female complaint, combined with Kidney trouble.

With this example in view, why should there be a single woman in Canada, tottering on the brink of the grave, or going about her work dragged down, dispirited, despondent and discouraged?

Kidney diseases are fatal. They mean slow death if not cured. But there is a cure, and it is the purpose of these lines to demonstrate it. Here is Mrs. Ady's testimonial:

Gentlemen,—I have been troubled with a complaint called women's weakness and kidney trouble. I read of the many cures DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS had done. I consented to try them. I have used one box and am completely cured. No pains or backaches have ever come back. I can highly recommend them to all women. You may publish this so as to help others.

TROUBLE IN JERUSALEM.

Worshippers at the Church of the Holy Sepulchre Fight Desperately.

Constantinople, Jan. 10.—Official advices received here from Jerusalem show that there has been further trouble among the worshippers at the Church of the Holy Sepulchre. It appears that the Roman Catholics were opposed to the members of the Orthodox Greek Church entering the church by a certain door on the eve of Jan. 6, the day observed by the Orthodox church as Christmas. The latter insisted upon their right to enter, and the result was that the two factions became involved in a serious fight, which did not end with the Turkish authorities intervened to restore order. Some of the combatants were badly injured, but it is not known whether anybody was killed.

Dr. CHASE CURES FATHER AND CHILD

Both afflicted with Eczema of a very troublesome type and cured in a remarkably short while by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

"I was troubled for ten years with eczema on one leg; the itching was something terrible; would scratch until the blood came. How I came to know the value of DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT, I have a little girl two years; when she was one year old the same disease began to show upon her face. It wasn't long before her face became literally covered with it. In order to keep her from scratching it we had to bandage her hands up. I tried several doctors, but got no relief. Seeing DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT so highly advertised I made up my mind to purchase a box, which I did from one of our leading druggists. The first application I noticed a change. It was then I began to think about myself. With four or five applications, to my surprise, I am completely cured, no sign of the disease, and my little girl's face to-day is clear of all the scabs. I am only too glad to inform any person what a blessing DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT has proved itself.

A Gold Mine Investment

In the ROSSLAND DISTRICT may be safe, but Time (that never mistaken critic) has not yet had sufficient opportunity to prove all the statements that are being made as to such investments.

An investor in a Mason & Risch Piano on the other hand, not only has the assurance of his ears that these instruments are what their makers claim they are, but has the testimony of thousands of purchasers who have bought them, as to their durability and capability of standing in tune.

The Mason & Risch Piano is a safe investment.

TAKEN POSSESSION

I beg to announce to the citizens of Peterborough and vicinity that I have purchased the business lately conducted by Mr. O. B. Routley, and will continue to carry on a First-class Fancy Goods Store with full lines in all departments as heretofore.

Orders will be placed as rapidly as possible for an entirely new stock of goods for each department and the establishment will soon be overflowing again with an assortment of the very latest goods, unequalled by any retail Fancy Goods Store in Canada.

Ten Days Longer.

For ten days longer, still more Sweeping Clearing Sale prices will be continued until stock-taking is fully completed.

Mr. Routley will be found at the office in the store during the next few weeks to settle his outstanding accounts and wind up his business affairs.

Respectfully soliciting a continuance of your esteemed patronage.

C. F. KUTZBACH,

Successor to O. B. Routley.

LOCAL NEWS.

District L. O. L.

A meeting of the District Orange Lodge Lodge will be held this evening in Unity Hall, when officers for the year will be elected.

Is Your Piano in Tune?

The change of season affects pianos as well as anything else. Mr. Geo. Gumpricht, practical piano maker and tuner, with 28 years experience, attends to all orders left at Mr. H. S. Macdonald's drug store.

Annual Meeting.

The Children's Aid Society will hold its annual meeting on Friday afternoon at 3.30 in the council chamber, when officers for the year will be elected and other important business transacted, including the reading of the secretary's report. The general public is cordially invited to attend.

To-Night's Meeting.

A joint meeting of the members of the Council and Board of Trade will be held this evening, in the council chamber, to take into consideration the matter of offering inducements to a large firm of manufacturers, which intends moving its headquarters. Any of the citizens interested will be welcome at the meeting.

Fun With the Farmers.

The Joshua Simpkins Company put up a grand bill to a big house at the Opera House last night. Everybody was delighted with the orchestra which furnished a programme of high class musical selections, which was an entertainment in itself well worth the price of admission, leaving the remainder of a splendid programme as clear profit. The fun furnished by the farmers was fast and furious, the acting true to nature, the specialties, scenic, saltatory and vocal, touched high watermark all the way through the performance. With such a jolly lot of farmers the crop of fun is always good.

Furniture by Private Sale.

The handsome furniture and contents of Mr. P. Henry's residence, No. 318 Charlotte street, opposite Charlotte street Methodist church, is open for purchase by private sale—either in part or en bloc. Parties can view the furniture on and after Monday, January 11th, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 9 p.m., for one week. The furniture is all new and modern in design, having received comparatively little wear, and is well worthy the attention of housekeepers wishing to make additions to their furniture, or those about to start housekeeping. 6d5

Mace as a Masher.

Sometimes the ability to put up one's "fives" effectively, comes in handy. Jem Mace found this true when he first visited Canada. In those days visitors to Niagara Falls were robbed right and left, something that cannot happen since the Government took over the place. In those days there was at the Falls a sort of museum of curiosities to which the unsuspecting visitor was allowed free access, but when, having completed his inspection, he came to pass out, a dollar or two dollars was demanded according to the visitor's apparent ability to pay. If the visitor refused to be fleeced and gave trouble, a stalwart bully attached to the establishment, put in an appearance and to save a pommelling the victim paid the extortion. The game was tried on Mace when he visited the museum. He didn't pay. When the bully threatened to "break him in two" the champion dropped a half-ton punch on the bully's chin, knocking him through a glass cabinet and doing about a hundred dollars worth of damage to the curios it contained. "Jem" then retired unmolested.

AN ODDFELLOW REMEMBERED.

Bro. W. F. Green, Pianist of Otonabee Lodge Presented With a Splendid P. G. Jewel.

Mr. W. F. Green has been the pianist of Otonabee Lodge I.O.O.F. for about fifteen years, and last evening his long and faithful service was recognized in the presentation to him of a handsome Gold Past Grand's jewel by the members of the lodge.

It was the occasion of the regular meeting, and when the order of "good and welfare" was reached the Noble Grand, Capt. J. W. Miller, called upon Bro. R. M. Roy, P.G., to perform the pleasant duty of making the presentation. He then read the following address:—

Bro. W. F. Green, P. G.:

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER,—We, the members of Otonabee Lodge, No. 13, I. O. O. F., cannot but appreciate the valuable services you have cheerfully and faithfully rendered for so many years as pianist and a valued adviser. The interest you have taken in the Lodge has made you dear to all the members. We desire to inform you that you efforts have been heartily appreciated. Our earnest wish is that you may long be spared to continue in the good work. We ask you therefore to accept this Past Grand's jewel as a slight token of the esteem of the entire lodge, assuring you that we cannot express our thanks as we would wish.

Signed on behalf of the Lodge,

J. W. MILLER, N. G.

Bro. Green was never so surprised since he rode the goat, but he briefly replied, thanking the members heartily for their splendid gift.

MLLE. VENDETTA DISAPPEARS.

The Pretty Little Fortune Teller Flits at Night.

For the past few weeks Mlle. Vendetta, a pretty little curly-headed brunette, has been holding seances at the Grand Central Hotel, and her callers were many.

During the evening dozens of ladies skipped quietly into the elevator and were whirled away up to the parlour to await their turn for an interview, and and an opportunity of ascertaining what the future held in store for them.

Mademoiselle Vendetta was accommodating, and professed to be able to foretell the future, either by physiognomy, palmistry, phrenology or occult science, but her patrons, or as they now style themselves, her victims, aver that guesswork had more to do with it than anything else. But, be this as it may, the mademoiselle quickly skipped the town the other night and spirited her baggage away with her.

Absorbed as she was in her chosen avocation of groping in the mysteries of the future, the apostle of occult science completely forgot to settle the board bill of either herself or her manager. Perhaps, if she had been alone, Mlle. Vendetta would have been forgiven this little act of forgetfulness, but a manager is supposed to be engrossed entirely with the prosaic business end of affairs and, therefore, the omission is credited to a desire to to evade the payment of the bill, and the proprietor of the Grand Central proposes to organize a "vendetta" amongst the provincial hotelkeepers against the combination which is trying to get the inside track to such an extent.

DISTRIBUTION OF CHARITY.

Mr. Davis Would Like to see the Ladies Take an Interest.

Chairman A. L. Davis, of the Charity Committee, has a good idea concerning the administration of the affairs of his committee. He is considering the feasibility of asking each minister in town to appoint two ladies from his congregation to act conjointly with the committee in the distribution of charity.

At present there are a number of deserving poor, who are at times in need of the town's charity and are not yet quite reduced to living on the municipality. Many of these will not ask for aid, but the ladies are generally acquainted with all such cases and can give a little assistance when needed without the publicity which would accompany similar help if extended by the Charity Committee.

There is also another class of poor who make a practice of living comfortably on the churches during the winter, and receive aid from nearly all of them. An idea as that of Mr. Davis would checkmate such tricks as these, as the ladies would meet together for consultation each week and would speedily discover any imposition of this nature.

A COUPLE OF ACCIDENTS.

Two Men Get Their Hands Badly Injured.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Path. Grady, an employee of the Canadian General Electric Company, met with an accident at the works whereby he lost his thumb and forefinger.

It seems that he was moving a heavy casting with a crane, and had his hand beneath it, when the rope broke, letting the casting down on the fingers of one of his hands, crushing them so badly as to necessitate the amputation of one of them, as well as his thumb.

One of the men working on the Nassau-Little Lake section of the Trent Valley Canal, was carving up some meat in the boarding house yesterday morning when he accidentally drew the knife across the back of his hand, cutting the tendons and laying open a gash as deep as the bone. A large amount of blood was lost before the man could be brought in to a doctor. Though painful, the wound is not considered as serious.

COUNTY COUNCIL RECOUNT.

Recount Before Judge Weller of the Votes in No. 2 or Bridgenorth Division—Mr. Fitzgerald Confirmed in His Seat.

The return of Mr. G. W. Fitzgerald as county councillor for No. 2 division—including North Monaghan, Smith and Ennismore, being by so small a majority over Mr. Forster—3—a recount was held before Judge Weller to-day at the Court House. Mr. John Burnham, Q.C., appeared for Mr. Forster, and Mr. G. W. Hatton for Mr. Fitzgerald. The result of the recount was to confirm Mr. Fitzgerald in his seat by a majority of 2. Mr. Forster gaining one on the recount. The recounted figures stand as follows:

Middleton	332
Fitzgerald	329
Forster	327
Orough	324

THE STANDING COMMITTEES.

Councillor McWilliams submitted the report of the "Striking Committee" as appended:

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Special Committee appointed to draft the Standing Committees beg leave to report and recommend as follows:—

Finance—Denne, Best, Neill, White, Meldrum.

Sewerage—Best, McWilliams, Dawson, Meldrum, Denne, Graham.

Streets and Bridges—McWilliams, Meldrum, Best, Denne, Dawson, Graham.

Fire, Water and Light—White, Davis, Best, Graham, Dawson.

Joint Committee—Davis, McWilliams, Best, Meldrum, Dawson, Neill.

Legal—McWilliams, Davis, Meldrum, Best.

2. That the usual grant of $350 be made to the Mayor to meet contingent expenses of his office.

3. That $300 be applied for contingent expenses of chairmen of committees to be paid on the authority of the Mayor and the chairman of the Finance Committee on receiving a statement of expenses from the chairman of any committee.

That the first name mentioned be the chairman on each committee.

Councillor Neill objected to the sum of $300 being set aside as a fund upon which the chairman could draw at pleasure. He also thought that $300 was enough for the Mayor. He stated that he had been elected on the promise to practise economy in the council and he proposed to start in at once.

Councillor McWilliams explained that the fund was well guarded. If a chairman wished to draw on it his account had first to be passed by the Finance Committee as any other account. The system was not a new one but had been established by a previous council. It was not necessary that the whole $300 be spent, but it was well to have such an amount as a contingent fund.

Councillor Meldrum thought that $400, equally divided, would be ample for the Mayor and chairman of committees.

The Mayor was of the opinion that the discussion probably arose out of the report that he had used the $250 for his own purposes last year, but he wished to state that it and a good deal more had gone out of his pocket in the way of incidental expenses connected with the office which he held.

Councillor Best explained that every account brought in by a chairman of a committee had to have a proper voucher attached to it, and that the fund therefore could not be drawn upon indiscriminately. Each account had to be passed by the Finance Committee. If a councillor gave his services to the town free he thought that was enough, without forcing him to go down into his pocket for incidental expenses.

Councillor Neill withdrew his objection on hearing the explanation.

Councillor Dawson introduced the bylaw for the appointment of school trustees to fill the vacancies caused by retiring trustees. Seconded by Councillor Cobb, he moved that Dr. Caldwell and Mr. W. G. Ferguson be re-appointed.

Councillors McWilliams and Denne moved that Messrs. Benj Shortly and Adam Hall be re-appointed members of the Board of Health.

Both motions were incorporated in the same bylaw which was passed.

RESOLUTIONS.

Councillor Dawson rose to state that, as labour was scarce, the corporation employees had a hard time in getting along unless their wages were given them at shorter intervals. He would like to see them paid every week instead of fortnightly.

Councillor Cobb stated that he had a motion ready dealing with the subject and, seconded by Councillor Dawson, moved that the corporation labourers be paid once a week instead of every two weeks, as at present.—Carried.

Councillors McWilliams and Cobb moved that the Street and Bridge Committee be authorized to advertise for tenders for 500 or more cords of stone for street purposes and to award the contract therefor, tenders to be received from ratepayers only.

Councillor Meldrum objected to the power being given to any committee to award contracts. It was setting a bad precedent. Seconded by Councillor Neill he moved that the committee report before the tenders be awarded.

Councillor Denne thought the contract should be awarded at once, as the council might not meet for a month.

Councillor Dawson also thought the matter should be settled immediately as the men were all waiting for work.

Councillor Davis was quite satisfied, as a business man, to trust the awarding of the contract to the personnell of the committee.

Councillor McWilliams, however, stated if there was any objection to his motion he was quite willing to have it amended, and the committee will accordingly report to a special meeting of the council, to be called as soon as possible.

Councillors Meldrum and White moved that the council meet in committee of the whole to-morrow evening to meet the representatives of an industry which is meditating moving its headquarters.—Carried.

Councillors Best and Denne moved that a vote of thanks be tendered to the retiring members of the past council as an acknowledgment of their efforts in performing their full share of the duties imposed upon them as representatives of the council.—Carried.

The council then adjourned to partake of the hospitality of the Mayor, who had ordered an oyster supper to be prepared at Melrose's restaurant.

Also a lot of reed and rattan rockers—cheap! cheap! Several cases of pictures, good subjects, complete, at less than you have been accustomed to pay for frames only. A. CLEGG. 427 George street.

A Heavy Loss

Mr. James Hicks, formerly reeve of Harvey, who moved out to Balgonie, Assiniboia, some eight years ago, has had the misfortune to have his entire crop burned. The barn, out-buildings and machinery were also consumed. He was only able to rescue one horse and four pigs. In a letter received he considers his loss to be about $1,200.

Just Arrived.

We have imported for your special benefit a choice lot of British Columbia canned Salmon, Cross & Blackwell's celebrated English pickles. Sardines in oil; also in mustard. We have the finest line of groceries obtainable always in stock. A call will not disappoint either you or E. BROWN & Co., 308 George street.

P.S.—We have made special arrangements to handle Gooderham & Worts' whiskey on draught.

The Annuals Nearly All Gone.

Bear in mind that we have a very limited supply of Sunday at Home and Leisure Hour—latest editions. If you wish to secure a copy at half price, namely $ 100, come at once to the Peterborough Book Store, or telephone No. 235, and we will send you a copy. Girls' Own, "Our Darlings," $1.00, for 25c, are just about closed out—the price sells them. You cannot get better, cheaper or more interesting reading for less money. A. H. STRATTON & Co.

M. L. Henry & Co. to Their Customers

The very encouraging nature of our business during the past year has determined us to use our very best efforts in continuing to give our customers very special advantages in goods and prices during 1897. In order to do this we must have the cash to pay for what we buy. Our customers will therefore help us and help themselves as well by settling their accounts without delay. Our customers owing overdue accounts will confer a favour by calling at the store before January 20th, and make arrangements for settlement of same. M. L. HENRY & Co., Family Grocers Wine and Liquor Merchants.

Better To-day Than Yesterday.

Edward Atkinson, the Economist, says that 90 per cent. of the business of the country is of such a nature that it must be done whether the times are good or bad. The man who slows down or closes up simply leaves his competitor that much more business. He who stops advertising withdraws himself from the channels of trade, and no one who is really in business should be asked to pay any attention to his croaking about hard times, but should make a better effort to-day than he did yesterday.

ASHBURNHAM COUNCIL INAUGURAL MEETING.

MR. FRANK ADAMS MAKES HIS DEBUT AS REEVE.

The Village Council Down to Business—A Large Number of Communications Received — Appointments Made—Economy the Watchword—Other Business Transacted.

The first meeting of the Ashburnham council for the year 1897 was held in the town hall last evening. There were present Reeve Frank Adams, in the chair, and Councillors Morgan Rutherford, Johnston and Smith.

There was also a large number of the ratepayers present, who evinced a deep interest in the proceedings.

Reeve Adams addressed the meeting before the business of the evening was taken up. He was pleased to see so many ratepayers present, and hoped that their interest in the village affairs would not wane during the year. It was, he continued, the intention of the council to pursue a policy of economy during the year. The reeve then dealt with the financial statement of the village as presented on Dec. 15th, and stated that the present council would start with a current liability of $2,000 against them, but if the affairs of the village were conducted on an economical basis during the year, he felt confident that this sum would be greatly reduced.

The following

were received:

From Walter J. Patterson, applying for position of assessor for 1897.

From Mr. T. B. Croly applying for position of assessor for 1897.

From Henry Thompson applying for the position of assessor for 1897.

From A. D. Russell applying for position as auditor for the year 1897.

From Andrew J. Mather applying for position as auditor for 1897.

From B. M. Eden applying for the position of assessor for 1897.

From John H. Mowry applying for the position of assessor for the 1897.

From John C. Wright applying for the position of collector for the year 1897.

From Wm. Campbell offering to supply dog tags for the village at $5 per hundred.

From Wm. Cook, applying for the position of road inspector, health officer, etc., at a salary of $300 per year.

From J. A. McWilliams, applying for the position of road inspector, etc., at a salary of $263 per year.

From Thos. Mitchell applying for the position of road inspector, etc., at a salary of $225 per year.

From Wm. Frith offering to purchase stone in gravel pit for $8. The council decided to use this stone on streets.

APPOINTMENTS.

Moved by Mr. Rutherford, seconded by Mr. Morgan, that Mr. A. D. Russell be appointed auditor for the village for the present year at a salary of $8. The Reeve appointed Thos. Q. Quartermaine as the other auditor at the same salary.

On motion of Messrs. Smith and Johnston, Mr. John T. Wright was appointed collector at the same salary as last year—$80.

On motion of Messrs. Morgan and Rutherford, Mr. Harry Thompson was appointed assessor at a salary of $75.

The bylaw appointing these officers was read and passed by the council.

ACCOUNTS.

On motion of Messrs. Johnston and Smith, the following accounts were ordered to be paid:

T Fitzgerald	$ 2 50
Times Printing Co	12 40
Electric expenses	24 60
T Bamlesse	2 00
J C Sullivan	1 50
Arc Lights	165 00
Gas account	1 80
	$210 60

A MERCHANT'S MISTAKE.

Councillor Johnston at this juncture rose and stated he had learned that an account had passed through the council, presented by Mr. Craig, which the council had no right to pay, as the article mentioned in the account was not procured by the village. He merely brought the matter before the council for investigation.

Mr. John Craig, sr., who was present, indignantly denied the charge, and stated that while he was ill an account (which should have been presented to him) was, by mistake, sent to the council before being certified by him. The mistake, it appears, was made by a town merchant, and not by Mr. Craig, who promised a satisfactory explanation at the next meeting.

MONTHLY STATEMENT.

The treasurer was instructed to prepare a monthly statement of the receipts and expenditures of the village for presentation to the council.

CHARITY COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

Moved by Messrs. Smith and Johnston that the mover and seconder be appointed the Charity Committee for the North Ward, and Messrs. Morgan and Rutherford for the South Ward, and members of the committe sign all orders.—Carried.

STREET AND BRIDGE COMMITTEE.

On motion of Messrs. Smith and Morgan the whole council will constitute the Street and Bridge Committee with Mr. Rutherford as chairman.

GUARDIANS OF VILLAGE PROPERTY.

On motion of Messrs. Rutherford and Smith, Messrs. Morgan and Johnston were appointed to look after village property.

A QUESTION OF BONDS.

Mr. Smith made enquiries regarding the tenders for snow ploughing, and if any contract had been made, and also if the proper bonds were signed.

Mr. Rutherford in reply stated that the gentlemen tendering had promised to sign proper agreements, and also had procured reliable bondsmen.

On motion of Messrs. Smith and Rutherford, the Clerk was instructed to prepare the necessary contract and bond for the contractors for snow ploughing, and that the parties thereto subscribe to the same before any money is paid on the respective contracts.

A TEMPORARY APPOINTMENT.

On motion of Messrs. Rutherford and Morgan, Mr. Craig was retained as road inspector, etc., to 31st Jan., 1897, the position to be declared vacant after that date.

THE FIRE PROTECTION MATTER.

This knotty question was again the subject for discussion, Messrs. Smith and Johnston being the principal speakers. As the late council had decided, at a meeting held during the past year, to pay over to the town the sum of $200 for fire protection, it was resolved, on motion of Messrs. Rutherford and Smith, that the treasurer be instructed to issue a cheque to the town of Peterborough for $200, as payment in full for fire protection to the 31st Dec., 1896.

ELECTRIC LIGHT CONTRACT.

On motion of Messrs. Johnston and Smith, Messrs. Rutherford and Johnston was appointed a committee to get rates for new contract for lighting purposes for the village.

THAT VILLAGE TELEPHONE.

On motion of Messrs. Morgan and Rutherford the clerk was instructed to notify the Telephone Company that the village would not be responsible for the telephone after the month of February, 1897.

Before adjournment the reeve thanked the ratepayers for turning out, and expressed the wish that he would see them present at every meeting.

The new council evidently means to apply the pruning knife in municipal affairs, judging by their remarks at last evening's meeting, and the large number present showed their approval of the proposed policy by frequent and hearty hand clapping.

OBITUARY.

The Late Mrs. Francis Crowe, of Dummer.

On the 2nd of January, Mrs. Mary Ann Crowe, relict of the late Francis Crowe, entered into rest at the age of 78 years. The deceased lady was a native of Cornwall, England. She came to this country in 1832, and was united in married to Mr Francis Crowe, who died about 20 years ago, and was for nineteen years reeve of the township of Dummer. Since his death Mrs. Crowe has lived with her son, Richard, on the homestead farm, where she resided at the time of her demise. Mrs. Crowe left behind her a large number of descendants—five sons and five daughters, forty-six grandchildren, and forty-five great grandchildren. The daughters are: Mrs. Wm. Darling, Mrs. John Hughes, Mrs. John Carveth, and Mrs. John Miles, Dummer; and Mrs. W. H. Hunter, Norwood. The sons are Messrs. Christopher, William, J. J., Richard and Joseph Crowe, all of the township of Dummer.

In love she lived,
In peace she died,
Her life was asked,
But God denied.

The mortal remains of Mrs. Crowe were laid at rest on Monday, Jan. 4th, in the old cemetery on the third line of Dummer, being followed to their last resting place by a large concourse of mourning relatives and sympathising friends.

Majority for Lindsay, 51 shots.

In Lindsay the Peterborough rinks were all well in the lead by the time the game was two-thirds over, but in the last half dozen the Lindsay men pulled themselves together and came out on top.

In Peterborough Skips Hatton and Atrill played in very hard look and their opponents ran away from them at the very start. Skip Connal had a good close game for the first half, but pulled away at the latter end and won very handily.

It is to be hoped that in the return match the Peterborough curlers will retrieve the loss.

HOCKEY.

A telegram was received to-day from the Royal Military College hockey team, Kingston, defaulting in both games which it was scheduled to play against the Peterboroughs. The local management, therefore, is making arrangements to bring in the strongest out of the town aggregation in order that the boys can have a good practice game before running up against Queens.

The defaultcation of the R. M. C's will enable the seniors to considerably strengthen the Intermediate and Junior teams for their first games.

A hockey team composed of lacrosse players goes up to Lakefield for a game on Thursday night.

Havelock has a fine large rink and will organize a hockey and curling club.

Half an acre of the Riverside Park rink will be surrounded by a low board partition and reserved for hockey games.

For to-night's practice the following players are called out:

Dixon	goal	Hopkins
Glover	point	D Davidson
Tobrue	cover point	Borland
Grubbe	forwards	McGachen
King		Comstock
Crossley		Watt
Beglehem		Rubidge

There will be a referee at each night's practice to prevent off side play.

PUBLIC INSTALLATION.

Court Little John, C.O.F., Entertains its Friends.

The newly elected officers of Court Little John, Canadian Order of Foresters, were publicly installed last evening, in the S.O.E. Hall, Hunter street. The interesting ceremony was conducted by Mr. F. J. Jameson, of the Executive Committee, assisted by Mr. Joseph Saunders, acting as High Marshall.

Invitations had been issued to the members and their friends and there was a very large attendance. At the conclusion of the installation Bro. Jameson was called to the chair and made a few remarks on the progress of the Order, stating that Canadian Forestry had now become a household word throughout the length and breadth of the county, where its benefits were known in almost every home. The following programme was then introduced:

PROGRAMME.

Flute Solo	Mr Butcher
Song	Bro G W Mulligan

When the programme had been concluded those present were invited to partake of a bountiful oyster supper, which was served in one of the ante rooms. So pleasing an entertainment was furnished that the guests of the evening before adjourning voted their hosts "jolly good fellows."

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—A little snow would be gratefully received.

—The mosquitos were not biting hard this morning.

—A shawl is awaiting an owner at the police station.

—Mr. T. Cavanagh shipped three carloads of horses to Montreal yesterday.

—Mr. Mulligan's class will begin work on the cantata "Ruth," by Arthur A. Gaul, this evening. The cantata will be presented in March next.

—Mr. John Martin, says the Havelock Standard, was in town on Tuesday looking up cord wood for the firm with which he is connected in Peterborough.

—Mr. Grant, sewer contractor, well known in Peterborough, met with a very heavy loss by the caving in of 50 feet of sewer excavation in London, Ont.

—A young fellow named Bonner, who lives with Mr. Peoples, ex-reeve of Belmont, accidentally shot himself while loading a revolver on Wednesday night. The shot went through his hand.

—Don't miss the grand athletic entertainment in the opera house to-night. Jem Mace, the retired champion of the world will box four rounds with John F. Scholes. Other champion pugilists will also appear. This will be the greatest exhibition of the manly art ever given in Peterborough. The prices have been reduced to 25, 35 and 50c.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Wm. McFarlane, of the Carleton House, Young's Point, is visiting friends in town.

Mr. Court King returned to Montreal last night, where he will resume his studies at McGill University.

Alderman Allen, of Kingston, who was this year re-elected by acclamation, is in town renewing old acquaintances.

Miss Maud Graham of Peterborough, says the Havelock Standard, has been visiting friends at the Graham House.

Mr. James Duff, of Brandon, Manitoba, is on a visit to this vicinity, the guest of his mother, Mrs. James Duff, Lakefield.

Mr. W. A. Shaw has been re-appointed agent for the celebrated Newcombe piano for the territory between Toronto and Smith's Falls on the C.P.R., and Toronto and Gananoque on the Grand Trunk. Mr. Shaw has placed a large number of pianos during the past year, and his re-appointment by such an enterprising company is in itself a high recommendation of his abilities.

After Acute Bronchitis

CURED BY USING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

A PREACHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"Three months ago, I took a violent cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis. I put myself under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has relieved me almost entirely of all unpleasant symptoms, and I feel sure that one or two bottles more will effect a permanent cure. To all ministers suffering from throat troubles, I recommend Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—E. M. BRAWLEY, D. D., Dist. Secretary, Am. Bapt. Publication Society, Petersburg, Va.

THE DOMINION POSTAL AND MONEY ORDER SYSTEM.

Sketch of Its Development and Voluminous Though Interesting Statistics of the Work Done—Growth of the Service—Facts as to Registered Letters and Money Orders.

In the year 1851 an Act of the Imperial Parliament transferred the management of the postal systems in the colonies of British North America to the various provincial authorities, and from that date until Confederation each province controlled its own system under its own laws and regulations. Shortly after Confederation, however, the Postoffice Act came into effect, establishing uniform rates and regulations for the Dominion.

These regulations, which since that date have changed from time to time, are now as follows: General letter rate, 3 cents per ounce or under; letters for local delivery, where there is a free delivery, 2 cents per ounce or under; letters for local delivery, where not delivered free, 1 cent per ounce or under; registration fee, 5 cents; letter cards, 3 cents; postcards, 1 cent; newspapers, books, etc., generally 1 cent per 4 ounces; parcels, 6 cents per 4 ounces; fifth-class matter (parcels open to inspection), 1 cent per ounce.

In the year 1875 an agreement was made with the United States, whereby a common rate of postage between the two countries was adopted, each country retaining all money collected, and no accounts being kept between the two Postoffice Departments with regard to international correspondence. Later, in 1888, another agreement was made, specially providing for the establishment of an exchange of general articles of merchandise, open to inspection, between the two countries, subject to certain regulations for the protection of customs with respect to articles liable to duty. All the principal provisions, however, of the agreement of 1875 were retained. The internal postage rates of each country generally govern, and official correspondence entitled to pass free in one country is delivered free in the other.

The Universal Postal Union was formed at a conference held at Berne in 1874, and a treaty was signed in that year, the countries represented being the several countries of Europe, the United States and Egypt. The object of the union was to form all the countries of the world into a single postal territory, and to establish uniform reduced rates of postage, and to further the interchange of correspondence by arranging that every country should be bound to convey the mails of other countries by its land or sea services at the lowest possible rates. The next Postal Congress was held in Paris in 1878, when the Dominion of Canada was admitted a member from the following 1st July. Letters, newspapers and other printed matter, samples and patterns became subject to uniform postal rates and regulations for all places in Europe and for all other countries that were members of the union. The existing postal arrangements with the United States were allowed to remain undisturbed, being of a more liberal and advantageous character than the ordinary regulations of the treaty. At this meeting the regulations of the treaty of 1874 were revised and embodied in a convention which came into force 1st April, 1879.

The third congress was held in Lisbon in 1885, but no material change was made. The fourth congress was held in Vienna, 1891, when the admission of the Australasian colonies was agreed upon, and a number of measures, all tending to facilitate the transmission of correspondence, were agreed upon.

The Universal Postal Union now includes almost every civilized country in the world, being composed of the following: The whole of Europe, the whole of America; in Asia—Russia in Asia, Turkey-in-Asia, Persia, British India, Burmah, Ceylon and the postal establishments at Aden, Muscat and Guadar, Japan, Siam, the European colonies and the European and Japanese postal establishments in China and Corea; in Africa—Egypt, Algeria, Tripoli, Tunis, Liberia, Congo Free State, the Azores, Madeira, the European colonies, the Orange Free State, the Transvaal and all the territories under the protectorate of Germany and the French postal establishment in Madagascar; in Australasia and Oceanica—the British colonies, Tasmania, New Zealand, Fiji, British and German New Guinea, Hawaii, the Marshall Islands and the French, Dutch and Spanish colonies.

A central office has been established at Berne at the cost of the various countries comprising the union. At the time that the treaty of Berne came into effect (1875) the jurisdiction of the union extended over an area of 14,293,700 square miles, with more than 350 millions of inhabitants, whereas it now extends over an area of 39,372,000 square miles and 1,035,000,000 inhabitants. The population of the whole world is less than a billion and a half.

The number of pieces of postal matter distributed over the whole area of the union during 1893 was computed as follows: 8201 millions of letters, 1898 millions of postal cards, 5899 millions of papers, printed matter and official documents, 143 millions of samples, 44 millions of registered letters with a declared value of $8,028,400,000, 307 millions of money orders and postal credits with a value of $3,061,752,000, making the enormous total of 17,778 millions of pieces of mail matter. The prevailing rates among Postal Union countries are 5 cents per 1-2 ounce and under for letters, 2 cents for postal cards and 1 cent per 2 ounces for newspapers, books, etc. The registration fee is 5 cents.

On account of the enormous stretches of country over which the mail has to be delivered at the ordinary rates the Government of Canada found itself behind in the Postoffice Department to the extent of $800,000, the total net revenue being $2,792,790, and the total expenditure $3,593,647. The same trouble has confronted the postoffice authorities of the United States, as in only ten of the States are the posal revenues in excess of the expenditure.

The following sums were expended for carrying the mails: By rail, $1,241,115; by land, $844,118; by steamers, $79,856. The department has postal contracts with 48 railways, whose combined length is 14,463 miles. It uses 157 postal cars of which 53 are on the Grand Trunk, 50 on the Canadian Pacific and 18 on the Intercolonial. The daily distance travelled is 30,436 miles. The total distance travelled in 1895 was 14,836,735 miles.

The correspondence between Canada and China and Japan consisted last year of 179,993 letters, 77,488 newspapers, 652 pounds of parcels, and miscellaneous articles to the number of 61,049. With the Australian colonies the mail communication resulted in the transmission of 148,729 letters, 313,525 newspapers, 206,916 books and samples.

At Confederation there were only 3638 postoffices in Canada. There are now 8832. The first year of Confederation 704,700 registered letters were sent; last year 3,133,200 registered letters were sent. The total letters posted in 1868 were 18,100,000; in 1895 they numbered 107,565,000. Postcards were used in the year 1876 to the number of 4,646,000. Last year no less than 24,025,000 of them were sent by mail. According to the population there were 5.27 letters to every head of population; in 1889 there were 10.86 letters per head; in 1890 there were 19.63 letters per head, and in 1895 21.16 letters per head.

Newspapers, periodicals, books, circulars, parcels, etc., to the number of 5.6 per head of population went through the mails in 1868. Last year 18.92 per head of population were handled, or a total number of 96,176,206.

Of the total 107,565,000 letters sent in 1895, Ontario people wrote 57,900,000, or more than one-half. This is at the rate of 26 letters per head of population. Quebec sent letters at the rate of 15 per head; Nova Scotia, 17; New Brunswick, 17; Prince Edward Island, 11; British Columbia, 27, and Manitoba and Northwest Territories 25. Out of a total of 3,183,200 registered letters Ontario sent 1,750,000.

During the whole period since Confederation the postal revenue has been always considerably under the expenditure. Each of the past twenty years has shown a deficit of from $400,000 to $800,000.

The sum of $16,154 was paid during last year in money on letters delivered. Rents of letter boxes and drawers produced $27,698. Commissions on money orders amounted to $107,085, and profit on exchange on money order business with other countries to $1815. Among the items of expenditure it appears that postmasters received $905,369; stamp vendors made $17,325, and that there were losses by fire and burglaries to the extent of $3278.

In 1868 the conveyance of mails over 10,622,216 miles cost per mile 5 1-10 cents, and the transmission of 36,984,800 letters, newspapers, etc., cost 1 4-10 cents apiece. In 1895 the conveyance of mails over 30,351,115 miles cost 7 2-10 cents per mile, and the transmission of 227,766,206 letters, newspapers, etc., 9-10 of a cent apiece, so that there is a decrease in the cost of carrying each article of about one-half cent. And in connection with this it must be considered that if newspapers were carried now at the old rate of 1 cent per pound a sum of probably not less than 160,000 would be added to the revenue each year.

The system of free delivery of letters by carriers in the principal cities was commenced in 1875, and last year the total number delivered thus was: Letters and postcards, 38,083,749; newspapers, 13,734,474. The number of carriers employed was 836.

Last year 2,153,200 registered letters were posted in Canada. Of this number 164 failed to reach their destination. No less than 28,158 of those re-

MONTREAL NEWS NOTES.

Who Will Succeed Sir Joseph Hickson?—Mr. Cook's Hard Luck—Dan Sheehan Arrested.

Montreal, Jan. 10.—(Special.)—The question amongst banking men is to know who will succeed the late Sir Joseph Hickson on the directorate of the Merchants' Bank of Canada. The name of A. A. Ayer, the Cheese King of Canada, is prominently mentioned for the position, and he would certainly be an acquisition to the board.

Mr. John Galt, New York manager of the Merchants' Bank, was in the city today. He says that times are very dull, and that money is a drug in New York. Before the Presidential election ¼ per cent. per day was charged, and now it is 1½ per cent. per annum.

It is now said that the pooling arrangements which had been about completed by the passenger departments of the Vermont Central, the Delaware & Hudson and the St. Lawrence and Adirondack have already fallen through, the cause being the inability of the roads in question to agree as to details.

Mr. Joseph P. Cook, M.L.A. for Drummond, is in hard luck. He was elected for Drummond as a Conservative, but soon passed into the Liberal camp and a few days ago issued an address to the electors of Drummond, stating that he was a candidate for re-election. Yesterday, however, the party convention took place at Drummondville, and the choice fell upon Mr. Watts, ex-M.L.A., Mr. Cook only receiving four votes. In the face of this treatment by his new friends, Mr. Cook will either go it alone or seek a city constituency.

Mr. Silas H. Carpenter, late of the Canadian Secret Service Bureau, will enter Wednesday next upon his new duties of Chief of the Montreal detective force.

In the Beauharnois contested election case, Mr. J. G. H. Bergeron, M.P., the respondent, has appealed to the Supreme Court of Canada against the decision of the local Judge dismissing preliminary objections. Mr. J. K. Elliott represents Mr. Bergeron.

The sick man knocking at the door of health gets in if he knocks the right way, and, stays out if he doesn't. There are thousands of ways of getting sick, but only one way to get well. Do whatever you will, if you do not put your digestion in good order, and make your blood rich and pure, you will not get well. Rich, pure blood is the only thing that can bring perfect health. Constipation is a disease of the blood. A large part of all diseases are traceable directly to impurities in the blood, and can be cured by eliminating them with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The first thing it does is to put the whole digestive system into perfect order. It stimulates the appetite, excites a copious secretion of the digestive fluids and promotes assimilation. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be, kill s them and forces them out of the system. The "Golden Medical Discovery" has been used with unvarying success for over 30 years.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS ALWAYS CURE

AFTER TEN YEARS SUFFERING

TWO BOX CURE

MILVERTON, 20TH JULY, 1895.

Gentlemen,—For the last ten years I had been troubled with kidney disease, being so bad at intervals that I could not lie in bed at night nor stoop to the ground.

I had tried all the remedies I could find without effect, but heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured a box.

I am most happy to say it for my own sake as well as for others that I am perfectly cured after using four boxes.

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia---Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Scores of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—So says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

The weakest place in a house or fort, or any place of defense, usually turns out to be that which was thought strongest. The weakest place in a man's body is that in which he esteems himself strongest. Achilles never thought he would turn his heel to an enemy, but it was in that unarmored place the fatal arrow was planted. It is usually the organ in his body that a man thinks strongest, that disease assaults and batters down. Caution a man about neglecting his health and mention consumption, and he will pound his chest and laugh you to scorn. He does not realize that consumption beats down this defense imperceptibly, inch by inch. The lungs once attacked the only weapon of defense is the right remedy.

98 per cent. of all cases of consumption are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It corrects disordered digestion, invigorates the liver, makes the appetite hearty and assimilation perfect, fills the blood with the elements that build healthy flesh and muscle, and drives all impurities and disease-germs from the blood. All druggists sell it.

"I have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' in my family," writes Mrs. G. A. Conner, of Alleghany Springs, Montgomery Co., Va., "and have found it to be the best medicine that I ever used. I have also used his 'Compound Extract of Smart-Weed,' and 'Pleasant Pellets.' They will do just what they are recommended to do."

The newly-wedded wife, above all other women, needs a good medical book. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser fills this want. It contains over 1000 pages and 300 illustrations. Several chapters are devoted to the physiology of the organs distinctly feminine. Send 31 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of customs and mailing only, to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., for a free copy, paper-covered. If a cloth binding is wanted, send 50 one-cent stamps.

CANADA'S BIG BUSINESS.

gistered letters were sent to the dead letter office. Of these 15,189 were returned to the writers, 1339 remained in the office or with the postmasters for delivery, while 12,330 failed of delivery and were found to contain no value. Of the 164 which failed to reach their destination the contents of 125 were made good by the officials or others held responsible for the loss; five were stolen, and in 28 cases no evidence could be obtained to account for the discrepancies. In every 19,410 registered letters only one miscarried, so that sending by registered letter in Canada may be considered a very safe method.

Last year 960,031 letters found their way to the dead letter office. Of this number 134,843 were returned to other countries; 24,973 were forwarded to correct address; 288,779 were returned to their writers; 8547 remained in the office; 471,850 being of no value were destroyed; 23,093 were returned to printed address, and 8455 were returned to Government Department.

The growth of the money order system is shown by the following figures: In 1868 there were 515 offices, 90,163 orders issued; amount of orders $3,352,881. Last year there were 1261 offices, 1,092,062 orders issued; amount of orders $13,187,322. Of the 1261 money order offices, Ontario has 634 and Quebec 190. Of the total money orders issued in Canada $10,736,647 were payable in Canada and $2,450,064 in other countries.

MONEY SAVED BY THRIFT.

The Canadian Post-office Savings Bank System and Its Growth.

The post-office savings bank system has been in operation in Canada ever since the year 1867.

At first the savings banks were limited in their operation to the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec. In 1885, however, the system was extended to the Provinces of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, and now there are post-office savings banks in all the provinces, distributed as follows: Ontario, 443; Quebec, 123; Nova Scotia, 45; New Brunswick, 34; Manitoba, 15; British Columbia, 23; Prince Edward Island, 3; and the Territories, 22, making a total of 731.

Under the provision of the original act no deposit must be less than $1, and by an order-of-council of 1891 no deposit must exceed $1000, in any one year, neither must the total deposit exceed $2000.

Government savings banks under the management of the Finance Department have been established in the Maritime Provinces, and in Manitoba and British Columbia. In these banks deposits to the extent of $1000 are allowed. Under this system there are 38 offices, viz., 22 in Nova Scotia; 2 in Prince Edward Island, 1 in Ontario, 1 in Manitoba, and 1 in British Columbia. Last year there were 51,977 depositors, with $17,644,956 on deposit. Arrangements have been made for the transfer of the Government savings bank in each province to the Post-office Department as the position of superintendent in each place becomes vacant.

In both these classes of savings banks the rate of interest paid was formerly four per cent., but in 1889 it was reduced to 3 1-2 per cent.

On 1st April, 1868, the Post-office savings system was introduced with 31 offices. In three months there were no less than 2102 depositors, who had made 3247 deposits aggregating $204,589. In 1870 there were a million and a half dollars on deposit; in 1875, $2,926,000; in 1885, 15,090,510, and in 1895 $26,805,542.

Add to this $17,644,956 on deposit in other Government savings banks and $12,128,483 in special savings banks, and it will be seen that in 1895 the people of Canada had deposited in savings banks alone (apart from deposits in chartered banks) the sum of $57,578,981, or nearly $12 per head of population.

Last year there were 120,628 depositors in the Post-office Saving Bank, so that the size of the average account was $222.22, the highest in any year since Confederation.

Taking into account all the savings banks in the country outside of the chartered banks, the progress of the savings may be seen by taking the amount per head of population. In 1871 it was $2 93; in 1881, $5.44; in 1891, $10.42; in 1893, $11.02; and in 1895 it was $11.32 per head.

From these figures it will be seen that in 20 years from 1875 to 1895 the savings of the people have increased till they are now four times what they were at the beginning of the period per head of population.

The special savings banks which are in the Province of Quebec show development even during the past two years of depressed trade, which must have affected the earning capacity of the people.

The record of the provinces in connection with post-office savings banks shows as follows

Last year there were 88,115 depositors in Ontario, 17,612 in Quebec, 6,682 in Nova Scotia, 4,442 in New Brunswick, 1,069 in Manitoba, 1,904 in British Columbia, 101 in Prince Edward Island, and 703 in the territories.

The amount on deposit in Ontario was $18,700,691, in Quebec $4,478,695, in Nova Scotia $1,627,291 in New Brunswick $1,298,263, in Manitoba $163,058, in Prince Edward Island $13,623 ,and in the territories $108 413.

The average amount of each depositor in Ontario was $212 23; in Quebec, $254.30; in Nova Scotia, 243.53, in Manitoba, $152.53; in British Columbia, $218.09; in Prince Edward Island, $134.88, and in the territories, $154.21.

With regard to deposits per head of population, Ontario heads the list, as far as the post-office savings banks are concerned. The average is $8.50. Quebec shows $2.89 per head of population, Nova Scotia, $3.58; New Brunswick, $4.04; Manitoba, $050; British Columbia, $3.16; Prince Edward Island, $0.12, and the territories, $0.92.

The Maritime Provinces make a big showing, however, with regard to the Government savings banks. Nova Scotia has nearly $7,000,000 on deposit, with an average of $15.29 per head of population. New Brunswick has $6,441,137 on deposit, with an average of $20.05 per head of population, and Prince Edward Island has over $2,000,000 on deposit, with an average per head of $20.15.

Combining the returns of both Post-office and Government savings' banks there was on deposit last year in these institutions $44,450,428, with an average to each depositor of $253.19, and an ave age amount per head of population of $8.74.

New Brunswick has the largest amount to each depositor, both in the post-office and the other Government savings banks.

The amount on deposit in the Government savings banks, including postal and the other, per head of the population by provinces, is as follows: Ontario, $3.75; Quebec, $2.89; Nova Scotia, $18.87; New Brunswick, $24.09; Manitoba, $4.30; British Columbia, $9.03; Prince Edward Island, $20.27, and the Territories, $0.92.

The balance of deposits is not now required (as it was formerly to be invested in Canadian Government securities, but forms a part of the unfunded debt of the Dominion, and the amount of this floating capital which is at the disposal of the Government necessarily fluctuates.

A comparison between the savings banks returns in Canada and Australasia shows very much in favor of the latter country. But it must be remembered that there is no adequate means of getting at the total savings of the Canadian people, as no return is required by the Government showing the deposits with special savings banks, building and loan companies' saving branches and the savings branches of the chartered banks. These returns would doubtless swell the Canadian returns to large figures.

Following is the return per head of population of deposits in savings banks in Australasia: New South Wales, $28.38; Victoria, $29.43; Queensland, $23.25; South Australia, $35.89; Western Australia, $9.13; Tasmania, $19.01; New Zealand, $29.14. The average per head of population for Australasia is $28.18 and for Canada $8.74

The savings banks returns of the principal countries in the world show Denmark to be in the lead per head of population. Great Britain has an average of $15.55 in savings banks; Sweden, $16.76; Norway, $23.71; Holland, $7.50; Austria, $28.73; Belgium, $10.22; Italy, $11 00; France, $19.04; Denmark, $63.09; United States, $26.75.

The withdrawals from Government savings banks in Canada during five years, 1890-95, inclusive, averaged $11,783,683, and the deposits $11,804,616. The withdrawals in 1895 were $508,642 less than the five years' average, and the deposits were $839,211 more than the average for the same five years.

It is the policy of the Government to transfer, as occasion arises, the accounts from the savings banks under control of the Finance Department to the Post-office Department.

Anæmia means "want of blood," a deficiency in the red corpuscles of the blood. Its cause is found in want of sufficient food, dyspepsia, lack of exercise or breathing impure air. With it is a natural repugnance to all fat foods. Scott's Emulsion is an easy food to get fat from and the easiest way of taking fat. It makes the blood rich in just those elements necessary to robust health, by supplying it with red corpuscles.

THE DIAMOND JUBILEE.

Prince of Wales and Duke of Connaught Will Have Charge of the Program Arrangements.

London, Jan. 10.—The Queen has decided to allow the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Connaught to outline the program arrangement for the diamond jubilee to be submitted for her approval. An important detail is the list of royal guests to be entertained. It will be a larger company than can be provided for in the royal palaces, and several principal hotels may be hired. The demand for hotel accommodations for the general public is already great for jubilee week. In several hotels every available room has been engaged.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

Mr. F. H. McGuigan, General Superintendent of the G. T. R. accompanied by Mr. W. R. Tiffin, Superintendent of the Midland and Northern Divisions, and Mr. F. W. Morse, superintendent of motive power, Mr. W. McWood, superintendent of the car department, arrived in town yesterday by special train, and after staying about an hour and a half left for the north.

DAN SHEEHAN DID IT.

The Lightweight Boxer of Montreal Sent for Trial for Killing Lucie Lessard.

Montreal, Jan. 11.—(Special.)—"I write you to wish you a happy New Year and to send your father's blessing."

The above is an extract from a letter written by Francis Lessaru of St. Joseph La Beauce to his daughter, the victim of the Notre Dame-street tragedy. This morning Coroner McMahon looked into the case and the jury found by the proof that the deceased Lucie Lessard had been killed by Dan Sheehan, who pushed her down stairs, and the spinal column being dislocated she did not survive very long. Sheehan, who was sent to the Queen's Bench to stand his trial, is a noted lightweight champion, who is also well known to the police.

This afternoon Mr. Robert Bickerdike definitely declined the nomination for the Presidency of the Board of Trade, and Mr. John Torrance was almost immediately nominated for the position. Mr. Torrance, who is now the first vice-president, has been approached repeatedly to accept the nomination, but invariably declined, as he had signed the petition asking Mr. Bickerdike to accept a renomination.

Where is Gustave V. Nyman, who left Minneapolis for New York via the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railway on Nov. 10, last? This is the question which the C. P. R. officials have been asking one another for the last six weeks, and the riddle which the officers of the Canadian Secret Service will now be called upon to solve, if, indeed, solution be possible.

The fastest time ever made over the Intercolonial has just been accomplished. The Labrador mails, which left Halifax Sunday morning at 3.09, arrived in Montreal at 2.15 Monday morning.

On the 20th of the month Mayor Wilson-Smith will give a dinner at the St. James' Club, and, as it is the first of the kind offered by the city's chief magistrate, the mayor's generosity is much appreciated by the citizens. There will be 125 present, including Lord Aberdeen, Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, and his colleagues, Premier Flynn and his Ministers, Lieut.-Governor Chapleau, the twenty-five aldermen, and leading gentlemen of Montreal.

THE BRITISH ASSOCIATION.

The Local Committee Meets and Arranges a Provisional Program for the Meeting in Toronto in August.

Toronto, Jan. 12.

At yesterday's meeting of the British Association committee, the provisional program for the meeting next August was considered. Dr. Macallum presided, and among those present were: Chancellor Burwash, Provost Welch, Prof. Clark, B. E. Walker, James Bain, jr., Barlow Cumberland, Dr. Daniel Clark, Arthur Harvey, Prof. Mavor, A. H. U. Colquhoun, J. E. Hamilton. The program is subject to revision later on, but its principal features will be substantially as follows:

Wednesday, Aug. 18—Preliminary meetings of the council and the general committee of the association morning and afternoon; 8 p.m., address of the president, Sir John Evans, F.R.S., in the Massy Hall.

Thursday, Aug. 19—Meetings of sections, in most cases for the delivery of presidential addresses; a garden party; a conversazione.

Friday, Aug. 20—Meetings of sections; garden parties; 8 p.m., lecture by Prof. James Dewar, F.R.S., on "Liquid Air," in Massey Hall.

Saturday, Aug. 21—Meetings of sections in the morning; afternoon, excursion of members to Niagara, to Hamilton and neighborhood, to Muskoka, and (for glacial geologists) to the Don Valley; evening, lecture to workingmen in the Pavilion by a prominent member of the association.

Monday, Aug. 23—Meetings of sections; excursion of geologists to Scarboro' Heights; garden parties; evening, lecture by J. Milne, F.R.S., on "Earthquakes," in Massey Hall.

Tuesday, Aug. 24—Meetings of sections; excursion to Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph; garden parties; a conversazione.

Wednesday, Aug. 25—Concluding meetings of sections and general committee; garden party at Trinity College. In the evening it is proposed to give a banquet in the Pavilion in honor of Lord Kelvin, Sir Joseph Lister (who was created a Peer a few days ago) and Sir John Evans.

Thursday, Aug. 26—Excursions to Niagara Peninsula, the Thousand Islands, Ottawa, Montreal, Nova Scotia, the Upper Lakes, Manitoba and British Columbia.

The president and Mr. Cumberland announced that satisfactory communications had been received from the railways, with assurances of a willingness to co-operate with the committee for the success of the meeting by granting special rates to members visiting any part of Canada.

AS WELL AS EVER.

A Brickmaker Listens to Reason—Uses Six Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and Tells it.

Brockville, Jan. 4 (Special)—Mr. W. H. Odell, perhaps one of the best known citizens of this town has lately recovered from a long continued and painful kidney ailment. He tells the story of his experience to the correspondent as follows:

"I have suffered for over a year from kidney disease, the pain in my back being so severe that I was unable to stand to my work."

"Noticing the published cures of what Dodd's Kidney Pills were doing for others I concluded to use them."

"Having used only six boxes I can say that I am perfectly cured and well so that I can attend to business as well as ever I could."

That hacking cough can be quickly cured by Hagard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

Provincial Appointments.

Toronto, Jan. 11.

His Honor the Administrator of the Government has made the following appointments:

Bernard Louis Doyle of Goderich, junior judge of the County Court of Huron, to be local master of the Supreme Court of Judicature for Ontario, for the County of Huron, pro tempore, in the absence on leave of Sutherland Malcolmson.

Michael Brennan of St. Catharines, to be County Crown Attorney and Clerk of the Peace, for the County of Lincoln, in the stead of John McKeown, deceased.

William Henry Spencer, to be Police Magistrate for Algonquin National Park for three months, from Jan. 1, 1897.

Walter Rye, 16 Golden-square, London, England, to be commissioner for taking affidavits in the County of London for use in the courts of Ontario.

Henry David Petrie of Simcoe and Joseph Napoleon Rattery of Ottawa, each to be notary public.

The Company is Incorporated.

Albany, Jan. 11.—The Consolidated Canal and Lake Company was incorporated to-day to build for its own use, charter and navigate, steam, sail or other boats on the great lakes, Erie Canal, Bay of New York and Long Island Sound. The capital is $50,000 (the limit allowed by law for canal companies), and the directors are Charles A Pillsbury of Minneapolis, Bradford C Church of Duluth, Elbert A Young of St. Paul, all in the State of Minnesota; George H Raymond and Frank Beadle of Buffalo, Samuel B Har of Englewood, N.J., Franklin Edson, John A Cormack and Erastus Wiman of New York.

Pacific Funding Bill Defeated.

Washington, Jan. 11.—In the House the substitute to the Pacific Railroad funding bill offered by Mr. Bell (Dem., Texas), making the rate of interest on the bonds to be issued 3 per cent. instead of 2, as fixed by the bill, was defeated—110 to 116. The vote on the motion to order to a third reading and engrossment the Pacific funding bill was 167 against, 103 for. This is equivalent to a direct vote and defeats the bill.

"Old, yet ever new, and simple and beautiful ever," sings the poet, in words which might well apply to Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the most efficient and scientific blood-purifier ever offered to suffering humanity. Nothing but superior merit keeps it so long to the front.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentry, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

One Every Night.

One Laxa-Liver Pill taken each night during 30 days will cure Constipation, oft-returning Headaches and irregular action of the bowels. Laxa-Liver Pills leave no unpleasant after-effect.

Something New

—AT THE—

GOLDEN LION.

We take pleasure in announcing to the Ladies of Peterborough and surrounding districts that we will add to the already many important departments of this Great Dry Goods House

A Ladies' Whitewear Department

In which will be found all kinds of Ladies' Whitewear of the very latest style and cut. These garments are now in the hands of skilled operators and we will have them opened up for inspection in a few days. We would urge all ladies to see these goods, for they are all new and cannot be excelled for style and low price. Mr. Fair is at present visiting the American Markets and will inspect some of the leading manufactures of these goods with a view of adding to this New Department some of the Latest American styles.

We Never, NEVER like to Carry Over Stock

From One Season to Another.

Rather sell below Cost. It brings trade and gives us money in hand, and helps to keep stock fresh.

We have'nt any unsaleable goods stowed away in our cellar or garret.

If we make a mistake in buying a lot of goods and they don't move, we don't fret, worry or feel sore. We Move Them—price will do it. Bring the people in by low prices—they bring other money with them.

If trade is dull, we can force it. Push comes first, prosperity comes next. Our January Clearing Sale is always a flyer.

We never leave our store to take a social drink, or smoke a Cigar, during business hours.

Don't shop here if you don't want BARGAINS—especially this month.

CATTLE QUARANTINE.

The New Regulations to Go Into Effect at Once.

CANADIAN ORDER ALREADY PASSED

Abolition of the 90 Days' Detention Assured —Imperial Federationists Want More Radicalism in Their Program— The Reorganization of Mail Clerks—Ottawa News.

Ottawa, Jan. 12. (Special.)—The new quarantine regulations as arranged between Mr. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, and J. Sterling Morton, American Secretary of Agriculture, are to be given immediate effect. It was agreed between the representatives of the two governments that the arrangement should be made simultaneously. Canada has accomplished its share of the bargain by an Order-in-Council passed yesterday. The authorities at Washington may be counted upon to follow suit immediately. The terms of the agreement have not yet been made public. This much, however, may be said, that there is an abolition of the 90 days' quarantine which has existed for many years. This is the main point in the re-arrangement, and to this may be added the privilege of Americans shipping from Montreal, while Canadians have the use of the ports of Boston and Portland.

Ottawa Imperialists are not very enthusiastic over the British Empire League program. They do not think it is radical enough. Accordingly a new organization has been started here, with the name of "The United Empire Association," to promote the following purposes:

1. Abolition of obnoxious treaty stipulations (in other words, the abolition of those "favored nation" clauses with foreign countries which may prevent preferential trade within the Empire).
2. A general tariff (colonies included) for naval defence.
3. Representation of the colonies in the Imperial Parliament, according to contributed revenue.
4. An Imperial Parliament of Parliaments.
5. A Ministry for the Empire.

The statement published by the association explains these various points, especially as regards the necessity of the colonies contributing to Britain's navy, and emphasizes the justice in that case of colonial representation in the Imperial Parliament. The statement says: The foregoing platform it is proposed to submit for adoption to federationists in general, and those resident in Canada in particular. Those who approve of it and desire to become members of the new association are requested to notify the secretary-treasurer to that effect, remitting to him at the same time $1 as the first annual subscription. Half of this sum will be paid over to the proprietors of The Anglo-Saxon, which will be sent to each member."

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries has decided to allow spearing for coarse fish through the ice in Mitchell's Bay, Lake St. Clair, this winter. Permission has also been given to net for fish through the ice along the north shore of the Georgian Bay and Lake Superior.

Hon. Mr. Tarte was taken suddenly ill in his office in the West block today. This is the second time in two weeks that the Minister has keeled over. Without doubt he is over-working himself and ought to take warning in time. Mr. Mulock is also another Minister who is spending too much time in his office.

The Council was in session this afternoon, when it is understood the Barrie murder case was under consideration. A recommendation commuting the sentence upon Brennan to penal servitude is now before His Excellency.

Although Parliamentary sanction will have to be given to the proposed change in the position of the railway mail clerks, there is no question about the change going into effect. Hence Mr. Armstrong, who is to act as superintendent of the new branch, is getting down to work for the purpose of organizing staffs. The railway mail clerks, taken all round are a very superior class of officers, and satisfaction is expressed at Mr. Mulock's action in improving their status.

Prof. Glasmacher of Ottawa University died here to-day. He was a man of great ability. Mr. Glasmacher was born in Germany 51 years ago, and pursued his early studies in the schools of the German universities after which he accepted a professorship in St. Louis College, New York. He has been professor at Ottawa since 1877.

Mr. Allison of Port Perry, who owns some trout hatching ponds there, has informed the Commissioner of Fisheries of ill success in fish breeding, owing to the ponds being infested with a small worm, some of which he has forwarded to Ottawa. Prof. Prince has examined them microscopically, and says they are parasites which turn out to be the larvae stage of a fly (chironomous), resembling a mosquito. They are wormlike in appearance and very injurious.

At the annual meeting of the Board of Trade to-night Andrew Holland gave notice of the following resolution: "That in the opinion of this board, in the awarding of contracts for public works in this Dominion, it is the duty of the Federal and Provincial Governments to provide that such work shall be entrusted only to contractors employing workingmen owning allegiance to the British Crown."

A resolution was unanimously passed, tendering to Mr. J. R. Booth the thanks of the board for his enterprise in building the Ottawa, Arnprior and Parry Sound Railway.

Reports are still coming into the Department of Agriculture dealing with the hog cholera plague in Western Ontario. A telegram received contains the information that the outbreak has now spread into the County of Middlesex. Seven thousand dollars is the bill that hog cholera has already cost the department, with every prospect of its reaching a larger amount.

It is stated that the plan in vogue in Toronto University may be followed in connection with the proposed civil service superannuation bill, viz.: That salaries of $1000 a year shall be subject to five per cent. deduction, the next grade to seven and a half per cent., and so on in a rising scale as the salaries increase. The money is banked, and six per cent. compound interest is allowed by the Government. This becomes the property of the civil servant or his relatives in case of his death. In the case of the civil service the rate of interest may, however, be lower than in Toronto. The new law will apply to all appointments that have been made since the present Government came into power.

Chief Engineer Coste of the Public Works Department, with Mr. Ewart, Assistant Architect, left for Halifax, where they are to give evidence before the Exchequer Court in the case of Gordon and Keith, an action arising out of the expenses in connection with Sir John Thompson's funeral.

Mr. Goodwin will appeal his claim against the Department of Railways and Canals to the Supreme Court. According to the judgment of Mr. Justice Burbidge the question was left open for appeal to the Supreme Court as to whether it must be stated on a departmental certificate that the work was done to the satisfaction of the engineer. Judge Burbidge bowed to the ruling of a higher court, but the question is still to be fought out there.

There was quite an influx of members of Parliament to-day, among them being Col. Domville, Messrs. Devlin, McGregor, Monet, Bourassa and Prefontaine.

Mr. W. L. Hamilton, Inspector of Inland Revenue, having completed his inspection duties in this district, left for Kingston to-day.

Hon. Mr. Mulock returned to the city to-day.

The Controller of Customs has dismissed from the public service A. E. Ostrum, landing waiter at Sarnia. Politics do not appear to have entered into the matter at all, misconduct being the alleged cause of Ostrum's dismissal.

The recount in the Dalhousie Ward election took place before Judge Ross to-day. The result was to upset the returns as made by the deputy returning officers and give Mr. T. McGuire third place by seven votes over Mr. Hewlett. McGuire, who is a Roman Catholic, received 361 plumpers.

The Government has been notified that the Pacific Cable conference papers are on their way to Canada. Till they reach here nothing will be known of their contents more than has already appeared in the despatches.

Hon. Sydney Fisher will be at St Mary's, Ont., to-morrow and next day attending a meeting of creamery men.

EXPLOSIONS AND FIRE.

Columbia Powder Company's Tank House and Other Buildings Demolished Three Persons Dead.

Pittsburg, Jan. 12.—At 9.25 o'clock this morning the tank-house of the Columbia Powder Company, located in a hollow one half mile back from the Ohio River, and midway between the boroughs of Shousetown and Shanopin, blew up. Five minutes later the storage room, in which was stored a large quantity of explosive material, was also shattered by a terrific explosion. Mr. Stickney, the proprietor of the works, and his two daughters are dead, P. McCluskey is fatally injured, and Walter Crane is very seriously injured.

The glycerine magazine is now surrounded by an uncontrollable fire, and will doubtless explode, adding greatly to the damage of property.

At 10.30 a.m., the residences of Irwin and Porter, Houghton's barn, Hart's house and other outbuildings had been burned. Houses for a considerable distance surrounding were badly shattered by the explosion, and not a window remains in the vicinity.

The U.E. Loyalist

The U.E. Loyalists were lovers of old England who gave up everything they had rather than abide in the revolted American colonies under a new and alien flag. They settled in Nova Scotia, the then wilderness of Ontario, the West Indies, New Brunswick and elsewhere. The centenary of their departure from the United States was held in the Dominion in 1883, when the quaint costumes and old coaches of the previous century were paraded.

WILL GIVE UP CUBA

Report That Spain Will Accept Intervention

AND HAVE BLOODSHED STOPPED.

The Conditions Will, it is Said, Give Cuba Autonomy on Lines Similar to Those Existing Between Canada and Britain Many Executions in the Philippines

New York, Jan. 12.—The Herald's cable from Manila says: Raxas and twelve other rebels, including a lieutenant of infantry, were shot to death on Monday. This makes 26 executions this week, including those of three priests.

At Mindanao seven soldiers have been shot for conspiracy.

It is reported that about one-half of those exiled to Yap, in the Carolines, numbering over one hundred men, were shot while attempting to escape.

A Spanish attack on Cavite is expected before the end of this month. The rebels have evidently been dispirited by the wholesale executions of leaders and Captain-General Polavieja's firmness.

Spain Gives Up

New York, Jan. 12.—The Journal's correspondent at Madrid telegraphs: Spain has at last concluded that all her efforts to suppress, or even to make any impression upon, the Cuban insurrection are futile and useless.

Appreciating this fact, which has been patent to all other nations for nearly six months, Prime Minister Canovas del Castillo has definitely accepted Secretary of State Olney's proffer of American intervention, as well as the terms which President Cleveland and Mr. Olney prescribe as the price for their interference and the use of their prerogatives in attempting to bring about a state of peace in the Island of Cuba.

Following the refusal of the American Secretary of State to accept, so far as America was concerned, the plan of the Spanish Prime Minister for a restoration of Spanish rule in Cuba, Mr. Olney, through the usual official channels, submitted in full to Senor Canovas the terms for a peace with Cuba upon which the administration of President Cleveland was prepared to intervene, and use its efforts to bring about a settlement between Spain and its colony.

The conditions, it is stated upon the highest authority, mean perfect and complete autonomy for Cuba. They provide for home rule for Cuba as thorough as Canada, under the British North America Act, enjoys. In brief they are:

Cuba to govern herself, to collect all taxes, to disburse all public moneys. Spain to be debarred from all share in the revenues of the island and all interference in elections held on the island.

In fact, the scheme went to the extreme point of empowering Cuba to levy a tariff in her own favor against exports from Spain to the island. The Cuban attitude towards Spain was to be entirely one of independence, except in the one matter, that Cuba was to remain in name a Spanish province.

The Cleveland Administration promised, however, that if these terms were agreed to by Spain, and she would put Cuba on as strong a footing towards Spain as Canada has toward England, it would attempt to bring about a money remuneration to Spain for the practical loss of the island.

If in negotiating a peace Secretary Olney could induce the Cubans to pay Spain a sum something in the neighborhood of a hundred millions, it would be done. This might be brought about by a Cuban bond issue, and the United States, in a fashion, stand sponsor for the bonds. But nothing definite was proposed in this direction. It was simply indicated that, in the event of Spain's acceptance, the best that could be accomplished in this direction would be done.

The Spanish Government has notified Minister Dupuy de Lome that it would accept Mr. Olney's proposition. The Minister was instructed to inform the American Secretary of State, and he has cabled the authorities here that he has done so. He does not make clear, nor does it appear from anything which has come to this capital from Secretary Olney, just how the Cleveland Administration intends to force the terms of the insurgents. General Gomez himself said that nothing but absolute separation of Cuba from Spain would be agreed to by him.

Several Skirmishes

Havana, Jan. 12.—Official reports received here give accounts of several skirmishes between detachments of troops and bands of rebels in various localities in which the aggregate losses of the rebels were 39 killed, 11 taken prisoners and a large number wounded. The aggregate losses of the troops were one killed and 18 wounded.

Gen. Toral reports that the rebels, in strong force, made an attack upon the town of Caney in the Santiago de Cuba Province, but the troops under his command met the attack with a bayonet charge, and repelled and dispersed the enemy.

Leocadio Rodriguez was shot at the Cabana fortress to-day for the crime of rebellion, and Claudio and Perez Mendel and Jose and Perez Gracia will be shot at the same place to-morrow for the same crime.

A Boy's Long, Cold Trip.

Brantford, Ont., Jan. 12.—A young lad named Robinson of Ingersoll, left Woodstock yesterday with a load of wood and turkeys for Ingersoll, made a wrong turn, and drove all night, arriving here this morning, nearly frozen. The Chief of Police at Brantford wired for instructions to the lad's employer. The youngster has now left for home.

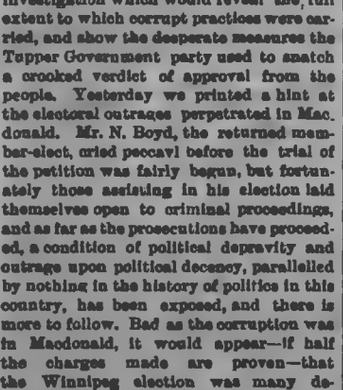
THE BYE ELECTIONS.

The Tupper Government was badly beaten. What language would have been needed to describe their condition of wiped-out-ness if the elections had been squarely conducted, and the public feeling of hostility to the government and its methods been allowed to find free and full expression? There are at present seven vacant seats for the Dominion House of Commons, awaiting the bye elections. These were all held by Conservatives, returned—it is hardly right to say, elected—at the late general elections. The vacant constituencies are North Ontario, South Brant and East Simcoe in Ontario; Prince in Prince Edward Island, Champlain, in Quebec, Colchester in Nova Scotia, and Macdonald in Manitoba. All these vacancies were created by practically confessed corruption which rendered unnecessary full investigation which would reveal the full extent to which corrupt practices were carried, and show the desperate measures the Tupper Government party used to snatch a crooked verdict of approval from the people. Yesterday we printed a hint at the electoral outrages perpetrated in Macdonald. Mr. N. Boyd, the returned member-elect, cried peccavi before the trial of the petition was fairly begun, but fortunately those assisting in his election laid themselves open to criminal proceedings, and as far as the prosecutions have proceeded, a condition of political depravity and outrage upon political decency, paralleled by nothing in the history of politics in this country, has been exposed, and there is more to follow. Bad as the corruption was in Macdonald, it would appear—if half the charges made are proven—that the Winnipeg election was many degrees worse, and there is little doubt that Winnipeg will, by the unseating of of Mr. Hugh John Macdonald, makes the eighth vacancy in the ranks of the Opposition at Ottawa. The bye-elections will be brought on with as much expedition as possible, and there is no doubt that the Liberal party, in power, will carry out the policy it advocated in opposition, and will procure the holding of the bye-elections as nearly as possible simultaneously. In the Ontario vacancies the usual formalities have been observed. The speaker has issued his warrant for new elections, and they will probably be held early in February. It is pretty safe to say that the result of the bye-elections will be to increase the Government majority, most of the constituencies promising to return Government candidates. The lessons of the last election will not soon be forgotten, and every precaution will be taken that no repetition of the corrupt practices that nominally won them last June will be permitted.



Heart Disease Kills.

Relief in 20 Minutes.

The most pronounced symptoms of heart disease are palpitation, or fluttering of the heart, shortness of breath, weak or irregular pulse, smothering spells, swelling of legs or ankles, nightmare, spells of trouble or unconsciousness. The attack may be occasioned, excepting headache, dizziness or numbness. In short, whenever the heart ceases, or is for a moment irregular or palpitates, it is diseased and treatment is imperative. Dr. Agnew's Heart Cure has saved thousands of lives. It absolutely never fails to give perfect relief in 30 minutes, and is so radically. Sold by H. S. McDonald.

THAT TRENT CANAL DEPUTATION.

The people of Northumberland and Durham are a queer lot—anxious to serve petty, private interests at the expense of imperilling the progress of a great and important public work. The other day a deputation from the united counties of Northumberland and Durham enjoyed a pleasure trip to Ottawa in the interest of the reclamation of some drowned land along the Trent river in the neighbourhood of Chisholm's rapids, and on the route of the Trent Valley Canal. There are strong reasons why the modest request of the deputation for the destruction of the dam in question should not be granted. The dam and lock at Chisholm's are claimed to be in excellent order, and a necessary part of the Trent Valley Canal scheme, and the removal of the dam is a move in the practical abandonment of that scheme. The dam creates a navigable reach of about six miles, reaching from the lock at the rapids to the point where Hoard's creek enters the River Trent, and also the point at which the proposed new stretch of canal from above Campbellord across the country is to enter the now navigable part reaching from Hoard's creek to the locks at Chisholm's—the beginning of the Healy Falls section. The removal of the dam would necessitate the construction of six miles of new canal, involving as great expense almost as the Lakefield-Peterborough section, that is to say over $300,000. What is expected to be gained by the destruction of this dam and the involved construction of six miles of new canal—representing a direct waste of over $300,000? These modest gentlemen claim that land now submerged by reason of the dam will be made available for cultivation or pasturage. It must not be forgotten that the lands in question have been flooded for the past 50 years and that the government has paid for these lands to their full value. The request of the deputation amounts to this—the government is asked to lose the large amounts already paid as compensation for the flooding of these lands, and also to destroy a six mile reach of navigable canal, which it will cost between $300,000 and $400,000 to replace. If these gentlemen wish to kill the Trent Valley Canal scheme they could not show their animus more directly than by requesting the dam at Chisholm's to be removed. It is hardly possible that the eloquence expended to justify the enjoyment of a pleasure expedition to the Capital, will be allowed to imperil the prospects of the completion of a great public work, which will, in cheapening grain rates of transportation alone, represent ten times the profit derived from the unwatering of a few acres of flooded lands, which, by the way, have long since been paid for.

HARVEY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Snow fell to the depth of five or six inches on Saturday night and on Sunday morning. If it does not turn soft again there will be fair sleighing.

Matters begin to look serious for those who have any distance to draw their wood or logs. Still there is time yet if the weather keeps cold.

The Rathbun cutters have been hard at work for the past week on Squaw river and other places, where they are taking out timber.

Miss Dot Quibell, whilst out skating last week met with a serious accident by falling on the ice and cutting her face severely.

Though slightly improved, Mr. J. S. Cairnduff is not better yet, we are sorry to say, but we hope that he will soon be around again.

School opened at No. 2 on Wednesday and we understand that Miss Strachan is enforcing strict obedience to the rules and keeping the children off the road.

Mr. Walters paid us an official visit last week in connection with the Squaw river dams, which Mr. Stratton is using every effort to have repaired, so that logs can be driven out of the river. At present it is almost impossible to do so without they are near the mouth. We hope that Mr. Stratton may succeed in getting the needed repairs done, as it will greatly benefit those having logs near the stream. Besides there are large quantities of timber up the river which cannot be taken out until the repairs are completed.

Kennedy, Davis & Son have stopped operations in the woods until snow comes, but they will likely soon start up again by the appearance of the weather.

Constipation Cured.

Gents,—I was in very poor health for over four years; the doctor said it was constipation. Not wanting to spend too much cash I got three bottles of B.B.B. and took it regularly, I can certify that I am now in the very best of health and feel very grateful to B.B.B.

President Roberts of the Pennsylvania Railroad and Other Magnates in a Smash-Up.

Pittsburg, Jan. 12.—The cars of the Panhandle, limited, No. 5, which left the city at 9.30 last night, were derailed near McDonald by a broken rail. The cars which suffered damage were the Columbus, Ohio, Sleeper Thisbe and the private car of President Roberts, of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, on which were Mr. Roberts and a party of eastern gentlemen, among them ex-Governor Pattison, Thomas H. Johnson, Chief Engineer of the Pennsylvania Southwest system, and other directors of the road. Mr. Johnson was slightly injured. None of the passengers were injured seriously.

Facts About Furs and Bankrupt Stocks.

Some dealers in Furs believe in selling Bankrupt Stocks but others there are who do not; yet, at the same time have offered several bankrupt stocks for sale within a short time, while claiming also to sell nothing in Furs but of their own manufacture. We certainly must stand away ahead of our competitors as we do not require the aid of such stocks but stand on the merits of our own manufactured goods, which we can always guarantee as such. Our reputation of 36 years standing without a failure is the best proof that customers believe in us and support us so well. We do not require to make any bombastic statements regarding the size or quality of our stock; both are only too well known in the town as well as in many other places at great distances. We wish to thank our customers for their patronage through the late season.

HOURS—11.30 to 4.

Thousands of women go down to death every year through their own ignorance and neglect. Every woman should know something of the physiology of her womanly self. Every woman should appreciate the importance of the health and strength of the delicate organs that constitute her womanhood. The woman who neglects her health in this respect is sure to be a continual sufferer and is in constant danger of an early grave. To such a woman wifehood is a torture and motherhood a menace.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription acts directly and only on the organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible. It invigorates them and makes them healthy. It prepares a woman for an almost painless maternity. It does away with the dangers of motherhood. It insures the health of the newcomer in the family. Over 90,000 women have testified to its wonderful virtures. All good druggists sell it. There is nothing "just as good."

"If it had not been for your medicine and your advice," writes Mrs. I. F. Thomas, of Antoine, Pike Co., Ark., "I would no doubt be in my grave or in an insane asylum. Fourteen years ago, when my second child was born, I came very near losing my mind. My head would hurt so bad I could hardly live. I could not lie down and raise up without great pain. My life was a misery to me. God alone knows what I suffered. I had lost all hope of being cured, but I took your 'Favorite Prescription' according to directions. I used one bottle of the 'Pleasant Pellets,' two of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and six of 'Favorite Prescription.' In a little over one year after I began your medicine I gave birth to twins. Since then I have a boy baby ten months old. He weighed eleven pounds at his birth. I have been better in health since the birth of these children than I had been for years before. Before using your medicine my weight was about one hundred and thirty-five pounds, and now I weigh one hundred and sixty-five."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a safe, sure, swift and permanent cure for constipation. They never gripe. One is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them.

CAMPBELL'S SYSTEM.

HOW THIS VARIETY OF PLOWING WILL PREVENT DROUGHT.

Western Farmers Everywhere Are Much Interested in the Newly Discovered "Dust Blanket" for Preserving Crop Moisture.

Farmers' institutes throughout South Dakota this winter are quite generally discussing what is known as the Campbell system of soil culture and it is certain that the system will be experimented with on a large scale in the state next season. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad company alone will put in fifty experimental stations in the state next year. Mr. Henry Parry, a successful and intelligent farmer, in discussing the system and the good results to accrue from its adoption by the farmers of South Dakota, gives an outline of the system and the result of careful experiments made by him with it.

"The extensive drouths of the last few years have forced people everywhere to give more consideration than usual to the question of rainfall, irrigation and the preservation of moisture," said he. "But it has always been evident to a few men that the prairie states of this continent, especially those west of the Mississippi river, are subject to great drouth and deficient rainfall at certain seasons of the year even when the annual precipitation is normal. Among these, H. W. Campbell, a farmer of Putney, S.D., as early as 1885, began to give his attention to the climate conditions and the peculiar formation of the soil of the western prairies. Since then he has given his whole attention to devising methods of culture which had for their object the preservation in the soil of whatever moisture was precipitated during the year.

"'The Campbell method' consists in a complete rearrangement and pulverizing of the top seven or eight inches of soil, turning it as nearly bottom upward as is possible. The plant food is found at the end of each season very largely concentrated in the top four inches. This plant food must be plowed down into the bottom of a furrow seven or eight inches deep. From this depth it will be placed by the action of moisture just where the little feeders of the plant roots want it. Immediately after plowing the lower four inches of the furrow slice must be packed as firm as possible for several reasons, the most important of which is that this completely obliterates all cavities. Where the furrow lies loose the air circulates under the plants and the ground dries out. After the deep plowing and subsurface packing the next step is to keep the upper two inches of the surface soil constantly loose and dry. This forms a soft mulch or dust blanket, so as to cut off the moist earth below from the effects of the air.

"Water cannot pass through loose, dry soil by capillary attraction; therefore, the dust blanket protects the moisture in the root bed from evaporation and saves all the natural rainfall for the use of the plants. Strong capillary attraction is desired in the root beds and therefore the root bed is packed; no capillary attraction is desired in the surface and therefore the dust blanket is formed.

"I have experimented in this method to some extent and am well pleased with the results. Next year my intentions are to experiment on a more extensive scale, as I believe it will increase crops in all seasons. It has been tried at several points in North Dakota, Nebraska and other states with the most satisfactory results. We all would like to raise two or three bushels where we now have one and that is about what the farmers did last year who followed this method.

"I also experimented with subsoiling and am very favorably impressed with the idea for certain kinds of soil, especially where the subsoil is a stiff clay and comes within a foot of the surface. There it will, no doubt, be very beneficial, as the loose bed affords good drainage in wet weather on low places and in dry weather will gather moisture from below and above, thus storing a supply for feeding the roots of crops much longer than the same soils will do under the old system. But where the subsoil is sandy or gravelly it would be more of a detriment than a benefit, and where the deep, rich loam is it is just as well to set the plow down a few inches and not subsoil. I would prefer five acres subsoiled in the early fall to ten acres in the spring.

"We all feel jubilant over the condition in which the soil went into winter quarters this year and our hopes are soaring high with the prospects of an old-time crop next year. But we must remember that June and July are coming and farmers must be prepared to meet them by proper tillage of the soil."

Even owners of the irrigated farms participate in the discussions and propose to test the new system next season. This will be done principally as an object lesson for farmers who live in the vicinity and who cannot engage in irrigation because of the lack of means. The unusual amount of snow that has fallen this winter is likely to fill all the lake beds next spring and thoroughly soak every acre of South Dakota land. While the prairie soil retains moisture remarkably well the trouble has been that during dry years the hot winds and clear days late in June and the beginning of July have invariably withdrawn every particle of moisture from the ground within two or three days and crops which have thus had moisture withdrawn from them at the very time when most needed became parched and dead.

Since artesian wells have been sunk and crops standing on irrigated ground have not been unfavorably affected by hot winds but have been benefited by the clear warm days which make hot winds possible; for during this period irrigated crops, by reason of the unusually hot weather, make their greatest and most rapid growth.

If the Campbell system proves to be all that is claimed for it moisture that falls during the early spring months can be retained in the groud until after the dry periods, which have heretofore caused so much injury to crops on ground that was not irrigated.—Special correspondence Chicago Record.

Two Queer Farms.

Mr. H. I. Twigg, a young English farmer, has secured a large tract of land in Kentucky, near Richmond, and announces that he has established a 'possum farm. Mr. Twigg is said to be quite sincere in his undertaking, having figured out that, as 'possum is considered such a delicacy as to command fancy prices, that there is money in the scheme. He has under advice of an experienced old colored gemman, who has assured him that "the 'possum am a very dainty eater," planted on the ranch a large number of persimmon and haw trees, and hazelnut bushes.

He has started in with twenty 'possum in the warren, and, calculating upon the remarkable fecundity of the animals, expects by next fall to be able to supply the Louisville demand at least.

A similar experiment is being made in the cultivation of rabbits in Sullivan County. The difficulty is to secure food for the growth on a limited reservation, and ultimately the animals overrun the surrounding country and become a pest, as, for instance, the opposums of Long Island.

"Jeff" Davis as a Prisoner

While Jefferson Davis was a prisoner at Fortress Monroe he was guarded by Second Lieutenant Upham, since Governor of Wisconsin, says the Detroit Tribune. The two were on friendly terms, as Davis was interested in Wisconsin men and matters. While a young man he had crossed that state twice from Milwaukee to Prairie du Chien, and once from Fort Howard to the same place, using only Indian trails, and becoming very familiar with the different tribes. Governor Upham says that he was much struck by his prisoner's wonderful memory. In a corner of his casemate in the fortress Davis had a pile of newspaper clippings two feet high, made up in large part of articles about himself taken from Northern journals. He was always treated with great courtesy, was never put in chains, as has been asserted, and Mrs. Davis was allowed to come and go as she would.

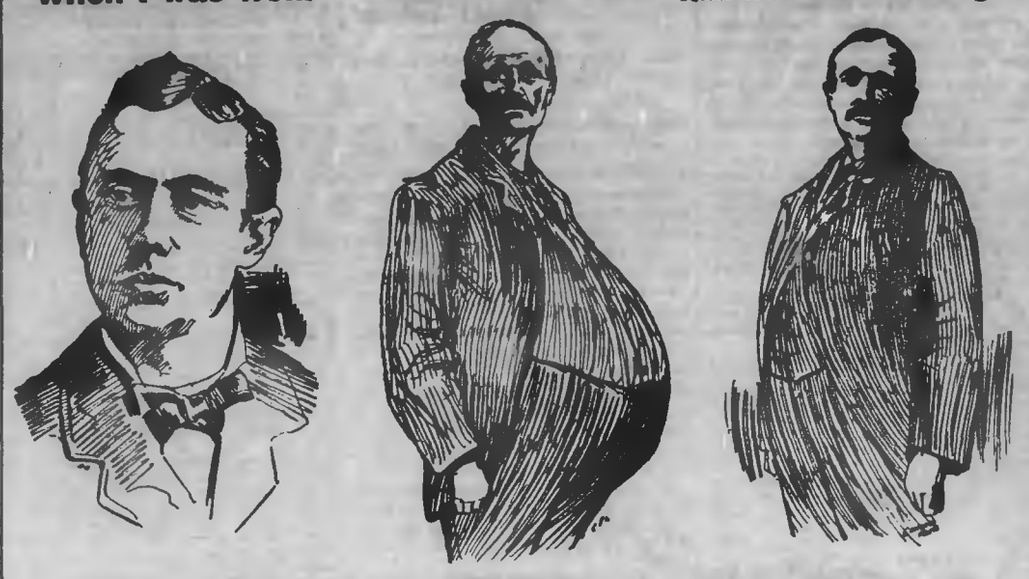
When I was Well. While I was Sick. And Now I am Well Again.



MR. MAXWELL JOHNSTON

One of the Best Known Printers in Canada,

Tells the story of his terrible sufferings, and gives an account of his rescue from the Jaws of Death.

Probably no one is better known to the printing trade of Canada than Maxwell Johnston, of Maxwelell Johnston & Co., 72 Bay street, Toronto. His many years of experience have acquainted him with almost every person in the entire trade. To many of his friends it has been known that he has suffered during very severe illness the past year, and in regard to the same Mr. Johnston writes the following letter :—

TORONTO, Dec. 3, 1896.

MESSRS. T. MILBURN & CO.:

DEAR SIRS,—For over ten months I suffered from dropsy, caused by kidney trouble which followed an attack of la grippe. The symptoms rapidly became serious and medical aid was called in. Among others who were consulted were Dr. Wallace, Dr. Norman Allen, Dr. Weir and Dr. Glass, all of this city, and I can truly state that they made every effort that medical skill could provide. Seven operations were performed within six months, during which time I visited at different periods for the purpose of these operations the following hospitals, viz: The Toronto General Hospital, St. Michael's Hospital and Grace Hospital. Although all that could be done for me was faithfully and skillfully performed, I received only temporary relief, the operations only serving to remove the enormous quantities of water which constantly accumulated. As a matter of fact, 17 gallons of water were removed during the last two operations. After the last operation I was given up to die and was given only six to twelve days to live.

In addition to the best medical skill which money could procure, I used all kinds of patent medicines which promised relief, but without effect. All the family remedies suggested, such as Milkweed Tea, Pumpkin Seed Tea, Mullein Leaf Tea, Spanish Onion Tea, Sweet Nitre and Buchu, etc., were faithfully tried but gave not the slightest relief, so that I had lost all hope, when I was persuaded to try Doan's Kidney Pills, together with Laxa Liver Pills. To my surprise I received almost immediate relief. At this time I was unable to lie down and for three and a half months previously was forced to sleep in a chair. My waist measure was then 49 inches; it is now 33 inches since the wonderful cure made by these pills.

I consider myself perfectly cured and feel strong and well. My weight when I was attacked was 198 pounds. After the operations I was reduced to 130. I weigh now 160. By carefully watching the action of Doan's Pills and Laxa Liver Pills I am positive that to them alone is due the wonderful cure which has taken place in my case.

I am a printer by trade and have held positions in the offices of The Globe, Mail, Methodist Book Room, etc., as well as in Ohio and Detroit, Mich., and have been an employing printer since 1877.

Although it may seem incredible, every word I have stated is the truth, and I am prepared to back it by the evidence of hundreds of citizens and friends who knew me before I was sick and afterwards, while I was near death's door, and who now, to their surprise, see me restored to complete health by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, assisted by Laxa Liver Pills, I shall be glad to answer inquiries from sufferers from kidney or liver troubles at any time, and refer to the following gentlemen who have knowledge of the facts, and can verify every word I say. Many of these gentlemen knew me before my sickness, during my terrible sufferings, and since I was restored to health. My testimony is given voluntarily and without any consideration of any kind, either directly or indirectly. I give it solely for the benefit of my fellow beings who may be afflicted with Dropsy or Kidney troubles of any kind, viz. :—
